THIS IS NEBRASKA

For more than a century, the legacy of Nebraska Football has been growing. From its humble beginning in 1890 – when two games made an entire schedule – to 2010, where an established, nationally prominent program enjoys a rich history of success, Nebraska's student-athletes have entertained and excelled on all levels. Five national championships and 43 conference titles highlight the accomplishments of one of college football's most storied programs. There have been Heisman winners and Outland Trophy recipients, a nation-leading number of Academic All-Americans, a Big 12-best graduation rate and many professional football stars. But underlying all of the countless accolades is a football family that does not rely on wins and losses as the final indicator of excellence. Nebraska Football is much more than talented athletes and coaches taking the field to play a game – it is a family. The fans, support staff and student-athletes are all Dedicated to Excellence through Integrity, Trust, Respect, Teamwork and Loyalty. It is this commitment on and off the field that makes Nebraska unique and assures that the rich tradition of the Huskers will keep growing for years to come.

Nebraska started the new millennium the same way it ended the last – among the nation's elite. In the 1980s and 1990s, Nebraska became the first team in the history of Division I football to post 100 wins in back-to-back decades. Since the start of the 1970s, Nebraska has posted the best record of any Division I team (393-100-5). That outstanding tradition began with Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne and continues in 2010 with Coach Bo Pelini.

Tom Osborne (right) guided Nebraska football to national prominence and coached Husker teams to three national titles between 1994 and 1997. Osborne was immediately inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame upon his retirement after the 1997 season. He became Nebraska's Athletic Director in 2007.

Left: The roots of Nebraska football date back to 1890, when Dr. Langdon Frothingham led NU's first team to a 2-0 record. Nebraska football teams were known as the Old Gold Knights, the Antelopes and the Bugeaters before the 1900 team adopted the name "Cornhuskers."

Middle: Legendary Coach Bob Devaney takes the field in 1962.

CHAMPIONSHIP TRADITION

Few college athletic programs can boast the national championship resume of Nebraska football. Since 1970, Nebraska has won more games than any other team in the country, captured five national championships and played for a national title in a bowl game on four other occasions. The Huskers are one of only three college football teams to win at least five national championships since 1970, and one of only seven to capture at least three titles.

"Choosing to go to school at Nebraska has had the biggest impact on my life, more than any other life decision. Not only did I get a chance to play football for the best team in the nation, but for four years I was surrounded by academic advisors, coaches and teachers who genuinely cared about me as a person."

COACHING STAFF

Head Coach Bo Pelini has assembled a coaching staff with a championship pedigree. The Cornhusker staff has strong ties to Nebraska.

- The Cornhusker staff enters its third season intact under Pelini—one of just nine schools in the country who have had the same coaching staff for three seasons.
- Pelini is the first coach in Big 12 Conference history to guide his team to at least a share of a division championship in his first two seasons.
- Pelini is one of only four coaches in school history to win nine games in each of their first two seasons at Nebraska joining Frank Solich and Hall of Fame coaches Tom Osborne and Bob Devaney.
- Pelini's 19 wins in the past two seasons are the most among first-time head coaches in the Class of 2008, and the second-most among coaches hired at their current school prior to the 2008 season.

"Guys were ready to run through a wall for (Coach Pelini). He was such a great motivator. He'd print out cards with different quotes and leave them in our locker to fire us up before games, and when it came to X's and O's, he definitely had the 'it' factor. He is the total package."

DEFENSIVE DOMINANCE

One of the Huskers' most well-known traditions is the Blackshirts, which has become the common nickname for Nebraska's defensive unit. The term originally dates back to the early 1960s and refers to the black jerseys that Nebraska's first-string defenders wear in practice.

With the return of the two-platoon system in college football in 1964, Head Coach Bob Devaney looked for a way to distinguish the defensive units on the practice fields. Devaney dispatched assistant coach Mike Corgan to a local sporting goods store to find some "contrast jerseys," a sleeveless pullover that went on top of the players' practice jerseys. While the top offensive unit practiced in red jerseys and the second-string offense worked in green pullovers, the first string defense wore black pullovers and the second string wore the contrasting gold jerseys.

The term quickly caught on, and gained momentum during Monte Kiffin's tenure as defensive coordinator in the mid-1970s, before the Blackshirts earned national acclaim under Charlie McBride, who served as the Huskers' defensive coordinator from 1982 to 1999.

BLACKSHIRT TRADITION

- Nebraska has ranked in the top 10 nationally in total defense 22 times since 1964.
- Nebraska has ranked among the nation's top 10 in all four major defensive categories (rush defense, pass defense, total defense and scoring defense) on five occasions, including 2009 and national title seasons in 1994, 1995 and 1997.

Grant Wistrom, Mike Rucker, Ndamukong Suh, Barrett Ruud and Sean Fisher.

BLACKSHIRTS

2009 BLACKSHIRTS

The Blackshirt defense has thrived under the tutelage of Head Coach Bo Pelini.

2009 Blackshirts: Ross Watson, Brett Diersen, John Papuchis, Carl Pelini, Eric Hagg, Prince Amukamara, Will Compton, Phillip Dillard, Barry Turner, Jared Crick, Ndamukong Suh, Pierre Allen, David Harvey, Sean Fisher, Colton Koehler, Matt O'Hanlon, DeJon Gomes, Larry Asante, Anthony West, Alex Henery, Alfonzo Dennard, Marvin Sanders, Mike Ekeler, Joe Moglia and Doug Colman.

- With Pelini as defensive coordinator in 2003, Nebraska forced a school-record 47 turnovers, including a conference-record 32 interceptions. Nebraska ranked second nationally in scoring defense and 16 Blackshirts from 2003 went on to play in the National Football League.
- The 2008 Blackshirts were among the nation's most improved defenses. The Huskers finished second in the Big 12 in total defense, allowing 126.9 fewer yards per game than in 2007.
- Nebraska's 2009 defense was among the nation's most dominant units. The Huskers led the nation in scoring defense, limiting opponents to 13 or fewer points 10 times in 14 games. Nebraska also ranked seventh nationally in total defense.

"We have a great (defensive) tradition at Nebraska. As a former Blackshirt, it is basically the sense of urgency you play with. That is what it means to be a Blackshirt. It is being able to trust the guy next to you. It is 11 guys getting to the football."

--Trev Alberts, 1993 All-American and Butkus Award Winner

THE PELINI FACTOR

Bo Pelini's college defenses have a history of dominance, whether at Nebraska, LSU or Oklahoma. Pelini-led defenses have established themselves as a fixture in the top 10 of numerous national categories.

In his first two seasons as head coach at Nebraska, Pelini and the defensive staff has led a remarkable transformation of the Blackshirts. In two seasons, Nebraska has improved from 116th nationally in scoring defense to first in 2009. The Huskers' sack total has increased from 13 to 44 in two seasons, while its rush defense has improved by nearly 140 yards per game.

OFFENSIVE FIREPOWER

The Nebraska offense has been one of the Big 12's most explosive over the past few seasons. Under the direction of offensive coordinator Shawn Watson, the Huskers have set several offensive school records in recent years.

- Nebraska has ranked in the top 12 nationally in total offense in two of the past three seasons with Watson as offensive coordinator. The Huskers also ranked in the top 15 nationally in passing offense in both 2007 and 2008.
- The Nebraska offense strives for a balanced attack. In 2008, the Huskers were one of just nine teams in the nation to rank in the top 40 in rushing, passing, scoring and total offense. Last season featured one of the best run-pass balances in the Big 12 Conference.

QUARTERBACKS

QUARTERBACKS THRIVE IN NEBRASKA OFFENSE

- Quarterbacks have been prolific in the Nebraska offense in recent years. In 2008, Joe Ganz set Nebraska single-season records for passing yards, completion percentage and total offense. Ganz set 23 Nebraska school records and also ranks second in season touchdown passes, career touchdown passes and career passing yards.
- Ganz finished his career fourth among active quarterbacks in pass efficiency rating, trailing only 2008 Heisman Trophy finalists Sam Bradford, Colt McCoy and Tim Tebow.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

One of the "Cathedrals of College Football," according to The Sporting News, Memorial Stadium is one of the most intimidating locations to play in all of sports.

With expanded capacity now reaching beyond 85,000, Nebraska has continued its NCAA-record streak of 304 consecutive sellouts that dates back to 1962. Nebraska celebrated its 300th consecutive sellout with a stadium record crowd against Louisiana-Lafayette in 2009 (left).

During the sellout streak, Nebraska has recorded a 263-41 record, including a 128-18 mark during the last 22 seasons.

Memorial Stadium is among the most historic venues in all of college football. The stadium opened in 1923 and while maintaining its traditional charm, it has also become of the most high-tech stadiums in the country in recent years. In 1994, the stadium was the first on-campus stadium in the country to feature big-screen instant replay boards.

Over the past 16 seasons, Nebraska's HuskerVision has made numerous additions, including the move to a fully high-definition presentation in 2009 (inset). Memorial Stadium features five replay boards, including a mammoth screen atop the North Stadium. Nearly every fan in the stadium has a clear view of a HuskerVision screen. Last fall the facades of the East and West balconies added ribbon boards further adding to the fan experience at one of the nation's best sporting venues.

FOOTBALL FACILITIES

The home of five national championship football teams, Nebraska provides its players with every tool needed to be successful. The primary home for the football team is its locker room, which ranks among the most impressive in the country.

Each locker is made of solid maple and features a convenient storage system for equipment and is also customized with a name plate and action photo. The lockers are hand-made and custom designed with individual electronic security locks and a unique ventilation system that pulls air through and out of the locker.

The design of the locker room allows each athlete to have a greater amount of space and personal storage while providing a convenient location next to the equipment room. The locker room will receive additional upgrades this year as part of Ndamukong Suh's generous donation to the athletic department including computer screens at each locker.

In 2004, Nebraska embarked on a major facilities project that included the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex and the Hawks Championship Indoor Center.

The Hawks Championship Indoor Center opened for the football team during spring practice in 2006. The magnificent facility features FieldTurf identical to Memorial Stadium's surface. The field also opens onto the practice fields of the Ed and Joyanne Gass Practice Facility, which includes one grass field and one field which was converted to Field Turf in the summer of 2010. The indoor center is connected by a skybridge to the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex to give Nebraska the best all-around football facilities in the nation.

Nebraska players can relax between classes, meetings or practices in the Husker player's lounge, located on the second floor of the Osborne Athletic Complex.

The room features an area for players to study, video games and a pool table. The lounge is decorated with photos of past Husker greats who are currently playing in the National Football League.

Nebraska's meeting space more than doubled with the completion of the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex in 2006. The large team room (left) provides space for about 160 people and allows coaches to utilize the most advanced technology as it is equipped with theatre-quality sound and video systems.

The team meeting room is one of several teaching areas on the football floor, as each position coach has a meeting room (bottom left) directly across the hall from his office. Players and coaches each have more space to view game or practice video, giving them a greater edge in preparing for competition.

Nebraska's rich tradition and history of success is on display throughout Memorial Stadium (far left). In addition to a national championship trophy display on the football floor, the Nebraska Football Experience Room (below) in the Osborne Complex highlights the Huskers' three Heisman Trophy winners.

HUSKERS IN THE NFL

NEBRASKA FOOTBALL IN THE NFL

Nebraska owns one of the most impressive histories of any school with players in the National Football League. Nearly 300 former Huskers have represented Nebraska in the NFL. Since the start of the Big 12 in 1996, Nebraska has led all Big 12 schools with 65 players chosen during the NFL Draft. No other conference school has had more than 57 players chosen in the period. The Huskers have been especially impressive with defensive players, with 43 chosen since 1997. No other Big 12 school has more than 30.

As of June 24, Nebraska had 42 former players on NFL rosters, including 20 players with four or more years of experience and three with a decade of time in the league. Nebraska is represented on rosters of 26 of 32 NFL teams.

"I had a fantastic football career at Nebraska and thanks to my coaches and support staff, I have learned the value of hard work, teamwork and life skills. These skills will help me tremendously as I prepare for my career in the NFL."

* Permanently retired numbers

Following the 1949 season, the N Club voted to retire jersey No. 60 in honor of Tom "Train Wreck" Novak's stellar career with the Cornhuskers. Novak, the first Nebraska player to earn this honor, had been a four-time All-Big Seven choice and a 1949 All-American.

For 55 years, Novak was the only NU player to have the distinction of a retired number. In 2004, that finally changed as College and Pro Football Hall of Famer Bob Brown's No. 64 joined Novak's hallowed No. 60 among the only two permanently retired numbers at Nebraska. Brown, whose jersey retirement ceremony occurred during NU's game with Colorado in 2004.

All major national award winners at Nebraska automatically have their jerseys retired, but their numbers will still be available to active Huskers.

Nebraska's group of 17 players with retired jerseys certainly ranks among the best in the nation. Huskers who have earned the distinction of jersey retirement include three Heisman Trophy winners (Johnny Rodgers, Mike Rozier, Eric Crouch), eight Outland Trophy winners with nine awards (Larry Jacobson, Rich Glover, Dave Rimington (2), Dean Steinkuhler, Will Shields, Zach Wiegert, Aaron Taylor, Ndamukong Suh), five Lombardi Award winners (Rich Glover, Dave Rimington, Dean Steinkuhler, Grant Wistrom, Ndamukong Suh), one Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award winner (Tommie Frazier), one Davey O'Brien Award winner (Crouch), one Butkus Award winner (Trev Alberts) one Rimington Trophy winner (Dominic Raiola), one Bednarik Award Winner (Ndamukong Suh) and one Nagurski trophy (Ndamukong Suh).

The 17 Huskers to have their jerseys retired have combined for 23 All-America awards and six are members of the College Football Hall of Fame.

The names and numbers of players with retired jerseys are all displayed directly below the HuskerVision video screen on the north end of Memorial Stadium.

NEBRASKA FOOTBALL FAMILY

Family. It is a word that is synonymous with Nebraska Football. No one takes more pride in the Nebraska football program than its former players.

Head Coach Bo Pelini and former Head Coach and now NU Athletic Director Tom Osborne have made embracing the tradition of the storied Husker program an even greater priority in the past two years. Pelini and his new coaching staff have made a strong effort to connect with former players through a series of activities.

"There is no in-state player, no out-of-state player, no walk-on player and no scholarship player. We were all equals when we got here, and we all came here for the same reason – to contribute to something much bigger than all of us. At Nebraska, all lettermen are the same. We're hundreds of guys who paid the price to be part of one of the greatest traditions in all of college football. And the greatest honor any of us ever achieved was being able to say: 'I played for Nebraska!'"

CORNHUSKERS FROM COAST TO COAST

The family atmosphere of the Nebraska football program brings together players from all across the country. The Huskers have always taken a national approach to recruiting and the family type of setting in Lincoln makes players from all corners of the United States feel at home.

The 2010 Nebraska roster has players from 19 states, including 79 homegrown Huskers. Next on the list is Texas with 26 players on the Cornhusker roster and California with 13 Huskers.

In the history of the program, Nebraska's 93 football All-Americans hail from 24 states and the District of Columbia. Home-grown Cornhuskers have accounted for 37 of Nebraska's All-Americans.

All time, Nebraska football letterwinners have come from 45 states, Washington D.C. and five foreign countries (Australia, Canada, Finland, Germany, Mexico).

WALK-ONS

"Loyalty. Motivation. Willingness to Sacrifice."

Nebraska Athletic Director Tom Osborne, Hall of Fame Coach from 1973 to 1997, has used those words to describe Nebraska's walk-on program.

The tradition of the Cornhusker walk-on program is one-of-a-kind in college football. Hundreds of young men from towns in all corners of the state have come to Nebraska with big dreams. Many players have excelled beyond their biggest dreams. Osborne and Head Coach Bo Pelini have made a priority of building on the past success of the Husker walk-on program.

MEDIA ATTENTION

Nebraska football is among the most recognized college programs in the nation. Newspapers, magazines, radio, television and the Internet keep Nebraska in the national spotlight. Nebraska has been a regular stop for ESPN's College GameDay, most recently hosting the show for the USC weekend in 2007.

NEBRASKA IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Nebraska, which had all 14 games appear on television in 2009, has averaged eight television appearances per year since 1980. The Huskers' TV exposure will be further increased with the addition of the Big Ten Network beginning in 2011-12.

NU has ended the season ranked among the Associated Press Top 25 in 35 of the past 40 seasons.

Nebraska football can be heard statewide and across the nation on the Husker Sports Network. The games can also be heard on Sirius Satellite Radio and live worldwide on the Internet at Huskers.com. Approximately four million fans per month visit Huskers.com during football season.

Top: ESPN College GameDay has made five appearances in Lincoln since 1994. On Sept. 15, 2007, more than 15,000 Husker fans helped set an ESPN College GameDay record by attending the morning telecast live inside Memorial Stadium. Lincoln also served as Nebraska's home for ESPN's "50 in 50" telecasts during the summer of 2005.

Bottom: Nebraska coaches and athletes are constantly in the spotlight. Husker coaches and players are regularly featured in national publications, websites and radio and television interviews.

Nebraska football has been a fixture on national television for more than 50 years, since being featured on the first-ever television broadcast of a college game by NBC on Sept. 19, 1953. Since then, the Huskers have played on TV 290 more times, including 135 appearances on ABC. In this decade alone Nebraska has made 112 appearances on television.

The Huskers are also often in the spotlight in the postseason, enjoying national recognition for the many bowls Nebraska has competed in recently, such as the Holiday Bowl in 2009.

"You always want to play your best, no matter who you're playing. That's why you come to Nebraska – to play in big bowl games, championship games, nationally televised games."

Nebraska Defensive End (2003-06)

GAME DAY ATMOSPHERE

Game days at Nebraska are unlike any in college football. Fans line the streets of Lincoln waiting to enter the "Sea of Red," while the marching band parades up Stadium Drive as thousands of red-clad fans look on. The Huskers emerge from the famous "Tunnel Walk" to the sound of "Sirius" and the fans stay at a frenzied pitch until the final play of the game when they graciously cheer for the opposing players as they exit the field.

The Tunnel Walk, which began in 1994, has become an integral part of Memorial Stadium's game-day experience. It was created as a way for fans to share in the excitement of the team emerging from the locker room, something only a few could do before HuskerVision's cameras and big screens came to Memorial Stadium. The sounds of the Alan Parsons Project's "Sirius," and the roar of the 85,000 frenzied fans rock the stadium as the Huskers burst through the locker room doors and into the tunnel on their way to the Memorial Stadium FieldTurf. For as long as anyone can remember, the Huskers have touched a lucky horseshoe on their way from the locker room to the field. The horseshoe hangs above the door as Nebraska leaves the North Stadium.

"When you walk in here, you see nothing but red. I can't recall walking into another stadium and seeing such an amazing, monochromatic scene and so much loyalty. When they're stirred up... when Nebraska is challenged – that's when this crowd can become one of the most intimidating in college football."

-Chris Fowler, ESPN

"(Recruits) come in here and see that kind of atmosphere, and they see that kind of passion associated with your program. It makes them want to be a part of it."

Bo Pelini, Head Coach

DEVOTED FANS

Nebraska football fans are perhaps the most loyal in college football. An entire state follows the Huskers, along with an ever-growing national fan base, packing Memorial Stadium for every game since 1962. On Sept. 26, 2009, Nebraska fans added another chapter to its rich history by celebrating the 300th consecutive sellout of Memorial Stadium. The Big Red faithful packed a single-game record 86,304 fans into the historic venue for Nebraska's 55-0 win over Louisiana-Lafayette and extended its NCAA record sellout streak to 304 by the end of the season.

Husker fans bring their show on the road as well. More than 60,000 red-clad Huskers trekked to Pasadena for the 2002 Rose Bowl, and in 2001, more than 30,000 Huskers swarmed South Bend for a matchup with Notre Dame. In 2006, the Husker Nation again outdid itself as nearly 30,000 Nebraska fans descended on the Coliseum in Los Angeles to watch the Husker-contest with USC.

Every entrance at Memorial Stadium welcomes Husker fans with the following phrase:

"Through these gates pass the Greatest Fans in College Football."

One of many Husker traditions is Fan Day, which attracts nearly 10,000 fans annually to Memorial Stadium during fall camp. Every Husker player and coach signs autographs and takes pictures with fans in a tradition that dates back more than 30 years.

"Nebraska fans have always had a special place in my heart and always will."

Turner Gill,
Kansas football coach/former Nebraska quarterback

"300 consecutive sellouts, are you kidding me? The whole nation of college football stands in admiration."

Keith Jackson,
Legendary College Football Announcer

Nebraska's annual Red-White Spring Game has become a major attraction and shows the dedication of Husker Nation. The Huskers had 77,936 fans at the 2010 Spring Game. In the past six years, more than 450,000 fans have flocked to Memorial Stadium to watch NU's final practice of the spring.

Nebraska's attendance of 77,936 fans at the 2010 Spring Game was the second-biggest crowd of any college football program and 33,000 more than any other Big 12 school.

SPRING GAME CROWDS:

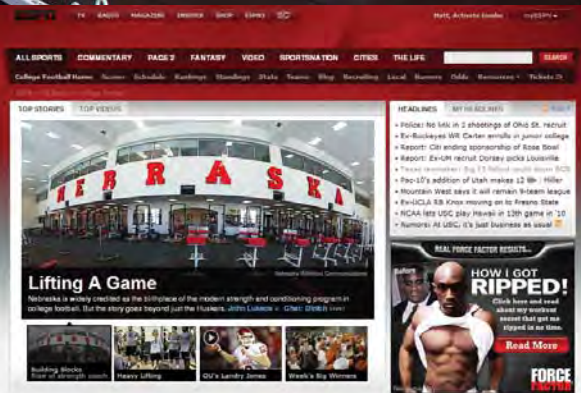

2010	77,936
2009	77,670
2008	80,149 (4th- largest spring game crowd in history)
2007	54,288
2006	57,415
2005	63,416

HUSKER POWER

"The University of Nebraska's Athletic Department has an unprecedented history of supporting its student-athletes. Nebraska is committed to providing the best facilities, equipment and atmosphere conducive to training the football player."

James Dobson, Head Football Strength Coach

BUILDING THE COMPLETE FOOTBALL PLAYER

The University of Nebraska football strength and conditioning staff is committed to helping each student-athlete reach his physical potential through a comprehensive approach to developing the complete football player. Through individual assessment and program design, it is our objective to increase the athletic performance of each individual athlete while reducing the risk of injury.

STRENGTH STAFF

The football strength and conditioning staff consists of four full-time coaches whose sole purpose is to train the football student-athlete. The student-athlete has a 4-5 year window to reach his potential both physically and as a football player. To do so requires the daily individual attention and interaction with the strength and conditioning staff to ensure each athlete is on the path to success.

We are committed to training the complete football player, aiming to ensure that each athlete reaches his potential. It is our job to create an atmosphere that will promote an increase in both mental and physical performance while reducing the risk of injury. Individual program design is essential in order to completely develop an athlete. Every athlete is different; every athlete has his own genetic profile, medical history and training history. We will evaluate each athlete when he comes to the University of Nebraska. It all starts with an initial physical assessment that includes evaluating the areas of strength, performance and function. When the data is collected and interpreted, a program will be designed to address the individual demands of the athlete.

Head football strength coach, James Dobson

COMPONENTS OF A SOUND TRAINING PROGRAM RESISTANCE TRAINING

The resistance training programs are individually designed and are focused on ground-based, three-dimensional, multi-joint movements. Ground-based exercises are done with the athlete's feet on the ground. Performing exercises with the feet on the ground mimics the athletic movements performed in the game of football.

Three-dimensional movements are performed in all three planes of movement: side to side, up and down, and forward and backward. To accomplish this, the athlete must use free weights. Free weights will develop not only the primary muscles, but the stabilizing muscles as well.

Multi-joint exercises require the body to simultaneously move multiple joints in a coordinated effort in order to produce athletic movements.

Explosive training is essential for the game of football. The body's ability to apply force quickly will determine the athlete's success on the field. Explosive training takes the strength an athlete has and improves his ability to deliver that strength forcefully and rapidly.

CONDITIONING

It is important to condition like a football player. Football is a game that consists of short bursts of activity followed by a rest. It is important to follow this pattern when performing conditioning drills. Position-specific conditioning also needs to be addressed.

SPEED TRAINING

The game of football is dominated by acceleration and agility and will be a focal point during speed training. Acceleration is the ability to get to top speed in the smallest amount of time possible. Acceleration is critical to the success of the football player. Agility is the ability to change direction without losing speed.

POSITION SPECIFIC TRAINING

It is important to address the specific demands each position requires to play football. Each athlete will undergo specific training sessions to address the skills and techniques needed to be successful at the position he plays. Position specific training will greatly enhance on-field performance.

THE INJURED ATHLETE

We have constant communication with the Sports Medicine Staff in order to plan a successful training program to get the athlete promptly and safely back to competition.

"This incredible facility helped me earn all the honors I was so privileged to receive while I was at Nebraska. When you combine the facility with Coach Dobson and his outstanding staff, there is not a better strength and conditioning program in the country."

Ndamukong Suh
2009 All-American

ATHLETIC MEDICINE

Providing expert care to more than 550 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country.

Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers, Head Athletic Trainer and Physical Therapist Jerry Weber and Head Football Athletic Trainer Mark Mayer, the 2010-11 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five doctors, two therapist/athletic trainers, five athletic trainers and seven graduate assistant athletic trainers.

Nebraska's team of orthopaedists is led by Chief of Staff Dr. Pat Clare, a nationally respected orthopaedic surgeon with more than 30 years of service to Husker athletics.

Above and bottom: Head football athletic trainer Mark Mayer and Patrick Spieldenner work with athletes to get them back to peak physical condition as quickly as possible. They utilize state-of-the-art equipment throughout Nebraska's facilities.

Left: The Athletic Medicine Center features a hydrotherapy area that includes a three-level laned pool, which allows student-athletes across all of Nebraska's sports to work out simultaneously. The Hydroworx 1000 Treadmill Pool is equipped with two cameras underwater for evaluation and assessment, while hot and cold plunge tanks are also available to the Huskers.

The medical facilities at Nebraska have long been among the nation's best, and NU's athletic medicine center within the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex will keep the Huskers on the front line of technology for decades to come. In addition to Nebraska's North Stadium facility, the NU Coliseum, the Bob Devaney Sports Center and Haymarket Park all feature athletic medicine areas.

The football athletic training staff provides Husker student-athletes with highly skilled medical care throughout the year.

NUTRITION

Nebraska's Sports Nutritionists Josh Hingst and Lindsey Remmers work with all 23 of Nebraska's sports by educating athletes on topics such as increasing lean body mass, losing body fat, staying hydrated, nutritional strategies for competition, maximizing recovery following workouts and supplement use. Athletes are given individualized nutrition plans that can be applied in Nebraska's Performance Buffet at the Hewitt Dining Center, which is open each day for lunch and dinner and was expanded and remodeled for the 2010 season. Student-athletes also utilize a fueling station called the landing (above left) to provide fluids, and nutritional foods before and after workouts and practices to maximize performance and recovery.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

The success of Nebraska student-athletes reaches far beyond athletic competition. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams than any other school in the nation, as Nebraska continues to set the standard for the approximately 1,400 NCAA member institutions. The Husker football team leads all individual sport programs in the nation with 98 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-America awards. The NU volleyball program has captured more academic All-America awards (37) than any other women's team in the nation, while the Husker softball program ranks second on that list with 27 selections. In addition to individual academic recognition, NU has led the Big 12 in graduation rates in 10 of the conference's first 14 years.

HUSKER EXPAND ACADEMIC TRADITION IN 2009-10

Husker student-athletes produced another stellar year at the University of Nebraska, continuing NU's tradition of academic success. Nebraska increased its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports to 277 with a Big 12-leading eight honorees in 2009-10, while also setting conference records with 178 academic All-Big 12 selections and 687 selections to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll during the year.

Nebraska Female Student-Athlete of the Year Kelsey Griffin, the first Husker in history to win the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award in any sport, capped a stellar career by earning a $7,500 Dr. Prentice Gautt Big 12 Postgraduate Scholarship. A unanimous first-team All-American and the 2010 Big 12 Player of the Year, Griffin powered the Nebraska women's basketball team to the Big 12 regular-season title, which included the only unbeaten regular season in conference history at 29-0. Craig Brester claimed NU's Male Student-Athlete-of-the-Year honor, while joining Griffin as a recipient of a Big 12 Postgraduate Scholarship. Brester, a three-time wrestling All-American, closed his career with a 109-21 record, including two NCAA runner-up finishes.

Husker volleyball star Kori Cooper, a two-time honorable mention All-American on the court, became NU's 60th multi-time academic All-American by earning first-team honors in 2009. Joining Cooper as a first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American in 2009-10 was Nebraska baseball centerfielder D.J. Belfonte and Nicholas Gordon, the 2009 NCAA indoor long jump champion and three-time All-American.

Across all sports, Nebraska student-athletes claimed a Big 12-leading 178 academic All-Big 12 selections, including an astounding 152 first-team academic All-Big 12 honorees. The Huskers had 24 more first-team selections than any other Big 12 school had selected to both the first and second teams. Over the past two years, Nebraska has claimed 350 academic All-Big 12 certificates across all sports, while no other Big 12 school has accumulated 250 honors. NU student-athletes also earned a record-setting 687 spots on the Big 12 Commissioner's Fall and Spring Academic Honor Rolls.

The hard work, dedication and commitment of Nebraska's student-athletes in the classroom resulted in 121 current or former student-athletes earning degrees from August of 2009 through May of 2010. The Huskers continued to set the graduation standard among Big 12 Conference schools by increasing their Exhausted Eligibility Graduation Rate to 94 percent.

Each spring Nebraska hosts an Academic Awards Banquet to honor student-athletes who have earned either a 3.0 or higher cumulative GPA or have earned a 3.0 or higher GPA in the previous calendar year. Last spring, 278 student-athletes were honored.

THE NEBRASKA ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers.

Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive academic support systems in the country, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders in their chosen fields. The academic support team is comprised of 13 full-time staff members and a tutorial staff of approximately 70 tutors addressing all subject areas.

ACADEMIC COUNSELING

Eight academic counselors and three assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation. Essentially, academic counselors assist student-athletes in navigating the University of Nebraska system.

TUTORIAL SUPPORT

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful. Supplemental Instruction, a sub-component of the tutorial program, provides targeted group review sessions to help ease the transition to college academics while improving study strategies and building academic self-esteem.

STUDY HALL

There are two facets to the study hall program at Nebraska. Student-athletes either attend a structured study hall, typically two hours in length held four days a week, or have flex time where they study a specific number of hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. Weekly study hall reports are provided to the coaching staff.

MENTORING

Many student-athletes meet with a mentor on a weekly basis to assist in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Mentors collect syllabi, gather and report academic progress information and teach academic success strategies.

EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENTS

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach to determine student strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and to determine if more in-depth testing is warranted. When additional assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete has a learning disability, appropriate accommodations are made through the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

MULTI-CULTURAL PROGRAMS

Designed to enhance cultural awareness, staff members concentrate efforts on issues of transition, adjustment and retention for students of color, international students and women.

These support programs include Ladies First, International Night and Your Degree First. Your Degree First is a program designed to assist, motivate and promote minority student-athletes in pursuing the degree of their choice.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ORIENTATION

The academic staff coordinates New Student-Athlete Orientation to help newcomers adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete. Presentations are made by academic counselors, compliance officials, NU faculty and administrators, business/community professionals and student-athletes.

PERSONAL COUNSELING

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. BO PELINI

| HEAD COACH | THIRD YEAR | 20-8 RECORD (.714) | BOWL RECORD: 3-0 |

Born: Dec. 13, 1967

"It is about the process." Any Nebraska fan or casual observer of the Cornhusker football program has heard Head Coach Bo Pelini use that phrase to describe his guiding philosophy for his team to be a success.

Exactly what that process is may not be as easy to define. But it is clear that the process Pelini envisions for his program includes working hard and doing the right thing every day to ensure long-term and repeated success.

One other fact is very clear: As the disciplined, no-nonsense head coach enters his third season at Nebraska, Pelini's process is working. The results speak for themselves.

In 2009, Pelini guided Nebraska to a 10-4 record and the Big 12 North Championship. The Huskers posted their first 10-win season in six years and were ranked No. 14 in both final national polls, NU's highest ranking at the end of the season since 2001. Nebraska fell just one point and one second short of its first Big 12 title in a decade, dropping a 13-12 decision to second-ranked Texas in the Big 12 Championship Game. Nebraska capped the year with a dominant 33-0 shutout of Arizona in the Pacific Life Holiday Bowl, giving Pelini a 3-0 bowl record as NU's head coach.

Nebraska's path to the conference title game was not an easy one. After a pair of disappointing October losses, Nebraska stood 4-3 overall and just 1-2 in Big 12 play. However, for a second straight year, Pelini did not waver, using his steady process to get his team back on track as Nebraska played its best football to close the season. The Huskers reeled off five straight wins to end the regular season, including three road victories, and captured the division title by two games.

Pelini became the first coach in the 14-year history of the Big 12 Conference to win at least a share of a division title in each of his first two seasons. Pelini joined Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne and Frank Solich as coaches who have won at least nine games in each of their first two seasons at Nebraska. Pelini's 19 wins over the past two seasons place him second in victories among coaches who were hired at their respective schools in 2008.

The resurgence of the Nebraska program under Pelini has been due in large part to remarkable defensive improvement – Pelini's area of expertise before taking over as head coach. Just two seasons removed from ranking near the bottom of several Big 12 and national defensive categories, the Blackshirts ascended to a position as one of the nation's most dominant defenses in 2009.

Nebraska led the nation in scoring defense last year, allowing just 10.4 points per game, while pitching a pair of shutouts. The 10.4 points per game marked the lowest average allowed by Nebraska since the Blackshirts also led the nation by allowing 9.5 points per game in 1984. The 2009 season also marked the first time NU posted two shutouts since 2003 when Pelini served as defensive coordinator, and the 2009 Huskers held eight of 14 opponents to 10 or fewer points.

The Blackshirts also topped the pass efficiency defense and red zone defense lists and ranked in the top 10 nationally in sacks, rushing defense and total defense. The 272.0 yards per game allowed ranked as the school's best since 1999.

Under Pelini's guidance, senior defensive tackle Ndamukong Suh was one of the most decorated defensive players in college football history. The first defensive lineman to be a finalist for the Heisman Trophy in 15 seasons, Suh finished fourth in the voting. He was also the first defensive player to be named the Associated Press Player of the Year, and was a unanimous All-American. Suh's hardware included the Outland, Lombardi, Nagurski and Bednarik awards. The award-winning season for Suh came just two seasons after LSU defensive tackle Glenn Dorsey won three major national awards and was an All-American while Pelini served as LSU's defensive coordinator. Suh and Dorsey are the only players in the past 14 seasons to sweep the Nagurski and Bednarik awards.

Pelini guided the Huskers to a 9-4 record in 2008, capped by victories in the Huskers' final four games and six of the season's final seven contests. The late-season surge allowed Nebraska to earn a share of the Big 12 North championship, and the Huskers picked up their ninth win with a 26-21 come-from-behind victory over Clemson in the Kona Minolta Gator Bowl. The win was a fitting conclusion for a team that developed a toughness that was a direct extension of its head coach.

Pelini's nine wins were the most nationally among first-time head coaches in 2008. Nebraska won its final four games of 2008 to carry the longest winning streak into a season since 2000. The 6-1 run to close the year tied for the best by an NU team since 1997, and Nebraska won its final four games for just the second time since 1997. In fact, through two seasons, Pelini's Nebraska teams have a 10-2 record in games played on or after Nov. 1. The only losses are to teams that appeared in the BCS National Championship Game later that season.

The success under Pelini in 2008 was attributed to both sides of the football. The Husker offense continued to rank among the nation's best, finishing in the nation's top 20 in passing offense, scoring offense and total offense.

The biggest gains were made on the defensive side of the ball where Pelini implemented his proven defensive system. Nebraska improved its total defensive average by 126.9 yards per game and finished second in the Big 12 in total defense. The run defense allowed 116.5 yards per game, nearly cutting its average from 2007 in half and finishing in the top 25 nationally in that category. The Blackshirts also posted 35 sacks, nearly tripling the total of the previous season.

The successful first season for Pelini came as a result of his ability to quickly implement his attitude and leadership into the program. Nebraska Athletic Director and Hall of Fame coach Tom Osborne named Pelini the 28th head coach in Nebraska football history on Dec. 2, 2007. Pelini wasted no time instilling a disciplined approach on and off the field, while also embracing the traditions of the Cornhusker football program. Pelini built a coaching staff with close ties to both the Pelini family and the Nebraska football family.

The Nebraska staff includes three former Husker players, and six full-time assistant coaches with previous experience at Nebraska. Seven coaches have worked alongside Pelini, including five members of the 2003 Husker staff. His Youngstown roots are also represented with three Cardinal Mooney High School grads among the Husker coaches.

The Nebraska staff hired by Pelini enters its third season fully intact. Nebraska is one of only nine schools that will enter the 2010 season with the same full-time coaching staff for a third consecutive season.

Pelini immediately showed the discipline to handle multiple tasks following his hiring. While quickly taking charge of all aspects of the Nebraska program, Pelini was also committed to finishing what he had started at LSU. Pelini returned to Baton Rouge in mid-December of 2007 and successfully orchestrated the Tigers' defensive game plan for the BCS National Championship Game against Ohio State. The 38-24 win was keyed by a defense that forced three turnovers and had five sacks.

Following the championship victory, Pelini turned his full focus to Nebraska. His first order of business in Lincoln was to pull together the Huskers' 2008 recruiting class. Pelini successfully organized and led a recruiting charge that allowed Nebraska to sign a talented and balanced recruiting class that February.

Pelini also understands the importance of the storied Nebraska walk-on program, and has integrated it as a key part of the Huskers' recruiting plan. The Cornhusker staff has welcomed nearly 70 walk-ons to the program in the first three seasons, and will continue to make the walk-on program a focus in future years.

Pelini has also reached out to two groups that form the backbone of the tradition-rich Nebraska program—its former players and its passionate fan base.

Former Cornhuskers have rallied behind Pelini's blue-collar approach. In turn the head coach has opened his door to those who helped build the program. Pelini has made a strong effort to connect with former players and those past Cornhuskers have become a fixture in the football offices and at practices.

Pelini has made regular public appearances around the state, reaching out to the nation's most loyal fans. The widespread support for Pelini has been evident at every stop and his simple, humble approach is a perfect fit with Nebraskans. The support for Pelini has been evident since his arrival, beginning with 80,000 fans at the Red-White Spring Game in April of 2008 to loyal followings on the road, at bowl games in Jacksonville and San Diego and the 2009 Big 12 Championship Game in Arlington, Texas.

While devoting time to former players, fans and attracting talented future Huskers, Pelini's No. 1 professional priority has been, and always will be, the current players in his program. Players have responded to his straight-forward message and process: Work hard, do the right thing and success will follow.

That hard work and discipline does not end on the field. Pelini's players have excelled in the classroom as well since he took over the program. Among Nebraska's 23-player 2010 senior class, 22 student-athletes are on track to graduate by May of 2011. Overall, 52 of 57 players in Pelini's first three senior classes are set to earn their degrees by August of 2011. Seven players have earned CoSIDA Academic All-District honors, including 2008 second-team Academic All-Americans Todd Peterson and Tyler Wortman. Pelini has also seen 28 of his players earned first-team academic all-conference honors during the past two years.

The wide-spread success Pelini has enjoyed in his first two seasons in Lincoln should come as no surprise. Prior to being named head coach, Pelini enjoyed five seasons as college football's most successful defensive coordinator. But the success story started much earlier during Pelini's youth. The youngest of eight children, Pelini grew up in the hard-nosed town of Youngstown, Ohio. Pelini's parents instilled the discipline at a young age that has guided Bo to success both in and out of athletics.

Pelini's passion for athletics began in Youngstown. After a standout prep career at Cardinal Mooney High School, Pelini went on to Ohio State. A hard-hitting safety, he was known for his passionate and relentless play. Teammates recognized his leadership and elected Pelini a team captain as a senior.

The tradition of being part of winning programs did not end after Pelini's playing career. His coaching career has featured success at every stop along the way. A Super Bowl ring and a national championship are part of the 42-year-old's impressive resume.

That coaching resume included a one-year stop as defensive coordinator at Nebraska. During the 2003 season, Pelini quickly learned the traditions of Nebraska football and its passionate fan base. In turn, Husker fans recognized the discipline and passion instilled by Pelini in the Blackshirt defense.

His first stop in Lincoln marked Pelini's first full-time college coaching job. During that 2003 season, Pelini engineered a dominant Blackshirt defense. The energized, relentless unit finished among the Big 12 and nation's best in nearly every defensive category.

Nebraska finished the year ranked first nationally in pass efficiency defense, second in scoring defense and 11th in total defense. The Huskers set a school and Big 12 record with 32 interceptions and tied an NU record with 47 takeaways, helping Nebraska lead the nation in turnover margin.

Pelini began his second tour of duty at Nebraska in 2008 with a victory on his resume. His first tenure in Lincoln was capped by serving as the interim head coach for Nebraska's dominant 17-3 win over Michigan State in the 2003 Alamo Bowl. In the win, the defense held MSU to just 174 total yards and a first-quarter field goal.

More defensive dominance followed in Pelini's next two stops at Oklahoma and LSU. Pelini served as the co-defensive coordinator on Bob Stoops' staff at Oklahoma in 2004, helping the Sooners win a Big 12 title and reach the national championship game against USC. Oklahoma finished the season ranked sixth nationally in rush defense, 11th in scoring defense and 13th in total defense.

In his three seasons as the defensive coordinator at LSU from 2005 to 2007, Pelini's dominant defenses helped the Tigers compile a 34-6 record, including the 2007 BCS national championship and the Southeastern Conference championship. The BCS title game in January of 2008 marked the third time in four years that Pelini was a part of a team that played in a BCS game.

The play of Pelini's defenses was a key part of LSU's success. The Tigers ranked third in the nation in total defense in 2007, surrendering an average of 288.8 yards per game. LSU also ranked in the top 25 nationally in pass efficiency defense (3rd), passing yards allowed per game (9th), rush defense (14th) and scoring defense (17th). Senior defensive tackle Glenn Dorsey was the nation's most decorated defender in 2007, earning the Outland Trophy, the Lombardi Award and the Bronko Nagurski Trophy, while safety Craig Steltz earned All-America honors.

Pelini's defenses have a history of swarming to the football. LSU forced 36 turnovers in 2007, the third-most takeaways in the country. The Tigers' 2007 defensive success was the standard for Pelini at LSU, as each of his three LSU defenses ranked No. 3 nationally in total defense.

Pelini's 2006 unit surrendered just 242.8 yards per game, the fewest by a Tiger team since 1976. A pair of Tigers earned first-team All-America honors, including Dorsey and safety LaRon Landry, who went on to become the sixth overall pick in the NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins.

In 2005, the Tigers allowed just 266.9 yards per game, and ranked in the top 10 nationally in all four major defensive categories, including third in total defense, scoring defense and pass efficiency defense. Kyle Williams and Claude Wroten were both first-team All-America selections.

Overall, the seven college teams Pelini has been a part of have compiled an impressive 74-18 record, winning at least nine games every season. His defenses have posted nine shutouts and held the opposition to seven points or less 32 times. The 2009 Nebraska defense boasted two of those shutouts, while holding five opponents to three points or fewer.

Before joining the Huskers in 2003, Pelini had nine years of NFL experience, one season at a Division I university, and one year in the high school ranks. Pelini broke into the NFL in 1994 as assistant secondary coach for the San Francisco 49ers. With the 49ers, Pelini coached in the Super Bowl, helping San Francisco to a 49-26 win over San Diego in Super Bowl XXIX. Pelini held that position for three years before moving to the Patriots. He spent three years as New England's linebackers coach under coach Pete Carroll, helping the Patriots to a 27-21 record and two playoff appearances.

After three years with the Patriots, Pelini moved to the Packers, coaching linebackers for three seasons. In three years in Green Bay with head coach Mike Sherman, the Packers posted a 33-15 record and advanced twice to the playoffs. In 2002, the Packer defense ranked fourth in the NFL in pass defense, allowing 188.4 yards per game.

Pelini got his start in coaching in 1991, serving as a graduate assistant coach at Iowa under Hayden Fry. From there he moved into the high school ranks, serving as quarterbacks coach at Cardinal Mooney High School in Youngstown, Ohio in 1993 before taking the leap to the 49ers.

A standout free safety at Ohio State from 1987 to 1990, Pelini earned four letters for the Buckeyes. He was coached by Earle Bruce in 1987 and John Cooper his final three seasons. Pelini helped the Buckeyes to a 15-8 record over his final two seasons as a starter, and he was a three-time selection to the Academic All-Big Ten team. As a senior co-captain Pelini received the "Bo Rein Award," given annually to the Buckeyes' most inspirational player.

After earning his bachelor's degree in business marketing from Ohio State in 1990, Pelini completed his master's degree in sports administration at Ohio University in 1992. Pelini and his wife, Mary Pat, have three children, an 11-year-old son, Patrick, and two daughters, Kate, 9 and Caralyn, 7.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING ABOUT BO PELINI

"Hopefully, I am an example of what a player can gain by coming to Nebraska and playing for Coach Pelini and his staff. The coaching staff taught me so much in the short amount of time I was able to work with them. As a recruit you can come in and have four years under your belt with this staff. Just imagine how much better you can become."

-- Ndamukong Suh, 2009 Heisman Trophy finalist, Lombardi, Outland, Nagurski and Bednarik awards winner and 2010 No. 2 NFL Draft pick

"Our football program has made significant progress in two years under Bo's leadership. We are confident he has our program moving in the right direction. Bo is very straight-forward and very honest, and this is something players like. Our football team has responded to Bo's leadership and that has been a big part of the team's success.

"It is obvious he has a good understanding of this football program and an understanding of the importance of football to the state of Nebraska."

-- Tom Osborne, Hall of Fame Football Coach and current Nebraska Athletic Director

"When you know how Bo thinks, he's very passionate about every part of this program — about the kids doing the right things, about the kids graduating, about accountability, about Nebraska being what Nebraska should be. I think he's got a great plan."

-- Ohio State Head Coach Jim Tressell

"Bo is a great person and a great coach. He did a wonderful job for us while he was on our staff and he has obviously been successful at his other stops, as well. He is doing an excellent job for Nebraska."

-- Oklahoma Head Coach Bob Stoops

"I spent five years with Bo in the NFL. He's a great football coach. He is a success due to his work ethic, toughness and the great schemes that he brings."

-- Seattle Seahawks Head Coach Pete Carroll

"I have watched Bo's career closely, first in the NFL, then as one of the best coordinators in college football and now as the head coach at Nebraska. I think it was evident that he was ready to be the leader of a first-class program like Nebraska.

"Nebraska has one of the best young coaches in the country. Bo will outwork anybody and everybody to get Nebraska back among the elite of college football."

-- Kirk Herbstreit, ESPN College Football Analyst

"I'm just grateful I had the opportunity to play for him because he's done tremendous things for me in my career. He has, without a doubt, made me the player I am today. I just enjoy the way he coaches. I just enjoy being around him.

"Coach Pelini is going to set his goals through the roof, and he's not happy if he doesn't achieve them. He is a real intense guy. You're going to work hard, but it's going to pay off in the end."

-- Glenn Dorsey, 2007 Lombardi Award and Outland Trophy winner under Pelini at LSU

"He's the ultimate players' coach. He is real close to the players and takes an interest in you as an individual. His determination and drive snowballs down to the players, and I think that is one reason we had so much success under him in 2008."

-- Zach Potter, Former Nebraska Defensive End

"He is a great coach. He's like a father figure in that you just have so much respect for him and you don't want to disappoint him. As seniors, we felt he really cared about us and that was in just one short year. Players will do anything for him."

Carl Pelini enters his third season on his brother's Nebraska coaching staff in 2010, serving as defensive coordinator and defensive line coach.

In his first two seasons on NU's staff, Carl Pelini played a leading role in a dramatic resurgence for the Husker defense. After being one of the nation's most improved defenses in 2008, Nebraska featured a dominant defensive unit under Pelini's direction last fall.

The Huskers led the nation in scoring defense, pass efficiency defense and red zone defense, while also ranking in the top 10 nationally in sacks, rushing defense and total defense. The Huskers surrendered just 10.4 points per game, posted two shutouts and allowed only two opponents to reach 20 points. Pelini's defense led the nation by holding eight opponents to 10 or fewer points, including seven in single digits.

Nebraska allowed only 14 offensive touchdowns during the 2009 season, as six opponents failed to score an offensive touchdown. The Blackshirts also forced 28 turnovers, scored two defensive touchdowns and produced 80 points off turnovers. The Huskers allowed just 272.0 yards per game to rank seventh nationally and second in the Big 12. Its total defensive average was the best for NU in a decade. Each of the Huskers' 14 opponents failed to reach their season average in points and only one foe reached its average in total offense.

Several individuals set school records in 2009. Defensive tackle Ndamukong Suh was the second overall pick in the 2010 NFL Draft after being named a Heisman Trophy finalist and the winner of the Associated Press National Player of the Year, Bronko Nagurski Trophy, Rotary Lombardi Award, Outland Trophy and the Chuck Bednarik Award. Suh moved up to second place on the NU career chart in tackles for loss, including a school-record tying seven TFL in the Big 12 Championship Game. Defensive tackle Jared Crick set the school record with 5.0 sacks at Baylor, while safety Matt O'Hanlon intercepted a school-record tying three passes against Oklahoma.

In Pelini's first season in 2008, the Nebraska defense finished second in the Big 12 in total defense and ranked among the top 25 nationally in rushing defense. In the process, NU allowed 127 fewer yards per game than in 2007.

Pelini joined the NU staff after three seasons on Frank Solich's coaching staff at Ohio University. Pelini previously served as the Huskers' defensive graduate assistant in 2003, when Bo Pelini was the defensive coordinator. Carl Pelini worked with the defensive line, helping NU rank second nationally in scoring defense and takeaways and 11th in total defense.

Following his one season with the Huskers, Pelini spent 2004 as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Minnesota State Mankato, under head coach Jeff Jamrog, a former Husker player and assistant coach. Pelini helped the Mavericks to a 6-5 record after a winless season the previous year.

After one season in Mankato, Pelini was hired to coach the defensive line at Ohio University. He played a vital role in helping the Bobcats turn around their football program, including a nine-win season and bowl game in 2006. Those marks were firsts for the school since the 1968 campaign. The Bobcat defense then continued the turnaround the following season, ranking in the top 30 nationally in scoring and total defense in 2007.

Pelini was the head coach at Fitch High School in Austintown, Ohio, from 2000 to 2002. Pelini rebuilt a program that had not had a winning season for eight years before his arrival, culminating with a 6-4 record in 2002. Pelini previously was the head coach and athletic director at Winnetonka High School in Kansas City, Mo., from 1996 to 2000, and also served as the defensive coordinator at Blue Valley High School in Overland Park, Kan.

Pelini played two seasons at Columbia University, before transferring to Youngstown State, where he completed his undergraduate degree work in 1989. He was a defensive graduate assistant on Bill Snyder's staff at Kansas State over the 1989 and 1990 seasons, then served as a restricted earnings coach in 1991.

Pelini earned his bachelor's degree in English literature from Youngstown State in 1989. He added a master's degree in journalism from Kansas State in 1991 and a master's in education from Ohio State University in 1993.

Carl and his wife, Kelley, are the parents of three children, Nicole, Danielle and Dominic.

Shawn Watson is in his fifth season at Nebraska in 2010 and his fourth as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. Watson has a proven track record as a Big 12 coordinator and has 28 years of college coaching experience, including three years as a head coach.

Nebraska returns 10 offensive starters for the 2010 season, a large contrast to last season when the Huskers lost most of their offensive experience, especially at the skill positions. First-time starters accounted for 22 of Nebraska's 40 touchdowns in 2009, including 10 scores from the Huskers' freshman class.

Three true freshmen scored for Nebraska in 2009, a program record. In the season opener, I-back Rex Burkhead and quarterback Cody Green each rushed for a touchdown to become the first pair of Husker true freshmen to ever score in a season opener. Green later went on to start games at Baylor and at home against Oklahoma to join Tommie Frazier as the only true freshmen to start at quarterback for the Huskers.

Although an inexperienced offense did not match the elite offensive numbers of the previous two seasons - including top-25 total offense rankings in both 2007 and 2008 - the unit helped Nebraska capture the Big 12 North crown and post its first 10-win season since 2003.

Nebraska averaged 147.1 rushing yards per game in 2009, and junior I-back Roy Helu Jr. posted a 1,000-yard rushing season, and surpassed 2,000 career rushing yards. The Huskers averaged 175.7 yards through the air, and first-year starter Zac Lee completed nearly 60 percent of his passes. Watson's balanced attack a year earlier averaged 169.8 yards per game on the ground and 281.0 yards in the air, as the Huskers' 450.8 yards of total offense per game ranked 12th nationally.

Senior quarterback Joe Ganz set single-season school records for total yards with 3,826, and passing yards with 3,568 in 2008. He threw for 25 touchdowns while completing 67.9 percent of his passes, finishing his career with more than 20 NU records.

Watson was promoted to offensive coordinator before the 2007 season, when the Huskers threw for a school-record 3,886 yards, including the top three passing days in school history. The Nebraska offense ranked ninth nationally at 468.2 yards per game, NU's best average since 1997. A pair of Watson's quarterbacks helped Nebraska rank seventh nationally in passing with a school-record 323.8 yards per game.

In his first season at Nebraska, Watson coached the tight ends and was the recruiting coordinator. Among his proteges that first season at NU was Matt Herian, who finished his career with a Husker tight end record for receptions (65) and reception yardage (1,243).

Watson came to Nebraska after seven seasons on Gary Barnett's Colorado staff from 1999 to 2005, including the last six as offensive coordinator. Watson was on the staff of four Colorado teams that won the Big 12 North Division, including a conference title in 2001.

Prior to moving to Colorado, Watson worked for Barnett at Northwestern in 1997 and 1998, serving as quarterbacks coach for the Wildcats. Watson earned his spot at Northwestern following a three-year stint as the head coach at Southern Illinois, Watson's alma mater. During his three years at SIU, the Salukis compiled an 11-22 record, and produced 20 all-conference players.

Watson was named the coach at SIU after an impressive seven-year run as an assistant coach at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. At Miami, Watson tutored the tight ends for three years, wide receivers for two years and served as quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator in his final two seasons.

Watson's first full-time assistant coaching job came on Mike White's Illinois staff. Watson first served as a graduate assistant in 1983 and 1984, then worked with the offensive tackles and tight ends in 1985, before serving as the Illini's wide receivers coach in 1986. Watson was a part of two bowl teams at Illinois, including the 1983 Rose Bowl team.

Watson began his collegiate playing career at Illinois in 1978, but transferred to Southern Illinois at Carbondale in 1979 and played two seasons with the Salukis as a safety. He earned a bachelor's degree from SIU in 1982, then served for one season as a graduate assistant with the Salukis in 1982.

Watson and his wife, Anita, have a daughter, Amber, and two sons, Aaron and Adam, a senior walk-on receiver for the Huskers. Amber and her husband, Marcus, have two children, Caden and Maggie.

TIM BECK

| Running Backs | Central Florida (1988) |

Born: March 14, 1966

Hometown: Youngstown, Ohio

College: Central Florida, 1988

Wife: Tamara

Children: Jordan and Haylie Marie

Tim Beck is in his third season as the Huskers' running backs coach in 2010.

In 2009, Nebraska averaged 147.1 rushing yards per game, and outrushed 11 of 14 opponents, including the final six foes of the season. Roy Helu Jr. rushed for 1,147 yards, and ranked fourth in the Big 12 in rushing to earn second-team All-Big 12 honors. Fellow backs Rex Burkhead and Dontrayveous Robinson each played key roles as true freshmen. Burkhead ran for 346 yards, while Robinson had 165 rushing yards, and the duo became the first pair of true freshmen Husker I-backs to each score a pair of touchdowns since 1993.

In his first season, Beck coached a prolific running game that averaged 169.8 yards per game, including three running backs who topped 450 rushing yards. Under Beck, Nebraska's running game continued to improve throughout 2008. Nebraska had five games with more than 200 rushing yards in conference play, including a season-high 355 yards against Kansas State. In conference games, Nebraska ranked No. 3 in the Big 12 at 182.5 yards per game, tops in the North division.

Beck came to Nebraska with excellent knowledge of the conference after a three-year stint on the staff at Kansas. Beck was the Jayhawks' receivers coach each of his three seasons in Lawrence, and was promoted to pass game coordinator in February of 2007.

The Kansas passing game flourished under Beck's leadership. In 2007, Kansas featured one of the nation's most potent offenses, helping the Jayhawks to a 12-1 record and a No. 7 final national ranking. Kansas capped its season with a 24-21 victory over Virginia Tech in the Fed Ex Orange Bowl.

The Jayhawks finished the year ranked second nationally in scoring offense (42.8 ppg), eighth in total offense (479.8 ypg) and 17th in passing offense (291.0 ypg). Four Kansas players topped the 40-reception mark, led by senior receiver Marcus Henry, who caught 54 passes for 1,014 yards and 10 touchdowns to earn All-Big 12 honors.

In 2006, five Jayhawk receivers caught at least 24 passes, led by Fields who snared a team-high 45 receptions. In 2005, Beck's receiving corps helped Kansas to a 7-5 record and a victory in the Fort Worth Bowl.

Before joining the Jayhawks, Beck was one of the most respected high school coaches in the state of Texas, serving three seasons at Summit High in Mansfield. He was the 2003 District Coach of the Year, and a year later, Summit High advanced to the quarterfinals of the state playoffs with a 9-4 record. The Jaguars finished the season with the top-ranked defense in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex area under Beck's leadership.

Beck was the head coach at R.L. Turner High in Carrollton, Texas, from 1999 to 2001, leading the school to back-to-back playoff appearances and consecutive winning seasons for the first time in 25 years. Beck was named the district coach of the year in 2000.

Prior to coaching in the Texas high school ranks, Beck worked at Missouri State for three seasons from 1996 to 1998, including one season as the offensive coordinator. In 1998, the MSU offense racked up 4,542 total yards-the fourth-best single-season mark in school history.

Beck was hired at Missouri State after leading Saguro High School in Scottsdale, Ariz., to the 1995 4A state championship – the first state championship in the school's 30-year history. Beck was named the regional coach of the year in 1994, and in his final two seasons at the school, Saguro compiled a 23-4 record, compared to a 5-43 mark in the five seasons prior to his arrival.

The 44-year-old Beck first gained experience in the Big 12 Conference as a graduate assistant at Kansas State in 1991 and 1992 under Head Coach Bill Snyder. Beck worked on the KSU staff with Carl Pelini. Previously, Beck coached the outside linebackers and punters at Illinois State in 1990, and worked in 1988 and 1989 as an assistant coach at Miramar High School.

Beck is a native of Youngstown, Ohio, and graduated from Cardinal Mooney High, the same high school that Bo and Carl Pelini attended. Beck was a standout in football, basketball and baseball at Cardinal Mooney.

Beck played at Central Florida and earned his bachelor's degree in 1988 before adding a master's degree in counseling and guidance from KSU in 1992. He and his wife, Tamara, have a son, Jordan, and a daughter, Haylie Marie.

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

 Assistant to the Athletic Director

2004-2007, State Director Nebraska
 Fellowship of Christian Athletes

Veteran college assistant Ron Brown re-joined the Nebraska coaching staff in 2008 and is in his third season as the Huskers' tight ends coach. The 2010 campaign is Brown's 20th overall season as a Nebraska assistant after serving as an assistant for 17 seasons from 1987 to 2003.

In 2009, Brown's tight ends unit combined for 46 catches, 442 yards and six touchdowns. Five different tight ends caught a pass, including three with a touchdown reception. Overall, tight ends grabbed six of Nebraska's 18 touchdown catches.

Mike McNeill enjoyed his second straight strong season under Brown's tutelage. McNeill tied for the team lead with four touchdown catches, while ranking second with 26 catches and third with 259 receiving yards. He was a second-team AP All-Big 12 selection and enters his senior season in 2010 poised to shatter the NU record for career receptions by a tight end.

In 2008, Brown assisted with an NU offense that finished 12th nationally in total offense. McNeill set a Nebraska tight end season record with 32 receptions, including six touchdown grabs. Fellow sophomore tight end Dreu Young averaged a team-leading 15.6 yards per catch while sharing time with McNeill.

Brown served as receivers coach for his entire first tenure with the Huskers and also tutored the tight ends during his first 16 seasons on the NU staff. The blocking of Brown's wide receivers played a key role in Nebraska's nine NCAA rushing titles.

Brown and former Husker Stan Parker are co-founders and co-directors of a statewide Christian ministry called Mission Nebraska. This ministry stewards numerous Christian radio stations and translators across Nebraska, along with facilitating a host of other endeavors that are near to Brown's heart. One such passion was the several I CAN CAMPS that minister to low-income children throughout Nebraska.

The 53-year-old Brown spent the four years prior to his return to coaching serving as the Nebraska State Director of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. While he relinquished that duty to return to the Cornhuskers, he continues as a regular columnist for FCA's National Magazine "Sharing the Victory." Brown also hosts a national weekly one-minute sports feature called, "I Got Jesus, Who You Got."

During his time away from coaching, Brown also worked as an internet, television and radio college and high school analyst for ESPN and Sports Spectrum.

Through Mission Nebraska, Brown hosts a weekly statewide cable TV show called "Truth Vision." He has authored several books on Christian character and growth. Brown has a heart for Christian men and boys to courageously lead in the public square. He is an outspoken advocate on many issues, including adoption, abstinence and drug and alcohol education, race relations and anti-pornography, to name a few.

Brown is also nationally respected for his ability as an intense teacher on the gridiron. The NU receivers under Brown were long known for their tenacity and downfield blocking. Despite featuring a run-based attack from 1987 to 2003, Brown's receivers and tight ends also made their mark in the passing game, leading the Big 12 in touchdown receptions three times.

Twenty-seven of Brown's former pupils have gone on to professional careers, including tight end Johnny Mitchell, the New York Jets' first-round pick in 1992; Tyrone Hughes, the two-time Pro Bowl selection with the New Orleans Saints; and tight end Sheldon Jackson, a 1999 draft pick of the Buffalo Bills. Brown has coached 37 academic all-conference players and two CoSIDA Academic All-Americans with the Huskers.

Brown joined Osborne's staff after four years of coaching at Brown University in Providence, R.I., from 1983 to 1986. Brown's first season was as the school's head freshman coach, and he then spent three seasons as defensive backfield coach. Brown also served as assistant to the athletic director in 1986.

Brown was a two-time first-team All-Ivy League performer as a defensive back. He was selected to Brown University's All-Century team and the school's Sports Hall of Fame. Brown signed with three NFL teams as a free agent from 1979 to 1981.

Brown received his bachelor's degree from Brown in 1979, then earned his master's degree in health administration from Columbia University in 1982. He began his coaching career as a defensive coordinator for the semipro New Jersey Rams in 1982, before moving to his alma mater in 1983.

Brown is married to Molvina Carter and they have two daughters, Sojourner Elaine and Bronwyn Pearl.

BARNEY COTTON

| Associate Head Coach/Offensive Line | Nebraska (1983) |

Born: Sept. 30, 1956

Hometown: Omaha, Neb.

College: Nebraska, 1983

Wife: Christine

Children: Ben, Jake and Sam

Barney Cotton is in his third season as the Nebraska offensive line coach. The Omaha native is in his fourth season overall as a Nebraska assistant, having previously served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach in 2003, a position Cotton has tutored for 21 years. Cotton also serves as Nebraska's associate head coach, assisting Head Coach Bo Pelini with a number of administrative issues.

Under Cotton's leadership in 2009, three Husker linemen (Ricky Henry, Jacob Hickman and Keith Williams) earned All-Big 12 accolades from the Associated Press. The line helped pave the way for I-back Roy Helu Jr. to earn All-Big 12 honors while posting the 29th 1,000-yard rushing season in Husker history. The unit also surrendered only 19 sacks to rank 31st nationally.

Cotton helped the Nebraska offense post impressive numbers in 2008, as the Huskers finished among the top 20 nationally in total offense, scoring offense and passing offense. Senior offensive guard Matt Slauson was a second-team All-Big 12 pick under Cotton's guidance, while center Jacob Hickman was an honorable-mention pick by the coaches and tackle Lydon Murtha was named honorable-mention by the Associated Press. The O-line paved the way for the Husker running game to average 169.8 yards per game and scored 27 touchdowns, while protecting quarterback Joe Ganz as he threw for a single-season school-record 3,568 yards, and set the single-season school-record with 3,826 total yards.

In 2003, Cotton's offensive unit helped Nebraska to a 10-3 record and a victory over Michigan State in the Alamo Bowl. Nebraska ranked among the top 10 nationally in rushing offense and four Husker offensive linemen earned all-conference accolades.

Following his successful one-year stint with NU, Cotton stayed in the Big 12, serving as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Iowa State. With the Cyclones, Cotton directed a potent ISU offensive attack led by quarterback Bret Meyer and record-setting receiver Todd Blythe.

In 2004, Cotton's offensive attack helped ISU to a late-season surge and a berth in the Independence Bowl where it defeated Miami (Ohio). The following season, Meyer and Blythe led ISU to a trip to the Houston Bowl as Meyer threw for 2,876 yards, while Blythe topped 1,000 receiving yards. Center Scott

Stephenson was a first-team All-Big 12 pick that year in his first season under Cotton.

Following his stint at ISU, Cotton served as a volunteer assistant coach at Ames High School in 2007, where he assisted with all aspects of the offense.

Before his four-year run as an offensive coordinator in the Big 12 Conference, Cotton spent the previous six seasons as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at New Mexico State on the staff of former Husker Tony Samuel. Under Cotton's direction, the Aggie offense ranked in the top 25 nationally in total offense three times in six seasons and ranked in the top 25 in rushing offense all six seasons.

Cotton went to New Mexico State from Hastings College, where he was head coach in 1995 and 1996. In 1995, the Broncos won the Nebraska-Iowa Athletic Conference Championship and made an appearance in the NIAA playoffs. Cotton was named the 1995 NIAC Coach of the Year.

Cotton spent six seasons as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at St. Cloud State (Minn.) from 1989 to 1994. In 1989, St. Cloud won the North Central Conference Championship and averaged more than 400 yards per game of total offense.

An all-state selection as a senior at Omaha Burke High School, Cotton played for Nebraska from 1975 to 1978. He played on the offensive line as a freshman and sophomore, then switched to defense where he started at tackle in 1977. Cotton moved back to offense for his senior season in 1978, where he earned second-team All-Big Eight honors as a guard on coach Tom Osborne's Big Eight championship team.

Cotton played in the 1979 East-West Shrine Game, then was a third-round pick of the Cincinnati Bengals in 1979. Cotton played one season with Cincinnati and three in St. Louis from 1980 to 1982, before a knee injury forced his retirement.

Cotton earned a bachelor's degree from Nebraska in 1983 and a master's degree in athletic administration from St. Cloud State in 1994. Cotton and his wife, Christine, have three sons, Ben, Jake and Sam. Ben is a sophomore tight end for the Huskers in 2010, while Jake is a true freshman defensive lineman.

2008-present, Nebraska assistant coach/linebackers

Mike Ekeler is in his third season on the NU defensive staff in 2010. A native Nebraskan, Ekeler serves as linebackers coach.

His linebacking corps earned numerous honors in 2009, including second-team All-Big 12 accolades for Phillip Dillard and All-Big 12 freshman team honors for both Will Compton and Sean Fisher. After switching to WILL linebacker and starting the final nine games, Dillard totaled 83 tackles and 11 tackles for loss, including three sacks, while adding one interception before being taken in the fifth round of the 2010 NFL Draft. The linebacker unit played a key role in Nebraska leading the nation in scoring defense and pass efficiency defense.

In his first season with Nebraska, Ekeler molded a young linebacking corps that helped the Huskers rank second in the Big 12 in total defense in 2008, a dramatic improvement from 2007. Nebraska allowed 126 fewer yards per game than in 2008 and cut its rushing defense average nearly in half. The defensive accomplishments came despite the linebacking corps battling numerous injuries that forced Ekeler to use six different linebackers in the starting lineup throughout the year.

Ekeler joined the Nebraska staff after spending the previous four seasons working alongside Bo Pelini. Ekeler spent the 2005 and 2006 seasons as a graduate assistant coach at LSU, working with the Tiger defense. He then served as an intern for the LSU football team in 2007, helping the Tigers win the SEC and national titles, capped by a victory over Ohio State in the BCS National Championship Game. The 2007 season marked the third time in five years Ekeler was part of a team that played in the BCS title game.

In each of Ekeler's three seasons assisting Pelini with the LSU defense, the Tigers finished third nationally in total defense. LSU finished the 2007 season with a 12-2 mark, after posting records of 11-2 in each of the previous two seasons. The Tigers were a perfect 3-0 in bowl games, winning the Peach Bowl in 2005, the Sugar Bowl following the 2006 campaign and the BCS National Championship Game in 2007.

In 2006, the LSU defense surrendered just 242.8 yards per game, the fewest by a Tiger defense since 1976. LSU led the SEC in six defensive categories and ranked in the top five nationally in four major categories. Tiger defenders Glenn

Dorsey and LaRon Landry each earned first-team All-America honors.

LSU finished in the top 10 nationally in 2005 in all four major defensive categories and allowed less than 270 total yards per contest. A pair of Tiger defensive tackles – Kyle Williams and Claude Wroten – each earned first-team All-America accolades.

Ekeler spent the 2003 and 2004 seasons as a defensive graduate assistant at Oklahoma on Coach Bob Stoops' staff. In both of his seasons at OU, the Sooners participated in the national championship game and the Sooners posted a combined record of 24-3. In 2004, Ekeler worked alongside Bo Pelini, who served as the Sooners' co-defensive coordinator in OU's Big 12 title season.

The Blair (Neb.) High School graduate got his start in coaching, serving as a volunteer assistant at Omaha Skutt High School from 1999 to 2001. The following season, Ekeler served as an assistant coach at Manhattan (Kan.) High School, before moving into the college game. Prior to his stint in the high school ranks, Ekeler spent seven years in private business, owning a sales company based in Omaha.

Ekeler earned a reputation as a hard-nosed, fiery competitor during his playing days at Kansas State from 1991 to 1994. A four-year letterman, Ekeler was a linebacker and special teams standout for Coach Bill Snyder's teams, including the 1993 Copper Bowl and 1994 Aloha Bowl teams.

Snyder appointed Ekeler as a captain in 1994, the only self-appointed captain during Snyder's 18 seasons as Wildcat head coach. His special teams play was noted as Ekeler was honored for his special teams play as the George Michael Sports Machine Special Teams Player of the Year. He also earned academic all-conference honors while at Kansas State.

Ekeler played a key role in Blair High School's 1988 Class B state championship as a junior wide receiver and linebacker.

Ekeler graduated from Kansas State in 1995 with a bachelor's degree in social science. He and his wife, Barbie, have four children, J.J., Cameryn, Abigail and Bella.

TED GILMORE

| Assistant Head Coach-Offense/Wide Receivers/Recruiting Coordinator | Wyoming (1991) |

Born: March 21, 1967
Hometown: Wichita, Kan.
College: Wyoming, 1991

Wife: Jennifer
Children: Taylor and T.J.

Ted Gilmore enters his sixth year on the Nebraska coaching staff in 2010. He has served as the receivers coach throughout his tenure with the Huskers, while also handling the role of recruiting coordinator the past four years. The 43-year-old Gilmore added the title of assistant head coach-offense in 2008.

Husker receivers have posted record-setting numbers under Gilmore's direction, helping the NU passing game rank among the nation's top 15 in passing and total offense in both 2007 and 2008. Overall, Gilmore has coached three of the top six all-time receptions leaders in Nebraska history.

In 2009, Gilmore guided first-year starter Niles Paul to a breakout season, highlighted by All-Big 12 accolades. Paul accounted for a team-leading 121.2 all-purpose yards per game, and caught 40 passes for 796 yards. He averaged a Big 12-best 19.9 yards per catch, the third-best yards per catch average in school history for receivers with at least 20 receptions.

Nate Swift capped a record-breaking career in 2008. Swift broke 1972 Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers' school record for career receptions (166), while ranking second with 2,476 career receiving yards. Swift also caught a wide receiver-record 63 passes as a senior.

Todd Peterson also excelled under Gilmore, ranking among the NU top five in career receptions and receiving yards. His 62 catches in 2008 rank third in Husker history. Peterson also became one of the most decorated student-athletes in recent years, picking up second-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors in 2008.

Gilmore is considered a rising star in the profession. In 2007, he was selected to participate in the Expert Coaches Academy in Miami, and his receivers have seen success at all of his coaching stops.

In 2007, the NU receivers were the catalyst behind an offense that ranked seventh nationally in passing and ninth in total offense, while producing the top three passing days in school history.

Terrence Nunn and Maurice Purify finished their eligibility as the No. 2 and No. 5 career receivers at Nebraska. Nunn finished with 136 career catches, and finished third in career receiving yardage. Purify caught 57 passes as a senior, and finished with 16 touchdowns to rank No. 3 on the career list. Purify earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors for his efforts in 2007.

Gilmore came to Nebraska after spending two seasons on the coaching staff at the University of Colorado, where he also served as receivers coach and worked on the same staff as NU offensive coordinator Shawn Watson. Gilmore guided D.J. Hackett and Derek McCoy, who combined for 141 receptions, 1,896 yards and 18 touchdowns in 2003. Hackett set the school record with 78 receptions as a senior and was a first-team All-Big 12 selection before being taken in the 2004 NFL Draft by the Seattle Seahawks. In 2004, Gilmore helped five Colorado wideouts catch 20 or more passes.

Before his stint in Boulder, Gilmore spent two years as the wide receivers coach for Joe Tiller at Purdue. Gilmore coached the top receiving tandem in the Big Ten in 2002, when Taylor Stubblefield and John Standeford combined for 152 receptions and 2,096 yards. Stubblefield became the NCAA career leader with 316 receptions after catching at least one pass in all 47 collegiate games. He was a Biletnikoff Award finalist and consensus All-American in 2004. Standeford was the all-time Big Ten leader with 266 receptions and 3,788 yards, and was a semifinalist for the 2003 Biletnikoff Award, while also earning two first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America certificates.

Gilmore also had assistant coaching stints at Houston (2000), Kansas (1999) and his alma mater Wyoming (1997-98). He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Wyoming, working with the tight ends and wide receivers, including two-time All-American Marcus Harris. Along with Wendell Montgomery, Harris was the first receiver in NCAA history to record at least 1,400 receiving yards in three consecutive seasons. Harris won the Biletnikoff Award in 1996 after setting the NCAA record with 4,518 receiving yards.

Gilmore played his final two college seasons at Wyoming, lettering as a receiver in 1988 and 1989, after transferring from Butler County (Kan.) Community College. He caught 40 passes for a team-leading 594 yards and three TDs as a junior, and had 32 receptions for 445 yards and two TDs as a senior to earn second-team All-WAC honors. Gilmore earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Wyoming in 1991.

A native of Wichita, Kan., Gilmore graduated from Wichita South High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He and his wife, Jennifer, have a daughter, Taylor, and a son, T.J.

assistant coach/defensive ends

John Papuchis is in his third season on the Nebraska coaching staff in 2010. Papuchis tutors the Nebraska defensive ends and also serves as special teams coordinator while working with all of the Huskers' special teams units.

In 2009, his defensive ends combined for 127 tackles, including 33 tackles for loss and 12 sacks. With 16 tackles for loss and 5.5 sacks, senior Barry Turner was an honorable-mention All-Big 12 selection in 2009, while junior Pierre Allen racked up five sacks and 12 tackles for loss.

Nebraska also owned one of the nation's top special teams units in 2009. The Huskers' kickoff and punt return units both ranked in the top 30 nationally, while All-Big 12 punter and place-kicker Alex Henery had an NU record 24 field goals, while also placing a Big 12-leading 30 punts inside the opponent 20-yard line. The Huskers also ranked in the top 15 nationally in kickoff return defense and third in touchbacks. Henery enters his senior season in 2010 in a position to challenge NU's career records for scoring, field goals and field-goal accuracy.

Along with Henery, Papuchis had another weapon to utilize on special teams in Adi Kunalic. One of the nation's elite kickoff specialists the past three years, Kunalic has ranked among the national leaders in touchbacks for each season, posting 86 career touchbacks including 29 in 2009. Kunalic's performance last year helped Nebraska rank 15th nationally in kickoff return defense, the top average in the Big 12.

In his first year in Lincoln, Papuchis saw starting defensive ends Zach Potter and Allen combine for 26 tackles for loss and 10.5 sacks in 2008, with Potter earning honorable-mention All-Big 12 accolades. The defensive ends helped a Nebraska defense that finished second in the Big 12 in total defense.

The special teams unit had a banner year under Papuchis in 2008, headlined by Henery's school-record 57-yard game-winning field goal against Colorado. Henery finished the year 18-of-21 on field goals and missed just one extra point. Henery was a second-team All-Big 12 pick. The Huskers also ranked in the top 25 nationally in punt returns, and returned both a kickoff and punt for a touchdown in the same season for the first time since 1998.

Papuchis joined the Nebraska coaching staff after spending the previous four seasons on the football staff at LSU. Papuchis worked closely with Nebraska Head Coach Bo Pelini during their time together in Baton Rouge. Papuchis served as a defensive intern for the Tigers, assisting in every aspect of the defensive gameplan and scouting reports.

The efforts of Papuchis helped the Tigers rank among the nation's top defenses throughout his time with LSU. The Tigers ranked third nationally in total defense each season from 2005 to 2007. In 2007, the Tiger defense helped LSU to SEC and national titles, capped by a 38-24 victory over Ohio State in the BCS National Championship Game.

The Tigers had a pair of consensus All-Americans in defensive tackle Glenn Dorsey and safety Craig Steltz. Dorsey was one of the nation's most decorated players, collecting the 2007 Outland Trophy, Lombardi Award and Nagurski Trophy.

In 2006, the LSU defense surrendered just 242.8 yards per game, the fewest by a Tiger defense since 1976. LSU led the SEC in six defensive categories and ranked in the top five nationally in four major categories. LSU finished in the top 10 nationally in all four major defensive categories in 2005, and allowed less than 270 total yards per contest. Papuchis also coached the Tiger punters. In 2007, punter Patrick Fisher led the SEC in punting with a 44.5-yard average and earned first-team All-SEC honors.

Papuchis first joined Nick Saban's LSU staff prior to the 2004 season, helping the team earn a berth in the Capital One Bowl.

Papuchis had a three-year stint as a graduate assistant at Kansas from 2001 to 2003. In 2001, he worked with the Jayhawk secondary and then assisted with the linebackers. In his final season in Lawrence, Papuchis helped the Jayhawks earn a berth in the Tangerine Bowl.

Papuchis graduated from Virginia Tech in 2001 with a bachelor's degree in business management. He earned his master's degree in sports administration from Kansas in 2003.

MARVIN SANDERS

| Assistant Head Coach-Defense/Secondary | Nebraska (1988) |

Born: Oct. 2, 1967

Hometown: Chicago, Ill.

College: Nebraska, 1990

Wife: Susan

Children: Chandler Marie and Payton

Marvin Sanders is in his third season as the secondary coach in 2010 and second with the title of assistant head coach-defense. Sanders has 17 years of experience in the college ranks, including previously serving as the NU defensive backs coach in 2003.

The secondary was one of the nation's best in 2009, helping Nebraska lead the nation in pass efficiency defense and scoring defense. The national pass efficiency defense crown marked NU's second in three seasons with Sanders as secondary coach (also in 2003). NU also ranked in the top 10 nationally in sacks, rushing defense and total defense. Sanders' defensive backs picked off 18 passes, while allowing only seven touchdown passes and 178.9 yards per game. NU limited opponents to a 47.8-percent pass completion mark to rank fourth nationally.

Sanders had a pair of first-team All-Big 12 picks in 2009, and five defensive backs earned all-league accolades. Senior safety Larry Asante and junior cornerback Prince Amukamara were first-team selections. Amukamara returns in 2010 with DeJon Gomes and Eric Hagg, who each earned honorable-mention honors last year, along with departed Matt O'Hanlon. Asante was taken in the sixth round of the 2010 NFL Draft while O'Hanlon signed as a free agent.

In 2008, Sanders developed a young Nebraska secondary that helped NU rank second in the Big 12 Conference in total defense. In a loaded conference that included five of the nation's top eight passing offenses, the Husker secondary ranked second in the Big 12 in pass defense (233.4 ypg).

Sanders' first opportunity as a Nebraska assistant came in 2003 as NU set a school record with 47 takeaways, keying a 10-3 season. The Blackshirt defense set a school and league record with 32 interceptions and led the nation in pass efficiency defense, while finishing second in the country in scoring defense. Safety Josh Bullocks recorded a school-record 10 interceptions and became just the second NU sophomore in school history to earn All-America honors. Bullocks was also a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award.

Sanders was an assistant for three seasons at North Carolina from 2004 to 2006. In his first season at UNC, Sanders was the co-defensive coordinator and secondary coach and helped the Tar Heels reach a bowl game with a 5-3 record in ACC play. UNC won three of its final four games, allowing 338 yards per game in the final four contests, including just 234 against Duke, the fewest by a UNC defense in three years.

Sanders was defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach in his final two seasons at UNC. Carolina jumped more than 60 spots to 42nd nationally in total defense in 2005, including holding Virginia to 199 total yards and limiting Boston College to just 14 points. The Tar Heels held opponents to 280.4 yards per contest in five victories and posted their highest interception total since 1999 under Sanders' leadership.

In 2006, Sanders' pupil, senior Kareen Taylor, ranked fourth in the ACC and among the top 25 nationally in interceptions.

Sanders first came to Lincoln after a two-year stint as the secondary coach on Sonny Lubick's Colorado State staff in 2001 and 2002. The Rams posted a 17-9 record during Sanders' two seasons in Fort Collins, including winning the 2002 Mountain West title and earning a pair of bowl trips. Before his two seasons at CSU, Sanders spent one season at New Mexico State, where he coached defensive ends and outside linebackers for Head Coach Tony Samuel.

Sanders spent five seasons at Nebraska-Omaha from 1995 to 1999. Sanders was the Mavericks' secondary coach for all five seasons and was the team's defensive coordinator for his final three years in Omaha. UNO won two North Central Conference titles and appeared in the NCAA Division II playoffs twice under Sanders. A native of Markham, Ill., Sanders was the secondary coach at Minnesota-Morris in 1994, where he also served as sports information director. Sanders coached at Nebraska Wesleyan in 1992 and 1993.

Sanders earned three letters as a defensive back at Nebraska from 1987 to 1989, playing for Tom Osborne and secondary coach George Darlington. Despite injury, Sanders played in nine games in 1989 and earned honorable-mention All-Big Eight honors for the Fiesta Bowl squad.

Sanders received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Nebraska in 1990. He is married to the former Susan M. Hyland of Omaha. They have a daughter, Chandler Marie, and a son, Payton.

ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

2008-present, Nebraska
 Assistant A.D. for Football Operations

Former Nebraska player and assistant coach Jeff Jamrog is in his third year as the Assistant Athletic Director for Football Operations for the Husker program in 2010.

Jamrog plays a key role in the administrative aspects of the football program and serves as a liaison with other parts of the athletic department. He works closely with Coach Bo Pelini and Athletic Director Tom Osborne on all football operations and assists with NU's recruiting efforts.

Jamrog also coordinates the travel, budget and staffing for the football office, assists with football scheduling, oversees the compliance, strength training, equipment and academic support units regarding football issues and also supervises football support staffs.

Jamrog returned to Nebraska after spending four seasons as the head coach at Minnesota State-Mankato. The 45-year-old Jamrog guided his Maverick teams to a 17-27 overall record, including a 6-5 mark in 2004 – the program's first winning season since 1994. The team boasted a six-game improvement in victories, which was not only a school record but tied for the fifth-largest single-season jump in NCAA Division II history.

The Maverick players coached by Jamrog also distinguished themselves in the classroom. Defensive lineman Spencer Dickinson earned a spot on the ESPN the Magazine Academic All-America team in both 2006 and 2007. While leading the Maverick program, Jamrog handled many of the duties he encounters on a daily basis with the Huskers.

His four-year run at Minnesota State came after a brief stint as the defensive coordinator at Western Illinois University in the spring of 2004. Prior to that appointment, Jamrog had spent the previous four seasons as the defensive line coach on Frank Solich's staff at Nebraska.

Jamrog tutored the Huskers' interior defensive linemen each of his four years on the defensive staff. In his final season, Jamrog also coached the defensive ends and was named special teams coordinator for the 2003 Huskers. During his time with the Huskers, Jamrog helped Nebraska play for the national championship in the Rose Bowl following the 2001 season, along with two trips to the Alamo Bowl (2000, 2003) and an appearance in the Independence Bowl (2002).

The 2003 Nebraska defense led the country in takeaways, while ranking second nationally in scoring defense. Jamrog's special teams units were also among the nation's best totaling 21 blocked kicks and 11 punt returns for touchdowns in four years. With Jamrog as special teams coordinator in 2003, Nebraska led the Big 12 and ranked ninth nationally in net punting.

Before his first tenure on the Nebraska coaching staff, Jamrog spent three years as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at New Mexico State. He helped Head Coach Tony Samuel turn around a program that had just two winning seasons in the previous 31 years.

Jamrog served as the defensive coordinator at Nebraska-Omaha from 1994 to 1996, and helped the Mavs to the 1996 North Central Conference title – the first outright title in school history. UNO earned a No. 4 national ranking, and improved by seven wins over 1995, the second-largest turnaround in Division II history. Jamrog was the inside linebackers coach and special teams coordinator at the University of South Dakota from 1990 to 1993. He began his coaching career at Nebraska in 1988 and 1989 as a graduate assistant.

Originally a walk-on for the Huskers, Jamrog played for the freshman team in 1983, redshirted in 1984, then lettered for three years as a defensive end. As a senior, Jamrog started and had 66 tackles, eight sacks and 13 tackles for loss. Jamrog was a first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American in 1987 and was an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipient. He was also the winner of the 1987 Guy Chamberlin Trophy.

He earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Nebraska in 1987 and his master's in business administration in 1990. Jamrog and his wife, Connie, have three children: Elizabeth, Brett and Jared.

JAMES DOBSON

| Head Football Strength Coach | Wisconsin (1996) |

Born: Nov. 8, 1973

Hometown: Mt. Horeb, Wis.

College: Wisconsin, 1996

Wife: Rebecca

Children: Colton and Elise

James Dobson joined the Nebraska football staff in January 2008 as Head Football Strength Coach. He oversees all aspects of the Husker strength and conditioning program for football, which includes winter conditioning, summer workouts and in-season training.

In Dobson's first two seasons directing Nebraska's strength and conditioning efforts, the Huskers have had impressive gains both on and off the field. Outstanding conditioning has been a key factor in NU ranking among the nation's top fourth-quarter squads the past two seasons.

In 2008, Nebraska outscored its opponents 155-52 in the fourth quarter. Nebraska's point total and scoring differential in the fourth quarter were both second best in the nation. The Huskers again dominated the fourth quarter in 2009. Nebraska outscored its opponents 96-32 in the fourth quarter. The 32 points allowed in the fourth quarter tied for the best in the nation, while the 64-point differential was fourth. Overall in the second half, Nebraska outscored its opponents 154-55, as the 55 second-half points were the fewest allowed by any team in the nation.

Prior to Nebraska, Dobson was part of the Iowa Hawkeye football program. He was in Iowa City during one of the most successful periods in school history. Iowa appeared in bowl games in six of seven seasons and won 38 games from 2002 to 2005. Iowa won 25 Big Ten games in that same period, including Big Ten titles in 2002 and 2004. With the Hawkeye program, Dobson worked under Chris Doyle, who is regarded as one of the nation's top strength coaches.

Dobson has had a history of working with some of the top college football players in the country over the past decade. Top pupils Dobson has worked with include defensive tackle Ndamukong Suh at Nebraska along with safety Bob Sanders, tight end Dallas Clark, offensive tackle Robert Gallery and linebacker Chad Greenway at Iowa.

Suh was a Heisman finalist and the most decorated defensive lineman in nearly two decades while earning national player-of-the-year honors for the Cornhuskers in 2009. The impact of Dobson and the NU strength and conditioning program on Suh is evident. Following the completion of his career, Suh showed his appreciation by donating $2 million to enhance the four-year old Nebraska strength and conditioning facility.

Sanders earned All-America honors at Iowa in 2003, and was the 2007 NFL Defensive Player of the Year with the Indianapolis Colts. Clark began his Hawkeye career as a walk-on linebacker, but moved to tight end and went on to earn All-America honors in 2002, before being a first-round draft pick. Gallery came to Iowa as a 240-pound tight end, and through the strength program, he left as a 320-pound offensive tackle, won the 2003 Outland Trophy and was the second overall selection in the 2004 draft. Greenway earned All-America honors as a senior in 2005, and was a first-round pick of the Minnesota Vikings in 2006.

In addition to his experience at Iowa, Dobson worked for two years as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Southern Methodist, working with the football, volleyball and basketball teams.

Dobson attended the University of Wisconsin, where he worked as a student assistant with the Badger football team for three seasons. He earned his B.S. degree in kinesiology from Wisconsin in 1996, and his master's of science and administration degree from Central Michigan in 2004.

A certified strength and conditioning specialist and a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association, Dobson is a native of Mt. Horeb, Wis. He and his wife, Rebecca, have a son, Colton, and a daughter, Elise.

HUSKER COACHING STAFF

Head Coach: Bo Pelini, 20-8, third season at Nebraska

OVERVIEW

Head Coach Bo Pelini and his staff welcome back a wealth of experience for the 2010 season. The Huskers return 19 starters from a 10-win team including 10 on offense, seven on defense and their starting place-kicker and punter.

The Husker offense lost just one starter from last year's unit—center Jacob Hickman. In fact, the offense returns 100 percent of its rushing yards, 100 percent of its passing yards and better than 80 percent of its receptions from last fall. Overall, 16 offensive players have made starts in their careers, giving Nebraska the needed experience to return to one of the nation's most explosive attacks.

Defensively, Nebraska is coming off a dominant 2009 season. The Huskers have big holes to fill, starting by the void left by unanimous All-American and No. 2 NFL Draft pick Ndamukong Suh at defensive tackle. Fellow seniors Barry Turner, Phillip Dillard, Matt O'Hanlon and Larry Asante also will be missed. All of those players were either selected in the NFL Draft or signed a free-agent contract. Despite the losses, Nebraska returns one of the nation's deepest secondaries, a young and talented linebacking corps and a pair of potential honors candidates to anchor a strong defensive line.

Place-kicker/punter Alex Henery is one of the nation's best in both areas and gives Nebraska a leg up in special teams. Niles Paul is one of the most explosive return men in the country and the Huskers have excelled in kick coverage.

Here's a closer look at the 2010 returning letterwinners and notes on each position group.

•Nebraska returns five players who combined to start 53 games during the 2009 season, including seniors Ricky Henry (14), D.J. Jones (3), Mike Smith (14) and Keith Williams (11) and junior Marcel Jones (11).

•Williams and Smith have held down the left side of the line each of the past two seasons and have a combined 45 career starts. Williams is likely to retain his left guard spot, while Smith spent the spring working at center and guard, and could also see action at tackle.

•Omaha native Ricky Henry started all 14 games at right guard as a junior. Henry missed spring practice after off-season shoulder surgery, but will be at full strength for the fall.

•Marcel and D.J. Jones—no relation—teamed up to man the right tackle position last fall. The duo could hold down that spot again this fall, while D.J. also has the ability to see action at guard.

•Junior Mike Caputo has spent two seasons backing up Jacob Hickman at center, but is slated to step into a starting role in 2010.

•A talented group of players will see their first action this fall. Redshirt freshmen Jeremiah Sirles and Brent Qvale both saw playing time with the top offensive line during spring ball and will push for significant action. Fellow redshirt freshmen Cole Pensick, Jesse Coffey and Nick Ash all made great strides in the spring and Jermarcus "Yoshi" Hardrick was regarded as one of the nation's top junior college recruits this winter and will battle for time on the field as well.

He is poised to move into the top five on NU's career receptions and receiving yardage lists.

•Senior Mike McNeill played his first three seasons at tight end and will break the NU career receptions record for a tight end this fall. McNeill, however, is working with the wide receivers and will be utilized in a more diversified role this fall. McNeill has 10 touchdowns among his 61 career receptions.

•Junior Brandon Kinnie emerged as a potential go-to-target late in the 2009 season. Kinnie averaged 11 yards on his 15 receptions and worked with Paul and McNeill with the top unit throughout the spring.

•Sophomore Khiry Cooper had 13 receptions last fall and earned four starts at mid-season. Cooper did not go through spring ball, as he splits his time between the NU baseball and football teams.

•Senior Zac Lee started 12 games last season and his 2,143 passing yards were the fifth-most in Nebraska history. Lee, who completed 58.6 percent of his passes, sat out spring ball after off-season surgery on his throwing elbow. Lee is expected to be at full strength for the fall.

•Sophomore Cody Green became the first true freshman quarterback to start a game at Nebraska since Tommie Frazier in 1992. Green has excellent run-pass ability and averaged better than five yards on 31 rushes last season.

•Sophomore Kody Spano has suffered a pair of knee injuries over the past 18 months, but he is healthy and hopes to battle for playing time this fall.

•Redshirt freshman Taylor Martinez is one of the most explosive athletes on the team and brings a unique skill set to the quarterback spot. In addition to his throwing skills, Martinez has the ability to make game-breaking plays on the ground.

•Senior Latravis Washington, redshirt freshman Ron Kellogg III and true freshman Brion Carnes also will hope to make their case for playing time in fall camp.

14	Lester Ward*	IB	So.	6-3	225

•Nebraska returns 100 percent of its rushing yards from the 2009 season.

•Senior Roy Helu Jr. is the most experienced member of a talented corps of Nebraska running backs. Helu enters his senior season fresh off a 1,147-yard effort as a junior, despite battling a shoulder injury during much of the season. A second-team All-Big 12 pick last season, Helu is in position to move into the top five on the Nebraska career rushing list with a strong senior season.

•Sophomore Rex Burkhead figures to push Helu and earn significant playing time this fall. Burkhead missed five games with an injury last fall, but excelled late in the year, highlighted by standout efforts at Colorado and against Arizona in the Holiday Bowl.

•Dontrayevous Robinson also played a key role as a true freshman in 2009. With Helu and Burkhead slowed at mid-year, the bruising Robinson stepped in and carried the bulk of the rushing load. He provides a change-of-pace power back.

•Junior Austin Jones and sophomores Lester Ward and Collins Okafor figure to battle for playing time and add depth at I-back.

•Junior Tyler Legate returns to provide an excellent blocking presence at fullback. The walk-on has also shown the ability to be a solid receiving threat out of the NU backfield.

Crick finished the year with an impressive 73 overall tackles and added 16 quarterback hurries.

•Sophomores Will Compton and Sean Fisher made the most of their opportunities for playing time as redshirt freshmen. Compton made eight starts at the Mike linebacker spot last fall and recorded 40 tackles. An Omaha native, Fisher was in the starting lineup for six games and had 35 tackles. Both should be regular contributors this fall.

•Fellow sophomore Eric Martin emerged as a special teams standout last fall, but this spring showed the ability to make a similar impact at linebacker. The hard-hitting Martin became an instant fan favorite with his relentless play as a true freshman.

•Sophomore Alonzo Whaley saw limited action last season, but emerged as a contender for significant playing time during spring practice.

•Senior Thomas Grove, junior Mathew May and sophomore Graham Stoddard have all made an impact on special teams during their careers and hope to play more significant roles at linebacker this fall.

•Junior Alfonzo Dennard figures to man the other cornerback spot opposite Amukamara. Dennard is an explosive athlete who moved into the starting lineup midway through the season and had eight pass breakups.

•Senior Eric Hagg has been one of Nebraska's most versatile defenders throughout his career. Nebraska's nickel back the past two seasons, Hagg has 20 career starts and 81 tackles, including 12 behind the line of scrimmage. He could again play a nickel role, or could also be used at one of the safety spots.

•DeJon Gomes emerged as a play-maker in his first season in the Nebraska program. Gomes played the dime role on defense and earned honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors by racking up 46 tackles, four interceptions and five PBU.

•Senior Anthony West spent the majority of the spring at safety after working at corner throughout his career. West has 16 career starts and 13 pass breakups.

•Senior Rickey Thenarse returns for a fifth season and could make an impact at safety. A part-time starter the past two seasons, Thenarse suffered a season-ending knee injury last fall and was awarded a medical redshirt. He has 72 career tackles.

•Sophomore P.J. Smith will be a leading contender to start at one of the safety spots. Smith played in all 14 games last season while backing up a pair of senior safeties, and finished with 15 tackles.

•Juniors Austin Cassidy and Lance Thorell have both seen extensive action on special teams and in reserve roles in the secondary. This fall, both players should push to make a significant impact in the secondary.

•Nebraska boasts one of the nation's top special teams units, ranking among the national leaders in multiple kicking, punting and kick coverage categories last season.

•Senior Alex Henery is arguably the nation's best place-kicker/punter dual threat. Henery could contend for both the Lou Groza and Ray Guy Awards, given to the nation's best kicker and punter, respectively. The Omaha native is poised to become NU's all-time leader in field goals and scoring, and last season he also led the Big 12 in punts downed inside the 20-yard line.

•Senior Adi Kunalic has provided an excellent back-up to Henery, while also ranking as one of the nation's best kickoff specialists each of the past three years.

•Marlowe averaged nearly 24 yards per kickoff return while working alongside Paul.

Senior place-kicker Alex Henery will contend for national honors as well as aiming for the program's all-time scoring record in 2010.

2010 HUSKER SEASON NOTEBOOK

NEBRASKA SET FOR MOVE TO BIG TEN IN 2011

June 11, 2010 was a historic day for the University of Nebraska, as NU was admitted to the Big Ten Conference as the 12th member of the nation's oldest conference. The Cornhuskers will begin play in the Big Ten Conference in 2011-12.

The Huskers have a long history of meeting Big Ten opponents on the gridiron, compiling an 81-68-10 all-time record against the league's other 11 members. Nebraska most recently met a Big Ten opponent in a 32-28 victory over Michigan in the 2005 Alamo Bowl. NU's last regular-season matchup with a Big Ten opponent was a home-and-home series in 2002 and 2003 with Penn State. The schools split the two games, each winning in their home stadium.

HUSKERS COMPETE IN FINAL SEASON IN BIG 12 CONFERENCE

With Nebraska's move to the Big Ten on the horizon, 2010 will mark Nebraska's final season of action in the Big 12. The conference has been NU's home since 1996 and the Huskers have had their share of football success in the league. Nebraska has played in the Big 12 Championship Game five times, including the 2009 title game at Cowboys Stadium in Arlington, Texas. Nebraska has captured Big 12 titles in 1997 and 1999.

•Nebraska's five Big 12 Championship Game appearances are tied for second among all Big 12 schools along with Texas, trailing only Oklahoma's seven Big 12 Championship Game appearances.

•Nebraska has squared off against three conference foes more than 100 times, including 116 meetings with Kansas, 104 with Iowa State and 103 with Missouri.

•Nebraska and Kansas will meet for the 105th consecutive season in 2010, which is currently the nation's longest uninterrupted streak. Overall, the 116 meetings between the two schools are the third-most of any series in the country.

•Nebraska will play its final Big 12 Conference game against Colorado on Friday, Nov. 26. The 2010 season will mark the 15th straight year the Big 12 North schools have met on the day after Thanksgiving and the 21st straight year Nebraska has played on that date, meeting Oklahoma six consecutive years from 1990 to 1995.

NCAA RECORD SELLOUT STREAK

One of the most remarkable streaks in collegiate sports reached another milestone on Sept. 26, 2009, against Louisiana-Lafayette when Nebraska celebrated the 300th consecutive sellout at Memorial Stadium. A stadium record crowd of 86,304 fans were on hand for the historic event, and the streak is at 304 games heading into the 2010 season and is expected to reach 311 with seven home games this fall. The sellout streak dates back to Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney's first year in 1962 (vs. Missouri on Nov. 3). Notre Dame is second in all-time consecutive sellouts with 214, 91 fewer than Nebraska.

NU OWNS DOMINANT EDGE AT MEMORIAL STADIUM

Nebraska has rewarded the loyalty of its fans with incredible success at Memorial Stadium through the years.

•Nebraska has won at least six home games in 19 of the past 23 seasons. Nebraska is 129-18 at home in the last 21 seasons (since 1989).

•During Nebraska's run of success at home in the past 25 years, NU has had three home winning streaks of 20 or more games, and overall has posted 40 unbeaten and untied home seasons.

•The Huskers are 498-137-20 (.776, 655 games, 120 years) in Lincoln, and 373-114-13 (.759, 500 games, 87 years) in Memorial Stadium (since 1923). Nebraska has had 41 straight winning home seasons.

NU CRACKS TOP 10 IN AVERAGE HOME ATTENDANCE

Nebraska ranked 10th nationally in average attendance in 2009, and second among Big 12 Conference schools. Nebraska averaged a school-record 85,888 fans for seven home games, including a school-record 86,304 fans against Louisiana-Lafayette. Five Big 12 teams ranked in the top 30 nationally in attendance, led by fourth-ranked Texas (101,175 fans per game).

PELINI'S TEAMS SHOW LATE-SEASON SUCCESS

Bo Pelini's first two Nebraska teams have played their best football late in the season. Pelini's 2008 team began 3-3, then won six of its final seven games to post a 9-4 record. In 2009, the Huskers posted a 6-1 record down the stretch to finish at 10-4, good for NU's first 10-win season since 2003.

- Nebraska's 6-1 second-half records each of the past two years are the school's best seven-game finishes since 1999. NU was one of only 12 teams in the Football Bowl Subdivision to win six of its final seven games in 2009.

- NU is 10-2 under Pelini in games played on or after Nov. 1, including a 3-0 record in bowl games. The only losses are at No. 4 Oklahoma in 2008 and against No. 3 Texas in the 2009 Big 12 title game.

- Nebraska owns a 7-1 record in games played in November under Head Coach Bo Pelini, including a 4-0 record in 2009. NU's seven-game November win streak is the program's longest since winning 19 straight games in November from 1992 to 1998.

LOFTY RANKINGS

Nebraska's late-season 2009 run, capped by an impressive performance in the Holiday Bowl, shot the Huskers up the final national polls. Nebraska finished 14th in both the Associated Press and USA Today Coaches polls, the Huskers' highest final ranking since the 2001 campaign when NU finished 8th in the AP poll and 7th by the coaches.

Preseason polls this summer indicate that Nebraska could crack the top 10 in this fall's Associated Press and USA Today Coaches preseason rankings. Nebraska last appeared in the top 10 after a 5-0 start to the 2003 season placed the Huskers 10th in the AP poll.

SEASON-OPENING WIN STREAK

Nebraska will look to continue a nation-leading streak when it opens the 2010 season against Western Kentucky at Memorial Stadium on Sept. 4. Last year's 49-3 win over Florida Atlantic marked the Huskers' 24th straight victory in a season opener. The streak leads the nation, bettering Florida's 20 straight season-opening wins.

The Huskers have won each of their last 24 season openers by 10 or more points, and have scored 40 or more points in the opener 17 of the past 24 seasons. In the win streak, NU has limited opponents to 14 points or less 16 times.

PELINI'S STAFF RETURNS INTACT FOR 2010

Nebraska was long known for coaching staff continuity under Hall of Fame Coaches Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne. Third-year Head Coach Bo Pelini appears to embrace that same philosophy. Nebraska will be in its third straight season with its staff intact in 2010, as all nine full-time assistants enter at least their third season on the Husker sideline.

Nebraska is one of only nine schools nationally to have the same full-time coaching staff for at least the past three years, including only Baylor and Texas in the Big 12. Prior to last season, Nebraska had not had its full coaching staff remain the same from one season to the next since 2001 to 2002 when Frank Solich's staff was unchanged.

PELINI STACKS UP WELL AGAINST PEERS

In guiding Nebraska to a 19-8 record the past two seasons, Head Coach Bo Pelini has put himself in some impressive company.

- Pelini is the fourth Nebraska head coach to win nine games in each of his first two seasons with the Cornhuskers. The others to reach that win plateau were Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne and Frank Solich.

- Pelini's nine victories in 2008 tied for the most among 18 coaches in their first season at their respective school. Among first-time head coaches, Pelini's victory total was the best in the nation. Pelini's 19 victories in his first two seasons are second among the hiring class of 2008.

- Pelini was just the eighth BCS Conference (since 1998) first-time head coach to post nine or more victories in his first season. He was just the second first-year head coach in that span to win nine games after inheriting a team with a losing record the previous year.

- Nebraska shared the Big 12 North crown in 2008, and Pelini became the first coach in Big 12 history to lead his team to at least a share of a division championship in his first season. He has added an outright division title in 2009 to become the only Big 12 coach to win at least a share of a division title in each of his first two seasons.

HUSKERS LOOK TO BUILD ON SUCCESS AGAINST RANKED TEAMS

Nebraska posted a 33-0 victory over No. 22 Arizona in the Holiday Bowl for its third win of 2009 against a ranked opponent. The Huskers were 3-2 against ranked teams last season, defeating No. 24 Missouri 27-12 and 20th-ranked Oklahoma, 10-3. Nebraska also suffered a pair of one-point setbacks, losing at No. 13 Virginia Tech 16-15 and to No. 3 Texas, 13-12, in the Big 12 Championship Game.

Nebraska's three victories over ranked teams in 2009 were its most since posting four wins over ranked foes during a 12-1 campaign in 1999.

BLACKSHIRTS LOOKING TO ADD TO DOMINANCE

Nebraska returns nine defensive players who made at least five starts last season, and the 2010 Blackshirts will look to build on the impressive effort of the 2009 Nebraska defense. NU led the nation in scoring defense, pass efficiency defense and red-zone defense, ranked second in sacks, seventh in total defense and ninth against the run.

POINTS AT A PREMIUM VS. HUSKERS

- The Huskers finished first nationally in scoring defense at 10.4 points per game. Nebraska held seven foes to single digits and eight teams to 10 or fewer points, with both totals leading the nation. Nebraska posted two shutouts for the first time since 2003.

- Nebraska's 10.4 points per game allowed were the fewest since the 1984 Nebraska defense also led the nation by allowing just 9.5 points per game. Nebraska had not allowed fewer than 15 points per game since 2003.

- NU allowed just 25 trips into the red zone by its opponents, the second-fewest red-zone chances in the nation. Only 11 of those drives ended in touchdowns and Nebraska's 64 percent rank in red zone defense was the nation's best.

- Nebraska allowed just 44 points in five games against ranked teams—an average of 8.8 points per game. NU allowed just four touchdowns against ranked teams.

- The Huskers had a streak of 11 straight quarters without allowing an offensive touchdown. Nebraska allowed only 10 offensive touchdowns in eight Big 12 games.

- Nebraska did not allow a touchdown in the final 10 quarters at Memorial Stadium and four of NU's seven opponents in Lincoln did not reach the end zone.

- Nebraska held its first five opponents under 20 points for the first time since 2003 and held 12 of 14 opponents to 17 or fewer points. To put that accomplishment in perspective, NU held just six opponents to less than 20 points in 2007 and 2008 combined.

NO FREE PASSES

- Nebraska also had the best pass defense in the nation, leading the country in the pass efficiency defense category.

- NU allowed just seven passing touchdowns, the second-fewest nationally, intercepted 20 passes to tie for seventh and opponents' 47.8 completion percentage was the fourth-best in the nation.

- Ten of Nebraska's 14 opponents completed 50 percent or less of their pass attempts, and five opponents had less than 150 yards passing.

- Nebraska allowed an average of 178.9 yards per game through the air, NU's best pass defense since allowing 177.8 yards per game in 2003.

TOTAL DEFENSIVE DOMINANCE

- Nebraska ranked seventh nationally in total defense at 272.0 yards per game, its best defensive average since allowing 252.3 yards per game in 1999.

- Nebraska held seven straight foes to fewer than 280 total yards from games 2-8, the longest sub-300-yard streak for an NU defense since 1996. Four of those games were against Big 12 foes, the longest streak by the Blackshirts in league play since 1996.

- NU held 13 of 14 opponents to fewer total offensive yards than their season average.

AMAZING BLACKSHIRT IMPROVEMENT CONTINUES

Nebraska was one of the nation's most improved defenses in 2008, finishing second in the Big 12 in total defense just one season after ranking last in the Big 12 and 112th nationally in total defense. As impressive as the progress was in 2008, the Blackshirts made even larger strides as a unit in 2009.

- Two seasons after ranking 116th nationally in scoring defense (37.9 ppg), NU led the nation in that category at 10.4 points per game. NU allowed 28.5 points per game in 2008 and its 18.4 ppg improvement last fall easily led the nation.

- In two seasons, Nebraska's sack total has increased from 13 to 35 to 44 in 2009.

- Against the run, Nebraska cut its per-game average nearly in half in 2008, then shaved another 23 yards per game off its average allowed in 2009.

NU BUILDING FOURTH-QUARTER REPUTATION

Nebraska has been among the nation's best fourth-quarter teams each of the past two seasons. In 2008, NU ranked second nationally in fourth-quarter points scored (155) and fourth-quarter point differential (+103).

The 2009 season was no different as NU outscored the opposition 96-32, with the 32 points allowed tying Alabama for the lowest in the nation. The 64-point differential in the fourth quarter was the fourth-best nationally.

•The fourth-quarter highlight was at No. 24 Missouri. NU trailed 12-0 entering the fourth quarter, before scoring 27 unanswered points. The rally from a 12-point fourth-quarter deficit tied a school record, and the 27 points were the most by NU in any quarter since the 2004 season opener, and the most in the fourth quarter since 2001.

•Nebraska allowed nine Big 12 opponents just 23 fourth-quarter points and held eight foes without a fourth-quarter point.

•Nebraska outscored its opponents 154-55 in the second half in 2009. The 55 second-half points were the fewest allowed by any team in the nation. Only two opponents scored more than seven points in the second half in 2009 (Baylor-10, Colorado-13), and NU allowed only five offensive TDs in the second half.

•Under Bo Pelini, Nebraska is 19-2 when leading at any point in the fourth quarter. The lone losses were one-point setbacks against Virginia Tech and Texas in 2009.

CRICK HOPES TO BUILD ON BREAKOUT SEASON

Junior defensive tackle Jared Crick emerged as a standout performer last fall and is poised for big things in 2010. The 6-6, 285-pound Crick has been named to several preseason watch lists and could be a contender for several honors this fall.

Crick pushed Ndamukong Suh for team statistical leads in tackles, sacks and tackles for loss all season, finishing with 73 tackles, 15 tackles for loss, 9.5 sacks, 16 quarterback hurries and two fumble recoveries. Crick had one of the most prolific defensive days in school history with a record-setting performance at Baylor.

•Crick had a school-record five sacks for 24 yards in the game. His five sacks were the most in a single game by any player in the nation in 2009, just ahead of Suh's 4.5 sacks against Texas.

•Crick had seven tackles for loss, tying the NU school record also held by Jim Skow (1985 vs. Missouri) and Suh (2009 vs. Texas). The seven TFLs by Crick and Suh were three more than any other Big 12 player in 2009.

•Crick earned Big 12 and national defensive player-of-the-week honors for his performance, before going on to first-team All-Big 12 honors. Crick's 5.2 tackles per game ranked second only to Suh among Big 12 defensive interior linemen.

HENERY KICKING WAY INTO NU RECORD BOOK

Alex Henery enters his senior season poised to make an assault on the NU record book, while challenging Big 12 and NCAA records. The senior from Omaha also emerged as one of the conference's top punters in 2009. Henery was a semifinalist for the Lou Groza Award last season and should be a leading contender for the award in 2010.

Henery connected on a school-record 24-of-28 field goals in 2009, including three games with at least four field goals. He hit 5-of-5 field goals at Virginia Tech, the second highest field goal total in school history, trailing only Dale Klein's school-record seven field goals in 1985. He also supplied all the scoring by hitting 4-of-4 field goals in a 13-12 loss to Texas in the Big 12 title game, and finished the year with a perfect 4-of-4 effort against Arizona in the Holiday Bowl.

•Henery has six career games with four or more field goals, an accomplishment that has already tied an NCAA record. He has 11 multiple-FG games in his career.

•Henery's 24 field goals in 2009 shattered the school record and gave him 50 career field goals in 57 attempts, making him the most accurate kicker in school history. His 50 field goals are just seven field goals from the school record, held by 11-year NFL veteran Kris Brown.

•Henery is the second-most accurate returning field goal kicker in the nation. He is also the most accurate kicker in NU history on extra points, hitting 139-of-140 in his career, a 99.3 percent accuracy rate. He has made 62 straight PATs heading into 2010, including 38-of-38 as a junior.

•Among Henery's seven career missed field goals, just two have come from less than 50 yards. In fact, Henery had a streak of 25 straight made field goals from inside 50 yards. Henery has made 13 career field goals from 44 yards or longer.

•Henery has 289 career points entering 2010, fifth on the NU career list. He has scored 110 points each of the past two seasons, eighth on the single-season list. His two 110-point seasons trail only Kris Brown (116 in 1997) for season scoring by a kicker. A third 100-point season this fall would move Henery to the top of Nebraska's career scoring list. Henery's point total is also third nationally among players returning for the 2010 season.

•Henery averaged 41.4 yards in his first season as Nebraska's starting punter in 2010, making him one of only three players nationally to rank in the top 50 in both field goals and punting average. Henery led the Big 12 with 30 punts downed inside the 20, including an impressive eight inside the three-yard line.

HELU SURGING UP NU RUSHING CHARTS

Nebraska I-back Roy Helu Jr. emerged as one of the Big 12's top backs in 2008, and battled through injuries to surpass 1,000 rushing yards last year as a junior. Helu's effort in 2009 earned him second-team All-Big 12 honors and the 6-0, 220-pounder could be poised for big things in 2010.

Helu posted four 100-yard rushing games last season, and he has seven career 100-yard games. His best games seemed to come against top competition, as he surpassed the century mark against Florida Atlantic, Virginia Tech, Oklahoma and Kansas with a career-high 169 yards against the Hokies. Helu's 81.9 yards per game ranked fourth in the Big 12 last fall and his 1,147 rushing yards was the 16th-best single-season effort in NU history.

•Helu enters 2010 with 2,159 career rushing yards, good for 22nd position on the Nebraska career rushing chart. He is just 540 yards from the career top 10, and if he were to post a second 1,000-yard rushing season this fall he would finish fourth on the Huskers' career list.

•Helu has shined against top competition and in road environments. Helu has three 100-yard rushing games in NU's last seven contests against ranked opponents and has averaged 6.2 yards per carry. In eight road games since the beginning of the 2008 campaign, Helu has rushed for 811 yards on 133 carries, 6.1 yards per tote.

•Helu had a Big 12-best 12 runs of 20+ yards in 2009 and 20 rushes of at least 20 yards over his past 18 games.

•Helu had three of the nine 150-yard rushing games by Big 12 players in 2009, and four of the top 13 rushing efforts in the league.

PAUL, MCNEILL HEADLINE RECEIVING CORPS

Nebraska returns 10 starters on offense, including a pair of senior receiving targets who have made an impact in the passing game.

Wide receiver Niles Paul was the leader of NU's receiving corps in 2009, catching 40 passes for 796 yards and four touchdowns. Paul's receiving yardage total was the fifth-best in school history and his 19.9 yards per catch led the Big 12 Conference. His per-catch average also ranked third in school history among players with at least 20 receptions and top among players with 40 catches in a season.

•Paul tied the NU school record in 2009 with four 100-yard receiving games, including three in Big 12 play and against Arizona in the Holiday Bowl. His 154 yards on four catches at Kansas was the sixth-best receiving day in NU history, while his 143 yards vs. Iowa State ranks ninth.

•Paul earned Holiday Bowl Offensive MVP honors by accounting for 237 all-purpose yards, including 123 receiving yards. He had a career-long 74-yard touchdown catch in the third quarter to cap the scoring in a 33-0 rout.

•Paul had 11 catches of at least 20 yards, with nine of those covering 35 yards or more. His 38.5 yards per catch at Kansas was the second-best single-game effort in the Big 12 in 2009.

•Paul ranked second in the Big 12 in both kickoff return and punt return average and his 121.2 all-purpose yards per game ranked ninth in the Big 12.

Paul's 64 career receptions are 17th on the NU career list, and he is 36 catches from becoming the sixth player in school history with 100 catches. His 1,016 career receiving yards are 18th in NU history, and he is less than 500 yards from moving to fourth.

The 6-4, 235-pound McNeill has been a fixture in a deep group of NU tight ends the past two seasons. McNeill was second on the team with 28 catches for 259 yards last season. He also tied with Paul for the team lead with four touchdown catches. McNeill spent the spring working at receiver and is likely to be utilized at both spots as a senior.

•In 2008, McNeill set a position season record with 32 receptions, while his six touchdown receptions were just one shy of the position record.

•McNeill has 61 career catches to rank 19th on the Nebraska career list. McNeill should shatter the Nebraska career tight ends reception record of 65 by Matt Herian from 2002 to 2006. McNeill is 274 yards from becoming the 19th Husker and fourth NU tight end to reach 1,000 career receiving yards.

800-WIN CLUB

Nebraska is one of seven programs with 800 all-time victories, joining Michigan, Notre Dame, Texas, Ohio State, Penn State and Alabama. Nebraska's 827 all-time victories rank fourth nationally.

1. Michigan	877
2. Texas	845
3. Notre Dame	837
4. Nebraska	827
5. Ohio State	819
6. Alabama	813
7. Penn State	811

Nebraska is entering its 121st season of college football, and owns an 827-341-40 all-time record in 1,208 games (.701).

•Since the first season of Nebraska football in 1890, Husker teams have won 11 or more games 12 times, including seven times since 1993.

•Nebraska has won 12 or more games seven times, including three seasons with 13 wins (1971, 1994, 1997).

•NU (702), Michigan (705), Alabama (728) and Notre Dame (736) were the only programs to win 700 games in the 1900s.

NATION'S BEST SINCE 1970

Nebraska easily ranks as the nation's winningest program since the start of the 1970s, when Bob Devaney guided NU to back-to-back national titles in 1970 and 1971. During the past four decades, the Huskers have compiled a 393-100-5 record, for a .794 winning percentage in 498 games. NU's 393 wins in that time period are 27 more than any other school since 1970.

1. Nebraska	393
2. Ohio State	366
3. Oklahoma	364
4. Michigan	359
5. Penn State	357

•Nebraska has 37 nine-win seasons and 22 10-win seasons since 1970. Nebraska posted its first 10-win season since 2003 last fall, and has posted back-to-back nine-win seasons for the first time since 2000-2001.

•Nebraska was the first team in college football history to win 100 or more games in consecutive decades, ranking first in the 1980s (103-20) and second in the 1990s (108-16-1). NU narrowly missed 100 wins in the 1970s (98). Nebraska posted 84 wins in the recently completed decade.

NEBRASKA FOOTBALL CONTINUES TO WIN IN THE CLASSROOM

Nebraska football has long been one of the nation's most successful programs on the field. Success in the classroom is also a cornerstone of the Nebraska football program.

NU AMONG LEADERS IN ACADEMIC ALL-BIG 12 SELECTIONS

Nebraska had 22 players named to the 2009 academic All-Big 12 team, including 15 first-team selections, and seven second-team honorees. Nebraska's 22 honorees were the second-highest total in the Big 12 Conference.

The group was highlighted by defensive back Austin Cassidy and linebacker Sean Fisher, who were each nominated with a 4.0 grade-point average. Fisher has a perfect cumulative grade-point average, while Cassidy earned a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in the two previous semesters. Fisher and Cassidy were two of just three student-athletes in the Big 12 Conference nominated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average.

NATION-LEADING TOTAL OF COSIDA ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS

Seniors Todd Peterson and Tyler Wortman were selected as second-team ESPN the Magazine/CosIDA Academic All-Americans in 2008. The selection of Peterson and Wortman gave NU a nation-leading total of 98 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in football. Nebraska also leads the nation in academic All-Americans with 277 academic All-Americans across all teams and all sports.

SENIOR CLASS IN STRONG ACADEMIC STANDING

Nebraska's 23-player senior class includes six players who will play the 2010 season as graduate students. Among those, defensive end Tyrone Fahie graduated in December of 2009 in just 3 ½ years, while offensive lineman D.J. Jones, quarterback Zac Lee and defensive back Anthony West picked up their degrees in May. Tight end Mike McNeill and offensive lineman Mike Smith joined the group in summer commencement exercises.

•Another nine seniors are expected to complete their degree work in the fall, giving the Huskers 15 graduates in time for the bowl game. All but one member of the senior class are expected to complete their degrees by the end of the 2011 spring semester.

•Among Bo Pelini's first three seniors classes, 52 of 57 players are on track to earn their degree by next August.

NEBRASKA LEADS BIG 12 IN EXHAUSTED ELIGIBILITY GRADUATION RATES

Nebraska athletic teams continue to pace the Big 12 Conference in the classroom, leading the Big 12 in the exhausted eligibility graduation rate for the seventh consecutive year with an impressive 94 percent rate.

Nebraska continues to set the pace in the Big 12 in terms of Exhausted Eligibility graduation rates. The exhausted eligibility rate surveys the graduation rate of scholarship student-athletes in 10 incoming freshman classes who complete their eligibility at the university. Nebraska's exhausted eligibility rate has improved 22 percentage points since the inception of the rate in 1991-92.

SEEING DOUBLE

The 2010 Nebraska roster includes three sets of twins and five total sets of brothers. Courtney and Steven Osborne of Garland, Texas, signed with the Huskers in 2008 and enter their third season in the program—Courtney as a safety and Steven at wide receiver. Colin and Conor McDermott walked on to Nebraska from Omaha Creighton Prep high school and will both be sophomore defensive ends this fall. Jake and Spencer Long also hail from Omaha (Elkhorn High School) and are in their second season in the program. Jake lines up at tight end, while Spencer is an offensive lineman.

In addition to the three sets of twins, Nebraska also has two other sets of brothers on the roster—Ben and Jake Cotton and Andrew and Matt Holt. The Cottons are the sons of Nebraska associate head coach Barney Cotton, and senior defensive back Adam Watson is the son of offensive coordinator Shawn Watson. In addition, walk-on freshman offensive lineman Mark Pelini is the nephew of Bo and Carl Pelini.

NEBRASKA FOOTBALL—A FAMILY AFFAIR

The Cotton family is one of just several father-son combinations who have played for Nebraska represented on the 2010 Cornhusker roster. Barney lettered at Nebraska in 1976-78, while Ben is a sophomore tight end and Jake is a freshman defensive lineman.

Other current Nebraska players whose fathers also played at NU include WR Tyson Clark (father Bret, lettered 1982-84), DB Joey Felici (Tony, 1980-82), LB Sean Fisher (Todd, 1983), DE Andy Gdowski (Tom, 1980-82), WR KC Hyland (John, 1970-72), DB Brent Moravec (Mark, 1980-82), DE Jay Martin (Bob, 1973-75), C Cole Pensick (Dan, 1977-79), LB Colby Starkebaum (John, 1972-74) and DT Baker Steinkuhler (Dean, 1981-83).

NFL HAS LARGE INFLUENCE ON NEBRASKA ROSTER

Several players also have family connections with the National Football League. Barney Cotton logged four seasons in the NFL with the Cincinnati Bengals and St. Louis Cardinals from 1979 to 1982. Other players whose fathers played in the NFL include CB Anthony Blue (Anthony, Sr., Seattle, 1987), Tyson Clark (Bret, Atlanta, 1986-88), QB Zac Lee (Bob, Minnesota, Atlanta, L.A. Rams, 1969-80), Jay Martin (Bob, N.Y. 2010 OUTLOOK

Defensive end Pierre Allen has been a key force on one of the nation's best defensive lines each of the past two seasons. In 2010, the 6-5, 265-pound Allen is expected to be in his third season as a Blackshirt and a leader on a defense that returns seven starters for the upcoming season.

Allen was a key part of a defensive front that provided the push behind Nebraska featuring one of the nation's dominant defenses in 2009. The Huskers finished second in the nation in sacks, while ranking first nationally in scoring defense and pass efficiency defense. Allen has been a consistent threat for opposing offenses, recording five sacks each of the past two seasons. In addition to his ability to get to the quarterback, Allen has the strength to be an effective run stopper.

Allen is on track to graduate this December, making him one of 14 NU seniors expected to earn their degrees by season's end.

Anthony Blue returned to action in 2009 after sitting out 2008 following a knee injury. Blue returned to near full strength last fall and provided depth at cornerback, but made his biggest impact on special teams where he excelled on the punt and kickoff coverage units.

The 5-10, 185-pound Blue possesses good speed and coverage skills and this fall he is likely to push for significant playing time in a veteran Nebraska secondary. The Huskers return starters Prince Amukamara and Alfonzo Dennard at cornerback, but Blue figures to also play a role at the position.

2009 (SOPHOMORE)

Blue appeared in each of the final 11 games. He made four unassisted tackles with one each against Iowa State, Oklahoma, Colorado and Arizona. Blue served as the gunner on the punt team and played a key role in punter Alex Henery leading the Big 12 in punts downed inside the 20, as Blue was often the first man in position to down the punt.

2007 (REDSHIRT)

He made 13 tackles in the final three games, including three at Kansas, and a season-high five stops against both Kansas State and Colorado. He added a pass breakup against the Wildcats. His play earned him freshman All-Big 12 honors from The Sporting News.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (CEDAR HILL HS)

Blue was a standout performer for Cedar Hill, a powerhouse in the Texas Class 5A ranks. Blue played a key role for Coach Joey McGuire, as Cedar Hill captured the Texas Class 5A state title with a perfect 16-0 record. Blue was a second-team all-state selection, first-team all-district pick and second-team all-area in the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex.

Blue made 60 tackles and intercepted two passes as a senior, while breaking up another 20 passes. Blue was ranked among the top 75 defensive back prospects in the nation by both Rivals.com and Scout.com. In addition to his outstanding play on the gridiron, Blue was a track standout for Cedar Hill. Although he didn't place in the state track meet, Blue ran a personal best of 21.17 in the 200-meter dash in the district meet. Blue only visited Nebraska, but received a number of offers, including Baylor, Purdue and Wisconsin.

He returned late in the season and sparked the NU ground game, capped by an impressive showing in the Holiday Bowl.

BURKHEAD'S HONORS

- » Big 12 Commissioner's Fall Academic Honor Roll (2009)

Burkhead is part of a deep group of I-backs that should make the Husker running game a strength in 2010. NU returns 100 percent of its rushing yards for the upcoming season and Burkhead figures to form a strong 1-2 rushing punch with senior Roy Helu Jr.

2009 (FRESHMAN)

2010 OUTLOOK

Center Mike Caputo has been a reliable backup for Nebraska the past two seasons. The Omaha native heads into fall practice looking to push for the starting center position vacated by three-year starter Jacob Hickman. Nebraska coaches have regularly expressed their confidence in Caputo's ability, and rewarded the former walk-on with a scholarship before the start of the 2009 campaign.

2009 (SOPHOMORE)

Caputo appeared in six games as Hickman's backup at center and saw important playing time with Hickman battling nagging injuries for much of the season. Caputo played in three non-conference games, then saw his most extensive action against Iowa State when Hickman was sidelined with a leg injury.

6-6 | 285 | Jr.-2L
Cozad, Neb. (Cozad)

2010 OUTLOOK

Jared Crick entered 2009 known mostly as the defensive tackle who played alongside senior All-American Ndamukong Suh. However, by mid-season Crick's name stood on its own as he racked up huge numbers to earn a spot in the Nebraska record books.

With Suh headed to the professional ranks, Crick steps into the spotlight this fall as one of the leaders of a Nebraska defense that returns seven starters for 2010. The Blackshirts finished first nationally in scoring defense and pass efficiency defense and ranked second in the nation in sacks. Crick and the starting front four accounted for 32 sacks and 67 tackles for loss.

The Big 12 coaches honored Crick as a first-team all-conference choice, while nearly every other outlet listed him as a second-team all-conference selection in a league stacked with outstanding linemen. He has received numerous preseason accolades heading into the 2010 campaign.

2009 (SOPHOMORE)

He added eight tackles and three quarterback hurries against Iowa State before his record-setting day at Baylor. In addition to his school record sack and tackle for loss totals, Crick also had a career-high 13 tackles, the most by an NU defensive tackle in seven seasons. He also had a fumble recovery and a pass breakup.

Crick made eight tackles, two tackles for loss, shared a sack and had three hurries in a 10-3 win over Oklahoma. He posted five tackles against Kansas State, and had three tackles, shared a sack and added two hurries in the Big 12 title game against Texas. Gomes' play earned him a coveted Blackshirt practice jersey and helped Nebraska lead the nation in pass efficiency defense and scoring defense. His play also earned him honorable-mention All-Big 12 honors from the league's coaches. Gomes is a versatile performer who could continue in a nickel or dime role this fall, but he spent the majority of spring ball with the top unit at safety. 6-0 | 190 | RFr.
San Antonio, Texas (James Madison)

2010 OUTLOOK

Redshirt freshman Andrew Green hopes to find a role in a talented Nebraska secondary in 2010. The 6-0, 190-pound cornerback received praise from Husker coaches for his scout team work during the 2009 campaign. Green sat out as a redshirt and worked on the NU scout team.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (JAMES MADISON HS)

Green starred at San Antonio's James Madison High School, where he helped Coach Jim Streety's team to a 9-3 record and a trip to the second round of the Class 5A state playoffs. CODY GREEN

Quarterback
6-4 | 225 | So.-1L
Dayton, Texas (Dayton)

2010 OUTLOOK

Sophomore quarterback Cody Green heads into fall camp in the middle of a highly contested race for the starting job. Green started two games as a freshman, while spending the majority of the year as the backup to Zac Lee. However, Lee missed spring practice after off-season surgery, giving Green the opportunity to get the most snaps with the top offensive unit.

The 6-4, 225-pound Green saw enough action in 2009 to flash his ability as a threat in both the passing and running game. Green has a strong arm and outstanding running ability, making him a dual threat for the Nebraska offense.

2009 (FRESHMAN)

Green was NU's No. 2 signal caller for most of the season, and earned starts against Baylor and Oklahoma, while appearing in nine games overall. Green's two starts were the first by a true freshman quarterback at Nebraska since Tommie Frazier in 1992.

Green had 317 yards and two passing TDs, while connecting on 33-of-62 passes. He also ran for 158 yards and two touchdowns. Green saw his first action in the opener against Florida Atlantic and hit on 2-of-3 passes, while unleashing a season-long 49-yard run on his first career carry. Green completed 3-of-6 passes against Arkansas State, then hit on 7-of-8 passes for 62 yards and a 24-yard TD to Rex Burkhead against Louisiana-Lafayette.

He came off the bench in the second half against Texas Tech and threw for 87 yards, including a 14-yard TD to Khiry Cooper. In his first career start at Baylor, Green hit on 12-of-21 passes for 128 yards with one interception. He had a career-long 45-yard pass to Niles Paul to set up NU's second TD, while adding eight rushes for 43 yards. Green also started against Oklahoma and rushed for eight yards, while completing 2-of-5 passes before giving way to Lee in the second quarter. Green saw limited action against both Colorado and Texas rushing for nine combined yards. In the Holiday Bowl, Green rushed five times for 18 yards.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (DAYTON HS)

Green led Dayton (Texas) High and Coach Jerry Stewart to a 13-2 record and a Class 4A state runner-up finish as a senior. Green amassed nearly 5,000 yards of total offense, throwing for 3,265 yards and 37 touchdowns, while rushing for 1,610 yards and 25 touchdowns.

In leading the Broncos to the state title game, Green produced more than 1,000 yards passing and nearly 800 rushing yards in six playoff games. In the 4A state title game, Green passed for 329 yards and six touchdowns, while rushing for 94 yards. Green topped 200 yards passing nine times as a senior, including a pair of 300-yard games. He rushed for more than 100 yards eight times, including 270 yards against Brenham in the state playoffs. Green was named first-team all-area by the Houston Chronicle as a utility player and was also an honorable-mention Class 4A all-state selection by the Associated Press.

Green was slowed by injury as a junior, allowing him to play in only a few games. He first showed his talents for Dayton High as a sophomore, when he rushed for 689 yards and passed for 1,429 yards and 19 touchdowns, while completing better than 61 percent of his passes.

Green only visited Nebraska and committed to the Huskers in July of 2008.

Freshman Jay Guy was one of two high school seniors to join the Nebraska program in January, along with fellow defensive line recruit Chase Rome. The headstart on college allowed Guy to go through winter conditioning and spring practice with the Huskers and learn the intricacies of the Nebraska defense. The 6-1, 305-pound Guy made great strides in the weight room to improve his conditioning and has shown the ability to make an impact in the future. Guy, who earned all-district honors in the Houston area, is expected to provide depth in the interior of the defensive line in 2010.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (EISENHOWER HS)

Guy was a dominant presence on the defensive line for Coach Ray Evans at Eisenhower High School in greater Houston. Guy made 74 tackles as a senior, including 50 solo stops, and five sacks. Eric Hagg has been a fixture in the Nebraska starting lineup the past two seasons as the nickel back and has proven to be a consistent play-maker for the Blackshirts. The 6-2, 210-pound Hagg has made 20 starts over the past two seasons and his combination of size and speed adds great versatility to the Nebraska defense.

Hagg will be counted on to play a key role for the Huskers in 2010. Hagg could continue in a nickel back role or earn a starting job in a more traditional safety role. He spent the majority of the spring working in a hybrid nickel-linebacker role. His play last season helped Nebraska lead the nation in scoring defense and pass efficiency defense, while allowing just seven passing touchdowns in 14 games.

Despite not officially being in the regular starting lineup, Hagg was chosen as an honorable-mention All-Big 12 selection by the league's coaches.

2009 (JUNIOR)

Hagg played in all 14 games with 10 starts, helping NU rank among the nation's best defenses. He finished with 40 tackles, including seven for loss, along with two sacks. Hagg also intercepted a pass, broke up four others, forced a fumble, and had three quarterback hurries. He also continued to play a role on NU's special teams.

Hagg posted his second career sack against Arkansas State, and had a tackle for loss for a second straight game at Virginia Tech. Hagg led Nebraska with six tackles in the shutout of Louisiana-Lafayette and also forced a fumble in the game. He had a tackle for loss at Missouri, before a five-tackle effort against Texas Tech. Hagg tied his season high with six solo tackles at Baylor, and added a tackle for loss and a PBU in the game.

In a 10-3 win over Oklahoma, Hagg had a key tackle for loss on a Sooner fourth-down rush and added a pass breakup and a hurry. Against Kansas State, Hagg had four tackles, including a 14-yard sack and added a season-high two breakups. Hagg recorded his first career interception in the first quarter against Texas, setting up a field goal for the game's first points. He finished the year with a tackle for loss in the Holiday Bowl win over Arizona.

Hagg played in all 13 games with 10 starts, and had 39 tackles, including 29 solo stops and five tackles for loss, a sack and ranked among the team leaders with seven pass breakups. Hagg opened the year with five tackles, a forced fumble and fumble recovery against Western Michigan. He recorded a career-high 10 tackles, including nine solo stops against New Mexico State, then made his first career tackle for loss against Virginia Tech. He added four tackles each against Baylor and Oklahoma, and had tackles for loss against Kansas and Colorado. Hagg had two pass breakups against both San Jose State and Kansas.

Hagg saved his biggest plays for a crucial moment in the Gator Bowl win over Clemson. With the Tigers threatening for the go-ahead score late in the contest, Hagg had a key pass breakup on a first-and-goal play. Hagg then threw Clemson quarterback Cullen Harper for a 16-yard sack on second down, allowing NU to preserve the 26-21 victory.

2007 (FRESHMAN)

Hagg played in seven games as a true freshman, primarily on special teams, and made two assisted tackles in the win over Kansas State.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (IRONWOOD HS)

Hagg was a standout at Ironwood High School in Peoria, Ariz., starring at receiver and defensive back for Coach Larry Allen. Hagg caught 49 passes for 920 yards and nine touchdowns, while making 33 tackles and intercepting four passes on defense. His efforts as a senior earned him first-team Arizona 5A all-state honors from the Arizona Republic.

As a junior, Hagg had 37 catches, including 12 touchdowns and made better than 40 tackles on defense. He also had seven interceptions and blocked a punt. In addition to his outstanding accomplishments on the field, Hagg was a top basketball player, starting for Ironwood and averaging 10 points per game as a senior. Hagg only visited Nebraska, but had numerous other offers including Arizona, Arizona State, Oregon and Oregon State.

Offensive Line
6-7 | 320 | Jr.
Batesville, Miss. (South Panola/Fort Scott CC)

50

2010 OUTLOOK

Offensive lineman Jermarcus "Yoshi" Hardrick joined the Nebraska program in January after two dominant seasons at Fort Scott Community College in Kansas. The 6-7, 320-pound Hardrick is expected to compete for playing time on an offensive line that returns four starters for the 2010 campaign. Hardrick made a strong impression with his overall ability and tenacity during the spring, before his practice was cut short by a hand injury in the latter half of spring drills. Originally from Batesville, Miss., Hardrick has three years to complete two seasons of eligibility at Nebraska.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (FORT SCOTT CC/SOUTH PANOLA HS)

Hardrick was one of three junior-college players in the 2010 recruiting class, and he was the first Mississippi native to sign with Nebraska since Brandon Jackson in 2004. Hardrick's play in 2009 helped Fort Scott and Coach Jeff Sims to an 11-1 record, and a national runner-up finish. Hardrick was a key figure for an offense that averaged better than 30 points per game and led the Jayhawk Conference in total offense, averaging more than 420 yards per game.

Hardrick was a first-team all-conference pick for his efforts in 2009, as well as an All-Region VI pick. As a freshman at Fort Scott, Hardrick was a second-team All-Jayhawk Conference pick, helping the school to a 9-2 record and a No. 6 final national ranking.

Hardrick was a dominant offensive lineman at South Panola High School where he played for one of the nation's most dominant prep programs. South Panola did not lose a game while Hardrick was in high school, winning Mississippi 5A state titles in each of his three seasons on the team. Hardrick was listed among the top 15 overall junior-college prospects in the country and among the top three offensive line recruits. Hardrick also visited LSU, and had offers from Arkansas, South Florida, Southern Miss and Ole Miss among others.

PERSONAL

Hardrick was born on May 30, 1990, and is the son of Delores Hardrick. He is majoring in sociology.

ROY HELU JR.

I-Back
6-0 | 220 | Sr.-3L
Danville, Calif. (San Ramon Valley)

10

I-back Roy Helu Jr. returns for his senior season as one of the most productive rushers in the Big 12 Conference. Helu has amassed more than 2,000 rushing yards over the past three seasons, including a 1,000-yard rushing campaign as a junior in 2009. In 2010, he will be the veteran leader of a Nebraska running back corps that returns fully intact for the upcoming season.

The 6-0, 220-pound Helu combines his good size and speed with excellent vision and elusiveness. The California native is just the 25th Cornhusker to surpass 2,000 career rushing yards and his effort last fall marked the 29th 1,000-yard rushing season in Nebraska history. A second 1,000-yard season in 2010 would move Helu into the top five on Nebraska's career rushing list.

Last season, Helu earned second-team All-Big 12 honors from the league's coaches, and he was an honorable-mention All-Big 12 choice during his sophomore campaign. He was also voted as Nebraska's Offensive MVP by his teammates in 2009. Helu has also been among the conference leaders in yards per carry each of the past two seasons. He averaged 5.2 yards per tote last fall after picking up 6.4 yards per attempt in 2008.

ALEX HENERY

Place-Kicker/Punter
6-2 | 175 | Sr.-3L
Omaha, Neb. (Burke)

2010 OUTLOOK

Alex Henery heads into his senior season as one of the top special teams performers in the country. Henery has provided Nebraska with accurate place-kicking since 2007, and as a junior last fall he also became one of the nation's top punters. The Omaha native is likely to continue in both roles in 2010, and has the ability to contend for All-America honors in either specialty.

Henery owns All-Big 12 honors as both a kicker and punter entering his senior season, and has been Nebraska's Special Teams MVP the past two seasons. He is poised to not only leave a lasting mark in the Nebraska record book, but is also in position to put his name in impressive position on conference and national charts.

Henery was one of only three players nationally to rank in the top 50 in both field goals and punting average in 2009. He enters his senior season 50-of-57 on field goals, tops in accuracy in NU school history, and he is the second-most accurate returning field goal kicker in the nation. His 24 field goals as a junior shattered the NU season record and left him just seven field goals from the career record, held by Kris Brown with 57.

Henery has 289 career points entering 2010, good for fifth on the NU career list. He has posted 110 points each of the past two seasons, good for eighth on the single-season list. A third 100-point season this fall would move Henery to the top of Nebraska's career scoring list. Henery's point total ranks third nationally among players returning for the 2010 season. He has six career games with four or more field goals, an accomplishment that has already tied an NCAA record.

He also enters 2010 with a 139-of-140 success rate on extra points, the most accurate career mark for a Nebraska kicker. In his first season as punter, he led the Big 12 with 30 punts downed inside the 20, including an impressive eight inside the three-yard line.

Henery is on track to earn his degree in construction management in December of 2010.

2009 (JUNIOR)

Henery connected on a school-record 24 field goals in 28 tries, including six multiple field goal games, with five at Virginia Tech and four each against Texas and Arizona. Henery was also perfect on 38 extra-point tries, the second perfect PAT season of his career.

Henery handled the punting chores and averaged 41.4 yards per attempt to rank fifth in the Big 12, while leading the league in punts downed inside the 20.

Henery began the year a perfect 7-of-7 on PAT attempts against Florida Atlantic, then made five PATs and his first field goal of the year against Arkansas State. Henery supplied all of Nebraska's points at Virginia Tech, hitting on 5-of-5 field goals in a 16-15 loss. The five FGs were the second-most in NU history. He also booted six punts for a 41.5 average against the Hokies, including a first-quarter punt of 76 yards while side-stepping VT pressure. The punt tied for the fourth-longest in school history. His effort at Virginia Tech earned him Big 12 Player-of-the-Week honors.

He had two field goals against Louisiana-Lafayette and averaged better than 45 yards

Henery added another four-field goal outing against Arizona in the Holiday Bowl, including a 50-yarder and two others from beyond 40 yards. His four field goals tied his own bowl record and were a Holiday Bowl record.

Henery was a second-team All-Big 12 pick as a sophomore. He connected on 18-of-21 field goals, including three games with 4-of-4 efforts. He also made 56-of-57 extra points and his 110 total points were the most by a Nebraska player in seven seasons.

Henery capped his season with a signature moment in the regular-season finale against Colorado, hitting a school-record 57-yard field goal to provide the decisive points in the final minutes of a 40-31 victory. The kick was two yards longer than the previous NU record held by three players, and was also Henery's fourth field goal of the game.

He capped the year with another 4-of-4 field goal effort against Clemson in the Gator Bowl. Henery's third four-field goal game had come in the opener against Western Michigan when he hit four 44-yarders, marking the second time in school history a player made four field goals from 40-plus yards in the same game. Henery's four field goals tied the Memorial Stadium record and extended the perfect start to his career to 12 straight field goals, the most ever to start a Husker career.

Henery had his first career miss against New Mexico State, but had at least one field goal in games 3-6. His only other misses of the season came from beyond 50 yards (vs. Texas Tech, Baylor), and he made all six field goals from 40-49 yards, including a 48-yarder against Virginia Tech. Henery also made a key play against Kansas, rushing nine yards for a first down on a fourth-quarter fake field goal to set up an insurance score in a 45-35 Husker victory.

2007 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Henery had a perfect place-kicking season as a redshirt freshman, connecting on all eight field goals and 45 extra points. His performance was the ninth perfect PAT season in school history and he was the first player at NU with at least five field goal attempts in a season without a miss. He earned first-team freshman All-Big 12 honors from The Sporting News.

Henery made two field goals in NU's 20-17 win at Wake Forest, added a 37-yarder against USC and connected on two field goals at Missouri, including a season-long 39-yarder. He had single field goals against Texas, Kansas and Kansas State, and made a season-high 10 extra points against the Wildcats. His only punt was a 32-yarder against USC that was downed at the Trojan 5.

2006 (REDSHIRT)

Henery sat out his first season in Lincoln as a redshirt in 2006.

2010 OUTLOOK

Ricky Henry was one of three offensive linemen to start all 14 games for Nebraska in 2009, and the senior guard figures to play a prominent role again this fall. He missed spring ball after off-season surgery, but the Omaha native is a solid candidate to retain his starting spot at right guard.

The 6-4, 305-pound Henry brings a physical presence and tenacity to the Nebraska offensive line, and also has Big 12 experience under his belt. Henry's play during the 2009 season earned him honorable-mention All-Big 12 recognition from the Associated Press. His play helped ease the transition for first-year starting quarterback Zac Lee, and also aided Nebraska junior I-back Roy Helu Jr. to the 29th 1,000-yard rushing season in school history. Nebraska also ranked in the top 40 nationally in fewest sacks allowed per game.

Henry attended Omaha Burke, where he earned two first-team Class A all-state honors. In 2005, Henry was named to the Omaha World-Herald's All-Nebraska team and the Lincoln Journal Star's Super-State squad. In addition to Nebraska, Henry also received offers from Colorado and Houston.

The 6-2, 215-pound Lee is a leading contender to once again assume the starting role for the 2010 season, but he missed all of spring practice after undergoing offseason surgery on his throwing arm. The surgery came after an impressive showing in Nebraska's Holiday Bowl victory. Lee is expected to be full speed for fall camp. Lee has quarterbacking in his blood, as his father, Bob, played quarterback in the NFL for 12 seasons from 1969 to 1980.

Lee will compete in the 2010 season as a graduate student after picking up his degree in business administration in May.

He threw for 128 yards against Texas Tech, then threw for 248 yards, but was intercepted a season-high three times against Iowa State.

Lee regained his starting job for the stretch run and led NU to three wins. At Kansas, he had four passes of at least 35 yards and threw for 196 yards, while also rushing for 53 yards on nine carries. Lee connected on 13-of-19 passes and threw for a touchdown in the Big 12 North-clinching win over Kansas State, then threw for 73 yards and another score at Colorado. He accounted for 51 total offensive yards against Texas.

Lee had his most complete game in three months against Arizona in the Holiday Bowl. He connected on 13-of-23 passes for 173 yards, including a career-long 74-yard touchdown pass to Niles Paul. Lee's performance led City College of San Francisco to a 10-2 record and an appearance in the California junior college title game. The City College of San Francisco offense averaged nearly 40 points per game with Lee at the controls. Lee was ranked as the nation's top junior college quarterback by Rivals.com, Scout.com and SuperPrep Magazine. Lee sat out the 2005 season before enrolling in junior college in January of 2006.

Lee starred in both football and baseball at St. Ignatius College Prep in San Francisco. He was a three-year all-league quarterback in high school, but focused much of his time on baseball, limiting his Division I football scholarship offers out of high school. Lee chose Nebraska after also receiving strong recruiting interest from Oklahoma, Fresno State and Mississippi State among others.

MIKE MCNEILL

Tight End/Wide Receiver
6-4 | 235 | Sr.-3L
Kirkwood, Mo. (Kirkwood)

2010 OUTLOOK

Tight end Mike McNeill is expected to be a key threat in the Nebraska passing game for a third consecutive season in 2010. The 6-4, 235-pound McNeill is the most experienced and game-tested veteran in a deep and talented Nebraska tight end corps. He continues to provide a versatile threat in the NU passing game and spent the majority of the spring working with the wideouts.

McNeill started all 14 games during his junior season and finished second on the team in receptions, while tying for the team lead in touchdown catches. McNeill earned second-team All-Big 12 honors from the Associated Press as a junior, and he could be poised to push for bigger accolades in 2010.

McNeill also figures to leave a prominent imprint on the Nebraska record book. He already holds the season record for catches by a tight end with his 32-reception effort as a sophomore, and this fall he should break the career tight ends reception record. McNeill owns 61 career receptions, just four shy of the NU tight end record of 65 held by Matt Herian. McNeill is tied for 19th among all players on the career receptions list.

A marketing major, McNeill was expected to pick up his degree in August and play his senior season as a graduate student.

2009 (JUNIOR)

McNeill finished with 28 catches for 259 yards and his four touchdown catches tied Niles Paul for the team lead. McNeill had at least one catch in 12 of 14 games, including five games with three or more receptions.

In the opener against Florida Atlantic he led the team with four catches for 51 yards. A week later, McNeill caught four balls for 57 yards and had the first two-TD game of his career, with touchdown grabs of 13 and 32 yards. His third touchdown of the season came at Missouri in a key situation. His eight-yard scoring grab gave NU a 20-12 lead early in the fourth quarter.

McNeill's streak of 17 straight games with a catch ended at Baylor, but his production picked up again late in the season. He tied his career high with four catches at Kansas, then had three catches, including a 17-yard touchdown in a 17-3 win over Kansas State in Lincoln. He had just one combined catch against Colorado and Texas, but capped the year with three catches in the Holiday Bowl win over Arizona.

McNeill burst onto the scene as a sophomore, catching a Nebraska tight end record 32 passes for 442 yards and six touchdowns. His receptions total bettered the 31 catches by Johnny Mitchell in 1991, and his six touchdowns were just one shy of Mitchell's season tight end record. McNeill was one of seven Huskers who caught at least 20 passes, helping Nebraska finish 14th nationally in passing offense and 12th in total offense.

McNeill was in the starting lineup for all 12 regular-season games. He averaged 13.8 yards on his 32 catches and had eight games with three or more receptions, including the final four games of the season. He also caught seven passes of 20 yards or more, including a career-long 53-yard touchdown grab against Colorado.

McNeill had just one catch in the first two games, but had two catches for 57 yards and a 32-yard touchdown against New Mexico State. He then added three catches for 66 yards and a touchdown against Virginia Tech. McNeill set a career high with four catches against Baylor, then had four catches for 37 yards and a touchdown against Kansas. He added three catches against K-State and had a career-high 70 yards on three receptions against Colorado. McNeill was also on Nebraska's kickoff return unit.

2007 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

McNeill played in eight games as a redshirt freshman in 2007 and had one catch for 25 yards against Nevada. He had a nine-yard kickoff return vs. Texas.

2006 (REDSHIRT)

McNeill redshirted in his first season in Lincoln.

NILES PAUL

Wide Receiver
6-1 | 220 | Sr.-3L
Omaha, Neb. (North)

24

Niles Paul developed into one of the Big 12's most explosive and diverse players as a junior in 2009. The Omaha native showed game-breaking ability both as a receiver and returner, producing five of NU's eight longest plays of 2009. Paul figures to play an even larger role in the NU offense as a senior.

Paul was Nebraska's leading receiver in 2009, and ranked among the top two in the Big 12 in yards per reception, kickoff return average and punt return average. His 40 catches just missed the NU top single-season top-10 list, and his 796 receiving yards ranked fifth. Paul is poised to push for a spot in the top five on NU's career receptions and receiving yardage lists.

Paul was equally explosive in the return game. Paul averaged 27.9 yards per kickoff return and 10.7 yards on punt returns. His play earned him second-team All-Big 12 honors from several outlets and honorable-mention accolades from the conference coaches.

Paul was the first Husker since 1986 to lead Nebraska in receiving, kickoff return yards, punt return yards and all-purpose yards in the same season, and just the fifth player in school history to accomplish the feat.

Paul is on track to graduate in May of 2011, completing his undergraduate work in four years.

2009 (JUNIOR)

Paul led NU with 40 receptions, averaging 19.9 yards per catch. That average ranked third in school history among players with at least 20 receptions in a season. He had nine receptions of 35 yards or longer.

In the return game his 27.9-yard average on kickoff returns ranked second in the Big 12 and was the best by a Husker in two decades, while his 10.7 yards per punt return also ranked second in the league. The only Husker to reach the end zone by rush, reception and return in 2009, he posted a team-high 121.2 all-purpose yards per game, good for ninth in the Big 12.

Paul's first big game came against Arkansas State when he had six catches for 69 yards, including his first career touchdown catch. He also had his second career rushing TD from 30 yards out, and accounted for 169 all-purpose yards. He tallied 176 all-purpose yards at Virginia Tech, including a 55-yard punt return.

Paul produced his first 100-yard receiving game at Missouri, with six catches for 102 yards and a pair of fourth-quarter touchdowns. He produced his third six-catch game against Iowa State, good for 143 yards – the ninth-best receiving day in school history. His effort included a 72-yard reception and Paul totaled 208 all-purpose yards.

At Kansas, Paul had a career-high 154 yards on four catches, all covering at least 35 yards. His 154 receiving yards ranked as the sixth-best total in school history. He added 82 yards in returns for a career-high 244 all-purpose yards. He had four catches for 82 yards against Kansas State, and at Colorado, Paul opened the scoring with a 59-yard punt return touchdown. Against Texas, he had a 43-yard punt return and a 42-yard kickoff return.

Paul earned Offensive MVP honors in the Holiday Bowl victory over Arizona. He totaled 123 receiving yards on four catches, including a career-long 74-yard touchdown to cap the scoring. He added a 20-yard rush, a season-long 49-yard kickoff return and 45 yards on three punt returns for 237 all-purpose yards.

Paul posted 23 catches for 214 yards, while averaging 23.6 yards on 41 kickoff returns, including an 85-yard touchdown against San Jose State. His average ranked 11th in the Big 12 and his 969 kickoff return yards were the third-most in NU history.

He had three games with three or more receptions, including four catches for 25 yards at Texas Tech, season highs of five catches for 34 yards against Baylor and three receptions for 31 yards at Kansas State. He returned a kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown against San Jose

State to earn Big 12 Special Teams Player-of-the-Week honors. The San Jose State game was Paul's first of four games with at least 100 kickoff return yards, including a season-high 156 yards on five returns at Texas Tech, when he added a 69-yard return.

Paul also returned seven punts for 77 yards, including a season-long 28-yarder vs. Western Michigan. Paul played on NU's coverage units and made eight tackles, including three against Kansas with two fumble recoveries on punt coverage.

2007 (FRESHMAN)

Paul played in seven games as a reserve receiver in 2007 and had one catch for six yards against Nevada. He also served on NU's kickoff coverage unit, and had an eight-yard kickoff return against Kansas State.

Paul was regarded as the top prospect in Nebraska in 2007, and was NU's first signee from Omaha North since 1998. As a senior, Paul hauled in 46 passes for 814 yards and 13 touchdowns for Coach Larry Martin. Paul averaged nearly 18 yards per catch, and also averaged better than 18 yards per punt return, helping North to a 9-2 record. He was named a first-team All-Nebraska and first-team All-Metro selection by the Omaha World-Herald and a first-team Super-State pick by the Lincoln Journal Star. He was also one of 58 players who were selected as a Parade All-American.

Paul averaged 19.5 yards on 32 receptions and caught 10 touchdown passes as a junior, and also averaged 25.6 yards per kickoff return to earn second-team all-state honors. Paul was regarded as one of the top 20 receiving prospects in the country and led the West team in receiving in the U.S. Army All-American Game in San Antonio.

In track, Paul won the 110-meter hurdles at the state meet as both a junior and a senior. In 2006 he led the Vikings to the Class A state track title by winning four gold medals, capturing titles in the 110- and 300-meter hurdles and 4x100 and 4x400-meter relays. Paul also won the Class A state title in the 300-meter hurdles as a sophomore. On the basketball court, Paul averaged nearly 19 points and 12 rebounds per game as a senior.

Missouri prep standout Chase Rome was one of two freshmen defensive linemen to get a jumpstart on their NU career by enrolling at UNL in January. Rome, along with fellow freshman Jay Guy, went through winter conditioning and spring drills with the Huskers.

The 6-3, 280-pound Rome used his first semester to get acclimated to the Huskers' defensive system and also improve his strength and conditioning in the NU weight room. A Columbia, Mo., native, Rome is expected to add depth on the defensive line in his first season in the program. He spent spring practice on the interior but has the versatility to play either tackle or end.

For his efforts as a senior, Sirles was named to the Rocky Mountain News' All-Colorado squad for the second straight year. Sirles was named first-team All-Colorado and all-conference as a junior, when he helped his team reach the state quarterfinals. HUSKER COACHING LEGENDS

BOB DEVANEY

Head Coach | 1962-1972

Record: 101-20-2 (.829, 11th all-time)

One man tops the list of people responsible for the success of the University of Nebraska athletic teams – Bob Devaney. For 35 years he was the driving force behind the University of Nebraska championships, first as a Hall of Fame football coach (1962-72), then as Athletic Director (1967-93) and Athletic Director Emeritus (1993-96). Devaney retired in 1996 and lived in Lincoln until he passed away at the age of 82 on May 9, 1997.

Devaney's mark will remain forever. The memories of the storybook national championship seasons of 1970 and 1971 will continue to inspire generations of Husker fans for years to come. His commitment to building one of the nation's best all-around athletic programs is reinforced with every athletic and academic honor earned by Husker student-athletes. And his legacy continues with the passing of each successful season.

From the time he took over athletic director duties for Tippy Dye in 1967, to his final year as athletic director in 1993, his vigor, enthusiasm and administrative excellence earned him a reputation as one of the nation's outstanding athletic directors. Those characteristics helped make him a football coaching legend. A 1981 inductee into the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame, under Devaney's leadership Nebraska developed one of the nation's most successful all-around athletic programs.

During his 11-year stint as Husker football coach, Devaney's teams won 101 games, lost only 20 and tied two for an .829 winning percentage. His career mark of 136-30-7 (.806) ranked him as the nation's winningest active coach at the time of his retirement in 1973, and he ranks 11th on the all-time list today, six spots behind the man he tabbed as his replacement, Tom Osborne.

In all, his Husker gridiron teams won eight Big Eight titles and two national championships (1970, 1971) and went to nine bowl games. He wound up with three straight Orange Bowl wins, two Outland Trophy winners, a Lombardi Award winner and a Heisman Trophy winner. Twice his teams won four consecutive Big Eight titles, 1963-66 and 1969-72.

TOM OSBORNE

Record: 255-49-3 (.836, 5th all-time)

The words were inscribed on Memorial Stadium's northwest corner some 14 years before he was born; "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sports." How fitting then, that the field inside that historic stadium is now called Tom Osborne Field in honor of a man, who in 25 seasons, built a total program based on more than winning.

His era of excellence continues even today as he is serving as athletic director at Nebraska, taking over in October of 2007.

Osborne's coaching career came to a poetic end in the 1998 Orange Bowl. In his final game, the Huskers defeated No. 3 Tennessee, 42-17, giving him a share of a third national title in his final four seasons. The victory left Osborne as the first coach in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion, along with the nation's best active winning percentage (.836, 255-49-3), which ranked fifth all-time among Division I coaches.

Osborne guided the Huskers to back-to-back titles in 1994 and 1995, then capped his career by sharing the 1997 title with Michigan. Nebraska's back-to-back national titles in 1994-95 made Osborne the first coach to accomplish that feat since Bear Bryant led Alabama to titles in 1978-79. Under Osborne, NU became just the second school all time to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons. In fact, Osborne's last five Nebraska teams put together the best five-year run in collegiate football history with an amazing 60-3 record.

Osborne-coached Nebraska teams captured 13 conference crowns and all 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went to a bowl. Achievements of that magnitude earned Osborne an immediate ticket to the College Football Hall of Fame in December of 1998, after it waived the customary three-year wait for entrance into the hall.

A Hastings, Neb., native, Osborne served Nebraska for three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives as a congressman from the third district. Osborne took over as athletic director at Nebraska in 2007 (full bio on page 194).

Grant Wistrom, a two-time All-American on the field and in the classroom, won the Lombardi Award and the NCAA Top Eight Award in 1998. He was also named a National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete. After leading NU to three national titles, Wistrom played in three Super Bowls.

NATION-LEADING 16 NCAA TOP EIGHT AWARDS

The highest honor the National Collegiate Athletic Association can bestow on a student-athlete is The Top Eight Award. The award is based not only on outstanding athletic accomplishments, but on excellent academic records and leadership ability in community and campus activities.

The University of Nebraska earned its NCAA-leading 16th Top Eight Award in January of 2008 when volleyball player Sarah Pavan was announced at the NCAA honors dinner. Pavan was a four-time academic All-American and two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year in volleyball. She was Nebraska's third Top Eight Award winner this decade.

The Husker football program has nine of Nebraska's 16 Top Eight Award winners, most recently All-America rush end Grant Wistrom who was a 1998 honoree. Wistrom's selection gave Nebraska nine Top Eight honorees in the 1990s. Two Huskers received the award in both 1990 and 1991, the only times that a school had more than one student-athlete honored. Nine of Nebraska's Top Eight picks were football players, making the Husker grid program the most decorated in the country.

In the 1990s, six Husker football players were awarded the Top Eight honor, including Aaron Graham (1996), Rob Zatechka (1995), Trev Alberts (1994), Pat Tyrance (1991) and Jake Young (1990). Randy Schleusener (1981) was the first Husker to win the award, followed by Dave Rimington (1983) and Mark Traynowicz (1985).

Nebraska's success in the classroom also extends to other sports. Along with nine football players who have won the Top Eight Award, four Husker volleyball players (Sarah Pavan-2008, Virginia Stahr-1990, Janet Kruse-1992, Nancy Metcalf-2002), two men's gymnasts (Tom Schlesinger-1989, Patrick Kirksey-1991) and one women's gymnast (Richelle Simpson-2005) have also claimed the honor.

VARSITY LETTERMAN LIST

NOTE: The following list is as complete and accurate as historical records allow. Corrections and additions will be made if documentation is provided. In each entry, the year is listed for each letter won. For example in the listing for Willard Burnham, the years are 1924-26, meaning Burnham lettered in 1924 and 1926 but not in 1925. Letterman lists are not available for the 1890, 1891 and 1895 seasons. Players are listed by hometown and the last position they played at Nebraska.

120 YEARS OF NEBRASKA FOOTBALL

Notes on the Associated Press Poll: The rankings indicated in all instances below are at game time, with Nebraska's to the left of the slash and the opponent's to the right. If a slash is alone, neither team was ranked at game time. Early-season games from 1936 to 1949 have no slash because the first polls in those seasons were not taken until after the season began. From 1936 to 1960 and 1968 to 1988, AP ranked the top 20 teams, from 1961 to 1967 the top 10, and since 1989, the top 25. The source for the weekly rankings from Oct. 19, 1936, through Jan. 3, 1984, is Football Rankings, College teams in the Associated Press Poll, 1936-1984, compiled by Lowell R. Greunke (Jefferson, N.C.; McFarland & Co., Inc., 1984).

NEBRASKA IN THE POLLS

The Associated Press poll began in 1936, and Nebraska came in at No. 15 in the first-ever regular-season poll on Oct. 24. The Huskers finished with a No. 9 final national ranking that year. From 1936 through 1949, the AP polls did not come out until October. Beginning in 1950, AP polls were issued weekly throughout the entire regular season. Until 1964, all final rankings are based on regular-season finishes and do not include bowl game results. In 1965, the AP final rankings became post-bowl rankings (with the exception of 1966). In 1974, the UPI final ranking also became post-bowl, and since then all final rankings have included bowl results.

COACH TOM OSBORNE

(Hastings, 1959)

255-49-3 (.836), 1973-97

Tom Osborne was hand-picked by Bob Devaney as his successor and served as assistant head coach in 1972. Osborne is credited as the offensive genius behind Devaney's national championship teams and served as a full-time assistant from 1967 to 1972. Osborne won back-to-back national championships in 1994 and 1995, and a third national title in 1997. During his 25 seasons, Nebraska won 13 conference championships and went to 25 consecutive bowl games, including 17 "major" bowls. His teams won nine or more games every year and 11 national rushing titles. His athletes won six Outlands, three Lombardis, one Heisman, one Butkus and one Johnny Unitas Award. He was the fastest coach in college football history to win 200 games, doing it in just 21 seasons, and the fastest coach to reach 250 wins. In his last five seasons, Osborne's teams posted a 60-3 record, the most wins in a five-year span by any team in collegiate history.

COACH FRANK SOLICH

58-19 (.753), 1998-03

Frank Solich was named Tom Osborne's successor on Dec. 10, 1997. He guided NU to a 12-1 record, Big 12 Championship and No. 2 final ranking in the coaches poll in 1999. In 2001, Solich led the Huskers to an 11-2 record and an appearance in the BCS title game in the Rose Bowl. In 2003, Solich coached Nebraska to a 9-3 regular-season record, but did not coach NU in the Alamo Bowl, as defensive coordinator Bo Pelini served as interim head coach. Solich was a member of Bob Devaney's first recruiting class in 1962. As a fullback, Solich earned All-Big Eight honors in 1965 and was the first Husker to rush for 200 yards in a game.

COACH BILL CALLAHAN

(Illinois Benedictine, 1978)

27-22 (.551), 2004-07

Bill Callahan came to Nebraska less than one year after leading the Oakland Raiders to Super Bowl XXXVII. The 27th head coach in Nebraska football history, Callahan became one of just five coaches in history to return to college football after leading an NFL team to the Super Bowl.

During Callahan's tenure, Nebraska shattered numerous school passing records. He led Nebraska to two bowl games and a Big 12 North title during his tenure.

20-8 (.714), 2008-present

The 28th Nebraska head coach, Pelini became just the fourth coach in Cornhusker history to win nine games in his first season, joining Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne and Frank Solich. His nine wins were also tied for the most among 18 first-year 2008 head coaches and the most among first-time head coaches. He became the first coach to share a piece of the Big 12 division title in each of his first two seasons in the league after leading NU to a 10-4 record and second straight bowl win in 2009. Pelini became Nebraska's head coach after five seasons as the most successful defensive coordinator in college football. Pelini also served nine seasons as an assistant in the NFL, winning a Super Bowl title with the San Francisco 49ers.

TOM OSBORNE

Athletic Director | Fourth Year

Hastings College (1959)

Hall of Fame football coach Tom Osborne has continued to leave a lasting impression on the history of Nebraska Athletics since returning to lead the Husker program as the school's 13th athletic director on Oct. 16, 2007. Osborne, who led Nebraska to three national championships (1994, 1995, 1997) and 255 victories in his 25 years as the Huskers' head football coach, has continued to use his impressive leadership skills to guide the NU athletic department as a whole over the past three seasons.

With the core values of integrity, trust, respect, teamwork and loyalty serving as guiding principles for Nebraska's 23-sport program as a whole, the Huskers have enjoyed renewed success in Osborne's first three years as athletic director. In 2009-10, Nebraska finished 17th in the NACDA Directors' Cup final standings, the Huskers' best showing since 2000-01.

One of Osborne's first major decisions as athletic director was to hire Bo Pelini as the Huskers' football coach. Pelini, who had spent the 2003 campaign as NU's defensive coordinator, has energized Nebraska's storied tradition with back-to-back nine-win seasons and a pair of Big 12 North Division titles in his first two years. In 2009, Pelini notched 10 wins, including a dominant 33-0 win over Arizona in the Holiday Bowl while finishing in the top 15 in both major national polls.

The tradition-rich NU volleyball program has claimed a pair of Big 12 titles and advanced to three NCAA Elite Eight appearances, while the women's basketball program has earned two NCAA Tournament trips, while notching the best season in school history with a 2010 Big 12 title and a berth in the NCAA Sweet 16. The NU wrestling program shared the 2009 Big 12 title and finished in the top 16 at three straight NCAA Championships. The NU men's track and field team has captured a pair of Big 12 outdoor crowns, while the men's and women's teams have produced five top-20 finishes indoors and outdoors over the past three years.

The men's and women's gymnastics teams both produced top-10 NCAA finishes in 2010, while the Husker bowling team won the 2009 NCAA title and finished in the top eight at the NCAA Championships each of the past three years. The NU rifle team has produced a pair of top-six NCAA finishes in the last three years, while the men's and women's tennis teams both earned NCAA Tournament trips in 2010. The women won the first NCAA match in school history while the men made their first-ever tournament appearance. The Husker softball team has made back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances, while the baseball and women's golf teams both earned NCAA Regional bids in 2008.

In addition to their competitive success, the Huskers have continued to set high standards academically at both the conference and national levels. Nebraska led the Big 12 with eight CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in 2009-10, increasing NU's nation-leading total to 277 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans all-time, across all sports. The Huskers also led the Big 12 with a league-record 178 academic all-conference selections, along with a conference-record 687 Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll selections. NU graduated 121 student-athletes from August of 2009 through May of 2010, while increasing its Big 12-leading exhausted eligibility graduation rate to 94 percent.

The Huskers also have continued to set the standard on the national level in the area of life skills. In 2010-11, Nebraska will open its new Student Life Center, which is designed to help Husker student-athletes maximize their performance in the classroom and the community.

The Student Life Center is the first step in Osborne's aggressive building plan for Nebraska's athletic facilities. In the summer of 2010, the athletic department broke ground on the Hendricks Training Complex at the Bob Devaney Sports Center, which will directly benefit the men's and women's basketball and wrestling programs with new practice and team areas. The project is also expected to lead to additional opportunities for improved facilities for many other Husker Olympic sport programs. The Hendricks Training Complex is scheduled to open before the 2011-12 season.

In the spring of 2010, the city of Lincoln also received voter approval to begin construction on the 16,000-seat Haymarket Arena, which will serve as the new competitive home for both Nebraska men's and women's basketball programs beginning in 2013-14.

Not long after the historic vote in Lincoln, Osborne helped Chancellor Harvey Perlman announce an even more historic move with the shift by Nebraska from the Big 12 to the Big Ten Conference beginning in 2011-12.

Nebraska's move to the Big Ten is expected to add University-wide academic opportunities, while providing financial stability for the athletic department for years to come.

Before being asked by Chancellor Perlman to return to Nebraska as athletic director in 2007, Osborne served three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives (Nebraska's 3rd congressional district) from 2000 to 2006.

He returned to academia following a 2006 gubernatorial bid, serving as a senior lecturer at Nebraska in the College of Business Administration, teaching leadership and business ethics, in the fall of 2007. Osborne also worked as a consultant for local college athletic departments for two years.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, continue to pour their time and support into the TeamMates mentoring program, which they founded in 1991. TeamMates provides encouragement to school-aged youth to help them graduate from high school and pursue a post-secondary education.

Osborne's leadership of the TeamMates program began while he was putting the final touches on one of the best coaching careers in college football history. The Hastings, Neb., native, who earned master's and doctoral degrees in educational psychology from the University of Nebraska, was named NU's 25th head coach following the 1972 season.

In 25 seasons with Osborne at the helm, the Huskers mounted a 255-49-3 record - the sixth-most wins in major college history. Osborne's .836 winning percentage ranked fifth all-time. His career came to a close with a 42-17 win over No. 3 Tennessee in the 1998 Orange Bowl, when he became the first coach in college football history to retire as a reigning national champion. Following his career, he became one of just four coaches in history to have the mandatory three-year waiting period waived for induction into the National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame in December of 1998.

Osborne's 1994 and 1995 teams allowed Nebraska to become just the second school in history to post back-to-back perfect national championship seasons (Oklahoma 1955-56). Nebraska put together the best five-year run in college football history from 1993 to 1997, going 60-3 with five straight 11-win seasons.

Osborne led NU to 13 conference crowns, including six of his last seven seasons on the sideline. All 25 of his Husker teams won at least nine games and went to a bowl, while 15 won 10-or-more games.

In the classroom, the NU football program totaled 65 CoSIDA Academic All-America awards in Osborne's 25 years. In fact, he accumulated more football Academic All-Americans in his 25 years as coach than any other football program in the nation has produced in its history.

Prior to becoming head coach, Osborne spent five seasons under Devaney, helping the Huskers win back-to-back national championships in 1970 and 1971. In 1973, Osborne succeeded Devaney, who also served as Nebraska's Athletic Director from 1967 to 1993.

Osborne and his wife, Nancy, have three adult children, Mike, Ann and Suzanne and four grandchildren.

NEBRASKA MEDIA SERVICES

NEBRASKA MEDIA RELATIONS

The Nebraska Media Relations Office is available to assist you with coverage of the Nebraska football program. The Media Relations Office is located on the third floor of the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex in the North end of Memorial Stadium.

For information regarding credentials, interviews, statistics, press conferences, etc., please call the Media Relations Office at (402) 472-2263, visit Huskers.com or e-mail Assistant Athletic Director for Media Relations Keith Mann (kmann@huskers.com). Below are guidelines for covering Nebraska during the season. Additions or changes to these policies can be found at Huskers.com/media.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Nebraska utilizes an on-line credentialing system. Directions regarding the application process will be sent to media members. Out-of-state media can contact Vicki Capazo in the Media Relations Office at (402) 472-2263 for further assistance.

As a general rule, working space in the Nebraska Press Box is allotted on the following basis: (1) daily newspaper writers covering for next day publication; (2) sports editors of Nebraska daily newspapers; (3) radio personnel for broadcast originations; (4) press and TV working photographers; (5) official school student daily newspaper, one seat and/or sideline only; (6) approved special coverage as space allows. Visiting freelance and amateur photographers are not eligible for media credentials, except by approval of MRD.

MEDIA ACCESS

Memorial Stadium access for the media is at the Media Gate entrance on street level on the west side of the stadium. The working press area is on Level 6 (Don Bryant Media Facility) with the photo and television deck on Level 7. Level 3 (West Stadium Club) and Levels 4 and 5 (Skybox Suites) of the West

Stadium and Level 7 of the North Stadium (suites) are not open to the media or public.

MEDIA PARKING

Parking at Memorial Stadium is always at a premium, with a limited number of spaces allocated to the media. Media parking is divided among several lots around Memorial Stadium. Early arrival is strongly suggested. No cars will be admitted to the primary media lot directly south of the stadium later than 60 minutes before kickoff.

Each media outlet will receive one complimentary parking pass. Media outlets will be charged for additional parking passes. See page 206 for specific directions to assigned lots.

WEEKLY TUESDAY MEDIA LUNCHEON

Each Tuesday during game weeks, Nebraska hosts a media luncheon. Press luncheons will be held on Level 6 of the press facility. A light lunch buffet is served at 11 a.m., followed by Coach Bo Pelini's weekly news conference at 11:30 a.m.

Requested Husker players will also be available pending class schedules. Generally, player interviews will be held after Coach Pelini's press conference until 1 p.m.; however some players may be made available before 11:30 a.m., depending on individual class schedules.

Media requesting Nebraska players for the press conference should do so by 2 p.m. Monday to the Media Relations Office. Transcripts of Pelini's press conference comments will be available on Huskers.com.

Out-of-town media wishing to listen to the weekly news conference may do so via telephone by dialing 1-877-229-1563 and entering the weekly passcode. The passcode may be obtained by contacting the Nebraska Media Relations Office (402) 472-2263 no later than 10:30 a.m. Tuesday morning. Lines are limited.

Media planning any live coverage of the press conference (television, radio, internet) should first request permission from the Media Relations Office.

INTERVIEW POLICY

During the season, Coach Bo Pelini is available in person for media interviews at the Tuesday news conference and on the field after practice on Monday and Thursday. Coach Pelini is also available each Monday on the Big 12 teleconference (11:50 a.m.-Noon). Please contact the Big 12 office at (469) 524-1000 for details. Any other interviews with Pelini must be arranged through the Media Relations Office at least one day in advance.

Nebraska players are available for interviews in person or by telephone after practice on Monday and Tuesday. Players who appear at the Tuesday press conference will NOT be available following Tuesday's practice. Player interviews can occasionally be set up for other times before practice with at least one day advance notice to the Media Relations Office. All requests for player and coach interviews must go through the Media Relations Office.

No interviews are to be conducted in the locker room, training room, weight room or Nebraska Student Life Complex. Interviews with assistant coaches must be arranged in advance through the Media Relations Office. Freshmen and redshirt freshmen are not available for interviews until they have participated in a game.

DAILY PRACTICES

During the season, practices are normally conducted either in Memorial Stadium, in the Hawks Championship Center, or on the Ed and Joanne Gass Practice Fields northeast of the stadium, beginning at approximately 3:30 p.m. All practices are closed to the media and public. Media wishing to interview Coach Bo Pelini or Nebraska players after practice should come to the designated location based on the practice site shortly before the end of practice. Media relations staff will escort media to the practice field at the conclusion of practice. Please contact the Media Relations Office to verify practice times.

Photographers and videographers are allowed to shoot through the individual period at the beginning of practice only on designated days. Media are asked to remain on the sidelines or behind the fence at Memorial Stadium during this time. When on the Gass practice fields, media may not stand between the two practice fields during this time. No interviews are to be conducted during this time period and these segments may not be aired or streamed live on television or the internet. Live practice reports are not permitted from the practice site and

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Nebraska's locker room is closed after games, both home and away, but Coach Bo Pelini and requested players and assistant coaches will be available for interviews following a brief cooling-off period. For home games, only coaches, players and staff members will be admitted to the tunnel and locker room after the game, but Coach Pelini and requested personnel will be brought to the interview room (North Stadium Strength Complex). Admittance to the interview area will be by media credential only. Media should access the area via the door on the northeast corner of the Osborne Athletic Complex. For away games, the best available interview area will be used. Requests for player and assistant coach interviews, home and away, will be taken by Keith Mann at the end of the third quarter. Non-requested players making significant plays in the fourth quarter will be added as a matter of course.

Nebraska players and coaches will not do interviews on the field after the game.

The visiting locker room at Memorial Stadium is located underneath the South Stadium. The visiting team interview area is just off the main tunnel leading to the visitor's locker room.

Media planning to carry the press conference live should request permission from the Nebraska Media Relations Office before doing so. If media are planning to do live interviews on the field after the game, they should make advance arrangements with the Media Relations Office, as well as contact Scott Guthrie in HuskerVision (402-472-4645).

SIDELINE POLICIES

The Big 12 Conference maintains a strict sideline control policy in an effort to keep the playing area as safe as possible. All sideline photographers must have a photo vest and a media pass, and both must be clearly visible. Vests will be issued beginning 2 1/2 hours before game time. Vests will be issued to media members with a photo pass who will be shooting still photos or video during the game. Media without a photo vest may access the sideline during pre-game and in the final five minutes of the game. Special exceptions to this also include interviews with special guests on the field at halftime, quarter breaks, etc. All other media should work from their assigned location on Level 6 or Level 7.

Those individuals receiving a photo vest will be asked to sign a waiver concerning the usage of photos at the time they check out the vests.

Vests may be returned to one of four locations following the game: Nebraska post-game interview room, opponent post-game interview room, press box, photographers work area (located on field level at the northeast corner of the stadium).

The Big 12 sideline control policy: (1) Only those photographers on assignment from a newspaper, magazine, television station or a participating institution, are given credentials. Each student publication may be limited to one press and/or one sideline photo pass. (2) Only those newspapers with Sunday and/or daily editions are eligible for sideline passes. (Special requests must be submitted to the Media Relations Director for review.) (3) Cutline writers, equipment carriers, and/or other so-called "assistants" will not be allowed on the sideline. (4) Photographers must display their credentials (media pass and vest) at all times. (5) University personnel are to be deployed on the sideline to ensure that all credentials are properly displayed. Those possessing bench passes (60 maximum) must remain inside the team bench area (between the 25-yard lines). (6) Photographers may not enter the bench area at any time. (7) Photographers are not permitted to congregate in the writers' section of the media facility during half time, during or after the game.

A photographers work area is available on field level, just off the northeast corner of the playing field.

FACILITY USE RESTRICTIONS

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln has an interest in protecting its facilities, property and reputation associated with its intercollegiate sports. Therefore, no person shall be permitted to access or use the arenas, facilities and other University of Nebraska intercollegiate athletic venues without first securing the permission of the Athletic Director or his/her designee. The only exception is an individual who records an image (e.g. photograph, videotape) for his/her non-commercial personal use. In no case shall any person be permitted to use these venues for the purposes of promoting the sale or manufacture of alcohol or tobacco or the promotion of any venture associated directly or indirectly with legal or illegal gaming or gambling.

TELEVISION, RADIO, INTERNET BROADCAST RIGHTS AND RESTRICTIONS

Nebraska, its opponent and the respective conference designate the broadcast rights for all games. No pregame coverage shall be permitted for two hours before the game without the express permission of the University of Nebraska and the broadcast rights holder. Live postgame interviews may not be aired while the television rights holder is still on the air.

Per the Big 12's television contract with various television entities, highlights from games are restricted to no more than three minutes. Media outlets may not place video of televised games (those that are part of Big 12 Conference package) on a web site. For non-televised games and televised games not part of the Big 12 package (i.e. PPV), media are limited to three minutes of video highlights on their web site. These guidelines include newspaper web sites containing video. These restrictions on the use of live or archived video on web sites are included in the national telecast agreements with ABC, ESPN and FSN.

In the sport of football, institutions are prohibited from placing or allowing to be placed any live video of games, whether telecast or not, on any web site. This restriction also includes highlights of games while in progress (live or recorded). For televised games, institutions may not grant rights to third-party entities. Use of video highlights in any other manner or any media distribution platform without the advanced written permission of the University of Nebraska is expressly prohibited. Any agency wishing to use film or video in any other manner must obtain written permission for such usage from the University of Nebraska.

Representative and Agency shall not transmit or display any video, audio, pictures, photographs or other non-text-based accounts or descriptions of the event while the event or the live network presentation of the event is in progress, except with the advance written permission of the University of Nebraska. (i.e. no live video reports from the stadium during game, halftime, quarter breaks, etc.). In accordance with Big 12 Conference policy, any blogs from the game site should contain only basic score and statistical information and should be limited in amount during the game. These blogs may not serve as a substitute for, or otherwise approximate, play-by-play accounts of a game in any medium.

Non-originating radio stations or internet sites may not provide play-by-play coverage, live or delayed, but may provide short news updates provided such news update is one minute or less occurring no more than once per hour. No pregame coverage from the stadium shall be permitted for two hours before the game without the express permission of the University of Nebraska and the broadcast rights holder.

Media members using wireless frequencies at Memorial Stadium will be asked to register that equipment in advance. Media will be prompted to complete a frequency coordination form when they fill out their on-line credential application. (Note: This does not apply to those registering for wireless internet access)

INTERNET/TELEPHONE/FAX

Media will have use of the Internet in the Memorial Stadium press box. A limited number of Ethernet ports are available in the press seating area and the photographer's area. Contact the Media Relations Office before the start of the season for information regarding cost of Ethernet ports at a specific seat. The Memorial Stadium press box is equipped with wireless internet. Media members who plan to use wireless internet should contact the Nebraska Media Relations Office in advance of the game for instructions. Please note, you must be registered prior to gameday in order to use the wireless network.

Nebraska provides telephones for media use in the Memorial Stadium media facility. Any media sources that want to install a telephone in the media facility should contact Nebraska Telecommunications (402) 472-2000 at least two weeks before the game.

Information such as statistics, postgame quotes, play-by-play, etc., will be available online at Huskers.com. If arrangements are made in advance, postgame notes, quotes and game statistics may be e-mailed. Please contact the Nebraska Media Relations Office during game week or before the start of the game to request e-mail service.

There is a fax machine available on request in the Media Facility if needed.

HUSKERS ON RADIO

The Husker Sports Network will continue the strong tradition of broadcasting excellence in 2010 as it brings Husker football to fans across the nation. All football games this season will be broadcast by the Husker Sports Network, which covers 29 of the 34 statewide radio markets, including Yankton, S.D., and Sioux City, Iowa.

In the state of Nebraska, KFAB (1110 AM) serves as the Omaha affiliate and KLIN (1400 AM) serves as the Lincoln affiliate, while KRVN (880 AM) is a third affiliate that reaches around the state. The national coverage area is broad and includes Phoenix, Las Vegas, Seattle, Denver, Des Moines, Oklahoma City, Northwest Arkansas and Kansas City. All games will also be heard live on Huskers.com and Sirius Satellite Radio around the nation in 2010.

The Husker Sports Network, in its 16th year of producing and marketing the live broadcasts of University of Nebraska Athletics, extended and expanded its agreement with the University on June 13, 2008. Under the agreement, IMG College's Husker Sports Network will manage and market all rights associated with radio programming, coaches' TV and radio shows, program sales, sponsorship inventory and publication printing rights.

IMG College, which purchased Host Communications and the Husker Sports Network on Nov. 16, 2007, is the leader in developing integrated licensing, marketing and multi-media opportunities for the nation's top collegiate brands across local, regional and national platforms. In addition to Nebraska, IMG College represents athletic organizations from across the country including such universities as Arizona, Cincinnati, Connecticut, Florida, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio State, Oregon, Tennessee and Texas. IMG College partners include the NCAA® and its 88 championships, NCAA football, leading conferences, some of the most prestigious universities and licensing for nearly 200 institutions. IMG College is a division of IMG, the world's premier sports, entertainment and media company. IMG employs more than 3,000 people in 30 countries. For more information, visit www.imgworld.com.

Greg Sharpe, Matt Davison and Lane Grindle will bring another exciting season of football to Husker fans across the nation. Sharpe returns for his third full season as the "Voice of the Huskers" after filling in for the final three games of the 2007 campaign. He will again co-host the Countdown to Kickoff Show and host the Bo Pelini pre- and post-game shows this year.

Sharpe also serves as the play-by-play voice for the Husker men's basketball television package, the radio play-by-play voice for Husker baseball and as the host of Bo Pelini and Mike Anderson Coaches Television Shows.

Former Husker star Matt Davison will join Sharpe in the booth as a color analyst for football. Davison, a member of the 1997 National Championship team, will co-host Husker Game Day and assist with post-game duties. He also is a color analyst for Nebraska men's basketball broadcasts and co-host of the Doc Sadler Show, while also contributing to Sports Nightly.

The third member of the broadcast team is Lane Grindle, who will handle the Husker Sidelines, co-host Husker Game Day and handle the locker room interviews after each game. He also hosts a sports talk show, Sports Nightly, each weeknight that focuses on Husker athletics, while also serving as the play-by-play and color analyst for baseball and co-host for the Doc Sadler Show on radio and TV.

Former Nebraska All-American and eight-year NFL offensive guard Brendan Stai will co-host the Countdown to Kickoff Show with Sharpe, while also joining the Husker Sports Network's Jeff Culhane on the Fifth Quarter and Big Red Reaction programs following the game.

The Husker Sports Network will also carry a weekly radio show with Coach Bo Pelini and the Husker football assistant coaches, which can be heard statewide on the network on Thursday nights at 7 p.m. during the season. All Nebraska games and coaches shows can also be heard on the internet at Huskers.com.

BIG 12 CONFERENCE

BIG 12 CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

The 2010 Dr. Pepper Big 12 Football Championship returns to Texas on Dec. 4. Last year in Arlington, Nebraska came within one point of upsetting No. 3 Texas, but fell on a last-second UT field goal, 13-12. The 15th edition of the battle for the league title will be played in Cowboys Stadium, the second time in conference history the game will be played in the facility.

Oklahoma has won the most Big 12 title games with six championships. Texas and Nebraska are the only other squads to win multiple crowns as the Longhorns have won three titles, while the Huskers have two. Kansas State, Colorado and Texas A&M have one apiece. The Sooners have the most title game appearances with seven, followed by Texas and Nebraska with five each.

The winner of the Dr. Pepper Big 12 Championship Game earns the league's automatic berth into the Bowl Championship Series.

COMPLIANCE GUIDELINES FOR FANS

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA PRINCIPLES

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

Question and Answers for Fans, Boosters, Alumni and Representatives of Athletic Interests

DEFINITIONS

Q: What is a booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either.

REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What is a Prospective Student-Athlete?

A: A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a Nebraska booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Q: What is a Student-Athlete?

A: A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the Nebraska athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Q: What is a contact?

A: Contact is ANY face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and a Nebraska staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Q: What is recruiting?

A: Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in Nebraska's intercollegiate athletic program.

GUIDELINES

Q: What is a Booster?

A: Someone who belongs to a University of Nebraska athletic booster club; promotes or makes financial donations to the athletic department or a specific Husker team; assists in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; employs, gives benefits to, or provides services to a student-athlete, a prospective student-athlete or the relative/friends of either.

REPRESENTATIVE OF ATHLETIC INTERESTS (I.E., BOOSTERS), NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What constitutes impermissible contact by a Booster?

A: Phone calls to prospects (9th to 12th grade) and their relatives placed for recruiting purposes (questions about the athletic program at UNL must be directed to the coach); writing, paging, text messages or instant messages to a prospect to encourage UNL attendance; contact with a prospect at a high school or club contest; contact with a prospect or his/her coach, principal, or counselor to evaluate the prospect; visiting the prospect's educational institution to pick up videotape or transcripts for evaluation purposes; contacting a prospect to congratulate him/her for signing a National Letter of Intent to attend UNL; giving anything of value to a prospect to induce him/her to attend UNL; contact of any kind while the prospect is on the UNL campus for an official or unofficial visit.

RECRUITING CONTACTS, NCAA BYLAW 13

Q: What are the rules of employment for a student-athlete?

A: A student-athlete may be employed during the academic year or summer vacation period; receive compensation equal to the going rate for similar services in the locale; receive compensation only for work performed; receive benefits provided to all other employees; teach sport-related individual skill instruction or fee-for-lesson sessions. A student-athlete may not conduct personal sport camps or promote, market, advertise or endorse a commercial business or product.

Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.

EMPLOYMENT, NCAA BYLAW 12

Q: What are non-permissible benefits?

A: Free or reduced-fee housing/rent including the use of vacation or seasonal homes; free or reduced-fee meals; loans or cash advances in pay or salary; tuition costs or school supply expenses; gifts or presents of any type regardless of the occasion or purpose; use of telephone for long distance or use of telephone cards and cell phones; free use of any motor vehicle, boat or recreational vehicle; free use of services (i.e., automobile repair, hair care, laundry, copying, faxing, etc.); free or reduced-fee memberships at golf courses, health clubs, etc. (This list is not exhaustive. Only benefits that are authorized by NCAA legislation shall be provided to and accepted by a student-athlete. It is not permissible for a student-athlete to receive a benefit that is the result of a "special" arrangement by an institutional employee, booster, employer or fan.)

BENEFITS AND PREFERENTIAL TREATMENT, NCAA BYLAW 16

Q: What type of promotional activities may the student-athlete be permitted to participate?

A: Charitable, educational or non-profit promotions and events with requested approval from the Athletic Compliance Office prior to the event.

Q: What types of promotional activities are not permissible?

A: Any fundraising activity that supports a high school organization or group that assists prospective-aged students; use of his/her name or picture; or appear to promote or market a commercial business or product.

THE DEVANEY SOCIETY

Achieving greatness in both the classroom and on the playing field has long been a goal of the University of Nebraska. Our nation-leading 277 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans and 24 team national titles reflect the manner in which we strive to achieve to the highest level.
