TIM DERUYTER

FRESNO STATE HEAD COACH
3RD SEASON | AIR FORCE (1985)

In just two seasons as the head coach at Fresno State, Tim DeRuyter has elevated the program back to heights not seen in over a decade and led a resurgence in the Bulldogs, who are the pride of the San Joaquin Valley.

DeRuyter (pronounced da-ROOT-er) took over a team that went 4-9 the year before he arrived and turned the tables by leading Fresno State to back-to-back Mountain West championships, back into the top 25 rankings in 2013 and to a 20-6 record over the 2012 and 2013 seasons - the most wins by any Bulldog coach in his first two seasons. Before the DeRuyter era launched, Fresno State had not won a conference championship since 1999 - a drought of 13 years - and now the Bulldogs have won back-to-back conference titles for the first time since 1992 and 1993.

From the day he was hired as Fresno State's 17th head coach in program history on Dec. 14, 2011, DeRuyter proclaimed two things; winning conference championships would be the team's No. 1 goal and his squads would embody the mantra "fast, physical and fanatical," an up-tempo and exciting style of play that would captivate the Red Wave, Fresno State's loyal fan base.

DeRuyter delivered on his promise and in return Fresno State rewarded him with a five-year contract extension.

The reward of the contract extension from the University came after he led the Bulldogs back into the national spotlight in 2013. Fresno State went 11-2, won the inaugural Mountain West Championship game and earned a berth in the 2013 Royal Purple Las Vegas Bowl. DeRuyter's 2013 Bulldog squad matched the school record for wins in a season, were ranked as high as No. 14 in the USA Today Coaches Poll and closed out the Bowl Championship Series era ranked No. 20 in the final BCS Standings, the highest of any non-automatic qualifying/BCS conference team.

Fresno State, who started the 2013 season 10-0, led the Mountain West in attendance in 2013. The Bulldogs also set records for merchandise sold, as DeRuyter's success and futuristic vision of the program more than satisfied the cravings of the Red Wave.

The momentum DeRuyter carried over in his second year was set up by the successes of his first season when he laid the foundation for the program.

Fresno State went 9-4 in 2012 and 7-1 in the Mountain West to share the league title with San Diego State and Boise State and gain a berth in the Sheraton Hawai'i Bowl. The five-game improvement in the win column from the year before he took over to after his first season marked the sixth best turnaround in the FBS in 2012.

The Bulldogs have gone 14-2 in two seasons in Mountain West play to be the head of the class in the conference.
