MALLOYS ENDOW HEAD FOOTBALL COACH POSITION IN HONOR OF PATERNO

Patrick and Candace Malloy have committed $5 million to create the Malloy Paterno Head Football Coach Endowment at Penn State. In December 2007, on the eve of Joe Paterno's induction into the College Football Hall of Fame, the two longtime friends of the Paterno family announced their intention to endow the position that Coach Paterno has held since 1966.

The endowment was then the largest individual gift in the history of Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Malloys, of Key Largo, Fla., said they intend their gift to honor not only the coach's achievements on the field, but also the values that Joe Paterno and his wife, Sue, share off the field with players and the University community.

The University invests endowed gifts in perpetuity and uses a portion of the annual income for the purposes intended by the donor. The remaining income is added to the principal to protect it from inflation and ensure its growth.

Income from the Malloy Paterno Head Football Coach Endowment will be directed, at the head coach's discretion and with approval from the director of athletics, to purposes ranging from academic support and special medical care for team members, to expenses associated with recruitment of student-athletes and coaching expenses, excluding salary supplements.

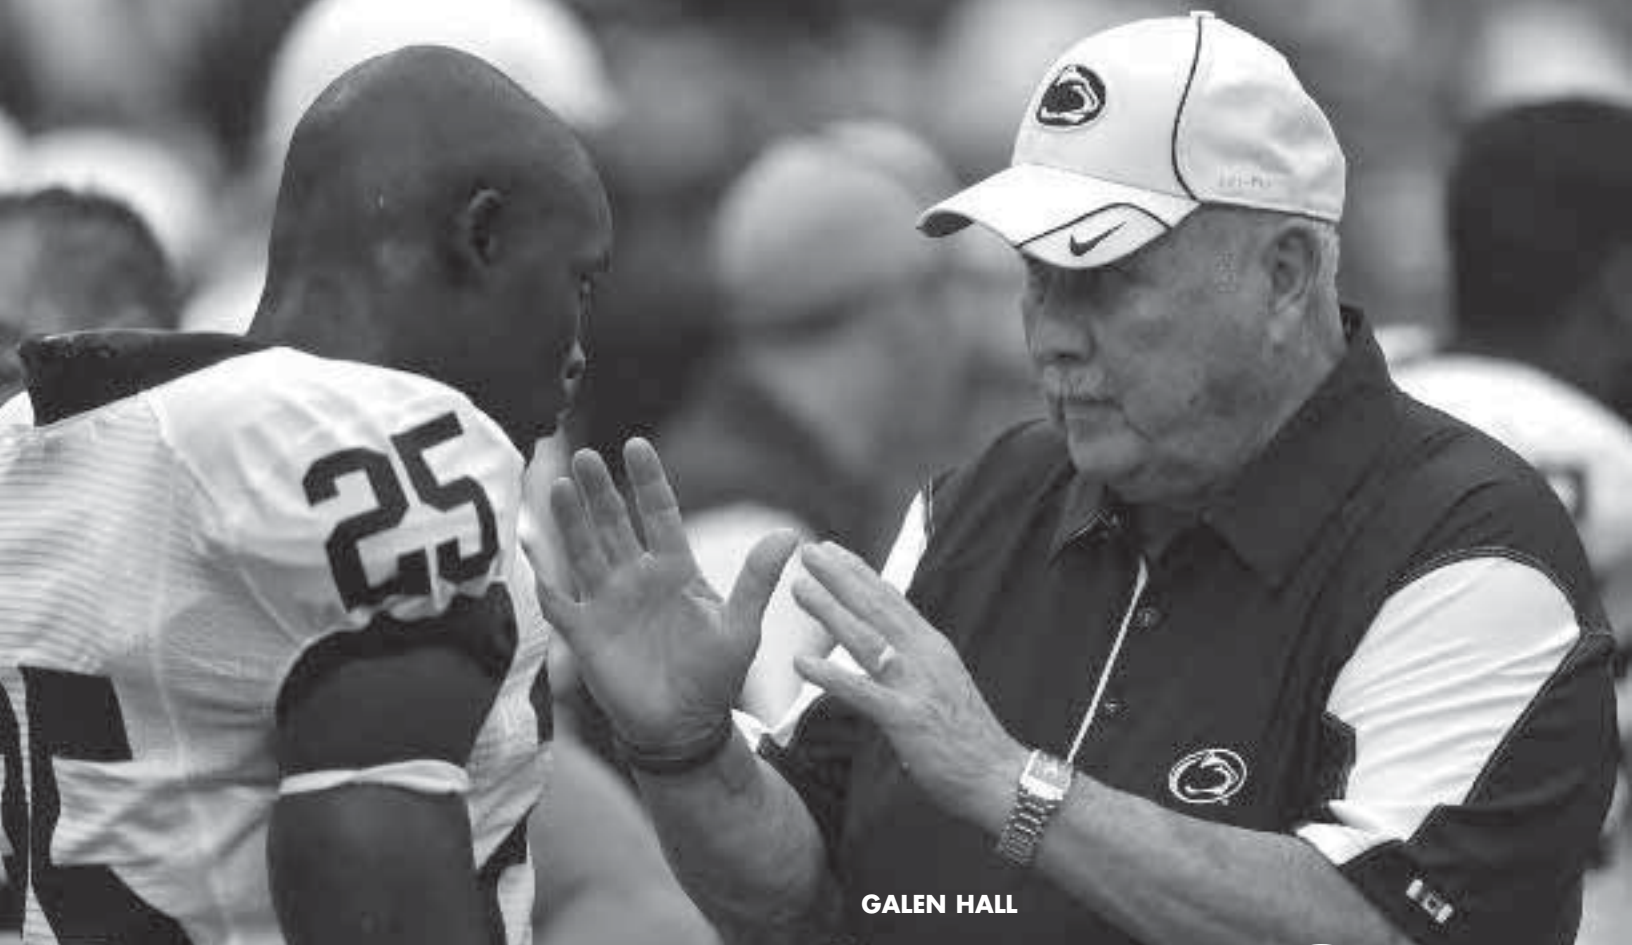

UNPARALLELED STABILITY

Since 1966, there have been 884 coaching changes among FBS programs (an average of more than seven per school), with multiple changes at every school except Penn State.

► Coaching Accomplishments:

- Instrumental in the development of quarterback Daryll Clark, a 2008 & 2009 first-team All-Big Ten selection and 2009 Big Ten Silver Football (MVP) winner. Clark broke school records for season (24) and career (43) touchdown passes and season total offense (3,214).
- Penn State produced a 2,000-yard passer in five straight seasons (2005-09) under Paterno, including a school-record 3,003 yards by Daryll Clark in 2009.
- Has coached five quarterbacks that have produced six of the top seven passing seasons in Penn State history.
- Coached Anthony Morelli, who broke the Penn State record for season completions twice and is the only Nittany Lion quarterback to throw for 2,000 yards more than once.
- Coached quarterback Michael Robinson, the 2005 Big Ten Most Valuable Player, who was fifth in balloting for the Heisman Trophy. Robinson directed Penn State to an 11-1 record, Big Ten and Orange Bowl titles and broke the school season total offense mark with 3,156 yards. Robinson became the first Nittany Lion to rush (1,637) and pass (3,531) for more than 1,000 career yards.
- Coached quarterback Zack Mills, who set or tied 18 school passing and total offense records and ranks ninth all-time in the Big Ten with 7,796 total yards in his career. Among his school records are: career completions (606), career passing yardage (7,212), career total offense (7,796), total offense in a game (418 vs. Ohio State, 2001) and game passing (399 vs. Iowa, 2002). Mills also tied for the then school lead for touchdown passes (41) and 200-yard passing games (16) in his career.
- Coached quarterback Rashard Casey, who tied the school record with five touchdown passes in a game in 2000.
- Helped develop tight end Tony Stewart, who set a school record for catches in a season by a tight end with 38 in 2000. He was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles.
- Coached kickoff returner Kenny Watson to a 23.7-yard kickoff return average in 1999, second-best in the Big Ten, and to a Big Ten-best 23.5-yard average in 1996.
- Helped James Madison to a 10-3 mark and a spot in the Division I-AA playoffs in 1994.
- Coached James Madison quarterback Mike Cawley to Virginia Player-of-the-Year and first-team all-state honors. Cawley was drafted by the NFL's Indianapolis Colts.

TODD KULKA & BRADY ROURKE

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

"GROUP STUDY, PRIVATE TUTORING AND SOMETIMES A GOOD KICK IN THE BEHIND IS AVAILABLE TO EVERYONE. WE ARE VERY PROUD OF OUR ACADEMIC SUCCESS AND WORK HARD EVERY DAY TO MAKE SURE IT CONTINUES AND OUR STUDENT-ATHLETES LEAVE HERE WITH A VALUABLE EDUCATION AND A DEGREE."

— TODD KULKA

Todd KULKA

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

In his 20th year with the Penn State football program, both as a player and academic counselor, Todd Kulka is in his ninth year directing the Penn State Football Academic Support Center.

Kulka works with the underclassmen in their transition from high school to college. He assists the upperclassmen in selecting and finishing their degree programs and with their transition into their career path. Kulka coordinates the structured study program, provides counseling and advising, tracks and monitors grades and eligibility and assists with on-campus recruiting.

A 1995 Penn State graduate, Kulka is in his 15th year on the academic support staff. He was a graduate assistant for three years and received his master's degree in education from Penn State in 2000, moving into a full-time academic counselor position in 2000.

The Nittany Lions have earned 16 Academic All-America honors in Kulka's initial eight years as director, including Penn State's first three-time recipient Stefen Wisniewski (2008-10) and two-time winners Paul Posluszny (2005 and 2006), Gerald Cadogan (2007 and 2008), Josh Hull (2008 and 2009) and Andrew Pitz (2008 and 2009). Penn State has led the nation the last three years in Academic All-America honors earning three each of the last two years and five in 2008: Cadogan, Hull, Pitz, Mark Rubin and Wisniewski. Dave Costlow (2003), Andrew Guman (2004), Nolan McCready (2006) and Tim Shaw (2006) also have been recognized during Kulka's tenure. Posluszny was named the 2006 Academic All-American-of-the-Year among Division I football players.

Sixteen Nittany Lions earned a 3.5 grade-point average or higher for Dean's List recognition during the 2010 fall and 2011 spring semesters. A record 55 players compiled a 3.0 GPA or higher in the Fall 2008 semester.

Kulka, a State College native, played linebacker for the Nittany Lions. He is married to the former Meghan Hlivia and they have a daughter, McKenna (3), and son, Connor (1).

Brady ROURKE

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

In his fifth year as an academic coordinator with the Penn State football program, Brady Rourke returned to the Penn State campus in 2007 after a season as an academic coordinator working with the football and track programs at Arizona State University. A Penn State graduate, Rourke previously worked as a graduate assistant in Penn State's Morgan Academic Support Center for three years advising, counseling and mentoring student-athletes in the football program.

Rourke graduated from Penn State in 2003 with a degree in rehabilitation services education. He earned his master's degree in higher education administration from Penn State in 2006.

Rourke's background includes serving as the instructor for the Freshmen Enrichment program and Summer Bridge program at Arizona State. He also was the co-instructor of the Freshmen Enrichment program at Penn State and served as an intern in the Morgan Center assisting student-athletes in all 29 Penn State sports and facilitating activities in the CHAMPS Life Skills program.

— PRO BOWL LINEBACKER
LAVAR ARRINGTON

John THOMAS

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

Some intense coaching is done out of sight of Penn State fans. John Thomas has a low profile on game-day, but his high profile position as strength and conditioning coach is an important element of the Nittany Lions' football success.

Thomas, in his 20th season as a member of the Penn State football family, is front and center in the weight room where he monitors the team's strength and conditioning activities. Thomas' experience, desire for improvement and rapport with the student-athletes have made him a popular and vital friend amongst the staff and players.

His strenuous regimen throughout the year has been most evident during "winning time," as the Lions' conditioning has helped them secure numerous victories in the fourth quarter.

Thomas was recognized for his achievements with his selection in 2002 for the title of Master of Strength and Conditioning Coach, a title then held by just 26 people worldwide.

In 1997, he was named National Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach-of-the-Year by the Professional Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society.

Thomas arrived at Penn State in 1992 after two years as a strength coach at the U.S. Military Academy, first as an assistant and then as the head of Army's strength and conditioning program.

A graduate of Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio, Thomas was a four-year starter for the Fighting Muskies. He played defensive tackle for two years and offensive guard for two more. As a senior in 1983, he was the offensive co-captain, won a spot on the All-Ohio Valley Athletic Conference first-team, earned his teammates' nod as the team's most valuable offensive player and was a second-team selection on the Pizza Hut Division III All-America team.

Following his graduation with a bachelor's degree in health and physical education, Thomas spent two years as a graduate assistant football and strength coach at Toledo. He moved to the University of the South, where he coached the defensive (1986) and offensive lines (1987-89) and served as strength training assistant in football and strength coach for baseball.

Thomas arrived at West Point after the 1989 football season to serve as head strength and conditioning coach for the Academy's comprehensive program.

Thomas is married to the former Kelly Sims of Huntland, Tenn., and they have two sons, Jacob (18) and Logan (16), and daughter, Grace (11).

"I THINK JOHN THOMAS DID A PHENOMENAL JOB OF GETTING ME READY (FOR THE NFL)."

— JOE JUREVICIUS,
CLEVELAND BROWNS

JEREMY SCOTT

— PAUL POSLUSZNY,
TWO-TIME ALL-AMERICAN AND BUFFALO BILLS DRAFT PICK

Jeremy SCOTT

SPEED DEVELOPMENT COACH

Jeremy Scott is in his 14th season as the speed development coach and assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Penn State football program. He is responsible for developing players' speed, reaction, agility, quickness and acceleration, as well as working on proper running mechanics and high-intensity strength training. His expertise has been a valuable resource in lowering 40-yard sprint times and preparing players for the drills used in evaluation at the NFL combines.

Scott was recognized for his achievements with his selection in 2011 for the prestigious title of Master of Strength and Conditioning Coach.

A 1996 graduate of Lock Haven University, Scott obtained his master's degree in health education from Penn State in 1999. He previously served as a graduate assistant with the Penn State strength and conditioning program from 1997-98 and performed an internship with the program in the summer of 1996. His work experience also includes designing and implementing a high-intensity strength training program for the United States Marine Corps Company B Body Bearers (1998), serving as the strength coach for the Penn State Boxing Club (1997-98) and as a personal trainer (1995).

Scott is married to the former Cory Beth Wickizer and they have a daughter, Emma (5), and son, Evan (1).

"PENN STATE PLAYERS COME IN WITH A SOLID BASE UNDERNEATH THEM. THEY KNOW HOW TO TRAIN AND THEY'RE GOING TO HAVE A GREAT WORK ETHIC."

— MIKE WOLF,

BIG TEN NETWORK ALL BIG TEN, ALL THE TIME

FIRST NATIONAL CONFERENCE NETWORK

The Big Ten Network launched in August 2007 with football, men's and women's basketball, nightly studio shows, classic games and coaches' shows, along with more Olympic sporting events, Championships and exposure for women's sports than has ever been aired on any other network.

ABC/ESPN

In June 2006, the Big Ten signed a new 10-year national rights contract with ABC/ESPN. Big Ten action has been featured on ABC since 1966 and on ESPN since 1979, the network's first year. The new agreement, which began during the 2007-08 season, includes up to 41 televised Big Ten football games annually — up to 17 on ABC and up to 25 on ESPN or ESPN2. In addition, all regional afternoon football games are aired on ABC and by ESPN/ESPN2 in outer-markets, making these games nationally available. Additionally, through ESPN's collection of new media outlets such as ESPN.com, Mobile ESPN, ESPN360 and ESPN VOD, fans receive live events (including simulcasts), extended video highlights including in-progress games, features and more. Big Ten coverage also is available on ESPNU and ESPN Classic and throughout the world via ESPN International.

BIG TEN NETWORK

Available to approximately 80 million households in the United States and Canada, the Big Ten Network is the first nationally distributed network dedicated to covering one of the premier collegiate conferences in the country. With more than 400 live events, all of them in high definition, the network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country, allowing them to see their favorite teams, regardless of where they live.

The network operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, showcasing a wide array of classic to current sports and televising more Olympic sporting events and women's sports than has ever been aired on any other network. Original programming highlights activities and accomplishments of some of the nation's finest universities. Each year, the network offers approximately 35-40 football games, 105 regular-season men's basketball games, 55 women's basketball games, dozens of Big Ten Championship events, nightly studio shows, coaches' shows, and classic games.

The network has agreements with more than 300 affiliates, including Verizon FiOS, AT&T U-Verse, DirecTV, DISH Network, Atlantic Broadband, Bright House, Cablevision, Charter, Comcast, Consolidated Communications, Cox (Omaha, Cleveland, Northern Virginia, Arizona, Arkansas, Kansas), Insight, Mediacom, Midcontinent, Nittany Media, RCN, Service Electric, Time Warner Cable, Western Broadband, Windstream and WOW, as well as Rogers Cable, Shaw Cable and Shaw Direct in Canada.

The Big Ten Network is a 20-year joint venture between subsidiaries of the Big Ten Conference and Fox Cable Networks.

IN RECENT YEARS, THE BIG TEN HAS REACHED A SERIES OF MILESTONE MEDIA AGREEMENTS TO PROVIDE THE CONFERENCE WITH ITS GREATEST TELEVISION EXPOSURE EVER, INCLUDING EXTENSIONS WITH CBS (FOR BASKETBALL) AND ABC/ESPN (FOR FOOTBALL, BASKETBALL AND VOLLEYBALL) AND THE CREATION OF THE BIG TEN NETWORK, A NATIONAL NETWORK DEVOTED TO BIG TEN ATHLETIC AND ACADEMIC PROGRAMS. THE CONFERENCE'S NEW MEDIA AGREEMENTS RESULTED IN THE BROADCAST OF MORE THAN 600 EVENTS NATIONALLY AND REGIONALLY BEGINNING WITH THE 2007-08 ACADEMIC YEAR, COMPARED TO 300 EVENTS IN THE FINAL YEAR OF THE PREVIOUS AGREEMENTS.

WE ARE ALL-AMERICA PLAYERS

25 IN THE LAST 18 YEARS

AT LEAST ONE PENN STATE PLAYER HAS EARNED ALL-AMERICA HONORS IN 40 OF JOE PATERNO'S 45 SEASONS.

95 FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICANS

Guard Stefen Wisniewski became Penn State's latest first-team All-American in 2010.

PENN STATE'S LIST OF ALL-AMERICANS READS LIKE A WHO'S WHO IN COLLEGE AND PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL. CONSIDER FOR A MOMENT 95 FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICA SELECTIONS. THIS DOES NOT INCLUDE THE HUNDREDS OF SECOND-TEAM, THIRD-TEAM AND HONORABLE-MENTION ALL-AMERICANS.

DURING JOE PATERNO'S 45 YEARS AS HEAD COACH, PENN STATE HAS HAD 78 SELECTIONS. FOURTEEN PENN STATE PLAYERS HAVE EARNED FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICA HONORS IN CONSECUTIVE YEARS, THE MOST RECENT BEING LINEBACKER DAN CONNOR.

PENN STATE RANKS AMONG THE TOP 15 SCHOOLS IN THE NATION WHICH HAVE PRODUCED THE MOST CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICA FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

THE GRANDDADDY OF THEM ALL
January 2, 2012

The ultimate destination for the champions of the Big Ten and Pac-12 conferences since their alliance began in 1946. Penn State has made three appearances in the Rose Bowl, including taking on USC in the 2009 Rose Bowl.

CAPITAL ONE BOWL
January 2, 2012

Orlando is home to the Capital One Bowl, where the Big Ten's No. 2 selection will play a Southeastern Conference representative on January 2, 2012. Penn State has played in the bowl five times, meeting LSU, Tennessee, Florida and Auburn since the 1993 season. Penn State defeated LSU, 19-17, in the 2010 game.

OUTBACK BOWL
January 2, 2012

Raymond James Stadium is home to the Outback Bowl, which awaits a Big Ten-Southeastern Conference match-up on January 2, 2012. Penn State is 3-1 in four appearances, defeating Tennessee, Auburn and Kentucky and falling to Florida last year in Tampa.

GATOR BOWL
January 2, 2012

The Gator Bowl, played in Jacksonville's Municipal Stadium, will take place on January 2, 2012 and match a Big Ten team against a Southeastern Conference opponent. Penn State has made four Gator Bowl appearances. This is the second year of the bowl's affiliation with the Big Ten.

TICKETCITY BOWL
January 2, 2012

The TicketCity Bowl will be played on January 2, 2012 at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Texas. This will be the second year of the bowl's affiliation with the Big Ten and will pit a conference representative against a Conference USA team.

MEINEKE TEXAS BOWL
December 31, 2011

The Meineke Car Care of Texas Bowl will be played at Houston's Reliant Stadium on December 31, 2011 and will pit a Big Ten team against a Big 12 foe. The inaugural Texas Bowl was played in 2006. This is the second year of the bowl's affiliation with the Big Ten Conference.

INSIGHT BOWL
December 30, 2011

Tempe, Ariz., is the home of the Insight Bowl where a Big Ten team will square off with a Big 12 opponent. Penn State has not made an appearance in the Insight Bowl. This is the sixth year of the bowl's affiliation with the Big Ten.

LITTLE CAESARS PIZZA BOWL

TEAMED UP IN BUSINESS

Franco Harris (34) and Lydell Mitchell (23) were teammates in the Penn State backfield from 1969-71, helping the Nittany Lions to a 29-4 record. The former college and pro grid-iron greats teamed up again 25 years later, with Harris leading a group of investors, including Mitchell, in the purchase (above) of Parks Sausage Co., a once-thriving institution which had fallen into bankruptcy and closed its doors. Harris, a majority owner of Super Bakery, Inc., and his investors agreed to purchase Parks for $1.7 million in cash while assuming nearly $9 million in debt. Several months later more than 100 employees were back at work at the company's Baltimore plant, which is overseen by Mitchell, Parks' President. Parks, a Black Enterprise magazine 100 company, was founded in 1951.

2011 OUTLOOK NOTES

► 125th Season Of Gridiron Glory

Penn State is celebrating its 125th season of varsity football during the 2011 campaign. The Nittany Lions enter the season with an all-time mark of 818-357-42, the nation's sixth-highest win total, since their inaugural season in 1887.

The Nittany Lions are among only eight schools with 800 wins all-time.

► Forty-one Lettermen Return

Penn State returns 41 lettermen from last season — 18 on offense, 22 on defense and one specialist. Three letterwinners from the 2009 season, who were injured and did not play last year, also return — running back Brandon Beachum, wide receiver Curtis Drake and tight end Andrew Szczerba — bringing the total to 44 returnees.

The Nittany Lions have lost the services of 19 lettermen — eight on offense, nine on defense and two specialists. Among the lettermen lost for this season is junior defensive end Pete Massaro, who suffered a season-ending knee injury in spring practice.

► Fifteen Starters Are Back

Penn State returns 15 starters from the 2010 squad, along with 17 players who have made at least one start during their careers. Seven starters are back on offense and seven on defense, along with punter Anthony Fera.

The 17 additional returning players that have made starts have a combined total of 86 starts (47 defense/39 offense) amongst them, led by safety Nick Sukay (19), offensive lineman DeOn'tae Pannell (9) and running back Joe Suhey (9).

► Five All-Big Ten Honorees Return

Among the returnees are five Nittany Lions who earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten recognition in 2010: senior safety Drew Astorino, senior tackle Quinn Boham, senior cornerback D'Anton Lynn, senior wide receiver Derek Moye and senior defensive tackle Devon Still.

► Fifty-eight Victories Since 2005

Penn State has a 58-19 record since the start of the 2005 season, with its 75.3 winning percentage tied for No. 12 in the nation with Oregon. The Nittany Lions have won 60 of their last 79 games overall, dating to the final two contests of the 2004 season.

► Second In Big Ten Wins Since 1993

Penn State will be playing its 19th season as a member of the Big Ten Conference this fall. Since 1993, the Nittany Lions are second in the Big Ten in overall victories with a 154-68 record. Penn State is 90-54 in conference contests, trailing only Ohio State and Michigan.

► Seven Bowl Teams On Slate

The Nittany Lions will face seven teams that played in bowl games last year, including four at home. Among the teams coming to Beaver Stadium this fall are 2010 bowl teams: Alabama (Capital One), Iowa (Insight), Illinois (Texas) and Nebraska (Holiday). Penn State also will face three bowl teams on the road in Northwestern (Ticket City), Ohio State (Sugar) and Wisconsin (Rose).

► Big Ten Welcomes Nebraska

Penn State's 19th season of Big Ten Conference competition will bring significant changes. Nebraska officially joined the Big Ten on July 1, 2011 and begins football play this fall, with the 12 institutions split into the Leaders and Legends divisions.

The Nittany Lions are in the Leaders Division with Illinois, Indiana, Ohio State, Purdue and Wisconsin and will play their division foes every season, as well as protected crossover opponent Nebraska. Penn State will play two other teams from the Legends Division each season on a rotating basis, with Iowa and Northwestern set for the 2011 and '12 seasons. Michigan, Michigan State and Minnesota are the other Legends Division members.

Penn State leads the Nebraska series, 7-6, and the squads will be meeting for the first time since 2003. The Huskers last visited Beaver Stadium in 2002.

► Alabama Returns To Happy Valley

Penn State and Alabama renewed their rivalry last year in Tuscaloosa and the Crimson Tide will visit Beaver Stadium on Sept. 10 for the first time since they claimed a 17-16 win in 1989.

Alabama leads the series, 9-5, with the teams playing every season from 1981-90 after meeting in a pair of Sugar Bowls during the second half of the 1970s. The Nittany Lions and Crimson Tide are among only eight teams with at least 800 all-time victories.

► Homecoming Game

Purdue will provide the opposition for Penn State's 92nd Homecoming game on Oct. 15. The Nittany Lions have an impressive 65-21-5 record in front of the alumni audience, with a 39-6 Homecoming record under Joe Paterno.

► Big Ten No-Plays

Penn State will not meet Legends Division members Michigan, Michigan State and Minnesota during the 2011 and 2012 regular-seasons. Two teams from the Legends Division will rotate onto the Nittany Lions' schedule every two years. Penn State will play Nebraska every season as the Nittany Lions' protected crossover game.

► One Of Nation's Toughest Venues

Penn State has won 38 of its last 44 home games, dating to a Senior Day win over Michigan State in 2004. The Nittany Lions were 7-0 in Beaver Stadium in 2005 and 2008 and 6-1 in 2006 and '07.

Penn State owns a superlative 247-61 (80.2) all-time record in the nation's second-largest facility, which opened in 1960 and had a capacity of 107,282 during the 2010 season.

► Big Ten Championship Game Dec. 3

The winners of the Leaders and Legends divisions will play in the inaugural Big Ten Championship game in primetime on Saturday, Dec. 3, at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis. Fox Sports is the official television partner of the 2011-16 Big Ten Championship games. Kickoff time is TBA for the primetime contest.

Lucas Oil Stadium will be the site for the 2011-15 Big Ten Championship games.

The winner of the Big Ten Championship game will play in either the Rose Bowl game or Bowl Championship Series National Championship game.

► Stagg-Paterno Championship Trophy

In December 2010, the Big Ten Conference announced the winning team in the Big Ten Football Championship game will receive the Stagg-Paterno Championship Trophy. The trophy pays homage to Joe Paterno and Amos Alonzo Stagg, who won 199 games at the University of Chicago when the Maroons were Big Ten members.

Paterno ranks fifth among Big Ten coaches all-time with 154 wins since the Nittany Lions began conference play in 1993. Stagg's win total is the second-highest total in Big Ten history.

► Penn State, Pitt To Renew Rivalry

Long-time rivals Penn State and Pitt will meet September 10, 2016 in Pittsburgh and September 16, 2017 in Beaver Stadium.

The Nittany Lions have played Pitt more than any other opponent — 96 times — with Penn State owning a 50-42-4 series advantage. The teams first met in 1893 and played every season from 1900-31 and 1935-92, often in a compelling final game of the regular-season.

The teams did not meet from 1993-96, when Penn State began play in the Big Ten Conference, and then played a four-game series from 1997-2000, with the Lions winning the first three games. The Panthers won the last meeting, 12-0, in Three Rivers Stadium.

► Virginia, Syracuse, Rutgers Added

Penn State played Notre Dame in 2006 and '07 and renewed its rivalry with Syracuse in 2008 and '09. The Nittany Lions and Orange will open the 2013 season at the New Meadowlands Stadium. Following the current series with Alabama, the Nittany Lions will play Virginia in 2012 and '13, Rutgers in 2014 and '15 and Pitt in 2016 and '17.

► Nation's No. 2 Bowl Winning Mark

The Nittany Lions are 27-14-2 overall in bowl games, with their 65.1 winning percentage second in the nation among schools that have at least 20 bowl appearances. Penn State trails only Southern California, which has a 32-16 (66.7) post-season mark.

Penn State ranks No. 3 in the nation with its 27 bowl wins and No. 8 with 43 appearances.

► Big Ten Bowl Wins Leader

Penn State leads all Big Ten institutions in bowl victories (27), appearances (43) and winning percentage (65.1). The Nittany Lions are 10-4 in post-season contests since starting Big Ten competition in 1993, winning four of their last six bowl games, including three New Year's Day games — FedEx Orange, Outback and Capital One.

► Among Best In New Year's Bowls

Over the past six years, the Nittany Lions have won two Big Ten Championships, won four bowl games and played in five New Year's Day or Bowl Championship Series (BCS) games, the nation's third-highest total.

Joe Paterno has led Penn State to 25 New Year's Day or BCS contests, compiling a 17-8 record.

► Sixty-Two Seasons In Happy Valley

Joe Paterno is in his 62nd season as a member of the Penn State coaching staff. He came to Penn State with new head coach Rip Engle before graduating from Brown University in 1950. After 16 seasons as an assistant coach under Engle, Paterno was named the Nittany Lions' 14th head football coach on February 19, 1966. The Hall of Fame mentor is entering his 46th season as head coach.

► Victories Leader

Joe Paterno is the all-time wins leader among major college coaches, owning a career record of 401-135-3 (74.7) through 45 seasons. He is seven wins away from tying Grambling's Eddie Robinson

(408) for second place in career wins among coaches from all NCAA divisions.

Amos Alonzo Stagg's 578 games top all major college coaches. He is followed by Paterno (539), Bobby Bowden (522), Pop Warner (481) and Paul "Bear" Bryant (425).

Paterno's 45 years as head coach are the most at one institution all-time among major college coaches.

► No. 3 Winning Percentage

In addition to his record victories total, Joe Paterno ranks second in winning percentage (74.7) among active Football Bowl Subdivision (Division I-A) coaches with 10 or more years as an FBS head coach. Oklahoma's Bob Stoops leads with an 80.6 winning percentage (129-31), followed by TCU's Gary Patterson (77.8, 98-28), Paterno, Georgia's Mark Richt (73.8, 96-34) and South Carolina's Steve Spurrier (71.6, 186-73-2).

► Five Big Ten New Year's Bowl Games

The Big Ten's post-season lineup for the 2010-13 seasons includes six bowl games to be featured annually on or around New Year's Eve and New Year's Day, including five contests on Jan. 1.

With New Year's Day falling on Sunday in 2012, five Big Ten bowls will be played on Monday, January 2, 2012.

In 2009, the conference announced four-year bowl extensions with the Capital One (vs. SEC), Outback (SEC) and Insight (Big 12) and new four-year bowl agreements with the Gator, Texas and TicketCity bowls. The Big Ten is in the midst of an eight-year extension with the Rose Bowl through the 2013 season. This Big Ten bowl lineup will run concurrently with the latest Bowl Championship Series contract.

The Big Ten 2010-13 bowl lineup begins in late December with the Meineke Car Care Bowl of Texas in Houston against a Big 12 opponent, followed by six contests played on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day. The Insight Bowl will be played in late December, followed by five more bowl games over a roughly nine-hour period on Jan. 1 or 2, including the TicketCity Bowl (Big 12/Conference USA), Capital One Bowl, Outback Bowl, Gator Bowl (SEC) and the Rose Bowl.

PENN STATE SPORTS NETWORK

Over 60 radio stations across Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and Ohio will carry Penn State football to fans throughout the Northeast this season.

Steve Jones and Jack Ham will team up for their 12th season as the play-by-play voice and color analyst, respectively, on the Penn State Sports Network.

The football broadcasts begin 90 minutes before kickoff with the one-hour "Penn State Tailgate Show — Presented by UnitedHealthcare" with hosts Roger Corey, Jones and Ham. "The Penn State Kickoff Show — Presented by Chesapeake Energy," a 20-minute conversation with Penn State coaches and players follows, before Jones and Ham bring listeners the starting lineups, health reports and late-breaking news in the final minutes leading up to kickoff.

The broadcasts conclude with the "Postgame Show — Presented by the Pennsylvania Propane Gas Association" featuring locker room interviews, game statistics, stars and plays of the game, as well as scores from around the nation.

"The Penn State Football Show — Presented by Safeco Insurance," a weekly call-in radio show hosted by

Jones and broadcast statewide, airs Thursday nights during the football season. Members of the Penn State coaching staff and players take calls from listeners from 6:05 p.m. to 7 p.m.

"Inside Penn State Athletics," a three-minute daily update show presented by Jones airs Monday through Friday on most Network affiliates; check local station for times.

All Penn State Sports Network broadcasts also can be heard via the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics website: www.GoPSUsports.com.

The Penn State Sports Network is syndicated by Penn State Sports Properties, a property of Learfield Sports, one of the country's largest syndicators of college sports.

PENNSTATE
FOOTBALL STORY

Penn State football highlights and features are televised across the Commonwealth and in numerous markets nationwide on the Emmy-winning "Penn State Football Story."

The highly-acclaimed show provides a fast-paced, intimate look at Nittany Lion football. The 30-minute program, hosted by Guy Junker, one of Pittsburgh's top sportscasters, captures the closeness between players, coaches and staff that is vital in Penn State maintaining its position as one of the nation's premier football programs.

"The Penn State Football Story" received its first Mid-Atlantic Regional Emmy Award as "Outstanding Sports Series" in 1997 and repeated the honor in 1998, 1999, 2001 and 2008. The show is produced by Mind Over Media in Pittsburgh.

The Big Ten Network launched August 30, 2007, and became the first new network in cable or satellite television history to reach 30 million homes in its first 30 days. In 2011-12, more than 400 live Big Ten sporting events will be carried by BTN in high definition. The network has national agreements with DirecTV, DISH Network, Verizon Fios and AT&T U-Verse, and nearly 300 other cable operators, including Comcast, RCN, Service Electric, Windstream, Insight Communications, Time-Warner, Charter, Mediacom, Cablevision and Atlantic Broadband. The network is available in approximately 80 million homes.

REPLAY & BOWLS

NCAA INSTANT REPLAY

> The Objective

The NCAA has established the following list of plays that are reviewable by the collegiate instant replay system.

> The Standard

There must be indisputable video evidence for an officiating call to be changed by a Technical Advisor working from the press box. The replay system will not guarantee that all officiating mistakes are corrected.

> The Source

All reviewable video will come direct from the television network broadcasting the game and no other source. The review process will be limited to what is shown on television.

> Reviewable

The following plays are subject to review under instant replay.

- 1. Plays governed by a Sideline, Goal Line, or an End Line:
 - a. Scoring plays, including a runner in possession breaking the plane of the goal line.
 - b. Pass ruled complete, incomplete or intercepted at a sideline, goal line or end line.
 - c. A runner or pass receiver ruled in or out of bounds.
 - d. Recovery of a loose ball in or out of bounds in the field or end zone.
- 2. Passing Plays:
 - a. Pass ruled complete, incomplete or intercepted anywhere in the field or end zone.
 - b. Forward pass touched by an ineligible receiver.
 - c. Forward pass touched by a defensive player.
 - d. Fumble ruled on the part of a potential passer. (Note: If the ruling is forward pass and the pass is incomplete, the play is not reviewable).
 - e. Forward pass/handling ruled when a runner is beyond the line of scrimmage.
 - f. Forward pass/handling ruled after a change of possession.
 - g. Pass ruled forward or backward when thrown from behind the line of scrimmage. (Exception: If pass is ruled forward and is incomplete, the play is not reviewable).
- 3. Other Detectable Infractions:
 - a. Runner ruled to have fumbled. (If runner is ruled down, the play is not reviewable).
 - b. Runner's forward progress with respect to a first down.
 - c. Touching of any type of kick by any player.
 - d. Number of players participating by either team during a live ball.
 - e. Scrimmage kicker beyond the line of scrimmage when the ball is kicked.
 - f. Clock adjustment when a ruling on the field is reversed.
 - g. Fumble recovery on fourth down or a PAT and before change of possession.

> Not Reviewable

EXAMPLES:

1. Holding
2. Off-sides
3. Pass interference
4. Personal fouls (late hits)
5. Illegal blocks
6. Illegal formations
7. Face mask
8. Taunting/excessive celebration
9. False starts
10. Roughing passer/kicker
11. Fighting participants

> Instant Replay Q&A

Q. How does the coaches' challenge system work?

A. Head coaches may utilize a timeout to request a review of a play no more than once per game. A coach initiates the challenge by taking a timeout before the ball is in play and informing the official that the ruling on the previous play is being challenged. If the ruling is overturned, the timeout will be returned to the team. If the ruling is not overturned, the team will lose the timeout. A team must have a timeout in order to challenge a play and a coach can only challenge one play per game. Head coaches may not challenge a ruling in which the game was stopped by the Technical Advisor and a decision already has been made on that specific ruling. If a head coach requests a timeout to challenge a ruling and the play is not reviewable, the team loses the timeout. The Technical Advisor will continue to examine all reviewable plays.

Q. Is the NCAA instant replay model the same as the NFL?

A. In the collegiate model, reviews are conducted by a Technical Advisor in the press box and may occur at any point of the game. In the NFL, the replay booth may only stop a game in the final two minutes of a half. Also in the NFL, head coaches are allowed to challenge two plays per game. The NCAA model allows head coaches to challenge one ruling per game by using a timeout.

Q. Which games have instant replay?

A. The NCAA does not require the use of the system. For non-conference games, the home team makes the decision to utilize instant replay — the visiting team does not have the option of declining.

73 MARK ARCIDIACONO

6-4 > 284 > Jr./So. Eligible
Guard > Holland, Pa.

Marc Arcidiacono has made good strides during his initial two years as a Nittany Lion. He has good skills and physical attributes and finished spring practice No. 2 on the depth chart at left guard to returning starter Johnnie Troutman. With the graduation of two offensive line starters, Arcidiacono should have an opportunity to challenge for a spot in the guard rotation this season. A cousin, Nicole Arcidiacono, played on the Penn State women's basketball team from 2007-10. He is one of 30 Nittany Lions returning from the spring who are from Eastern or Central Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Arcidiacono continued his progression, but did not see any game action.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

Arcidiacono was a standout lineman for Coach Gil Brooks at St. Joseph's Prep. The first-team Class AAAA all-state selection earned All-Southeastern Pennsylvania, all-city and All-Catholic League honors. A team captain, he also played in the Big 33 Classic.

> Personal

Full name is Mark Arcidiacono Jr. He is the son of Mark and Mary Arcidiacono. He is the oldest of eight children, with five brothers and two sisters. His father played football at Temple and an uncle, Joe Arcidiacono, was captain of the Villanova gridiron squad. A cousin, Nicole Arcidiacono, was a guard on the Penn State women's basketball team from 2007-10. He is interested in a career in business. Born July 15, 1990 in Philadelphia, Pa.

28 DREW ASTORINO

5-10 > 202 > Sr./Sr. Eligible
Safety > Edinboro, Pa.

Much responsibility has been placed upon on the shoulders of safety Drew Astorino the past two seasons and he has responded with leadership and productivity for the secondary, the defense and special teams. A starter in 24 games the past two years, primarily at strong safety, he has asserted himself as the quarterback of the secondary, a unit that could have four senior starters this fall. The instinctive and intelligent athlete again logged considerable playing time on defense and special teams in 2010 and earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten recognition for the second consecutive year. Astorino played an instrumental role in Penn State ranking second in the Big Ten and No. 16 in the nation in pass defense. He was fourth on the team with 70 tackles, grabbed one interception and was tied for the team lead with five pass breakups. Astorino is one of the squad's surest tacklers and ball-handlers and is a probable All-Big Ten candidate. With a nose for the football, he has a knack for being in position to make a play on any given down or specialty play. The aggressive, determined and quick safety is a hard worker who again will be counted on for substantial contributions and leadership, a role he is familiar with from throughout his athletic career. The 2006 Pennsylvania Class AAA Player-of-the-Year, he led General McLane HS to the PIAA Class AAA football and basketball state titles in 2006-07. General McLane became just the second school to win both state crowns in the same academic year. He scored the game-winning fourth-quarter touchdown in the 28-23 win over Pottsville in the 2006 PIAA title game. On the hardwood, he hit the game-winning shot with :02 left to play, giving his school a 57-55 win over Greencastle Antrim in the 2007 Class AAA state championship game in the Bryce Jordan Center. Astorino was on schedule to earn his degree in August. He is one of 17 returning Nittany Lions from Western Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Astorino started 12 games, was fourth on the team with 70 tackles and grabbed one interception. He was tied for the team lead with five pass breakups and earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors. Astorino played an instrumental role in Penn State ranking second in the Big Ten and No. 16 in the nation in pass defense. He made three tackles against Youngstown State and five stops at No. 1 Alabama. Astorino recorded six tackles in the win over Temple, helping hold the Owls scoreless over the final three quarters and to 71 yards in the second half. He made eight stops at Iowa, with a pass breakup, and recorded a season-high nine tackles against Illinois. Astorino had five solo tackles, with a pass breakup, in the win at Minnesota. He recorded eight stops (six solo) and a career-high three pass breakups in the primetime win over Michigan. He made four stops in the historic 35-21 comeback win over Northwestern and had four hits at Ohio State. He recorded five tackles (four solo) and a diving interception in Indiana territory to set up a field goal in the win over the Hoosiers at FedEx Field. Astorino tied his season-high with nine stops against Michigan State. He was on the field for 820 snaps, topped by 94 and 80 in the wins over Minnesota and Michigan, respectively.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Astorino earned the starting assignment at free safety and proved to be a productive and durable player. Playing in every game, with 12 starts, he led the team with nearly 950 plays. Astorino earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten recognition, playing an instrumental role on Penn State's Top 10 defense. He ranked fourth on the team with 62 tackles (37 solo), the highest total among defensive backs and linemen. Astorino also had one interception, one sack, four pass breakups and tied for the team lead with two fumble recoveries. He also saw duty on punt returns, with seven returns for a team-best 7.9-yard average. Astorino was intent on helping make sure cornerbacks A.J. Wallace and Knowledge Timmons were victorious on Senior Day, as he recorded a career-high 10 tackles in the 31-20 victory over Indiana. In the 35-10 triumph at Michigan, Astorino made four tackles (three solo) and grabbed his third career interception, picking off Tate Forcier near the Penn State goal line and returning it 30 yards. The following week, he made five solo tackles (six total) in the 34-13 win at Northwestern, helping hold the Wildcats to less than half their season scoring average. Astorino's hustle and assertiveness helped him secure his second fumble recovery of the year, falling on a loose ball caused by a Kevion Latham sack. The hard-hitting Astorino also made six tackles each against Syracuse, Illinois, Eastern Illinois and Ohio State, with a tackle for minus-three yards in the win over the Orange. He made five stops and recovered a fumble against Temple that led to a field goal and made five tackles (four solo) in the regular-season finale, a 42-14 victory at Michigan State. He had a pass breakup in helping the Lions beat LSU, 19-17, in the 2010 Capital One Bowl. He led the team with 943 plays, topped by 97 at Northwestern and 92 against Indiana.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

Astorino logged considerable playing time in a senior-laden secondary. He saw action in every game, making three starts, as the top reserve to All-Big Ten free safety Anthony Scirrotto. He recorded 39 tackles (29 solo), with one tackle for loss and four pass breakups. Astorino also tied for second on the squad with two interceptions. He tallied five tackles (four solo) and one pass breakup in the 45-14 win over Oregon State. He grabbed his first career interception and had three tackles in the victory at Syracuse. He made his first collegiate start against Temple, recording a season-high seven tackles (five solo) and one pass breakup. Against Illinois, Astorino had two tackles, including one for a loss, and a pass breakup. Earning a start at Purdue, Astorino tallied three solo tackles and returned an interception 29 yards into Purdue territory. He recorded three solo tackles and a pass breakup against Michigan and made two tackles in a start in the big win at Ohio State. Astorino finished the regular-season with a season-high-tying seven solo tackles in the 49-18 win over Michigan State to clinch the Big Ten title. He was on the field for 483 snaps, led by 56 each in the victories over Michigan and Purdue. Astorino was selected to the Academic All-Big Ten team.

> 2007 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Astorino made a game-high-tying six tackles and grabbed an interception in the 2008 Blue-White game.

PLAYER BIOS

► High School

An outstanding athlete at General McLane HS, Astorino was named the 2006 Pennsylvania Class AAA Player-of-the-Year after he led both the football and basketball teams to state titles. General McLane became only the second school in PIAA history to win both the football and basketball crowns in the same academic year. Playing for Coach Jim Wells, Astorino recorded 68 tackles, seven interceptions and two fumble recoveries during his senior year and rushed for 1,200 yards and 24 touchdowns. Astorino also was a two-time first-team all-state selection and a Big 33 pick. He scored the game-winning touchdown on a 20-yard run with 4:55 to play to lead General McLane to a 28-23 win over Pottsville in the 2006 Class AAA state title game. On the hardwood, Astorino hit the game-winning shot with :02 left to play, giving his school a 57-55 win over Greencastle Antrim in the 2007 Class AAA state championship game in the Bryce Jordan Center.

BARHAM

6-3 > 302 > Gr./Sr. Eligible
Tackle > Durham, N.C.

Quinn Barham found a home at left tackle in 2010. The coaching staff moved the North Carolina product from guard to tackle prior to spring drills to find the best offensive line combination. Barham grabbed ahold of the opportunity and never looked back. He exited preseason camp as the top left tackle and became a fixture in the starting lineup for the Nittany Lions. He started all 13 games last year, joining 2010 seniors Doug Klopacz and Stefan Wisniewski as O-Line starters in every contest. Barham was on the field for 917 plays, the third-highest total last season and second-highest among 2011 returnees. A May 2011 graduate, Barham will be one of three returning seniors on the O-Line. He has made significant strides on the practice field and in the weight room to emerge as a consistent contributor for an offense that only allowed 12 sacks all season. Penn State tied for No. 2 in the Big Ten and No. 13 in the nation for fewest sacks in 2010. Blessed with a very good blend of size, strength, tenacity and mobility, Barham ended spring drills solidly atop the depth chart. One of the squad's most engaging personalities, Barham is a potential All-Big Ten candidate, who is poised to take further steps forward in his second full season in the starting lineup. The former Hillside HS standout earned a 3.31 grade-point average last spring and Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2009. Barham and center Ty Howle are the returning Nittany Lions from North Carolina.

► 2010 > Senior Season

Barham started every game at left tackle, joining 2010 seniors Doug Klopacz and Stefan Wisniewski as offensive line starters in all 13 contests. Barham was on the field for 917 plays, the third-highest on the team. He was instrumental in Penn State allowing only 12 sacks all season, tied for No. 2 in the Big Ten and No. 13 in the nation for fewest sacks allowed. Barham played a critical role in helping the Nittany Lions gain 350 or more yards nine times, topped by 528 yards in the historic 35-21 comeback win over Northwestern. The Lions ran for a season-high 260 yards against the Wildcats, with two 100-yard rushers, and threw for 268 yards. Barham helped Penn State gain 496 yards against Indiana and 435 yards against Michigan, scoring 41 points in both victories. He was on the field for a season-high 90 snaps in the win over Northwestern, as Joe Paterno posted his 400th career victory.

► 2009 > Junior Season

Barham played in six games, gaining experience and providing depth for an offensive line that had three new starters at the beginning of the campaign. He served as the top reserve to Lou Eliades at right guard, taking snaps in the wins over Akron, Syracuse, Temple, Illinois, Eastern Illinois and Michigan State. Barham saw action on 123 snaps, led by 36 in the victory over Syracuse.

► 2008 > Sophomore Season

Barham shifted from guard to center following the season-ending injury to Doug Klopacz in mid-September. He saw action in six games as the top reserve to Rimington Trophy winner A.Q. Shipley, including Big Ten wins over Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan State. He was on the field for double-figure plays against Syracuse, Temple and Wisconsin.

► 2007 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Barham suffered a season-ending broken left ankle in an early November practice.

► High School

Barham was a three-year standout at Hillside HS under Coach Ray Harrison. During his senior season, he was named to the North Carolina all-state team for his excellence at offensive tackle. Barham also was named all-conference and first-team all-area during his senior season. He helped lead Hillside to the Pac 6 co-championship in his senior season. He also was selected Offensive Lineman-of-the-Year and second-team all-area as a junior. His excellence on the field and in the classroom also garnered a Wendy's High School Heisman nomination. After his senior season, Barham participated in the 2006 Shrine Bowl of the Carolinas featuring the top players from North Carolina and South Carolina.

Linebacker > Nashville, Tenn.

Brad Bars gained experience playing defensive end and outside linebacker during his redshirt freshman season and is looking forward to an opportunity to make an impact this season. Bars was shifted to linebacker during spring drills and could battle Glenn Carson as the top reserve to likely starter Michael Mauti in the middle. An all-state selection in the Volunteer State, Bars has good skills and size and made very good progress during his redshirt season. Bars compiled a perfect 4.00 grade-point average during the 2010 fall semester and had a 3.94 cumulative GPA after the 2011 spring semester. He is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate.

Defensive End > York, Pa.

With injuries forcing three defensive ends to the sideline during spring practice, Kyle Baublitz punctuated his improvement and desire to play this fall during the 2011 Blue-White game. He made a strong impression, recording two sacks for minus-17 yards to help the Blue squad win. A physical player, Baublitz brings very good size, skills and work-ethic to the defensive line. He was among seven members of the 2010 recruiting class who enrolled in the University in January 2010. The former Central York HS standout made strong strides during his redshirt year and is anxious for practice to resume to try and enhance his playing opportunities this fall.

BRANDON

6-0 > 230 > Sr./Jr. Eligible
Tailback > Struthers, Ohio

It would be difficult to find a player more eager to get on the field for the 2011 season than junior running back Brandon Beachum. It has been a long road back to the field for the Youngstown area product after he suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee against Indiana in mid-November of the 2009 season. After countless hours of rehabilitation, Beachum is coming off a great spring practice season. With good size and strength to complement his downhill running style, Beachum has all the tools to play a significant role in the running game this fall. The multi-talented back is a physical and evasive runner with good hands and a threat catching the ball out of the backfield. He is primed to be a big contributor for the Penn State offense the next two seasons. Possessing great work-ethic, Beachum will be vying for time in a deep pool of talented running backs. He and running back Michael Zordich were prep teammates at Cardinal Mooney HS, helping their team to the 2006 Ohio Division IV state championship and the 2007 state title game. Beachum is one of three returning Nittany Lions from Northeast Ohio. He brought a cumulative grade-point average above 3.00 into the summer and is a probable Academic All-Big Ten candidate. Beachum spent part of his summer studying abroad in Spain during the first summer academic session and is on schedule to graduate in December.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Beachum suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament against Indiana in November 2009. He spent the 2010 season rehabilitating the serious knee injury and was able to practice towards the end of the season. He was able to take a medical redshirt season, having played as a true freshman in 2008.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Beachum appeared in the first 11 games and was seeing more playing time as the season progressed, but suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee as a member of the kickoff return unit against Indiana. Beachum had surgery soon after the injury. In the early portion of the season, Beachum was the No. 2 fullback and also played on special teams, where he made nine tackles, most among all offensive players. But, when Stephon Green suffered a sprained ankle against Minnesota, Beachum was shifted to tailback and continued his progression. He finished fourth on the team in rushing with 113 yards on 24 carries (4.7) with one touchdown. He scored on a two-yard run in the Nittany Lions' 34-13 win at Northwestern, gaining 25 yards on just four carries. Beachum gained a season-high 28 yards on four carries against Eastern Illinois, also recording two special teams tackles. He also rushed for 20 yards on four attempts in the 20-0 win over the Golden Gophers and had 23 yards on seven carries in the 35-10 win at Michigan. He also had three receptions for 29 yards, including a 14-yard catch against Akron. He was on the field for 234 snaps, topped by 38 in the 35-10 win at Michigan.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Beachum was one of three true freshmen to play in every game. Playing on the offense and special teams, he had the opportunity to carry the ball in seven games, gaining 114 yards on 28 carries (4.1) and scoring one touchdown. He gained a season-high 43 yards on just eight carries in the opener with Coastal Carolina, scoring on a one-yard run. He gained 39 yards on nine attempts in the win over Temple. Beachum threw a crucial downfield block to clear the path for Derrick Williams' 94-yard kickoff return for a touchdown to lift the Nittany Lions to their eventual 14-point win over Illinois. Beachum gained eight yards on his only carry against Southern California in the 2009 Rose Bowl. He also recorded eight tackles and was on the field for 269 snaps, led by 34 plays against Coastal Carolina and 28 in the Rose Bowl. Beachum joined linebacker Michael Mauti as early enrollees, starting their Penn State careers in January 2008. Beachum looked like a veteran in the 2008 Blue-White game, as he led the victorious Blue squad with 55 rushing yards on just seven carries for a superb 7.9 average.

> High School

Beachum was a standout at Cardinal Mooney HS as a junior and senior for Coach P.J. Fecko. He was selected an All-American by Rivals.com, first-team All-Ohio, All-Northeast Ohio and all-conference. Beachum was instrumental in Cardinal Mooney advancing to the state championship game twice. The team lost to Coldwater, 28-27, in the 2007 OHSAA Division IV state championship game. Beachum ran for 191 yards on 34 carries (5.6 avg.) and assisted on four tackles. Cardinal Mooney won the 2006 OHSAA Division IV state championship, finishing 14-0. Beachum ran for 61 yards and scored a touchdown. On defense, he made seven tackles, recovered a fumble and returned an interception 34 yards. During his senior season, he ran for 1,525 yards, for an average of 117.3 per game. He averaged 6.3 yards per carry and scored 14 touchdowns, despite missing two games with an injury. He also recorded 22 solo tackles and assisted on 30 others, recording 2.5 sacks. Beachum attended Poland Seminary HS as a freshman and sophomore, where he played football and ran track. He also played basketball at Cardinal Mooney. Beachum graduated from high school in 3½ years.

Rob Bolden quickly showed Nittany Nation last year he has all the tools to be a difference-maker at the quarterback position and is excited for preseason camp and the opportunity to resume his progress. The Beaver Stadium faithful got a glimpse of his potential greatness in Bolden’s rookie campaign when he became the first Penn State true freshman to start at quarterback in 100 years. In directing the season-opening win over Youngstown State, Bolden was 20-of-29 for 239 yards, with two touchdowns and an interception in a 44-14 victory, delivering the best performance by a true freshman quarterback in school history. He tossed 22- and 20-yard touchdown strikes to Brett Brackett and shared the inaugural Big Ten Freshman-of-the-Week honors for his performance. The starting signal-caller in eight games last year, he demonstrated his exceptional athleticism, strong arm and superb instincts, throwing for 1,360 yards and seven touchdowns. Poised in the huddle and in the pocket, Bolden is very strong fundamentally and mechanically at an early stage in his career. He can make all the throws with pinpoint accuracy and his vision, awareness and anticipation allows him to evade the rush and sprint for yardage on the ground when needed. Bolden and Matt McGloin finished spring drills as the top candidates to grab ahold of the quarterback assignment and they will resume their competition in August. Bolden’s great uncle is former Alabama All-America cornerback Don McNeal.

► 2010 > Freshman Season

Bolden arrived on campus in May 2010 and won the quarterback job in preseason camp. He became the first Penn State true freshman to start at quarterback in 100 years, with Shorty Miller in 1910 the last to do so. In directing the season-opening win over Youngstown State, Bolden was 20-of-29 for 239 yards, with two touchdowns and an interception in a 44-14 victory, the best performance by a true freshman quarterback in school history. He tossed 22- and 20-yard touchdown strikes to Brett Brackett and shared the inaugural Big Ten Freshman-of-the-Week honors for his performance. He also became Penn State’s first true freshman starting quarterback overall since Wally Richardson got the nod against Temple in 1992. For the season, Bolden was 112-of-193 (58.0) for 1,360 yards, with five touchdowns and seven interceptions. He delivered four 200-yard passing efforts in the initial five games. In his first career road game, he threw for 144 yards in a 24-3 loss to No. 1 Alabama. He completed a 31-yard pass to Derek Moyer in the first quarter against the Crimson Tide. Bolden became the first Penn State true freshman quarterback to have multiple 200-yard passing games in the 24-0 win over Kent State. He was 17-of-27 for 217 yards, with one touchdown and two interceptions, including a 55-yard strike to Moyer. Bolden also gained 33 yards on just four carries, including a one-yard touchdown run and a 17-yard rush, against the Golden Flashes. He also threw a 48-yard scoring strike to Devon Smith. Bolden delivered his third 200-yard passing effort in the 22-13 win over Temple. He was 18-of-28 for 223 yards, with no touchdowns or interceptions and directed the Nittany Lions to 439 yards. He led the team on a 96-yard drive in the fourth quarter, culminated by a Michael Zordich touchdown with 3:25 to play for the final margin. The scoring drive was Penn State’s longest for yards since a 96-yard drive against Indiana in 2003. Bolden recorded his fourth 200-yard passing game in the first five contests, going 20-of-37 for 212 yards, with no touchdowns and one interception in the Big Ten-opener at Iowa. He completed a 49-yard pass to Brackett to set up a field goal just before halftime. Against Illinois, Bolden threw an 80-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter to Moyer, Penn State’s longest play from scrimmage since the 2008 Michigan game. Bolden was sizzling to start the contest at Minnesota, completing his first nine passes for 115 yards, including a 21-yard scoring strike to Brackett just 4:41 into the game. But, in the second quarter, after directing Penn State to a 14-7 lead, Bolden was injured and did not return, going 11-of-13 for 130 yards, with one touchdown and no interceptions. He did not see any action against Michigan, one week after being injured at Minnesota. Bolden started the Northwestern game and was 3-of-4 for 43 yards, including a 20-yard completion to Stephon Green and a 19-yard completion to Evan Royster. He played in the first two series against the Wildcats. Bolden entered the Ohio State game in the fourth quarter and was 0-of-3 passing. He entered the Indiana game in the fourth quarter and went 2-of-2 for 10 yards. Bolden was on the field for 407 plays, topped by 74 in the win over Temple.

► High School

Bolden was a four-star recruit for Coach George Porritt at Orchard Lake St. Mary’s Prep. He was ranked as the nation’s fourth-best quarterback by ESPN.com and the second-best dual-threat signal-caller by Rivals.com. Bolden completed 72-of-152 passes for 1,013 yards and seven touchdowns, while running for 535 yards and nine scores in his senior campaign, in which he led St. Mary’s to the state finals. A team captain, he earned all-district and all-city accolades. He totaled more than 2,000 yards passing and 14 touchdowns, while rushing for over 1,000 yards and 16 scores in his final two high school seasons. Bolden was a three-year member of the basketball team and a four-year member of the track team.

JUSTIN BROWN

6-3 > 214 > Jr./Jr. Eligible
Wide Receiver > Wilmington, Del.

The benefits of participating in a bowl game go far beyond the opportunity to play one more game at the end of a season. Earning the opportunity to play in a bowl game means an additional 15 practices for a team leading up to the post-season contest. Following a breakout season in 2010, junior wideout Justin Brown took full advantage of the extra practice to springboard into 2011. The highly-skilled Brown took additional steps forward during the preparation time for the Outback Bowl against Florida and is poised to become a larger contributor in the passing game. A potential All-Big Ten candidate, Brown brings excellent size, speed and athleticism to the receiving corps. The former Concord HS all-state selection tied for third on the team with 33 receptions for 452 yards (13.7) and one touchdown in 2010. Brown played in all 13 games last season, including eight starts, and has demonstrated the ability to provide big plays in the passing game. The hard worker with good hands also is a significant contributor on special teams and could return punts for the third-straight season. Brown is one of five returning Nittany Lions from Delaware.

► 2010 > Sophomore Season

It was a breakout season for Brown, as he started eight games and played in every contest. He was third on the team with 33 receptions for 452 yards (13.7) and one touchdown. He made three receptions for 35 yards against Youngstown State, with a long of 23 yards, and made one catch for 20 yards at No. 1 Alabama. In his first career start, he made one grab for nine yards against Kent State. Brown set then-career-bests with four catches for 84 yards in the win over Temple. He had a career-long 33-yard grab and also a huge 27-yard catch on third down to keep the Lions' 96-yard touchdown drive alive in the fourth quarter against the Owls. He made four catches, good for 42 yards, in the Big Ten-opener at Iowa and made two catches for 14 yards in the win at Minnesota. Brown made a big 15-yard catch for a first down in the fourth quarter of the primetime victory over Michigan. The drive ended with a Collin Wagner field goal for a 10-point lead with 5:43 to play. Brown had a strong game at Ohio State, catching a then-career-high five passes for 64 yards, including his first career touchdown reception, a 23-yarder from Matt McGloin. He made four receptions for 50 yards against Indiana. Brown re-set his career-highs in receptions and receiving yards against No. 10 Michigan State, catching six passes for 106 yards, his first career 100-yard receiving game. Brown saw action on 575 snaps, topped by 67 against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl and 52 in the historic comeback win over Northwestern.

► 2009 > Freshman Season

Brown made his debut in the win over Syracuse and played in 11 games. He made five receptions for 78 yards for an impressive 15.6-yard average. He also provided a spark for the punt return unit, with seven returns that included the team's two longest of the season — 20 yards against Eastern Illinois and 18 yards in the big win over LSU in the Capital One Bowl. Brown's most notable game was a three-catch, 45-yard effort against Eastern Illinois. In the 34-13 win at Northwestern, he made a season-long 27-yard grab. He saw action on 120 snaps, topped by 26 against Eastern Illinois and 16 at Michigan State. He was one of eight true freshmen to see playing time.

► High School

Brown earned all-state honors as a wideout and defensive back for Coach George Kosanovich at Concord HS. He recorded 27 catches for 500 yards and 11 touchdowns his senior season. Rivals.com named him a four-star recruit and the top prep player in Delaware in 2008. As a junior, he was named first-team all-state at defensive back and second-team all-state at wide receiver, as well as first-team all-county at wide receiver, defensive back and punter.

Alex Butterworth was headed for an apparent redshirt season when his first year as a Nittany Lion took an abrupt turn. Butterworth was pressed into duty for the final three games after punter Anthony Fera underwent an appendectomy three days prior to the Nov. 20 Indiana game. In his collegiate debut in the win over the Hoosiers at FedEx Field, he punted twice for a 41.0-yard average, with one punt downed inside the Indiana 15-yard line. One of seven true freshmen to play last year, Butterworth punted 12 times for a 38.1 average, with three kicks inside the 20 and three fair catches. The 2009 first-team all-state kicker at Heritage Christian HS, he likely will battle Fera for the starting punting assignment this season. Butterworth has a strong leg and a promising future for the special teams.

P.J. Byers had a remarkable path en route to earning a spot on the Penn State squad as a walk-on in 2010. An active duty member of the United States Navy's officer program, Byers went 18 years between introductions with Joe Paterno. In 1992, his father, Patrick Sr., interned under Paterno at the annual Big 33 Classic. Paterno signed a program for P.J., who was seven years old, with the inscription, "I'll be waiting." A 2003 graduate of Penn Trafford HS, Byers enlisted in the Navy, but was put on delayed entry and enrolled at Marietta College. At Marietta, he played football and was a member of the track and field team in 2003-04 before heading to boot camp, where he hoped to launch his career as a Navy SEAL. But, Byers' eyesight did not pass the necessary requirements and he shifted his career to becoming a Navy dive specialist. After being stationed in Connecticut and Florida, Byers was assigned to the Pearl Harbor Naval Station, where he learned to do underwater submarine repairs and demolition of explosives, during his three years in Hawaii. He then spent two years in San Diego, where he continued his diving education, including training dolphins to find mines. During his time at Pearl Harbor and in San Diego, Byers was able to continue his dream of playing football in military-sponsored leagues. When Byers was selected for the Navy's officer program, he was able to choose any college or university he wished to attend, in order to earn a degree, which is a requirement for the officer program. Having attended games in Beaver Stadium during his youth, becoming a Nittany Lion was his first choice. Once Byers graduates, if pro football does not work out, he aspires to become a Navy Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) officer, where he would be on the frontline, disarming explosive devices and disposing of them. Byers owned a 3.07 grade-point average following the spring semester and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate.

Byers is a kinesiology major, owning a 3.07 grade-point average following the spring semester, and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate. He is contemplating becoming an explosive ordnance disposal officer, as well as a strength and conditioning coach or a personal trainer. Born February 23, 1985 in Monroeville, Pa.

MORE THAN 30 LIONS EARN 3.0 GPA IN SPRING SEMESTER

The Penn State football team produced another outstanding academic performance during the Spring 2011 semester, with 33 squad members compiling at least a 3.0 grade-point average. Among the 33 Nittany Lions, nearly half — 16 — received Dean's List recognition by posting a 3.5 GPA or higher for the semester.

The superlative academic performance brings the number of returning Nittany Lion football student-athletes to 42 who had a cumulative 3.0 GPA through the spring semester.

Three Nittany Lions earned a perfect 4.0 GPA during the spring semester: defensive end Pete Massaro, kick snapper Jon Rohrbaugh and guard John Urschel. Massaro was a 2010 first-team Academic All-American®. Urschel brought a 4.0 cumulative GPA into his fifth semester as a Penn State student-athlete.

Nine true freshmen compiled a 3.0 GPA or higher last spring.

Tight End > Portsmouth, Ohio

Years from now, he likely will be the answer to a trivia question that will stump some Nittany Lion fans. "Name the former offensive lineman who caught a touchdown pass during Joe Paterno's 400th win?" Three weeks before Nate Cadogan's memorable, and first, career reception, he was a reserve offensive tackle who had not played his first snap as a Nittany Lion. But, injuries to tight ends Andrew Szczerba and Gary Gilliam had left true freshman Kevin Haplea and senior walk-on Jonathan Stewart as the Lions' most experienced tight ends. So, during the mid-October bye week, Cadogan was asked by the coaching staff to move to tight end, where he made considerable progress as the second half of the season unfolded. His three-yard touchdown catch from Matt McGloin in the third quarter against Northwestern helped fuel Penn State's 35 unanswered points and lift the Hall of Fame coach to win No. 400. Cadogan's combination of size, strength, blocking and ball-catching skills should present him with opportunities to be a bigger contributor this season as he continues to learn the position. The former Portsmouth HS standout is the brother of former Nittany Lion All-Big Ten tackle Gerald Cadogan.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Cadogan began the season at offensive tackle, but was shifted to tight end in mid-October because of injuries to Gary Gilliam and Andrew Szczerba. He played in five games, making one huge catch for three yards and a touchdown. He made his first career appearance in the 41-31 primetime win over Michigan. Cadogan caught his first career pass, a three-yard reception for a touchdown in the third quarter, to help fuel the Nittany Lions' rally from a 21-0 deficit against Northwestern. Cadogan's catch drew Penn State to within 21-14 en route to a 35-21 decision and Joe Paterno's 400th career win. Cadogan also saw action against Ohio State, Indiana and Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl.

During his first year as a Nittany Lion, Glenn Carson spent time at linebacker and fullback and is ready to help where needed this fall. One of eight Nittany Lions to enroll in the University in January 2010, Carson spent his first spring practice at linebacker. The physical player was shifted to fullback just prior to last year's preseason practice, though, aiding the offense for the initial three games. He returned to linebacker after the Kent State game and was one of seven true freshmen to play in 2010, seeing action in every game. The former Southern Regional HS all-state selection made 12 tackles last year, led by five against Illinois. Carson finished spring drills No. 2 at middle linebacker and has demonstrated the toughness and skills to be a major contributor the next three seasons. He entered the spring semester with a 3.31 cumulative grade-point average and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate.

> 2010 > Freshman Season

Carson enrolled as a full-time student in January 2010. He was shifted from linebacker to fullback just prior to preseason practice. He returned to linebacker after the Kent State game and was one of seven true freshmen to play, seeing action in every game. Carson made 12 tackles, with 0.5 tackles for loss. He recorded a season-high five hits against Illinois and made one stop at Minnesota, including 0.5 TFL. He also had one tackle at Ohio State and one hit against Michigan State. Carson made three solo stops against Florida in the Outback Bowl. He was on the field for 152 snaps, led by 24 at Iowa and 22 in the Outback Bowl.

> High School

A linebacker at Southern Regional HS, Carson helped the team to its first South Jersey Group IV title game. During his senior season under Coach Charles Donohue Sr., Carson was selected first-team all-state, Ocean County Player-of-the-Year, first-team All-South Jersey and first-team all-league. The four-star prospect tallied 98 tackles and broke the school record for career tackles. Also an outstanding wrestler, Carson was a three-time state finalist on the mat.

JACK

6-5 > 265 > Sr./Sr. Eligible
Defensive End > Longport, N.J.

With the departure of co-captain and defensive tackle Ollie Ogbu, defensive end Jack Crawford will join DE Eric Latimore and DT Devon Still as seniors counted on to provide leadership and productivity for the defensive line. A starter in 20 games over the past two seasons, Crawford was slowed by a mid-season foot injury last year. He missed three games and underwent surgery in January, knocking him out of spring drills. He should be 100 percent prior to the start of preseason practice, where he will look to reclaim a starting berth. Crawford has demonstrated he has the skills and athleticism to rank among the Big Ten's premier defensive ends and playmakers at the position. Phil Steele's College Football Preview selected him 2011 preseason third-team All-Big Ten. Six years after leaving his native London, England, for the United States, Crawford has found a second home in Happy Valley. He moved to the U.S. in 2005, intending to pursue basketball as his primary sport. As a junior at St. Augustine (N.J.) Prep in 2006, he joined the football team and found immediate success as a defensive end and tight end. During his senior season, Crawford emerged as a standout, leading to his matriculation to Happy Valley. As a true freshman in 2008, barely two years after playing organized football for the first time, Crawford played in every game for the Lions. When his older brother, Douglas, came to see Jack play against Ohio State in 2009, he became the first member of the Crawford family to watch Jack play in person. He possesses outstanding physical attributes, quickness and determination and the ability to make big plays. Crawford has a great motor and has made significant progress on the practice field and in the weight room and is a probable All-Big Ten candidate. The personable Crawford has tremendous work-ethic and energy and will be counted on for significant contributions in his senior season. He is one of seven returning Nittany Lions from New Jersey.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Playing in 10 games, Crawford earned seven starts. He missed the Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan games with a foot injury. Crawford compiled 14 tackles, with 4.5 tackles for loss and two sacks for the season. He made three tackles against Youngstown State, including a minus-yardage hit for three yards, and had two stops at No. 1 Alabama. He made three hits in the 24-0 win over Kent State, including 1.5 TFL, with a sack for minus-seven yards. After missing three consecutive games at mid-season with a foot injury, he returned in the historic comeback win over Northwestern, making one tackle. He recorded a sack at Ohio State and returned to the starting lineup in the win over Indiana. Crawford made two stops, with 0.5 TFL for minus-three yards against Michigan State. He played on 395 snaps, topped by 70 against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Crawford started every game at defensive end and was among the Big Ten leaders in minus-yardage plays. He was ninth in the Big Ten in tackles for losses (14.5 for minus-67 yards) and 10th with 5.5 sacks (minus-44). He was second on the team in minus-yardage hits, earning honorable-mention all-conference honors. Crawford made 31 tackles, was tied for the team lead with two fumble recoveries, had one forced fumble and three pass breakups. He made at least one minus-yardage play in 10 games. Crawford had a memorable first career start in the win over Akron, recording two tackles, both for a loss, including his first career sack. He had a big game against Temple, posting three tackles, including 2.5 TFL, and a sack. Crawford registered a career-best five tackles, with 1.0 TFL, and combined on a sack against Iowa. In the win at Illinois, he was very productive, totaling four tackles, including 1.5 sacks, and recovering a fumble at the Illinois 14 to set up a touchdown. His third sack of the year was big, as he dropped Juice Williams for a 15-yard loss late in the first half. Crawford's pressure also forced Williams into an intentional grounding penalty, pushing the Illini out of field goal range. Against Eastern Illinois, Crawford had two tackles, one of which was a sack that resulted in a loss of 15 yards. In the 35-10 thumping of Michigan, Crawford made three solo tackles, all for a loss (minus-9 yards). His standout performance included a sack and a forced fumble. In the 34-13 win at Northwestern, he made two solo tackles, including one for a loss of five yards, and recovered a fumble on the game's opening drive that led to a field goal. Crawford made two stops and had two pass breakups in the Senior Day win over Indiana. In the big Capital One Bowl win over LSU, he recorded one TFL. He saw action on 677 snaps, the sixth-highest total among 2010 returnees, topped by 68 against Iowa and 65 at Northwestern.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Crawford joined Brandon Beachum and Michael Mauti as the only true freshmen to play in every game. He saw action at defensive tackle and tight end during the season and made four tackles (three solo) with two pass breakups. Crawford was inserted into the season-opener with Coastal Carolina and recorded a season-high three tackles, two of which were solo stops. He also made one solo hit in the win at Syracuse. He was on the field for 127 plays, led by 27 each against Coastal Carolina and Indiana.

> High School

As a junior at St. Augustine Prep in 2006, Crawford joined the football team and found immediate success. During his senior season, he emerged as a standout, being rated the No. 15 defensive end in the nation by Scout.com, while also playing tight end. Playing for Coach Dennis Scuderi, Crawford earned all-area and All-Parochial honors. He made 12 touchdown receptions his senior season. Crawford also played basketball and soccer at St. Augustine.

THIRTY-ONE NITTANY LIONS ON 2010 NFL ROSTERS

Penn State's 31 former players on 2010 National Football League rosters again ranked the Nittany Lions among the top 15 schools in the nation in producing current NFL players. More than 350 Nittany Lions have signed NFL contracts since Joe Paterno became head coach in 1966.

Thirty-three Nittany Lions coached by Paterno have been selected in the first round of the NFL Draft, including defensive tackle Jared Odrick by the Miami Dolphins in the 2010 draft. Defensive end Aaron Maybin was the No. 11 overall selection in the 2009 draft, by the Buffalo Bills.

Penn State tied for fourth nationally for the most selections in the 2010 NFL Draft with six. Paterno has seen 247 of his former players be drafted by NFL teams, including 26 since 2006.

Penn State has had at least one alumnus on a Super Bowl team for 40 of 45 title games. Thirty-three former Nittany Lions have won a total of 49 Super Bowl rings as players, including tight end Andrew Quarless with the Green Bay Packers for Super Bowl XLV. Penn State's Sean McHugh and Scott Paxson were members of the Pittsburgh Steelers Super Bowl XLIII-winning team.

Wide Receiver > Philadelphia, Pa.

Curtis Drake is among a trio of Nittany Lion lettermen looking forward to the 2011 campaign after missing the entire 2010 season due to injuries. Drake suffered a broken left leg during the first week of preseason practice last year and took a medical redshirt season after demonstrating his playmaking abilities as a true freshman in 2009. He was able to participate in practice towards the end of last season, but then broke his left leg again during the first week of spring practice. His availability for the season will be re-evaluated during preseason practice. A vastly talented and quick athlete, a healthy Drake would significantly bolster the Nittany Lions' offense. He made eight catches for 98 yards as a true freshman in 2009, but his biggest play of the season came with his arm. The former West Philadelphia Catholic HS all-state quarterback threw a 14-yard touchdown to Andrew Quarless at Michigan State to help trigger a 28-point onslaught in a 42-14 victory that stamped Penn State's place in another New Year's Day bowl. If healthy, the Philadelphia product will be poised to play a significant role for the offense and continue his very promising future on the gridiron.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Drake suffered a broken leg during the first week of preseason practice and was lost for the season, taking a medical redshirt year. After his rehabilitation, he was able to participate in practice towards the end of the season.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Playing in every game, Drake was one of eight true freshmen to take the field. He made eight receptions for 98 yards (12.2) and gained 24 yards on just four carries, including a 26-yard end-around in the win over Indiana. He also threw a touchdown pass. Drake made his first career reception in the season-opening win over Akron. He also made a 10-yard reception against hometown Temple and earned his first career start in the win at Illinois. Drake was ready for the challenge when Chaz Powell was injured on the second play of the Indiana game. He made two catches for 34 yards, in addition to his big run. He was a big contributor in the 42-14 win at Michigan State. Drake's scoring strike to tight end Andrew Quarless was a significant one in helping the Nittany Lions to their 10th win and a New Year's Day bowl berth. Tied, 7-7, early in the third quarter at Spartan Stadium, Drake took a hand-off from Darryl Clark and appeared headed around the right end, when he pulled up and lofted a pass that Quarless went up and grabbed near the back of the end zone for a 14-7 lead just 1:07 into the second half. The play began a 28-point barrage in the third quarter, propelling Penn State to the 28-point win. In addition to his touchdown pass, he made two receptions for 22 yards and had an 18-yard carry against the Spartans, helping the Lions eclipse 500 yards for the fourth time in 2009. Drake made a key 12-yard reception during Penn State's game-winning drive against LSU in the 2010 Capital One Bowl. He was on the field for 186 plays during the 2009 season, led by 37 at Michigan State and 33 against Indiana.

> High School

The 2008 Pennsylvania Class AA Player-of-the-Year and an all-state selection, Drake was a standout for Coach Brian Fluck at West Philadelphia Catholic HS. As a senior quarterback, Drake ran for 1,639 yards and 21 touchdowns, gaining 14.5 yards per carry. He also completed 60 percent of his passes for 1,354 yards and 15 touchdowns. Drake was selected to play in the Big 33 Classic.

Nittany Lion fans and the media in TCF Bank Stadium were likely scanning the Penn State roster during last October's contest, searching for the name of No. 27 who was making plays for the guys in the white jerseys. Although he had played in the first six games of the 2010 season, it was during the win over the Golden Gophers that spiked the level of awareness of Jake Fagnano and his contributions to the squad. The injury to safety Nick Sukay a week prior gave Fagnano an opportunity to see a significant rise in playing time and he responded. He played a career-high 48 snaps against Minnesota and made his first two career tackles, en route to eight hits for the season. The former Williamsport HS standout is a good athlete, with the skills, instincts and desire to play a larger role this year for the veteran secondary, in addition to his contributions on the special teams. Fagnano is among 22 returning Nittany Lions from Central Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Fagnano appeared in all 13 games as a safety and a key contributor on the special teams units. He recorded eight tackles, all coming in the second half of the season. When Nick Sukay suffered a season-ending injury against Illinois, Fagnano saw his playing time increase and he responded. He made his first two career stops during the momentum-building win at Minnesota. He assisted on a tackle in the primetime win over Michigan and made a pair of key stops on kickoff returns during the Nittany Lions' thrilling 35-21 comeback victory over Northwestern. Fagnano added two more tackles against Ohio State and one in the win over Indiana at FedEx Field. Fagnano was on the field for 204 snaps, led by 48 at Minnesota and 24 against Michigan.

MIKE

 Tackle > Pittsburgh, Pa.

Like Penn State student-athletes before him, on campus now and in the future, Mike Farrell knows there is more to be gained than attending class and practice and playing in games. Being a Penn State student-athlete affords an opportunity to earn a great education, compete at the highest level in your sport, gain leadership skills and give back to others who do not have the same opportunities. As Farrell continues his hard work in the weight room and practice field, he also is in the midst of his first year as president of Penn State's Uplifting Athletes chapter. Farrell has coordinated the chapter's events since January, culminated by the football team's popular Penn State Lift for Life. The annual event, held in July, had raised nearly $500,000 for the Kidney Cancer Association since 2003, prior to this year's event. Farrell brings great physical attributes, size and strength to the offensive line. The first-team all-state selection at Shady Side Academy likely will enter preseason as No. 2 on the depth chart at right tackle, looking to battle returning starter Chima Okoli. Farrell brought a cumulative 3.22 grade-point average into the summer and earned Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2010. He also was co-winner of the Frank Patrick Total Commitment Award with Ty Howle.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Farrell was the No. 2 left tackle for most of the season, but against Indiana, he was called on to start the game at right tackle. In his first career start, he saw action on a career-high 85 snaps, helping Penn State to the 41-24 win at FedEx Field. Farrell was instrumental in the Nittany Lions gaining 496 yards and 24 first downs in the victory. He played in five games and 116 snaps. Farrell earned Academic All-Big Ten accolades.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Farrell helped Penn State gain more than 500 yards in wins over Akron and Eastern Illinois and played in five games. In his first season on the field, he also saw action in Big Ten victories over Illinois, Indiana and Michigan State, gaining vital experience. Farrell emerged as the top reserve at left tackle to Dennis Landolt, who earned third-team All-America honors.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

Farrell was a team captain for Coach Dave Havern at Shady Side Academy. He was first-team all-section, All-WPIAL and all-state his senior year. Named the Allegheny Conference Outstanding Lineman-of-the-Year, Farrell helped lead his team to a 9-2 record and the WPIAL quarterfinals as a senior. Farrell garnered three letters in football and lacrosse and also wrestled one year.

> Personal

Full name is Michael John Farrell. He has two younger brothers, Chris and Jake. Farrell has a number of family members who attended Penn State, including his father, Mike, uncle Jim Farrell, and cousins Jenn Hepner and Matt Swilling. An uncle, Barry Swilling, played football at the University of Richmond. Farrell is majoring in secondary education and brought a cumulative 3.22 grade-point average into the summer. He earned Academic All-Big Ten honors in 2010. Born August 23, 1989 in Pittsburgh, Pa.

PATERNO LONGEVITY INCREDIBLE

Since Joe Paterno became head coach in 1966, there have been 884 head coaching changes in the Football Bowl Subdivision (Division I-A), an average of more than six changes per institution, including 24 changes after the 2010 season.

There have been 36 head coaches at the other Big Ten institutions since the Nittany Lions began conference play in 1993 (total does not include Big Ten newcomer Nebraska).

STEVE JONES STUDENT SPORTS BROADCASTING COMPLEX INCLUDED IN REC HALL RENOVATION

In October 2010, a major gift from Richard and Susan Barry was announced for the creation of the Steve Jones Student Sports Broadcasting Complex. Named for long-time Penn State broadcaster and College of Communications instructor Steve Jones, the state-of-the-art production center will comprise a major portion of a planned renovation of Rec Hall and offer hands-on experience to students pursuing careers in sports broadcasting. The facility will feature two control rooms, an editing lab, an HD viewing room and Rec Hall's first dedicated media room.

The gift is one of the largest in the history of Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics, and it continues the philanthropic leadership of Rick and Sue Barry. A 1980 Penn State graduate with a degree in speech communication and broadcasting, Jones began doing radio play-by-play of Nittany Lion basketball games during his undergraduate career. He became voice of the men's basketball team in 1982 and debuted as the football play-by-play voice with the 2000 Blue-White game. Jones has done radio play-by-play for more than 900 Penn State football and basketball games.

The complex is among numerous upgrades planned for Rec Hall, including two new videoboards in the arena provided in part by gifts from Ira Lubert and Galen Dreibelbis.

30 ANTHONY FERA

6-2 > 215 > Jr./So. Eligible
Kicker > Cypress, Texas

A highly-recruited kicker from Texas, Anthony Fera won the punting job and had a strong debut season as a Nittany Lion. He punted and handled kickoff duties in the first 10 games before an emergency appendectomy cut short his regular-season. Fera averaged 41.4 yards on his 46 punts and was selected a 2010 second-team Rivals.com Freshman All-American. His strong debut season helped earn him a spot on the Phil Steele's College Football Preview 2011 preseason All-Big Ten third-team. Possessing a strong leg and the ability to consistently drop punts inside the opposition's 20-yard line, Fera had just one touchback to highlight his first year of punting duties. He launched a 74-yard punt at Iowa, the fourth-longest in Penn State history. With the graduation of placekicker Collin Wagner, Fera also could be a candidate for kicking duties, in addition to battling Alex Butterworth for the punting assignment. Fera joins Frank Figueroa and D'Anton Lynn as returning Nittany Lions hailing from Texas.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Fera won the punting duties in preseason and was selected a 2010 second-team Rivals.com Freshman All-American. Fera punted during the first 10 games, including handling kickoff duties, but on Nov. 17 had an emergency appendectomy. He missed the last two regular-season games, with Indiana and Michigan State, but returned against Florida in the Outback Bowl. Among Fera's 46 punts, 13 landed inside the 20-yard line, 19 were fair catches, and nine were booted 50 yards or more. For the season, Fera averaged 41.4 yards, with only one touchback. In the fourth quarter at Iowa, he launched a 74-yard punt, the fourth-longest punt in Penn State history, and the team's longest since 2004. Fera averaged 44 yards on six punts against Illinois, including a boot of 53 yards, which the Illinois returner fumbled at the nine-yard line. A sliding Michael Zordich recovered the fumble, which set up a field goal. Fera averaged just over 45 yards per punt at Minnesota, including a 61-yard blast. Four of his six punts against the Golden Gophers were downed inside the 20-yard line. Fera knocked two punts inside the 20 against Northwestern, including one that landed at the Wildcats' seven-yard line in the fourth quarter to assist the Lions' historic comeback. At Ohio State, he averaged 44.2 yards on six punts, with a long of 54 yards and one punt downed at the Ohio State 4. Fera missed the Indiana and Michigan State games due to an emergency appendectomy three days before the contest with the Hoosiers. He returned against Florida in the Outback Bowl, punting three times for a 38.7-yard average with a long of 52 yards.

> High School

Fera was one of the nation's top prep placekickers for Coach Robin Kirk at St. Pius X HS. He was selected a 2008 Under Armour All-American and earned first-team all-state honors as a junior and senior. Fera was rated Scout.com's and Rivals.com's No. 2 kicker in the nation. During his senior season, he was 37-of-39 on PAT attempts and 8-of-9 on field goals, with a long of 58 yards. In 2008, 55 of his 60 kickoffs went to touchbacks. Fera also averaged 44.1 yards on 36 punts.

11 KHAIRI FORTT

6-2 > 227 > So./So. Eligible
Linebacker > Stamford, Conn.

When Khairi Fortt enrolled at Penn State in January 2010, he desired to join the long, storied list of names that have played at "Linebacker U." Fortt is coming off a great off-season, which included a very strong spring practice season. One of seven true freshmen to play last season, Fortt saw time in 10 games on defense and special teams. The Connecticut product has the potential to become a standout linebacker over the next three seasons. The instinctive and athletic Fortt made excellent progress in his first full season in Happy Valley. He boasts excellent size, speed, intensity and toughness and loves to hit. With continued experience and improvement, Fortt should challenge for a significant role on the linebacker corps in 2011. Injuries to several members of the linebacker rotation allowed Fortt to make his first career start against Illinois as a true freshman. He made the most of his opportunity by tallying a season-high 11 tackles. A former U.S. Army All-American at Stamford HS, he should be among the primary candidates vying for a starting job at outside linebacker. Fortt became friends with Nittany Lion classmate and fellow Constitution State standout Silas Redd after they attended Penn State's summer football camp. Fortt and Redd are the returning Nittany Lions from Connecticut.

> 2010 > Freshman Season

Fortt was one of seven true freshmen to play in 2010, seeing action in 10 games on defense and special teams. Fortt made 17 tackles, including one for loss, recording the most hits among true freshmen. He compiled two stops in his first career game, against Youngstown State, in the season-opener. With outside linebackers Bani Gbadyu, Gerald Hodges and Michael Mauti sidelined with injuries for the Illinois game, Fortt made his first career start and responded with a season-high 11 tackles, including one for a loss. He also posted two unassisted tackles in the win over Indiana at FedEx Field. He saw action on 152 snaps, topped by 63 against Illinois. Fortt was among seven members of the 2010 recruiting class who enrolled in the University in January 2010.

> High School

Fortt was a second-team USA Today All-American for Coach Kevin Jones at Stamford HS. A team captain, he was selected to play in the 2010 U.S. Army All-American Bowl and earned first-team all-state accolades. He was among only 30 players in the nation named to the U.S. Army Player-of-the-Year Award watch list. Rivals.com rated Fortt the nation's No. 5 prep outside linebacker and Scout.com ranked him No. 11 in the nation. Rivals also rated Fortt the No. 2 prep player in Connecticut for 2009. During his junior season, he recorded 118 tackles, forced five fumbles and grabbed four interceptions. Fortt was slowed by an injury during his senior season. He made 63 hits (41 solo), with 2.5 sacks and an interception, which he returned 46 yards for a touchdown. He was selected second-team all-conference. Fortt also played lacrosse and ran track.

89 GARRY GILLIAM

6-6 > 275 > Jr./So. Eligible
Tight End > Carlisle, Pa.

A defensive end during his redshirt freshman season, Garry Gilliam made tremendous strides at tight end last year heading into the season. With the Nittany Lions having lost seniors Andrew Quarless and Mickey Shuler from the 2009 squad and veteran Andrew Szczzerba dealing with a back injury, Gilliam and true freshman Kevin Haplea were thrust onto the field. Gilliam started three of the first four games last fall, but tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee in the Big Ten-opener at Iowa, ending his season. The serious knee injury may cause the strong and swift athlete with excellent size to miss the 2011 campaign. Gilliam made one catch for 21 yards against Temple and showed great promise. The former Milton Hershey School star brought a 3.07 cumulative grade-point average into the summer after gaining Academic All-Big Ten honors last fall.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

With veteran Andrew Szczzerba sidelined with a back injury, Gilliam got onto the field in the opener with Youngstown State and earned three starts during the first month of the season. He made his first career catch, good for 21 yards, in the win over Temple. But, the following week, in the Big Ten-opener at Iowa, Gilliam tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee, ending his season. He made starts against Youngstown State, Alabama and Temple and played on 217 snaps during the initial five games, topped by 59 in the win over Temple and 50 against Youngstown State.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Gilliam played defensive end on the foreign team. He caught two passes for 23 yards in the 2010 Blue-White game.

> High School

A standout athlete, Gilliam played four sports at the Milton Hershey School. The All-American, all-state and All-Mid-Penn Conference honoree was a four-year starter, playing tight end and defensive end under Coach Bob Guyer. Gilliam gained 350 receiving yards on 20 receptions and scored four touchdowns in his career. During his senior season, he racked up 70 tackles, five sacks and two interceptions. He finished with 153 tackles, 12 sacks and five interceptions in his scholastic career. He played on the winning squad in the 2009 Big 15 game. Gilliam also was a member of the Pennsylvania squad in the 2009 Big 33 Classic. A WGAL-TV Player-of-the-Week, Gilliam was a conference champion in the javelin and qualified for the state track and field championships.

DEFENSE AMONG NATION'S TOP 5 SINCE 2004

Over the past seven seasons, Penn State is one of only three defensive units that rank among the top five in the nation in scoring defense (3rd, 16.4 ppg), total defense (5th, 298.7 ypg) and rushing defense (5th, 107.1 ypg). Ohio State and TCU are the only other teams ranked in the top five in the three categories.

Since the start of the 2004 campaign, the Nittany Lions have held 53 of their 88 opponents (60.2 pct.) to 17 points or less, including 10 foes in 2009 and nine in 2008. Three of Penn State's six bowl opponents have scored 17 points or less, including LSU in the 2010 Capital One Bowl.

Over the past seven years, Penn State has limited 45 of 88 opponents (51 pct.) to 100 rushing yards or fewer, with eight foes failing to do so every year from 2006-09. Among the teams failing to crack 100 rushing yards against the Nittany Lions were bowl foes LSU, Southern California, Tennessee and Florida State.

Penn State was one of only three teams in the nation in 2009 that did not allow a 100-yard rusher.

Defensive Tackle > Harrison City, Pa.

Spring practice provides the coaching staff with an opportunity to shift selected players to a different position and see if the move can be beneficial for the overall progress of the squad. Having spent his redshirt season working on the offensive line, former Penn Trafford HS standout Luke Graham was moved to the defensive line prior to spring practice. He finished spring drills No. 2 at one of the defensive tackle spots and should have the opportunity to gain playing time this year. Graham has very good size and skills and has made significant progress during his first year as a Nittany Lion. He owned a 3.69 grade-point average following the spring semester and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate.

21 STEPHFON GREEN

Tailback > Bronx, N.Y.

Stephfon Green will be heavily counted on to carry the ground-gaining mantle held by the Nittany Lions' all-time leading rusher, Evan Royster, for the last three years. The most experienced among the talented stable of returning running backs, Green's quickness, vision and ability to avoid would-be tacklers make him an exciting option to carry or catch the ball. The athletic Green has tremendous work-ethic and enthusiasm and is prepared to battle for the duty as the primary ball-carrier. During the 2010 season, he became the 38th Nittany Lion to surpass 1,000 career rushing yards. He enters his fifth-year senior season with 1,085 yards, good for 36th place on the Penn State rushing chart. The swift and agile player has demonstrated a knack for big plays on offense and on special teams. A personable young man with a broad smile, Green is energetic with a great motor. He is one of seven returning Nittany Lions from New York, three of whom hail from metropolitan New York City. Green and Lion safety Stephen Obeng-Agyapong played at John F. Kennedy HS.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Playing in every game, Green was third on the squad with 188 rushing yards on 48 carries and one touchdown. He was second on the team with 17 kickoff returns for a 19.8-yard average. Green joined the list of Penn State's career 1,000-yard rushers, finishing with 1,085 yards. He had six carries for 32 yards, with a six-yard touchdown run, against Youngstown State. Green gained 13 yards on five carries at No. 1 Alabama and returned four kickoffs for 100 yards, with a season-best return of 30 yards. Green ran for 59 yards on 11 carries against Kent State, with a long run of 18 yards, and made two catches. He ran for 15 yards and had one reception in the win over Temple and returned three kickoffs for 60 yards at Iowa, along with two catches for 21 yards. Green returned two kickoffs 50 yards in the primetime win over Michigan and had a 21-yard run and a 20-yard reception in the historic comeback victory over Northwestern. Green had two carries for 18 yards and one catch for 26 yards at Ohio State before leaving the game with a slight neck injury. He returned the following week and had four carries for 13 yards against Indiana and returned one kickoff 24 yards in the Michigan State game. Green saw action on 292 snaps, led by 33 against Temple and 30 against Illinois.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Playing in 11 games, Green gained 319 yards on 71 carries (4.5). He missed the Michigan and Northwestern outings with a sprained ankle. He scored three rushing touchdowns and had six receptions for 80 yards (13.3). His 25.5-yard average on four kickoff returns led the team. Green and Royster combined for a Big Ten-first in Penn State's 17 years in the conference in the win at Illinois. Green posted his second career 100-yard rushing game and had a career-high in carries, gaining 120 yards on 13 attempts against the Illini. He got the Lions on the scoreboard with a thrilling 52-yard touchdown burst through the heart of the Illini defense in the second quarter. Royster tallied 105 yards, as they became the first tandem of Penn State running backs to each eclipse 100 yards in the conference era. In the win in Champaign, Green was instrumental in jump-starting the Penn State rushing attack, which gained 338 yards, its highest total in three years. He gained 19 yards and scored a rushing touchdown in the win over Temple, also catching two passes for 28 yards. Green carried eight times for 58 yards (7.2) and delivered his third rushing touchdown of the season, a 26-yard scoring romp in the third quarter, in the win over Eastern Illinois. He sprained an ankle in the first half against Minnesota and missed the next two games. In the 42-14 win at Michigan State, he carried the ball five times and caught a screen pass for a season-long 31 yards in the second quarter. Green carried the ball seven times for 36 yards in the Capital One Bowl against LSU, including a huge six-yard gain for a first down at the Tigers' 8-yard line in the waning minutes to help set up Collin Wagner's game-winning 21-yard field goal. Green saw action on 225 plays on offense and special teams, led by 27 snaps against LSU and 26 at Michigan State.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

Green ran for 578 yards on 105 carries for a strong 5.5 average and four rushing touchdowns while playing in every game. He also made 15 receptions for 268 yards, and the team's highest average (17.9 ypg) for players with 10 or more catches. In his Penn State debut, Green thrilled the Beaver Stadium audience with his speed and shiftness, gaining a team-high 89 yards on 10 carries against Coastal Carolina. He scored the first two touchdowns of his collegiate career, finding the end zone on a pair of seven-yard scampers. Green rushed 10 times for 52 yards, including a two-yard touchdown, in the 55-13 thumping of Syracuse. He reached the century mark for the first time in his career, gaining 132 yards on only nine carries (14.7) in the 45-3 victory over Temple. In the third quarter, he broke off a season-high 69-yard touchdown run against the Owls. The play was Penn State's longest rush of 2008, giving Green two of the squad's three longest plays from scrimmage for the season. In the win at Purdue, he ran seven times for 58 yards, including a 28-yard burst, for an impressive 7.7 yards per carry. Green took a screen pass and blazed 80 yards for a touchdown in the 46-17 win over Michigan. The touchdown was tied for the fifth-longest pass play in Penn State history and was the longest since Kerry Collins and Freddie Scott connected on an 82-yard completion against Rutgers in 1994. Green gained 23 yards on three carries in the critical win at Ohio State and tallied 31 yards on just three attempts at Iowa. Green ran for 26 yards and caught one pass for 37 yards in the Big Ten-clinching win over Michigan State. His lone reception was big, converting a third-and-17 into a first down while keeping alive a drive that would culminate in a Daryll Clark rushing touchdown and a 21-0 lead. Green saw significant playing time against Southern California in the 2009 Rose Bowl, gaining a team-high 57 yards on 10 carries and 67 receiving yards on a team-high five catches. His 124 all-purpose yards led the Lions, but he left the game with a dislocated right ankle suffered on a fourth-quarter carry, an injury that sidelined him for spring drills. Green was on the field for 269 snaps, led by 36 against Southern California and 32 against Indiana.

ADAM
GRESS

6-6 ► 290 ► Jr./So. Eligible
Tackle ► West Mifflin, Pa.

With the graduation of two offensive line starters, Adam Gress should be among the primary challengers for more significant playing time on the O-line this year. The former West Mifflin Area HS standout brings very good size and skills to the unit and gained his first collegiate action in six games during the second half of last season. Gress finished spring drills as the top reserve to returning senior starter Quinn Barham at left tackle and with continued improvement, should have an opportunity to see an increased role this year. Gress is among 17 former Western Pennsylvania prep standouts returning this season for Penn State.

► 2010 ► Sophomore Season

In his first campaign on the field, Gress saw action in six games during the second half of the season. He saw most of his snaps against Minnesota, Michigan, Northwestern and Indiana and also played at Ohio State and against Florida in the Outback Bowl.

► 2009 ► Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

► High School

A three-year letterman and four-year starter at West Mifflin Area HS, Gress played for Coach Tim Brennan. A two-year captain, Gress was named all-state and all-conference. He also was captain of the ice hockey team at West Mifflin Area.

► Personal

Full name is Adam Michael Gress. He is the son of Armand and Lisa Gress. He has one brother, Armand. An uncle attended Penn State from 1983-87. Gress is considering a career as a radio producer. Born December 28, 1990 in Pittsburgh, Pa.

EVAN

6-1 ► 303 ► So./Fr. Eligible
Defensive Tackle ► Chesapeake, Va.

Evan Hailes is the most recent addition to the list of Tidewater area prep standouts that have matriculated to Penn State. Current Nittany Lions Kevin Newsome and Chima Okoli also are former Tidewater prep standouts, as is graduate assistant coach Terrell Golden (2004-07). Hailes has very good size, skills and strength and is working toward an opportunity to compete for time in the defensive interior line rotation. Hailes enrolled at Penn State in January 2010 out of Oscar F. Smith HS.

► 2010 ► Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

► High School

Hailes was rated among the top 40 defensive tackles in the nation for Coach Richard Morgan at Oscar F. Smith HS. He recorded 60 tackles, with 11 sacks, as a senior, helping lead his team to the state semifinals. Hailes compiled 81 tackles, 21 for a loss, and 12 sacks as a junior. He also was a member of the track and field team.

► Personal

10 KEVIN HAPLEA

6-4 > 250 > So./So. Eligible
Tight End > Annandale, N.J.

Coming off a strong true freshman campaign, which included three starts, Kevin Haplea will look to expand his role in the offense and solidify the tight end position for the upcoming campaign. Possessing good hands, size and speed, Haplea will provide the offense with another reliable pass-catching option. A strong blocker, he also will be key in the running game. The former North Hunterdon HS standout enrolled at Penn State in January 2010. Haplea has a twin sister, who also is a Penn State student.

> 2010 > Freshman Season

Haplea enrolled in classes at Penn State in January 2010 and was among seven true freshmen to play. The tight end position was hit by season-ending injuries to Andrew Szczerba (back) and Garry Gilliam, who suffered a torn ACL in the Big Ten-opener, and Haplea made the most of the opportunity. He played in every game and made three starts. He had three catches for 39 yards, with a long reception of 23 yards at Iowa. He made one catch at Minnesota. He made his first career starts at Ohio State and against Indiana. Haplea had one catch for 14 yards against Michigan State. His catch was good for a first down at the Spartan 25-yard line in the fourth quarter, and on the next play, Matt McGloin threw a touchdown pass to Joe Suhey. Haplea was on the field for 493 snaps, topped by 59 each against Northwestern and Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl.

> High School

Rated as the nation's sixth-best tight end in the 2010 recruiting class, Haplea brought receiver-like traits to the tight end position at North Hunterdon HS. The four-star player for Coach John Mattes was productive throughout his high school career. A team captain, Haplea caught 17 passes for 223 yards and two touchdowns as a junior. He also played basketball and baseball.

47 JORDAN HILL

6-1 > 316 > Jr./Jr. Eligible
Defensive Line > Steelton, Pa.

Jordan Hill is ready to continue his momentum from last season and spring practice and resume his role as a vital member of the defensive line. Last year, he played in every game, moving to defensive end at mid-season and starting three games when injuries took a toll. A physical presence with a great motor, Hill recorded 36 tackles, with 2.0 tackles for loss, with four starts last year. At the 2011 Blue-White game, Hill was named recipient of the Jim O'Hara Award, presented by the coaching staff to a defensive player for "exemplary conduct, loyalty, interest, attitude and improvement" during spring practice. The award honors former Penn State assistant head coach Jim O'Hara, a member of the coaching staff for 31 years. The talented and tenacious Hill ended spring atop the depth chart at one of the tackle positions and with senior Devon Still, should form one of the top defensive interior line tandems in the Big Ten. The promising Hill was instrumental in helping Steelton-Highspire HS capture the 2007 and 2008 Pennsylvania Class A championships, including an undefeated campaign as a senior. He is among 22 returning Nittany Lions from Central Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Playing in every game, with four starts, Hill recorded 36 tackles, with 2.0 tackles for loss, and half a sack. Hill had a big game against No. 1 Alabama, recording a career-high seven tackles. He made two tackles, including 0.5 TFL, against Kent State and Temple. Hill made his first career start at Minnesota, opening the game at defensive end, and recorded six stops. Hill made three tackles in the primetime win over Michigan and five tackles against Northwestern, including 0.5 TFL, starting both contests at end. Hill started at tackle against Indiana at FedEx Field and recorded three tackles, including a half-sack. He had two stops against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl. Hill saw action on 337 snaps, topped by 60 in the win at Minnesota.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Heading toward a possible redshirt season, it became clear that Hill needed to be on the field in his true freshman season. He made his Penn State debut against Eastern Illinois, the sixth game of the season, and made an immediate and positive impression, recording a season-high four tackles in the win over the Panthers. Playing in the final eight games, he made 12 tackles, and recorded a sack in the 35-10 win at Michigan. Hill made at least one tackle in seven of the eight contests he played in. He recorded two stops each against Ohio State and Indiana. He played on 99 snaps, led by 17 each against Eastern Illinois, Michigan and Indiana.

> High School

A MaxPreps small-school All-American, Hill was a four-year letterman for Coach Rob Deibler at Steelton-Highspire HS. The standout defensive lineman and fullback earned All-Mid-Penn Conference and all-district accolades from 2006-08. Hill was instrumental in helping Steelton-Highspire capture the 2007 and 2008 Pennsylvania Class A state championships, including an undefeated campaign as a senior. During his senior year, he tallied 143 tackles, four sacks and three interceptions en route to being named first-team all-state. Hill recorded 275 tackles, 19 sacks and five interceptions during his standout career. He also gained 648 yards with six career rushing touchdowns. The three-year captain was named the 2008 conference co-player-of-the-year and led his team to four District 3 titles and a trio of Mid-Penn Conference championships. He played in the 2009 Big 33 Classic. Hill also played basketball for four years and baseball for one season.

> Personal

Full name is Jordan Thomas Hill. He is the son of Larry and Sue Hill. He has two younger sisters, Janelle and Joslyn. In his spare time, Hill enjoys playing video games. His major is recreation, parks and tourism management. Born February 8, 1991 in Harrisburg, Pa.

GERALD HODGES

Linebacker > Paulsboro, N.J.

Gerald Hodges appears ready to grab a starting assignment and help solidify the linebacking corps entering his junior year. Hodges had his eyes set on the starting unit in 2010, but suffered a hairline fracture of his leg against Alabama in the season's second game. The versatile, swift and instinctive athlete returned for the second half of the season and made his presence known, recording 17 tackles in the last three contests. The talented and hard-hitting Hodges ended spring drills atop the depth chart at one of the outside linebacker spots and should have an opportunity to be a significant contributor for "Linebacker U." the next two seasons. Phil Steele's College Football Preview selected him 2011 preseason second-team All-Big Ten. A January 2009 enrollee in the University, the hard-working and physical Hodges began his career at safety, but was shifted to linebacker early in his true freshman season. The two-time first-team All-South Jersey honoree led Paulsboro HS to a pair of South Jersey Group I championships. Hodges is one of seven returning Nittany Lions from New Jersey.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Hodges emerged as a bigger contributor for the defense during the second half of the season after suffering an injury on the opening kickoff at No. 1 Alabama. He made 31 tackles, with 2.5 tackles for loss and two pass breakups, during the season. He recorded five tackles in the season-opener with Youngstown State, including a pair of big third-down stops. He also tallied his first career tackle for loss. Hodges suffered a hairline fracture to his leg on the opening kickoff at Alabama and missed the next four games. He returned to the field at Minnesota, making a pair of tackles, and had three stops in the primetime win over Michigan. Hodges ended the regular-season on a high note, recording at least four tackles in each of the last three contests. He made back-to-back stops early in the fourth quarter at Ohio State to stifle a drive. Hodges earned his first career start against Indiana and delivered a career-high six tackles and broke up two Hoosier passes. He capped off the regular-season with five stops against Michigan State. Hodges tied his season-high with six stops (five solo) against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl, including 1.5 tackles for loss. He was on the field for 253 snaps, despite missing four games, topped by 49 against Florida and 45 against Indiana.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

The hard-hitting Hodges saw action in every game on defense and special teams, making three tackles, with one stop each against Syracuse, Eastern Illinois and Northwestern. He began the season at safety, but was shifted to linebacker after the Temple game following a rash of injuries to the unit. He was on the field for 128 snaps, led by 21 against Eastern Illinois and 15 in the Land Grant Trophy win at Michigan State. He enrolled in January 2009 and was among eight true freshmen to see the field in 2009.

> High School

Hodges was a standout for Coach Glenn Howard at Paulsboro HS. He played safety and quarterback and returned kicks. A team captain, he was selected first-team All-South Jersey and first-team all-conference after his junior and senior seasons. Scout.com ranked him as the nation's No. 4 outside linebacker. He recorded 61 tackles and grabbed one interception his senior season. A three-year starter at quarterback, Hodges ran for 705 yards on 99 carries and threw for 695 yards and 10 touchdowns. He was instrumental in helping Paulsboro win two South Jersey Group I titles and four Colonial Conference Patriot Division championships. Captain of the wrestling and track and field teams, Hodges finished his junior wrestling season third in the state with a 40-1 record.

HOWLE

6-0 > 289 > Jr./So. Eligible
Center > Wake Forest, N.C.

With the graduation of 2010 starter Doug Klopacz, Ty Howle should be among the primary challengers for time at center. He finished spring drills No. 2 on the depth chart and will resume his bid when preseason camp begins. The talented and intelligent Howle has good size and has made very good progress during his two years in the program. Howle is among the squad's top students, owning a 3.75 grade-point average following the spring semester. The Dean's List student earned Academic All-Big Ten honors last fall and is a potential CoSIDA Academic All-America candidate. An all-state center at Bunn HS in the Winston-Salem area, Howle shared the 2011 Frank Patrick Total Commitment Award with Mike Farrell.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Howle played in every game, handling snapping duties on PAT attempts and field goals. The Dean's List student compiled a 3.67 grade-point average for the 2011 spring semester and gained Academic All-Big Ten honors in the 2010 fall semester.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Howle enrolled in the University in January 2009, but did not play.

> High School

Howle played center for his father, David Howle, at Bunn HS. He was a two-time first-team all-state and all-conference honoree. Named to the ESPN 150 Watch List, Howle was rated the No. 11 center in the nation by Scout.com. A 2008 National Old Spice Red Zone Player-of-the-Year, Howle was named a Carolina Panthers Community Captain in 2008. He was selected to play in the 2008 Shrine Bowl of the Carolinas all-star game, pitting North Carolina against South Carolina. Howle also threw the shot put and discus as a member of the track and field team. He was on the honor roll and compiled a 3.8 grade-point average.

JONES

6-3 > 316 > So./So. Eligible
Defensive Line > Johnson City, N.Y.

The coaching staff held true freshman DaQuan Jones out of the initial four games of 2010 for a possible redshirt season, but his play in practice and potential soon brought him to the field. He made his Nittany Lion debut in the Big Ten-opener at Iowa and played in the final nine games, adding depth to a defensive line that sustained several key injuries. Jones has made significant strides during his first year and will enter preseason camp with an opportunity to earn a starting assignment at one of the defensive end spots. The former Johnson City HS standout has a challenging combination of size and quickness in the trenches.

> 2010 > Freshman Season

The coaching staff held Jones out of the initial four games for a possible redshirt season, but his play in practice and potential got him on the field. He made his debut in the Big Ten-opener at Iowa and played in the final nine games. Jones played tackle most of the season, but was forced to play defensive end against Illinois in his second game, when injuries knocked three ends from the field. One of seven true freshmen to play, Jones made six tackles, with two tackles for loss and a sack. Jones had a season-high three hits at Ohio State, including a tackle for minus-three yards. He made two solo stops against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl, including a sack for minus-four yards. He saw action on 168 snaps, topped by 58 against Illinois.

> High School

Rated as the No. 2 offensive lineman by Rivals.com, Jones was a standout on both sides of the ball for Coach Fred Deinhardt at Johnson City HS. Pittsburgh area prep standout quarterback Paul Jones was one of five future Nittany Lions selected to play in the 2010 U.S. Army All-American Bowl. Within days after the early-January all-star contest, Jones enrolled in classes at Penn State and made significant strides during his redshirt season. The strong and athletic Jones spent last fall gaining experience in practice and helping the defense in its preparations as the foreign team's primary quarterback. The former Sto-Rox HS All-American brings great arm strength, instincts and mobility to the field. With a pair of spring practice sessions under his belt, the multi-talented Jones is looking forward to challenging for playing time this fall. He is among 17 returning Nittany Lions from Western Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Jones was the primary quarterback on the foreign team, preparing the defense each week in practice. He enrolled in the University in January 2010. Jones had an impressive collegiate debut in front of the 55,000 fans in the stands, Nittany Nation and an ESPN2 audience. He tossed the 2010 Blue-White game's only two touchdowns, both to Shawney Kersey, leading the Blue team to victory in the annual intrasquad scrimmage. Jones was 5-of-8 for 67 yards, with both scoring strikes to Kersey covering 18 yards.

> High School

Scout.com rated Jones the No. 2 prep quarterback in the nation, while playing for Coach Jason Ruscitto at Sto-Rox HS. Rivals.com ranked Jones the nation's No. 8 prep signal-caller. He was selected to play in the 2010 U.S. Army All-American Bowl, was a Pittsburgh Post-Gazette Fabulous 22 member and All-WPIAL. Despite missing part of his senior season with an injury, Jones completed 112-of-215 passes for 1,667 yards and 16 touchdowns, leading the Class AA Vikings to a 7-2 record. During his junior year, he threw for 2,020 yards and 24 scores. Over his standout career, he passed for 5,667 yards and 60 touchdowns. He also was captain of the basketball and baseball teams.

ALEX KENNEY
6-0 > 192 > So./Fr. Eligible
Cornerback > State College, Pa.

Another member of Penn State's dynamic 2010 recruiting class ready to make an impact this fall is cornerback Alex Kenney. A SuperPrep All-American and state track record-holder in the 60 meters, Kenney spent his redshirt season as a wide receiver on the foreign team, but was shifted to the secondary prior to spring drills. With 2011 seniors D'Anton Lynn and Chaz Powell and junior Stephon Morris seeing most of the playing time last year, opportunities will abound for Kenney to gain immediate experience by working his way into the rotation. He and Mike Wallace may battle for the top reserve spot behind Lynn. Kenney's speed, athleticism and instincts also could provide opportunities for him to have an impact on special teams. This past winter, Kenney was a sprinter on the Penn State indoor track and field team for Coach Beth Alford-Sullivan. His best performance in the 60 meters was a team-best :06.96 at the Big Ten Indoor Championships. Kenney's top time in the 200 was :22.08 at the Sykes-Sabock Challenge Cup. Kenney comes from a family of Penn Staters and athletes. His parents are Penn State graduates and his sister, Lauren, will be a freshman on the Nittany Lions' track and field team this year. An older brother, Matthew, was a three-year football letterman at Cornell. Kenney brought a 3.23 grade-point average into the spring semester and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate. Kenney and senior linebacker Nate Stupar were prep teammates at State College Area HS.

Kenney was a nine-time all-state football and track honoree at State College Area HS. Playing for Coach Al Wolski, Kenney was selected PA Football News Class AAAA all-state his final three years. He was named a four-star recruit by Rivals.com, Scout.com, and ESPN.com and was selected the Old Spice Red Zone Player-of-the-Year in Pennsylvania and a SuperPrep All-American. Highlights of his 2009 senior season include being named first-team all-state and a first-team Mid-Penn Conference all-star on offense, defense and as a kick returner for the second consecutive year. As a senior, Kenney ran for 1,175 yards, had 475 receiving yards and totaled 29 touchdowns, while also grabbing 12 interceptions (returning three for scores). A 2010 Big 33 Classic selection, he scored 56 career touchdowns. The 2008 U.S. Army All-American nominee gained more than 1,400 all-purpose yards, averaging 13 yards per carry, and scored 13 touchdowns as a junior. Kenney compiled more than 1,000 all-purpose yards and scored 11 times as a sophomore. He was a 14-time Pennsylvania state track medalist, finishing second in the 100 meters (:10.63) and third in the 200 (:21.42) at the 2010 State Championships. He also holds the state indoor record in the 60 meters (:6.80), set in 2010. Kenney left State College Area HS owning seven school track and field records. Kenney received the Power of PAWS Academic Leadership award, the Kevin Dare Award and was on the honor roll.

He has two siblings, Matthew and Lauren. Matthew was a three-year football letterman at Cornell and Lauren played high school soccer and was the 2011 state gold medalist in the javelin. She will be a freshman on the Penn State women's track and field team in 2011-12. Kenney enjoys skiing, skateboarding and playing video games. He is enrolled in the College of the Liberal Arts and owned a 3.23 grade-point average after the spring semester. Born September 2, 1991 in State College, Pa.

PENN STATE FOOTBALL WEEKEND:
"The Great Show"

A Penn State home football weekend topped the list of Sports Illustrated on Campus magazine's "102 More Things To Do Before Graduation," and Nittany Lion football coach Joe Paterno was on the cover of the October 27, 2005 issue.

SI on Campus not only named Penn State the nation's top college football game-day location, but called Penn State home football games, "The Greatest Show In College Sports."

The honor was the second in 2005 for Penn State's loyal and enthusiastic fans. In voting conducted by SI.com, Penn State was selected the nation's premier college or professional football tailgating venue. Penn State defeated Texas, Washington and LSU to win the collegiate title and defeated the Buffalo Bills to capture the overall distinction as the nation's top tailgating location.

Penn State has one of the nation's most energetic and dedicated fan bases, with fans starting to arrive in their recreational vehicles as early as Thursday morning for home games. Beaver Stadium's capacity of 106,572-plus is the nation's second-largest. Penn State has been ranked in the top four in attendance in the nation for each of the past 20 years.

FIFTEEN FIRST-TEAM ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS® IN PAST FIVE YEARS

For the third consecutive year, the Penn State football program was at the head of the class in Capital One Academic All-America® selections. Senior guard Stefen Wisniewski became the first Penn State football student-athlete to earn Academic All-America® three times, with first-team nods in 2009 and 2010.

Senior linebacker Chris Colasanti and defensive end Pete Massaro also were first-team Academic All-Americans® in 2010.

A program-record five Nittany Lions were selected to the 2008 Academic All-America® team. Penn State has compiled a nation's best 15 Academic All-Americans® over the past five years, with 13 first-team honorees.

During Joe Paterno's tenure, Penn State has had 47 Capital One Academic All-Americans®, with 37 achieving first-team honors. The Nittany Lions' 49 Academic All-Americans® all-time are No. 3 in the nation among Football Bowl Subdivision programs.

81 SHAWNEY KERSEY

6-1 > 203 > Jr./So. Eligible
Wide Receiver > Woodbury, N.J.

Shawney Kersey will remember the first touch of his Nittany Lion career, as he zipped 24 yards on a reverse at No. 1 Alabama in the second game of the 2010 season. Kersey and the coaching staff will be looking for similar big plays this year, when the quick and athletic wide receiver should have an opportunity to play a larger role for the offense. With the graduation of Brett Brackett and Graham Zug, the former Woodbury HS standout could challenge for a starting assignment in Penn State's three- and four-wide sets. Kersey has good hands, speed and work-ethic and also could see more duty as a kick returner. He is one of seven returning Nittany Lions from New Jersey.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Kersey made contributions as a wide receiver and on special teams, appearing in 10 games. He delivered a big 24-yard gain on a reverse against top-ranked Alabama on the first touch of his career. He returned a punt against Iowa and made a reception for two yards in the win at Minnesota. Kersey delivered a 26-yard kickoff return in the fourth quarter at Ohio State. He was on the field for 150 plays, including 21 snaps at Iowa. He hauled in a pair of 18-yard touchdown passes from Paul Jones to help lead the Blue team to victory in the 2010 Blue-White game.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

As a senior at Woodbury HS under Coach Zack Valentine, Kersey missed a portion of the season due to injury. An All-Group I second-team selection, Kersey caught 35 passes for 534 yards and four touchdowns his junior season, averaging 18.7 yards per catch. He also recorded 55 tackles and three interceptions.

72 KHAMRONE KOLB

6-5 > 327 > So./Fr. Eligible
Guard > Burke, Va.

Khamrone Kolb is looking forward to the start of preseason practice and the opportunity to resume competing for playing time on the offensive line. Kolb has good physical attributes and skills and made significant progress during his redshirt year. He will be seeking to crack the rotation at guard on an offensive line that returns three starters.

17 CHRISTIAN KUNTZ

6-4 > 197 > Jr./So. Eligible
Wide Receiver > Camp Hill, Pa.

Christian Kuntz is looking to shake the injury bug that has significantly slowed his progress and opportunities to be a contributor. During his first two years, the skilled receiver suffered injuries to his knee and collarbone, but his confidence and determination remain unbroken. Possessing excellent size and an unshakable demeanor, the former Trinity HS standout will enter preseason practice looking to work his way into the wideout rotation. He suffered a knee injury in preseason camp last year that delayed his Nittany Lion debut until the victory over Michigan. But, in practice leading up to the Lions' battle with Ohio State, he suffered a broken collarbone, which ended his year. With those issues in the past, the hard-working player with a great attitude is ready to emerge as a consistent contributor in 2011. Kuntz owned a 3.07 cumulative grade-point average following the spring semester and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate. He is among 21 returning Nittany Lions from Central Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Kuntz's first season on the field was greatly impacted by two injuries. He suffered a preseason knee injury that knocked him out of the initial five games of the campaign. After rehabilitating the injury and returning to form in practice, Kuntz saw action in the win over Michigan. But, in practice prior to the Ohio State game, he suffered a broken collarbone that ended his season.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

Kuntz had a standout career at Trinity HS. A three-year starter and letterman for Coach Jeff Boger, Kuntz rushed for 600 yards and eight touchdowns his senior season. He also tallied 130 receiving yards on five receptions and scored two touchdowns. Kuntz also grabbed six interceptions and was named all-state, Platinum 33 and All-Mid-Penn Conference. A team captain, he competed on the West squad in the East-West All-Star game. A basketball and track standout as well, Kuntz was a member of the district championship team and earned Big 15 honorable-mention for his prowess on the hardwood. He was named track athlete-of-the-year and won state gold medals in the 110 and 300-meter hurdles.

Born September 15, 1990 in Harrisburg, Pa.

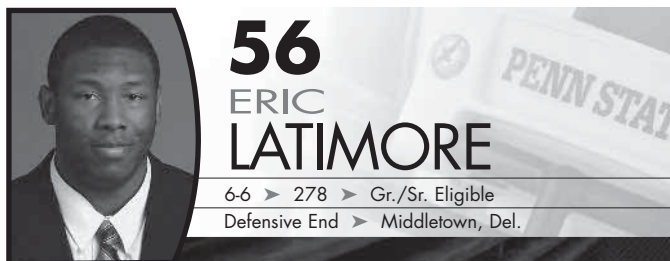

VETERAN SECONDARY RETURNS FOUR STARTERS

The most experienced group on the 2011 Penn State squad will be the secondary. With six players returning that have starting experience, the Nittany Lions will field a talented and experienced secondary. Senior safety Drew Astorino (26 starts) is the most experienced returning player on the roster. He was fourth on the squad with 70 tackles last year.

Senior Nick Sukay returns after a pectoral injury sidelined him for the final seven games of 2010. He tallied 29 stops and tied for the team lead with three interceptions last season. Hard-hitting sophomore Malcolm Willis, who started the final six games at free safety, played a central role in the secondary after Sukay was sidelined. He finished sixth on the team in tackles with 54 stops.

Senior D'Anton Lynn will anchor one of the cornerback spots. Over the last two seasons, he has evolved into a consistent lock-down defensive back. Lynn finished second on the team with 75 tackles in 2010 and also grabbed three interceptions to tie for team-high honors. Senior Chaz Powell and junior Stephon Morris have starting experience and will be the top contenders to start at the other corner spot.

ERIC LATIMORE

Defensive End > Middletown, Del.

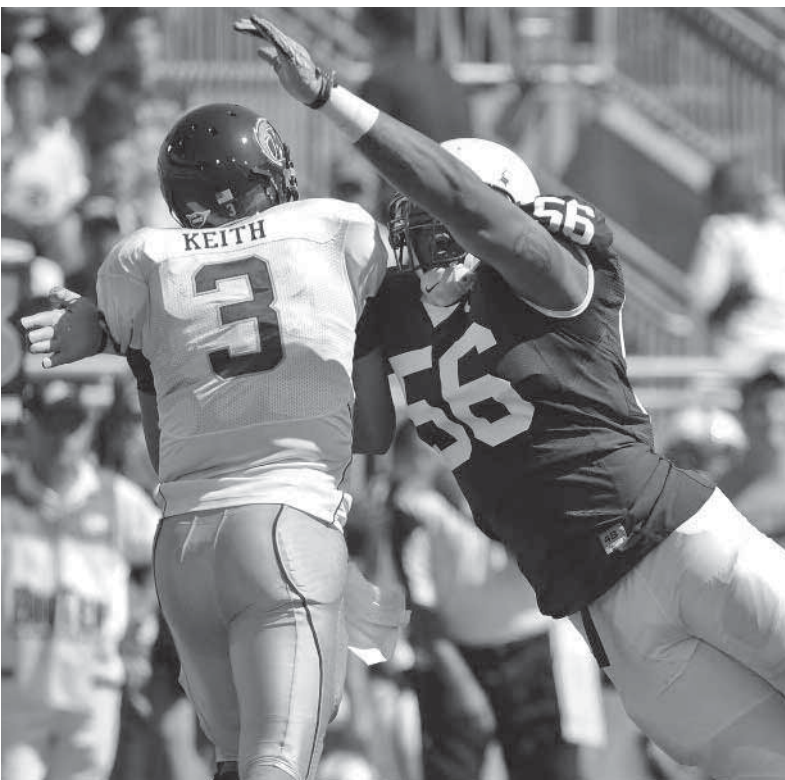

Having earned his degree this past May to culminate four years of dedicated work in the classroom, Eric Latimore is anxious to return to educating opposing quarterbacks and running backs about his play-making abilities. Latimore was among the Nittany Lions who were swept up in the wave of injuries last season. The talented and physically imposing defensive end appeared in each of the first five games, including three starts, before suffering a season-ending wrist injury against Illinois. One of the squad's most experienced and tenacious players, he saw limited duty in the spring and should be 100 percent in time for preseason camp. Latimore has demonstrated the ability to make big plays for the Nittany Lions' defense. He recorded 3.5 sacks in 2009, the third-highest total on the team, and had 2.5 tackles for loss in the initial five contests last year before his injury. Latimore's hard work in the weight room and on the practice field has helped him make substantial progress and emerge as a disruptive force capable of making numerous big plays. A first-team all-state selection at Middletown HS, he is a highly-skilled and mobile athlete, with good speed and instincts. Last season's injuries to Latimore and Jack Crawford enabled several younger players to gain experience at defensive end and the competition should be fierce for starting assignments. He is among five Nittany Lion returnees from Delaware.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Latimore played in the initial five games, with three starts. But, on the first play against Illinois, he suffered a broken wrist, which required surgery and ended his season. He made six tackles, with 2.5 tackles for loss, for the season. Latimore made two solo stops against Kent State, including one minus-yardage hit, and posted solo tackles against Temple and Iowa, with a TFL. He saw action on 157 snaps during the first five games, led by 43 at Alabama, before suffering the wrist injury.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Latimore seized the opportunity to earn significant playing time, seeing action in every game, with five starts. He made 21 tackles, recording 6.0 tackles for loss for minus-22 yards, and one pass breakup. Latimore also recorded 3.5 sacks for minus-18 yards, the third-highest total on the team. He started the initial three games of the season, as well as the Illinois and Eastern Illinois contests, battling Jerome Hayes for the starting nod throughout the season. Latimore made a career-high five tackles in the win at Illinois, including a sack. He made four hits each against Iowa and Ohio State and recorded sacks in the wins over Akron and Northwestern. Latimore added two tackles and forced a fumble on the final play in the thrilling Capital One Bowl victory over LSU. He played on 376 snaps, led by 58 against Iowa and 44 against Illinois.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

Latimore battled for the top reserve spot behind senior Josh Gaines and saw action in nine games for the Big Ten Champions. He recorded seven tackles — six of which were solo stops — and had one sack. He made two solo stops in the season-opener against Coastal Carolina, including a sack for minus-three yards. He also made two tackles each against Syracuse and Temple. He saw action on 96 snaps, topped by 18 in each of the first three games of the campaign.

> 2007 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

Latimore was a three-year starter for Coach Mark Delpercio at Middletown HS. A team captain, he was selected first-team all-state and first-team all-conference. He also was a first-team All-Northeast selection by Scout.com. He was sidelined by a shoulder injury during a portion of his senior season, but recorded 24 tackles, 7.5 sacks and forced two fumbles. As a junior, he made 50 tackles and had 12 sacks, helping his team finish as state runners-up. He played in the 2006 Blue-Gold game. Latimore also was a member of back-to-back state championship basketball teams, with the 2004-05 squad compiling a 26-1 record.

> Personal

Full name is Eric Latimore II. He is the son of Eric and Kim Latimore and has two sisters. Latimore is related to Philadelphia basketball legend Sonny Hill. He enjoys walking on the beach. Latimore is enrolled in the crime, law and justice program. Born February 16, 1987.

NITTANY LIONS SECOND IN NCAA ATTENDANCE SEVEN TIMES IN THIS DECADE

Penn State fans continue to prove why they are regarded as among the best in the nation as they flocked to Beaver Stadium, the nation's second-largest facility, in near-record numbers last year.

Sports Illustrated has called Beaver Stadium on football Saturdays "The Greatest Show in College Football" and 729,636 fans played an active part during the 2010 season. Among the most vociferous and passionate fans are more than 21,000 students who were rated No. 1 in the nation by ESPN the Magazine in 2008.

Nittany Lion fans ranked third in NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision (Division I-A) football attendance during the 2010 season. Penn State has finished among the top four in FBS attendance for 20 consecutive years.

Penn State's loyal and enthusiastic fans compiled an average of 104,234 for seven home games in 2010, according to figures released by the NCAA.

Penn State's 104,234 average placed third among the 639 NCAA members surveyed, including 120 in the Football Bowl Subdivision (Division I-A). Michigan (111,825 avg.) led, followed by Ohio State (105,278), Penn State, Alabama (101,821) and Texas (100,654). Tennessee (99,781) was sixth, followed by Georgia (92,746), LSU (92,718), Florida (90,511) and Auburn (86,087).

Since the 1991 season, the Nittany Lions have finished second in NCAA attendance in 1994, 2001, '02, '03, '06, '07, '08 and '09, third in 1991, '92, '93, '95, '96, '97, '98, '99 and 2010 and fourth in 2000, '04 and '05.

4 EVAN LEWIS

5-10 > 181 > Sr./Jr. Eligible
Wide Receiver > Gettysburg, Pa.

The dedicated hard work and improvement of wide receiver Evan Lewis gave him the opportunity to play in the Nittany Lions' wins over Youngstown State and Kent State last season. But, like numerous other teammates, his most significant contributions to the success of the team came on the practice field as a member of the foreign team. During preparations for last year's primetime game with Michigan, the coaching staff asked the quick and athletic Lewis to portray Wolverines' quarterback Denard Robinson, dreadlocks included. Robinson had a big game on the ground, but thanks to Lewis' efforts in practice, the Penn State defense limited Robinson to 11-of-23 passing and one touchdown, as the Nittany Lions captured an electric 41-31 nationally televised win. The 2007 Associated Press PIAA Class AAA Player-of-the-Year, Lewis began his collegiate career as a cornerback. He continued to make strong strides during spring practice and should have an opportunity to crack the wideout rotation this fall. Lewis handled some of the kicking last spring and connected on his only field goal attempt (20 yards) in the Blue-White game. Lewis owned a 3.38 grade-point average after the 2011 spring semester and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate. Lewis and Nittany Lion defensive end Brian Irvin were teammates at Gettysburg HS.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Lewis made his Nittany Lions debut in the wins over Youngstown State and Kent State. He played a significant role in helping the Penn State defense prepare for Michigan by portraying Wolverine quarterback Denard Robinson in practice the week of the game. The Nittany Lions won, 41-31, limiting Robinson to 11-of-23 passing.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Lewis was the 2007 Associated Press PIAA Class AAA Player-of-the-Year under Coach Sam Leedy at Gettysburg HS. A three-year starting quarterback, he earned Associated Press Class AAA and Mid-Penn Conference first-team accolades. His senior year, he threw for 2,765 yards, 31 touchdowns and only seven interceptions, leading his squad to the 2007 Keystone Division championship. During his outstanding career, Lewis threw for 6,194 yards and 67 touchdowns, completing 59 percent of his passes. He also was the team's kicker and punter. He and Nittany Lion defensive end Brian Irvin were teammates at Gettysburg. Lewis also was a three-year sprinter on the track and field team and played two years of basketball.

8 D'ANTON LYNN

Cornerback > Celina, Texas

Football has been a big part of D'Anton Lynn's life since he was a child growing up in a state rich with gridiron talent. One of three Nittany Lion returnees from Texas, Lynn is following in the footsteps of his father by establishing himself as a standout football player. His father, Anthony Lynn, was an All-Southwest Conference running back at Texas Tech, captured two Super Bowl rings with the Denver Broncos and is in his third season as the running backs coach for the New York Jets. An honorable-mention All-Big Ten selection the past two years, D'Anton Lynn has been one of the most unheralded, but productive members of the Nittany Lion defense the past two seasons. A probable 2011 all-conference candidate, Lynn quietly and effectively goes about his business of covering some of the nation's top wideouts. The Phil Steele's College Football Preview Preseason All-Big Ten third-team selection opened 2011 with a strong effort in the Outback Bowl. Lynn intercepted a Florida pass on the opening play from scrimmage to set up a touchdown and pounced on a fumble for a touchback. The vastly talented, intelligent and instinctive Lynn has started all 26 games over the past two seasons. He was tied with safety Nick Sukay with a team-high three interceptions last season. A quick, versatile and hard-hitting student-athlete, Lynn brings great size, intensity and attitude to the field. He again will play a significant leadership and production role for a secondary that could start four seniors and rank among the Big Ten's best. An Associated Press Class 3A first-team all-state selection at Celina HS, Lynn joins Anthony Fera and Frank Figueroa as returning Nittany Lions from the Lone Star State.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Lynn started every game for the second straight season, giving him 26 consecutive starts at cornerback. He was tied with Nick Sukay for the team lead with three interceptions and earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors for the second straight year. Lynn began 2011 with a strong effort against Florida in the Outback Bowl on New Year's Day. On the Gators' first play from scrimmage, he grabbed his third interception of the season to set up a touchdown for a 7-0 Penn State lead. Late in the first period, he alertly pounced on a fumble in the end zone for a touchback. Lynn made four stops against the Gators, including a tackle for loss. For the season, he was second on the team with 75 tackles (38 solo), including 2.5 tackles for loss. In addition to his three interceptions, he had four pass breakups and a fumble recovery. Lynn was instrumental in Penn State ranking second in the Big Ten and No. 16 in the nation in pass defense. Lynn recorded a then-career-high nine tackles at No. 1 Alabama. He grabbed the first interception of his career in the first quarter against Kent State to set up a touchdown drive in the 24-0 win over the Golden Flashes. Lynn tied his career-best with nine stops at Iowa and recorded seven tackles against Illinois, including 0.5 TFL. He recorded a career-high 10 tackles (six solo) in the win at Minnesota and made the defensive play of the game with an end zone interception and 58-yard return. On the next play, Matt McGloin fired a 42-yard touchdown pass to Derek Moyer for 21-7 lead. Lynn also had a 0.5 TFL and pass breakup against the Golden Gophers. He had five hits (four solo) and two pass breakups in the primetime win over Michigan and four stops with 0.5 TFL in the historic comeback victory over Northwestern. Lynn made a team-high eight stops at Ohio State and had eight hits the next week in the win over Indiana. He recorded five tackles against No. 10 Michigan State. Lynn saw action on 908 snaps, fourth-highest on the squad, topped by 92 at Minnesota and 85 against Florida. Lynn began the season by being among three Nittany Lion football student-athletes to represent Penn State at the Big Ten Kickoff activities.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Lynn won a starting assignment at one of the cornerback posts and held onto it throughout the season. He garnered honorable-mention All-Big Ten accolades and was instrumental in Penn State's Top 10 defense. Lynn made 35 tackles (26 solo), eighth on the team and tops among cornerbacks. He recorded 3.5 tackles for loss, including half a sack against Iowa, and five pass breakups. Lynn stepped into a unit that had some uncertainty at the start of the season due to inexperience and was a productive and stabilizing factor. He recorded a career-high eight tackles (five solo) in the 34-13 win at Northwestern, helping hold the Wildcats to less than half their season scoring average. Lynn made six solo stops in the Senior Day win over Indiana to help ensure that corners A.J. Wallace and Knowledge Timmons were victorious in their final home game. Lynn helped hold Minnesota's Eric Decker, the Big Ten's leading receiver at the time, to just one catch in a 20-0 Homecoming win over the Golden Gophers. He recorded three solo tackles, with a minus-yardage play, in the 42-14 win at Michigan State, helping hold the Spartans to 94 rushing yards and 17 points below their season scoring figure. He had five hits in the win over Eastern Illinois. He was on the field for 790 snaps last season, the team's eighth-highest total among returnees, topped by 81 against Indiana and 79 in the win at Illinois.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Lynn made his collegiate debut against Temple, returning a punt, and played in nine of the last 10 contests on defense and special teams. He was one of four true freshmen to see action during the Big Ten Championship season. He emerged as the top reserve to Tony Davis at one of the cornerback spots. Lynn made three tackles during the season, with two pass breakups and a punt return for 10 yards against Temple. He made two hits in the 48-7 win at Wisconsin and one stop against the Owls. Lynn was on the field for 92 snaps, led by 20 against Temple.

WARNER ENSHRINED IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Former Penn State All-America tailback Curt Warner was enshrined in the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame on July 17, 2010 at the Hall of Fame's Enshrinement Festival.

Warner is the 22nd member of the Penn State football family to be enshrined in the Hall of Fame, joining Joe Paterno, four former coaches and 16 players. Warner was inducted into the Hall on December 8, 2009 at the NFF's 52nd annual awards dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City.

The Nittany Lions' career yardage leader until 2010 with 3,398 yards, Warner led the Nittany Lions in rushing in 1980, '81 and '82, helping Penn State capture its first National Championship in 1982. When his brilliant career ended, he owned 42 school records. His 18 100-yard rushing games remain a Penn State record. Warner is the only Nittany Lion running back to be selected a two-time first-team All-American.

PETE

Defensive End ► Newtown Square, Pa.

Having waited two years to make his Penn State debut, Pete Massaro proved to be a disruptive force for opposing offenses in 2010. Throughout the year, offensive linemen struggled containing the talented and instinctive defensive end as he fought through and past the opposition, posting 37 tackles, including 3.5 sacks. But, once again, a torn anterior cruciate ligament did what so few of his opponents could do last year — stop the relentless pass rusher in his tracks. For the second time since arriving in Happy Valley, Massaro will miss the entire season after suffering an ACL tear in his left knee during spring practice. During the 2009 Blue-White game, he suffered a torn ACL in his right knee that ended what would have been his redshirt freshman season. Despite the setback, the Marple Newtown HS standout again has taken a great attitude into his rehabilitation and will use his non-stop motor to push himself to be an even better player than he was prior to his most recent injury. The athletic and intelligent Massaro will continue to focus his attention on the classroom while preparing for another comeback in 2012. One of the Big Ten's premier football student-athletes, he was selected a 2010 first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American. Massaro compiled a perfect 4.00 grade-point average during the spring semester, bringing a 3.84 cumulative GPA into the summer. He is among 30 returning Nittany Lions from Eastern and Central Pennsylvania.

► 2010 ► Junior Season

Massaro started the final 11 games at defensive end and was fourth on the team with 8.0 TFL for minus-32 yards. He made 37 tackles (20 solo), with 3.5 sacks (minus-17), one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. He was among the nation's-best three Nittany Lions that earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors. Massaro played in his first career Penn State game in the season-opener with Youngstown State, having missed the 2009 campaign with a serious knee injury. He recorded his first career sack for a loss of nine yards at No. 1 Alabama on the Crimson Tide's closing drive of the first half. In his first career start, Massaro made a tackle for loss in the first quarter of the 24-0 win over Kent State. In his second consecutive start, Massaro forced and recovered the first fumble of his career against Temple. He made three tackles, with 1.5 TFL, including a sack against the Owls. He recorded five tackles (one for a loss) against Illinois. He compiled four solo tackles at Minnesota, including one for a loss, and had two tackles in the win over Michigan. In the historic victory over Northwestern, Massaro recorded two tackles and his third sack of the season. He led all defensive linemen with five tackles against Ohio State. Massaro made two stops, including a half-sack for a loss of two yards against Indiana. He had three tackles against Michigan State and made four hits (three solo) against Florida in the Outback Bowl. Massaro also garnered Academic All-Big Ten accolades. He was on the field for 684 snaps last season, topped by 88 in the win at Minnesota and 72 in the primetime win over Michigan.

He was selected first-team All-Delco twice and was honored by the Maxwell Football Club. A co-captain as a senior, Massaro made 47 tackles, including six sacks, with six quarterback hurries and caused two fumbles. As a junior, he recorded 52 tackles, with 14 tackles for losses, four sacks and two forced fumbles. Massaro played defensive end and was a kick snapper in the 2008 Big 33 Classic. A three-year starter in wrestling, Massaro was the Class AAA Central, Section VI and District I champion as a senior and won the Guy Florio Most Valuable Wrestler Award. He also played three years of baseball. Massaro was a member of the National Honor Society and Annenberg Science Symposium, won the Outstanding Contribution to Marple Newtown High School Award and received numerous scholar-athlete honors.

63 ALEX MATEAS

6-3 ► 302 ► So./Fr. Eligible
Guard ► Ottawa, Ontario

Alex Mateas made significant strides in his first year as a Nittany Lion and playing football in the U.S. The Ottawa, Canada native took a redshirt season last fall and gained substantial experience as a member of the foreign team. He should have an opportunity to compete for the top reserve spot at left guard behind returning starter Johnnie Troutman. Mateas has good size and skills and is working hard to improve and enhance his opportunities to compete for time on the offensive line this year.

42 MICHAEL MAUTI

Linebacker ► Mandeville, La.

Michael Mauti enters the 2011 season eager to leave behind a couple of injuries that have prevented him from fully capitalizing on his immense talent and instincts. Atop the depth chart at middle linebacker following spring practice, Mauti could be poised to take his place among the pantheon of "Linebacker U." greats during his junior season. A potential All-America candidate, Sporting News and Phil Steele's College Football Preview selected Mauti preseason first-team All-Big Ten. A fierce competitor and one of the team's hardest workers, he possesses tremendous linebacking acumen and the athleticism and speed to chase down a ball-carrier or blanket a running back or tight end in pass coverage. Last year, Mauti returned to the field after a serious knee injury sidelined him in 2009. He made 67 tackles and recorded 5.5 tackles for loss (minus-18), with two sacks, despite missing time due to injuries. Hard-hitting and tenacious, Mauti is a gifted and highly-productive tackler in the same vein as recent Penn State "Linebacker U." standouts and current NFL players Paul Posluszny, Dan Connor, Navorro Bowman and Sean Lee. A U.S. Army All-American at Mandeville HS, Michael and his older brother, Patrick (2005-09), are part of the long line of father-son tandems to play for Joe Paterno, who also coached their dad, Rich, in the mid-1970s.

► 2010 ► Junior Season

Returning from a serious knee injury, Mauti was highly-productive while battling through a couple of nagging injuries. He finished fifth on the team with 67 tackles. Playing in 11 games, with seven starts, he recorded 5.5 tackles for loss (minus-18), with two sacks and a pass breakup. Mauti rewrote his career-high in tackles in three consecutive games during the season. He was selected Big Ten Co-Defensive Player-of-the-Week against Northwestern, after making a career-high 11 tackles and a career-best 3.0 TFL in the historic comeback win. In his first game since the 2009 Rose Bowl due to a serious knee injury, Mauti made five tackles against Youngstown State. He recorded six hits at No. 1 Alabama in his first career start. Mauti tied his then-career-high with seven tackles in the 24-0 win over Kent State. He recorded seven tackles in the win over Temple, with five hits in the second half, helping the Nittany Lions hold the Owls to 71 yards and no points in the final two quarters. His seven tackles tied for the team-high. He made six tackles, including four solos, in the Big Ten-opener at Iowa and recorded his first career sack, taking down quarterback Ricky Stanzi for a five-yard loss. Mauti did not see action in the Big Ten home-opener with Illinois due to a sprained ankle. He broke his career-high in tackles at Minnesota, leading the linebacking corps with eight stops, including five solos and 0.5 TFL for a loss of two yards. Mauti rewrote his career-best in hits for the second consecutive week, totaling a team-high 10 in the primetime win over Michigan. For the third straight game, Mauti broke his career-high in tackles, recording 11 against Northwestern to share Big Ten Defensive Player-of-the-Week honors. He made a career-best three tackles for minus-eight yards in helping Penn State rally from a 21-0 deficit to post a 35-21 decision for Joe Paterno's 400th win. Mauti made one tackle at Ohio State, but left the game in the second quarter with a shoulder injury, which sidelined him against Indiana. In limited action against No. 10 Michigan State, he recorded two tackles. Mauti compiled four stops against Florida in the Outback Bowl, with 0.5 tackles for loss. He saw action on 476 snaps, topped by 59 against Florida and 58 in the wins over Minnesota and Northwestern.

➤ 2009 > Sophomore Season

Mauti tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee during an August practice, sidelining him for the season. He took a medical redshirt season.

➤ 2008 > Freshman Season

Mauti proved to be an immediate asset for the defense and special teams after graduating from high school early and enrolling in the University in January 2008. One of three true freshmen to play in every game, he made 26 tackles, with one minus-yardage stop and a fumble hit. He made a season-high seven tackles against Michigan, including one for a two-yard loss. He delivered one of the biggest hits of the season when he leveled Wolverine Sam McGuffie on a kickoff return, forcing a fumble. The Wolverines recovered the pigskin, but Mauti's hit charged the Nittany Lion defense and faithful in erasing a 10-0 deficit to win, 46-17. Mauti also made three stops each in the wins over Indiana and Michigan State and had two hits in four other games. Mauti saw action on 249 snaps, led by 33 against the Wolverines and 30 against Southern California in the Rose Bowl. He made four tackles in the 2009 Blue-White game and was the recipient of the Jim O'Hora Award, presented to the defense's most improved player during spring practice.

➤ High School

A hard-hitting linebacker for Coach Guy LeCompte at Mandeville HS, Mauti was selected to the 2008 U.S. Army All-American Bowl. He finished his senior season with 121 tackles, 24 for loss, with four sacks. He also caused four turnovers, including two forced fumbles and two interceptions, which he returned for touchdowns. He was ranked among the ESPN.com Top 150 recruits in the nation and was rated a Top 20 inside linebacker by Rivals.com.

➤ Personal

Full name is Michael D. Mauti. He is the son of Rich and Nancy Mauti. He has an older brother, Patrick, and sister, Rachel. Patrick was a wide receiver for the Nittany Lions from 2005-09. Their father was a letterman at Penn State in 1975 and '76 as a wide receiver and played for the National Football League New Orleans Saints (1977-83) and Washington Redskins (1984). Michael is majoring in crime, law and justice. Born January 19, 1990 in New Orleans, La.

MATT
McGLOIN

 Quarterback > Scranton, Pa.

Matt McGloin wasted no time in making the most of an opportunity to lead the Nittany Lion offense in 2010. Entering the Minnesota game with a 14-7 lead, McGloin tossed a 42-yard touchdown strike to a streaking Derek Moyer for his first career completion on his third career pass attempt. From there, the Scranton native provided a spark to lead Penn State's surge in the second half of the season, starting five of the last six games. He became the first Penn State quarterback to register back-to-back 300-yard passing performances (315 vs. Indiana and 312 vs. Michigan State). The hard-working and enthusiastic McGloin made significant progress throughout last year and will again vie to play a significant role for the offense in 2011. He and Rob Bolden battled for the starting job throughout spring practice and a decision on who will be the Nittany Lions' starter under center won't be made until August or just before the first game. The former West Scranton HS standout is a poised, confident and personable young man, with excellent skills and instincts. The Nittany Lions rallied around his talents, athleticism and ability to make plays, as McGloin provided a spark with the team standing at 3-3 entering the second half of the season. He has a strong arm and has demonstrated the ability to use his feet to avoid a loss. He threw for 1,548 yards, completing nearly 55 percent of his passes last year. McGloin was instrumental in leading Penn State back from a 21-0 deficit against Northwestern. He orchestrated a 91-yard scoring drive in just 47 seconds late in the first half, which kick-started a 35-point rally. He threw a career-high four touchdown passes to play a large role in Joe Paterno's 400th career win. McGloin also became the first former walk-on quarterback to start under Paterno in the Nittany Lions' 41-31 win over Michigan. McGloin and Nittany Lion tackle Eric Shrive were prep teammates at West Scranton HS.

➤ 2010 > Junior Season

McGloin started five of the last six games and sparked the Nittany Lions' second-half surge. He became the first quarterback in Penn State history with consecutive 300-yard passing games (315 vs. Indiana and 312 vs. Michigan State). McGloin became just the third signal-caller in Penn State annals with multiple 300-yard games, joining Kerry Collins (4) and Daryll Clark (3). McGloin threw for at least 200 yards in five of the last six games, good for a tie for 10th on the school season 200-yard list. For the season, he was 118-of-215 (54.9) for 1,548 yards, with 14 touchdowns and nine interceptions. He also ran for two touchdowns. The competitive and confident McGloin entered the critical road game at Minnesota in the second quarter when Rob Bolden was injured. McGloin's first career completion was a memorable one, as he found Derek Moyer in stride on a 42-yard scoring strike on the first play after a D'Anton Lynn end zone interception and 58-yard return. Early in the fourth quarter, McGloin lofted the ball into the end zone and Moyer made a superlative catch, giving the Nittany Lions a 31-14 lead. McGloin was 6-of-13 for 76 yards, with two touchdowns and one interception in the win over the Golden Gophers. He made his first career start and directed the Nittany Lions to a thrilling 41-31 primetime win over Michigan, becoming the first former walk-on quarterback to start under Joe Paterno. McGloin set then-career-highs in attempts (28), completions (17) and yards (250). He led Penn State to 27 first downs, 37:29 in time of possession and 10-of-16 on third down conversions. McGloin also led the Nittany Lions to 435 yards, and helped Penn State not commit a turnover for the first time during the season. He led Penn State to scores on 7-of-9 possessions (5 TD, 2 FG) prior to the last possession of the game (took a knee at the Michigan 2 in the final seconds). McGloin got the ball to eight different teammates against the Wolverines. He was 8-of-10 on third down for 108 yards, converting six completions into first downs, including a 20-yard scoring strike to Graham Zug, against Michigan. Rivals.com named McGloin Big Ten Player-of-the-Week after leading Penn State's rally from a 21-0 deficit to a historic 35-21 victory over Northwestern. Down 21-0 late in the second quarter and on their own nine-yard line, McGloin led the Nittany Lions 91 yards in 47 seconds to begin the rally and ignite the Beaver Stadium faithful. Penn State out-scored the Wildcats, 28-0, in the second half, rolling to a season-high 528 yards, gaining 268 passing yards and 260 on the ground. McGloin set career-highs with four touchdown passes, going 18-of-29 to play a substantial role in Paterno's 400th career win. He was 13-of-18 for 141 yards in first half at Ohio State, throwing TD passes to Justin Brown (23 yards) and Derek Moyer for a 14-3 halftime lead. He finished 15-of-30 for 159 yards, with two touchdowns and two interceptions. McGloin had his best career performance in leading Penn State to 496 yards and 36:59 in time of possession in a 41-24 win over Indiana. He threw for a career-high 315 yards, also breaking his career-bests with 22 completions and 31 attempts, good for two touchdowns. His 315 yards were the most by a Nittany Lion since Clark threw for 353 yards in the 2009 season-opener with Akron. The 315 yards passing were tied for the 10th-best mark in Penn State annals with Chuck Fusina, who had 315 yards at North Carolina State in 1977. McGloin directed the Lions on scoring drives of 87 and 99 yards to open the game for a 14-0 lead. He hit Brett Brackett on a 3-yard touchdown pass on the first play of the second quarter and Moyer on a 21-yard scoring strike for a 24-17 lead in the third period. McGloin also connected with Devon Smith on a 45-yard gain for his longest career completion. McGloin became the first Nittany Lion to throw for 300 yards in consecutive games, doing so against No. 10 Michigan State. He re-set his career-highs by going 23-of-43, with two scoring strikes and one interception. McGloin threw for 312 yards, the 12th-best game mark at Penn State, and just three yards off his career-best from a week earlier. McGloin became just the third Penn State quarterback to have at least two 300-yard passing games in his career. He threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to Joe Suhey and a four-yard dart to Moyer, leading the Lions to 19 fourth-quarter points. Making his fifth career start, McGloin was 17-of-41 for 211 yards against Florida in the Outback Bowl, throwing a touchdown pass to Moyer for 7-0 lead. He scored on a two-yard run late in the third quarter to give Penn State a 24-17 lead. He was intercepted five times, a school record, in the 37-24 loss to the Gators. McGloin was on the field for 458 snaps, topped by 82 plays against Florida and 74 each in the wins over Michigan and Indiana.

PLAYER BIOS

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

In his first season on the field, McGloin was a reserve to first-team All-Big Ten quarterback Daryll Clark and gained experience in practice and in selected games. He saw his first collegiate action in the win over Syracuse and had two pass attempts against Eastern Illinois. McGloin also took some snaps in the big victory at Michigan State.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. In the 2009 Blue-White game, McGloin was a combined 9-of-13 for 111 yards and threw two touchdown passes, one for each team. He threw a 19-yard scoring strike to Graham Zug and a 17-yard touchdown pass to J.D. Mason. He also had a 28-yard run for the White team.

> High School

McGloin was a team captain for Coach Mike DeAntona at West Scranton HS. As the starting quarterback, he led his team to two Class AAA district titles and a league title. McGloin was named all-conference, all-region, all-state and to the WNEP-TV 16 Dream Team. A three-year starter, he threw for 5,485 career yards with 58 touchdowns. As a senior, he threw for 2,445 yards and 22 touchdowns. The Scranton Times-Tribune named McGloin its 2007-08 Athlete-of-the-Year and Athlete-of-the-Week three times during his prep career. A talented athlete, McGloin scored more than 1,300 career points in basketball and was a team captain. He earned all-conference accolades on the hardwood and in baseball.

PATERNO RECEIVES NCAA PRESIDENT'S GERALD FORD AWARD

Joe Paterno received the 2011 NCAA President's Gerald R. Ford Award from Mark Emmert at the NCAA Convention in January.

The NCAA President's Gerald R. Ford Award, named in recognition of former President Gerald Ford, honors an individual who has provided significant leadership as an advocate for intercollegiate athletics on a continuous basis over the course of their career.

Paterno is the ninth recipient of the Ford Award. Previous winners include former NCAA President Myles Brand, Billie Jean King, James Frank, Christine Grant, Birch Bayh, John Wooden, William Friday and Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh.

FORTY NITTANY LIONS EARN 3.0 GPA IN FALL SEMESTER

The Penn State football team produced another outstanding academic performance during the Fall 2010 semester, with 40 squad members compiling at least a 3.0 grade-point average. Among the 40 Nittany Lions, 16 earned Dean's List recognition by posting a 3.5 GPA or higher for the semester.

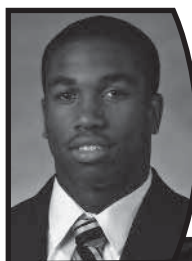

The superlative academic performance brings the number of returning Nittany Lion football student-athletes to 43 who had a cumulative 3.0 GPA through the fall, just off the record total of 46 from the 2004 and 2008 fall semesters.

Three Nittany Lions compiled a perfect 4.0 GPA during the fall semester: freshman defensive end Brad Bars, redshirt freshman guard John Urschel and senior wide receiver Graham Zug. Bars led 14 true freshmen that recorded a 3.0 GPA or higher last fall.

The Nittany Lions had 19 Academic All-Big Ten football honorees during the 2010 season, improving their conference-leading total to 260 since starting conference play in 1993.

12 STEPHON MORRIS

5-8 > 189 > Jr./Jr. Eligible
Cornerback > Greenbelt, Md.

Penn State ranked second in the Big Ten and No. 16 in the nation in pass defense in 2010 and one of the primary contributors to the strong effort against the pass was Stephon Morris. The cornerback saw action in every game, starting in 10, including the first seven and the 2011 Outback Bowl. The multi-talented and athletic Morris is a strong defender and a hard-hitting player. The quick and instinctive player doesn't shy away from contact and has a knack for finding the ball. His 39 tackles in 2010 ranked ninth on the team, while his 28 solo stops were No. 7. Morris likely will continue to battle senior Chaz Powell this season for a starting berth amongst the veteran secondary. The aggressive tackler also should continue to be a strong contributor on special teams. Morris joins Derrick Thomas as the two Nittany Lions who attended Eleanor Roosevelt HS, the alma mater of former Penn State star Derrick Williams. Morris is among nine returning Maryland natives on the squad.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Morris started 10 games, including the first seven and the 2011 Outback Bowl with Florida. Playing in every contest, he recorded 39 tackles (28 solo) to rank ninth on the squad, with 0.5 tackles for loss. His 28 solo stops were No. 7 on the squad. He made two tackles and had a pass breakup in the season-opener with Youngstown State. Morris recorded a team- and career-high nine tackles against Kent State. He posted five-tackle games against Iowa and Minnesota and made three tackles each against Ohio State and Indiana. Morris made two solo stops against the Gators in Tampa. He played on 784 snaps, led by 93 at Minnesota and 91 against Florida.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Morris saw action in all 13 games and logged the most plays among the eight true freshmen who earned playing time. He made 30 tackles (24 solo), grabbed an interception and broke up two passes. He also delivered one hit for a loss at Michigan State, where he made his first career start. With A.J. Wallace injured and out of the lineup, Morris made the most of his first career start in the battle for the Land Grant Trophy. The aggressive defender tied his season-high with five tackles (four solo) and played a significant role in limiting the Spartans to just 14 points, 17 below their average. In the Capital One Bowl against LSU, he tied his season-high by recording five solo tackles in the big 19-17 win. Morris also posted a season-high five stops against Ohio State. He made three solo stops in the 34-13 win at Northwestern and three hits in the Senior Day victory over Indiana. Morris saw his playing time increase in the second half of the season as he became more comfortable, making 23 stops in the final six games. He pulled down his first career interception at Illinois on a Juice Williams' pass, returning it 70 yards on the final play of the first half. In addition to playing a significant role in the secondary, Morris established himself as an impact player on special teams. He was on the field for 505 snaps, the highest total among the 2009 true freshmen, led by 77 in the win at Northwestern and 70 against Indiana.

> High School

An exceptional cornerback, running back and kick returner for Coach Tom Green at Eleanor Roosevelt HS, Morris earned first-team all-county and all-league honors. He also was an honorable-mention all-state pick. Morris recorded 46 tackles, 16 of which were for losses, during his senior season. He forced four fumbles, grabbed three interceptions and scored six touchdowns. Morris was a three-year captain of the football team and also ran track.

85 BRANDON MOSEBY-FELDER

6-2 > 185 > Jr./So. Eligible
Wide Receiver > Fort Washington, Md.

During his initial two years as a Nittany Lion, Brandon Moseby-Felder has been relentlessly working to climb the wide receiver depth charts. After demonstrating some of his abilities last year in limited action, he's hoping the next thing he catches is an opportunity. The athletic and swift Moseby-Felder finished spring drills as the top reserve to senior Derek Moye at one of the wideout spots. He has good size and hands and is poised to see significant action this year after appearing in eight games and making three catches in 2010. He is among nine returning Nittany Lions from Maryland.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

In his first season on the field, Moseby-Felder played in 10 games, making three catches for 13 yards. He recorded his first career reception against Kent State, snagging a three-yard pass. Playing 20 miles from his home, Moseby-Felder caught two passes in Penn State's 41-24 victory over Indiana at FedEx Field. He hauled in a pair of five-yard receptions against the Hoosiers.

DEREK

Wide Receiver > Rochester, Pa.

Derek Moye already has established himself as one of the elite wideouts in Penn State's glorious grid-iron history, but the former Rochester High School all-state star and state champion sprinter is poised for an even bigger season in the fall. A probable All-America candidate, Moye is coming off a superb junior season that saw him lead the Nittany Lions with 53 receptions for 885 yards and eight touchdowns. A Phil Steele's College Football Preview preseason first-team All-Big Ten selection, he hauled in a touchdown in seven of the last eight games, including the final five contests. Moye brings outstanding size, skills and speed to the offense. The crisp route runner and prolific leaper is a big-play threat on every snap. He was second in the Big Ten with a 16.7 yards per catch average, was fifth in the conference in receiving yardage (68.1 ypg) and tied for ninth in receptions last year. Moye also moved among the Penn State career leaders with 104 receptions (11th), 1,741 receiving yards (11th) and 15 touchdown receptions (5th tie). He needs 22 receptions and 266 yards to move into the Top 5 on both lists. A 2010 honorable-mention All-Big Ten selection, Moye's hard work in the off-season has him prepared for a huge senior season. He already has established himself as a player with the talent and toughness to be a game-changer. Moye opened the calendar year with a game-high five catches for 79 yards and a touchdown against Florida in the Outback Bowl on New Year's Day. A starter in every game for the past two seasons, Moye uses his size and speed to present matchup problems for opposing secondaries. A four-sport standout at Rochester HS, Moye won the 200 (:22.15) and 400-meter (:48.04) Class AA state titles at the 2007 Pennsylvania state track and field championships. A cousin, Rocky Washington, played for the Nittany Lions during the 2000s. Moye is on schedule to graduate in December.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Moye had a superb junior season that saw him lead the Nittany Lions with 53 receptions for 885 yards and eight touchdowns. A starter in every game, Moye made at least one touchdown catch in seven of the last eight contests, including the final five. He was second in the Big Ten with a 16.7 yards per catch average, was fifth in the conference in receiving yardage (68.1 ypg) and tied for ninth in receptions. Moye also moved among the Penn State career leaders with 104 receptions (11th), 1,741 receiving yards (11th) and 15 touchdown receptions (5th tie). His 53 receptions and 885 yards were good for fifth- and sixth-best, respectively, on the school season lists. An honorable-mention All-Big Ten selection, Moye gained a game-high 69 receiving yards on his three catches at No. 1 Alabama, including a 31-yard first-quarter pass from Rob Bolden. He made four catches for 87 yards in the win over Kent State. His 55-yard catch in the first quarter was a career-long at the time and led to a touchdown in the 24-0 win. Moye posted his fourth career 100-yard receiving game against Illinois, making three catches for 106 yards and a touchdown. His 80-yard catch and run against the Illini was a career-long and the Nittany Lions' longest play from scrimmage since Stephon Green had an 80-yard TD catch against Michigan in 2008. In his three-reception, 81-yard performance at Minnesota, Moye caught touchdown passes of 42 and nine yards from Matt McGloin. He caught three passes for a game-high 72 yards in the primetime win over Michigan. His 40-yard catch and run from McGloin converted a key third down, keeping an early third-quarter drive alive. Moye had five receptions for 85 yards and one touchdown, a 36-yard connection with McGloin to knot the game at 21-all in the historic comeback victory over Northwestern. Moye caught four passes for 36 yards at Ohio State, including a six-yard touchdown for a 14-3 second-quarter lead. He had a team-high six receptions for 90 yards and one touchdown against Indiana. Moye had his first two carries of the season, totaling 38 yards, including a 27-yard reverse, against the Hoosiers. In the Michigan State game, he caught five passes for 65 yards and one touchdown, a four-yard scoring toss from McGloin late in the game. He also forced and recovered the first fumble of his career in the fourth quarter. Moye made a game-high five catches for 79 yards and a touchdown against Florida in the Outback Bowl, giving him at least one TD catch in each of the last five games. He had a five-yard touchdown catch for a 7-0 lead and hauled in a 44-yard catch to set up a go-ahead touchdown late in the third period. Moye was on the field for 714 snaps, topped by 71 in the comeback win over Northwestern and 71 against the Gators.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Any questions as to how the Penn State receiving corps would fare after losing three of its most prolific pass catchers in program history to graduation were quickly answered in the season-opener with Akron. In his first career start, Moye set career-highs with six receptions for 138 yards and one touchdown, averaging 23.0 yards per catch. The 138 receiving yards were a 2009 team season-high and the most by a Nittany Lion since Deon Butler posted a school-record 216 yards against Northwestern in 2006. Moye made four receptions of 20 yards or more against the Zips, including a leaping 42-yard effort to get the Lions deep into Akron territory and set up a touchdown late in the first half for a 31-0 lead. The game was the first of numerous superb performances by Moye, who earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten recognition. Starting every game, he led the team with 48 receptions for 785 yards (16.4) and had six touchdown catches. Moye was ninth in the Big Ten in receiving yardage at 60.4 ypg and his 16.4-yard average per catch was second-highest among the conference's top 10 receivers. His 48 receptions were tied for No. 7 in school season history and his 785 receiving yards were good for No. 13. He led the squad with 16 receptions of 20 yards or more. The six-catch effort against Akron would be the first of four contests where Moye made half a dozen grabs, including three consecutive victories. He led the team with six receptions for 120 yards in the 20-0 Homecoming win over Minnesota. Moye made a superb 12-yard diving touchdown catch and managed to drag a foot in bounds to give the Lions a 13-0 lead near the end of the first half. He made six catches the following week in the 35-10 win at Michigan. All six catches came in the first 20 minutes to significantly help the offense get off to a fast start. Moye tied his career-high for the third consecutive game with six receptions at Northwestern, gaining 123 yards. The 100-yard receiving game was his third of the year. Moye streaked past his defender down the sideline and grabbed a 53-yard scoring strike from Darryl Clark in the fourth quarter to give the Nittany Lions a 27-13 lead. The 53-yard reception was the longest of his career. Moye made a four-yard touchdown catch against Temple, made two catches for 48 yards against Iowa and had a 25-yard scoring grab against Eastern Illinois. In the 42-14 victory at Michigan State, Moye was active in the offensive outburst, hauling in four receptions for 56 yards to help Clark accumulate 310 passing yards. Moye grabbed a 37-yard touchdown catch to give Penn State a 7-0 lead in the Capital One Bowl win over LSU. He made three catches for 53 yards against the Tigers. Moye saw action on 660 snaps, the second-highest total among skill position players, led by 62 against Minnesota.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

Moye saw action in 12 games, making three catches for 71 yards and one touchdown. His 23.7-yard average led the squad. Moye's first collegiate touchdown came on a 33-yard catch and run at Syracuse, on a ball thrown by Paul Cianciolo. He also made a 27-yard catch against Coastal Carolina and an 11-yard grab against Indiana. Moye saw action on 92 plays, topped by 23 against Coastal Carolina and 20 against the Orange.

> 2007 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

A three-time first-team all-state selection at Rochester HS, Moye was a prolific runner and receiver for Coach Gene Matsook. The 2005 Western Pennsylvania district Class A Player-of-the-Year, Moye helped Rochester to the 2004 state championship game, was a Big 33 Classic selection and two-time conference MVP. During his senior season, he ran for 1,205 yards on 158 carries and scored 20 touchdowns and caught 16 passes for 430 yards and five scores. He also had three touchdowns on returns and grabbed three interceptions, while making 64 tackles, as a senior. As a junior, he had 24 receptions for 536 yards and nine scores. Moye was the 200-meter (:22.15) and 400-meter (:48.04) Class AA state champion at the 2007 Pennsylvania track and field championships. He also earned first-team all-section honors in basketball and baseball.

Kevin Newsome is looking forward to preseason camp and competing for more playing time during the upcoming season. The athletic, vastly talented and engaging Newsome has made substantial progress and continues to work hard to put himself into position to challenge for a more significant role. He also continues to make advances as a musician, whether it be honing his piano skills or creating music. Last year, Newsome played in six games, which was highlighted by a 23-yard throw against Iowa. A U.S. Army All-American at Hargrave Military Academy, Newsome continues to improve as a passer and is a quick and elusive runner. He has a great work-ethic and is a physical, instinctive player with a strong arm. One of the nation's most highly-recruited prep players, he has adapted and embraced what it takes to be a successful Penn State student-athlete, on and off the field, and has a promising future. Newsome is an enthusiastic player, whose confidence and skills translate into the huddle. A young man with a vibrant personality and infectious smile, Newsome is one of three returning Nittany Lions — joining Evan Hailes and Chima Okoli — in the long line of Tidewater Region standouts that have matriculated to Penn State under Joe Paterno.

► 2010 > Sophomore Season

Newsome played in six games behind center. For the season, he was 6-of-13 for 78 yards, with no touchdowns or interceptions. In the season-opener, Newsome gained 21 yards on three carries against Youngstown State. He completed his only pass at No. 1 Alabama for 12 yards and gained nine yards on two carries. He rushed for 15 yards on two carries in the win over Kent State. Newsome was 2-of-4 for 35 yards at Iowa, including a 23-yard strike to Kevin Haplea. He completed two passes for 28 yards against Illinois and ran for 12 yards. Newsome also saw action in the win at Minnesota.

► 2009 > Freshman Season

Newsome played in 10 games and made substantial progress during his first year as a Nittany Lion. The top reserve to first-team All-Big Ten choice Daryll Clark, Newsome completed 8-of-11 passes (72.7) for 66 yards, with a long completion of 14 yards during his true freshman season. He was fifth on the squad with 95 rushing yards, averaging 4.8 yards on his 20 attempts, and scoring twice. Newsome made his Penn State debut in the season-opener with Akron, going 3-of-4 for 26 yards and gaining 12 yards on two carries. He had a 15-yard burst in the win over Temple and a 16-yard run in the victory at Illinois. Newsome gained a season-high 49 yards on seven carries against Eastern Illinois, scoring his first career touchdown on a nine-yard run. He also established season-highs in passing against the Panthers, going 4-of-5 for 34 yards. Newsome carried the ball three times for 13 yards and a touchdown in the win at Michigan State to conclude the regular-season. He was on the field for 50 snaps and was among eight true freshmen to see time for the Nittany Lions.

► High School

Newsome was one of the nation's top prep quarterbacks for Coach Robert Prunty at Hargrave Military Academy as a senior. Scout.com ranked Newsome the No. 10 quarterback in the nation and he was selected to play in the U.S. Army All-American game. Rivals.com rated him among the Top 40 prep players in the nation. During his junior season at Western Branch HS in Chesapeake, he threw for more than 1,600 yards and 12 touchdowns and ran for more than 500 yards and 11 scores. A captain of the track and field team, Newsome was an accomplished sprinter and hurdler. He was a two-time hurdles state champion, being ranked No. 5 in the nation and earning All-America honors. He finished 10th at the Virginia state championships as the only freshman in the field. Newsome also excelled in the classroom at Western Branch, compiling a 3.7 grade-point average and serving as president of his junior class. He also was a member of the National Honor Society.

PENN STATE & NEBRASKA HAVE GRIDIRON HISTORY

The Big Ten Conference welcomes the University of Nebraska as its newest member in 2011-12, with the Cornhuskers starting competition in football this season. The addition of Nebraska gives the Big Ten four of the seven all-time winningest programs in college football, joining Penn State, Michigan and Ohio State.

The Nittany Lions and Cornhuskers have met 13 times on the gridiron, the third-highest total among Big Ten teams, trailing only Minnesota and Iowa. Penn State and Nebraska will meet annually in a protected divisional crossover game.

Stephen Obeng-Agyapong gained considerable experience in 2010 in his first season on the field and is anxious to increase his contributions this year. He played in every game in the secondary and on special teams and recorded nine tackles last year. Obeng-Agyapong finished spring drills as the top reserve to safety Drew Astorino. The former John F. Kennedy HS standout has a nose for the ball with good speed and quickness. With the possibility of four senior starters in the secondary, Obeng-Agyapong has an opportunity to continue learning from the veterans and hone his leadership skills for the future. He earned Academic All-Big Ten honors last fall. Obeng-Agyapong is one of seven returning Nittany Lions from New York. He and senior tailback Stephfon Green were teammates at John F. Kennedy HS in the Bronx.

52 CHIMA OKOLI

Tackle > Virginia Beach, Va.

After making a successful transition from defense to offense in the spring of 2010, Chima Okoli began the season No. 2 at right tackle to returning starter Lou Eliades. But, when Eliades suffered a season-ending injury against Temple, Okoli got the nod and went on to flourish in his new role, starting eight of the last nine games. He has had a successful spring and off-season, building off last year's experiences and preparing to anchor the right side of the offensive line. Okoli brings very good skills, size and strength to the field and has made tremendous progress in his overall game. As one of three returning senior starters on the offensive line, he will be counted on for a higher level of leadership and productivity this fall. A potential All-Big Ten candidate, Okoli was instrumental in Penn State allowing only 12 sacks last season, tied for No. 2 in the Big Ten and No. 13 in the nation for fewest sacks allowed. One of the squad's most out-going personalities, Okoli earned first-team all-state and All-Tidewater accolades at Salem HS. One of seven children, his second cousin is Emeka Okafor, the 2004-05 NBA Rookie-of-the-Year with the Charlotte Bobcats. Okoli joins teammates Evan Hailes and Kevin Newsome in the long line of Penn Staters from the talent-rich Tidewater Region of Virginia. Okoli graduated in May after compiling a 3.51 grade-point average for Dean's List honors during the spring semester.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Shifted from defensive tackle to the offensive line during 2010 spring practice, Okoli was thrust into the starting lineup at right tackle when Lou Eliades suffered a season-ending knee injury in the Temple game. Okoli grabbed hold of the position, starting eight of the last nine games. He was instrumental in Penn State allowing only 12 sacks last season, tied for No. 2 in the Big Ten and No. 13 in the nation for fewest sacks allowed. Okoli played a critical role in helping the Nittany Lions gain 350 or more yards nine times, topped by 528 yards in the historic 35-21 comeback win over Northwestern. The Lions ran for a season-high 260 yards against the Wildcats, with two 100-yard rushers, and threw for 268 yards. Okoli helped Penn State gain 496 yards against Indiana and 435 yards against Michigan, scoring 41 points in both victories. Okoli saw action on 625 snaps, topped by 90 and 82, respectively, in the wins over Northwestern and Michigan.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Okoli played in seven games, providing depth and steady play on the defensive interior line for one of the nation's top units. He recorded a tackle in the season-opener against Akron.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

Okoli played in eight games, providing depth and steady play for one of the nation's top defenses. He made his first career stop in a 55-13 victory at Syracuse. Okoli was on the field for 84 snaps, topped by 17 each against Coastal Carolina and Syracuse.

Okoli earned first-team Associated Press all-state, All-Tidewater Region and All-Virginia Beach honors for Coach Robert Jackson at Salem HS. During his senior campaign, he recorded 85 tackles and 15 sacks and received first-team All-Gameday Magazine accolades. He led Salem to Virginia division and regional championships. Okoli was instrumental in Salem allowing the second-fewest points and yards in Virginia Beach prep history. He was selected to play in the 2007 Virginia High School League All-Star game. He also threw the shot put and played basketball at Salem.

Defensive End > Warren, Mich.

With Jack Crawford and Eric Latimore entering their senior seasons, the Nittany Lions are blessed to have C.J. Olaniyan among a trio of promising defensive ends who were redshirted last year as freshmen. Olaniyan possesses great size, athleticism and instincts and made significant progress during his first year at Penn State. He should be among the primary challengers for time in the defensive end rotation this fall. He joined quarterback Rob Bolden as Nittany Lions in the Class of 2010 from Michigan.

DeON'TAE
PANNELL

Guard > Southfield, Mich.

With extensive experience at the guard and tackle positions, DeOn'tae Pannell should have the opportunity to play a significant role on the offensive line in his senior season. Possessing excellent physical attributes, Pannell has the bulk and strength to ward off defensive tackles and the agility to shut down speed-rushers off the edge. His skills, experience and versatility will be critical components in preseason practice as he resumes his battle with John Urschel for the starting assignment at right guard. Should Pannell win the job, he likely would become the fourth senior starter on an offensive line that returns a trio of starters. A first-team all-state player from Wylie E. Groves HS in suburban Detroit, he brings a strong work-ethic and a positive attitude to the practice field and weight room. He has experience playing both guard and both tackle positions. Pannell usually has a smile on his face and is one of the squad's most active members in community service. The past three years, he has been among the 25-30 Nittany Lions that welcomed more than 30 THON Make-A-Wish children to the Lasch Football Building during THON Weekend each February. Pannell is joined by Rob Bolden and C.J. Olaniyan as returning Nittany Lions from Michigan. He is on schedule to graduate in December.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Pannell played in 10 games, with two starts, to help Penn State allow only 12 sacks all season, tied for No. 2 in the Big Ten and No. 13 in the nation for fewest sacks allowed. Pannell made starts at left guard against Youngstown State and at No. 1 Alabama. He helped the Nittany Lions gain 350 or more yards nine times, topped by 528 yards in the historic 35-21 comeback win over Northwestern. Pannell helped Penn State gain 435 yards against Michigan, scoring 41 points in the primetime victory. He was on the field for 142 snaps, led by 48 against Youngstown State.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Pannell's development at guard and tackle helped to stabilize and improve the line of an offense that ranked No. 5 in the conference in scoring (28.8 ppg) and was the only Big Ten team ranked in the top five of the conference's four primary offensive statistical categories: total, scoring, rushing (169.8 ypg) and passing offense (237.2 ypg). Behind the protection of Pannell and his linemates, quarterback Daryll Clark finished No. 2 in the Big Ten in passing efficiency and delivered a school-record 24 touchdown passes. Penn State finished third in the Big Ten in fewest sacks allowed. Pannell started the initial four games at right tackle and a total of seven games during the year. During the Illinois game, he sprained an ankle, though, and missed the next two games. He returned to the field to help Penn State win at Michigan and at Northwestern. During the Ohio State game, Johnnie Troutman suffered a leg injury. The following week, Pannell was shifted to left guard, where he started the final two regular-season contests, helping the Lions score a combined 73 points in victories over Indiana and Michigan State. In the 42-14 win over his homestate Spartans, he helped set the tone for one of Penn State's most dominating offensive efforts of the season. The Nittany Lions amassed 512 yards, their fourth game of 500 or more yards last season, and had a season-high 10 plays of 20 yards or more from scrimmage, with four going for touchdowns. Pannell also started in the Nittany Lions' 19-17 win over LSU in the 2010 Capital One Bowl. He saw action on 402 snaps, led by 77 against Indiana.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Pannell made his collegiate debut in the opener with Coastal Carolina and quickly established himself as the top reserve to all-conference senior Gerald Cadogan at left tackle. Playing in eight games, Pannell made significant progress as the season unfolded. He saw action on 89 snaps, led by 20 against Coastal Carolina and 17 at Syracuse. Pannell was one of four true freshmen to see playing time.

> High School

Pannell was a standout two-way lineman for Coach Brendan Flaherty at Wylie E. Groves HS. He played center and defensive tackle, starting for three years on the offensive line. Pannell was named to the Detroit Free Press 2007 All-State Dream Team and Scout.com rated him among the nation's Top 25 offensive tackles. During his senior season, he recorded 18 tackles for loss, eight sacks and four pass breakups. He was the captain of the track and field team, competing in the shot put and discus, and also was captain of the basketball squad.

Linebacker > Dallas, Pa.

Like others before him and others who are current teammates, Kenny Pollock had other options. A standout at Lake-Lehman HS in northeastern Pennsylvania, Pollock bypassed other opportunities in order to become a member of the Penn State football team. Another Nittany Lion with family ties to the University and the football program, Pollock is a good athlete and noted hard worker who has improved and is looking to earn time in the linebacker rotation and on special teams. He took a red-shirt season in 2008 and is seeking his first game action. Pollock brings good skills, instincts and attitude to the practice field and weight room every day. Pollock has earned Dean's List recognition during his time as a Penn State student-athlete. He owned a 3.41 cumulative grade-point average through the spring and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate.

> High School

A two-year team captain, Pollock played linebacker, quarterback and tight end for Coach Carl Kern at Lake-Lehman HS. During his senior season, he made 147 tackles, with two sacks and one interception. Pollock also recorded 30 receptions for 310 yards and two touchdowns. A four-year letterman and starter, Pollock was a two-time conference all-star and a Wilkes-Barre Times Leader All-Star. He also was named the area's Defensive Player-of-the-Week once and played in the Unico All-Star game. As a three-year letterman and captain of the baseball team, Pollock helped his team win the district championship in 2007.

2 CHAZ POWELL

Cornerback > New Freedom, Pa.

Chaz Powell's ability to make a seamless transition from wide receiver to cornerback during the 2010 season speaks to his overall outstanding athletic ability and football acumen. A safety during his redshirt season in 2007, Powell was a wideout the next two years, but the coaching staff shifted him to corner in spring practice in 2010. He returned to wideout at the start of last season, but moved back to the secondary prior to the Minnesota game. After starting five games a year ago at cornerback, Powell will look to make a larger impact on the defensive side of the ball this fall. The same skills that made him a standout receiver have assisted him in his transition to cornerback — good hands, quickness and a nose for the ball. He likely will resume his battle with Stephon Morris for a starting assignment when preseason camp commences. Powell is a gifted, hard-working and confident player. With his speed and vision, he has proven to be a game-changer on special teams, returning the second half kickoff 100 yards for a touchdown last year against Youngstown State. Powell is on schedule to graduate in December.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Powell was shifted from wide receiver to cornerback in the midst of the season and was a major contributor on defense and special teams. He started five games at corner last year, giving him 14 career starts (nine at wide receiver). Powell made 11 tackles (eight solo) and tied Drew Astorino for the team lead with five pass breakups. Powell led the team and ranked No. 8 in the Big Ten with a 24.0-yard average on 21 kickoff returns. He returned the second half kickoff 100 yards for a touchdown in the season-opener with Youngstown State. Powell delivered Penn State's first 100-yard kickoff return since Rich Mauti at Temple in 1975. The return for a touchdown was the Nittany Lions' first since Derrick Williams took a kick back 94 yards for a score against Illinois in 2008. Powell made two catches for nine yards at No. 1 Alabama and had two kickoff returns for 47 yards at Iowa. Powell gained 82 yards on three kickoff returns against Illinois, with a long return of 31 yards. He returned to cornerback prior to the Minnesota game, returning one kickoff 24 yards, with a solo tackle against the Golden Gophers. Powell made his first career start at cornerback in the primetime win over Michigan and had one solo tackle and one pass breakup. He also returned two kickoffs 51 yards against the Wolverines, beginning a string of five consecutive starts. Powell had two solo stops and a pass breakup in the historic comeback win over Northwestern. He recorded two solo tackles at Ohio State and returned five kickoffs for a total of 85 yards. Powell was on the field for 444 snaps, topped by 76 and 71 in the wins over Michigan and Indiana, respectively.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Playing in 12 games, with nine starts at wide receiver, Powell was fourth on the squad with 28 receptions for 366 yards (13.1) and three touchdowns. He was ninth in the Big Ten in kickoff returns with a 23.2-yard average, with a long of 54 yards. He was on the field for 395 snaps, led by 53 against the Hawkeyes. Powell made a team and career-high seven receptions for 65 yards in the season-opening win over Akron, including an eight-yard touchdown reception from Darryl Clark. He made his first career start against Syracuse and led the team with four catches for 40 yards against Temple. In the primetime meeting with Iowa, Powell made three receptions for a career-high 96 yards. As Powell crossed midfield on Penn State's first play from scrimmage against the Hawkeyes, he looked up into the Beaver Stadium lights, saw the pigskin hurtling toward him through the rain, gained separation and caught the ball in stride near the 35-yard line, racing into the end zone. The 79-yard scoring strike was the longest catch of Powell's career, Clark's longest career completion and Penn State's longest play from scrimmage in 2009. The play also was tied for the eighth-longest completion in school history. Powell led the Lions with four catches for 79 yards in the Eastern Illinois game, including a leaping 51-yard catch. He added a 19-yard reverse. Powell kept a drive alive at Michigan when he picked up 11 big yards on a reverse play on third down. He delivered a big play at Michigan when he returned the opening kickoff of the second half 54 yards, the Lions' longest kickoff return of 2009. The return set up a touchdown in the 35-10 win. Powell made five receptions for 39 yards in the 34-13 win at Northwestern. He had a six-yard run on the second play of the Indiana game, but left with a shoulder injury. He did not play in the win at Michigan State due to the shoulder injury. Powell returned to the starting lineup in the Capital One Bowl victory over LSU, where he hauled in one reception for 11 yards.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

On his second collegiate carry in the season-opener with Coastal Carolina, Powell took the ball around the right end and broke free down the sideline, scoring on a 55-yard run in the third quarter. He gained 60 yards on two carries to launch a successful redshirt freshman campaign. Powell accumulated 370 all-purpose yards, the second-highest total among non-starters. He averaged 28.8 yards on nine kickoff returns, led by a 69-yard burst at Syracuse to set up a Collin Wagner field goal in the third quarter. Powell gained 74 rushing yards on eight carries, for a team-best 9.2-yard average, and two touchdowns. He also caught two passes against the Orange for 37 yards, with a long of 22 yards, giving him a season-best 105 all-purpose yards. Powell tallied his second career touchdown on a seven-yard run in the win over Temple. He had a strong special teams effort in the win against Michigan, returning two kickoffs for 75 yards. His 43-yard return after the Wolverines had taken a 10-0 lead provided a big momentum boost for the Nittany Lions. Two plays later, Evan Royster burst up the middle on a 44-yard score to begin a 46-7 run to end the game. Powell also returned a kickoff 25 yards in the 49-18 victory over Michigan State. In the 2009 Rose Bowl against Southern California, Powell gained 58 yards on three kickoff returns. He was on the field for 141 plays, led by 26 snaps against the Wolverines.

Redshirt season. Powell made three tackles in the 2008 Blue-White game.

► High School

Powell was a multi-talented defensive back and running back for Coach Tom Waranavage at Susquehannock HS. He was rated the No. 2 overall prep player in Pennsylvania by Rivals.com. As a senior, he gained a team-high 1,190 yards rushing and scored 16 touchdowns, adding 400 receiving yards. The 2006 York/Adams Interscholastic Athletic Association Player-of-the-Year, he grabbed three interceptions, returning one of them for a touchdown. He was slowed by an ankle injury early in his senior season. Powell's ability to have a significant impact also was demonstrated by his 16 blocked field goals and punts. He also was a standout on the basketball, lacrosse and track and field teams in high school.

SILAS
REDD

5-10 ► 201 ► So./So. Eligible
Tailback ► Norwalk, Conn.

Penn State's scintillating 35-21 comeback from a 21-0 deficit to beat Northwestern last season was historic on multiple fronts. The victory was the 400th of Joe Paterno's career and represented Penn State's largest home comeback during the Hall of Fame mentor's career. The contest also saw the first breakout performance by true freshman Silas Redd, who roared through the Wildcats for 131 yards on just 11 carries for his first career 100-yard rushing game. Redd and Evan Royster (134 yards) combined to produce just the fourth time Penn State has had a pair of rushers with 130 yards or more all-time. The last time it had happened? On September 25, 1971, when Nittany Lion legends Lydell Mitchell (211) and Franco Harris (145) blitzed Iowa. Redd hasn't reached their status, yet, but has a very promising future after rushing for 437 yards and averaging 5.7 yards on his 77 attempts last year. With all-time leading rusher Royster having graduated, Redd likely will wage a competitive battle with Stephfon Green, Brandon Beachum and Curtis Dukes for primary ball-carrying duties this fall. An electrifying runner with blazing breakaway speed and superb elusiveness, his athleticism and flashes of immense potential earned Redd preseason third-team All-Big Ten honors from Phil Steele's College Football Preview. A U.S. Army All-American, he also boasts the skill set to be a strong contributor in the passing game and on special teams. Redd made significant strides during winter conditioning and spring practice, providing a preview of what could be an impactful year. He and sophomore linebacker Khairi Fortt are returning Nittany Lions from Connecticut. They first met at Penn State's summer football camp and forged a friendship that would bring both of them to Happy Valley in January 2010.

► 2010 ► Freshman Season

Redd first demonstrated his explosive speed in the 2010 Blue-White game and made significant strides during his true freshman season. He ran for 437 yards, second on the team, and scored two touchdowns. He delivered a superb 5.7-yard average on 77 rushing attempts, best on the team among players with at least five carries. Playing in 12 games, he also had seven kickoff returns for a 21.0-yard average and caught four passes. Enrolling in the University in January 2010, Redd opened his rookie campaign by gaining 20 yards on just three carries against Youngstown State. He gained 26 yards on five carries at top-ranked Alabama, including an 11-yard burst in the second half. He provided a big boost for the Nittany Lions at Minnesota, gaining 70 of his 71 yards in the second half, on eight carries. Redd ripped off back-to-back 26- and 20-yard fourth-quarter bursts to set up a touchdown. He was part of a potent Penn State rushing attack in the win over Michigan, rushing for 24 yards on six carries. Redd recorded his first career 100-yard rushing game with 131 yards on only 11 carries (11.9) in the scintillating 35-21 comeback win over Northwestern. He also had a season-high 30-yard run and he scored his first career touchdown on a four-yard run to give Penn State its first lead at 28-21 after trailing, 21-0, late in the first half. Evan Royster's 134 yards and Redd's 131 yards against the Wildcats gave Penn State consecutive years of having a game featuring a pair of 100-yard rushers (Illinois, 2010). Redd and Royster also were the first Penn State running backs to each gain at least 130 rushing yards in a game since Nittany Lion legends Lydell Mitchell (211) and Franco Harris (145) did so at Iowa on Sept. 25, 1971. The combined effort by Royster and Redd marked just the fourth time Penn State had two runners gain 130 or more yards in a game. At Ohio State, Redd gained 39 yards on the ground, including an 18-yard burst in the first half. He led the Nittany Lions against Indiana at FedEx Field, gaining 50 yards and scoring a one-yard touchdown for the final 41-24 margin. Redd made one catch for 16 yards and gained 13 yards on the ground against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl. Redd saw action on 177 snaps, topped by 26 against the Gators and 19 at Ohio State.

► High School

Redd was a standout at the King Low Heywood Thomas School for Coach Dan Gouin. Rivals.com rated him Connecticut's top prep player in 2009. Redd was selected to play in the 2010 U.S. Army All-American Bowl. Rivals.com ranked him the nation's No. 4 prep running back and Scout.com ranked him No. 7. He was instrumental in helping his team to a 16-2 record during his junior and senior seasons. As a senior, Redd gained 1,924 yards on 137 carries, averaging an incredible 14.0 yards per attempt. He averaged 240 yards per game and scored 25 touchdowns, with a long carry of 88 yards. He also made 47 tackles (39 solo) and had one interception on defense. Redd ran for 1,356 yards on 120 carries (11.3 avg.) and scored 15 touchdowns as a junior, also grabbing two interceptions. He also played basketball and lacrosse.

LIONS IN TOP 10 PERCENT IN GRADUATION RATES AMONG BCS TEAMS

Penn State football student-athletes that enrolled in the University from 2000-03 earned a Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 84 percent, in the top 10 percent among the nation's 120 Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) institutions, according to NCAA data released in October 2010. Penn State's 84 percent GSR was significantly higher than the 67 percent FBS average and was second to Northwestern among Big Ten Conference institutions, according to the NCAA.

Penn State compiled the highest GSR and federal graduation rate among teams ranked in the final 2009 Associated Press Top 25 poll, according to NCAA data from November 2009. Penn State football student-athletes that enrolled in the University in the fall of 2002 earned a federal graduation rate of 89 percent, easily the best among the teams ranked in the final AP poll. The Nittany Lions' 89 percent federal graduation rate led all Big Ten Conference institutions and was 34 points above the 55 percent FBS average, according to the NCAA data.

The Nittany Lions also led all 2009 AP Top 25 teams with a program-record 85 percent Graduation Success Rate. The figure was based on Penn State football student-athletes entering the University in the fall of 1999 through 2002. Penn State's 85 percent Graduation Success Rate was significantly higher than the 67 percent FBS average and was second to Northwestern among Big Ten Conference institutions, according to the NCAA.

DAKOTA ROYER
 6-1 > 232 > So./Fr. Eligible
 Linebacker > Lancaster, Pa.

“Linebacker U.” will be replacing multiple starters for the second consecutive season, with leading tackler Chris Colasanti and Bani Gbadyu having graduated from the 2010 squad. Penn State sent three more “Linebacker U.” standouts to the NFL when Navorro Bowman, Josh Hull and Sean Lee all were drafted and made NFL rosters in 2010. The linebacker corps heads into the season looking to replenish its depth and develop the next wave of highly-productive players. Former Manheim Central HS all-stater Dakota Royer is one of the players looking to have an impact and add to the unit’s depth. With good size, speed and instincts, Royer has the talent and desire to become an impact player on defense and special teams during his redshirt freshman season. He was among seven members of the Nittany Lions’ 2010 recruiting class who enrolled in January 2010.

> 2010 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Royer enrolled in the University in January 2010.

> High School

Royer was a first-team all-state selection for Coach Mike Williams at Manheim Central HS. He led the Barons to the 2009 Class AAA state championship game and a 15-1 record. Rivals.com rated Royer the No. 10 prep player in Pennsylvania in 2009 and Scout.com tabbed him as the nation’s No. 18 linebacker prospect. As a senior, he made 74 tackles (46 solo), recording 10 sacks, recovering three fumbles and grabbing an interception. He also made 30 receptions for a team-high 614 yards and had seven touchdowns as a running back. Royer had a 73-yard TD catch in the Barons’ state semifinal win over West Allegheny. As a junior, he made 86 stops, with a superlative 32 tackles for loss and 13 sacks on the way to Associated Press first-team all-state honors. He also had 56 receptions for more than 1,000 yards and five touchdowns in 2008 and ran for 271 yards and four scores.

RYAN SCHERER
 Wide Receiver > Avon Lake, Ohio

Ryan Scherer continues to work hard on the practice field and in the weight room in his bid to break into the wideout rotation. Scherer played in two games last year and gained significant experience during spring practice. He has good hands and continues to make steady progress up the depth chart. Scherer is another member of the 2011 squad who has family ties to Penn State football. A Dean’s List student, Scherer owned a superlative 3.76 cumulative grade-point average through the spring semester and is a potential Academic All-Big Ten candidate. He is on schedule to graduate in December.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Scherer continued to improve and saw action against Youngstown State and Kent State, while also playing an important role on the foreign team.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Scherer made his Nittany Lion debut in the win over Eastern Illinois.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

Scherer was an all-conference wide receiver, safety and kick returner for Coach Dave Dlugosz at Avon Lake HS. A two-year starter and letterman, Scherer was named first-team All-Southwest Conference, All-Lorain County, All-Northeast Ohio District, and honorable-mention All-Ohio. He made 27 receptions for 571 yards and eight touchdowns, along with 19 kick returns for 166 yards as a senior. He also made 28 tackles and grabbed an interception in his senior season and helped his team to conference championships in 2005 and 2007. He played in the 2008 Lorain County All-Star game. Scherer was captain of the track and field team and was third-team all-conference in the 4x400 and a district finalist his junior and senior years.

> Personal

Full name is Ryan Michael Scherer. His parents are Rip and Michele Scherer. His father was a graduate assistant coach at Penn State in 1974 and ’75 and his grandfather, William Scherer, played for the Nittany Lions from 1945-49. ERIC SHRIVE
 6-6 > 302 > Jr./So. Eligible
 Tackle > Scranton, Pa.

During his first season on the field, Eric Shrive has gained experience playing guard and tackle and made substantial progress. He should be among the primary challengers to earn a larger role for an offensive line that loses two starters in All-American guard Stefan Wisniewski and center Doug Klopacz. The nation’s No. 2 ranked offensive tackle coming out of high school has the physical attributes, intensity and skill set to become a significant contributor. Shrive and quarterback Matt McGloin were prep teammates at West Scranton HS. He is one of 30 returning Nittany Lions from Eastern or Central Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

In his first season on the field, Shrive was battling upperclassmen Chima Okoli and DeOn’tae Pannell for playing time at right tackle. Shrive saw his most extensive action in the 41-24 win over Indiana at FedEx Field, where the Nittany Lions gained 496 yards, with 24 first downs. He also saw time in the win over Youngstown State.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

A highly-recruited lineman, Shrive played for Coach Mike DeAntona at West Scranton HS. He was a two-time all-state, all-region and all-conference selection. Scout.com ranked Shrive the nation’s No. 2 offensive tackle and a five-star recruit. Rivals.com rated him the No. 3 prospect in Pennsylvania, the No. 11 offensive tackle and No. 88 overall player in the nation in 2008. Shrive played in the 2009 U.S. Army All-American Bowl. He also participated in wrestling and track and field.

> Personal

Full name is Eric Dennis Shrive. He is the son of Jane and Dennis Shrive. He has two older brothers, Jason and Jeff. Shrive has had three cousins attend Penn State. In his spare time, he likes to hunt, fish and golf and spend time with family and friends. He is studying hotel, restaurant and institutional management and is interested in owning a hotel or restaurant after completion of his football career. Born September 20, 1999 in Scranton, Pa.

NEARLY 1.2 MILLION WATCH LIONS IN 2010

Nearly 1.2 million fans watched the Nittany Lions play in 2010, the second-highest total in the nation. Penn State’s total attendance of 1,195,351 was the fourth-highest in program history. Penn State’s 857,911 fans at home in 2002 were an NCAA record until the 2007 season.

The Nittany Lions have played in front of more than one million spectators in 11 of the past 13 seasons.

Penn State’s five away games drew 405,141 and the crowd of 60,574 for the 2011 Outback Bowl gave the Nittany Lions 465,715 spectators away from Happy Valley.

20 DEVON SMITH

Wide Receiver > White Plains, Md.

It would have taken a high impact player to crack the lineup of Penn State's veteran and talent-laden receiving corps a year ago, and Devon Smith managed to do just that. Smith parlayed his exceptional sub-4.3 40-yard speed and tremendous athleticism and playmaking ability into significant playing time on offense and special teams in 2010. This year, the opportunity to expand his role in the offense and further display his skills and instincts should be available for Smith, selected pre-season second-team All-Big Ten by Phil Steele's College Football Preview. Excellent in the slot as a pass catcher or as a threat to break a long run from multiple positions, he has the ability to influence the opposing defense with or without the ball in his hands. A dangerous return man, his dedicated efforts last winter and spring were rewarded when he was presented with the Red Worrell Award at the Blue-White game. The Worrell Award is presented by the coaching staff to an offensive player for "exemplary conduct, loyalty, interest, attitude and improvement" during spring practice. Smith was a Maryland state champion in the 100 and 200 meters out of Westlake HS and garnered wide receiver MVP honors at a 2007 Nike camp. He is one of nine returning Nittany Lions from Maryland.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Smith played in every game and made six starts at wideout. He also was a significant contributor on special teams. Smith was fourth on the team with 27 receptions for 363 yards (13.4 avg.) and one touchdown. He ranked second in the Big Ten in punt returns with a 12.9-yard average on 12 returns, delivering a long of 25 yards. Smith also had three kickoff returns for a 27.7-yard average and gained 42 yards on 15 rushing attempts. In his first career start, he made one catch for 27 yards, had two carries for seven yards and a 20-yard punt return against Youngstown State. Smith made a game-high five catches at No. 1 Alabama, setting then-career-highs with his five receptions for 47 yards. He also had two carries for eight yards. Smith rewrote his career-high for yardage for a second consecutive week by gaining 61 yards on three catches against Kent State, including a 48-yard touchdown grab from Rob Bolden, the first of his career. He returned two punts for 33 yards and made two catches in the win over Temple. Smith recorded a team-high and career-high-tying five catches at Iowa for 58 yards and made three catches for 24 yards in the win at Minnesota. He had two receptions for 50 yards in the win over Michigan, including a huge 34-yard grab deep in Wolverine territory to set up a third-quarter touchdown in the primetime win. Playing near his hometown, Smith made two receptions for 56 yards in the win over Indiana at FedEx Field, including a 45-yard grab. He made two catches for 26 yards against Michigan State. Smith was on the field for 347 snaps, topped by 35 each against Iowa and Indiana.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Smith made two receptions for 25 yards, had two kick returns for 43 yards and one rush for seven yards in an impressive collegiate debut, helping the Nittany Lions beat Akron in the season-opener. Smith appeared in 11 games, making four catches for 30 yards, rushing for 33 yards on just four carries (8.2) and gaining 91 yards on five kickoff returns. He also made catches against Syracuse and Iowa. Smith suffered a mild concussion against Iowa and did not travel for the Illinois game. He returned to the field the following week to deliver a season-long 18-yard scamper against Eastern Illinois. Smith was on the field for 100 snaps, led by 17 in the win over Temple.

> High School

Smith was a standout athlete at Westlake HS. As a senior for Coach Dom Zaccarelli, he gained 1,816 yards on 250 carries and scored 24 touchdowns. Smith also gained 422 receiving yards on 18 receptions and scored four times. He returned three kicks for touchdowns. He earned wide receiver MVP honors at the 2007 Nike Camp. Smith was a Maryland state champion in the 100 and 200 meters.

PATERNOS PLEDGE $1 MILLION TO MOUNT NITTANY MEDICAL CENTER

Joe and Sue Paterno announced a $1 million pledge before more than 200 guests who gathered in June 2009 at Mount Nittany Medical Center to watch the final steel beam hoisted atop the medical center's new east wing. Their gift is part of the most ambitious fundraising effort in the Medical Center's history.

The Paternos' announcement came just minutes after they signed the steel beam, along with the other guests gathered, and before it was placed at the top of the multi-million dollar East Wing expansion during what the Medical Center dubbed its "sky breaking" ceremony.

As residents of State College for more than 50 years, Joe and Sue Paterno have been long-time supporters of the Medical Center. Most recently and in addition to serving as co-chairs for the campaign, Joe and Sue Paterno also were heavily involved in the employee giving campaign, matching donations made by employees.

"This gift demonstrates our continued pride in this community and gratitude for the profound expertise and care of our physicians, Jon Dranov and Wayne Sebastianelli," said Joe Paterno. "We see great things for this community and its future growth, and we are excited to be part of assuring continued excellence in our local healthcare, now and for generations to come."

A kickoff announced the "Commitment to Distinction" campaign's goal in June 2008. Significant gifts already had been committed by generous members of the community in support of a vital facilities expansion aimed at improving the patient experience at the Medical Center.

The cornerstone of the expansion was a three-floor, 42,000-square-foot expansion of the existing east wing. The addition of two in-patient floors and one intensive care floor offers single-patient rooms and increased intensive care capacity.

54 MATT STANKIEWITCH

Center > Orwigsburg, Pa.

Serving as a key reserve and spot starter on the offensive line during his initial two seasons in Happy Valley, Matt Stankiewitch is prepared to take a significant role in 2011. Putting in endless hours honing his skills, the talented redshirt junior emerged atop the depth chart at the center position following a strong spring. He brings good skills, size and strength and determination to the field. Experienced at both guard and center, the former Blue Mountain HS standout started a pair of games in 2009 at guard. He appeared in each of the first six contests last season before being sidelined by an illness. Stankiewitch earned a 3.62 grade-point average during the 2011 spring semester and brought a 3.35 GPA into the summer. He should be a potential Academic All-America and Academic All-Big Ten candidate and is on schedule to receive his degree in December. Stankiewitch is among 30 returning Nittany Lions from Eastern and Central Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Stankiewitch played in each of the first six games, but was sidelined by illness the remainder of the season. He saw action on a season-high 24 snaps against Illinois and was on the field for 17 plays each against Youngstown State and Kent State.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

The starting left guard against Akron and Syracuse, Stankiewitch saw action in every game on offense and special teams. He helped Penn State gain 515 yards, its second-highest total of the season, in the 31-7 win over the Zips. Stankiewitch saw action on 205 snaps, led by 59 against Akron.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

A three-year starter for Coach Chuck Kutz at Blue Mountain HS, Stankiewitch was an Associated Press first-team all-state selection in 2007. The two-way lineman recorded 60 tackles during his senior year and was instrumental in helping his team win the District XI AAA Championship in 2007. ESPN.com ranked him as the No. 5 center in the nation, and he was ranked as the No. 6 center by Rivals.com and the No. 8 guard in the nation by Scout.com. Stankiewitch was an All-America ESPN Under Armour High School Bowl selection and also played in the Big 33 Classic. Stankiewitch was named the Berks Inter-County League Offensive Lineman-of-the-Year, the Reading Eagle All-Anthracite Defensive Player-of-the-Year and to the WNEP-TV Super 16 Dream Team. He was first-team all-conference on offense and defense and was a two-time first-team all-region pick by the Pottsville Republican. He earned second-team all-state honors as a junior. He also played basketball for one year. Stankiewitch was a member of the National Honor Society and the Social Studies Honor Society and was a Blue Mountain Scholar-Athlete.

Full name is Matthew Edward Stankiewitch. His parents are Michael and Lisa Stankiewitch. His older brother, Michael, played basketball at Penn State's Schuylkill campus. Stankiewitch enjoys weightlifting, movies and video games. He is a management major in the Smeal College of Business and owned a 3.35 cumulative grade-point average after the spring semester. He made the Dean's List with a 3.62 GPA during the 2011 spring semester and is on schedule to graduate in December. Born February 8, 1990 in Pottsville, Pa.

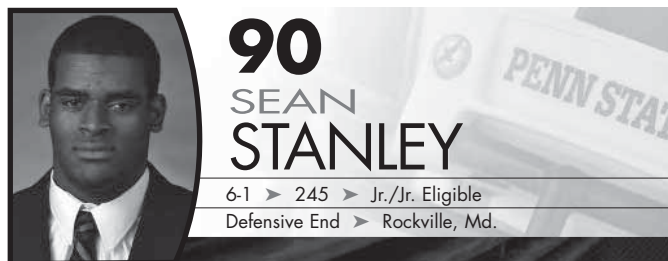

SEVERAL ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICA CANDIDATES

The Penn State football team has had at least one Capital One Academic All-American® in each of the past nine seasons, including a school-record five in 2008 and three more in 2009 and again in 2010.

Junior defensive end Pete Massaro earned first-team Academic All-America® honors last year and was joined by 2010 seniors Chris Colasanti and Stefan Wisniewski. A finance student, Massaro owned a 3.84 cumulative GPA after the spring semester, but will not be eligible for 2011 Academic All-America® consideration after suffering a serious knee injury in spring practice that will sideline him for this season.

Junior guard John Urschel owned a perfect 4.00 GPA through the spring semester and will lead Penn State's 2011 Academic All-America® candidates. Senior linebacker Nate Stupar (3.64 GPA) also will be a strong Academic All-America® candidate.

Nominees for Capital One Academic All-America® consideration must have at least a 3.30 cumulative grade-point average and be a starter or key reserve.

90 SEAN STANLEY

6-1 > 245 > Jr./Jr. Eligible
Defensive End > Rockville, Md.

Injuries to Jack Crawford and Eric Latimore last season and Pete Massaro this past spring have provided Sean Stanley with a window of opportunity. Stanley was the most experienced defensive end available during spring drills and will enter preseason camp with a chance to earn a starting berth on the defensive line. The talented and athletic Stanley made two starts, compiling 11 tackles last season and recording a sack against Northwestern. He has good speed and the desire to continue improving and become more of a candidate for big plays from the defense. The former Gaithersburg HS All-Met standout is one of nine returning squad members from Maryland.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Playing in 11 games, Stanley recorded 11 tackles (six solo), with two for a loss (minus-seven yards) and a half-sack. He made starts against Kent State and Ohio State. Stanley recorded five tackles (three solo) in the season-opener against Youngstown State. He also returned a kickoff for 14 yards against the Penguins. He made a tackle for loss against Kent State and shared one against Alabama. He also was in on a sack in the historic comeback win over Northwestern. Stanley saw action on 320 snaps, led by 46 each in the wins over Michigan and Northwestern.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Stanley made his Penn State debut in the opener against Akron and played in 12 games. He recorded 11 tackles, including 2.5 for a loss, with one forced fumble and a pass breakup. He delivered two sacks for minus-15 yards, dropping the quarterback in the wins over Illinois and Indiana. Stanley also forced Juice Williams to fumble on a sack and Jack Crawford recovered at the Illini 14-yard line in Penn State's win in Champaign. Stanley's season-high tackle total of two came against Akron, and was matched in the wins over Illinois, Indiana and Michigan State. He played on 160 snaps, topped by 23 in the victory at Michigan State.

> High School

Stanley earned all-state, all-county and all-conference honors under Coach Kreg Kephart at Gaithersburg HS. He also received Washington Post first-team All-Met accolades after recording 27 sacks and more than 70 tackles for a loss during his career. In his senior season, he made 78 tackles, including 24 minus-yardage plays. He also recorded 12 sacks and forced five fumbles in 2008. As a junior, he recorded an incredible 37 tackles for loss, including 16 sacks, and forced nine fumbles. In addition to being a standout defensive lineman, Stanley also played running back and tight end. He was captain of the football and track and field teams. Rivals.com rated him the No. 14 overall player in Maryland after the 2008 season. He played in the Maryland Crab Bowl all-star game.

DEVON

Defensive Tackle > Wilmington, Del.

Devon Still entered the Lasch Football Building weight room in the cold and darkness of an early January morning with one thing on his mind. After playing arguably the best game of his career against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl, it wasn't enough to help his team win, instead finishing with a 7-6 record. And so, since resuming workouts at the year's outset, Still has used the disappointments of 2010 and the game with the Gators as motivation leading into the 2011 season. Still set career-highs with seven hits (six solo) and a team season-high 3.5 tackles for loss, also a career-high, against Florida. A probable All-Big Ten candidate, he has an opportunity for a high impact fifth-year senior season. A starter in 12 games last year, Phil Steele's College Football Preview selected him preseason third-team All-Big Ten. He tallied 39 tackles, 10 tackles for loss and a team-high 4.0 sacks in 2010. The gifted athlete has been a workhorse in the weight room and in off-season conditioning workouts to increase strength and stamina. Having suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee as a true freshman in 2007, Still's hard work in his rehabilitation seemingly went for naught when he suffered a broken ankle during preseason camp in 2008. He battled back to play in the regular-season finale with Michigan State that year and has emerged as a valuable contributor for the D-Line the past two seasons. Still has great physical attributes, talent and a hard-charging motor. He has demonstrated big-play capability and should be a leader and a significant contributor on the D-Line in 2011. Still is one of five returning Nittany Lions from Delaware. He is on schedule to graduate in December.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Still ended the season with arguably the finest game of his career. Against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl on New Year's Day, he set career-highs with seven hits (six solo) and a team season-high 3.5 tackles for loss. A 2010 honorable-mention All-Big Ten selection, Still led the team with 10.0 tackles for loss and 4.0 sacks (minus-19). A starter in 12 games, he delivered 39 tackles and one pass breakup. Still made three tackles at No. 1 Alabama, including a sack. He recorded three hits in the 24-0 win over Kent State, including 2.5 TFL for minus-nine yards, with a sack. He had three hits in the win over Temple, helping hold the Owls scoreless over the final three quarters and to 71 yards in the second half. Still made four tackles, including one for a loss, at Iowa and had three stops against Illinois. Still punctuated the win at Minnesota by sacking Adam Weber in the end zone for his first career safety. He recorded two tackles and the sack for a loss of six yards against the Golden Gophers. Still led the defensive line against Michigan, making a then-career-high six tackles and batting down a Denard Robinson pass on Michigan's final possession. He had four tackles and one sack for a six-yard loss in the epic 35-21 comeback victory over Northwestern. Still was on the field for 710 snaps, led by 80 in the win at Minnesota and 71 against Illinois.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Playing in every game, Still made 19 stops, including 5.5 tackles for minus-15 yards. He recorded two sacks, including dropping Tate Forcier for a 10-yard loss in the Nittany Lions' 35-10 win at Michigan. Still recorded a minus-yardage play in five of the final six contests. He made a career-high three tackles each against Syracuse and Ohio State and had two stops in six other games. He recorded two tackles in the big Capital One Bowl win over LSU, including one for negative yardage. Still was on the field for 348 plays, led by 45 in the win over Indiana and 40 each against Illinois and Michigan.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

After doing a great job in his rehabilitation of a torn ACL in his left knee, Still entered pre-season camp with an opportunity to earn a spot in the defensive tackle rotation. But, he was dealt another setback, suffering a broken left ankle in August. Driven by the desire to make his Penn State debut in 2008, Still again worked hard in his rehab and saw action on 10 snaps in the regular-season finale win over Michigan State.

PENN STATE CLAIMS 24TH LAMBERT TROPHY UNDER PATERNO

Penn State won an unprecedented 28th Lambert Meadowlands Trophy in 2009. Symbolic of Eastern football supremacy, the award is presented by the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC). The Nittany Lions also were selected ECAC Team-of-the-Year for a record 13th time.

In addition to the team accolades, quarterback Daryll Clark was named the ECAC Player-of-the-Year for the Football Bowl Subdivision, leading a group of five Nittany Lions that were named ECAC All-Stars among FBS institutions.

Joe Paterno's squad topped Big East Champion Cincinnati in the final ECAC Lambert Meadowlands Poll presented by FieldTurf to capture its 24th Lambert Trophy under the Hall of Fame coach.

Established in 1936 by brothers Victor and Henry Lambert in memory of their father, August, the Lambert Meadowlands Trophy was first claimed by Penn State in 1947, led by Coach Bob Higgins. Coach Rip Engle guided Lambert winners in 1961, '64 and '65. The first of Paterno's 24 Lambert titles came in 1967, his second year as head coach.

Seventeen institutions have captured the Lambert Meadowlands Trophy, but no four schools combined can match Penn State's 28 titles.

The Nittany Lions were selected the ECAC Team-of-the-Year in 2009 for a record 13th time since becoming eligible in 1985. Penn State has won the Lambert Trophy and ECAC Team-of-the-Year accolades three times in the past six years (2005, 2008 and 2009).

34 NATE STUPAR

Linebacker > State College, Pa.

The breadth of talent at "Linebacker U." will give the Nittany Lions one of the deepest and most productive linebacker corps in the nation. After making seven starts last season, Nate Stupar returns to the defense as the lone senior linebacker. Playing in every game on defense and special teams in 2010, he will be a strong candidate to play a significant role for the Nittany Lions. Last year, he was third on the team with 73 tackles, recording 6.5 tackles for loss, with two sacks, one interception, a forced fumble and four pass breakups. An instinctive, intense and intelligent player, Stupar will be among the combatants for what could be a fierce battle for the starting outside linebacker assignments. A hard-hitter, he finished a strong spring practice atop the depth chart at one of the OLB posts. Stupar is a strong, versatile and tenacious athlete who loves to compete. One of the premier students on the squad, he should be a strong candidate for CoSIDA Academic All-America recognition. A Dean's List student, Stupar graduated in May with a 3.64 cumulative grade-point average. He compiled a superlative 3.95 GPA during the most recent spring semester and is a three-time Academic All-Big Ten honoree. The former State College Area HS all-state selection is a member of one of the most prominent families in program history. Stupar has an appreciation and understanding of Penn State football to a higher degree than most of his teammates. Stupar's father, Steve, was a Nittany Lion lineman from 1976-79. Uncles Ron, Doug and Jeff Hostetler all played for Penn State in the same era.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Stupar played in every game on defense and special teams, making seven starts at outside linebacker. He was third on the team with 73 tackles, recording 6.5 tackles for loss (minus-28), with two sacks, one interception, a forced fumble and four pass breakups. Stupar ranked fifth on the squad in minus-yardage plays. His 1.5 tackles for loss against Youngstown State were a career-high and included a sack for minus-eight yards. He had four hits at No. 1 Alabama and he made three stops in the 24-0 win over Kent State. Stupar delivered the play of the game in the win over previously unbeaten Temple. He grabbed the second interception of his career in the third quarter, returning it 31 yards to the Temple 12 to set up Collin Wagner's go-ahead field goal. Stupar made a team-high-tying seven tackles, with five in the second half, and recorded a sack against the Owls. He recorded five tackles, including one for a loss of four yards, at Iowa. Stupar made a then-season-high nine tackles, including one for a loss, and had one pass breakup against Illinois. He compiled six stops in the win at Minnesota and contributed five tackles in the epic comeback win over Northwestern.

Stupar led the linebacking corps with five solo tackles (7 total) at Ohio State. He had an active day against Indiana, registering a team-high 10 tackles (six solo), the second-highest total of his career. He made a game-high-tying 10 hits against No. 10 Michigan State for his second consecutive double-figure tackle game and the third of his career. Stupar also forced his first career fumble against the Spartans. He saw action on 619 snaps, topped by 78 against Illinois and 66 at Minnesota. Stupar earned Academic All-Big Ten honors for the third time. He spent a portion of his summer participating in an internship with a video production crew at Camp Woodward, near State College.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Stupar recorded a career-high 12 tackles (eight solo), including a sack, in the win over Akron to launch a season that saw him play in every game on defense and special teams. He made 31 tackles, the second-highest total among defensive reserves, and earned his first two career starts. He also had 1.5 tackles for loss and one interception. Stupar was on the field for 324 plays, led by 65 against Akron, as he took the field in the first quarter when Navorro Bowman was injured. Stupar made his first career start against Syracuse and recorded five stops. He also collected his first career interception, returning it 17 yards to the Orange two-yard line to set up a touchdown. Stupar started against Temple and again recorded five tackles, helping hold the Owls to two field goals. He suffered a slight ankle sprain that limited his time the following week against Iowa. In the road win at Illinois, he made three hits and he had two stops each against Ohio State and Indiana. Stupar compiled a 3.85 grade-point average during the fall semester and was selected Academic All-Big Ten for the second time.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

Stupar was a key contributor for the special teams and gained experience on defense. Playing in every game, he recorded 21 tackles, blocked two punts and forced another punter to abandon his kick. In his second collegiate game, Stupar broke through the Oregon State punt protection unit and forced the Beavers' punter to run with the ball. Stupar dropped him for a nine-yard loss and two plays later Evan Royster burst 28 yards to give Penn State a 21-0 lead en route to a 45-14 victory. After several near misses on punt block attempts, Stupar finally got one in the 46-17 win over Michigan. He got a hand on a third-quarter punt, and it traveled only 12 yards. The deflection gave Penn State excellent field position and resulted in a Kevin Kelly 32-yard field goal for a 29-17 lead and a continuation of the game's momentum swing. Stupar recorded his second blocked punt against Indiana deep in Hoosier territory, resulting in a Kelly field goal and a lead the Lions would not relinquish in the 34-7 victory. Playing in every game and 290 snaps, Stupar made a season-high five tackles each against Coastal Carolina and Oregon State. He also had two stops each in the wins over Syracuse, Temple, Wisconsin and Indiana. He was on the field for a season-high 42 plays against Coastal Carolina. Stupar compiled a 3.58 grade-point average during the fall semester to gain Dean's List and Academic All-Big Ten honors.

> 2007 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Stupar tied for the game-high in tackles with six in the 2008 Blue-White game.

> High School

Rated among the nation's Top 10 defensive end/OLB prep prospects in 2006, Stupar was a versatile standout for Coach Al Wolski at State College Area HS. He played multiple positions during his prep career, including tight end, running back, receiver, linebacker and defensive end. Stupar was named the Pennsylvania Defensive Player-of-the-Year and the Mid-Penn Defensive MVP as a senior. He was selected first-team Associated Press all-state as a junior and senior. During his career, he recorded 192 tackles, including 31 sacks, and one interception. A team captain, he made 60 stops with eight sacks as a senior. Stupar was a prolific receiver, with 91 career catches for 1,388 yards and 18 touchdowns, including 39 grabs for 624 yards and eight scores as a senior. He also ran for 216 yards on 24 carries and scored two touchdowns in 2006. A 2007 Big 33 selection, Stupar was instrumental in State College Area reaching the 2006 Pennsylvania Class AAAA state semifinals. An honor roll student, he also was a two-year starter for the basketball and lacrosse squads.

Full name is Stephen Nathan Stupar. He is the son of Stephen and Cher Stupar, both Penn State graduates. He has two brothers, Jonathan and Robby, and two sisters, Dyanna and Katlyn. His father was a lineman at Penn State from 1976-79. Jonathan played tight end at Virginia from 2004-07 and is in his fourth season with the NFL's Buffalo Bills. Katlyn played basketball at the Pennsylvania College of Technology, scoring more than 1,000 career points. Uncles Ron, Doug and Jeff Hostetler all played football for the Nittany Lions in the late 1970s and early 1980s. Jeff, who finished his college career at West Virginia, was a quarterback in the NFL with the New York Giants, Los Angeles/Oakland Raiders and Washington Redskins. Another uncle, Todd Hostetler, played baseball for the Nittany Lions, lettering in 1981-82 and '84-85. A cousin, Bekah Hostetler, was a standout on the Penn State field hockey team from 2002-05. Also, a grandfather, Frank Stupar, played football at Tennessee. In his spare time, Stupar enjoys paintball and video games. Stupar graduated in May 2011 with a degree in film-video and is interested in a career directing films or videos. He is enrolled in sociology this semester and is a three-time Academic All-Big Ten honoree.

JOE
 Running Back > Deerfield, Ill.

Players that have the versatility to contribute in a variety of ways are the lifeblood of any football program. That description perfectly describes senior running back Joe Suhey, which makes him a valuable commodity for the Nittany Lions on both offense and special teams. A vital weapon in the passing attack, totaling 36 combined receptions the last two seasons in addition to his physical blocking skills, Suhey possesses soft hands and displays deceptive shiftiness after a catch. A tough runner with good speed and instincts, he can grind out a first down in a short-yardage situation and also pave the way for one of his backfield mates with his solid blocking skills. The athletic and intelligent Suhey also is a core special teams player, willing and able to lay a block to spring a returner, return a kick or make a tackle. Suhey earned Academic All-Big Ten honors last fall and graduated in May, finishing with a cumulative grade-point average above 3.00. He compiled a 3.40 GPA during the 2011 spring semester. The field-savvy Suhey comes from a family that is as synonymous to Penn State football as the Paterno namesake. He is a fourth-generation Nittany Lion hailing from arguably the first family of Penn State football. His father, Matt, was a standout running back at Penn State from 1976-79 before starting a highly-successful career with the Chicago Bears. His great-grandfather, Bob Higgins, was Penn State's second All-American, garnering honors in 1915 and '19 and served as head coach from 1930-48. Joe's grandfather, Steve Suhey, was a letterman at guard in 1942 and again in 1946-47, earning All-America honors his senior season. That gives the Higgins-Suhey family an amazing 95 years of involvement with the Penn State program of the 125 seasons it has existed, including this season.

► 2010 ► Senior Season

Suhey made seven starts while playing in every game on offense and as one of the squad's premier special teams players. He was seventh on the team with 15 receptions for 154 yards and a touchdown and had eight carries for 15 yards in addition to his outstanding blocking. Suhey started five-straight games from Alabama through Illinois. He caught two balls for 16 yards against Kent State and made three receptions for 32 yards in the primetime win over Michigan. Suhey played a significant role in the historic comeback win over Northwestern, making a career-high six receptions for 67 yards. His efforts helped Penn State erase a 21-0 deficit for a 35-21 decision and Joe Paterno's 400th career victory. Suhey also delivered a 25-yard touchdown reception during the fourth quarter comeback against No. 10 Michigan State. Suhey was on the field for 224 snaps, led by 32 against Indiana and 28 against Northwestern. He received Academic All-Big Ten honors.

► 2009 ► Junior Season

Playing in every game, with two starts, Suhey demonstrated the ability to contribute as a rusher, receiver and blocker. He was seventh on the team with 254 all-purpose yards. Suhey was fifth on the squad with 21 receptions for 186 yards and one touchdown and gained 68 rushing yards on 22 carries. He finished the regular-season with a strong performance. He made three catches for 40 yards in the win at Michigan State, including a leaping 30-yard catch-and-run down the far sideline for his first career receiving touchdown. The reception was a career-long and gave Penn State a two-touchdown lead in the eventual 42-14 victory. Suhey also gained 16 yards on just three carries against the Spartans. In his first career start, he made a career-best four catches for 40 yards in the win over Akron. He tied his high with four receptions for 32 yards in the Senior Day victory over Indiana and had a 15-yard catch in the win at Illinois. Suhey was highly effective in the 35-10 win at Michigan, gaining 18 yards on just three carries. Suhey played on 361 snaps, led by 44 in the big win over LSU in the 2010 Capital One Bowl and 32 in the victory over Syracuse.

► 2008 ► Sophomore Season

In his first season on the field, Suhey saw action in every game on offense and special teams. He proved to be an effective runner, receiver and blocker in his redshirt freshman campaign. Suhey gained 26 yards on nine carries and had two receptions for 36 yards. In his collegiate debut, against Coastal Carolina, Suhey gained 11 yards on three carries and made one catch for 17 yards. He gained 11 yards on three carries against Temple, including a season-long nine-yard run. He caught a season-long 19-yard pass in the 48-7 win at Wisconsin. Suhey was on the field for 172 snaps, led by 24 each against Coastal Carolina and Temple.

► 2007 ► Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Suhey scored a touchdown and gained 17 yards on six carries in the 2008 Blue-White game.

► High School

Suhey was a standout player at Loyola Academy. His high school coach was John Holecek, a former Buffalo Bills linebacker. As a receiver, Suhey made touchdown receptions of 25, 35 and 45 yards. He earned team MVP, all-conference and all-area honors and was honorable-mention all-state. He also was a three-year starter for the basketball team and a team captain. He played with Michael Jordan's two sons, Jeff and Marcus, at Loyola Academy.

► Personal

Full name is Joseph Steven Suhey. He is the son of Matt and Donna Suhey. He has one brother, Scotty, and a sister, Allison. His father was a standout running back at Penn State from 1976-79, rushing for 2,818 yards, good for No. 10 on the school career list, and 26 touchdowns before starting a lengthy career with the NFL Chicago Bears. His mother also is a Penn State graduate. Joe's great-grandfather, Bob Higgins, was the second All-American in Penn State football history, receiving the honor in 1915 and again in 1919, and later served as head coach from 1930-48. Joe's grandfather, Steve Suhey, was a letterman at guard in 1942 and again in 1946-47, receiving All-America honors his senior season. He married one of Bob Higgins' daughters, Ginger. Three of their sons, Paul, Larry and Matt, played for Penn State in the 1970s. One of Joe's first cousins, Kevin Suhey, was a quarterback and special teams player for the Nittany Lions from 2005-07 and graduated in 2008. Joe received his degree in recreation, park and tourism management in May 2011 with a cumulative grade-point average above 3.00. He compiled a 3.40 GPA during the 2011 spring semester and is enrolled in media studies this semester. Born May 30, 1989 in Chicago, Ill.

When Nick Sukay fired down the field and drilled the ball from Illinois' Jack Ramsey on the opening kickoff of Penn State's Homecoming contest, the play seemed like an early momentum shift and possible turning point for the Nittany Lions. And it was — for all the wrong reasons. Illinois pounced on the ball to limit the damage and Penn State was dealt the biggest blow. On the play, Sukay came up lame. Although he stayed in the game and made three tackles, it was later revealed that the Lions' playmaking safety had a torn pectoral muscle and would miss the remainder of the season. The loss was a big one for Penn State as the hard-hitting Sukay entered the game with 19 consecutive starts and tied for the Big Ten lead with three interceptions. The talented and instinctive Greensburg Central Catholic HS product has been a bulldog in his rehabilitation and should be 100 percent in time for preseason camp. Selected preseason third-team All-Big Ten by Phil Steele's College Football Preview, Sukay has demonstrated a great work-ethic and perseverance to emerge as a significant contributor for the defense and special teams. An injury to his right foot required surgery at the beginning of the 2008 campaign, effectively ending any opportunities to gain playing time after taking a redshirt in 2007. A swift and strong athlete, Sukay tied for the team-lead last year with three interceptions after breaking up a team-high 11 passes in 2009. Sukay, who earned his degree in May, will be counted on for significant productivity and leadership in the secondary. He is among 17 returning Nittany Lions from Western Pennsylvania.

► 2010 > Senior Season

A starter in the first six games of the season, increasing his total to 19 career starts, Sukay made 29 tackles and grabbed three interceptions. Sukay forced a fumble on the opening kickoff against Illinois, but suffered a torn pectoral muscle on the play, ending his season. Despite the injury, he made three tackles before leaving the game in the first half. He was tied for the Big Ten lead in interceptions, with three, at the time of his injury and ended the season tied for the team lead. He made eight tackles at No. 1 Alabama and four stops in the 24-0 win over Kent State. Sukay grabbed his second and third interceptions of the season in the win over Temple. He became the first Nittany Lion with two interceptions in a game since Lydell Sargeant had a pair at Wisconsin in 2008. Sukay also made six tackles (four solo), helping the Lions limit the Owls to 71 yards and no points in the second half. He made seven tackles at Iowa and grabbed his third interception in two games at the Penn State 17. Sukay saw action on 345 snaps prior to his injury, topped by 72 at Iowa.

► 2009 > Junior Season

Sukay grabbed ahold of a starting assignment at strong safety (Hero) during the preseason and got the opening nod in every game. He logged significant playing time, seeing action on 882 snaps, the team's fourth-highest total. Sukay made 41 tackles, tied for fifth-highest on the squad, and grabbed two interceptions. He was third in the Big Ten with 13 passes defended, breaking up a team-high 11 passes, good for No. 2 in the conference. He also had one big fumble recovery and played an instrumental role for the Nittany Lions' Top 10 defense. Sukay made a career-high nine tackles against Iowa and followed with seven solo stops in the win at Illinois. He made his first career interception against the Hawkeyes and returned his second one 34 yards at Michigan State during Penn State's 28-point third-quarter outburst. Sukay also made four hits each in the wins over Syracuse, Eastern Illinois and Northwestern. In the victory at Michigan, Sukay pounced on a fumble at the Wolverines' 22-yard line. Two plays later, Daryll Clark threw a scoring strike to Graham Zug, giving Penn State a 32-10 lead in the third quarter. Sukay was all over the field in the Lions' 19-17 win over LSU in the Capital One Bowl. He broke up three passes and recovered a fumble on the final play of the game to seal the big win. Sukay was on the field for 882 snaps, led by 86 against Indiana and 84 in the win at Northwestern.

► 2008 > Sophomore Season

Sukay was unable to play due to an injury to his right foot. The injury required surgery near the beginning of the season. Sukay did a great job in his rehabilitation and was able to return to practice late in the season.

► 2007 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Sukay enrolled at Penn State in January 2007, graduating from high school one semester early.

► High School

Sukay was a standout for Coach William "Muzzy" Colosimo at Greensburg Central Catholic HS. As a junior and senior, he earned spots on the Pittsburgh Tribune-Review Terrific 25 and all-conference teams. He was instrumental in helping the Centurions reach the 2005 and '06 Western Pennsylvania district Class AA championship game. Following his senior season, Sukay also was named to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette Fabulous 22 and Harrisburg Patriot-News Platinum 33 teams. As a wide receiver, he caught 36 passes for 631 yards and six touchdowns and was ranked the No. 10 wideout in the nation. Sukay grabbed two interceptions and returned a punt 69 yards to set up a touchdown in the 2006 Western Pennsylvania district Class AA championship game. During his junior season, he made 29 receptions for 660 yards and eight touchdowns, while contributing 58 tackles, six interceptions and seven forced fumbles at safety.

80 ANDREW SZCZERBA

Tight End > Wilmington, Del.

Andrew Szczerba enters the season looking to again make an impact, having missed the entire 2010 campaign with a back injury. The big, soft-handed receiver enters the year as the Nittany Lions' most experienced tight end after appearing in every game on offense and special teams in 2008 and '09. A tireless worker who was co-recipient of the 2010 Frank Patrick Total Commitment Award, he will have an opportunity to serve a large role with the offense if he is healthy. A sturdy and steady target with excellent skills and physical attributes, Szczerba is one of the squad's most active players in community service and enjoys interacting with youth. In high school, Szczerba watched with great interest as the Nittany Lions won the 2005 Big Ten Championship and a berth in the FedEx Orange Bowl. Having led Salesianum HS to state titles in 2005 and '06, he is looking forward to helping the Nittany Lions return to the national championship picture. Szczerba graduated in May. The 2006 Gatorade Player-of-the-Year in Delaware, he is among five First State natives on the squad.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Szczerba spent the season rehabilitating a back injury and did not see any action.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Szczerba played in every game for the second consecutive year. He was on the field for 107 snaps. He again was among the squad's most consistently productive contributors on special teams. He made one catch for six yards in the win over Temple.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

Szczerba played in every game on offense and special teams. He made the first catch of his Penn State career in the season-opener with Coastal Carolina, hauling in a nine-yard reception from Paul Cianciolo. He was on the field for a season-high 26 snaps each against Oregon State and Temple and a total of 202 snaps. He caught three passes for 39 yards in the 2009 Blue-White game.

> 2007 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Szczerba made a game-high five catches for 65 yards in the 2008 Blue-White game.

> High School

Leading Salesianum HS to state championships in 2005 and 2006, Szczerba was a dynamic player on both sides of the ball. Playing tight end and defensive end for Coach Bill DiNardo, Szczerba was selected the 2006 Gatorade Player-of-the-Year in Delaware while earning first-team all-state honors on offense and defense. A team captain, he also was named first-team all-conference and the Lineman-of-the-Year. Rated the No. 12 prep tight end in the nation, he made 12 receptions for 300 yards with four touchdowns as a senior. He also recorded 50 tackles, with six sacks, and one interception. He was selected to play in the 2007 Blue-Gold game. Szczerba also played basketball for three years and was a weightman on the track and field squad.

93 JAMES TERRY

Defensive Tackle > New Castle, Del.

The time is now for James Terry, who will enter preseason camp as one of the Nittany Lions' most experienced interior defensive linemen. With the graduation of Ollie Ogbu, who played in every game over the past four seasons, the 2011 season presents Terry with an opportunity to capitalize on his talents and hard work with more playing time. He has good size and skills and likely will compete with Devon Still and Jordan Hill for the starting defensive tackle assignments. He appeared in 12 games last season with his first career start coming in a 41-24 win over Indiana at FedEx Field. Terry played guard early in the 2009 season, but was shifted to defense as the season progressed. The former Brandywine HS standout is one of five returning Nittany Lions from Delaware.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Terry appeared in 12 games with one start on the defensive interior line. He made nine tackles and had one pass breakup for the season. Terry assisted on a pair of tackles in the opener against Youngstown State. He made three hits each against Iowa and Illinois, including a crucial stop against the Hawkeyes in the Red Zone. Terry made his first career start in the Nittany Lions' 41-24 victory over Indiana at FedEx Field. He was on the field for 141 snaps, led by 30 against Youngstown State and 24 in the win over the Hoosiers.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Terry spent some time on the offensive line, but by the end of the season was back at defensive tackle assisting one of the nation's top units. He saw action against Akron, Syracuse, Temple and Eastern Illinois and made two solo stops, including a sack for minus-seven yards against the Owls.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

Terry was a standout lineman for Coach Steve Dent at Brandywine HS. A football co-captain, he was second-team all-state and first-team all-conference as a junior. As a sophomore, Terry earned third-team all-state and first-team all-conference honors. He also was a member of the basketball team.

5 DERRICK THOMAS

Cornerback > Greenbelt, Md.

Derrick Thomas heads into the season looking to give the Nittany Lion defensive backfield added depth and make a push for more game action. The battle for playing time at the cornerback positions will be fiercely competitive, with two seniors and a junior the most experienced returnees. The talented and instinctive Thomas should have an opportunity to earn steady playing time on defense and special teams. Thomas and fellow corner Stephon Morris were prep teammates at Eleanor Roosevelt HS. They are among nine returning Nittany Lions from Maryland.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Thomas played in the initial four games, recording three tackles, one interception and two pass breakups. Thomas made two tackles and grabbed his first career interception against Kent State. He saw action on 124 snaps on defense and special teams, topped by 49 against the Golden Flashes.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

As a senior for Coach Tom Green at Eleanor Roosevelt HS, Thomas earned all-state, all-county and all-conference honors. A standout cornerback and running back, he ran for 923 yards and scored 16 touchdowns during his senior season. A Rivals.com four-star recruit, he recorded 43 tackles and five interceptions as a senior.

74 JOHNNIE TROUTMAN

Guard > Brown Mills, N.J.

Finding and maintaining continuity on an offensive line is essential to the productivity of any offense. Fifth-year senior Johnnie Troutman again will play a central role in finding that continuity and cohesion for the Nittany Lion O-Line in 2011. He has made considerable progress over the last two seasons while grabbing ahold of the starting job at left guard and is a probable All-Big Ten candidate. Troutman started the final 11 games of last year and has 19 career starts. He was instrumental on a Penn State offensive line that allowed only 12 sacks all season, tied for No. 2 in the Big Ten and No. 13 in the nation for fewest sacks allowed. Possessing very good physical attributes, skills and intensity, Troutman will be one of three returning senior starters to the O-Line. Troutman graduated in May with a degree in African and African American Studies. The former all-state selection at Pemberton HS is one of seven returning Nittany Lions from New Jersey.

> 2010 > Senior Season

Troutman started the final 11 games at left guard, giving him 19 career starts. He saw action on 930 snaps, the team's second-highest total to Stefan Wisniewski, led by 93 in the victory over Northwestern and 90 against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl. Troutman was instrumental in Penn State allowing only 12 sacks all season, tied for No. 2 in the Big Ten and No. 13 in the nation for fewest sacks allowed. He played a critical role in helping Penn State gain 350 or more yards nine times, topped by 528 yards in the historic 35-21 comeback win over Northwestern. The Nittany Lions ran for a season-high 260 yards against the Wildcats, with two 100-yard rushers, and threw for 268 yards. Troutman helped Penn State gain 496 yards against Indiana and 435 yards against Michigan, scoring 41 points in both victories.

> 2009 > Junior Season

Troutman moved into the first unit at left guard and started eight consecutive games before suffering a strained calf against Ohio State. He missed the Indiana game, but returned to help the Lions gain 512 yards en route to a 42-14 win at Michigan State. Troutman played on 619 snaps, led by 86 in the win over Minnesota and 75 in the 35-10 victory at Michigan. He was an instrumental member of an offense ranked No. 2 in the Big Ten at 406.9 ypg. Penn State was third in the Big Ten in fewest sacks allowed. Troutman and his linemates helped quarterback Daryll Clark rank No. 2 in the Big Ten in passing efficiency and deliver a school season-record 24 touchdown passes. The unit also was instrumental in Evan Royster becoming the seventh Nittany Lion all-time to gain 1,000 yards in multiple seasons. In the win at Illinois, Penn State rolled up 338 rushing yards, getting 100-yard games from Stephon Green (120) and Royster (105) and 83 yards from Clark. In the 52-3 pounding of Eastern Illinois, Penn State displayed dominating balance, racking up 268 yards passing and 285 yards rushing en route to a season-best yardage total of 553. The Minnesota victory capped a three-week stretch in which Troutman and the offensive line did not allow a sack. In the 34-13 win at Northwestern, its fifth straight, the Penn State offense gained 301 yards in the second half and 437 for the game, averaging 7.5 yards per play.

> 2008 > Sophomore Season

Troutman saw action in six games as a reserve to All-America guard Rich Ohrnberger and emerged as a contributor on one of the nation's top offensive lines. Troutman was on the field for 80 snaps, led by 19 against Coastal Carolina and 18 at Syracuse.

> 2007 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. Troutman enrolled as a full-time student at Penn State in January 2007.

> High School

Troutman was a standout for Coach John Rosnick at Pemberton HS. He earned first-team all-state and All-South Jersey honors. A team captain, he was selected All-Group III twice and all-conference three times. He was injured for most of his senior season with a knee injury. During his junior year, he made 67 tackles, with four sacks.

64 JOHN URSCHEL

6-3 > 284 > Jr./So. Eligible
Guard > Williamsville, N.Y.

Poised to step into a significant role on the offensive line, John Urschel has done an exceptional job balancing the rigors of football competition at the highest level while pursuing a challenging academic agenda. Urschel finished spring drills atop the depth chart at right guard and will have an opportunity to earn substantial playing time. The former all-state lineman from Canisius HS in suburban Buffalo brings good size, skills and strength to the field. A starter in the Nittany Lions' win over Indiana last year, he has made considerable progress on the practice field and in the weight room during his initial two years at Penn State. Urschel plays the same position as 2010 All-American Stefan Wisniewski, who graduated as the only Penn State football student-athlete to earn CoSIDA Academic All-America® honors three times. A Dean's List student, Urschel brought a perfect 4.00 cumulative grade-point average in mathematics into the summer. He should be a strong candidate for Capital One Academic All-America® accolades, looking to add to the Nittany Lions' nation's-best 15 Academic All-Americans® since 2006. Urschel is one of seven returning Nittany Lions from New York.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

Urschel saw his most significant career action against Indiana, starting and playing on 66 snaps at right guard in the 41-24 win. He helped the Nittany Lions gain 496 yards and 24 first downs in the victory at FedEx Field. He also played against Youngstown State and Kent State. Urschel compiled his third and fourth consecutive 4.00 grade-point averages during the fall and spring semesters. He earned Academic All-Big Ten honors for the first time.

> 2009 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

A defensive tackle at Canisius HS, Urschel earned all-state and Western New York Lineman-of-the-Year honors under Coach Brandon Harris. During his senior season, he recorded 77 tackles and 4.5 sacks. A senior captain on the gridiron, Urschel also was a three-year captain with the track and field team.

> Personal

Full name is John Cameron Urschel. He is the son of Venita Parker and John Urschel. In his spare time, Urschel enjoys reading and playing the guitar. He is a mathematics major and owned a perfect 4.00 grade-point average through the spring semester. Born June 24, 1991 in Winnipeg, Canada.

54 JAMES VAN FLEET

Linebacker > Williamsport, Pa.

"Linebacker U." has several jersey numbers that are etched into the heart, soul and minds of Nittany Nation. The No. 31 worn by Shane Conlan and Paul Posluszny quickly comes to mind, as does No. 11, worn by LaVar Arrington and Navorro Bowman. And Josh Hull firmly upheld the tradition of the No. 43 worn by Andre Collins and Brandon Short. But, what about No. 54? Standout linemen Bruce Clark and Marco Rivera give the number great lineage and linebacker Jamie Van Fleet has made the opposition and fans take notice of No. 54. The determined and hard-working Van Fleet completed one of the biggest plays of last season when he alertly scooped up a blocked Indiana punt and returned it 21 yards for his first collegiate touchdown. The play gave Penn State the lead for good in the third quarter as the partisan FedEx Field crowd roared its approval en route to a 41-24 Nittany Lion win. A talented and instinctive athlete from Loyalsock HS, Van Fleet has played in every game the past two seasons and has been a strong and effective contributor in the kicking game. He continues to demonstrate great effort and improvement in his bid to play a larger role for the defense and special teams. A Dean's List student, he owned a 3.40 cumulative grade-point average after the spring semester and garnered Academic All-Big Ten honors last fall. Van Fleet is a potential CoSIDA Academic All-America candidate. He is among 30 returning Nittany Lions from Central and Eastern Pennsylvania.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Van Fleet appeared in all 13 games at linebacker and is one of the squad's most productive special teams players. Van Fleet completed one of the biggest plays of the season when he scooped up an Indiana punt, blocked by Andrew Dailey, and returned it 21 yards to give Penn State the lead for good in the third quarter in the win at FedEx Field. The score was the first of his Nittany Lion career. Van Fleet made 11 tackles, seven solo, during the season. He recorded three hits each against Youngstown State and Illinois. He notched two solo tackles in the 41-24 win over Indiana. Van Fleet was on the field for 183 snaps, topped by 24 plays at Iowa and 19 against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl. He earned Academic All-Big Ten accolades.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Van Fleet was a strong and steady contributor on special teams. He played in every game and had five tackles. Van Fleet saw action on 85 snaps during the 2009 campaign, led by 14 against Temple. He made three solo stops on nine special teams plays in the win at Northwestern and had solo tackles against Akron and Temple.

> 2008 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season.

> High School

A two-year captain and all-state selection, Van Fleet played for Coach Richard Delaney at Loyalsock HS. He received CSC Linebacker-of-the-Year, team MVP and ESPN 1050 Linebacker/Defensive Player-of-the-Year honors his senior year. Van Fleet recorded 156 tackles and seven sacks his senior season, helping his team become the winningest squad in school history.

14 MIKE WALLACE

5-9 > 189 > Jr./So. Eligible
Cornerback > Silver Spring, Md.

Mike Wallace is a promising, athletic cornerback for the deep and talented secondary and a contributor on special teams. A 2010 Academic All-Big Ten honoree, he continues to work hard to play a greater role this year for a secondary that could have four senior starters. At the end of spring practice, the former Good Counsel HS standout was No. 2 on the depth chart to returning starter D'Anton Lynn at one of the corner spots. When he isn't in class or on the practice field, Wallace is honing his skills as a member of the Hip-Hop group Primary Element. The group performed "For The Kids" at halftime of the Feb. 17 Penn State-Minnesota men's basketball game on the eve of Penn State's annual Dance Marathon fund-raiser for pediatric cancer patients and research. Wallace also directed the Nittany Lion freshmen football players' winning dance performance at the THON Student-Athlete Pep Rally, joining the freshmen and Khairi Fortt on stage in a high-energy, jam-packed Bryce Jordan Center. Wallace is a cousin of former Nittany Lion linebacker Terry Killens, a four-year letterman who earned second-team All-Big Ten honors in 1995 and played seven seasons in the NFL. Wallace is among nine returning Nittany Lions from Maryland.

> 2010 > Sophomore Season

In his first season on the field, Wallace saw action against Kent State, Illinois, Indiana and Florida for the veteran and deep Penn State secondary.

MALCOLM
WILLIS

5-11 > 212 > Jr./So. Eligible
Safety > Marbury, Md.

Malcolm Willis is another Nittany Lion who took advantage of an opportunity when his name was called last year. Willis saw increased playing time the second half of the season as Nick Sukay and Andrew Dailey battled injuries. Starting the final six contests of 2010, he was instrumental in Penn State ranking second in the Big Ten and No. 16 in the nation in pass defense. Willis made considerable strides last year and is well-positioned to leverage his confidence and momentum into the 2011 season as a starter. He and Sukay likely will battle for the starting assignment at one of the safety spots. A strong, quick and instinctive athlete, Willis has demonstrated he can help disrupt some of the most powerful offenses in the country. A strong contributor on the special teams, he is one of nine returning Nittany Lions from Maryland.

► 2010 > Sophomore Season

Willis saw increased playing time the second half of the season as Nick Sukay and Andrew Dailey battled injuries. Starting the final six games, he was instrumental in Penn State ranking second in the Big Ten and No. 16 in the nation in pass defense. He was sixth on the squad with 54 tackles (29 solo), grabbed one interception and had three pass breakups. Willis made six stops against Illinois. He saw extensive action at Minnesota and recorded a career-high nine tackles in the win. Willis made his first career start in the primetime win over Michigan and tallied eight tackles and a team-high three pass breakups. He continued his strong play as he delivered eight tackles in the historic comeback win over Northwestern. Willis grabbed a critical fourth-quarter interception off Ohio State's Terrelle Pryor on Penn State's two-yard line, for his first career interception. He made five tackles against the Buckeyes in Ohio Stadium. Willis compiled four stops in the win over Indiana at FedEx Field and had two pass breakups. He made seven hits (six solo) and a pass breakup against Florida in the Outback Bowl. Willis was on the field for 642 snaps, topped by 90 plays at Minnesota and 80 plays against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl.

MICHAEL YANCICH

Tight End > Washington, Pa.

As the 2010 season began and unfolded, the tight end position was rocked by graduation and injuries. Gone from the 2009 squad were NFL draftees Andrew Quarless and Mickey Shuler. The most experienced returnee, Andrew Szczerba, wasn't able to practice all season due to a back injury. And then red-shirt freshman Garry Gilliam suffered a serious knee injury in the Big Ten-opener and was lost for the season. The depletion of depth brought about the shifting of Nate Cadogan to tight end last season and linebacker Michael Yancich prior to practice this past spring. Yancich made a quick transition and should have an opportunity to make an immediate impact, with Cadogan and Kevin Haplea the lone returnees with any experience. A tough, talented and instinctive player, Yancich earned All-America and all-state honors at Trinity HS. He is among 17 Nittany Lion returnees from Western Pennsylvania.

► 2010 > Junior Season

Yancich appeared in all 13 games as a linebacker and key member of the special teams units. He made four tackles (three solo). He made his first career tackle at Iowa and had a big stop on a kickoff return in the fourth quarter of the Michigan State contest. Yancich recorded two solo hits against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl. He saw action on 179 snaps last year, topped by 23 against Youngstown State, 19 against the Gators and 17 in the Illinois game.

► 2009 > Sophomore Season

Yancich played in 10 games, gaining experience and providing depth for the talented linebacker unit that featured a trio of All-Big Ten players. He also saw duty on special teams. Yancich saw his most playing time in the wins over Akron, Eastern Illinois and Michigan.

► 2008 > Freshman Season

Redshirt season. In the 2009 Blue-White game, Yancich led the Blue team with four solo tackles.

► High School

Playing for Coach Ed Dalton, Yancich was a standout at Trinity HS. He was selected an All-American by Tom Lemming and was named to the Offense-Defense All-America team. He also was a Class AAA first-team Associated Press all-state and PA Football News All-Pennsylvania first-team linebacker. Yancich was named to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette Fabulous 22, the Pittsburgh Tribune-Review Terrific 25 and was the Washington Observer-Reporter Player-of-the-Year in 2007. A first-team all-conference linebacker and running back, he was the 2007 Big 7 Conference Offensive MVP. He recorded 271 career tackles, with 30 sacks and four interceptions. As a senior, he made 134 stops, with 17 sacks and two picks. Yancich also gained 2,133 career rushing yards with 25 touchdowns, including 1,617 yards and 21 scores as a senior. A senior captain, he twice led Trinity to the WPIAL district Class AAA quarterfinals. He played in the 2008 Offense-Defense All-American Bowl, helping the East squad to victory. Yancich also played two years on the basketball squad.

9 MICHAEL ZORDICH

Running Back > Canfield, Ohio

When Michael Zordich first arrived on campus in 2008, he had visions of becoming a defensive stalwart in the mold of his father, who was a first-team All-American for the Nittany Lions in 1985. A highly-regarded prep linebacker, the younger Zordich broke camp in 2009 as a defensive reserve. Midway through the season, he broke the mold and set out on his own path. Transitioning as a running back, the talented and hard-charging Zordich began to emerge as a key contributor on offense and special teams. He was an effective blocker immediately, and soon became a valuable runner and receiver. In 2010, he continued to grow into his new position and he enters this season as another experienced and productive member of the offense. He and senior Joe Suhey likely will wage a very competitive battle throughout the season for a possible starting assignment. A valued member of the special teams, the sure-handed and instinctive Zordich also secured his first fumble recovery deep in Illinois territory to set up a score. He and fellow running back Brandon Beachum led Cardinal Mooney HS to three consecutive Ohio Class IV state title games. Zordich's father, Michael, was a standout strong safety for the Nittany Lions from 1982-85, earning first-team All-America honors as a senior. The game at Temple will have special meaning for the younger Zordich, as he plays in the stadium where his father coaches as a member of the Philadelphia Eagles' staff. Zordich is among three returning Nittany Lions from Northeast Ohio.

> 2010 > Junior Season

Zordich emerged as a reliable contributor as a runner, receiver and effective blocker. Playing in every game, the former linebacker scored three rushing touchdowns, gaining 40 yards on 18 carries. He ran for 11 yards against Temple and scored his first career touchdown in the fourth quarter to give Penn State a 22-13 lead. He provided the Nittany Lions additional breathing room against Michigan with a five-yard touchdown run for a 38-17 lead in the third quarter in the thrilling primetime win. He scored on a one-yard run and made one catch against Florida in the 2011 Outback Bowl. A strong contributor on special teams, he hustled and slid to secure his first career fumble recovery on punt coverage late in the second quarter to set up a field goal against Illinois. He also made three tackles (two solo). Zordich was on the field for 376 snaps, led by 50 against Florida and 42 in the win at Minnesota.

> 2009 > Sophomore Season

Zordich was among the handful of players that compiled statistics on offense, defense and special teams during the course of the season. In the 42-14 win at Michigan State, he gained 13 yards on two carries. He also had three tackles, with two stops against Eastern Illinois and the other in the win over Temple. He also returned two kickoffs, one for 16 yards against Temple and another for 12 yards in the victory at Northwestern. Playing in the final 12 games of the season, he was on the field for 55 snaps.

Zordich was a standout linebacker and running back for Coach P.J. Fecko at Cardinal Mooney HS. He teamed with Nittany Lion teammate Brandon Beachum to lead Cardinal Mooney to the 2006 Ohio Class IV state championship and the 2005 and '07 state title games, winning 28 consecutive games in the last two seasons. Zordich was selected the 2007 Division IV Defensive Player-of-the-Year in Ohio and Scout.com rated him the nation's No. 5 middle linebacker. A team captain, Zordich was named to the Offense-Defense All-America team and was the Defensive MVP of the Offense-Defense All-American Bowl. He was selected to play in the 2008 Big 33 Classic. As a senior, he grabbed three interceptions and rushed for a total of 796 yards with nine touchdowns. As a junior, he gained close to 1,000 rushing yards and scored 16 touchdowns. Zordich also played basketball.

FOREVER BLUE & WHITE

ATHLETIC ENDOWMENTS

Join Penn State's proud athletic tradition. This is an opportunity to link your name in perpetuity with the accomplishments of all of Penn State's athletic teams.

By endowing a specific playing or coaching position on a team of your choice, you will help ensure that the University always will have funds available for expenses such as room and board, tuition and books; and that Penn State will be able to employ a first-rate coaching staff that will set a positive example for our young men and women.

As of June 2011, 26 benefactors already have seized the chance to endow a football position for the White Squad (see diagram below). The entire Blue Squad remains available.

This program is open to all positions on any of Penn State's 31 intercollegiate athletic teams in consideration of a gift of $300,000 and for a minimum commitment of $50,000 you can establish a named endowed scholarship to support the team of your choice.

Coaching endowments also are available in all 31 sports, with gift levels for assistant coaches starting at $500,000 and head coaches starting at $1 million. Patrick and Candace Malloy committed $5 million to create the Malloy Paterno Head Football Coach Endowment at Penn State.

The Malloys' gift will provide important resources for the football program. Income from the Malloy Paterno Head Football Coach Endowment will be directed, at the head coach's discretion and with approval from the director of athletics, to purposes ranging from academic support and special medical care for team members, to expenses associated with recruitment of student-athletes and coaching expenses, excluding salary supplements. Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics receives no state support for its programs and must cover the cost of fielding 31 varsity teams from ticket revenues and private giving.

The University invests endowed gifts in perpetuity and uses a portion of the annual income for the purposes intended by the donor. The remaining income is added to the principal to protect it from inflation and ensure its growth.

For more information on becoming a part of Penn State's proud athletic tradition, please call the Nittany Lion Club Office of Major Gifts at 814-863-GIFT (4438).

46TH YEAR
AS HEAD COACH

JOE PATERNO

A career marked with distinction, glorious accomplishments and immeasurable contributions to The Pennsylvania State University added another compelling chapter during the 2010 campaign.

Head coach of the Nittany Lions since 1966, Joe Paterno saw his resurgent and determined squad erase a 21-0 deficit late in the first half by scoring touchdowns on five consecutive possessions to beat Northwestern, 35-21, on Nov. 6, 2010. The victory was No. 400 in Paterno's career as he became the first Football Bowl Subdivision coach to reach the milestone and only the third overall in the history of the game.

The 100,000-plus fans in Beaver Stadium reveled as the Hall of Fame coach was honored in a post-game on-field ceremony. Not only had they witnessed win No. 400, but also the greatest Nittany Lion comeback at home in Paterno's 278th game coaching in Beaver Stadium. The rally from 21 points down also tied the greatest comeback under the legendary mentor, matching the memorable win at Illinois in 1994, when the Nittany Lions trailed 21-0 in the first quarter and won, 35-31, en route to the Big Ten and Rose Bowl titles and an undefeated season.

For 61 years and 722 games, Paterno has passionately served the Penn State football program and the university with principle and success with honor since matriculating to State College in 1950. After 16 years as an assistant coach, he was rewarded in 1966 with the head coaching responsibilities surrendered by the retiring Rip Engle, his college coach at Brown, who appointed him to the Penn State staff in 1950 as a brash 23-year old.

He is older now, and wiser, but no less enthusiastic and no less dynamic. He is, simply put, the most successful coach in the history of college football. He also is one of the most admired figures in college athletics, an acknowledged icon whose influence extends well beyond the white chalk lines of the football field.

In June 2011, Paterno shared the stage with Duke's Hall of Fame basketball coach, Mike Krzyzewski, for a unique 90-minute discussion on leadership and a variety of topics in front of an audience of 900 at Penn State's Eisenhower Auditorium. "Difference Makers: Life Lessons With Paterno and Krzyzewski" aired on ESPN during the summer to rave reviews.

Paterno's coaching portfolio includes two National Championships (1982, 1986); five undefeated, untied teams; 23 finishes in the Top 10 of the national rankings; an unprecedented five AFCA Coach-of-the-Year plaques, and more than 360 former players who have signed National Football League contracts, 33 of them first-round draft choices. A school-record four Nittany Lions were selected in the first round of the 2003 NFL Draft, tackle Levi Brown was the No. 5 overall selection in the 2007 NFL Draft and All-America defensive tackle Jared Odrick was a first-round choice in 2010.

THE PATERNO YEARS

Brothers George and Joe Paterno lead Brown to an 8-1 season as seniors.

1950

Following his graduation from Brown, Paterno follows Coach Rip Engle to Penn State as an assistant coach. Harry Truman is President of the United States.

1955

Paterno does not coach in the October 1 game at Army due to the death of his father, Angelo, one of just three games he has missed in his career.

1959

Paterno helps Penn State to a 9-2 record and just its third bowl bid, posting a 7-0 win over Alabama in the Liberty Bowl.

1962

Paterno marries Suzanne Pohland of Latrobe, Pa.

JOE PATERNO

His teams have registered seven undefeated regular-seasons and he has had 35 teams finish in the Top 25. Penn State has won the Lambert Meadowlands Trophy, emblematic of Eastern football supremacy, 24 times in Paterno's coaching run, including in 2008 and '09.

Paterno is the only coach to win the four traditional New Year's Day bowl games — the Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange bowls — and he owns a 6-0 record in the Fiesta Bowl. He was selected by the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame as the first active coach to receive its Distinguished American Award. Paterno also was the 1986 Sports Illustrated Sportsman-of-the-Year.

Since the start of the 2005 season, Paterno and his staff have led Penn State to a 58-19 (75.3) record, a figure that ranks among the top 10 percent nationally.

The success of Paterno's "Grand Experiment" also continued unabated in 2010. Senior Stefan Wisniewski led three Nittany Lions who were selected first-team CoSIDA Academic All-Americans®, as he earned his third selection. Linebacker Chris Colasanti and defensive end Pete Massaro joined Wisniewski, giving Penn State a nation's best 15 Academic All-Americans® since 2006 (13 first-team).

Obviously not a person of misplaced priorities, Paterno always has concentrated on seeing that his student-athletes attend class, devote the proper time to studies and graduate with a meaningful degree. He often has said he measures team success not by athletic prowess but by the number of productive citizens who make a contribution to society.

The 2009 NCAA Graduation Rates Report for Division I institutions revealed that the Penn State football program compiled an 89 percent graduation rate among freshmen entering in 2002-03, which was No. 1 among teams ranked in the 2009 final Associated Press poll. Penn State's figure was an astounding 34 points above the 55 percent FBS average.

The 2009 NCAA data also showed that Penn State posted a program-record 85 percent Graduation Success Rate, also the highest among 2009 AP Top 25 teams. The national average among FBS teams was 67 percent.

In his 46th year pacing the sidelines as head coach of the Nittany Lions, Paterno has faced every situation imaginable on the gridiron and has used his preparation, experience and understanding of the game he loves to respond and keep the Penn State program among the nation's elite for the past four decades.

Entering his 62nd season as a member of the Penn State coaching staff, Paterno is not fond of looking back, but it has been a memorable period for the legendary mentor. In 2007, he was inducted into the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame. The five-time National Coach-of-the-Year was selected for induction in 2006, and was set to join two more legendary coaches — Bobby Bowden and Gagliardi — as the first active coaches or players to be inducted into the Hall of Fame.

Coach Paterno's induction, though, was deferred until 2007, as the injuries he sustained during a sideline collision in a November game at Wisconsin prevented him from traveling to the 2006 event.

"I have mixed feelings because there were so many people that are not with me any more who made it possible for me," stated Paterno during the December 4, 2007 induction ceremony.

"How good has it been? What we share in football; there's never been a greater game. We've been involved in the greatest game, the greatest experience anybody could hope for. Great teammates. Guys you could trust. Guys you loved. Guys you would go to war with tomorrow. We're so lucky...we're so lucky. If we lose what we have in football, we'll lose an awful lot in this country and we've got to remember that."

Paterno moved past another football legend, Amos Alonzo Stagg, for longevity at a single institution among major college coaches in 2007. Stagg was a head coach for 57 years, including 41 at the University of Chicago (1892-1932).

A member of the Nittany Lions' coaching staff spanning the administrations of 12 U.S. presidents (starting with Harry Truman), Paterno passed Paul "Bear" Bryant on October 27, 2001 when the Nittany Lions secured his 324th victory by rallying from a 27-9 deficit to defeat Ohio State, 29-27, in the greatest Beaver Stadium comeback under the legendary coach prior to the milestone win over Northwestern last year.

"Even though he is enormously successful at it, from the perspective of meaningful contributions to society, the least important thing Joe Paterno does is coach football," former Philadelphia Inquirer sports columnist Bill Lyon told his readers.

Paterno has compiled a 401-135-3 mark in 45 seasons as head coach and is the leader in career wins among major college coaches. He passed his long-time friend and colleague, Bobby Bowden, on Sept. 20, 2008. Paterno's winning percentage of 74.7 is third-best among active Football Bowl Subdivision coaches (10 or more years) and he is second all-time in games coached (539) among major college coaches.

He enters the 2011 season seven wins away from tying Grambling's Eddie Robinson for second in career victories (408) in college football annals.

Paterno also is the all-time leader among coaches in bowl appearances (36) and post-season triumphs (24). His overall post-season record of 24-12-1 gives him a winning percentage of 66.2, good for No. 3 all-time among coaches with at least 15 bowl visits. The Nittany Lions are 17-8 in New Year's Day games under Paterno; 12-5 in games that comprise the Bowl Championship Series.

Penn State is one of just eight teams with 800 wins all-time and Paterno has been a member of the Nittany Lion staff for 505 of them — 62 percent of the 818 all-time total. Penn State owns a record of 505-183-7 (73.3) since Paterno joined the staff in 1950, the nation's third-highest winning percentage. He has missed just three games of a possible 695 Penn State contests over 60 seasons!

Paterno's longevity in a profession where change is a constant borders on the unbelievable. Consider that since Paterno was promoted to head coach in 1966 there have been 884 head coaching changes at Division I schools, an average of seven changes per school!

THE PATERNO YEARS

- 1966 One day after Rip Engle announced his retirement and 16 years after he had planned to attend Boston University law school, Joe Paterno is named Penn State's 14th head coach on February 19, 1966.
- 1966 Penn State defeats Maryland, 15-7, in Paterno's first game, and the Nittany Lions go on to post a 5-5 mark, one of only six non-winning records in his tenure.
- 1968 A last-second 15-14 win over Kansas in the Orange Bowl completes an 11-0 season.
- 1969 Despite Penn State compiling a second consecutive 11-0 season, President Richard Nixon proclaims Texas No. 1, and the Lions finish No. 2 again.
- 1971 Following a disheartening loss at Tennessee, Penn State romps past Texas, 30-6, in the Cotton Bowl in a game Paterno calls "one of the greatest victories in school history."

JOE PATERNO

There have been 36 head football coaches at Big Ten schools since Penn State began conference competition in 1993.

Winner of the AFCA National Coach-of-the-Year an unprecedented five times, Paterno's legacy will be recognized long after he leaves the game.

In December 2010, the Big Ten Conference announced the winning team in the Big Ten Football Championship game will receive the Stagg-Paterno Championship Trophy. The trophy pays homage to Paterno and Amos Alonzo Stagg, who won 199 games at the University of Chicago when the Maroons were Big Ten members. Paterno ranks fifth among Big Ten coaches all-time with 154 victories since the Nittany Lions began conference play in 1993. Stagg's win total is the second-highest total in Big Ten history.

"It's an honor for our family and Penn State to have my name associated with the Big Ten Championship Trophy," stated Paterno, who is the Big Ten's all-time post-season victories leader (10-4 mark since 1993).

In January 2011, NCAA President Mark Emmert presented the Gerald R. Ford Award to Paterno at the NCAA Convention. The award honors an individual who has provided significant leadership as an advocate for intercollegiate athletics on a continuous basis throughout his or her career. "For me, Coach Paterno is the definitive role model of what it means to be a college coach," said Emmert.

The Maxwell Football Club announced in 2010 it was renaming its top college coaching honor the Joseph V. Paterno College Coach-of-the-Year Award. Virginia Tech's Frank Beamer was the inaugural winner in 2011.

"The Maxwell Football Club is privileged to honor the legacy of Coach Paterno, his values and his successes on and off the field," said Executive Director Mark Wolpert.

Since Paterno began leading the program in 1966, Penn State has had 78 first-team All-Americans, with at least one selection in 38 of his 45 years. Guard Stefen Wisniewski earned first-team All-America and CoSIDA Academic All-America® honors in 2010. Wisniewski was selected first-team All-Big Ten for the second consecutive year and a prestigious National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete, the 16th under Paterno. He was joined by Penn State career rushing leader Evan Royster as a three-time all-conference honoree.

During the 2009 season, Paterno banded together a squad of highly-motivated and dedicated student-athletes and coaches into a team that delivered Penn State's 23rd Top 10 finish. A team possessing outstanding work-ethic, commitment and senior leadership produced the Nittany Lions' fourth bowl victory in five seasons with a hard-fought, thrilling last-minute victory over LSU in the Capital One Bowl.

The 2009 Nittany Lions compiled consecutive 11-win seasons for the first time since 1985 and '86, when Penn State played in consecutive National Championship games. Paterno's 21st season with double-figure victories and his 15th team to win at least 11 games added to the litany of coaching records he owns. The Nittany Lions also garnered their third Top 10 finish in five years.

Quarterback Daryll Clark was selected co-winner of the 2009 Chicago Tribune Big Ten Silver Football after breaking several school season and career passing and total offense records. The 2009 senior class compiled a superb 40-12 ledger over four years.

Paterno and the 2008 Nittany Lions displayed resiliency and toughness to capture the Big Ten Championship and the program's second Bowl Championship berth in four years.

Trailing rival Ohio State in the fourth quarter in a late-October night game, the visiting Nittany Lions made a momentum-swinging play and went on to score the game's final 10 points to post a hard-fought victory en route to their third Big Ten crown and a berth in the Rose Bowl. Penn State went 11-2, finishing No. 8 in the Associated Press and USA Today Coaches polls.

Paterno also was resilient, as he fought through a hip injury that occurred two days before the 2008 season-opener, displaying toughness and fortitude to his squad when in obvious pain. The day after the Big Ten-clinching win over Michigan State, Paterno had successful hip replacement surgery and led the Nittany Lions during their preparations for the Rose Bowl meeting with Southern California.

Paterno was selected the 2008 Big Ten Dave McClain Coach-of-the-Year, winning the honor for the third time, second only to Bo Schembechler's four selections in the award's history. He also was a finalist for three national Coach-of-the-Year honors: the Eddie Robinson Award (FWAA), Liberty Mutual and George Munger (Maxwell Football Club).

A school-record 10 Nittany Lions were selected first-team All-Big Ten in 2008, more than double the second-highest total, and a record 14 players earned first or second-team all-conference accolades. Four Nittany Lions received All-America honors and A.Q. Shipley became Penn State's first recipient of the Rimington Trophy, presented to the nation's outstanding center.

It was a record-breaking year for academic accomplishments as well. A program-record five players were selected to the 2008 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America® team, with four on the first team. Penn State's four first-team selections and five overall selections led the nation, becoming the first school to have five Academic All-America® football players since Nebraska in 1997.

THE PATERNO YEARS

1973 Led by Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti, Penn State goes 12-0 for its third unbeaten season under Paterno.

1976 A 41-20 victory over North Carolina State on November 6 gives Paterno his 100th career win.

1977 Paterno does not attend the October 15 game at Syracuse after son, David, is involved in a trampoline accident.

1978 An Alabama goal line stand helps deny No. 1 ranked Penn State its first national championship, 14-7, in the Sugar Bowl.

JOE PATERNO

The 2007 edition of the Nittany Lions featured the program's third consecutive winner of the Chuck Bednarik Award, linebacker Dan Connor. The Nittany Lions' comeback victory over Texas A&M in the Valero Alamo Bowl was Paterno's 500th game as Penn State's head coach.

Winner of the 2005 Butkus and 2005 and '06 Bednarik awards, All-America linebacker Paul Posluszny was selected the 2006 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American®-of-the-Year in Division I football, gaining first-team honors twice.

The 2005 Nittany Lions are a squad Paterno will remember fondly. The players and coaches passionately toiled every day to return Penn State to the national championship picture. The Nittany Lions compiled an 11-1 record, captured the Big Ten Championship and a triple-overtime win over Bowden's Florida State squad in the 2006 FedEx Orange Bowl.

The 11-win season represented another milestone, as Penn State recorded at least 10 victories under Paterno in a fifth decade. The Lions were No. 3 in the polls, their 13th Top 5 finish.

For his leadership in restoring the Nittany Lions to the nation's elite, Paterno was recognized with numerous National Coach-of-the-Year honors in 2005, capped by an unprecedented fifth selection by the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA). He also received national honors from the Associated Press, Bobby Dodd, Home Depot/ESPN, Maxwell Football Club (George Munger), Pigskin Club of Washington, D.C., The Sporting News and the Walter Camp Football Foundation.

Milestones, Paterno has said, are not things that motivate him. One day he may look back on the rich canvas he has created but it won't be anytime soon because retirement is about the last thing on this 84-year-old's mind. In December 2008, Paterno agreed to a contract extension through the 2011 season.

Before Paterno removes those white athletic socks and trademark black Nikes for the final time, there's not much doubt he will have established THE benchmark for college football coaches.

Three of his squads finished a perfect 12-0 — in 1973, 1986 and 1994 — and his 1968 and 1969 squads were 11-0. His 1978 and '85 teams were unbeaten in the regular-season, losing in bowl games for the National Championship.

Paterno has remained true to the ideal that a university is an educational institution first and foremost, graduating his student-athletes and constantly striving to instill values of citizenship and sportsmanship.

"He's putting together this winning program, but meanwhile he's teaching 17-, 18-, 19-year-olds how not to screw their lives up, how important education is, how important it is to have social acumen," All-America linebacker Greg Buttle told the San Antonio Express-News.

"Forget what he's done for players. He's done more for a single university than anyone else. It transcends his coaching. No. 1 to him is what he's done for Penn State University, No. 2 is what he has done for players."

Since beginning play in the Big Ten in 1993, Penn

State's 260 academic all-conference honorees are the most for any league school.

In December 2007, Patrick and Candace Malloy honored Paterno's contributions to the University by committing $5 million to create the Malloy Paterno Head Football Coach Endowment at Penn State.

"All of Penn State has benefited from Joe's commitment to success with honor," said Patrick Malloy, a 1965 alumnus of the University. "He is so much more than a coach; he's an educator. He teaches his players how to win in life as well as in football, and he teaches every Penn State fan how to make the world a better place through integrity, honesty, and excellence. We are also fortunate enough to know Sue Paterno, and we have the deepest admiration for her volunteer and philanthropic leadership at Penn State and beyond."

"He's tough as hell," former All-America linebacker and ex-NFL standout Shane Conlan said in an interview, "but he does things the way they're supposed to be done. He follows the rules. He believes you're there for an education. He teaches you more than football. He teaches you about life."

"The greatest testimonial to the Penn State football program is its list of graduates," former All-America center Bill Lenkaitis, now a dentist in Foxboro, Mass., said. "Look at where these guys are now and what they're doing. Look how many go to medical school or law school. Look how many become heads of corporations. That's the real test of a college football program."

Lenkaitis' observations mirror his coach's response when asked to name his greatest team. It won't necessarily be the one with the most wins, most All-Americas, or the most post-season awards, Paterno has said. Rather, it will be the team that has yielded the most productive members of society.

Giving back is a theme Paterno not only preaches but also practices. He and his wife, Sue, and their five children gave the University $3.5 million in 1998 to endow faculty positions and scholarships, and to support two building projects. The Paternos have contributed more than $4 million to Penn State in his tenure.

In 2009, the Paternos pledged $1 million to the construction of a 42,000-square foot wing for the Mount Nittany Medical Center in State College, the primary healthcare facility in a growing Centre County.

"This gift demonstrates our continued pride in this community and gratitude for the profound expertise and care of our physicians, Jon Dranov and Wayne Sebastianelli," said Paterno. "We see great things for this community and its future growth, and we are excited to be part of assuring continued excellence in our local healthcare, now and for generations to come."

THE PATERNO YEARS

The Nittany Lions knock off top-ranked Georgia, 27-23, in the Sugar Bowl on January 1, 1983 to claim the school's first national championship.

1984

Joe and Sue Paterno establish the Paterno Libraries Endowment with gifts totaling $120,000. The Endowment's value now is more than $4 million.

1986

Paterno is named Sports Illustrated Sportsman-of-the-Year and AFCA Coach-of-the-Year for a record fourth time.

1986

Penn State intercepts Vinny Testaverde five times and stuns Miami (Fla.), 14-10, in the Fiesta Bowl on January 2, 1987 to finish 12-0 and claim its second national championship.

Paterno And the Presidents

Paterno spoke with Barack Obama during the 44th president's trip to Penn State to deliver a speech unveiling his Better Buildings Initiative in February of 2011.

Paterno was called upon to introduce George W. Bush during a Pennsylvania stop on the 43rd president's successful campaign for a second term in 2004.

President George H.W. Bush visited the Penn State campus during his term. Paterno seconded Bush's nomination at the 1988 Republican National Convention.

Presenting President Ronald Reagan with a No. 1 jersey was a pleasure for Paterno during the Nittany Lions' visit to the White House following the 1986 National Championship season.

President Gerald Ford visited the Penn State campus in 1978 following his term in office. Paterno presented him with a ball from the Nittany Lions' 1978 team that went 11-1.

"I tell you one thing about Joe Paterno; there's no more decent fellow on the face of the Earth. What a man, who sets high standards, he loves his family, he loves this university, he loves his country, and my mother and dad love him. Coach, thanks for coming. Proud you're here."

— President George W. Bush
during a 2005 address on the Penn State Campus

Joe and Sue Paterno have been actively involved with the Special Olympics Pennsylvania Summer Games, held each June on the University Park campus. The Paternos were inducted into the Special Olympics Pennsylvania Hall of Fame in 2008.

In 2009, Joe and Sue were honored by the Charcot-Marie-Tooth Association for a lifetime of achievement. Coach Paterno is a national spokesperson for CMTA.

Paterno received the 1999 National Heritage Award of the Anti-Defamation League at a gala in Philadelphia.

"Coach Paterno is an outstanding role model, mentor and leader, humanitarian and philanthropist," ADL Regional Director Barry Morrison said. "He has helped build champions both on and off the field through his ongoing commitment to the values that ADL stands for — equality, dignity, educational achievement, tolerance and diversity."

"Angelo Paterno (Joe's father) died in 1955, when his son was an assistant coach, 11 years away from becoming the head coach. But his son became an idealist and jousts still with windmills, and it is difficult to believe if he had become a barrister, while he would have been a good one, that Joe Paterno would have affected as many lives, wrought more good, than he has as a coach," Bill Lyon wrote on the occasion of the ADL award.

Paterno, whose tenure at Penn State — 16 years as an assistant and 45 as head coach — spans the administrations of 12 U.S. Presidents, owns one of sport's most substantial resumes. In his five-decade-plus career, he has:

- ✓ Led teams to 24 bowl victories, more than anyone in his profession;
- ✓ Become the only coach to win the four traditional New Year's Day games — the Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange bowls — as well as the Fiesta Bowl;
- ✓ Captured National Championships in 1982 and 1986 and had teams finish undefeated, but uncrowned, in 1968, 1969, 1973 and 1994;
- ✓ Posted 11 or more victories in 15 seasons;
- ✓ Seen at least one player gain a first-team All-America berth in 38 of his 45 years;
- ✓ Won Coach-of-the-Year honors an unprecedented five times in balloting by the American Football Coaches Association (1968, '78, '82, '86 and '05);
- ✓ Been selected by the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame as the first active coach ever to receive its Distinguished American award;
- ✓ Appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated as its 1986 Sportsman-of-the-Year;
- ✓ Watched more than 350 of his ex-Lions play in the National Football League, including 33 who were first-round draft choices;
- ✓ Coached players who have won all of the major college awards — Heisman, Maxwell, Walter Camp, Lombardi, O'Brien, Outland, Butkus, Bednarik, Doak Walker, Biletnikoff and Rimington;
- ✓ Witnessed the payoff to his emphasis on graduating and achieving academic goals through the selection of 37 first-team Academic All-Americans, 16 Hall of

Paterno records his 200th victory with a 45-19 decision over Bowling Green on September 5.

1990

Paterno's 25th season as head coach is highlighted by a last-second 24-21 win at No. 1 Notre Dame on November 17.

1991

Paterno becomes the first active college coach to receive the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame "Distinguished American Award."

1993

In its first game as a member of the Big Ten Conference, Penn State defeats Minnesota, 38-20, on September 4 in Beaver Stadium.

1994

Trailing 21-0 in the first quarter, Penn State rallies to win at Illinois, 35-31, on November 12, clinching the Nittany Lions' first Big Ten Championship. The comeback is the largest under Paterno.

✓ Tutored three former players enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame and eight whose plaques hang in the College Football Hall of Fame, including Curt Warner, who was inducted in 2009.

Paterno needed fewer games (246) to reach the 200-win plateau than any of the 10 major college coaches on the list. He also was the quickest to achieve 300 victories. It took Bear Bryant, the previous leader, 393 games to reach that level; Paterno attained that peak in 380 games.

One of the astonishing statistics about his tenure is that he has been on the coaching staff for more than half of the football games played by the Nittany Lions since the program bowed in 1887.

The January 1, 1997 Fiesta Bowl was the University's 1,044th game and Paterno's 522nd since arriving on campus. Prior to the 2006 Temple game, six days after his leg surgery, he had been absent only twice for an opening kickoff — at Army in 1955 due to the death of his father and at Syracuse in 1977 when his son, David, was seriously injured in an accident.

Penn State's 2011 season-opener with Indiana State will be the 696th game of Paterno's career.

Paterno admitted to being especially energized when the Nittany Lions, after more than 100 years as an independent, signed on as members of the Big Ten Conference in 1993. It didn't take long for Penn State to flex its muscle in the new neighborhood.

In just its second year of conference affiliation, Paterno guided Penn State to a 12-0 record, including a victory in the 1995 Rose Bowl. The Lions became the first Big Ten team to record an undefeated season in 26 years and first ever to post a 12-0 record. The Lions were ranked No. 2 behind Nebraska in the final polls, marking the third time an unbeaten Paterno-led squad finished second in the nation.

The Nittany Lions are 154-68 overall since starting competition in the Big Ten in 1993. Paterno is one of just five coaches in Conference history to win at least 150 games at one institution.

Defining Joe Paterno by wins and losses, however, is to trivialize his contributions to intercollegiate athletics. This native of Brooklyn, N.Y., is not a man of misplaced priorities.

"How many football coaches majored in English Literature at an Ivy League school," retired Penn State athletic director Jim Tarman, a Paterno friend since 1950, asked? "When he sits up half the night, as he did for years, doing 'x's' and 'o's' for the next day's practice or next Saturday's game, he always listened to opera. I think the fact that he has such a broad range of interests is one of the reasons our football program has been different."

Obviously not a person of misplaced priorities, Paterno always has concentrated on seeing that his student-athletes attend class, devote the proper time to studies and graduate with a meaningful degree. He often has said he measures team success not by athletic prowess but by the number of productive citizens who make a contribution to society.

"The players who have been most important to the success of Penn State teams," Paterno has said, "have just naturally kept their priorities straight: football a high second, but academics an undisputed first."

In his extraordinary career, Penn State has produced at least one first-team All-America in 38 of his 45 years. Defensive end Courtney Brown and linebacker LaVar Arrington were the top two selections in the 2000 NFL Draft, only the third time in the history of the modern draft that the first two players chosen have been college teammates.

In a survey of pro football general managers and personnel directors by The Sporting News, Penn State was a clear-cut winner as the college program that best prepares players for the NFL.

"That program is well-rounded from the standpoint that Joe Paterno demands discipline for his players, both academically and on the field," said Rod Graves, General Manager of the Arizona Cardinals. "Standards of character are very high there. The kids practice extremely hard. I don't care whether you are bringing in a free agent or a first-round draft choice, those kids know how to work. Nine times out of 10, you'll never have any problem with those kids off the field."

Significant as it is, Paterno's football portfolio offers but a glimpse of his multi-faceted personality. He has taken on duties away from the field with the same sense of purpose and ambition.

The Paterno Era Highlights 1966-2010

1966: 5-5

Penn State overcame early-season losses at Michigan State and UCLA to post a .500 record. The Nittany Lions were outscored, 208-193, for the first of only five times in the Paterno Era. QB Tom Sherman led the offense, passing for 943 yards, after starting the season as a DHB.

1967: 8-2-1

Bowl: Gator/Florida State, T 17-17

The Lions lost LB Mike Reid and HB Bob Campbell to knee surgery, but reckless defense and QB Tom Sherman, who set six offensive records, led Penn State. TE Ted Kwalick won All-America honors.

1968: 11-0

Rankings: 2nd AP, 3rd UPI

Bowl: Orange/Kansas, W 15-14

Penn State posted the only 11-0 record in the country with a last-minute Orange Bowl win. TE Ted Kwalick and LB Dennis Onkotz won All-America honors. The Rover Boys led the defense, which scored or set up 145 of Penn State's 339 points.

1969: 11-0

Rankings: 2nd AP, 2nd UPI

Bowl: Orange/Missouri, W 10-3

Joe Paterno summed up the season as "pride and poise." The key game was the 15-14 win at Syracuse in which the Lions trailed 14-0 in the final quarter. LB Dennis Onkotz, DT Mike Reid, S Neal Smith and HB Charlie Pittman won All-America honors.

1970: 7-3

Penn State won its last five games with sophomore QB John Hufnagel leading the offense after a 2-3 start. The Lions' 31-game unbeaten streak ended at Colorado (41-13). LB Jack Ham won All-America honors.

1971: 11-1

Bowl: Cotton/Texas, W 30-6

Penn State rebounded from a regular-season ending defeat at Tennessee with a decisive Cotton Bowl win over Texas. HB Lydell Mitchell, who rushed for 1,547 yards, T Dave Joyner and LB Charlie Zapiec were All-Americans.

1972: 10-2

Rankings: 8th UPI, 10th AP

Bowl: Sugar/Oklahoma, L 0-14

The Lions lost only the opener at Tennessee and the Sugar Bowl to Oklahoma. The offense averaged more than 400 yards behind TB John Cappelletti and QB John Hufnagel. Hufnagel, DE Bruce Bannon and LB John Skorupan won All-America honors.

THE PATERNO YEARS

Paterno becomes the first coach ever to win all four major bowl games, and the winningest bowl coach, as Penn State caps a 12-0 season with a victory over Oregon in the Rose Bowl on January 1, 1995.

1995

Against Wisconsin on September 30, Paterno is involved in his 500th game as a member of the Penn State coaching staff.

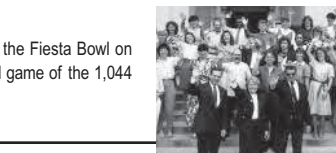

1995

Joe and Sue Paterno become grandparents for the first time when eldest daughter Diana gives birth to Brian Andrew Giegerich on October 13.

1996

The Nittany Lions improve to 6-0 at the Fiesta Bowl on January 1, 1997, in Paterno's 522nd game of the 1,044 Penn State has played to that point.

1997

Groundbreaking for the $34.4 million Paterno Library addition to Pattee Library on the University Park campus takes place on April 25.

JOE PATERNO

1973: 12-0

Bowl: Orange/LSU, W 16-9

For the third time in six years, Penn State completed a perfect season in the Orange Bowl. Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti rushed for more than 200 yards in three straight games, an NCAA record at the time. Two All-Americans, DT Randy Crowder and LB John Skorupan, anchored the defense.

1974: 10-2

Bowl: Cotton/Baylor, W 41-20

Penn State rallied for five of its 10 wins, atoning for narrow losses to Navy and North Carolina State with a decisive Cotton Bowl win over Baylor. DT Mike Hartenstine and T John Nessel won All-America honors.

1975: 9-3

Bowl: Sugar/Alabama, L 6-13

Defense and kicking highlighted the season. K Chris Bahr, LB Greg Buttle and G Tom Rafferty won All-America honors. The Lions lost, 17-9, at Ohio State and were upset against North Carolina State, but rebounded to take part in the first Sugar Bowl played in the Superdome.

1976: 7-5

Bowl: Gator/Notre Dame, L 9-20

Penn State lost three straight games for the first time in Joe Paterno's 11 seasons, before rallying to end the year with six consecutive wins. LB Kurt Allerman was an All-America pick.

1977: 11-1

Rankings: 4th UPI, 5th AP

Bowl: Fiesta/Arizona State, W 42-30

Only a 24-20 loss to Kentucky kept Penn State from an undefeated season. QB Chuck Fusina led the offense, passing for 2,221 yards. T Keith Dorney and MG Randy Sidler won All-America honors.

1978: 11-1

Bowl: Sugar/Alabama, L 7-14

Penn State achieved its first No. 1 ranking, before losing to Alabama in the Sugar Bowl. K Matt Bahr, who booted a then-NCAA record 22 field goals, T Keith Dorney, DT Matt Millen, DT Bruce Clark, QB Chuck Fusina and S Pete Harris were All-America selections.

1979: 8-4

Rankings: 18th UPI, 20th AP

Bowl: Liberty/Tulane, W 9-6

The young Lions, with only six seniors starting in the Liberty Bowl, rallied for Penn State's 41st consecutive non-losing season. FB Matt Suhey led the offense, rushing for 973 yards. DT Bruce Clark won All-America honors, but was injured the last half of the season.

"Penn State is a place that knows a little bit about playing to win. Last I counted, Coach Paterno has got more than 400 wins under his belt."

— President Barack Obama

during 2011 address on the Penn State Campus

The Paternos have won wide admiration for their philanthropy. Their $3.5 million gift, in conjunction with their volunteer service to Penn State, make the Paternos a unique couple among colleges and universities nationwide. Their pledge is believed to be the most generous gift ever made by a collegiate coach and his family to a university.

The Paterno gift endows faculty positions and scholarships in the College of the Liberal Arts, the School of Architecture and Landscape Architecture, the University Libraries and supported two building projects on the University Park campus — the interfaith Pasquerilla Spiritual Center, which opened in 2003, and the Penn State All-Sports Museum, which opened in 2002.

"Penn State has been very good to both Sue and me," Paterno said at the time of their 1998 gift. "We have met some wonderful people here, we've known many students who have gone on to become outstanding leaders in their professions and in society, and all of our children have received a first class education here. I've never felt better about Penn State and its future potential than I do right now. Sue and I want to do all we can to help the University reach that potential."

"I have a theory that Joe coaches not so much for what he can do for football as for what he can do for the University and the community," Penn State president Graham Spanier said. "And that makes me the luckiest university president in the country."

The Paternos' effort as co-chairs of the campaign to expand Pattee Library included a personal contribution of $250,000 among the $14 million raised. The Penn State Board of Trustees voted to name the new library wing after the Paternos. The five-story, 135,000-square-foot expansion doubled the size of Pattee Library. The $34.4 million Paterno Library was dedicated on September 8, 2000.

Paterno was a major contributor of both money and time to the $352 million Campaign for Penn State, for which he served as Vice Chair. He also was an honorary chair for the University's Grand Destiny campaign that netted more than $1.37 billion by its June 2003 conclusion.

Joe and Sue Paterno established the Paterno Libraries Endowment in 1984 with gifts totaling $120,000. Subsequent contributions have pushed the Endowment's total to $4 million.

"I've said it a hundred times," Paterno stated at the time the drive began, "a great library is the heart of a great university, and if we want to remain a big-league university, we've got to have a big-league library."

"Sue and Joe Paterno are legendary at this institution, not only because of the notable and consistent success of the Nittany Lions, but also because of the values they have espoused over the years," former president Joab Thomas said at the time the Board of Trustees' decision was announced to name the new library wing after the first family of Penn State football.

"Family, learning, loyalty and commitment are prominent among those values. This new library will stand as an appropriate tribute to all that they have done for Penn State."

THE PATERNO YEARS

1997 A 30-27 win at Northwestern is Penn State's 400th victory since Paterno joined the coaching staff in 1950.

1998 Joe and Sue Paterno give Penn State a $3.5 million gift to endow faculty positions and scholarships and to support two building projects, bringing the cumulative amount of their gifts to the University to more than $4 million.

2001 Paterno oversees the seventh expansion of Beaver Stadium during his tenure, bringing capacity to 107,282, the second-largest in the nation.

JOE PATERNO

Paterno also was a donor and committee member for the campaign to build the Bryce Jordan Center and committed $250,000 to the drive to construct the Penn State All-Sports Museum, which was part of the seventh Beaver Stadium expansion project since he became head coach.

The icon of college coaching has elevated Penn State football to a level matched by only a very few. And, since the day he arrived on the campus as a fresh-faced assistant on Rip Engle's new staff, Paterno has proven winning and educating are not mutually exclusive goals.

The wisdom of Paterno's "total person" approach to football — which addresses academic and lifestyle matters in addition to athletic prowess — has won almost universal endorsement from the "products of the system."

"...I can tell you that virtually all of the players he's touched in fifty years as an assistant and head coach have been enriched by the experience," former quarterback Todd Blackledge said in the forward to Quotable Joe, a book of quotations by and about Paterno. "I consider myself, and I know my teammates and Penn State players past and present feel likewise, a better person for having played for Joe Paterno."

LaVar Arrington was a two-time All-America and won the 1999 Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker as well as the Maxwell Club's Chuck Bednarik Award, presented to the top collegiate defensive player.

"If you're not a man when you get there, you'll be a man before you leave," Arrington said of his Penn State experience. "...Joe has his system so that you're prepared for life. Joe trains you more mentally than physically so that nothing will rattle you."

Ex-All-America linebacker Matt Millen, an ESPN/ABC football analyst, is of the opinion "the main thing Joe gives you is perspective. He's a teacher. He does more than football stuff. He's always giving you these little speeches, and after a while you hear them so often and understand them and they're pretty true."

Paterno has developed 65 student-athletes who have earned first-team All-America honors a total of 78 times. Three of his many NFL players — linebacker Jack Ham, fullback Franco Harris and guard Mike Munchak — have been enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Ham, defensive tackle Mike Reid, tight end Ted Kwalick, linebacker Dennis Onkotz, tackle Keith Dorney and running backs John Cappelletti, Lydell Mitchell and Curt Warner are in the College Football Hall of Fame.

Paterno's enshrinement into the College Football Hall of Fame marked the second time the National Football Foundation has demonstrated his unique impact and standing on college football.

In December 1991, Paterno became the first active coach ever to receive the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame Distinguished American Award. Since the award was instituted in 1966, it had never been presented to an active college coach. Tom Osborne of Nebraska received the award in 1995, then the second active coach cited.

Joe Paterno introduced legendary Pittsburgh Steelers linebacker Jack Ham at his NFL Hall of Fame induction in 1988. Ham is one of three NFL Hall of Fame players Paterno has coached at Penn State.

2001

Paterno becomes the all-time NCAA Division I-A career victory leader as he posts his 324th win with a 29-27 victory over Ohio State.

2005

Paterno leads the Lions to an 11-1 record, a share of the Big Ten championship and a win over Florida State in the Orange Bowl. He is the consensus National Coach-of-the-Year, gaining AFCA honors for the fifth time.

2003

Paterno joins the short list of national icons whose image has adorned the Wheaties box.

2007

Paterno is inducted into the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame.

JOE PATERNO

1986: 12-0
National Champions
Rankings: 1st AP, 1st UPI Bowl: Fiesta/Miami (Fla.),
 W 14-10

Penn State won its second National Championship by defeating top-ranked and unbeaten

Miami (Fla.) in the Fiesta Bowl. The Nittany Lions had close calls against Cincinnati, Maryland and Notre Dame, but were unbeaten in the regular-season for the second straight year and played in their fourth National Championship game in nine seasons. LB Shane Conlan, T Chris Conlin, RB D.J. Dozier and DT Tim Johnson were All-America picks.

Bowl: Citrus/Clemson, L 10-35

The Nittany Lions opened the season by presenting Joe Paterno with his 200th coaching victory, a 45-19 win over Bowling Green. The regular-season ended with the Lions stopping a two-point conversion try to beat Notre Dame, 21-20, at Beaver Stadium. Junior G Steve Wisniewski was an All-America selection.

1988: 5-6
 Off to a fast start with four wins in their first five games, the Lions were a luckless team in the final six weeks, beating only Maryland. Narrow losses to Rutgers (5 points), Alabama (5) and Pittsburgh (7) left the Lions under .500 for the first time since 1938. Pressed into service by injuries, Tony Sacca became the first "true" freshman to start at quarterback in the Paterno Era. G Steve Wisniewski won All-America honors for the second consecutive year.

1989: 8-3-1
Rankings: 14th UPI, 15th AP
Bowl: Holiday/Brigham Young, W 50-39

After dropping the opener to Virginia, the Lions won six of the next seven games, a string interrupted only by a blocked field goal attempt on the final play in a one-point loss to Alabama. Ray Tarasi hit a last-second field goal to beat Pittsburgh, 16-13. TB Blair Thomas and LB Andre Collins were All-Americans and among the finalists for the Heisman and Butkus awards, respectively.

1990: 9-3
Rankings: 10th UPI, 11th AP
Bowl: Blockbuster/Florida State, L 17-24

After losing to Texas and Southern Cal to open the season, Penn State won nine consecutive games and a berth in the inaugural Blockbuster Bowl. The Lions shut out Alabama at Tuscaloosa, limiting Alabama to its lowest rushing output (six yards) in history. The Lions also upset No. 1 Notre Dame, 24-21, on Craig Fayak's 34-yard field goal in the final minute at South Bend.

Bowl: Fiesta/Tennessee, W 42-17

Penn State won its final six games to annex its 21st Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy. For the second straight year, the Nittany Lions lost at Southern Cal, 21-10. The other loss was at Miami (Fla.) in a battle that went down to the final minute. Tony Sacca and Terry Smith set passing and receiving records for an offense that totaled the most yards (5,098) in school history to that point. For the first time since 1982, Penn State gained more yards throwing (a then-record 2,642) than running (2,456). Hero Darren Perry received All-America honors.

ented football. As their plain white jerseys and blue numbers attest, they're not a flashy bunch. But at the conclusion of each collegiate season, they're invariably among the top teams in the country. Most importantly, at the end of their college careers Joe's players have learned those valuable lessons of character and moral conduct that typify Coach Paterno himself.

Another former president, the late Ronald Reagan, characterized Paterno as a person "who has never forgotten that he is a teacher who's preparing his students not just for the season, but for life."

As one almost could expect, Paterno sees his role as larger than merely charting "x's and o's" on a chalkboard.

"What are coaches?" Paterno said in his acceptance speech at the 1991 Hall of Fame dinner. "Number one, we're teachers and we're educators. We have the same obligations as all teachers at our institutions, except we probably have more influence over our young people than anyone other than their families.

"...we're dealing with emotions; we're dealing with commitment; we're dealing with discipline, and loyalty, and pride. The things that make a difference in a person's life — pride, loyalty and commitment — are the things that make a difference in this country. We're teaching them the realities of the competitive life."

Endorsement of Paterno's methods have been apparent in a variety of surveys. In 2004, he was recognized twice for his impact on college football. He was selected the second-best college football coach of all-time by a panel of more than 300 media, current and former football coaches, Heisman Trophy winners and members of the College Football Hall of Fame.

Paterno also was chosen the nation's best college football coach of the past 25 years by an ESPN25 expert panel in 2004. He finished No. 8 overall in the listing of college and professional coaches from all sports over the past 25 years.

The kind of success the Nittany Lions have achieved hasn't blurred Paterno's vision of what's right about college athletics.

"Just winning is a silly reason to be serious about a game," he said in his autobiography, Paterno: By the Book. "For a kid still in school, devotion to winning football games at nearly any cost may cripple his mind for life. Institutions of higher learning don't have the moral right to exploit and mislead inexperienced kids that way.

"The purpose of college football is to serve education," Paterno said, "not the other way around. I hound my players to get involved. Ten years from now I want them to look back on college as a wonderful time of expanding themselves — not just four years of playing football."

Paterno's support of scholarship and his creative and compelling views on sports and education have been widely recognized. He has been a frequent witness at Congressional hearings and he appeared before the Knight Commission. He delivered the Penn State spring commencement address in 1973 and is the recipient of three honorary degrees — Doctor of Laws from Brown, Doctor of Humane Letters from Gettysburg College and Doctor of Laws from Allegheny College.

In 1991, Paterno was inducted as an honorary member of the Penn State chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, the national classics society, which honors excellence in the study of the ancient Greeks and Romans.

"We wanted to honor him for two reasons," Michele Ronnick, a classics professor said. "One, for the wonderful library fund he established...and also for his abiding love of Virgil. I don't imagine there is another football coach in the country who can say that he's read the 'Aeneid' in Latin and loved it. He is truly unique."

Paterno was bestowed a trio of diverse honors in 2006. He was named a Free Spirit honoree and recognized by The Freedom Forum at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C. Paterno also received the Lifetime

2008

Paterno leads the Nittany Lions to an 11-2 mark, a Big Ten co-championship and a berth in the Rose Bowl. Penn State has a team-record 10 first-team All-Big Ten honorees and five Academic All-Americans and he is named Dave McClain Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year for the third time.

2010

On November 6, 2010, the Nittany Lions rally from a 21-0 deficit to beat Northwestern, 35-21, as Paterno becomes the first FBS coach with 400 career victories and just the third all-time among all NCAA divisions. The comeback is Penn State's largest at home under Paterno and tied for its largest overall.

JOE PATERNO

1992: 7-5

Rankings: 24th UPI, 24th USA Today/CNN

Bowl: Blockbuster/Stanford, L 3-24

Penn State sailed into its midseason game with defending National Champion Miami (Fla.) with a 5-0 record and a No. 5 national ranking. After suffering a disappointing 17-14 loss to the Hurricanes in a game the Lions dominated statistically, Penn State struggled over the final five weeks of the regular-season and in the Blockbuster Bowl with Stanford. The Lions restored some roar in the season-finale with a 57-13 win over rival Pittsburgh. O.J. McDuffie was an All-America and set or tied 15 school receiving, returning and all-purpose yardage records.

1993: 10-2

Rankings: 7th UPI, 7th USA Today/CNN, 8th AP

Bowl: Citrus/Tennessee, W 31-13

After 106 years as an independent, Penn State's inaugural season in the Big Ten Conference began 5-0, but losses to Michigan and Ohio State knocked the Nittany Lions out of Rose Bowl contention. Penn State rebounded to win its final four regular-season contests, including a 38-37 victory at Michigan State which produced the school's biggest comeback in 28 years. For the second time in three years, Penn State and Tennessee battled in a bowl game, with the Lions claiming a Citrus Bowl win to give Joe Paterno his 15th post-season victory, tying him with Bear Bryant for the all-time lead. DT Lou Benfatti was a first-team All-America.

Bowl: Rose/Oregon, W 38-20

The Nittany Lions captured their first Big Ten and Rose Bowl championships with a 12-0 campaign, the third in school history. Penn State was ranked No. 2 in the final polls after three weeks at No. 1 in mid-season. The Rose Bowl win was Joe Paterno's 16th in bowl games, making him the all-time leader in bowl wins. He also became the first coach to garner victories in the four traditional major bowl games. TE Kyle Brady, TB Ki-Jana Carter, QB Kerry Collins, WR Bobby Engram and G Jeff Hartings were first-team All-Americans, the squad's most since 1978. Penn State compiled its fifth unbeaten, untied season under Paterno and became the first Big Ten team to record a perfect season since Ohio State in 1968. The squad extended its winning streak to 17 games, the longest in the nation. The Lions led the country in scoring (47.8 ppg.) and total offense (520.2 ypg.) and broke 14 team and 19 individual school records, three Big Ten and nine bowl records.

1995: 9-3

Bowl: Outback/Auburn, W 43-14

Stung by consecutive home losses to Wisconsin, which snapped a 20-game winning streak, and Ohio State, the Nittany Lions won six of their final seven games, capped by a victory over Auburn in the Outback Bowl. Joe Paterno coached in his 500th game as a member of the Penn State staff against Wisconsin. QB Wally Richardson led the Lions to a quartet of fourth-quarter victories and set a school season record with 193 completions. Three-time All-America WR Bobby Engram finished his career with 12 school records. G Jeff Hartings became Penn State's 10th two-time first-team All-American and only the fourth Nittany Lion to twice earn GTE/CoSIDA first-team Academic All-America honors. Ten players were selected in the NFL draft, the most of any school in the nation and the second-highest total in school history.

Achievement Award from the Dapper Dan Charities in Pittsburgh and the History Makers Award, presented by the Senator John Heinz Pittsburgh Regional History Center.

Paterno's dual focus of athletic excellence and academic accomplishment is one of the reasons he was presented the Amos Alonzo Stagg Award by the American Football Coaches Association, the AFCA's highest honor, in 2002. The award honors those "whose services have been outstanding in the advancement of the best interests of football." Also in 2002, Paterno and one of his former players, Dr. Dave Joyner, were co-recipients of the Inspiration Award, presented by the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. Paterno also received the Hope Award from the National Multiple Sclerosis Society in 2002.

In 2001, Paterno received the Pennsylvania Founder's Award from then-Governor Tom Ridge, and was inducted into the Pittsburgh Hall of Fame. The Maxwell Club of Philadelphia presented him with its annual Reds Bagnell Award in 2000 for contributions to the game of football.

Paterno was the '98 winner of the initial State Farm Eddie Robinson Coach-of-the-Year Award, established to recognize an active college head coach who exemplifies the qualities of Coach Robinson as a role model to students and players, an active member of the community and an accomplished coach.

In 1994, Paterno received the Ernie Davis Award, presented by the Leukemia Society of America and named in honor of the late Syracuse All-America and Heisman Trophy winner. Paterno was the first coach to receive the award.

With his success has come a certain celebrity, which Paterno tolerates although he often finds it disruptive to his coaching persona.

He is widely sought as a speaker for clinics and banquets and has appeared in magazine, newspaper and radio/television advertisements for companies like Milano Bread, TIAA-CREF and Burger King.

Paterno was the first football coach ever named by Sports Illustrated as its Sportsman-of-the-Year, in 1986, and just the second college coach cited for the honor (UCLA basketball coach John Wooden was the other).

Paterno had a unique experience in 1992 when he attended the dedication of the Joe Paterno Child Development Center on the Beaverton, Ore., campus of Nike, Inc. Nike said Paterno's "career demonstrates that a teacher's caring concern for each student's development is the key to unlocking each student's potential."

His "folk hero" reputation in Central Pennsylvania has spawned an entire line of Paterno products, includ-

Bowl: Fiesta/Texas, W 38-15

The Nittany Lions began and ended the season with wins over Southern California and Texas in the Kickoff Classic and Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, respectively, to record their 12th 11-win season under Joe Paterno. Penn State played in a New Year's Day bowl for the sixth consecutive season and improved to 6-0 in the Fiesta Bowl, extending its non-conference winning streak to 17. The Texas game was Paterno's 522nd contest on the staff, exactly half of Penn State's games all-time. The senior class compiled a 42-7 career record, the second-highest number of wins in a four-year span in school history. Penn State finished in the Top 10 for the 20th time under Paterno. Fourteen true freshmen saw action. S Kim Herring was an All-American.

1997: 9-3

Bowl: Citrus/Florida, L 6-21

Penn State won at least nine games for the 21st time and gained its 25th Top 20 ranking under Joe Paterno, while also playing in its seventh consecutive New Year's day bowl game. The Nittany Lions were ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press preseason poll for the first time and were ranked No. 1 on two occasions for a total of four weeks, falling from the top spot both times after victories. Boosted by a 31-27 comeback win over Ohio State, Penn State took a 7-0 record into a showdown with unbeaten Michigan, which the Wolverines won. TB Curtis Enis was selected a first-team Associated Press All-American and the Big Ten Offensive Player-of-the-Year and was the fifth player chosen in the 1998 NFL Draft.

1998: 9-3

Rankings: 15th USA Today/ESPN, 17th AP

Bowl: Outback/Kentucky, W 26-14

A team which featured only five senior starters peaked at season's end with victories over Michigan State and Kentucky in the Outback Bowl. The year was highlighted by Joe Paterno's 300th career victory, a 48-3 win over Bowling Green on Sept. 12, as he became the sixth coach in NCAA history to reach the milestone. The defense was ranked among the top 12 in all four team statistical categories and didn't permit a runner to gain 100 yards. OLB LaVar Arrington was a first-team All-American and the first sophomore to be named Big Ten Defensive Player-of-the-Year.

1999: 10-3

Bowl: Alamo/Texas A&M, W 24-0

Penn State won at least 10 games for the 18th time under Joe Paterno to gain its 24th Top 15 finish. Paterno moved into third place on the all-time wins list among major college coaches with a 31-25 victory at Purdue. The Lions took a 9-0 record and the nation's No. 2 ranking into November, but a Minnesota field goal on the last play of the game began a three-game losing streak by a combined total of 12 points. In the Alamo Bowl, Penn State dominated Texas A&M, 24-0, the Lions' first bowl shutout in 40 years. OLB LaVar Arrington, DE Courtney Brown and MLB Brandon Short were consensus All-Americans, the first time three Penn State defensive players were so honored since 1978. The Lions' 12th two-time All-American, Arrington won the Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker and the Chuck Bednarik Award as the nation's premier defensive player. Brown and Arrington were the first two picks in the 2000 NFL Draft.

Penn State won four of its final seven games, but could not overcome a 1-4 start to finish with just its second season under .500 since 1938. One week after freshman Adam Taliaferro suffered a serious spinal injury at Ohio State, the emotion-charged Nittany Lions defeated Big Ten co-champion and Rose Bowl participant Purdue, 22-20. Following consecutive wins over Illinois and Indiana, Penn State played its first overtime game, but lost to Iowa, 26-23, in double-overtime. The Lions began the season by playing in their record fourth Kickoff Classic. FS James Boyd received third-team All-America honors by The Sporting News.

ing coffee mugs ("Cup of Joe"), life-size cardboard cutouts ("Stand-up Joe"), the Paterno bean bag buddy, JoePa Christmas ornaments and golf balls with his familiar face ("like the Penn State offense, three out of four guaranteed to go up the middle").

The life-size Paterno cutout shows up at wedding receptions, birthday and anniversary parties and nearly was in a police lineup. Startled by a silhouette in a vacationing neighbor's home, a high school student summoned police, who surrounded the house, only to find the "prowler" was a "Stand-up Joe."

Paterno has written two books — Football My Way with Gordon White and the late Merv Hyman and Paterno: By the Book with the late Bernie Asbell — and at least three others have been written about him — The Paterno Legacy with the staff of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette; No Ordinary Joe by Michael O'Brien and Quotable Joe, a compilation of quotes by and about Paterno by L. Budd Thalman that was released in 2001.

Paterno's thick glasses, rolled-up pants legs and white athletic socks have become signatures every bit as familiar to the Penn State faithful as the McDonald's golden arches or the Nike swoosh. So, too, are the Nittany Lions' conservative uniforms, with the high-top black shoes, white helmets bereft of logos, and plain jerseys without the players' names on the back.

"I don't think our uniforms look that bad," he says. "I think they say something to kids about team-oriented play and an austere approach to life."

Born on 18th Street in Brooklyn, on December 21, 1926, the first-born of Angelo and Florence Paterno remembers his old neighborhood as a place where "playing daily at sports was our work: not only touch football but also punchball and stickball..."

The Nittany Lions won five of six games after the first 0-4 start in program history to put themselves one win away from a bowl bid, but lost the season-finale at Virginia to finish with consecutive losing seasons for the first time under Joe Paterno. A 38-35 comeback win at Northwestern on October 20 moved Paterno into a tie with Paul "Bear" Bryant for career victories among NCAA Division I-A coaches. The following week, Penn State rallied from a 27-9 deficit against Ohio State to win, 29-27, giving Paterno his record-setting 324th win in the biggest Beaver Stadium comeback in his tenure. Redshirt freshman QB Zack Mills led the Lions to three comeback wins and broke the school record for total offense in a game, compiling 418 yards in the win over the Buckeyes.

Paterno went to St. Edmond's Grammar School and Brooklyn Prep high school where he played as a senior on the best Catholic-school team in the city. Brooklyn Prep's only loss was to St. Cecilia of Englewood, N.J., coached by a young Vince Lombardi.

"I had a sense that this young man had read far beyond his years," the late Father Thomas Birmingham, one of his high school teachers, said, "and was still reading on his own. I called him after class and I said, 'Joseph, I can't make you but I would love to have you do much more than the rest of the class.' And, typical Joe Paterno, he jumped at that chance."

From Brooklyn Prep, Paterno, after serving the final year of World War II in the U.S. Army, accepted an athletic scholarship to Brown University. "...probably because of my unimpressive height and weight, the Paterno doorstep wasn't over-run with college scouts," he said.

But, under the fatherly Rip Engle at Brown, Paterno blossomed into the heady quarterback of the Bears' football team. Teaming with his younger brother, George, the Paternos were instrumental in Brown posting an 8-1 record in 1949 and becoming an Eastern powerhouse.

Legendary sportswriter Stanley Woodward once described Paterno, who still holds the Brown career interception record (14), as a quarterback "who can't run, can't pass — just thinks and wins."

In addition to his role in the rushing and passing offenses, Paterno also returned punts and kickoffs, posting career averages of 8.8 and 20.1 yards, respectively. He had a 69-yard punt return for a touchdown to beat Holy Cross in 1949.

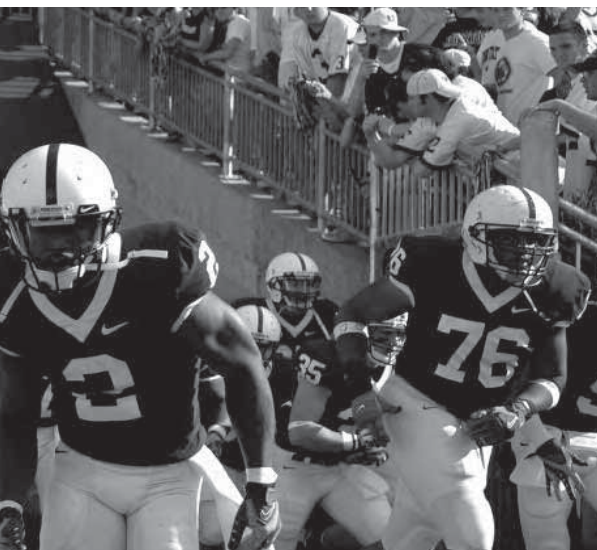

Paterno also played two seasons of basketball at Brown (his freshman coach was the late Pro Football Hall of Fame legend Weeb Ewbank).

Brown paid homage to its skinny ex-quarterback in 1993 when it named one of its major athletic awards in his honor. The coach attended a banquet in Providence to present the first "Joe Paterno Outstanding Male Freshman Athlete Award."

After his senior football season, Paterno took an Engle offer to work on a part-time basis with the Brown quarterbacks while awaiting graduation. He had been accepted into the Boston University law school and intended to follow the career path of his father, who went to night-school to earn his law degree, passing the bar exam at age 44.

"Everything was set," Paterno said, "until I got a surprising phone call from Rip Engle in Pennsylvania. He told me that his contract (to be the new head coach at Penn State) allowed him to bring one assistant coach. Rip astonished me by asking me to take the job."

After 16 years as an Engle assistant, Paterno was appointed head coach on February 19, 1966, a day after his friend and benefactor announced his retirement.

In the 61 years since he arrived in Happy Valley, Paterno has turned aside many opportunities to leave, the most publicized a famous courtship by the Boston Patriots in the early 1970s.

Explaining his decision to spurn the pros, Paterno told graduates in his 1973 commencement address: "Money alone will not make you happy. Success without honor is an unseasoned dish. It will satisfy your hunger, but it won't taste good."

"Joe is everything that the word 'passive' isn't," former athletic director and longtime friend Jim Tarman said. "Ever since I've known Joe, assistant coach through now, he used to get up every morning, jump out of bed, and ask, 'What can I do to make Penn State football, and Penn State, better today?' And, he expected everybody around him to do that."

Paterno married the former Suzanne Pohland of Latrobe, Pa., in 1962. Penn State Class of '62, she was honored in 2004 with the Penn State Distinguished Alumni Award, the University's highest honor. They have five children, all of whom are Penn State graduates: daughters, Mrs. Diana Giegerich and Mrs. Mary Kathryn Hort, and sons, David, Jay (Joseph Jr.) and George Scott, a 2001 graduate of The Dickinson School of Law of The Pennsylvania State University.

The Paternos have 17 grandchildren: Brian Andrew Giegerich, born in October 1995; Olivia Suzanne Hort (July 1996); Matthew Thomas Giegerich (May 1997); Robert Joseph Hort (January 1999); Sophia Nicole Paterno (April 1999); twins Joseph Vincent Paterno III and Caroline Arlene Paterno (January 2000); Sarah Katherine Paterno (June 2000); Christopher Paterno Hort (November 2000); Elizabeth Kathryn Paterno (July 2002); Nicole Suzanne Giegerich (August 2002); August David Paterno (June 2003); Jonathan Graybill Paterno (February 2004); Zachary Michael Paterno (May 2004); Paul Angelo Paterno (January 2006); Virginia Suzanne Paterno (August 2007) and Sally Paterno (April 2009).

The late Father Bermingham, Paterno's high school mentor, offered a touching retrospective on the man he first knew as a student at Brooklyn Prep:

"The Father gave me the sense that I was being handed a treasure. Joe is a treasure..."

2002: 9-4

Rankings: 15th USA Today/ESPN, 16th AP

Bowl: Capital One/Auburn, L 9-13

Penn State won at least nine games for the 24th time under Joe Paterno. The Nittany Lions suffered four losses, all by seven points or less, with two in overtime. A 40-7 thumping of Nebraska highlighted the non-conference season and Penn State played in its 20th New Year's Day bowl game under Paterno. The Lions finished with a flourish behind TB Larry Johnson, who became just the ninth player in NCAA Division I-A history to rush for 2,000 yards in the regular-season. Johnson captured the Maxwell and Walter Camp Player-of-the-Year awards, the Doak Walker Award and was a consensus All-American. Defensive linemen Michael Haynes and Jimmy Kennedy also were first-team All-America picks. The trio was joined by WR Bryant Johnson as first-round selections in the 2003 NFL Draft, with a school-record four Lions chosen in the first round.

Penn State lost five games by 10 points or less during a challenging season. The Nittany Lions were not able to hold onto fourth-quarter leads against Ohio State and Northwestern that could have turned around the season. The Lions closed the home schedule with a 52-7 win over Indiana on Senior Day. Joe Paterno moved into the top 12 in victories among Big Ten coaches who have coached at least 10 years in the conference.

Penn State was the nation's only team to not allow more than 21 points in a game and ranked in the Top 10 in scoring, total and pass defense, recording their best NCAA defensive rankings since starting Big Ten play. Penn State lost five games by 11 points or less, but a defensive stand to preserve a win at Indiana and a Senior Day victory over Michigan State provided momentum at the end of the season. QB Zack Mills finished his career owning or sharing 18 school passing and total offense records.

2005: 11-1 (Big Ten Co-Champions)

Bowl: FedEx Orange/Florida State, W 26-23 (3 OT)

Penn State garnered its 13th Top 5 finish under Joe Paterno with an 11-1 record and a share of the Big Ten Championship. The Nittany Lions capped the year with a 26-23 triple-overtime win over Florida State in the Orange Bowl, matching up Paterno and Bobby Bowden, ranked No. 1 and 2, respectively, in victories among major college coaches. DE Tamba Hali and junior LB Paul Posluszny were consensus first-team All-Americans, while T Levi Brown and CB Alan Zemaitis were second-team picks. Posluszny also won the Butkus and Bednarik awards and was a first-team Academic All-American. Senior QB Michael Robinson broke the school season total offense record and was the Big Ten Silver Football (MVP) recipient.

Bowl: Outback/Tennessee, W 20-10

Penn State defeated No. 17 Tennessee in the Outback Bowl to record its 32nd Top 25 final ranking under Joe Paterno. The Nittany Lions lost to three teams that finished in the Top 10. LB Paul Posluszny became Penn State's career tackles leader with 372 and its 13th two-time first-team All-American. He also was the Academic All-American-of-the-Year and was joined by Tim Shaw as a first-team selection. Posluszny also won the Bednarik Award for the second consecutive year. Junior Dan Connor was a first-team All-American and a finalist for the Bednarik. Jay Alford, Levi Brown and Jeremy Kapinos also earned Associated Press All-America accolades. Paterno suffered serious leg injuries during a sideline collision at Wisconsin on Nov. 4, but was in the coaches' booth for the Michigan State game two weeks later.

2007: 9-4

Bowl: Alamo/Texas A&M, W 24-17

Penn State defeated Texas A&M in the Valero Alamo Bowl to record its 33rd Top 25 final ranking under Joe Paterno. LB Dan Connor won the Bednarik Award and became the 14th Nittany Lion to garner first-team All-America honors twice. He finished his career with a school-record 419 tackles. In addition to Connor, Jeremy Boone, Maurice Evans, Justin King and A.Q. Shipley were named first-team All-Big Ten. Gerald Cadogan was a first-team Academic All-America. Paterno was inducted into the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame in December, becoming just the third active coach to be enshrined. The Alamo Bowl was Paterno's 500th game as head coach.

Ranking: 8th AP, 8th USA Today/ESPN

Bowl: Rose/Southern Cal, L 38-24

The Nittany Lions won their second Big Ten title and Bowl Championship berth in the past four years. Penn State won at least 11 games for the 14th time under Joe Paterno and recorded its 22nd Top 10 ranking under the Hall of Fame coach. The Lions played in their 23rd New Year's Day bowl game under Paterno. Center A.Q. Shipley was named Penn State's first recipient of the Rimington Trophy and was a first-team All-American. Defensive end Aaron Maybin was a first-team All-American, a finalist for the Bednarik Award and the No. 11 overall selection in the NFL Draft. Wide receiver Derrick Williams and guard Rich Ohrnberger earned second and third-team All-America honors, respectively. A school-record 10 Nittany Lions were selected first-team All-Big Ten, with a record total of 14 on the first or second teams. A school-record five Nittany Lions were selected ESPN The Magazine Academic All-Americans®, with four gaining first-team honors, led by two-time first-team selection Gerald Cadogan.

2009: 11-2

Bowl: Capital One/LSU, W 19-17

The Nittany Lions capped their second consecutive 11-win season with a late drive to beat No. 13 LSU in the Capital One Bowl. Penn State posted back-to-back seasons with double-figure wins for the first time since 1993 and '94. Penn State won at least 11 games for the 15th time under Joe Paterno and earned its 23rd final Top 10 ranking under the Hall of Fame coach. The Lions played in their 24th New Year's Day bowl game under Paterno. Defensive tackle Jared Odrick was selected a first-team All-American, the Big Ten Defensive Player-of-the-Year and was a first round NFL Draft choice of the Miami Dolphins. Navorro Bowman and Dennis Landolt garnered second-team and third-team All-America honors, respectively. Quarterback Daryll Clark broke several school passing and total offense records and was co-winner of the Big Ten Silver Football. Josh Hull, Andrew Pitz and Stefan Wisniewski were selected first-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-Americans®, as Penn State led the nation in the number of honorees for the second consecutive year.

Bowl: Outback/Florida, L 37-24

Penn State became the first team to play three road games against BCS winners from the previous season and added a fourth BCS winner from 2009 when it met Florida in the Outback Bowl. Standing 3-3 at mid-season, the young Nittany Lions won four of their next five games, getting a lift from quarterback Matt McGloin. Paterno became the first FBS coach with 400 victories, and only the third in NCAA history, in dramatic fashion. Trailing Northwestern, 21-0, on Nov. 6 in Beaver Stadium, Penn State scored 35 unanswered points to post its largest home comeback in Paterno's 45 seasons as head coach. The Nittany Lions earned their fifth New Year's Day or BCS bowl berth in the past six seasons. Guard Stefan Wisniewski received first-team All-America honors. Chris Colasanti, Pete Massaro and Wisniewski were first-team Academic All-Americans®, as Penn State led the nation with the highest number of honorees for the third consecutive year.

FRAN GANTER
ASSOCIATE
FOR FOOTBALL
ADMINISTRATION

Fran Ganter is in his eighth year as Associate Athletic Director for Football Administration after 37 years as a Penn State football player and coach. Named to his new post in February 2004, he oversees a variety of administrative aspects of the program, assisting head coach Joe Paterno and Director of Athletics Tim Curley in all facets of the program.

A running back for the Nittany Lions from 1967-70, Ganter helped Penn State compile a 29-3 record, including undefeated seasons in 1968 and '69. Winner of the squad's Red Worrell Award in 1970, he graduated in 1971 and was the freshman coach the next fall, beginning a tenure on the coaching staff that would last 33 years. Ganter was a graduate assistant and J.V. coach before being named running backs and kickers coach in 1978.

A native of Bethel Park, Pa., Ganter was named offensive coordinator in 1984 and in 2000 he was named Assistant Head Coach of the Nittany Lions. He helped Penn State to 28 bowl berths as a coach, three more as a player, five undefeated seasons and two national titles.

During his highly successful tenure, Ganter coached six running backs and two kickers that earned first-team All-America honors. During his 20 years overseeing the offense, he was instrumental in the development of 12 offensive players that were first-team All-Americans and many others that played in the National Football League.

Ganter coached a number of Penn State greats, including running backs Curt Warner, D.J. Dozier, Blair Thomas, Ki-Jana Carter, Curtis Enis and Larry Johnson, all of whom were first-team All-Americans and first-round NFL Draft picks, as well as All-America kickers Chris and Matt Bahr.

Among the other standouts he coached are running backs Sam Gash, Richie Anderson, Matt Suhey, Steve Smith, Gary Brown, Leroy Thompson, Jon Witman, Brian Milne and Eddie Drummond and kickers Robbie Gould and Brett Conway, all of whom played in the NFL.

Among the many prolific offenses that Ganter directed, the 1994 Nittany Lions rank among the best in college football history. Penn State led the nation in total offense (520.2 ypg) and scoring with its 47.8 ppg average, ranking as the fourth-highest scoring average in NCAA history. The unit broke 14 team school records, led the Big Ten in every offensive category and shattered the record for scoring in Big Ten games with a 48.1 ppg average, a mark that remains.

In his 44th consecutive year as a member of the Penn State Football family, Ganter was named Assistant Coach-of-the-Year by Athlon in 1994, as the Nittany Lions won the Big Ten and Rose Bowl, becoming the first team in Big Ten history to go 12-0.

Ganter was inducted into the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame in May 2010.

Ganter has four sons — Jonathan, Christopher, Jason and Ben. Jonathan played football at Princeton; Chris played at Penn State from 2001-04; Jason played for the Nittany Lions from 2003-07 and Ben was a senior on the Cornell University football team in 2009.

In his 28th year serving the Penn State football program, Tom Venturino is in his 12th season as Director of Football Operations. He was promoted to the position in 2000 after serving as the Nittany Lions' coordinator of practice facilities.

Venturino works closely with Joe Paterno and the coaching and football staffs on all aspects of the football program. His responsibilities include team travel, team planning throughout the year, budgets, home game arrangements and bowl game preparations, in addition to special projects.

He also serves as one of the primary liaisons with Nike for Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics.

Venturino arrived at Penn State in 1984 as assistant equipment manager and assistant strength coach. Prior to the 1986 season, he was named an administrative assistant, working with Coach Paterno and the staff on internal football operations. He took on expanded duties when he was named coordinator of practice facilities prior to the 1988 season.

A native of Glen Cove, N.Y., Venturino graduated from C.W. Post of Long Island University in 1981. He served as the head equipment manager and assistant business manager at the United States Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, N.Y., from 1981-84, working with the late George Paterno, who was Director of Athletics at Kings Point.

Venturino and his wife, the former JoAnne Kolota, have two sons, Christopher and Nicholas, and a daughter, Lindsey. Christopher and Lindsey are Penn State students.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa., Sept. 4 — It was a day to remember for freshman quarterback Rob Bolden and Nittany Nation as Penn State opened its 124th season.

Bolden delivered a record-setting performance, leading No. 19/14 Penn State to a 44-14 win over Youngstown State. He was 20-of-29 for 239 yards and two touchdowns to senior wide receiver Brett Brackett to deliver the best passing performance by a true freshman starter in program history.

Bolden shared the Big Ten's inaugural Freshman-of-the-Week award.

He was the first Penn State true freshman quarterback to start a game since Wally Richardson against Temple in 1992 as he directed the Nittany Lions to their 38th season-opening win under Joe Paterno. Both of his touchdown passes went to co-captain Brackett, who broke his career-highs with eight catches for 98 yards.

The Penn State defense limited Youngstown State to 75 rushing yards on 34 carries, as the Penguins became the 17th straight foe to not have a 100-yard rusher.

The Lions improved to 103-19-2 (83.1) in season-openers, winning their last nine and 18 of the last 20. Penn State improved to 111-12-1 in home-openers overall as Beaver Stadium's 50th Anniversary season commenced.

Senior placekicker Collin Wagner had a big day, connecting on field goals of 44, 49 (career-long) and 48 yards.

Junior Chaz Powell took the second half kickoff for a 100-yard return to push Penn State's lead to 23-7. The kickoff return for a touchdown was Penn State's first since Derrick Williams ran one back 94 yards for a score against Illinois in 2008. Penn State's last 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown had been in 1975 by Rich Mauti at Temple.

Making his first career start, senior middle linebacker Chris Colasanti recorded a then-career-best 13 tackles. Senior linebacker Bani Gbadyu made a career-best eight tackles and senior co-captain Ollie Ogbu tied a career-high with six hits.

Wagner opened the scoring with a 44-yard field goal with 3:58 left in the first quarter. Dominique Blake then took a screen pass 80 yards to give the Penguins a 7-3 first-period edge. The last time the Lions' defense had allowed an 80-yard reception was in 2003 when Michigan State's Jeff Smoker connected on a TD strike with Kyle Brown.

Wagner's 49-yard field goal early in the second quarter cut the lead to 7-6. The Nittany Lions took the lead for good when Brackett hauled in a 20-yard strike over the middle for Bolden's first career touchdown pass and a 13-7 lead with 1:20 left in the half.

Five Penn State true freshmen made their collegiate debuts: Bolden, fullback Glenn Carson, linebacker Khairi Fortt, tight end Kevin Haplea and tailback Silas Redd.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 11 — Penn State turned the ball over three times inside the Alabama 30-yard line and had four turnovers overall as the No. 1 Crimson Tide posted a 24-3 win in Bryant-Denny Stadium.

In the first meeting since 1990 between the national powers and old rivals, the Nittany Lions moved the ball against the Crimson Tide's Top 5 defense, but converted on only one of three Red Zone chances, getting a 36-yard field goal from Collin Wagner in the fourth quarter.

Alabama, which won its 16th consecutive game, led 17-0 at halftime. But, in the second half, Penn State out-gained the Tide, 152-121, had more first downs (10-6) and led in time of possession.

In his first road game, true freshman quarterback Rob Bolden was 13-of-29 for 144 yards, with two interceptions. Sophomore Devon Smith set career-highs with five catches for 47 yards and Derek Moyer had a game-high 69 receiving yards on three catches.

Junior cornerback D'Anton Lynn made a career-high nine tackles, junior safety Nick Sukay had eight stops and sophomore defensive tackle Jordan Hill made a career-best seven hits. The Lions had three minus-yardage plays to Bama's one.

Trent Richardson ran for 144 yards on 22 carries to snap Penn State's streak at 17 games of not allowing a 100-yard rusher. The streak was the third-longest in the nation.

Alabama got on the scoreboard first on a 36-yard completion from Greg McElroy to Kevin Norwood with 8:35 left in the first quarter for a 7-0 lead.

A beautiful 31-yard completion from Bolden to Moyer moved the Nittany Lions deep into Crimson Tide territory. But, then Bolden was hit as he threw and Alabama's Will Lowery made a diving interception at the Penn State three. Richardson gained 60 yards on three consecutive carries to get the Tide out of trouble. On the first play of the second quarter, McElroy threw a 14-yard scoring toss to Preston Dial for a 14-0 lead.

The Lions took the ensuing kickoff and were on the move, as Bolden threw a 20-yard toss to Moyer. Shawney Kersey gained 24 yards on a reverse on his first career carry. Penn State drove to the Bama 16, but on a completion to Chaz Powell, he fumbled while trying for extra yardage. Alabama's Robert Lester picked up the ball and may have been headed for a score when a hustling Moyer caught him and forced a fumble that Brett Brackett recovered at the Penn State two.

Richardson scored on a one-yard run early in the fourth quarter, but the Lions came right back to get on the scoreboard. Freshman tailback Silas Redd entered the game and gained 12 yards on consecutive carries to set up a 17-yard completion from Bolden to Smith. Moyer then hauled in an 18-yard reception and Wagner finished the drive by connecting on a 36-yard field goal with 9:47 left in the game.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.; Sept. 18 — Penn State delivered its 41st shutout under Joe Paterno and won its 500th game since the Hall of Fame coach joined the staff as the No. 22/20 Nittany Lions blanked Kent State, 24-0, in Beaver Stadium.

Penn State improved to 500-178-7 over the past 61 seasons, owning the nation's No. 3 winning percentage (73.5) since 1950 entering the game. The Nittany Lions registered their first shutout since beating Minnesota, 20-0, in 2009.

The Nittany Lions improved to 12-1 in their next game following a loss since the start of the 2005 season.

Penn State permitted the Golden Flashes only 228 yards, including 58 rushing yards on 25 carries. D'Anton Lynn and Derrick Thomas grabbed their first career interceptions.

Sophomore cornerback Stephon Morris' nine tackles were a game and career-high. Sophomore linebacker Michael Mauti tied his then-career-high with seven tackles and Chris Colasanti had seven stops.

The Nittany Lions ran for 162 yards against the nation's No. 1-ranked rushing defense and quarterback Rob Bolden threw for one touchdown and ran for another. Bolden became the first Penn State true freshman quarterback with multiple 200-yard passing games in the program's 124-year history. He was 17-of-27 for 217 yards.

Senior tailback Evan Royster became the sixth Nittany Lion to rush for 3,000 yards in a career with a 15-yard run in the first quarter. He scored on a three-yard run in the first quarter for a 14-0 lead.

Tailback Stephon Green gained a game-high 59 yards on 11 attempts, including an 18-yard burst. Bolden added 33 yards on just four carries, including a 17-yard run. Derek Moyer made four catches for a game-high 87 yards, including a then-career-long 55-yard grab in the first quarter. Devon Smith made three catches for a career-high 61 yards, including a 48-yard touchdown catch from Bolden, the first of his career.

The Nittany Lions got off to a fast start.

On the game's opening possession, Lynn snared his first career interception and Penn State's first turnover of the season. Taking over at the Kent State 45-yard line, a 15-yard run by Royster pushed him past 3,000 career yards. Bolden's one-yard touchdown run, the first of his career, gave Penn State a 7-0 lead.

On Penn State's second possession, Bolden launched a beautiful 55-yard strike to Moyer to the Kent State 15. Royster capped the drive with a three-yard touchdown run for a 14-0 lead with 4:06 left in the first period.

In the third quarter, the Nittany Lions marched 80 yards on 17 plays, taking 9:49 off the clock. The drive ended with a 27-yard field goal by Collin Wagner for a 17-0 lead.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Bolden found Smith at the Kent State 13-yard line and he avoided would-be tacklers to complete the 48-yard scoring strike to make it 24-0.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.; Sept. 25 — Senior Evan Royster ran for a career-high 187 yards, Collin Wagner tied the school record with five field goals and No. 23/20 Penn State held Temple scoreless over the final three quarters to record a 22-13 win in Beaver Stadium.

It was Joe Paterno's 397th career victory, boosting his record to 27-0 against Temple. The Lions improved their series lead to 36-3-1 over the previously unbeaten Owls.

Penn State gained 439 yards of total offense and limited the Owls to 202 yards and forced a season-high four turnovers.

Wagner became the fourth Lion to kick five field goals in a game, joining Travis Forney vs. Michigan State in 1998, Massimo Manca vs. Notre Dame in 1985 and Brian Franco at Nebraska in 1981. Wagner's previous high for field goals in a game was four in the win over LSU in the 2010 Capital One Bowl. He was named Big Ten Special Teams Player-of-the-Week for the first time.

Wagner's six field goal attempts tied the school record for attempts in a game. Forney attempted six field goals against Michigan State in 1998 and Manca attempted six at West Virginia in 1986.

On the first play from scrimmage, Royster ripped off a 50-yard run, the longest carry by a Nittany Lion during the season. The play would begin a huge day for the tailback, who eclipsed his previous high of 174 yards against Michigan in 2008. Royster's total was the most by a Lion since Larry Johnson had 279 yards against Michigan State in the 2002 regular-season finale. Royster tied his career-high with 26 carries.

Freshman quarterback Rob Bolden was 18-of-28 for 223 yards, delivering his third 200-yard game in his initial four contests. Bolden completed third-down passes of 19 yards to Graham Zug and 27 yards to Justin Brown in leading Penn State on a 96-yard scoring drive in the fourth quarter. Following a 17-yard run by Royster, fullback Michael Zordich carried three times for 11 yards, scoring on a one-yard run to make it 22-13 with 3:30 left in the game.

Temple gained 131 yards in the first half, but was limited to just 71 yards in the second half. The Owls were held to just eight first downs in the game. Nick Sukay grabbed his second and third interceptions of the season and recorded six tackles (four solo). Nate Stupar made seven tackles, including a sack. He grabbed the second interception of his career in the third quarter, returning it 31 yards to the Temple 12 to set up Wagner's go-ahead field goal late in the third period.

In his second start, defensive end Pete Massaro had 1.5 tackles for loss, and forced and recovered a fumble late in the game.

The Lions' game-clinching 96-yard scoring drive was their longest since a 96-yard scoring march against Indiana in 2003.

Penn State improved to 54-5-1 all-time against current members of the MAC.

IOWA CITY, Iowa; Oct. 2 — Iowa grabbed a 10-0 first-quarter lead and made a goal line stand early in the third period to hold off a determined Penn State effort, 24-3, in the Big Ten-opener for both teams.

The Penn State defense kept the Hawkeyes off the scoreboard in the second half, holding Iowa to just four first downs and 114 yards in the final 30 minutes. But, the Hawkeyes' No. 1-ranked defense held the visitors to 54 rushing yards and 3-of-13 on third down conversions.

Senior tailback Evan Royster gained 56 yards on 10 carries and moved into fourth place on Penn State's career rushing list, passing D.J. Dozier and Curtis Enis.

Quarterback Rob Bolden recorded his fourth 200-yard passing game of the season, increasing his record for the most 200-yard games ever by a Penn State true freshman. Bolden was 20-of-37 for 212 yards, with no touchdowns and one interception. Devon Smith tied his career-high with five receptions, gaining 58 yards, and Justin Brown tied his career-high for the second consecutive week with four catches, good for 42 yards.

Penn State recorded 9.0 tackles for loss. Chris Colasanti made a career-high 2.5 TFL and cornerback D'Anton Lynn tied his career-high with nine tackles. Drew Astorino made a season-high eight tackles.

Junior safety Nick Sukay grabbed his third interception over the past two games at the Penn State 17 in the first quarter.

Late in the first half, Bolden connected with Brett Brackett on a 49-yard completion and he was tripped up at the Iowa two-yard line with just three seconds left. The reception was a career-long for Brackett and Bolden. After a delay of game penalty, Collin Wagner connected on a 25-yard field goal on the final play to cut the lead to 17-3.

Penn State took the opening possession of the second half downfield and moved into position to cut the margin to one score. But, on fourth-and-goal from the Iowa one,

Bolden swept right and was stopped just inches from the goal line, and the Hawkeyes took over with 7:11 left in the third period. Bolden was 7-of-8 for 56 yards on the drive.

Anthony Fera later delivered a 74-yard fourth-quarter punt, which was the fourth-longest punt in Penn State history. It was the Lions' longest punt since a 78-yard Jeremy Kapinos kick at Ohio State in 2004.

The Nittany Lions forced three consecutive Iowa punts in the fourth quarter and took possession at their own 16 with 1:40 left to play. But, Bolden was picked off by Shaun Prater at the Penn State 33 and he weaved his way into the end zone for the game's final score.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.; Oct. 9 — Illinois held the ball for 38:12 and shut out Penn State in the second half to register its first victory in Beaver Stadium, 33-13.

The Fighting Illini spoiled Penn State's 91st Homecoming, as the Nittany Lions fell to 65-21-5 all-time and 39-6 under Joe Paterno in front of the alumni audience.

Illinois won for the first time in seven games in Beaver Stadium, with the last six games coming as Big Ten competitors.

The Illini had 23 first downs and ran for 282 yards, the most against Penn State since Minnesota had 288 yards in 2004. The Nittany Lions were limited to seven first downs, their second-fewest under Paterno, and were held to a season-low 235 yards.

Penn State came into the game with four injured defensive players from the two-deep rotation and five more left the game due to injury and did not return. Starting defensive end Eric Lattimore suffered a season-ending wrist injury on the first play of the game and the other starting end, Pete Massaro, left in the second half. The Lions played most of the second half with only two defensive ends that had any previous experience, one of whom — freshman DaQuan Jones — was playing in his second career game.

Starting safety Nick Sukay, defensive tackle Jordan Hill and safety Andrew Dailey also left the game with injuries and did not return. Sukay suffered a torn pectoral muscle when he forced a fumble on the opening kickoff, ending his promising season.

Tailback Evan Royster's 35 rushing yards moved him past Blair Thomas and into third place in Penn State annals.

Derek Moye posted his fourth career 100-yard receiving game with three catches for 106 yards, including an 80-yard scoring strike from Rob Bolden in the second quarter.

Chris Colasanti made a career-high 18 tackles, the most tackles by a Nittany Lion since Dan Connor had 18 stops against Temple in 2007. Colasanti's total was the most by a Penn Stater in a Big Ten game since Connor made 18 stops against Ohio State in 2007 and were tied for the most by a Big Ten player during the 2010 regular-season.

Khairi Fortt made his first career start, becoming the first true freshman to start at linebacker for Penn State since Connor did so against Purdue in 2004. Fortt made a season-high 11 tackles and became the 14th Nittany Lion to make his first career start in the 2010 season.

Bolden's beautiful 80-yard scoring strike to Moye cut the lead to 14-10 in the second period. The connection was Penn State's longest play from scrimmage since an 80-yard touchdown reception by Stephfon Green against Michigan in 2008.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.; Oct. 23 — Quarterbacks Rob Bolden and Matt McGloin combined to throw three touchdown passes and Penn State ran for 110 yards in the second half in a 33-21 victory at Minnesota.

With the win, Penn State improved to 13-2 in the next game after a loss since the start of the 2005 season and 14-5 in games after a bye week since 1994. The Nittany Lions won in their debut game in TCF Bank Stadium, the 65th stadium Joe Paterno has coached in during his Hall of Fame career.

The Nittany Lions improved to 9-3 overall on the road and 8-2 in Big Ten road games the past three seasons. Starting with an Oct. 20, 2007 win at Indiana, Penn State has won its last game in every Big Ten stadium with the exception of Iowa (9-3 record).

Bolden was blistering to start, completing his first nine passes for 115 yards, including a 21-yard scoring strike to Brett Brackett just 4:41 into the fray. But, in the second quarter, Bolden was injured and did not return after going 11-of-13 for 130 yards, with one touchdown and no interceptions. He became the 15th Nittany Lion to miss time to that point of the season due to injury.

A redshirt sophomore, McGloin entered the game having thrown two career passes, both against Eastern Illinois in 2009. His first career completion was one he will never forget, as he found Derek Moye in stride on a 42-yard strike on the first play after a D'Anton Lynn end zone interception and 58-yard return.

Early in the fourth quarter, McGloin lofted the ball into the end zone and Moye made a superlative catch, giving the Nittany Lions a 31-14 lead with 10:36 to play. McGloin was 6-of-13 for 76 yards, with two touchdowns and one interception, in his most extensive career action to date.

Evan Royster gained 62 yards on 10 carries to move into second place on the Lions' career rushing yardage list. He scored on a two-yard run early in the second quarter to give the Lions a 14-7 lead. His 29-yard run on the Lions' first drive of the second half set up Collin Wagner's 49-yard field goal for a 24-14 lead. The kick tied his career-long.

Freshman Silas Redd provided a boost, gaining 70 of his 71 yards in the final 30 minutes, on eight carries. He ran for 20 and 26 yards on consecutive plays early in the fourth period.

Lynn made a career-high 10 tackles and the huge interception to lead the defense. He also had 0.5 TFL and a pass breakup, as the Lions totaled five pass breakups.

In his most extensive career action, red-shirt freshman safety Malcolm Willis made a season-best nine hits (six solo), with a pass breakup. Michael Mauti returned to the field and made a career-high eight tackles, with 0.5 TFL and a pass breakup.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.; Oct. 30 — Senior tailback Evan Royster became Penn State's all-time rushing leader and Matt McGloin delivered a strong performance in his first career start to lift the Nittany Lions to a crucial 41-31 victory over Michigan in a wild Big Ten primetime shootout in Beaver Stadium.

Penn State won its third straight game against Michigan, tallying its three highest point totals in the series with 46, 35 and 41 points, respectively, in the 2008-10 meetings.

Royster had a huge night, eclipsing Curt Warner's record of 3,398 yards on a 20-yard burst in the first quarter. Royster delivered 150 yards on a career-high 29 carries, with two touchdowns, and posted his 14th career 100-yard game. He pushed his career rushing total to 3,518 yards. Two of Royster's top three all-time rushing totals have come against Michigan, gaining 174 (2008), 100 (2009) and 150 yards during the last three meetings with the Wolverines.

McGloin became the first former walk-on quarterback to start under Joe Paterno and he was superb, going 17-of-28 for 250 yards and one touchdown pass, while also running for a one-yard score. McGloin led the Lions to season-highs of 27 first downs, 435 yards, 37:29 in time of possession and 10-of-16 on third down conversions.

McGloin led the Lions to scores on seven of nine possessions. He was 8-of-10 on third down for 108 yards, with six of the completions resulting in first downs.

Derek Moye snared three passes for 72 yards and Graham Zug made three catches, including a 20-yard touchdown for a 28-10 second-quarter lead. Devon Smith had two grabs for 50 yards, including a huge 34-yard gain to set up Michael Zordich's third-quarter touchdown run.

Linebacker Michael Mauti made a career-high 10 tackles. Safety Drew Astorino made eight stops with a career-high three pass breakups. Making his first career start, safety Malcolm Willis made eight hits. Chris Colasanti had seven tackles, with 1.0 TFL, and defensive tackle Devon Still recorded a then-career-high six hits.

Kicker Collin Wagner was selected Big Ten Special Teams Player-of-the-Week for the second time in 2010 for his efforts in the win. Wagner connected on 32 and 42-yard field goals in the second half, giving him at least one field goal in nine consecutive contests. With just under 4:00 to play in the game, Wagner lined up for an apparent 39-yard field goal on fourth-and-four. But, he took the direct snap, followed his blocks and gained seven yards over the left side for a first down. The carry was his first as a Nittany Lion. Penn State then gained another first down and ran out the clock.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.; Nov. 6 — Penn State staged its most historic of comebacks, overcoming a 21-point first-half deficit to give Coach Joe Paterno win No. 400 with a 35-21 victory over Northwestern in an electric Beaver Stadium. The Nittany Lions rattled off 35 straight points to record their largest comeback in Beaver Stadium history under Paterno and tie for the biggest comeback overall under the Hall of Fame coach.

Boosting his career record to 400-133-3, Paterno became the first Football Bowl Subdivision coach with 400 wins and just the third in NCAA history among all divisions, joining John Gagliardi and Eddie Robinson.

Down, 21-0, late in the second quarter and on their own nine-yard line, Matt McGloin led the Nittany Lions 91 yards in 47 seconds to begin the rally. Penn State outscored the Wildcats, 28-0, in the second half, rolling to a season-high 528 yards, achieving great balance with 268 passing yards and 260 yards on the ground.

McGloin set career-highs with four touchdown passes, going 18-of-29. Derek Moye made five catches, including a beautiful 36-yard touchdown catch with 5:43 left in the third quarter to tie the game at 21-21. Junior running back Joe Suhey had a career-high 67 receiving yards on a career-high six catches and Evan Royster gained 45 yards on four catches, including a 13-yard screen pass for a touchdown early in the fourth quarter for the final tally.

Royster ran for 134 yards and freshman Silas Redd gained a season-high 131 yards, marking just the fourth time Penn State has had two runners with at least 130 yards. The last time had been by Lydell Mitchell (211) and Franco Harris (145) at Iowa in 1971.

The Nittany Lions delivered a season-high nine plays of 20 or more yards against the Wildcats, the third straight game in which

Penn State had posted a season-high in big plays (six vs. Minnesota and Michigan). Five of the nine long plays were rushes, topped by Redd's season-long 30-yard burst.

Michael Mauti led the defense with a career-high 11 tackles, including 3.0 TFL, to earn Big Ten Defensive Player-of-the-Week honors. He also recorded a sack late in the game, as he broke his career-high in hits for the third consecutive game. Chris Colasanti tied Mauti for game-high honors with 11 hits, safety Malcolm Willis made eight stops and tackle Ollie Ogbu had five hits, including 2.0 TFL for minus-seven yards.

The Penn State defense tied a season-high with 10 tackles for loss and set a season-high with four sacks.

The Lions limited Northwestern to 32 yards on 10 plays in the decisive third quarter and 130 yards in the second half.

COLUMBUS, Ohio; Nov. 13 — For the second consecutive week, Penn State was involved in a game that turned in the second half, only this time it was the Nittany Lions who saw a lead disappear, as No. 9/8 Ohio State rallied for a 38-14 win in Ohio Stadium.

One week after erasing a 21-0 deficit to beat Northwestern, Penn State jumped out to a 14-3 halftime lead as it sought its second consecutive win in Columbus. But, Ohio State went 96 yards early in the third quarter to cut the deficit to 14-10 and then made three big plays to seize control of the game.

On the possession after Ohio State's first touchdown, Matt McGloin was picked off by Devon Torrence, who tipped and juggled the ball but gained control and ran 34 yards to the end zone to give Ohio State a 17-14 lead and the momentum with 4:22 left in the third period.

McGloin was razor-sharp in the first half, going 13-of-18 for 141 yards, with two touchdowns and no interceptions. He led the Lions to 212 yards, just 22 off the season game average for Ohio State's No. 3-ranked defense. The Lions held the ball for 18:34 and ran 39 plays to the Buckeyes' 22.

McGloin led the Lions 67 yards in 10 plays on their second possession, throwing a 23-yard scoring strike to Justin Brown just before he took a hit. Collin Wagner's PAT made it 7-3 with 4:05 left in the first quarter. The touchdown catch was the first of Brown's career, as he broke his career-high with five receptions, good for 64 yards.

The McGloin-to-Brown TD pass was Penn State's first in Columbus since Pete Liske hit Bill Bowes on a 13-yard scoring strike in the third quarter of the 1963 contest that Penn State won, 10-7. The play ended a string of 45 quarters without a Lion TD pass in Ohio Stadium spanning 11 full games.

The Penn State defense forced a three-and-out and McGloin quickly got the Lions moving from their own 18. He completed the drive with a six-yard bullet to Derek Moye for a 14-3 lead with 11:18 left in the half.

Penn State's 14 first-half points surpassed the most it had previously scored in a Big Ten game in Columbus. The previous high was 13 in the critical 13-6 win in 2008 en route to the Big Ten Championship.

The Penn State offensive line did not allow a sack against Ohio State's Top 5 defense, which entered the game ranked No. 3 in the nation in points allowed (13.6).

Safety Malcolm Willis' fourth-quarter interception of Terrelle Pryor on Penn State's two-yard line was the first of his career. D'Anton Lynn led the Lions with eight stops, while Nate Stupar and Chris Colasanti had seven apiece. Linebacker Michael Mauti left the game early in the second half with a shoulder injury and did not return.

LANDOVER, Md.; Nov. 20 — Penn State and Indiana were in the midst of a shootout, tied at 24-24 late in the third quarter, when Andrew Dailey blocked a punt that linebacker Jamie Van Fleet returned for a touchdown to spark the Nittany Lions to a 41-24 win.

The game was played at FedEx Field in Landover, Md., as Penn State played in its fifth NFL stadium in the past six years.

Penn State improved to 14-2 in the next game after a loss since the start of the 2005 season and 9-3 in Big Ten road games over the past three seasons (10-4 overall).

The defense forced the Hoosiers to punt from their own 32-yard line as the third quarter dwindled. Dailey came off the edge and nearly swiped the ball off the foot of punter Chris Hagerup. The blocked punt bounced to the Indiana 21, where Van Fleet picked it up and ran it in to spark a 17-0 run to end the game. The touchdown was the first of Van Fleet's career and was the first blocked punt for Penn State since Matt Hahn scored against Michigan State in 2005.

Making his third career start, quarterback Matt McGloin had his best career performance to date in leading Penn State to 496 yards of total offense and 36:59 in time of possession and no turnovers.

McGloin threw for a career-high 315 yards, also breaking his career-bests with 22 completions and 31 attempts, good for two touchdowns, with no interceptions. His 315 yards were tied for the 10th-best mark in school annals with Chuck Fusina, who had 315 yards at North Carolina State in 1977. McGloin directed the Lions on scoring drives of 87 and 99 yards to open a 14-0 lead.

Derek Moye had another big day, accumulating 129 all-purpose yards. He made six catches for 90 yards, including a 21-yard scoring strike from McGloin for a 24-17 lead.

Eleven players carried the ball for Penn State, including three receivers. Silas Redd led with 50 yards on just nine carries and a TD.

Nate Stupar's team-high 10 tackles were second-highest of his career. The Lions held the Big Ten's leading receiver, Damarlo Belcher, to just two catches for 13 yards.

Penn State improved to 14-0 all-time against Indiana. In the 14 games, a total of 841 points have been scored, an average of 60.1 per game. The Lions have scored 540 points (38.5 ppg); Indiana 301 points (21.5 ppg).

Penn State reached 20 first-time starters on the season as linebacker Gerald Hodges, defensive tackle James Terry and tackle Mike Farrell all started their first career game.

FedEx Field marked the 66th different stadium in which Joe Paterno has coached.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa.; Nov. 27 —Penn State scored 19 points in the fourth quarter, but was unable to overtake No. 11/10 Michigan State, as the Spartans snapped an eight-game Beaver Stadium losing streak with a 28-22 victory over the Nittany Lions.

Eighteen Nittany Lion seniors were introduced before the game, bringing a 38-12 record over the past four years into the game.

The Spartans won for just the fifth time in the 18 Land Grant Trophy games since Penn State began Big Ten play in 1993 and won in State College for the first time since 1965.

The Nittany Lions and Spartans played another high scoring game. The teams have combined to score 1,110 points in their 18 Big Ten contests, an average of 61.7 per game. The Nittany Lions have scored 630 points (35.0 ppg) and the Spartans 480 points (26.7 ppg) in their Big Ten meetings.

Penn State fell to 19-2 on Senior Day since 1990, with the lone losses coming to Michigan (1999) and to Michigan State (2010). The Lions had not lost their last regular-season home game since 1984 (Pitt).

Penn State was whistled for season-highs in both penalties (eight) and penalty yardage (67 yards) to hamper its efforts to rally from a 21-3 deficit.

Making his fourth career start, Matt McGloin became the first Nittany Lion to throw for 300 yards in consecutive games. He re-set his career-highs by going 23-of-43, with two scoring strikes and one interception. McGloin threw for 312 yards, the 12th-best mark at Penn State, and just three yards off his career-best 315 against Indiana a week earlier.

McGloin became just the third Penn State quarterback to have at least two 300-yard passing games in his career, joining Kerry Collins (four) and Daryll Clark (three).

In his final home game, Evan Royster gained 85 yards on 14 carries, including a 10-yard score to draw the Lions within 28-16. The touchdown run was the 29th of his career, tied for fifth place on the school list.

Nate Stupar and Chris Colasanti tied for game-high honors with 10 tackles each and safety Drew Astorino had nine. Colasanti became the 21st different Nittany Lion to record at least 100 tackles in a season.

Derek Moye had five catches for 65 yards and a TD, and made a tremendous hustle play to force and recover a fumble after a fourth-quarter interception. Moye's play gave the Lions a first-and-goal at the Michigan State four-yard line. On first down, McGloin fired a dart that Moye cradled in the end zone to make it 28-22. The Spartans, though, recovered the on-side kick and were able to run out the clock.

TAMPA, Fla.; January 1, 2011 — Penn State's bid for a fourth New Year's Day bowl victory in the past six years was turned back in the final minute as Florida captured a 37-24 win in the 25th Outback Bowl in Raymond James Stadium.

Two of the nation's Top 10 winningest programs since 2005 played for just the third time and staged an entertaining contest in front of 60,574 fans on a beautiful New Year's Day in Tampa Bay. The loss dropped Penn State to 7-6, while Florida finished 8-5. Penn State suffered its first loss in the Outback Bowl after beating Auburn (1996), Kentucky (1999) and Tennessee (2007) in its previous appearances.

Despite the loss, Penn State's 58-19 record is tied with Oregon for the nation's No. 12 winning percentage since the start of the 2005 season. Making its 43rd bowl appearance, Penn State is 27-14-2 in post-season games. The Nittany Lions are No. 3 nationally in bowl wins and No. 8 in bowl appearances. Penn State's 65.1 winning percentage is No. 2 nationally among schools with at least 20 bowl appearances.

The all-time leader in bowl wins (24-12-1 record) and appearances (37), Coach Joe Paterno led Penn State to its 25th New Year's Day bowl game under his leadership (17-8). The Hall of Fame coach finished his 45th season with a career record of 401-135-3.

The Nittany Lions saw their two-game bowl winning streak against Southeastern Conference teams snapped. The Nittany Lions are 9-6 all-time in bowl games against SEC opponents; 8-5 under Paterno. Overall, Penn State has won 7 of its last 11 games with SEC foes (regular-season and bowls).

The Nittany Lions took a 24-17 lead late in the third quarter, but the Gators scored the

After both teams exchanged punts, Penn State took possession at its own 21-yard line with just 3:04 left to play. Matt McGloin completed an 18-yard pass to Derek Moye and Evan Royster's 23-yard burst made him the first Nittany Lion with a trio of 1,000-yard rushing seasons. With the ball at the Florida 25, a McGloin pass was picked off by Ahmad Black, who returned it 80 yards for a touchdown to essentially seal the game with :55 to play.

Penn State's career rushing yardage leader, Royster finished his outstanding career with 3,932 yards on a school-record 686 carries and 29 rushing touchdowns. The three-time All-Big Ten honoree gained 98 yards on 20 carries against the Gators to finish the season with 1,014 yards on 208 carries.

On Florida's first play from scrimmage, junior cornerback D'Anton Lynn grabbed his third interception of the season at the Gators' 39-yard line. The pick tied him for the team lead with Nick Sukay. McGloin completed passes of 16 yards to Brett Brackett and 15 yards to Graham Zug to give the Nittany Lions a first-and-goal. On third down from the Florida 5, McGloin lofted the ball to Derek Moye, who snared it for his eighth touchdown catch of the season. Collin Wagner's PAT kick gave Penn State a 7-0 lead with 9:08 left in the first quarter.

Moye had game-highs with five catches and 79 yards and made his 15th career touchdown catch. He became the 11th Nittany Lion player to record at least 100 career receptions with a first-quarter grab and just the seventh Penn State player to record 15 or more career receiving touchdowns. He made 53 catches for 885 yards and eight touchdowns in 2010, with his 53 catches good for No. 5 on the Penn State season list and his 885 yards ranking No. 6.

Making his fifth career start, McGloin was 17-of-41 for 211 yards, with one touchdown and a school-record five interceptions. His 41 pass attempts were a Penn State bowl record and his 17 completions were fifth-highest in Penn State bowl history. McGloin posted his fifth 200-yard passing game of the season, all coming in the final six games.

The Penn State defense limited Florida to just 279 yards (101 passing) and an average of 3.9 yards per play.

The Nittany Lion defense delivered its second turnover of the first period when linebacker Bani Gbadyu and safety Malcolm Willis combined to force a fumble that Lynn recovered in the end zone for a touchback. Lynn made four tackles, including a tackle for loss, and a pass breakup to go with his interception and fumble recovery.

Junior defensive tackle Devon Still recorded a career and team season-high 3.5 TFL against the Gators, with a career-best seven stops (six solo) overall. Senior linebacker Chris Colasanti made a game-high 10 hits, compiling his fifth double-figure tackle game of the season. He finished the year with a team-high 112 tackles, good for fourth in the Big Ten. Willis also made seven hits (six solo) and linebacker Gerald Hodges made a career-best six stops (five solo).

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Formed more than 115 years ago, the Big Ten Conference is an association of world-class academic institutions with shared values and goals. Since its inception in 1896, the pursuit and attainment of academic excellence has been the priority for every member institution. However, maintaining the conference's status as one of the preeminent athletic conference's in the country also endures as an important component of the Big Ten student-athlete experience. Recognized as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten strives for success from its student-athletes not only on the field and in the classroom, but around the world as well.

ACADEMICS

All Big Ten Universities have been granted Tier One Status by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, a distinction awarded to just over 100 universities in the country.

The Big Ten leads all conferences with the highest number of ranked graduate school programs among the top 25 according to U.S. News and World Report in 2011. The Big Ten ranks first with 23 top-25 programs in the fields of law, medical (research and primary care), business and engineering.

SUCCESSFUL PROGRAMS

During the 2010-11 season, the Big Ten claimed six team national championships, including titles for Northwestern women's lacrosse, Ohio State synchronized swimming and men's volleyball, Penn State women's volleyball and wrestling and Wisconsin women's ice hockey.

The Big Ten led all conferences with national titles in 13 different NCAA-sponsored championships from 2001-02 to 2010-11. Over that time period, the Big Ten produced championships in cross country, fencing, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, soccer, softball, tennis, track and field, volleyball and wrestling.

STUDENT-ATHLETE OPPORTUNITIES

Big Ten universities provide over $120 million in direct financial aid to more than 9,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 Big Ten championships — 12 for men and 13 for women.

Conference institutions sponsor 298 teams. Other than the Ivy League, the Big Ten has the most broad-based athletic programs in the United States.

TELEVISION EXPOSURE

The Big Ten's media agreements with CBS Sports, ABC/ESPN, FOX Sports and the Big Ten Network (BTN) provide the conference with its greatest television exposure ever. Over 900 Big Ten events are produced and distributed nationally on an annual basis, more than any other conference.

In 2006, the Big Ten created the first national conference-owned television network, the BTN. It launched on Aug. 30, 2007, and now is in its fifth year of operation. It is available to approximately 80 million homes nationally, and appears in 19 of the top 20 national media markets.

ATTENDANCE

Big Ten fans are some of the nation's most supportive, with more than 8.9 million patrons attending conference home contests during the 2010-11 seasons for football, men's and women's basketball and volleyball alone.

HONORING LEGENDS. BUILDING LEADERS.

The mission of the Big Ten Conference always has been to excel athletically without compromising the priority our member institutions assign to their academic standards and to their commitment to student academic success. We seek to celebrate the many accomplishments of Big Ten student-athletes, while continuously reinforcing each of our member institutions' high academic standards. Striking that important balance between academics and athletics is integral to the Big Ten's identity, and that philosophy led to the genesis of the new football division names. Both names link directly to the Big Ten mission.

LEGENDS DIVISION

A respectful acknowledgement of the 18 Heisman Trophy winners and 215 College Football Hall of Famers that have graced our fields and sidelines for the past 115 years.

LEADERS DIVISION

A hopeful and aspirational acknowledgment that we believe the college athletics experience helps to develop the characteristics that Big Ten student-athletes will need to become leaders for the rest of their lives — in their homes, jobs and in their communities.

► Land Grant Trophy

The Land Grant Trophy, established in 1993, is awarded to the winner of the Penn State-Michigan State game. It honors the universities as the nation's two pioneer land-grant schools. Each was founded in 1855: Michigan State on February 12 and Penn State on February 22. The schools were the prototypes after which the land-grant system was patterned.

The trophy features images of the schools' landmark buildings — Penn State's Old Main and Michigan State's Beaumont Tower — and replicas of the Nittany Lion and the Spartan, the schools' mascots.

► Governor's Victory Bell

Commissioned in 1993, the Governor's Victory Bell is presented to the winner of the Penn State-Minnesota contest. It first was awarded when the Golden Gophers provided the opposition for Penn State's first game as a member of the Big Ten.

The trophy was commissioned by Pennsylvania Governor Robert Casey and Minnesota Governor Arne Carlson. The trophy features a brass bell bearing the medallion of the Big Ten Conference, the state seals of Minnesota and Pennsylvania and the athletic logos of each institution.

► Brown, Kwalick Big Ten Trophies

The Big Ten will initiate the presentation of 18 trophies following the 2011 season and will honor some of its all-time premier football student-athletes with the newly named awards, including Penn State's Courtney Brown and Ted Kwalick.

The Big Ten will award the Smith-Brown Defensive Lineman of the Year beginning next year, recognizing the Nittany Lions' Brown and Michigan State's Bubba Smith. Brown was a consensus first-team All-American in 1999, breaking school records in career tackles for loss (70), career sacks (33) and season TFL (29). The 1999 Big Ten Defensive Player-of-the-Year, he was a three-time all-conference selection. Brown was the first overall selection in the 2000 National Football League Draft by the Cleveland Browns.

The conference also will present the Kwalick-Clark Tight End of the Year, honoring Penn State's Kwalick and Iowa's Dallas Clark. Kwalick was a first-team All-American in 1967 and '68 and finished fourth in balloting for the 1968 Heisman Trophy. A first-round draft choice by the National Football League's San Francisco 49ers, and a three-time All-Pro, Kwalick was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

The winners of the Leaders and Legends divisions will play in the inaugural Big Ten Conference Championship game in primetime on Saturday, December 3, at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis. Fox Sports is the official television partner of the 2011-16 Big Ten Championship games. Kickoff time is TBA for the primetime contest.

Lucas Oil Stadium will be the site for the 2011-15 Big Ten Championship games.

The winner of the Big Ten Championship game will play in either the Rose Bowl game or Bowl Championship Series National Championship game.

The winning team in the Big Ten Football Championship game will receive the Stagg-Paterno Championship Trophy. The trophy pays homage to Penn State coach Joe Paterno and Amos Alonzo Stagg, who won 199 games at the University of Chicago when the Maroons were Big Ten members.

Paterno ranks fifth among Big Ten coaches all-time with 154 wins since the Nittany Lions began conference play in 1993. Stagg's win total is the second-highest total in Big Ten history.

Big Ten Championship Game Dates

- December 3, 2011
- December 1, 2012
- December 7, 2013
- December 6, 2014
- December 5, 2015

► Heisman Trophy

John Cappelletti, tailback on the unbeaten and untied 1973 Penn State team, was the recipient of the 1973 Heisman Trophy.

Cappelletti received the coveted award and dedicated it to his younger brother, Joey, a leukemia victim, in a moving acceptance speech in December 1973, in New York City.

The Heisman Memorial Trophy is awarded annually by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York City to "the outstanding intercollegiate football player in the United States."

Originally the D.A.C. Trophy, it was renamed after the death of John W. Heisman, then director of athletics at the Downtown Athletic Club, in October 1936. Heisman was a coach at Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Pennsylvania,

► Bednarik Award

Linebacker Dan Connor won the 2007 Chuck Bednarik Award, giving Penn State three consecutive Bednarik honorees. The award is presented to the nation's top defensive player. Paul Posluszny became the second two-time winner of the Bednarik Award in 2005 and '06. Linebacker LaVar Arrington was awarded the Bednarik in 1999.

The Bednarik Award has been presented since 1994 by the Maxwell Football Club of Philadelphia in honor of Chuck Bednarik, a two-way standout at the University of Pennsylvania and with the National Football League Philadelphia Eagles from 1949-62. The winner is chosen by a national selection committee comprised of coaches and the media, as well as members of the Maxwell Club.

► Biletnikoff Award

Nittany Lion wide receiver Bobby Engram was the recipient of the inaugural Biletnikoff Award, presented in February of 1995.

Named for Fred Biletnikoff, the award honors the nation's top wide receiver. A standout for Florida State University and the National Football League Oakland Raiders, Biletnikoff is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The award is sponsored by the Tallahassee Quarterback Club Foundation of Tallahassee, Fla.

Established in 1994, Biletnikoff

Award candidates must "display leadership and self-discipline, have a significant positive impact on his team's success as well as have a desire and commitment to be the best player he can be."

The owner of 12 school records, Engram was one of three finalists for the 1995 Biletnikoff Award.

► Butkus Award

Penn State outside linebacker LaVar Arrington was the first Nittany Lion to win the Butkus Award as the nation's premier linebacker in 1999, while his teammate, Brandon Short, was a finalist for the honor.

In 2005, outside linebacker Paul Posluszny claimed the second Butkus Award for "Linebacker U." He was a finalist for the 2006 honor.

Dan Connor was a finalist for the 2007 honor.

The Butkus Award has been given annually since 1985 by the Downtown Athletic Club of Orlando and honors one of the greatest linebackers in the history of collegiate and professional football, Dick Butkus. The winner is chosen by a national media selection committee.

The tandem of finalists from Penn State for the '99 Butkus Award marked the first time one school had two finalists for the honor. Nittany Lions' All-American Shane Conlan was a finalist for the 1986 Butkus Award, while All-American Andre Collins was a finalist in 1989.

► Walter Camp Player-of-the-Year

Penn State senior tailback Larry Johnson won the 2002 Walter Camp Player-of-the-Year Award.

First presented in 1967, Johnson became the second Nittany Lion to receive the prestigious honor, joining John Cappelletti in 1973.

The award is sponsored by the Walter Camp Football Foundation, which annually selects the nation's oldest All-America team, with the first team chosen in 1889. The Foundation honors the legacy of Walter Camp, "The Father of American Football," who played and coached football at Yale and served on the football rules committee for most of his life. Camp was instrumental in bringing organization and stature to the college game and was one of the sport's most influential people from the beginning of his playing days in 1876 until his death in 1925.

2002 Larry Johnson, TB

► Lombardi Award

Penn State defensive tackle Bruce Clark became the first junior winner of the Lombardi Award when he was named the recipient in 1978.

Sponsored by the Rotary Club of Houston, the award was initiated in 1971 following the death of Vince

Lombardi on Sept. 3, 1970. It is presented annually "to the offensive or defensive lineman or linebacker who, in addition to outstanding performance, best exemplifies the discipline of Lombardi."

Clark and junior defensive tackle teammate Matt Millen both were finalists in 1979. Clark and Millen were the first finalists from Penn State and only the second and third juniors to be finalists. Senior offensive tackle Keith Dorney also finished in the Top 10 in balloting for the award that year.

Guard Sean Farrell was a finalist in 1982 and outside linebacker LaVar Arrington and defensive end Courtney Brown were finalists in 1999. Linebacker Paul Posluszny was a finalist in 2005 and 2006.

► Maxwell Award

A nation's-best seven Penn State players, including tailback Larry Johnson in 2002, have been honored with the Maxwell Award, presented annually to "the outstanding player in collegiate football."

The award is named in honor of Robert W. "Tiny" Maxwell, who was an All-America guard at Chicago and Swarthmore, an outstanding professional player and a successful coach. He later worked as a newspaper city editor and sportswriter before his death in an automobile accident at the age of 37.

AWARDS & HONORS

► O'Brien Award

Penn State quarterback Kerry Collins was presented the 1994 Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award, which includes a scholarship to the recipient's school. Todd Blackledge was the Nittany Lions' first recipient of the award in 1982.

The award was established in memory of the late Davey O'Brien, who quarterbacked Texas Christian to the 1938 National Championship and was the winner of the Heisman, Walter Camp and Maxwell trophies. Sponsored by the Davey O'Brien Educational and Charitable Trust and the Fort Worth Club, the award is presented for competitive sportsmanship, academic standing and scholarship, leadership qualities and the ability to inspire others, dedication to team success, and quarterback skills and achievements.

- 1982 Todd Blackledge
- 1994 Kerry Collins

► Outland Trophy

Mike Reid was awarded the Outland Trophy in 1969. Presented annually by the Football Writers Association of America since 1946, the award honors "the outstanding interior lineman" in the nation.

Reid, who was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame in 1987, was an All-Pro performer for the Cincinnati Bengals.

► Rimington Trophy

Penn State All-America senior A.Q. Shipley won the 2008 Rimington Trophy, given annually to the nation's most outstanding center in college football. The award was first presented in 2000 and is sponsored by the Boomer Esiason Foundation.

► Doak Walker Award

Tailback Larry Johnson was the recipient of the 2002 Doak Walker Award, presented to the nation's most outstanding running back. The award has been presented annually since 1990.

Penn State's Ki-Jana Carter (1994) and Curtis Enis (1997) were finalists for the honor, with Johnson the first Nittany Lion to receive the prestigious accolade.

The award is sponsored by the SMU Athletic Forum and is named in honor of Doak Walker, the 1948 Heisman Trophy winner and a three-time All-American at SMU. The first junior to win the Heisman, Walker is a member of the College and Pro Football Halls of Fame. Candidates for the award must be in good academic standing and on schedule to graduate, and have demonstrated leadership, good citizenship and exhibit the characteristics of sportsmanship and fair play associated with Doak Walker.

► John Bruno Jr. Memorial Award

The John Bruno Jr. Memorial Award is presented to the outstanding member of the special teams. The award honors former Nittany Lion John Bruno Jr., who died of cancer in 1992. Bruno was the squad's punter from 1984-86 and his 41.7-yard career average was then the third-highest in school history. His 42.9 average in 1985 was third-highest in a season and included a career-best 71-yard effort against Boston College.

► NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships

Forty-three Penn State student-athletes, including 18 football players, have received National Collegiate Athletic Association Postgraduate Scholarships. The award carries a $7,500 scholarship for postgraduate study at the university or professional school of the student-athlete's choice.

To qualify for consideration, each recipient must have earned at least a "B" cumulative average (3.0 on Penn State's 4.0 grade-point scale) and also must have performed with distinction in his or her sport, thus epitomizing the term "student-athlete."

Penn State's recipients and year of graduation:

HEAD COACHES

14 MENTORS SINCE 1887

George Hoskins

Head Coach: 1892-95

George "Doc" Hoskins served as Penn State's first head coach, while also a player for the Nittany Lions. A three-year letterman at center, he was the athletic trainer at Vermont before being appointed Penn State's first director of physical training and first instructor of physical education. His duties included coaching the football team to a record of 17-4-4. He later was head coach at Bucknell and served as a trainer for the Cincinnati Reds during baseball spring training for 23 years. He died in 1957 in Cincinnati.

Pop Golden

Head Coach: 1900-02

William Nelson "Pop" Golden compiled a 16-12-1 record in three seasons, before being named Penn State's first athletic director. A Chicago native, he remained on the football staff as an assistant coach until 1909 and served as a recruiter for two years. He was the athletic trainer at Purdue and was in charge of physical education at YMCAs in Syracuse, N.Y., and Johnstown and Williamsport, Pa., before taking the Penn State position. He died in 1949 at the age of 81 in Pittsburgh after enjoying a successful career in insurance sales.

Samuel Newton

Head Coach: 1896-98

Dr. Samuel Newton was Penn State's second head coach. He posted a 12-14 record, while also serving as the director of physical training. A native of Yarmouth, Maine, and a graduate of Williams College and the University of Pennsylvania Medical School, he was a physician and assistant coach at Pennsylvania, when named to the Penn State post. He later compiled a record of 57-28-2 at Lafayette and Lehigh. He retired from coaching after the 1905 season at Lehigh to devote full time to his medical practice.

Dan Reed

Head Coach: 1903

Dan Reed led Penn State to a 5-3 record in his only season (1903), including wins over Pittsburgh (59-0) and Navy (17-0). Reed was a two-year letterman at Cornell for the legendary Pop Warner and later served as an assistant coach (1910-11) for the Big Red. Reed, who also was on the track and wrestling teams at Cornell, turned to politics after his coaching career. He was elected to Congress, where he served on the Ways and Means Committee. He died in 1959.

Sam Boyle

Head Coach: 1899

Sam Boyle coached Penn State for just one season, but led the Nittany Lions to a 6-0 victory at Army to highlight a 4-6-1 campaign. It would be 60 years before Penn State won again at West Point. A three-year letterman at Pennsylvania, he coached at Dickinson the following season (1900), during which his squad downed Penn State, 18-0.

Tom Fennell

Head Coach: 1904-08

Tom Fennell was named Penn State's first full-time head coach in 1904 and compiled a 33-17-1 record in five seasons. He was hired exclusively to coach football and held no additional duties. A graduate of Cornell, where he was a standout in football, Fennell gave up the Penn State post after the 1908 season. He returned to law practice in Elmira, N.Y., and later become a judge.

Bill Hollenback

Head Coach: 1909, 11-14

Bill Hollenback became the youngest head coach in the nation, when, at 23, he was named Penn State's head coach in 1909. He capped his senior year at Pennsylvania the previous season by serving as captain and being named to the Walter Camp All-America team at fullback. He guided Penn State, in its initial year of play at Beaver Field, to its first unbeaten season (5-0-2) since 1893. He was lured to Missouri in 1910, but returned to lead the Nittany Lions to undefeated seasons in 1911 and 1912. He ended his Penn State career after the 1914 season with a record of 28-9-4.

► Penn State played Southern California for the first time in the 1923 Rose Bowl.

HEAD COACHES

Jack Hollenback

Head Coach: 1910

Jack Hollenback coached Penn State for one year (1910), when his brother, Bill, took the head position at Missouri. The Nittany Lions were 5-2-1 in a season which saw admission charged for the first time when Penn State met Bucknell on Nov. 12 at Beaver Field. A Pennsylvania graduate in dentistry, Hollenback also coached at Franklin & Marshall (1908-09) and at the Pennsylvania Military College (Widener) in 1911 before opening a dental practice in Philipsburg, Pa. He later joined his brother in the coal brokerage business in Philadelphia. Hollenback died in 1959 at the age of 75.

Dick Harlow

Head Coach: 1915-17

Dick Harlow was the first Penn State graduate to serve as head coach, compiling a 20-8 record in three seasons. A two-year letterman, he also was a member of the baseball and track teams. He later served as head coach at Colgate (1922-25), Western Maryland (1926-34) and Harvard (1935-42, 45-47). He was recognized as Coach-of-the Year in 1936. A Philadelphia native, Harlow, who died in 1962, was named to the Helms Foundation College Football Hall of Fame in 1954.

Hugo Bezdek

Head Coach: 1918-29

Hugo Bezdek, a native of Prague, Czechoslovakia, posted a 65-30-11 record in 12 seasons (1918-29) as head coach, including consecutive undefeated seasons (1920-21). He also served as athletic director from 1918-36. Bezdek gained All-American status at Chicago, where he was a fullback in football and second baseman in baseball. His collegiate coaching experience included head jobs at Oregon (1906, 13-17), where his team defeated Pennsylvania, 14-0, in the 1917 Rose Bowl; and Arkansas (1908-12). He also managed the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club (1917-19) and was head coach of the Cleveland Rams (1937-38). Bezdek, who died in 1952, was named to the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame in 1954 and the Helms Foundation College Hall of Fame in 1960.

Bob Higgins

Head Coach: 1930-48

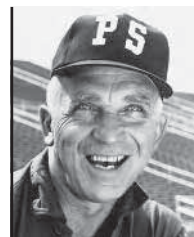

Bob Higgins served 19 years as head coach, compiling a record of 91-57-11, including an unbeaten season in 1947. A native of Corning, N.Y., he entered Penn State in 1914 and became one of only five players in school history to letter five years. He served as captain of the team as a senior when he was named to the 1919 Walter Camp All-American team. He also lettered in baseball, boxing and wrestling. Following two years of professional football with the Canton Bulldogs, he began his coaching career, which included stops at West Virginia Wesleyan and Washington University in St. Louis. He joined the Penn State staff in 1928 as an assistant coach. Higgins, who died in 1969, was named to the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame in 1954.

Joe Bedenk

Head Coach: 1949

Joe Bedenk led Penn State to a record of 5-4 in his only season as head coach. A 1924 Penn State graduate from Williamsport, Pa., he lettered three years at guard and captained the 1923 squad. He also served as baseball coach, compiling a record of 410-161-6 from 1931-62. Nine of his baseball teams played in the NCAA Tournament and three appeared in the College World Series, including 1957, when the Nittany Lions placed second. Bedenk was elected to the College Baseball Hall of Fame in 1966 and was one of the founders of the American Association of College Baseball Coaches. He lived in State College, Pa., following his retirement in 1963, until his death in 1978.

Charles A. "Rip" Engle

Head Coach: 1950-65

"Rip" Engle achieved national prominence as Penn State's 13th head coach, fashioning a record of 104-48-4 in 16 years (1950-65). His teams captured victories in three of four bowl games and won the Lambert Trophy three times. A native of Salisbury, Pa., Engle was a four-sport standout at Western Maryland, graduating in 1930. He compiled an 86-17-5 record in 11 seasons at Waynesboro (Pa.) High School, before being named to the staff at Brown. He was named head coach two years later and served there until coming to Penn State in 1950. Engle won the Amos Alonzo Stagg Award for his contributions to football and was inducted into the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame in 1974. Following his retirement, he lived in State College, Pa., until his death on March 7, 1983.

LAMBERT-MEADOWLANDS TROPHY

Penn State won an unprecedented 28th Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy in 2009 as Eastern football's top team.

In 1936, the Lambert brothers, Victor and Henry, of the distinguished New York City jewelry house that bears their name, established a memorial to their father, August — a trophy to be awarded to the outstanding Division I college football team in the East. In 1957, the Lambert Cup was instituted for Division II teams and, in 1966, the Lambert Bowl was added for Division III schools.

Fifteen schools have been awarded the Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy. Penn State has won more Lambert-Meadowlands trophies than any four schools combined.

PENN STATERS IN THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Jack Ham

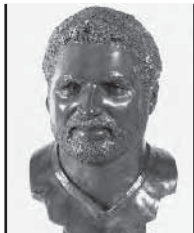

Linebacker

Inducted: 1988

Penn State, 1968-70

Pittsburgh Steelers, 1971-82

A second-round draft choice in 1971, Jack Ham played on four Super Bowl title teams and was voted to the All-Pro team nine consecutive seasons in a career in which he made 32 pass interceptions. A unanimous choice for the NFL Team-of-the-Decade for the 1970s, Ham was the 1975 National Football League Defensive Player-of-the-Year. He is the president of a drug testing services company and lives in Moon Township, Pa. He also works as an analyst on the Penn State radio network as well as professional football broadcasts.

Franco Harris

Fullback

Inducted: 1990

Penn State, 1969-71

Pittsburgh Steelers, 1972-83

Seattle Seahawks, 1984

In 13 NFL seasons, Franco Harris rushed for 12,120 yards on 2,949 carries and scored 91 touchdowns. He ranks No. 12 in the NFL in all-time rushing. He topped the 1,000-yard mark eight times and totaled more than 100 yards rushing in 47 games. The Most Valuable Player in Super Bowl IX, Harris was elected to play in nine Pro Bowls. He was the 13th player chosen in the first round of the 1972 draft. Harris joined teammate Jack Ham on the Pro Football Hall of Fame All-Pro team of the 1970s. Harris resides in Sewickley, Pa., where he is a business executive.

August Michalske

Guard

Inducted: 1964

Penn State, 1923-25

New York Yankees (AFL), 1926

New York Yankees (NFL), 1927-28

Green Bay Packers, 1929-35, 37

August "Mike" Michalske, who was born in Cleveland, Ohio, joined the New York Yankees of the American Football League after a distinguished career with the Nittany Lions. When the Yankees switched to the National Football League in 1927, he played two more seasons in New York before being traded to the Green Bay Packers, where he was a member of three NFL championship teams (1929-31). Although only 6-0 and 206 pounds, Michalske was an outstanding lead guard on running plays and a feared defender, whose blitzing technique was ahead of its time. A member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame's All-Pro team of the 1920s, Michalske died on Oct. 26, 1983.

Lenny Moore

Running Back

Inducted: 1975

Penn State, 1953-55

Baltimore Colts, 1956-67

Lenny Moore's high-stepping style as an offensive centerpiece of the Baltimore Colts' title teams of the late 1950s earned him the nickname "Spats." In 12 seasons, he was a five-time All-Pro, played in seven Pro Bowls and set an NFL record by scoring at least one touchdown in 18 consecutive games. He missed most of the 1963 season and was voted the Comeback Player-of-the-Year in 1964, racking up more than 1,000 yards rushing and receiving and scoring 20 TDs. He had career-highs of 649 rushing yards (7.5 ypc) as a rookie in 1956, and 50 catches and 938 receiving yards in 1958. He scored 113 TDs and gained 12,451 yards of offense in his career. Moore was selected for the Hall of Fame All-Pro squad of the 1950s. A native of Reading, Pa., Moore lives in Randallstown, Md.

Mike Munchak

Guard

Inducted: 2001

Penn State, 1979-81

Houston Oilers, 1982-93

A standout guard for 12 years with the National Football League's Houston Oilers, Mike Munchak was selected for the Pro Bowl nine times in his career (1982-93). From Scranton, Pa., he was the eighth player selected and the first offensive lineman chosen in the 1982 draft. In just his third year in the NFL (1984), he was named to the first of his seven American Football Conference all-star teams and was selected All-Pro for the first time. Munchak was the centerpiece of an offensive line which helped the Oilers to seven consecutive playoff appearances (1987-93), including AFC Central Division titles in 1991 and '93. Munchak retired in 1993 after playing in 159 regular-season games. He joined the Oiler coaching staff in '94 and is head coach of the Tennessee Titans.

BEAVER STADIUM

BEAVER STADIUM HOME OF THE NITTANY LIONS

Beaver Stadium, the home of the Nittany Lions, is one of the nation's premier football venues.

An expansion and renovation prior to the 2001 season added more than 12,000 seats, increasing the stadium's capacity to 107,282 and easing the waiting list for season ticket requests from Penn State fans.

The second-largest stadium in the nation, the renovation and expansion added rest rooms and concession facilities, new scoreboards with video screens, and improved handicap access and pedestrian circulation patterns. Among the most visible additions to the venue were 60 enclosed skyboxes in a three-level structure erected above the East stands and an 11,500-seat upper deck located in the South end zone.

Installation of seating to meet standards established by the Americans with Disabilities Act since the end of the 2010 season resulted in a reduction of the stadium's capacity to 106,572.

Beaver Stadium has more than doubled in size since it was moved from its former site northeast of Rec Hall on the west side of campus to the east end of the campus in 1960. The addition of a 10,033-seat upper deck in the north end zone in 1991 and portable seats on the north end zone concourse increased the stadium's capacity to 93,967.

In 1980, expansion raised the capacity to 83,770. Lights were added in 1984. In 1985, the addition of walkways around the tops of the end zones and entry ramps at the four corners resulted in lowering the capacity to 83,370.

Penn State dedicated Beaver Stadium with a 20-0 win over Boston University on Sept. 17, 1960. Lion halfback Eddie Caye scored the stadium's first touchdown at 10:45 of the first quarter.

Built in a horseshoe configuration seating 46,284 in 1960, the stadium now towers 110 rows on the east side, 100 rows on the west, 60 in the lower end zones, 35 in the north upper deck, 20 in the club seating level and 25 in the south upper deck.

and more than 9,000 in 1972 increased the seating capacity to 57,538. Expanded bleachers in the south end zone in 1976 raised the capacity to 60,203.

A uniquely engineered expansion during the winter, spring and summer of 1978 added more than 16,000 seats, bringing the capacity to 76,639. The stadium was cut into sections, raised eight feet by hydraulic jacks and precast concrete seating forms inserted within the inner circle of the stadium, where a running track previously had been located.

Penn State's first permanent home for football was Beaver Field, which stood between the present-day Osmond and Frear laboratories in center campus. Before that, games were played on the Old Main lawn.

The first game at 500-seat Beaver Field was played on Nov. 6, 1893 against Western University of Pittsburgh (later to become the University of Pittsburgh). The 32-0 Penn State victory was delayed two days because of bad weather and played on a Monday afternoon.

New Beaver Field, located near Rec Hall, was dedicated in 1909 with a 31-0 win over Grove City. Originally constructed of wood, the stadium was converted to steel in 1936. The area also contained facilities for baseball, lacrosse, soccer and track and field.

New Beaver Field was the Nittany Lions' home through the 1959 season, after which the 30,000-seat stadium was dismantled and moved in 700 pieces one mile to the east side of campus. The old stadium was reassembled with 16,000 additional seats to form Beaver Stadium.

The stadium is named in honor of James A. Beaver. A lawyer in nearby Bellefonte at the outbreak of the Civil War, he enlisted in the Union Army as a second lieutenant and rose to the rank of brigadier general prior to his discharge in 1864. Beaver, who died in 1914, served as a superior court judge, governor of Pennsylvania and president of the University's Board of Trustees. He is credited with being among the most influential leaders in the development of the University at the turn of the century.

PENN STATE TRADITIONS

HAPPY VALLEY HERITAGE

► Nittany Lion Legend

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is the mountain lion which once roamed central Pennsylvania.

H.D. "Joe" Mason, a member of the Class of 1907, conducted a one-man campaign to choose a school mascot after seeing the Princeton tiger on a trip with the Penn State baseball team to that New Jersey campus. A student publication sponsored the campaign to select a mascot and Penn State is believed to be the first college to adopt the lion as a mascot.

Since Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mount Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. In regional folklore, Nittany (or Nita-Nee) was a valorous Indian princess in whose honor the Great Spirit caused Mount Nittany to be formed. A later namesake, daughter of chief O-Ko-Cho, who lived near the mouth of Penn's Creek, fell in love with Malachi Boyer, a trader. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name was given to the stately mountain.

► The "S" Zone

Organized in 1999 by the Penn State Lion Ambassadors, the student alumni corps, the "S" Zone revived one of the oldest traditions — Block S — in the student section at Beaver Stadium. Now formed when 700 underclassmen don coordinated blue and white t-shirts, the giant block "S" is a striking symbol visible throughout the stadium and captured regularly by national television cameras. The "S" Zone, which has had several locations over the years, most recently moved from the end zone to the 20-yard line. The area is marked on the bleachers on Fridays before home games by volunteers from the Lion Ambassadors who also seek sponsorships to offset the cost of printing the t-shirts and coordinate the delivery and distribution of t-shirts on game days.

► The Nittany Lion Shrine

Penn State's Nittany Lion shrine was dedicated on Oct. 24, 1942, during Homecoming Weekend. Animal sculptor Heinz Warneke and stonecutter Joseph Garatti molded a 13-ton block of Indiana limestone into the most recognizable symbol of Penn State. The shrine was chosen from six models submitted by Warneke.

The shrine is a gift of the Class of 1940 and rests in a natural setting of trees near Recreation Building. The site was chosen because of its accessibility, the surrounding trees and the fact that the sculpture would not be dwarfed by nearby buildings.

► Blue & White

Penn State's student-athletes are instantly identified by their blue and white uniforms — but those weren't the original school colors.

A three-member committee representing the sophomore, junior and senior classes was appointed in October of 1887 to develop color options from which the student body would select the school's official colors. Dark pink and black was the unanimous choice of the student body after considering the color combinations presented by the committee.

Soon many students and the baseball team were sporting pink and black striped blazers and caps. However, problems arose when the pink faded to white after several weeks of exposure to the sun. The students then opted for blue, rather than black, and white. The official announcement of the new choice was made on March 18, 1890.

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY

MAKING LIFE BETTER SINCE 1855

Since admitting its first students in 1859, Penn State has awarded some 680,000 degrees, hallmarks of an educational experience second to none in quality and richness. In addition, Penn State alumni — including about 300,000 in Pennsylvania alone — have job- and social-networking opportunities that no other college or university in the Commonwealth can surpass.

The University's beginnings were humble. Chartered as a college of scientific agriculture, the institution was located in rural Centre County after James Irvin, a partner in the Centre Furnace iron works (remains of which can be seen today along East College Avenue), agreed to donate 200 acres of farmland for a campus.

Founding President Evan Pugh wanted Penn State to embody a new approach to higher education that blended traditional studies with subjects that had practical value. He joined similar visionaries in other states in convincing Congress to pass the Morrill Land-Grant Act in 1862. The act gave individual states tracts of federal land to sell; the proceeds would support colleges that agreed to include engineering, science and the liberal arts as well as agriculture in their course of studies. In 1863, the Pennsylvania legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land-grant institution. The lawmakers in effect bestowed on the privately incorporated college a public character. In return for state support, the institution assumed obligations of teaching, research and service that are normally associated with publicly owned land-grant universities in other states.

Initial efforts to diversify the curriculum met with mixed success, but by the 1890s Penn State was making its mark. It ranked among the nation's 10 largest undergraduate engineering schools, a distinction it still holds. President George Atherton invigorated the liberal arts, and recruited Professor of English Fred Pattee to teach the nation's first course in American literature, heretofore considered an unworthy stepchild of English literature. Professor of Agriculture Whitman Jordan's pioneering research on using fertilizers for soil enrichment had global impact on crop yields. Penn State in 1871 became one of the first land-grant schools in the Northeast to admit women, graduated its first international student in 1890, and its first African-American student in 1905.

In the early 1900s, Penn State launched an extensive system of outreach education, "carrying the college to the people," as then-President Edwin Sparks liked to say. It established the nation's first collegiate-level correspondence courses in agriculture, and in 1912 helped create a statewide system of county agents in agriculture and home economics. Today's Penn State World Campus, with its "anywhere, anytime" learning through the Internet, is descended from that strong outreach tradition.

But undergraduate education remained foremost. As enrollment surpassed 5,000 students in 1936, Penn State became Pennsylvania's largest source of baccalaureate degrees. Also in the 1930s, a state-wide system of undergraduate centers was created for students who, in the depths of the Great Depression, could not afford to leave their hometowns to get a college education. The centers offered the first year of baccalaureate studies and were the predecessors of today's system of 19 primarily undergraduate campuses located throughout the Commonwealth.

Following the Second World War, Penn State underwent unprecedented expansion, first to meet the needs of returning military veterans and later to accommodate the Baby Boom generation. Total enrollment at all Penn State campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

The University also emerged on the national scene as a research powerhouse. Research first garnered international attention in fields as diverse as dairy science, acoustics, psychology, and diesel engineering. As world-renowned faculty encouraged greater student participation in research and creative activities, Penn State was able to provide an enriched undergraduate experience unavailable at most other universities in the Commonwealth.

Annual research expenditures now exceed $780 million and help to make Penn State the largest single non-governmental contributor to Pennsylvania's economy. The University generates about $8.5 billion in total economic impact across the Commonwealth each year.

Today, as measured by the more than 100,000 applications for admissions it receives annually, Penn State is America's most popular university. Enrollment is spread across the University Park campus, the research and administrative hub; 19 undergraduate campuses; Penn State Milton S. Hershey Medical Center, including the College of Medicine; the Pennsylvania College of Technology; the Penn State Dickinson School of Law, Carlisle campus; the Penn State Great Valley School of Graduate Professional Studies; and the Penn State World Campus.

PRESIDENT GRAHAM B. SPANIER

Since he was appointed Penn State's 16th president in 1995, Dr. Graham Spanier has been the guiding force behind several historic academic initiatives, including the creation of The Schreyer Honors College, the School of International Affairs, the Penn State World Campus, and the College of Information Sciences and Technology. He has expanded outreach to citizens of Pennsylvania and has overseen $3 billion in philanthropic contributions to Penn State.

Dr. Spanier has been described as an unconventional university president. He loves spending time with students. He is a magician and adviser to the Penn State Performing Magicians, and he has performed with Penn State's Musical Theatre students, the Blue Band, Glee Club, and Chamber Orchestra. He occasionally substitutes for the Nittany Lion mascot. He has run with the bulls in Pamplona, has a commercial pilot's license, and plays the washboard with the Deacons of Dixieland and other bands. He and his racquetball partner are eleven-time Penn State co-ed intramural racquetball champions. He is the host of "To the Best of My Knowledge," the live, call-in program on public television and radio and "Expert Opinion," the sports topic program on the Big Ten Network. But most of his time is spent overseeing one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive universities, with 96,000 students and 46,000 employees on 24 campuses, an annual budget of $4 billion, and a physical plant of 1,700 buildings.

A national leader in higher education, Dr. Spanier was the first university president to receive the TIAA-CREF Theodore M. Hesburgh Award for Leadership Excellence. He serves as chair of the National Security Higher Education Advisory Board and is a member of the National Counterintelligence Working Group and the Board of Advisors of the Naval Postgraduate School and the Naval War College. Dr. Spanier has been honored as one of the "Most Influential People in Security." In addition, he is a member of the Board of Governors of Junior Achievement Worldwide and is chair of the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) Presidential Oversight Board, and he was given the American Institute of Architects Award for Contribution to the Profession by a Non-Architect.

Dr. Spanier has chaired the Association of American Universities, the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, the Big Ten Conference Council of Presidents/Chancellors, and the NCAA Division I Board of Directors. He led the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Universities, was a founding member of the Internet2 board, and served on the Board of Trustees of the National 4-H Council. He was president of the National Council of Family Relations, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Christian Children's Fund, vice-chair of the Worldwide Universities Network, and co-chair of the Committee on Higher Education and the Entertainment Communities.

Dr. Spanier's prior positions include chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, provost and vice president for academic affairs at Oregon State University, and vice provost for undergraduate studies at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He previously served Penn State from 1973-1982 as a member of the faculty and in three administrative positions in Penn State's College of Health and Human Development. He holds academic appointments as professor of human development and family studies, sociology, demography, and family and community medicine.

A distinguished researcher and scholar, he has more than 100 scholarly publications, including 10 books, and was the founding editor of the Journal of Family Issues. A family sociologist, demographer, and marriage and family therapist, he earned his Ph.D. in sociology from Northwestern University, where he was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, and his bachelor's and master's degrees from Iowa State University, where he has been honored with the Distinguished Achievement Citation and an honorary doctorate.

His wife, Sandra, is an English professor specializing in 20th-century American literature and serves as the general editor of Hemingway's letters. They have two children: Brian, a finance graduate of Penn State, and Hadley, a marketing graduate of Penn State.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR TIMOTHY CURLEY

Approaching his second full decade as the architect of the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics program, Tim Curley's dynamic and passionate leadership has been the driving force behind the Nittany Lions' tremendous level of athletic and academic achievement.

Named Director of Athletics on December 30,

1993, Curley's leadership has positioned Penn State among the nation's premier athletic departments. In the Nittany Lions' 18 years as members of the Big Ten Conference, Penn State has captured 21 NCAA Championships, more than double the next closest Big Ten schools.

Curley has seen Nittany Lion squads win 64 Big Ten titles and numerous individual national and conference crowns during his 17-plus years directing Penn State's comprehensive and nationally-respected athletic program. The Lions have won 10 NCAA Championships since March 2007 to lead the nation.

In 2010, Penn State announced it would establish NCAA Division I men's and women's ice hockey programs, to begin play in 2012-13. The hockey teams will give Penn State 31 varsity programs under Curley's watch, tied for the third-highest total among Football Bowl Subdivision institutions.

In March 2011, less than two years after Curley hired Olympic champion Cael Sanderson as head coach, Penn State won its first Big Ten Wrestling Championship, with five individual titlists, and its first NCAA Wrestling Championship since 1953. The Nittany Lion and Lady Lion basketball teams earned NCAA Tournament berths and the fencing team finished second at the NCAA Championships to cap a spectacular winter season.

During the 2010 fall semester, the women's volleyball team captured an unprecedented fourth consecutive NCAA Championship. Penn State won its eighth consecutive outright Big Ten crown. The women's soccer team claimed its 13th consecutive Big Ten Championship, claiming the longest string of Big Ten women's titles all-time in any sport. The football team made its 12th New Year's Day bowl appearance under Curley, with the squad delivering Coach Joe Paterno's 400th career victory at home in a memorable comeback win over Northwestern.

Include the 46 All-Americans and 29 first-team All-Big Ten selections (36 total first-team all-conference honorees), a record student-athlete Graduation Success Rate and five first-team CoSIDA Academic All-Americans® and 2010-11 was another tremendous year of Success With Honor for the Nittany Lions.

In the spring of 2010, the fencing team won its 10th NCAA Championship under Curley's watch. The women's track and field team captured its third consecutive Big Ten outdoor title, completing the "Triple Crown" and giving Penn State five conference titles in 2009-10.

A 1976 Penn State graduate, Curley's dedicated and enthusiastic leadership has helped Penn State win 27 Big Ten championships or tournament titles the past six years.

In October 2010, the NCAA reported that Penn State student-athletes compiled a school-record 90 percent Graduation Success Rate, 11 points higher than the national Division I-A average.

During the past three years, 26 Penn State student-athletes have earned CoSIDA/Capital One Academic All-Americans® honors. During Curley's tenure, a remarkable 117 Nittany Lions have gained Academic All-America® accolades to lead all Big Ten institutions.

The National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame (NFF) selected Curley as the 2011 recipient of the John L. Toner Award. One of the most prestigious honors a college athletics administrator can receive, the Toner Award is presented annually by the NFF to an athletics director who has demonstrated superior administrative abilities and shown outstanding dedication to college athletics and particularly college football.

Also this year, NCAA President Mark Emmert appointed Curley as one of the members of the Division I Bowl Licensing

Task Force, a group that includes leading corporate executives, university presidents, athletics directors and conference representatives. Curley and Oklahoma's Joe Castiglione are the lone athletic directors asked to serve on the 12-member panel.

In 2009, Curley again was recognized for his efforts in helping Penn State maintain its stature as one of the nation's premier athletic programs with his selection as the Northeast Athletic Director-of-the-Year by NACDA. He was one of just four regional Division I-A honorees and previously received the award in 2003.

As he surveys the athletic program he has been instrumental in assembling over the past 35 years, Tim Curley can't help but be proud of the athletic and academic accomplishments of Penn State's 750 student-athletes in 29 varsity sports:

✓ During a visit to the University Park campus, late NCAA President Myles Brand stated, "Penn State is the poster child for doing it right in college sports."

✓ In the initial 18 years of the NACDA-sponsored Directors' Cup all-sports survey, Penn State has finished in the Top 25 every year, earning seven Top 10 finishes, with 13 placings in the Top 15. The Lions finished No. 13 in 2010-11 and are one of only 10 programs nationwide to have finished in the Top 25 every year.

✓ In the most recent comprehensive look at the 117 colleges and universities participating in Division I football and men's basketball, U.S. News and World Report selected Penn State as one of 10 Division I-A institutions for its College Sports Honor Roll. Data on gender equity, number of varsity sports, graduation rates, sanctions, and wins and losses were analyzed to determine the listing.

✓ Penn State has captured 21 NCAA Championships in men's and women's volleyball, men's and women's fencing, wrestling and men's gymnastics during Curley's tenure. Nittany Lion and Lady Lion teams have made 33 NCAA "Final Four" appearances during his tenure.

✓ Penn State also has established itself as a force in the highly competitive Big Ten — winning 68 regular-season or tournament titles in football, women's basketball, wrestling, baseball, field hockey, men's gymnastics, men's soccer, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and diving, women's indoor and outdoor track and field and women's volleyball.

To continue to give the coaching staff and student-athletes the resources to succeed academically and athletically, Curley has guided the most ambitious fund-raising and athletics facilities campaigns in the department's history. The "For The Future" campaign entered the public phase in April 2010 and will conclude in 2014. More than $128 million was raised for Intercollegiate Athletics through June 2008 to easily surpass the Success With Honor Campaign goal of $100 million.

In September 2010, Penn State announced an $88 gift from Terry and Kim Pegula to fund a state-of-the-art, multi-purpose ice arena and help to establish an NCAA Division I men's hockey program. The gift paves the way for the creation of a Division I women's ice hockey program and enhanced figure-skating opportunities. The hockey teams will begin play in 2012-13 and the Pegula Ice Arena is expected to open in the fall of 2013.

The Athletics physical plant has improved substantially under Curley's direction. The Nittany Lion Softball Park, which opened in 2011, golf clubhouse, soccer practice fields and men's and women's basketball offices are among projects recently completed.

Another recent capital project completed under Curley's leadership was a new baseball stadium — Medlar Field at Lubrano Park. The Penn State baseball team shares the state-of-the-art facility with a short-season minor league team — the State College Spikes. Curley played a significant role in developing the unique partnership for the construction of the 5,406-seat stadium, which opened in June 2006.

A new student fitness center and expanded and renovated wrestling practice center, locker room and strength training facilities opened in Rec Hall in recent years.

The 12,500-seat expansion and renovation of Beaver Stadium was completed in 2001, raising the capacity to 107,282. The project included private suite and club level seating previously unavailable and creation of the Penn State All-Sports Museum to house the University's impressive collection of sports memorabilia.

Other facility projects completed in the past decade include the Lasch Football Building, Ashenfelter Indoor Multi-Sport Facility and Sarni Tennis Center and renovations to the White Building, East Area Locker Room, Jeffrey Field and a new field hockey facility.

Curley also oversees the expansive intramural/club sport programs — which included a fourth consecutive national championship in men's ice hockey in 2003 and five women's rugby national titles since 2000 — on the University Park campus, as well as general recreational activities. He's charged as well with responsibility for the athletic and recreational programs at the Penn State Commonwealth Campuses.

It is a dizzying pace for Curley, who is a regular presence at athletic events, team banquets, alumni meetings and regional and national meetings of athletic administrators.

Curley served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 2005-06. He was the first Penn State athletic director to serve as president of NACDA, which is a professional and educational association for more than 6,100 athletic administrators at more than 1,600 institutions in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Elected a NACDA officer in 2002, Curley is a recent member of the NCAA Committee on Academic Performance (CAP) and the Board of Directors of the Honda Collegiate Women Sports Awards. He also is on the Boards of Visitors for Penn State's John Curley Center for Sports Journalism and the advisory board for the Center for Sports Business and Research in The Smeal College of Business.

Curley also was appointed to a special NCAA task force that reviewed Division I recruiting bylaws and to the NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee, a group which he chaired. He previously was a member of the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet and served as chair of the NCAA Postseason Bowl Certification Sub-Committee.

It is no exaggeration to say Tim Curley is someone who knows the Penn State athletic program from the ground up. A State College product, he grew up across the street from Old Beaver Field. He spent some of his most memorable days as a youngster there and in nearby Rec Hall. He parked cars, sold game programs and served as a baseball batboy.

The top assistant to Athletic Director Jim Tarman, Curley was named Director of Athletics on December 30, 1993, when Tarman retired after 35 years as a Penn State athletic administrator.

Curley, 57, has been a full-time member of the athletic staff since he joined the department as a graduate assistant football coach. A product of State College Area High School, where he played basketball and football for Jim Williams' undefeated 1971 team, Curley walked on as a football player only to have his career cut short by injuries. After earning his bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1976, he was a graduate assistant coach while pursuing his master's degree in counselor education.

Curley was named the Nittany Lions' first full-time football recruiting coordinator in 1978 and was instrumental in identifying and recruiting a number of members of the 1982 national championship team. In 1981, he was named assistant to the athletic director where he was involved with the day-to-day operations of the department.

Curley was active in the development of the Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes; the Penn State Sports Medicine Center; the Varsity "S" Club and the Football Letterman's Club during his tenure as assistant to the athletic director. He also was instrumental in putting in place Penn State's first NCAA compliance program and acted as the department's compliance coordinator for five years before surrendering those responsibilities when he was named Associate Athletic Director in 1992.

Curley is married to the former Melinda Harr of Washington, Pa., who earned degrees from Penn State in 1977 and 1986. The Curleys have two children — a daughter, Devon, and a son, Tanner.

Big Ten Advisory Commission

Long a leader in innovative practices and policies beneficial to intercollegiate athletics, the Big Ten Conference has been at the forefront in addressing and investigating the problems and concerns of minority student-athletes.

The Big Ten Advisory Commission, formed more than 20 years ago, represents a positive approach to achieving the Conference's goal of providing quality and equal education for all its student-athletes. The Commission consists of 11 former African-American alumnae and alumni from each Big Ten university. Each individual represented their institution in intercollegiate athletics and now are prominent professionals in their chosen fields.

Rahsaan Carlton, athletic director at Penn State Harrisburg, is Penn State's representative on the Big Ten Advisory Commission.

PENN STATE ATHLETICS

A PROGRAM SECOND TO NONE

The 2010-11 academic year marked Penn State's 18th complete year in the Big Ten Conference. In that time, the Nittany Lions and Lady Lions have established themselves as annual contenders in 24 Big Ten Championship sports, winning 68 titles.

Penn State completed the school's integration into the Big Ten in 1993 by joining the chase for their first-ever conference football crown and the accompanying Rose Bowl bid. The integration of the football program concluded a process that began in June 1990, with Penn State's initial acceptance as the 11th member of the Big Ten Conference.

In just its second year of Big Ten competition, Penn State won its first Big Ten and Rose Bowl championships, becoming the first conference football squad to finish with a perfect record since Ohio State in 1968 and the first-ever to compile a 12-0 mark.

Penn State made its Big Ten debut in 18 sports during the 1991-92 athletic season. The Penn State men's and women's basketball teams and the wrestling squad first competed in the conference in 1992-93.

Boasting one of the largest intercollegiate athletic programs in the nation, Penn State fields teams in 15 men's and 14 women's sports. All 29 programs are funded at 100 percent scholarship levels. The breadth of the University's athletic offerings has been matched by a generous harvest of national, regional and conference titles.

Penn State's football team has captured a pair of national championships — 1982 and 1986 — and consistently is ranked in the nation's Top 10.

Penn State has won 68 national championships in all sports, with 10 titles since March 2007. The women's volleyball and wrestling teams were national champions in 2010-11; fencing and women's volleyball in 2008-09 and 2009-10; men's and women's volleyball in 2007-08; and fencing and men's gymnastics in 2006-07.

2010-11 HIGHLIGHTS

■ Penn State was No. 13 in the 2010-11 Learfield Sports/NACDA Directors' Cup standings, its 13th Top 15 finish in the 18 years of the award. Penn State has placed in the Directors' Cup Top 25 every year since its inception in 1993-94, with eight Top 10 finishes and four Top five finishes. Penn State is one of just 10 schools ranked in the Top 25 of all 18 Directors' Cup surveys.

■ The women's volleyball team won an unprecedented fourth consecutive NCAA Championship. Coach Russ Rose led the Nittany Lions to their fifth National title in 12 years. The team claimed its eighth consecutive outright Big Ten Championship and 14th overall.

■ The wrestling team won the NCAA Championship — its first national title since 1953. In his second year as head coach, Cael Sanderson guided sophomore Quentin Wright, the No. 9 seed, to the national crown at 184 pounds.

■ Penn State has won 21 NCAA Championships since 1993-94, its first full year in the Big Ten Conference, more than double the total of the next highest Big Ten schools (Iowa and Minnesota with 9).

■ Since March 2007, Penn State has won 10 NCAA Championships (in five different sports), the highest total of any school in the nation.

■ Penn State won three Big Ten Championships, as women's soccer, women's volleyball and wrestling captured conference titles. Wrestling won its first Big Ten crown, as the Nittany Lions went 5-of-5 in the finals to beat defending champion Iowa by one point.

■ Penn State has won 27 Big Ten Championships since fall 2005, the conference's third-highest total, and 68 Big Ten titles overall.

■ The NCAA reported that Penn State student-athletes compiled a school-record 90 percent Graduation Success Rate, 11 points higher than the national Division I average. Twenty-three of Penn State's 25 teams had a GSR at or above the national average of 79 percent or higher (track/cross country count as one sport).

■ The NCAA reported that the four-year federal graduation rate average for University Park student-athletes was 80 percent, significantly higher than the national average of 64 percent, and second to Northwestern (88) among Big Ten Conference institutions.

■ Five Penn State student-athletes received first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, giving the school 26 such honorees in the past three years. Chris Colasanti, Pete Massaro and Stefan Wisniewski (football), Ryan Foster (men's track and field) and Miguel Pineda (men's gymnastics) gained first-team honors.

■ Penn State has produced 118 Academic All-Americans since 1993-94, its first year in the Big Ten, a total higher than all other conference institutions all-time (program began in 1952). Penn State has 172 Academic All-Americans all-time, the third-highest total among all NCAA institutions.

■ Penn State was the nation's only institution to have its men's and women's cross country, field hockey, men's and women's soccer and women's volleyball teams selected to their respective NCAA Championships in the fall of 2010.

■ Penn State's winter sports teams were 11-of-11 in competing in their respective NCAA Championships (fencing is a combined NCAA Championship). Penn State was the nation's only institution to have all the winter teams it sponsors score points in their respective NCAA Championships.

■ Women's volleyball became the first team in NCAA history to win four straight National Championships, with a 3-0 sweep of California in the national title match to finish 32-5. Russ Rose became the first NCAA Division I women's volleyball coach to win five national championships. Penn State's Blair Brown, Arielle Wilson, Deja McClendon (MVP) and Kristin Carpenter all received All-Tournament honors.

■ Blair Brown won the 2010 Honda Sports Award in volleyball as the nation's top collegiate female athlete in the sport, and was one of three finalists for the Honda-Broderick Cup. It was the third year in a row that a Penn State women's volleyball player won the award, as Brown joined Nicole Fawcett (2009) and Megan Hodge (2010). Brown became the sixth straight Nittany Lion selected Big Ten Player-of-the-Year.

■ Penn State qualified eight wrestlers for the NCAA Championships and had its first team national title since 1953 locked up before the final session began. The Nittany Lions scored 107.5 points. Cornell was second with 93.5 and Iowa third with 86.5 points. In addition to 184-pound National Champion Quentin Wright, Andrew Long, Frank Molinaro, David Taylor and Ed Ruth were All-Americans, with Molinaro and Taylor finishing second at 149 and 157 pounds, respectively.

■ The wrestling team was 5-of-5 in the finals to capture its first Big Ten Championship, edging Iowa by one point. Penn State became the first team from the Eastern time zone since 1973 to win the title. Andrew Long, Frank Molinaro, David Taylor, Ed Ruth and Quentin Wright claimed titles. Penn State swept conference honors. Wright, the No. 8 seed, was named Outstanding Wrestler of the Championship. Taylor was selected Big Ten Wrestler-of-the-Year and Freshman-of-the-Year and Cael Sanderson was named Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year.

■ The women's soccer team captured a share of its 13th consecutive Big Ten title, the longest streak in Big Ten's women's history. Penn State beat Pennsylvania in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. Christine Nairn received NSCAA second-team All-America honors and was a semifinalist for the M.A.C. Hermann Trophy.

■ The Nittany Lion basketball team was a No. 10 seed in the NCAA Tournament, losing to No. 7 seed Temple, 66-64, on a buzzer-beater. Penn State defeated Top 25 opponents Illinois, Michigan State and Wisconsin, and advanced to its first Big Ten Tournament Championship game to seal its NCAA berth. Senior guard Tator Battle became Penn State's career scoring leader with 2,213 points, good for No. 10 in Big Ten history. A two-time first-team All-Big Ten selection, Battle became just the third player in NCAA history with 2,000 points, 600 rebounds and 500 assists.

■ The Lady Lion basketball team received a No. 6 seed in the NCAA Tournament, beating Dayton and losing a thriller to 10th-ranked and No. 3 seed DePaul, 75-73. Penn State finished second in the Big Ten standings and lost in the Big Ten Tournament Championship game to gain its first NCAA Tournament berth since 2006. Guard Maggie Lucas was named a second-team Freshman All-American, the Big Ten Freshman-of-the-Year and the Sixth Player-of-the-Year after breaking the school and conference season marks with 112 three-point baskets.

■ Penn State was the NCAA fencing runner-up after winning the last two National titles. The men's and women's teams produced five first-team All-Americans. Senior captain Doris Willette became a four-time All-American.

■ Joe Paterno became the first Football Bowl Subdivision Coach all-time to win 400 games, as the Nittany Lions posted a thrilling 35-21 comeback victory over Northwestern in Beaver Stadium. Penn State rallied from a 21-0 first-half deficit for its largest home comeback under Paterno.

■ Senior guard Stefan Wisniewski was selected an AFCA first-team All-American and became the program's first three-time CoSIDA Academic All-American.

■ The men's gymnastics team placed sixth at the NCAA Championships. Four Nittany Lions gained All-America honors with top eight finishes in the individual finals: Wasef Barbar, Miguel Pineda, Parker Raque and Scott Rosenthal. Pineda was selected for the prestigious NCAA Elite 88 Award for his remarkable 3.99 cumulative grade-point average.

■ The men's soccer team was the No. 15 seed in the 2010 NCAA Tournament. Under first-year head coach Bob Warming, the squad finished with a 14-8-1 record, its most wins in a season since 2002.

■ The men's indoor track and field team was 11th at the NCAA Championships. Ryan Foster placed third in the mile and freshman Brady Gehret won the bronze in the 400 meters. The men's squad also gained its highest finish at the NCAA Outdoor Championships since 1993.

■ The men's and women's cross country teams both qualified for their NCAA Championships in the same year for the first time since 1994.

■ The softball team opened Nittany Lion Softball Park by qualifying for the NCAA Tournament and hosting, falling to No. 13 Oregon in the regional final.

► Coach Interviews

Coach Joe Paterno conducts a teleconference Tuesdays at 12:30 p.m. (ET) in the Beaver Stadium media room. Those wishing to be included should contact the Athletic Communications Office. The press conference is transmitted via satellite. Other interview requests must be coordinated through the Athletic Communications Office. Coach Paterno holds a post-game press conference in the Beaver Stadium media room, which also is telecast live in the press box and on satellite.

► Player Interviews

Prior to game day, player interviews must be arranged through the Athletic Communications Office at least one day in advance. Player interviews generally are conducted Tuesday and Wednesday. Players will return telephone calls; home numbers will not be released. Selected player interviews are available to television stations via satellite on Tuesday. Contact the Athletic Communications Office for the coordinates.

Following the game, requested Penn State players will be brought to the Beaver Stadium media room at the conclusion of Coach Paterno's press conference. Please see a member of the staff to request a player for a post-game interview. The Penn State locker room is closed. As time permits, Penn State player interviews are available by satellite following the game. Contact the Athletic Communications Office for weekly satellite coordinates.

► Press Box Credentials

Admittance to the Beaver Stadium press box is limited to working media members only. Credential requests must be made on www.GoPSUsports.com at least three weeks in advance of the game to permit sufficient time for mailing. Media credentials which cannot be mailed will be left at Press Will Call (Media Entrance) beneath the Beaver Stadium press box.

Members of the media must make their own arrangements for telephones, although the Athletic Communications Office does provide a limited number of first-come, first-served telephones on Level 3 of the press box.

Penn State is a member of the Big Ten Conference and all press box and game day policies conform to Big Ten guidelines.

► To Order A Telephone Line

Call Verizon at 800-479-1919 or 570-387-3500 for telephones or broadcast lines.

► Photographers

Photo passes may be issued for either the press box or the field. Credential requests must be made on www.GoPSUsports.com at least three weeks in advance of the game. All photographers working the field must display a photo armband. Armbands are issued in the West/Visitor's Media Room under the press box just inside the Media Entrance, beginning two hours prior to game time until 45 minutes before kickoff. Sideline access generally is limited to newspapers or publications staffing the two teams, national publications, wire services, and local and national television outlets.

Sideline photographers must follow NCAA guidelines, which prohibit entry to the bench areas and the stands.

► Radio-Television

Penn State's live television appearances are designated by the Big Ten Conference. Facilities are assigned in accordance with Big Ten guidelines. Radio booths are available for the Penn State Sports Network and the opponent's radio network. Student stations are assigned broadcast locations as available.
