2020 SPRING FOOTBALL NOTEBOOK

HUSKERS GEAR UP FOR 2020 SEASON WITH SPRING BALL

Nebraska is preparing for its third season under Scott Frost with 15 practices this spring. Spring practice will begin on March 9 and feature two weeks of practice (six practices) before Spring Break, followed by three weeks of practice (nine practices) when classes resume on March 30. Spring ball culminates with the Red-White Spring Game on Saturday, April 18 (1 p.m., BTN).

In addition to welcoming 45 new players - 13 of whom enrolled early and will participate in spring practice - Nebraska also has two new coaches in offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach Matt Lubick and outside linebackers coach Mike Dawson. Both have coached with Frost before, as Lubick was Oregon's passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach from 2013 to 2015 when Frost was the Ducks' offensive coordinator. Dawson, who spent the 2019 season coaching outside linebackers for the New York Giants, returns to Lincoln after being a member of Frost's inaugural staff at Nebraska in 2018. Dawson was also on Frost's UCF staff in 2016 and 2017.

Nebraska narrowly missed a bowl game in 2019, finishing 5-7 overall and 3-6 in the Big Ten Conference. Four of the Huskers' seven losses were by seven or fewer points, and the opponent scored the game-winning points in the final 1:10 in three of those four losses.

In the second week of the season, Nebraska led Colorado by 17 late in the third quarter, only to see the Buffaloes score 24 fourth-quarter points, including the game-tying touchdown with 46 seconds left. CU then kicked a field goal in the opening possession of overtime before NU missed a field goal on its possession.

The Huskers' second close loss of the 2019 season came at home against Indiana, when the Hoosiers posted a 38-31 victory thanks in part to 14 points off NU turnovers. Trailing by seven entering the fourth quarter, Nebraska drove into Indiana territory on each of its three fourth-quarter drives, but came up with only seven points. On its final drive, NU drove inside the Hoosier 35-yard line before failing on fourth down.

Nebraska lost another close game the next week at Purdue. The Huskers scored a touchdown to take a 27-24 lead with 4:21 remaining, only to see the Boilermakers drive 82 yards in 12 plays for the game-winning touchdown with 1:08 to play.

In the final game of the season, Nebraska and Iowa were tied for all but one second of the fourth quarter. The Huskers recovered an Iowa fumble with 2:32 remaining and drove near midfield following a first down. But Nebraska gave the ball back to the Hawkeyes, who had back-to-back 22-yard completions to set up a game-winning 48-yard field goal with one second remaining.

The loss to Iowa marked the second straight season the Hawkeyes won on a last-second field goal. Winning close games could help Nebraska take a major step forward in 2020. The Huskers are 3-9 in one-possession games under Frost and 5-12 in such games over the past three seasons. Going back to the last five seasons, 22 of Nebraska's 34 losses have been by eight or fewer points (65 percent).

The Huskers hope to change that narrative beginning this spring. Nebraska will be bolstered by a veteran offense that is among the most productive returning units in the country and by a Husker defense that is in its third year running the same scheme.

Nebraska brings veteran leadership from last season, including 16 total starters and returning team captains Adrian Martinez and Matt Farniok.

UPCOMING DATES FOR NEBRASKA FOOTBALL

- April 18: Spring Game at Memorial Stadium, 1 p.m.
- July 22-23: Big Ten Media Day & Kickoff Luncheon, Chicago
- Sept. 5 : Season Opener vs. Purdue

HUSKERS SELL OUT SPRING GAME

The Spring Game has been a popular event for Nebraska in recent years, including sellouts in two of Scott Frost's three Spring Games.

- The 2018 and 2019 Spring Games are the only sellouts since tickets were sold as reserved seats and since the entirety of stadium seating was available. NU also sold out the 2008 Spring Game when part of Memorial Stadium was unavailable to fans.
- Nebraska has drawn at least 54,000 fans for the Spring Game each of the past 15 times it has been played. At least 60,000 fans have attended each of the last 11 Spring Games dating back to 2008, including seven crowds over 75,000 and three crowds of more than 80,000 fans.
- Overall, Nebraska has drawn 1,061,970 fans for its past 15 spring games at Memorial Stadium, an average of 70,798 fans per game. By comparison, only 17 schools nationally averaged at least 69,000 fans per game during the 2019 season.
- NU has ranked first or second nationally in spring game attendance eight times in the past 12 years.
- Nebraska has posted two of the 10 largest Spring Game crowds in NCAA history the past two seasons. The Huskers' 2018 crowd was the eighth-largest Spring Game crowd ever while the 2019 crowd was the ninth-largest ever.

HUSKERS ADD 45 TO 2020 ROSTER

Nebraska's full roster totals 155 players as of March 1, with 123 players set to participate in spring practice.

- The Husker roster features 110 returning players and 45 newcomers. Nebraska returns a total of 16 starters and 42 letterwinners, including 10 starters on offense and five on defense.
- Nebraska has added 45 players - 23 scholarship student-athletes and 22 walk-ons - to the roster since December, with 13 of those newcomers slated to participate in spring drills.
- The Huskers' 23-player scholarship class was ranked No. 18 nationally by Rivals marking the second straight year Nebraska signed a top-20 class. The signees hail from 14 states, including three of the top 100 players in the 2020 class.
- Nebraska will feature a young roster again in 2020. Of the Huskers' 155 players, 78 are freshmen, comprising more than half of the roster. NU's roster also features only 17 seniors, its fewest number of seniors since 2014.

FROST SET FOR THIRD SPRING SEASON

Scott Frost is set for his third season at Nebraska in 2020. The consensus 2017 national coach of the year, Frost boasts a 28-22 career record in four seasons as a collegiate head coach.

- Frost is 9-15 in his first two seasons at Nebraska, with nine losses by seven or fewer points, including eight by five or fewer points.
- Nebraska went 5-7 in 2019 following back-to-back 4-8 campaigns. Nebraska's 12-game schedule last season that featured six teams that were ranked in the top 25 at least once during the 2019 regular season and four that finished the year in the top 15.
- Frost has improved upon his team's previous season record every year he has been a head coach. At UCF, Frost - who inherited a winless team - went from 6-7 in his first season to 13-0 in year two. He improved by one game at Nebraska from 2018 to 2019.
- At UCF, Frost became the first coach in FBS history to turn a winless team into an undefeated team in just two years.
- Of Frost's 10 assistant coaches, eight have been with him in each of his five seasons as a collegiate head coach, while Mike Dawson has been on four of Frost's first five staffs.
- Frost has been a proven winner in his coaching career. In 13 seasons as a full-time assistant or head coach, Frost's teams have posted a 131-40 record, averaging more than 10 wins per season. Frost has been a part of seven conference championship teams in his 13 seasons and has twice coached in the national championship game.
- Frost's teams have been ranked in the top 15 in 10 of his 13 seasons, including eight final top-10 rankings and six final top-five rankings.

NEW FACES, ROLES ON HUSKER STAFF

Eight of Nebraska's 10 full-time assistant coaches return for their third season in 2020, and all eight have been a member of Scott Frost's staff for his entire five-year head coaching career. The Huskers also welcome two new assistant coaches this season, but both are familiar with Frost.

- Matt Lubick joins the staff as Nebraska's offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. Lubick, who was named the top wide receivers coach in the country in 2012 while coaching at Duke, previously was the offensive coordinator at Pac-12 powers Oregon and Washington. He succeeded Frost as the Ducks' offensive coordinator, as Lubick was the passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach in each of Frost's three seasons as Oregon's offensive coordinator.
- The other new face on the Husker sideline this spring is a familiar one, as Mike Dawson returns to Lincoln. Dawson, who was on Frost's staff for both seasons at UCF, coached the Husker defensive line in 2018 before moving on to the NFL in 2019, coaching outside linebackers for the New York Giants. In his return to Nebraska, Dawson will coach the outside linebackers.
- In addition to the two new full-time assistant coaches, Frost announced new titles and roles for two other coaches. Greg Austin adds the title of run game coordinator to his duties as offensive line coach, while Ryan Held will serve as Nebraska's recruiting coordinator in addition to continuing his role as running backs coach.

2020 SCHEDULE FEATURES EIGHT BOWL TEAMS

Nebraska will face one of the most difficult schedules in the country in 2020. The Huskers' 12-game regular-season slate includes seven home games, five road contests and nine Big Ten Conference games. NU will face 11 FBS teams and one FCS team.

- Nebraska's 12 opponents combined for a 96-58 record in 2019, winning more than 62 percent of their games. The Huskers' 11 FBS opponents include four conference division champions, eight bowl teams and six teams that won at least 10 games in 2019, with each of those six teams finishing the year ranked in the top 25.
- The Huskers' six games against 10-win FBS teams from 2019 are the most of any team in the country, while only Nebraska and Purdue will play six regular-season games against teams that were ranked in the final AP top-25 poll. Four of those teams won 11 games.
- The Huskers face Purdue in the season opener, marking the 13th time Nebraska will open the season against a conference opponent. NU is 11-1 all-time in season openers against conference opponents, most recently defeating No. 24 Oklahoma State 17-7 in the 2003 season opener in Lincoln. The lone defeat was a 20-0 home loss to Oklahoma in the 1945 season opener.
- Nebraska closes non-conference play on Sept. 26 by hosting a Cincinnati squad that was ranked 21st in the final 2019 AP poll. The Huskers then close the season with arguably one of the most challenging five-week stretches in college football history.
- In a span of 28 days that begins on Halloween and ends on Black Friday, Nebraska will play five games against teams who were ranked in the top 15 of the final 2019 AP poll. Those five opponents finished with a combined 55-11 record last season, with eight of those 11 losses coming to each other.
- The daunting stretch begins with a road trip to Ohio State on Halloween, followed by a home game against Penn State the next week. The Huskers then have back-to-back road games at Iowa and Wisconsin, before closing the season at home against Minnesota. Ohio State was No. 3 in the final 2019 AP poll, while Penn State was No. 9, Iowa was No. 15, Wisconsin was No. 11 and Minnesota was No. 10.
- Nebraska hosts four straight home games to open the season and five of the first six games will be played at Memorial Stadium. But four of Nebraska's next five games are on the road, as NU will have only one home game in a 48-day span during October and November.
- Nebraska is playing four road games in a five-game stretch from Oct. 24 to Nov. 21, the first time the Huskers have played four road contests in a span of five games since 1968. That year the Huskers ended their season with four of their final five Big Eight Conference games on the road. This year and the 1968 season are the only times in school history where NU will play four road games in a five-game stretch of conference games.

MARTINEZ STACKS UP AMONG TOP QUARTERBACKS

Quarterback Adrian Martinez has put up statistics that have him among the top active quarterbacks in the country and among the best to ever play the position at Nebraska.

Martinez has thrown for 4,573 career yards, rushed for 1,255 yards and accounted for 5,828 yards of total offense. He owns three NU career records, four season records and one game record. Last season, Martinez was just the second Husker sophomore to be a team captain since 1930.

- Martinez enters his junior season as Nebraska's all-time leader in total offensive yards per game (277.5) and 400-yard total offense games (4). He has produced four of Nebraska's 16 individual 400-yard total offense performances, and Martinez's career average of 277.5 yards of total offense per game is 40 yards higher than any other Husker quarterback who played in at least 15 career games.
- Martinez averaged a school-record 295.1 yards of total offense per game as a true freshman in 2018, an average that ranked 12th nationally, led all freshmen and was the ninth-highest average by a freshman in NCAA history, including the third-best by a true freshman.
- Martinez also set Husker season records for 300-yard total offense games (7) and 400-yard total offense games (3) in 2018.
- Martinez set a Nebraska record with an 86.2 percent completion percentage against Minnesota in 2018, completing 25-of-29 passes.
- In 2019, Martinez produced the second 300-yard passing and 100-yard rushing performance in Nebraska history when he threw for 328 yards and rushed for 118 yards at Illinois. His career-high 446 yards of total offense was the third-highest total in program history.
- Martinez has been one of the nation's top dual threat quarterbacks over the past two seasons. He is one of only six active FBS quarterbacks who enter the 2020 season with 4,000 career passing yards and 1,000 career rushing yards. Martinez is only the fourth Husker with 4,000 career passing yards and 1,000 career rushing yards.
- In 2018, Martinez became just the sixth freshman in NCAA history to average 200 passing yards and 50 rushing yards per game and just the second true freshman to hit those marks. Martinez was also one of only four FBS quarterbacks - regardless of class - who averaged 225 passing yards and 50 rushing yards per game in 2018.

SPIELMAN SETS SIGHTS ON HUSKER RECORDS

Wide receiver JD Spielman already owns four Nebraska records, and he has his sights set on becoming the Huskers' all-time leader in receptions and receiving yards.

Spielman enters his senior season with 170 career catches for 2,546 yards. He ranks third all-time at Nebraska in both receptions and receiving yards and is the only Husker to have 2,000 receiving yards prior to his senior season. Spielman has posted three of the top 10 receiving seasons in school history while becoming the first Husker to have three 800-yard receiving seasons.

- Spielman averages 77.2 receiving yards per game in his career, which would be the top mark in school history. The current record is 72.9 yards per game by 1972 Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers.
- Spielman enters his senior season with 2,546 career receiving yards. That total ranks third in school history and is just 201 yards shy of Stanley Morgan Jr.'s record.
- Spielman enters his senior year with 170 career catches. That total ranks third in NU history and is 19 shy of Stanley Morgan Jr.'s record.
- Spielman ranks second in school history with eight career 100-yard receiving games, two shy of Johnny Rodgers' school record.
- Spielman ranks eighth in school history with 15 career touchdown receptions (10 shy of Johnny Rodgers' school record).
- Spielman reached both 1,000 and 2,000 career receiving yards faster than any other Husker, beating Johnny Rodgers to each milestone. Spielman also is the fastest Husker to record 100 career receptions.
- Spielman owns the only two 200-yard receiving games in Husker history (200 vs. Ohio State in 2017; 209 at Wisconsin in 2018).
- Spielman has two career games with 10 or more receptions (11 vs. Ohio State in 2017 and 10 vs. Purdue in 2018). He is the only wide receiver in school history with two career double-digit reception games and just the second player overall (running back Marlon Lucky had two career games with double-digit catches).
- Spielman has had two 50-catch seasons in his first three years. Only three other Huskers have ever had two 50-catch seasons and no player in school history has ever had three 50-catch seasons.
- Spielman has caught at least one pass in each of his 33 career games. The longest reception streak in school history is 38 games by Stanley Morgan Jr.
- Spielman has also been a factor in the return game, as he has returned two punts and one kickoff for touchdowns in his career. Spielman is one of only eight players in school history to return both a punt and kickoff for a touchdown. He ranks 10th all-time at Nebraska with 835 career kickoff return yards.
- Spielman is tied for second in Nebraska history with one career kickoff return touchdown, and he is tied for seventh in Husker history with two career punt return touchdowns.
- With his impressive receiving and return totals, Spielman has accounted for 3,725 all-purpose yards. Spielman ranks 10th all-time at Nebraska in all-purpose yards and this fall, he could become only the fourth Husker to total 5,000 career all-purpose yards.
- Spielman has produced at least 1,000 all-purpose yards in each of his first three seasons, joining Ameer Abdullah as the only players in Nebraska history with 1,000 all-purpose yards as a freshman, sophomore and junior.
- Nationally, Spielman ranks second among all 2020 FBS receivers in career receiving yards (2,546) and third in career receptions (170). He also ranks third among all FBS players in career all-purpose yards (3,725) and combined return touchdowns (3).

HUSKERS RETURN OFFENSIVE PRODUCTION

Nebraska returns more than 75 percent of its 2019 production in nearly every offensive category. The Huskers return 99 percent of their passing yards from 2019, 93 percent of their total offensive yards, 89 percent of their rushing yards and 76 percent of their receiving yards.

- According to a formula created by ESPN's Bill Connelly, Nebraska returns 92 percent of its offensive production from 2019. That total ranks second nationally.
- Overall, Connelly has Nebraska ranked 17th nationally in total returning production, as the Huskers rank 83rd nationally in returning defensive production (59 percent).
- Although Nebraska doesn't return as much production on defense as it does on offense, the Huskers bring back five of their top six tacklers from 2019, including four of their five TFL leaders.

NEBRASKA BOASTS SKILLED TRIO

Nebraska returns its leading passer (Adrian Martinez), leading rusher (Dedrick Mills) and leading receiver (JD Spielman) from last season.

- Martinez has passed for more than 4,000 yards in his career, Spielman owns more than 2,000 career receiving yards and both Mills and Martinez have rushed for more than 1,000 yards in their careers.
- Entering the 2020 season, Nebraska, Memphis and Ball State are the only three FBS teams with a 4,000-yard passer, a 2,000-yard receiver and a 1,000-yard rusher. Among that trio, the Huskers are the only team with two 1,000-yard rushers.
- Nebraska also returns tight end Jack Stoll and wide receiver Wan'Dale Robinson. Stoll has started 24 consecutive games at tight end and has 54 career receptions for 568 yards and six touchdowns. Robinson was a finalist for the Paul Hornung Award as a freshman last season, when he battled injuries to total more than 400 receiving yards, 300 rushing yards and 1,000 all-purpose yards.

A TALE OF TWO LINES

Nebraska returns every offensive line starter from last season, while the Huskers must replace every defensive line starter.

- Based on available records, this season is believed to be the first time Nebraska returns its entire starting offensive line since two-platoon systems were first allowed under NCAA rules in 1964.
- Nebraska had the same starting offensive line for all 12 games in 2019. That marked the first time since 2010 and just the second time in 15 years that NU had the same starting line for an entire season.
- Nebraska's five returning starting offensive linemen have combined for 102 career starts entering the 2020 season, including three players who have all made at least 20 consecutive starts at their position.
- Brenden Jaimes started every game at left tackle the past two seasons. He has made 24 consecutive starts at the position and 33 consecutive starts overall, as he started nine games at right tackle as a true freshman in 2017.
- Trent Hixson started all 12 games at left guard in 2019.
- Cameron Jurgens started all 12 games at center as a redshirt freshman in 2019. A converted tight end, Jurgens became the first freshman (true or redshirt) to start a game at center for Nebraska.
- Boe Wilson was Nebraska's starting right guard for every game last season. He has started 21 consecutive games at the position dating back to the 2018 season.
- Matt Farniok started every game at right tackle in both 2018 and 2019, as he has started 24 consecutive games at the position.
- Jaimes, who was Nebraska's Offensive MVP in 2019, is a two-time honorable-mention All-Big Ten selection, while Wilson was an honorable-mention pick in 2018.
- While Nebraska returns a wealth of experience on the offensive line, the Huskers must replace all three defensive line starters. The last time NU had to replace its entire defensive line was in 2016.

- Ben Stille is Nebraska's most experienced defensive lineman. The senior has started 14 games at defensive end in his career and is the Huskers' active leader with 23 tackles for loss and 11.5 sacks. Stille started two games in 2019 and made a career-high 31 tackles.
- Nose guard Damion Daniels is the only other defensive lineman who has started a game in his career, as he made one start last season.

NU BOASTS VETERANS, YOUTH AT LINEBACKER

Nebraska must replace starting inside linebacker Mohamed Barry, who led the Huskers in tackles each of the past two seasons, and starting outside linebacker Alex Davis. The Huskers have an interesting mix of proven veterans and promising underclassmen to fill those roles.

- Nebraska has a total of 29 linebackers on its roster, but only five are upperclassmen, including one first-year junior college transfer.
- NU has 13 outside linebackers, but only two of those 13 are upperclassmen. The other 11 are all freshmen or sophomores.
- The Husker veterans at outside linebacker, senior JoJo Domann and junior Caleb Tannor split time as starters last season. Domann ranked fourth on the team with 52 tackles last season, and he had nine TFLs, the most of any returning Husker.
- Nebraska has 14 inside linebackers, including 11 freshmen and sophomores, one first-year junior and two seniors.
- Seniors Will Honas and Collin Miller split time as starters last season. Honas ranked second on the team with 73 tackles, while Miller tied for third with 67 tackles.

SECONDARY LOOKS STRONG AGAIN

Nebraska's secondary was stout in 2019, as the Huskers allowed only 200.8 passing yards per game, the program's fewest yards allowed since 2012. The Huskers held six opponents to fewer than 170 passing yards and three under 100 yards. Although NU must replace starting all-conference cornerback Lamar Jackson, the rest of last year's regular secondary members return.

- Dicaprio Bootle is back for his senior season after earning third-team All-Big Ten honors in 2018 and honorable-mention accolades last season. Bootle, who has started 24 consecutive games, can play either cornerback or safety. He enters his senior season with 21 career pass breakups, which is one shy of 10th place in Nebraska history.
- Cam Taylor-Britt can also play either safety or cornerback. In 10 starts as a sophomore in 2019, Taylor-Britt was a disruptive force, picking off three passes and forcing four fumbles. His four forced fumbles ranked third nationally and were the most by a Husker since 1999.
- Marquel Dismuke started all 12 games at safety last fall, and he led the secondary with a career-high 67 tackles, which tied for third on the team overall. Dismuke also broke up four passes.
- The secondary also figures to get a boost from the return of Deontai Williams, who suffered a season-ending injury in the first game of 2019. Williams played in all 12 games in his first season at Nebraska in 2018, when he had a knack for finding the ball, leading the Huskers in interceptions (2), forced fumbles (2) and fumble recoveries (1).

NU RANKS AMONG ATTENDANCE LEADERS

Nebraska averaged 89,348 fans over seven home games in 2020 to rank ninth nationally in average attendance. Nebraska has ranked in the top 11 nationally in attendance each of the past seven seasons, in the top 15 every season since 2006 and in the top 20 every year this century.

RECORD SELLOUT STREAK CONTINUES

Nebraska has sold out every game at Memorial Stadium since Nov. 3, 1962, an NCAA-record streak of 375 consecutive sellouts, 246 more than second-place Oklahoma (129). NU is 313-62 (.835) during the streak and overall attendance during the streak is more than 27 million fans.

HUSKERS OWN BIG HOME-FIELD ADVANTAGE

NU has rewarded the loyalty of its fans with great success at Memorial Stadium, winning at least six home games in 24 of the past 33 seasons.

- Since 1970, Nebraska has had three home winning streaks of 20 or more games and has posted 41 perfect home seasons.
- The Huskers are 547-159-20 all-time in Lincoln (.767 in 130 years) and 422-136-13 (.750 in 96 years) in Memorial Stadium (since 1923).

Scott Frost's rapid rise up the coaching ranks culminated with the former Husker returning to his alma mater in December of 2017. Frost enters his third season as Nebraska's head coach in 2020 and his fifth season overall as a head coach.

It took Frost little more than a decade to rise from a first-year FCS assistant to head coach of the seventh-winningest program in college football history. It also took Frost just two years to post his first undefeated season as a head coach, as Frost guided UCF to the greatest two-year turnaround in NCAA history. He inherited an 0-12 team, made a bowl game in his first season and then led the Knights to a 13-0 record in

In his second season in 2019, Nebraska improved its win total with one of the youngest teams in the country, as nearly 70 percent of the roster was underclassmen, and the Huskers had more freshmen on their roster than any team in the country. The Huskers went 5-7, with five of those losses coming to ranked teams, including four losses to teams that finished in the top 15 of the final Associated Press poll. Four of the Huskers' seven losses were by a combined 17 points, including two last-second losses.

Frost went 19-7 in two seasons at UCF, helping turn an 0-12 team into a 13-0 squad in just two years. In Frost's first season, he took the Knights to a bowl game and finished with a 6-7 record. The turnaround was historic, as Frost became the only first-year coach in FBS history to make a bowl game with a team that was winless the previous season.

UCF led the nation with a six-win improvement in 2016 and exceeded that mark in 2017 with a win over No. 7 Auburn in the Peach Bowl to complete a 13-0 season as the nation's only undefeated team. The Knights put together the first undefeated regular season in UCF and AAC history in 2017, posted the longest winning streak in school history (13 games), achieved the highest in-season ranking in program history (10th), highest final ranking (6th) and set an AAC record with 16 all-conference selections.

UCF was led by its high-powered offense and improved defense under Frost. The Knights led the nation in scoring at 48.2 points per game and were the only FBS team to score at least 30 points in every game. Defensively, UCF improved its scoring defense by 65 spots in Frost's two seasons.

In addition to being the unanimous choice as the 2017 AAC Coach of the Year, Frost was honored as the national coach of the year by the Associated Press, American Football Coaches Association, the Touchdown Club of Columbus, the Lombardi Award and FCA in addition to winning the Home Depot, Paul "Bear" Bryant and Eddie Robinson coach-of-the-year awards. He was also a semifinalist for the George Munger Coach of the Year Award in each of his two seasons at UCF, making Frost one of three coaches to be a semifinalist for the award in both 2016 and 2017.

ASSISTANT COACHING CAREER

OREGON: Frost took his first head coaching job at UCF after spending seven seasons as an offensive assistant at Oregon from 2009 to 2015, including serving as the Ducks' offensive coordinator in his final three seasons. Frost helped Oregon post a 79-14 record in his seven seasons, during which time the Ducks won four conference titles and twice played for the national championship.

Oregon never ranked lower than eighth nationally in scoring offense during Frost's seven seasons on staff, and the Ducks led the nation in scoring in 2010. Frost was promoted to offensive coordinator in 2013, and Oregon ranked in the top five nationally in both scoring and total offense each of his three seasons calling plays. The Ducks scored 681 points in 2014, the second-highest total in NCAA history. Oregon made it to the College Football Playoff Championship Game that year, when Frost was one of five finalists for the Broyles Award, presented annually to the nation's top assistant. Frost's quarterback, Marcus Mariota, won the Heisman Trophy and was the No. 2 overall pick in the 2015 NFL Draft.

In addition to his impressive success as a head coach - Frost was the consensus national coach of the year in 2017 - Frost was successful at every stop along his journey to becoming a head coach. His teams posted a 103-18 record in his nine seasons as an assistant coach, with Frost coordinating both a top-10 defense and multiple top-10 offenses. Frost served as defensive coordinator for an FCS semifinalist, was Oregon's offensive coordinator in the inaugural College Football Playoff Championship Game and called the plays for Heisman Trophy winner Marcus Mariota.

The 45-year old Frost is a proven winner familiar with the Nebraska culture and tradition. He was a part of two national championship teams as a Husker player, coached in two national championship games as an assistant at Oregon and led UCF to a 13-0 record in 2017, when the Knights were the nation's only undefeated team.

Frost has been a winner throughout his coaching career, winning seven conference championships in his 13 seasons as a full-time coach. Frost's teams have won 131 games in that span, averaging more than 10 wins per season. In addition to coaching in two national championship games, Frost has coached in five other New Year's Six bowl games in the last decade. His winning reputation dates back to his playing days, when he helped Nebraska to a 36-2 record in his three-year career, including a 24-2 record in two seasons as the Huskers' starting quarterback.

Frost has laid the foundation for rebuilding Nebraska's program in his first two seasons in Lincoln. Nebraska showed tremendous improvement throughout Frost's first season in Lincoln. Nebraska won four of its final six games and improved by nearly 28 points per game in the second half of the season compared to the first half. The Huskers finished with a 4-8 record, but Nebraska faced eight opponents who were ranked during the 2018 season. Five of Nebraska's losses were by five or fewer points, with the Huskers' final three losses coming in a three-point overtime loss at Northwestern, which finished with a No. 21 ranking, a five-point setback at No. 3 Ohio State and a three-point loss at No. 25 Iowa as time expired.

Frost also lived up to his reputation as one of the best offensive play-callers in the country in 2018. Frost inherited an offensive unit that ranked 87th nationally in total offense in 2017. Led by true freshman quarterback Adrian Martinez, Nebraska ranked 25th nationally in total offense, the program's first top-25 finish in the category since 2008.

PERSONAL

- Bachelor's Degree: Nebraska (Finance, 1997)
- Wife: Ashley
- Children: Ryan James [RJ] (son); Alli (daughter)

NORTHERN IOWA: Frost's first full-time coaching job came in the FCS ranks at Northern Iowa, where he spent two seasons on the Panthers' defensive staff. He coached the Panther linebackers in 2007 and helped UNI to the No. 1 seed in the FCS playoffs and a quarterfinals appearance. Frost was promoted to co-defensive coordinator the next season, when UNI ranked ninth nationally in scoring defense and advanced to the FCS Semifinals. The Panthers finished with a 24-4 record in Frost's two seasons, winning two Missouri Valley Conference titles and earning a No. 4 final ranking both years.

KANSAS STATE: Frost began his coaching career as a defensive graduate assistant at Kansas State in 2006, helping the Wildcats to a bowl game

NEBRASKA: Frost's first coaching experience came during a brief stint on Nebraska's staff as a defensive graduate assistant in 2002, coaching the Huskers in the Independence Bowl.

PLAYING CAREER (STANFORD, NEBRASKA & NFL)

Frost spent two seasons at Stanford - where he was a two-way starter at safety and quarterback - before returning home to Nebraska for the Huskers' 1995 national championship season. He took over as NU's starting quarterback the next season and was the 1996 Big 12 Offensive Newcomer of the Year. In 1997, he was a Johnny Unitas Award finalist and an Academic All-American as Nebraska went 13-0 and captured the program's fifth national title. Frost was then selected in the third round of the 1998 NFL Draft and played six seasons as an NFL safety

HISTORY MAKER

In his first stop as a head coach, Scott Frost inherited a winless UCF team before he led the Knights to the greatest two-year turnaround in NCAA history. After making a bowl game in Frost's first season, UCF went 13-0 the next year going from winless to undefeated in only two years. In addition to leading UCF to a 13-0 record in 2017, Frost also went 13-0 his senior year at Nebraska in 1997. He was the first person in NCAA history to post a 13-0 record as both a player and head coach, an exclusive group whose only other member is Dabo Swinney.

have earned All-Big Ten accolades under Chinander. Before his arrival, only eight Blackshirts were All-Big Ten honorees in the previous three seasons.

Chinander has implemented an aggressive defense at Nebraska, one that has resulted in more sacks, takeaways and defensive touchdowns. In his first season, Chinander oversaw a Husker defense that showed significant improvement. Nebraska allowed two fewer touchdowns per game over the final six games of 2018 compared to the first six games. The Huskers held two of their final five opponents to single digits, including a 9-6 victory over Michigan State, where the defense led Nebraska to its first victory without scoring a touchdown since 1937. The 2018 season marked the first time in six years that the Huskers had held more than one opponent to fewer than 10 points.

The Blackshirts improved by 26 spots in the national scoring defense rankings from the unit Chinander inherited, and NU saw dramatic improvements in its pass defense, sack totals and takeaways. The Huskers improved their pass efficiency defense by 61 spots in 2018, ranking 34th nationally in the category. Nebraska broke up 58 passes, the ninth-highest total in program history and the most by a Husker squad in nearly a decade. The Blackshirts also totaled 25 sacks in 2018, 11 more than they had in 2017. In the takeaway department, Nebraska forced 20 turnovers, the program's highest total in four seasons.

In 2019, six Huskers earned All-Big Ten accolades, Nebraska's highest total since 2011. The Huskers allowed nearly 50 fewer yards per game and more than three fewer points per game than they did in 2018, moving up 30 spots in the total defense rankings and 22 spots in scoring defense. Nebraska also improved by 52 spots in first down defense, ranking 32nd nationally in that category in 2019.

Chinander's aggressive approach also resulted in the Huskers forcing their most turnovers (21) in five seasons, ranking in the top 35 nationally in takeaways and in the top 15 with three defensive touchdowns. Nebraska was one of only 25 teams nationally with double-digit interceptions and fumble recoveries in 2019.

BEFORE NEBRASKA

UCF: Chinander led a dramatic defensive turnaround in his two seasons at UCF. He inherited a Knight defense that had allowed 37.7 points per game in 2015 and two years later, UCF lowered that average to 25.3 points per game. Chinander also helped UCF improve its national ranking in scoring defense by 65 spots in his two seasons.

The Knights forced 58 turnovers in 26 games under Chinander, ranking second nationally in takeaways in 2017 and 18th in 2016. The 58 combined takeaways ranked third nationally. UCF was one of only six teams to force 25 turnovers in both 2017 and 2018 and one of just eight teams to rank in the top 20 nationally in takeaways in both seasons.

Chinander's defense played a major role in the first perfect season (13-0) in school and American Athletic Conference history in 2017. UCF led the AAC in defensive touchdowns and ranked third in scoring defense and pass efficiency defense.

Individually, six Knights earned all-conference accolades, including a league-high four first-team honorees. Linebacker Shaquem Griffin was the only player in the conference to be a unanimous All-AAC selection, and cornerback Mike Hughes earned second-team All-America. Hughes (first round), the highest defensive draft pick in UCF history, and Griffin (fifth round) were both selected in the 2018 NFL Draft.

In Chinander's first season in Orlando, the defense was the key to UCF leading the nation with a six-win improvement. The Knights ranked in the top 10 nationally in four defensive categories and in the top 25 in nine categories. UCF was second nationally in red zone defense, third in defensive touchdowns, sixth in third-down defense, ninth in tackles for loss, 12th in pass efficiency defense, 17th in sacks and 18th in takeaways. Griffin was the 2016 American Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year after ranking ninth nationally in tackles for loss (20.0) and 11th in sacks (11.5). He was also a first-team all-conference selection as a total of four Knights earned All-American Athletic Conference accolades.

OREGON: Before becoming Frost's defensive coordinator, Chinander coached the outside linebackers at Oregon in 2014 and 2015, when Frost was the Ducks' offensive coordinator. Chinander's linebackers helped Oregon play in the inaugural College Football Playoff National Championship Game in 2014.

The Ducks ranked second in the Pac-12 and in the top 30 nationally in scoring defense in 2014 and were third nationally with 34 takeaways. In 2015, Oregon ranked ninth nationally in sacks and pass efficiency defense.

Chinander served as a defensive graduate assistant at Oregon in 2011 and 2012, when the Ducks ranked in the top 25 nationally in scoring defense. Chinander also spent the 2010 season in Eugene as an intern.

In Chinander's five total seasons on the Duck staff, Oregon posted a 58-10 record, won three conference titles and twice played for the national championship.

PHILADELPHIA EAGLES: In between his two stints at Oregon, Chinander gained NFL experience by serving as the assistant defensive line coach with the Philadelphia Eagles in 2013. With the Eagles, Chinander assisted defensive line coach Jerry Azzinaro and helped with game and practice plans, coordinating the scout teams and evaluating current and future personnel. The Eagles won the NFC East that season with a 10-6 record.

NORTHERN IOWA: Chinander served as an offensive assistant at Northern Iowa, coaching the tight ends for six seasons from 2004 to 2009, including two seasons when Frost was on the Panther staff (2007 and 2008). Chinander also assisted with the defensive and specialist scout teams. He made a huge impact in the Panthers' recruiting, with his coaching and recruiting helping UNI win three conference titles and make three appearances in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) playoffs, including a runner-up finish in 2005 and a semifinal appearance in 2008.

ELLSWORTH CC: Chinander's first job was as the offensive and defensive line coach for Ellsworth Community College in Iowa Falls, Iowa, where he also coordinated the strength and conditioning programs for football and men's and women's basketball. The Panthers finished second in the region and three of his players garnered first-team all-region accolades.

PLAYING CAREER (IOWA)

Chinander was a walk-on offensive lineman at Iowa from 1998 to 2002. As a senior, Iowa shared the Big Ten title and played in the Orange Bowl. He received the Hawkeyes' Offensive Team Leader Award that season.

Matt Lubick begins his first season as Nebraska's offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach in 2020. Lubick previously coached with Scott Frost for three seasons at Oregon from 2013 to 2015, succeeding Frost as the Ducks' offensive coordinator.

A 25-year coaching veteran, Lubick comes to Nebraska with 16 years of Power Five Conference coaching experience, including stints in the ACC, Big Ten, Pac-12 and SEC. Lubick has been the offensive coordinator at Pac-12 powerhouses Oregon (2016) and Washington (2017-18), and he has coached the wide receiver position for a total of 17 years. In 2012, Lubick was named the nation's top receivers coach and was a finalist for national assistant coach of the year at Duke.

The son of longtime Colorado State head coach Sonny Lubick, Matt spent six successful seasons in the Pac-12 Conference before arriving in Lincoln. In those six seasons, Lubick was a part of two conference championship teams, five teams that finished the year ranked in the top 20 and four 10-win teams. In the three seasons Frost and Lubick were on the same Oregon staff from 2013 to 2015, the Ducks ranked in the top five nationally in both scoring and total offense each year and advanced to the 2014 College Football Playoff National Championship Game.

As a wide receivers coach, Lubick helped Bralon Addison rank 17th nationally in receiving touchdowns (10) in 2015. A year earlier, Byron Marshall had 1,004 receiving yards. The play of Lubick's wide receivers helped Oregon quarterbacks lead the nation in passing efficiency in both 2014 and 2015. In Lubick's first season on the Ducks staff in 2013, Josh Huff was 10th nationally with 12 touchdown receptions and 23rd in the country with 1,140 receiving yards. Huff set Oregon records that season in both categories.

DUKE: Lubick spent three seasons as the wide receivers coach at Duke from 2010 to 2012, helping the Blue Devils to a bowl game in his final season, a first for the program since 1994. In 2012, Football Scoop named Lubick as its national receivers coach of the year. He was also one of three finalists for the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) National Coach of the Year award. That season, Jamison Crowder and Conner Vernon combined for 161 receptions and 2,148 receiving yards, setting an ACC record for most combined receptions by two teammates in conference history and becoming just the second tandem in ACC history to each have 1,000 receiving yards in the same season. Vernon earned All-ACC accolades each of his three seasons under Lubick while ending his career as the ACC's all-time leader in receptions (283) and receiving yards (3,749).

ARIZONA STATE: Lubick also boasts experience as a defensive backs coach, coaching the safeties for three seasons at Arizona State from 2007 to 2009. The Sun Devils ranked in the top 35 nationally in pass efficiency defense in each of Lubick's three seasons, including 15th in 2007 and 20th in 2009. ASU also ranked in the top 30 nationally in passing defense both seasons. As recruiting coordinator, Lubick oversaw one top-20 recruiting class and two top-30 classes in his three seasons, while personally recruiting Vontaze Burfict, the highest-rated recruit in program history. Rivals named Lubick one of the top 10 recruiters in the then-Pac-10 Conference in each of his three years at ASU.

OLE MISS: Lubick's first time coaching wide receivers at a Power Five school came at Ole Miss in 2005 and 2006, where he was a member of Ed Orgeron's staff.

COLORADO STATE: Lubick spent four seasons on his father's Colorado State staff, coaching wide receivers from 2001 to 2004. Lubick helped the Rams to the 2002 Mountain West championship and three bowl games in his four seasons. Lubick coached David Anderson, who ended his career as the most prolific receiver in Colorado State history. In 2003, Anderson set the then-school record with 1,293 receiving yards, and he ranked 12th nationally with an average of 99.5 receiving yards per game.

Lubick also began his coaching career at Colorado State in 1995, when he was a student assistant and academic supervisor on his father's staff while finishing his undergraduate work.

OREGON STATE: Lubick coached Oregon State's defensive backs for two seasons from 1999 to 2000. He was a member of Dennis Erickson's staff in Corvallis, and Lubick would reunite with Erickson nearly a decade later at Arizona State. Lubick helped the Beavers to an 11-1 season in 2000, when OSU won the Pac-10 title and ended the year with a No. 4 ranking.

SAN JOSE STATE, CAL STATE NORTHRIDGE: Lubick began his full-time coaching career in California. He spent two seasons as the wide receivers coach at San Jose State in 1997 and 1998, following one year as the defensive backs coach at Cal State Northridge in 1996.

PLAYING CAREER (WESTERN MONTANA)

Lubick was a four-year starting defensive back at Western Montana, an NAIA school located in Dillon, Montana. As a senior in 1994, Lubick earned all-conference and All-America honors.

RUN GAME COORDINATOR/OFFENSIVE LINE • 3RD SEASON

OREGON (2010-12)

- Graduate Assistant (2011-12)
- Intern (2010)

A former Husker offensive lineman, Greg Austin is in his third season at his alma mater in 2020. In addition to coaching the offensive line, Austin was promoted to run game coordinator for the Husker offense. Austin owns 11 seasons of experience coaching in the collegiate and NFL ranks. He has spent eight of those 11 seasons with fellow Husker alum Scott Frost, including serving as Frost's offensive line coach for the fifth straight season.

Austin has experienced much success in his coaching career. In his seven seasons in the collegiate ranks, Austin has been a part of three conference championship teams and four squads that finished with a top-10 national ranking. Austin also boasts NFL experience, coaching the Philadelphia Eagles' offensive line for three seasons, helping the Eagles win the 2013 NFC East Division title. Austin is a proven developer of talent, as he has coached six all-conference offensive linemen the past three seasons at Nebraska and UCF, and with the Eagles, his offensive linemen combined for six Pro Bowl appearances in three seasons.

The play of Austin's lines have led to tremendous offensive success at every stop. In seven seasons at the collegiate level, Austin's teams have finished in the top 25 nationally in total offense five times, and four times his teams have finished in the top 10 nationally in both scoring and total offense. Austin also helped the Eagles rank among the NFL's top five teams in total offense in two of his three seasons in Philadelphia.

Austin made great progress with the Husker offensive line in his first season in 2018. The line paved the way for Nebraska to rank as the nation's fifth-most improved offense, including the No. 3 most improved rushing attack. Behind the offensive line, Nebraska totaled 2,500 passing and 2,500 rushing yards in the same season for just the fourth time in school history, including having both a 1,000-yard rusher and receiver for the first time ever. The unit was key to Nebraska setting a school record with a streak of seven consecutive games gaining at least 450 yards and setting Husker records for the most points (54) and total yards (659, broken in 2019) in a Big Ten Conference game. The line protected true freshman quarterback Adrian Martinez and helped him produce one of the top statistical seasons by a freshman quarterback in NCAA history, while also paving the way for four different Huskers to have a 100-yard rushing game, including Devine Ozigbo, who became Nebraska's first 1,000-yard rusher in four seasons. Austin helped a pair of underclassmen - sophomores Brenden Jaimes and Boe Wilson - earn All-Big Ten honors in 2018.

In 2019, Austin helped develop an offensive line that featured no seniors in the playing rotation. The unit helped Nebraska average more than 200 yards passing and rushing per game, and for the second straight year the Huskers posted their most points (54) and yards (690) in a Big Ten Conference game. Against Illinois, Nebraska produced 300 yards rushing and 300 yards passing, just the second time in program history the Huskers had accomplished that feat. The line also helped NU set a school record with an 87 percent completion rate against Indiana. Individually, Cameron Jurgens became the first Husker freshman to ever start at center, and Jaimes was recognized as an All-Big Ten performer for the second straight season.

BEFORE NEBRASKA

UCF: Austin's offensive line helped pave the way for the Knights' remarkable two-year offensive turnaround. UCF was the only FBS team to score 30 points in every game in 2017. UCF averaged a nation-leading 48.2 points per game in 2017, just two seasons after UCF scored the third-fewest points in the country in 2015, averaging just 13.9 points per game.

UCF won the American Athletic Conference title in 2017, putting together the first perfect regular season in school and AAC history en route to a 13-0 record and No. 6 final ranking. The Knights not only led the country in scoring but ranked fifth in total offense, second in passing efficiency and 10th in passing. Austin's offensive line allowed only 13 sacks to rank fifth nationally, and his unit helped the Knights average 5.2 yards per carry and score 39 rushing touchdowns, which ranked ninth nationally. In a testament to his line's versatility, UCF ranked in the top 25 nationally in both yards per pass and yards per rush in 2017. Both offensive tackles and UCF's center were recognized as all-conference performers, while quarterback McKenzie Milton was the AAC Offensive Player of the Year.

Austin's first year at UCF in 2016 marked his first full-time coaching job at the collegiate level. He helped the Knights become the nation's most improved team in 2016, as UCF won six games following a winless season in 2015. Austin's line helped the offense make tremendous strides in his first season, as the Knights moved up 59 spots in the scoring offense national ranking.

PHILADELPHIA EAGLES: Before earning his first full-time coaching role in the collegiate ranks, Austin spent three seasons as the assistant offensive line coach for the Philadelphia Eagles from 2013 to 2015. The Eagles ranked in the top five in the NFL in total offense in both 2013 and 2014. Philadelphia won the NFC East in 2013, when LeSean McCoy led the NFL in rushing. Offensive tackle Jason Peters earned a Pro Bowl selection in each of Austin's three seasons in Philadelphia, while guard Evan Mathis was a Pro Bowler in 2013 and 2014 and center Jason Kelce was a 2014 Pro Bowl selection.

OREGON: Austin began his coaching career at Oregon, where he coached with Frost for three seasons, serving as an intern in 2010 and as the Ducks' offensive graduate assistant in 2011 and 2012. Oregon posted a 36-4 record and finished in the top five in each of Austin's three seasons on staff, winning two conference titles and playing in the 2010 national championship game, when the Ducks led the country in scoring and total offense. Overall, Oregon ranked in the top 10 nationally in both scoring and total offense in each of Austin's three seasons in Eugene.

PLAYING CAREER (NEBRASKA)

As a player at Nebraska, Austin battled injuries throughout his career. He made 18 career starts at offensive guard and was an honorable-mention All-Big 12 pick as a senior in 2006, when the Huskers played in the Big 12 Championship Game and the Cotton Bowl. Austin was also a two-time academic All-Big 12 selection in the classroom.

Veteran coach Sean Beckton is in his third season as Nebraska's tight ends coach in 2020. He is in his 25th season overall, having spent the first 22 years of his career coaching in the high school, collegiate and professional ranks in Florida.

Beckton came to Lincoln after spending 19 seasons at UCF, his alma mater, including serving as the Knights' tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator under Scott Frost in 2016 and 2017. Beckton was one of the most important figures in the history of UCF football before deciding to follow Frost to Lincoln.

As a coach, Beckton helped the Knights win four of the six conference championships in UCF history and the program's only two New Year's Six bowl wins. Beckton also played a large role in the only unbeaten season in UCF history in 2017, when the Knights went 13-0 to complete the greatest two-year turnaround in NCAA history. As a player, Beckton concluded his career as UCF's all-time leader in receptions and receiving yards, and he and a teammate were the first two football players inducted into the UCF Athletics Hall of Fame.

In 2018, Beckton inherited a tight end unit that featured only freshmen and sophomores, including just one player who had ever played in a college game. Nebraska's tight ends combined for 28 catches, 374 receiving yards and three touchdowns in 2018. Jack Stoll led the way with 21 catches for 245 yards and three touchdowns, setting career highs in all three categories, while redshirt freshman Austin Allen led Nebraska with an average of 27.0 yards per reception and classmate Kurt Rafdal had four receptions for 67 yards, averaging 16.8 yards per catch. In addition to contributing to a Nebraska passing attack that averaged nearly 250 passing yards per game, the tight ends also added perimeter blocking for a Husker rushing attack that was the nation's third-most improved unit, gained more than 2,500 yards and had a 1,000-yard rusher for the first time in four seasons.

In 2019, Beckton's tight ends contributed to a balanced Husker offense that averaged more than 200 passing and rushing yards per game. Stoll, a preseason member of the Mackey Award (nation's top tight end) watch list, set a career high with 25 receptions and led the Husker tight ends with 234 receiving yards. Allen also posted career highs in both receptions and receiving yards.

BEFORE NEBRASKA

UCF: Beckton spent a total of 19 seasons at his alma mater, where he was a member of the coaching staff for four of the Knights' first five conference titles in program history, including three American Athletic Conference championships his final five seasons. In his final season at UCF in 2017, Beckton helped the Knights post the first perfect season in program history and the first undefeated season in AAC history. UCF was the only FBS team to go undefeated in 2017, and the Knights finished with a No. 6 ranking after defeating No. 7 Auburn in the Peach Bowl.

Beckton contributed in a variety of ways to Frost's success in his two seasons at UCF. Beckton's tight ends helped UCF post the nation's most improved offense in 2017, when the Knights led the nation in scoring and ranked fifth nationally in total offense. As UCF's recruiting coordinator, he helped Frost land several of the Knights' standout players. Sophomore quarterback McKenzie Milton was the 2017 American Athletic Conference Offensive Player of the Year and each of the Knights' three leading rushers and four of the top six receivers were either freshmen or sophomores.

As the Knights' tight ends coach, Beckton's group recorded 87 catches for 1,345 yards and seven touchdowns the his last two seasons at UCF. In 2017, the unit totaled 49 receptions for 818 yards and caught five touchdown passes while averaging 16.7 yards per reception. In 2016, UCF's tight ends combined for 38 catches, 527 receiving yards and a pair of touchdown catches.

Individually, Jordan Akins posted his best two seasons under Beckton's coaching. Akins set career highs with 32 receptions for 515 yards and four touchdowns as a senior in 2017, when he was a first-team all-conference selection and was named to the John Mackey Award preseason watch list. In 2016, Akins caught 23 passes for 347 yards. Following his senior season, Akins was selected in the third round of the 2018 NFL Draft.

Before Frost's arrival, Beckton coached the UCF wide receivers from 2012 to 2015, his second stint in that role. Working with a young unit in 2015, Tre'Quan Smith finished with 52 catches for 724 yards, both of which set UCF freshman records. The 2015 American Athletic Conference Rookie of the Year, Smith went on to be a first-team All-AAC selection and Biletnikoff Award nominee in 2017. In 2014, four Knights totaled 500 receiving yards for the first time in program history, led by Breshad Perriman's 1,044 yards. Perriman went on to be a first-round pick in the 2015 NFL Draft. In 2013, three wideouts had at least 500 receiving yards to help UCF to a 12-1 record, an AAC title and a Fiesta Bowl win over Baylor. In Beckton's first year coaching the wide receivers in 2012, the Knights totaled more than 3,100 receiving yards and 28 receiving touchdowns.

Beckton coached the wide receivers after leading the UCF defensive backs from 2009 to 2011. The Knights ranked in the top 25 nationally in passing defense in 2011 when cornerback Josh Robinson was a first-team all-conference selection before being selected in the third round of the 2011 NFL Draft. In 2010, UCF won 11 games, a Conference USA title and produced the program's first bowl win and the school's first national ranking. Two of Beckton's defensive backs were first-team all-conference selections that season. In 2009, he guided Robinson to freshman All-America honors and helped converted quarterback Michael Greco earn an NFL free agent contract after just one year as a safety.

Beckton also coached the wide receivers at his alma mater for eight seasons from 1996 to 2003 in his first full-time collegiate coaching position. During that time he coached a slew of top wideouts, including three who went on to NFL careers. His most high-profile pupil was Brandon Marshall, who caught 74 passes for 1,195 yards in 2005 before being selected in the fourth round of the 2006 NFL Draft. Marshall played 13 seasons in the NFL and was a six-time Pro Bowler who amassed 970 catches and 12,351 receiving yards. Beckton also received his start in the coaching profession as an offensive graduate assistant at UCF in 1992 and 1993.

ORLANDO PREDATORS (AFL): In addition to his 19 total seasons at UCF, Beckton coached the wide receivers for the Orlando Predators of the American Football League in 2008, helping the team to a 9-7 record and a playoff berth.

MAINLAND (FLA.) HIGH SCHOOL: Beckton also boasts experience in the prep ranks, as he was an assistant coach for Mainland (Fla.) High School from 1993 to 1996, where he also taught history. He helped Mainland to a pair of state championships and also worked with the basketball team, where he coached future NBA star Vince Carter.

PLAYING CAREER (UCF)

Originally from Daytona Beach, Fla., Beckton was a star wide receiver at UCF from 1987 to 1990. He ended his career as the program's all-time leader with 196 receptions and 2,493 receiving yards and was one of the first two football players to be enshrined in the UCF Athletics Hall of Fame. Against Texas Southern as a senior, Beckton was responsible for a touchdown four different ways (passing, rushing, receiving and punt return).

he has coached four different defenders to all-conference accolades in his last two collegiate seasons.

NEW YORK GIANTS (2019)

Dawson spent the 2019 season coaching the outside linebackers for the New York Giants. Dawson helped Markus Golden have a career year in his fifth year in the league, as Golden totaled a career-high 68 tackles. Golden also had 10.0 sacks – the second-highest total of his career – and scored the first defensive touchdown of his career. Dawson also helped Oshane Ximines record 4.5 sacks in his rookie season.

In Dawson's first stint at Nebraska in 2018, his defensive line featured a pair of All-Big Ten performers and helped key a Blackshirts unit that moved up 27 spots in the national scoring defense rankings from the 2017 season. The line helped Nebraska total 25 sacks, 11 more than the Huskers recorded the previous season, and played a role in the Huskers ranking 34th nationally in pass efficiency defense.

In addition to the pressure created by the defensive line, the unit also helped the Huskers post the ninth-most pass breakups in school history (58) and Mick Stoltenberg and Peyton Newell each intercepted a pass, the first interceptions by a Nebraska defensive lineman in five years. Carlos Davis led the line with five breakups, the most by a Husker defensive lineman since Ndamukong Suh had nine in 2009, when he was the Associated Press College Football Player of the Year. Carlos and his twin brother Khalil were both all-conference performers in 2018, as Khalil led the defensive line with 41 tackles, eight tackles for loss and 3.0 sacks after producing 20 sacks, six TFLs and 2.0 sacks in his first two seasons combined.

Mike Dawson rejoined the Nebraska staff in 2020 as outside linebackers coach after serving as the Huskers' defensive line coach in 2018. Dawson, who spent the 2019 season as the outside linebackers coach for the New York Giants, is in his fourth season overall as a member of Scott Frost's coaching staff.

A coaching veteran in his 21st season, Dawson has coached at the FCS, FBS and professional levels. He has spent 17 seasons in the collegiate ranks, including 11 years at the FBS level and six seasons at a Power Five school. Dawson also boasts four years of coaching experience in the National Football League. He has coached both defensive linemen and outside linebackers in college and the NFL.

Dawson has helped build impressive defenses throughout his career, including working with a UCF squad that ranked second nationally in takeaways in 2017 and a Philadelphia Eagles team that ranked second in the NFL in sacks in 2014. Individually, Dawson tutored two All-Big Ten defensive linemen in his first season at Nebraska in 2018, and

UCF: Dawson spent two seasons on Frost's staff at UCF in 2016 and 2017, helping defensive coordinator Erik Chinander turn around the Knights' defense. UCF improved by more than 12 points per game in scoring defense during Dawson's tenure, and the defense helped out the offense by forcing 58 turnovers and scoring nine defensive touchdowns in his two seasons. UCF ranked third nationally in turnovers forced in Dawson's two seasons at the school, and his defensive line played a key role in that area by helping the Knights recover 23 fumbles.

In 2017, Dawson's defensive line helped UCF post the first perfect season in program history and in the history of the American Athletic Conference when UCF finished 13-0 as the nation's only undefeated team. The Knights ranked third in the league in scoring defense and fourth in rushing defense. Two of his three starting defensive linemen earned all-conference accolades, including Jamiyus Pittman, a member of the Outland Trophy watch list who was an All-AAC performer for the second straight season.

In Dawson's first season at UCF in 2016, the Knights ranked in the top 10 nationally in four defensive categories and in the top 25 in nine categories. Dawson's defensive line played a major role in UCF ranking second nationally in red zone defense, sixth in third-down defense, ninth in tackles for loss, 17th in sacks, 18th in turnovers forced and 24th in fumbles recovered. The defense was the key to UCF leading the nation with a six-win improvement from the 2015 to 2016 season.

PHILADELPHIA EAGLES: Dawson was hired by Frost at UCF after spending three seasons on Chip Kelly's Philadelphia Eagles staff. Dawson served as a defensive quality control coach in 2013, when the Eagles won the NFC East and ranked third in the NFL with 31 takeaways. He spent the next two seasons as an assistant defensive line coach. In 2014, Dawson helped Philadelphia rank second in the NFL in sacks (49) and fifth in opponent yards per carry (3.7).

BOSTON COLLEGE: Dawson was Boston College's special teams coach for three seasons from 2009 to 2011. In his first year, kicker Steve Aponavicius set school records for career points, extra points made and field-goal percentage. In his second season with the Eagles, kicker Nate Freese was 22-of-25 on field goals, and he went on to break Aponavicius' career scoring record. Dawson also coached punter Ryan Quigley, who went on to play six seasons in the NFL.

AKRON: In his first full-time job at the FBS level, Dawson coached the Akron linebackers for three seasons from 2006 to 2008. With the Zips he tutored all-conference linebacker Brion Stokes, who ended his career with 38.5 tackles for loss, the second-most in school history.

NEW HAMPSHIRE: Dawson came to Akron following a six-year stint at New Hampshire from 2000 to 2005. He held three different positions with the Wildcats, coaching the linebackers in 2000 and 2002-03, the offensive line in 2001 and serving as defensive coordinator in 2004 and 2005. In his two seasons leading the defense, New Hampshire posted a 21-5 record and reached the 2005 FCS quarterfinals, when the Wildcats led the country with 45 takeaways.

PITTSBURGH, MAINE AND UMASS-LOWELL: Dawson's first coaching stint in the FBS rank came as a graduate assistant at Pittsburgh in 1998. Dawson began his coaching career as the defensive line coach in the spring of 1998 for UMass-Lowell before he joined Maine as a defensive assistant for the 1998 season.

PLAYING CAREER (UMASS)

Dawson was a three-year starter at linebacker and defensive end from 1995 to 1997 at UMass-Amherst. He served as team captain as a senior in 1997.

Travis Fisher is in his third season on the Husker sideline in 2020, where he coaches the defensive backs. Fisher entered the coaching ranks following a nine-year NFL career, and he is in the seventh season of his coaching career, the last five of which have been as a member of Scott Frost's staff.

Fisher has been able to transfer his success and experience as a player into coaching. Fisher's defensive backs have consistently held opposing passing attacks in check while showing a knack for interceptions. After inheriting a Husker secondary that allowed more than 275 passing yards per game in 2017, Fisher helped Nebraska hold five opponents to fewer than 200 passing yards in 2018 and six opponents to fewer than 165 passing yards in 2019. The Huskers ranked 34th nationally in pass efficiency defense in 2018, a 61-spot improvement from the unit Fisher inherited, and Nebraska improved on that ranking by finishing with the No. 33 pass efficiency defense in 2019. Fisher led UCF to a No. 12 ranking in pass efficiency defense in 2016, and the Knights ranked second nationally with 20 interceptions in 2017.

Fisher has excelled developing individual talent. Nine of Fisher's defensive backs have signed NFL contracts in the last three years alone. In just one year, Fisher turned junior college transfer Mike Hughes into an All-American and first-round NFL Draft pick. Hughes was selected with the 30th overall pick in the 2018 NFL Draft, surpassing Fisher as the highest-drafted defensive player in UCF history. Fisher was selected in the second round of the 2002 NFL Draft following three seasons as a Knight.

In addition to developing players, Fisher has impressed in his role of bringing talent to Lincoln as one of Nebraska's top recruiters. He helped land six Florida prospects in the Huskers' 2020 freshman class, four of whom were four-star recruits.

Fisher made an instant impact on the Husker secondary in his first season in 2018, when Nebraska produced impressive results as a team and individually. NU ranked 34th nationally in pass efficiency defense in 2018, a 61-spot improvement from 2017, when the Huskers ranked 95th in that category. Dicaprio Bootle shined under Fisher's guidance in 2018, earning All-Big Ten accolades. Bootle set career highs in every category and led the Big Ten and ranked ninth nationally with 15 pass breakups, the second-highest total in school history. At the opposite corner spot, Lamar Jackson posted his best season as a Husker, intercepting the first two passes of his career, breaking up a career-high seven passes and recording the first tackle for loss and forced fumble of his career. Jackson's interception against Troy was the first pick by a Husker cornerback in 21 games.

Each of Nebraska's four primary safeties had at least one interception and one fumble forced or recovered in 2018. All told, Fisher's secondary recorded eight interceptions, forced 10 fumbles and had four fumble recoveries, helping Nebraska post its highest turnover total in four seasons. The secondary also combined for 41 pass breakups, helping Nebraska rank ninth in school history with 58 total pass breakups.

In 2019, Nebraska held six of its 12 opponents to fewer than 165 yards passing, including four opponents under 100 yards. Nebraska again ranked in the top 35 nationally in pass efficiency defense, and the Huskers were 11th nationally with two interception returns for touchdowns. Individually, Lamar Jackson ranked in the top 15 nationally in pass breakups and passes defended, while Cam Taylor-Britt - in just his second season playing defense - ranked fifth in the country with four forced fumbles, the most by a Husker since 1999. Jackson and Taylor-Britt also tied for the team lead with three interceptions.

Under Fisher's guidance, three of Nebraska's four secondary starters were All-Big Ten selections. Bootle earned All-Big Ten accolades for the second straight season, with Jackson and Taylor-Britt earning all-conference recognition for the first time.

BEFORE NEBRASKA

UCF: At his alma mater, Fisher helped Frost and defensive coordinator Erik Chinander turn the UCF defense into one of the top units in the American Athletic Conference. Fisher's defensive backs were a big reason why the Knights were able to record 58 takeaways and score nine defensive touchdowns in 2016 and 2017. UCF ranked third nationally in takeaways over the 2016 and 2017 seasons combined, and the Knights ranked fifth with 35 interceptions, including 26 from Fisher's defensive backs. In 2017, UCF led the AAC and was second nationally in interceptions.

In 2017, Fisher's unit helped UCF go 13-0 as the nation's only undefeated team while posting the first perfect season in school and American Athletic Conference history. The Knights led the league in interceptions and defensive touchdowns and ranked third in scoring defense and pass efficiency defense. UCF's 20 interceptions not only led the conference but ranked fifth nationally, with 15 of the interceptions by Fisher's defensive backs, two of which were returned for touchdowns.

One of those interceptions was a game-ending pick by Tre Neal - who followed Fisher to Nebraska as a graduate transfer in 2018 - in the second overtime of the American Athletic Conference Championship win over No. 16 Memphis. Another was an interception by Antwan Collier with 24 seconds remaining that sealed the Knights' Peach Bowl win over No. 7 Auburn. Cornerback Mike Hughes and safety Kyle Gibson were both first-team all-conference selections and both players ranked in the top 25 nationally in interceptions. Hughes, a first-year junior college transfer, went on to earn second-team All-America honors before being a first-round selection in the 2018 NFL Draft, eclipsing Fisher as the highest-drafted defensive back in UCF history.

The production of Fisher's defensive backs in 2017 came after five defensive backs from the 2016 roster signed NFL contracts following the season, including third-round draft pick Shaquill Griffin.

Led by Griffin, Fisher's defensive backs played a big role in UCF's 2016 season, when the Knights were the nation's most-improved team. UCF posted the top pass efficiency defense in the American Athletic Conference and the 12th-best mark nationally, while the defensive backs totaled 12 of the Knights' 15 interceptions - a total that ranked 22nd nationally. The group also returned four interceptions for touchdowns, helping UCF rank third nationally with five defensive touchdowns. Individually, Griffin led the AAC and was fifth nationally with 1.5 passes defended per game, and his 15 pass breakups in 2017 and 36 career breakups were both the second-most in UCF history. Drico Johnson also set a school record by becoming the first UCF player to score two defensive touchdowns in one game, accomplishing the feat against Tulane.

A former Knight cornerback, Fisher also spent the 2015 season at UCF, where he coached the cornerbacks in his first season as an FBS assistant. He began his coaching career as a defensive quality assistant with UCF in 2013, when the Knights went 12-1 and finished with a No. 10 ranking.

SOUTHEAST MISSOURI STATE: Fisher's first full-time coaching role came as the cornerbacks coach at Southeast Missouri State in 2014.

PLAYING CAREER (UCF & NFL)

As a player, Fisher totaled 130 tackles with the Knights from 1999 to 2001. He was selected in the second round of the 2002 NFL Draft with the 64th overall pick by the St. Louis Rams. Fisher had been the highest drafted defensive back in UCF history before his pupil Hughes was selected in the first round with the 30th overall pick in the 2018 NFL Draft. Fisher went on to spend nine seasons in the NFL and led the NFL with two interception returns for touchdowns and 205 interception return yards in 2003.

backs coach, Held has been recognized as an outstanding recruiter, as he was named one of the nation's top 25 recruiters by Rivals.com in both 2018 and 2019.

Held's running backs produced impressive results in his first season in 2018. The group helped Nebraska rush for more than 2,500 yards, as NU boasted the third-most improved rushing attack in the country, averaging 209.0 rushing yards per game, an improvement of more than 100 yards from 2017.

Leading the way was All-Big Ten back Devine Ozigbo, who ran for 1,082 yards as a senior in 2018, becoming Nebraska's first 1,000-yard rusher since Doak Walker finalist Ameer Abdullah in 2014. Ozigbo, who was one of three Husker running backs to have a 100-yard rushing performance in 2018, had never even rushed for 500 yards in a season before Held's arrival. Ozigbo ranked 11th nationally with an average of 7.0 yards per carry in 2018, an impressive total considering he averaged 4.2 yards per carry in his first three seasons. Ozigbo also led Nebraska with 12 rushing touchdowns and 90.2 rushing yards per game.

In 2019, Held helped develop a young running back group, where three of NU's top five running backs were in their first year in the program. Junior college transfer Dedrick Mills led Nebraska with 745 rushing yards and 10 rushing touchdowns in his first year as a Husker. He improved throughout the season and averaged 115.7 rushing yards per game and 6.5 yards per carry over the final three games. Mills ran for a career-high 188 yards against a Wisconsin defense that finished sixth nationally by allowing an average of only 99.8 rushing yards per game. Behind Mills, true freshman Wan'Dale Robinson split time at running back and receiver and was Nebraska's third-leading rusher with 340 yards. Both Mills and Robinson earned All-Big Ten recognition in their first season as Huskers.

Ryan Held is in his third season at his alma mater in 2020, where he coaches the Husker running backs. In January of 2020, Held also added the title of recruiting coordinator to his duties. Held was teammates with Scott Frost for two seasons at Nebraska, and Held is serving on Frost's staff for the fifth straight year.

A coaching veteran with 12 years of head coaching experience, Held has won four national championships in his career, including two as a player and two as a coach. In fact, Held has been a part of three national championship teams in the seven seasons he has spent playing and coaching at Nebraska. Held has also benefited from coaching under three national coaches of the year: Frost, Phillip Fulmer and Tom Osborne.

As a position coach, Held has developed an all-conference running back each of the past three seasons and in two of the last three years, his starting running back ranked in the top 15 nationally in rushing yards per carry.

In addition to his role as running

Held also began his coaching career at Nebraska as an undergraduate assistant coach in 1997. After being a part of two Husker national championship teams as a player, Held helped Nebraska to the 1997 national title with Scott Frost as the Huskers' starting quarterback.

UCF: Held coached the running backs for a program that was the nation's most improved team in 2016 and posted the first perfect season in UCF and American Athletic Conference history in 2017. With help from Held's running backs, the Knights' offense showed dramatic improvement, increasing their scoring production by nearly 35 points per game from 2015 to 2017 and their total offense output by more than 260 yards per game.

Held's running backs helped UCF rush for more than 2,500 yards during its perfect season and run to the American Athletic Conference title in 2017. Adrian Killins Jr. averaged 6.5 yards per carry en route to earning all-conference accolades as a sophomore. Killins added 10 rushing touchdowns, including a 96-yard score in the regular-season matchup with Memphis, the longest rush and longest play from scrimmage in both UCF and AAC history. As a unit, Held's running backs combined for 24 rushing touchdowns in 2017 and turned the ball over only three times in 13 games. As a team, UCF ranked ninth nationally with 39 rushing touchdowns.

In Held's first season at UCF in 2016, the Knights rushed for nearly 2,000 yards, including more than 800 yards from freshmen. Killins averaged 6.5 yards per carry, while senior Dontravious Wilson scored eight rushing touchdowns after scoring only three times in his first three seasons combined.

AS A HEAD COACH: Before joining Frost at UCF, Held made his name in the coaching community as a junior college, Division II and NAIA head coach. He spent four seasons as a junior college head coach, including two years each at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M (2014-15) and Highland (Kan.) Community College (2012-13). Held coached 22 all-conference selections in his final season at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M and led Highland to the playoffs in 2013 for the first time in the modern era. In his four years as a junior college head coach, Held sent more than 50 players to Division I schools. Held's first stint in the junior college ranks was as the offensive coordinator for Butler (Kan.) Community College in 2011, when the Grizzlies went 11-1 and ranked second nationally in total offense.

Previously, Held spent seven seasons as a Division II head coach. He led the Southwestern Oklahoma State program for four seasons from 2005 to 2008, guiding the team to a conference title in 2007, one year after he was named the division coach of the year. Held coached Oklahoma Panhandle State from 2002 to 2004, and his first full-time coaching job was as head coach at Peru State in 2001, an NAIA school in Peru, Neb. Upon his hiring by Peru State, Held was the youngest head football coach in the country (age 26), and he led the Bobcats to a second-place league finish in his only season.

TENNESSEE: Held was a defensive graduate assistant at Tennessee in 1998 and 1999, helping the Volunteers win the 1998 national championship.

PLAYING CAREER (NEBRASKA)

Held was a two-time national champion himself as a Husker from 1993 to 1996. Nebraska posted a 47-3 record during Held's career with three conference titles. At Nebraska, Held was a teammate of Frost's during the 1995 and 1996 seasons. Following his playing career, Held was an undergraduate assistant coach for the Huskers in 1997 working with the running backs.

BARRETT RUUD

INSIDE LINEBACKERS • 3RD SEASON

NEBRASKA (2018-20)

- Assistant Coach (LB)

- Quality Control Administrator

- Defensive Intern

Barrett Ruud, the all-time leading tackler in Nebraska history, is in his third season as the Huskers' inside linebackers coach in 2020. Ruud entered the coaching ranks shortly after an eight-year NFL career, and he has been a member of Scott Frost's staff in five of his six seasons,

Ruud also served as a defensive intern at Nebraska in 2014. That marked his first venture into the coaching profession and came two years after his NFL playing career had ended.

BEFORE NEBRASKA

UCF: Ruud's first full-time foray into coaching came as a quality control administrator on Frost's staff at UCF in 2016 and 2017, helping the Knights to the greatest two-year turnaround in modern college football history, including a 13-0 record in 2017, when UCF was the nation's only unbeaten team and won the American Athletic Conference title and the Peach Bowl.

Ruud helped Erik Chinander's UCF defense make dramatic improvements, especially in takeaways. The Knights were also among the top teams in the nation in takeaways, with their 58 takeaways in 2016 and 2017 ranking third among FBS schools in that time period.

PLAYING CAREER (NEBRASKA & NFL)

Ruud boasts extensive knowledge of the linebacker position from his playing days. He totaled a school-record 432 tackles in his Nebraska career, 90 more than any other Husker. He was a freshman All-American, a three-time All-Big 12 selection and a 2004 third-team All-American. Ruud played in the 2002 Rose Bowl, when Nebraska battled Miami for the national championship.

Following his NU career, Ruud was a second-round pick in the 2005 NFL Draft, when the Tampa Bay Buccaneers selected him with the 36th overall pick. Ruud spent eight seasons in the NFL, recording 658 tackles with six sacks, seven interceptions and six forced fumbles. He played six seasons in Tampa Bay and also played for Tennessee, New Orleans and Houston.

Ruud spent his first four years in the profession in an off-field coaching role, but he was elevated to inside linebackers coach in January of 2018 on the first day that FBS programs were permitted to add a 10th full-time assistant coach.

Ruud made a big impact in his first season on the sideline, as his starting inside linebackers were the top two tacklers on the team, combining for 195 stops. Mohamed Barry had the top tackling season by a Husker linebacker in seven seasons in his first year working with Ruud, making 112 tackles, ranking second in the Big Ten in tackles per game and earning all-conference accolades. Dedrick Young II also had a career high in tackles in his lone season with Ruud as his position coach, which is notable considering Young finished his career ranked fifth at Nebraska in career tackles.

In his second season, Nebraska's top three tacklers were inside linebackers. Barry led the Huskers in tackles for the second straight season with 89 stops, while Will Honas ranked second with 73 tackles in his first full season at the FBS level. Collin Miller was third on the team with 67 tackles.

It should come as no surprise that Ruud has produced prolific tacklers while coaching Nebraska's inside linebackers. As a Husker linebacker himself, he recorded 432 tackles, 90 more than any other player in program history. Ruud then went on to make more than 650 tackles during his eight-year NFL career.

In his first season as a full-time assistant coach in 2018, Ruud's inside linebackers helped Nebraska improve by 27 spots in the national scoring defense rankings from the 2017 season and by 61 spots in pass efficiency defense. Both of Ruud's starting inside linebackers put together impressive seasons in 2018, with Mohamed Barry leading the team with 112 tackles and Dedrick Young II ranking second with 83 stops.

Barry enjoyed a breakout season under Ruud's tutelage en route to All-Big Ten honors. Barry recorded 112 tackles in 2018 after totaling just 44 stops in his first two seasons combined. He ranked second in the Big Ten and 38th nationally with an average of 9.3 tackles per game, and Barry's 112 tackles were the most by a Husker since All-American Lavonte David had 133 tackles in 2011. Barry had seven games with 10 or more tackles, becoming only the fifth Husker to have seven double-figure tackle efforts in one season and the first in eight years. Barry also set a career high with 11 tackles for loss and posted the first 2.0 sacks of his career.

Young was nearly as productive in his only year under Ruud, setting career highs in what was one of the most impressive statistical careers by a Husker defender. Young totaled a career-high 83 tackles in 2018 to end his career with 284 tackles, the fifth-highest total in Nebraska history. In addition to his career high in tackles, Young also broke up a career-high five passes and intercepted the first pass of his career under Ruud's guidance.

In 2019, Ruud's inside linebackers ranked first, second and third on the team in tackles. Barry recorded 89 tackles to give him more than 200 tackles in two seasons under Ruud, and Barry was a semifinalist for the Lott Trophy and a member of the Butkus Award watch list in addition to earning All-Big Ten honors for the second straight season. Opposite Barry, juniors Will Honas and Collin Miller combined for 140 tackles. Honas was second on the team with a career-high 73 tackles, while Miller was third with a career-high 67 stops. Miller recorded 67 tackles after entering the year with only 28 career tackles.

2018, with Tuioti's defensive line combining for more than 120 tackles, 19.5 tackles for loss and 8.0 sacks. Overall, Cal ranked in the top 10 nationally in four defensive categories in 2018.

In his first season at Nebraska in 2019, Tuioti saw two of his three starting defensive linemen earn All-Big Ten accolades.

Nebraska boasted a strong defensive line in Tuioti's first season, as the Huskers held three opponents to fewer than 90 rushing yards and three opponents to fewer than 100 passing yards. Individually, five of Nebraska's six primary defensive linemen set career highs in tackles, while three also established career bests in sacks and tackles for loss. The line combined for 32 TFLs and 16.5 sacks. Two of Nebraska's three starting defensive linemen - Khalil Davis and Darrion Daniels - earned All-Big Ten recognition.

Davis led the defensive line with career highs of 45 tackles, 8.0 sacks and 12 tackles for loss, leading the team in sacks and TFLs. His eight sacks were the most by a Husker since 2013, while his 12 TFLs were the most by a Husker since 2014. Khalil's twin brother Carlos registered 32 tackles, six TFLs and 4.0 sacks, setting career highs in both TFLs and sacks. The Daniels brothers were also productive under Tuioti. Darrion, a graduate transfer from Oklahoma State, set career highs with 34 tackles and 1.5 sacks, while Damion totaled a career-high 13 tackles. Ben Stille recorded a career-high 31 tackles while adding eight TFLs and 3.0 sacks. Deontre Thomas added a career-high 19 tackles, including the first two tackles for loss of his career.

CAL: Tuioti came to Nebraska after spending two seasons at Cal. He coached the Bears' defensive line in 2018, after tutoring the outside linebackers in 2017. At Cal, Tuioti was part of a defensive staff that produced a dramatic turnaround with the Bear defense.

In 2018, Cal ranked in the top 10 nationally in passing defense, interceptions, takeaways and defensive touchdowns, while ranking in the top 20 in total defense, pass efficiency defense and first downs allowed. Tuioti's defensive line played a major role in those lofty rankings. Cal's three starting defensive linemen - which included converted offensive lineman Chris Palmer - set career highs in nearly every category under Tuioti's tutelage while combining for 123 tackles, 19.5 tackles for loss, 8.0 sacks and nine breakups.

Tony Tuioti is in his second season as Nebraska's defensive line coach in 2020. Tuioti boasts 18 years of experience at every level of football, as he is in his ninth season as a collegiate assistant, and he was an NFL defensive line coach for two years. Tuioti also spent three years coaching in the high school ranks, including two seasons as a head coach. In addition to his experience as an on-field coach, Tuioti has three years of experience in recruiting administration at the FBS level.

Tuioti has emerged as one of the nation's top young coaches, spending the past seven seasons coaching in either the NFL or a Power Five Conference, including stints at two of the seven winningest programs in college football history (Michigan and Nebraska). He helped orchestrate an impressive defensive turnaround at Cal in 2017 and 2018. The Bears ranked 15th nationally in total defense in Luc Bequette was an honorable-mention All-Pac 12 selection after tying for the team lead with 5.0 sacks, while Palmer was second on the team with six breakups and Tevin Paul totaled a team-high 11.0 TFLs.

In his first season at Cal in 2017, Tuioti's outside linebackers played a key role on a Bears' defense that improved by an average of 40 spots in the 15 primary team defensive statistical categories ranked by the NCAA. His group combined for 11.0 sacks and two of his four starters registered at least 4.5 sacks. Alex Funches also led the team with 10.5 tackles for loss.

MICHIGAN: Prior to Cal, Tuioti spent the 2016 season in the Big Ten Conference as Michigan's director of player personnel. The Wolverines posted a 10-3 record and earned a final No. 10 ranking in Tuioti's lone season at the school. Tuioti's efforts helped Michigan land the No. 3 recruiting class in the country, and he also played a critical role in developing the relationships for a satellite camp tour in the summer of 2016 that included American Samoa, Australia and Hawaii among nearly 40 locations.

CLEVELAND BROWNS: Before joining the Wolverines, Tuioti was an assistant with the Cleveland Browns in 2014 and 2015, serving as the Browns' assistant defensive line and quality control coach. In his first season, Cleveland led the NFL in opponent completion percentage, opposing quarterback passer rating and passes defended, while ranking second in interceptions. In his final year with the Browns, Tuioti helped rookie defensive tackle Danny Shelton finish with 36 tackles and four TFLs.

HAWAII: Tuioti's first experience as a full-time member of a collegiate staff came at his alma mater. He spent six seasons at Hawaii from 2008 to 2013, first serving as the Rainbow Warriors' director of player personnel for two seasons, before coaching the defensive line for the next two years and tutoring the linebackers in his final two seasons.

In his first season as the defensive line coach, Hawaii won a share of the 2010 Western Athletic Conference championship. Hawaii led the nation in takeaways that season, Tuioti's defensive line produced 22.5 of the team's 30 sacks. The pressure from the defensive line was a big reason why the Rainbow Warriors tied for 15th in sacks per game the next season. Tuioti worked with the linebackers the next season, when Hawaii ranked 11th nationally in pass defense. In his final season, Tuioti's linebackers led the squad in tackles, TFLs and sacks, and the Rainbow Warriors ranked third nationally in tackles for loss and eighth in fumble recoveries.

KALAHEO & SILVERADO HIGH SCHOOLS: Tuioti's first full-time coaching job came in the high school ranks. He served as the head coach of Kalaheo High School in Honolulu in 2003 and 2004. Tuioti inherited a winless Kalaheo team and led the Mustangs to the playoffs for the first time in his inaugural season as the youngest varsity head coach in the state.

After two years at Kalaheo, Tuioti moved to Las Vegas to pursue a second master's degree and in 2017, he returned to coaching as the defensive coordinator for a Silverado High School team that finished 10-1 and was undefeated in the regular season while winning a division title.

HAWAII: Tuioti got his start in the coaching profession at Hawaii as a defensive graduate assistant in 2000 and 2001. He transitioned to the sideline after a four-year career as a standout defensive lineman for the Rainbow Warriors from 1996 to 1999.

PLAYING CAREER (HAWAII)

Tuioti was an honorable-mention All-WAC defensive lineman as a junior and as a senior, Tuioti was a key leader for a team that tied for the largest one-year turnaround in NCAA history, going from 0-12 the previous season to a 9-4 mark that included a share of the WAC title. He was one of two Rainbow Warriors to win a WAC championship both as a player (1999) and coach (2010). Tuioti also played in the 2000 Hula Bowl following his senior season.

Minnesota. Verduzco helped Martinez accomplish his record-breaking season as just the third true freshman to ever start at quarterback for Nebraska.

Martinez ranked 12th nationally in total offense in 2018 and first among freshmen. His average of 295.1 yards per game was the ninth-highest mark by a freshman in NCAA history and the third-highest mark by a true freshman. Martinez became the first true freshman at a Power Five program to average 290 yards of total offense per game. Martinez also became just the sixth freshman in NCAA history to average 200 passing yards per game and 50 rushing yards per game, and he was just the second true freshman in NCAA history - and first at a Power Five school - to hit both marks.

Led by Martinez, a freshman All-American, Nebraska's quarterbacks completed 63.6 percent of their passes and threw for 2,966 yards in 2018.

Verduzco dealt with injuries to his quarterback room in 2019. Martinez missed two games and dealt with injuries throughout the season but accounted for more than 2,500 yards of total offense, ranking third in the Big Ten with an average of 258.2 yards of total offense per game. Backup Noah Vedral completed better than 65 percent of his passes while accounting for more than 500 yards of total offense. In his two starts in place of Martinez, Vedral completed 28-of-39 passes for 336 yards with 22 carries for 70 yards and two touchdowns. True freshman Luke McCaffrey also saw action at quarterback in 2019, completing 9-of-12 passes for 142 yards and two touchdowns, while rushing 24 times for 166 yards and one score.

Verduzco had a role in another record in 2019, as NU set a school record by completing 87 percent of its passes against Indiana (20-of-23).

BEFORE NEBRASKA

UCF: Verduzco helped Frost increase the Knights' win total by 13 games in only two seasons. UCF was the nation's most improved team in 2016,

Mario Verduzco is the veteran of Nebraska's coaching staff. He is in his fifth season serving as Scott Frost's quarterbacks coach, and he has coached with Frost for a total of seven seasons.

Verduzco brings a wealth of knowledge to the staff. He has coached at the high school, junior college, FCS and FBS levels and boasts 16 years of experience as a collegiate offensive coordinator in addition to a career devoted to developing quarterbacks.

A 2018 Broyles Award nominee, Verduzco helped Nebraska true freshman Adrian Martinez rank 12th nationally in total offense in 2018, one season after UCF sophomore McKenzie Milton was fourth nationally in total offense.

Verduzco helped Adrian Martinez put together one of the top statistical seasons by a freshman quarterback in NCAA history in 2018, earning a nomination for the Broyles Award in the process.

Under Verduzco's tutelage, Martinez completed nearly 65 percent of his passes, throwing for 2,617 yards and 17 touchdowns, while rushing for 629 yards and eight scores. Martinez set Nebraska season records for total offensive yards per game (295.1), 400-yard total offense games (3) and 300-yard total offense games (7), in addition to setting a Husker game record with an 86.2 completion percentage against and the Knights won a conference title and put together the first perfect season in program history in 2017, which also marked the first perfect season in American Athletic Conference history. UCF improved from ranking 125th nationally in scoring offense and 127th in total offense in 2015 to first and fifth in those respective categories in 2017. The Knights' quarterback play was a big reason for the turnaround.

Under Verduzco's direction, McKenzie Milton developed into one of the nation's top quarterbacks. Milton completed better than 64 percent of his passes and threw for 6,020 yards and 47 touchdowns in his two seasons with Verduzco, while adding 771 rushing yards. In Verduzco's two seasons, the UCF quarterbacks posted a nearly 3-to-1 touchdown-to-interception ratio, throwing 52 touchdown passes against only 18 interceptions.

Milton made great strides under Verduzco in 2017, posting one of the nation's best individual seasons. Milton completed more than 67 percent of his passes and threw for 4,037 yards with a school-record 37 touchdowns. He also ran for 613 yards and averaged 5.8 yards per carry while scoring eight touchdowns. Milton ranked second nationally in passing efficiency (179.3), was fourth in completion percentage (67.1), total offense (357.7 yards per game) and passing touchdowns (37), fifth in yards per completion (15.2) and seventh in passing yards (4,037).

Milton was selected as the 2016 American Athletic Conference Offensive Player of the Year and was a finalist for the Manning Award, in addition to being a semifinalist for the Maxwell and Walter Camp national player-of-the-year awards and a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Quarterback Award. Milton's backup was Noah Vedral, who completed 22-of-29 passes for 276 yards and one touchdown as a true freshman in 2017 before transferring to Nebraska in January of 2018.

In 2016, Verduzco dealt with injuries to his quarterbacking corps but helped develop Milton into the starter as a true freshman. Milton set a UCF freshman record with 194 completions and threw for 1,983 yards while completing 57.7 percent of his passes.

MISSOURI STATE: Verduzco spent the 2015 season as Missouri State's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. His stint with the Bears came after he spent 14 seasons at Northern Iowa.

NORTHERN IOWA: Verduzco served as the Panthers' co-offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for nine seasons from 2006 to 2014 after coaching UNI's quarterbacks in his first five seasons on staff from 2001 to 2005. Northern Iowa won six Missouri Valley Conference titles and made eight trips to the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) playoffs in Verduzco's 14 seasons at the school, including playing for the 2005 FCS national championship. Seven Panther quarterbacks combined for 13 all-conference awards under Verduzco, including Eric Sanders, the 2007 Missouri Valley Offensive Player of the Year who finished his career with the best completion percentage in FCS history, including an FCS-record 75.2 completion percentage in 2007.

RUTGERS: Before spending 15 seasons in the FCS ranks, Verduzco was an assistant at Rutgers for five seasons from 1996 to 2000, where he coached the Scarlet Knights quarterbacks and was the school's recruiting coordinator.

DE ANZA COLLEGE: Verduzco went to Rutgers after totaling 19 seasons coaching at various levels in California. He was at De Anza College in Cupertino, Calif., for five seasons from 1991 to 1995, including serving as the Don's head coach in 1994 and 1995.

SAN JOSE STATE: In his first FBS coaching role, Verduzco spent the 1990 and 1991 seasons as a graduate assistant at San Jose State. The Spartans won nine games in 1990 and were Big West champions in each of Verduzco's two seasons.

GAVILAN COLLEGE: Verduzco's first collegiate job came at Gavilan College in California, where he was the Rams' offensive coordinator for three seasons from 1987 to 1989.

HIGH SCHOOL: Before entering the collegiate ranks, Verduzco spent 10 seasons as an assistant at Soquel High School in California, including three seasons as the school's defensive coordinator.

Matt Farniok started every game at right tackle as a junior, stretching his streak to 24 consecutive starts. A team captain and Nebraska's Offensive Lineman of the Year, Farniok was a key part of an offensive line that helped NU rank third in the Big Ten in rushing offense and fifth in total offense.

Farniok was a major reason Nebraska produced its most yards ever in a Big Ten Conference game (690 yards at Illinois), while tying its most points in a Big Ten game (54 at Maryland). Against Illinois, the Huskers totaled 300 yards rushing and 300 yards passing for just the second time in school history en route to gaining the most yards in any conference game since 2007. Nebraska also set a school record for team completion percentage against Indiana (87.0 percent).

Farniok started all 12 games at right tackle as a sophomore in 2018. The Huskers averaged 456.2 yards of total offense per game in 2018 - the program's highest total in six years - while producing more than 560 yards of offense in four games. Farniok and the offensive line helped Nebraska post its highest point total (54 against Illinois) in a Big Ten Conference game since the Huskers joined the league in 2011.

True freshman quarterback Adrian Martinez rewrote the Nebraska freshman record books while setting a school record with an average of 295.1 yards of total offense per game. NU also produced its first 1,000-yard receiver in school history in 2018 and had its first 1,000-yard rusher since 2014.

Farniok was a key reason the Huskers piled up 329 rushing yards and 565 total yards in the season opener with Colorado. Against Purdue, Farniok's blocking helped pave the way for a Husker offense that totaled 582 yards, including a career-high 170 rushing yards from Devine Ozigbo. The Huskers followed up that performance with 518 yards of total offense at No. 16 Wisconsin. Farniok helped the Huskers total 659 yards against Minnesota, including three 100-yard rushers. Nebraska totaled 606 yards of offense in a win over Illinois, setting a school record by gaining at least 450 yards in seven consecutive games.

Farniok was a key contributor to the Husker offensive line in 2017, appearing in seven games and earning four starts. One of two Huskers to start at multiple positions on the offensive line in 2017, Farniok earned starts at right tackle against Oregon and Northern Illinois and started at right guard against Northwestern and Minnesota. Farniok and the line helped the Huskers rank second in the Big Ten in passing (277.5 yards per game) while throwing for 3,330 yards, the fifth-highest total in Husker history. Stanley Morgan Jr. also set the Nebraska season receiving yards record (986) while JD Spielman posted the first 200-yard receiving game in school history against No. 9 Ohio State.

Farniok redshirted and worked on the scout team offense.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (WASHINGTON HS)

Farniok was the South Dakota Gatorade and USA Today Player of the Year and was a first-team Parade All-American as a senior for Washington High School, which finished 11-1 and won the Class 11AAA state title. His blocking helped Chad Stadem's team total more than 4,500 yards of offense and average 230 rushing yards per game.

Farniok earned Class 11AAA all-state honors and Elite 45 selection as a junior despite Washington having a 3-6 record. He was also a key member of Washington's varsity squad as a sophomore in 2013.

Farniok played in the U.S. Army All-American Bowl in San Antonio following his senior season. The consensus top player in South Dakota, Farniok was ranked as the No. 129 overall prospect by 247Sports and checked in at No. 257 in the ESPN300.

Farniok visited Michigan State and Iowa and had numerous offers including Michigan, Oklahoma, Penn State, Stanford and Wisconsin. He was ranked as one of the top 25 tackles in the country. Farniok also played basketball for Washington and was on the honor roll all four years.

PERSONAL

Matt was born on Sept. 26, 1997, and he is the son of Brad Farniok and Christine and Rich Jones. His father played collegiately at St. Cloud State, while he had older brothers who played at Iowa State and Oklahoma. His younger brother Will is a sophomore offensive lineman at Nebraska. Matt is majoring in criminology and criminal justice. He has volunteered his time with Make-a-Wish, the Nebraska Football Road Race, Husker Heroes and local hospital visits.

A former walk-on, Trent Hixson was placed on scholarship for his sophomore season. He started every game at left guard and was a key part of an offensive line that helped Nebraska rank third in the Big Ten in rushing offense and fifth in total offense.

Hixson played a major role in Nebraska producing its most total yards in a Big Ten Conference game (690 yards at Illinois), while tying its most points in a Big Ten game (54 at Maryland). Nebraska also set a school record for team completion percentage against Indiana (87.0 percent).

Hixson played in four games as a redshirt freshman while continuing to develop into a future starter. He made his Husker debut with an appearance on the offensive line at No. 19 Michigan, helping the Huskers score on an 80-yard touchdown drive in the fourth quarter. Hixson also saw action on the line at No. 16 Wisconsin and in the Huskers' home wins over Bethune-Cookman and Illinois. Hixson was also a member of Nebraska's travel roster for each of the Huskers' five road games.

2017 (REDSHIRT)

Hixson redshirted in his first season. He was a standout in practice on the offensive line.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (OMAHA SKUTT CATHOLIC HS)

Hixson played in 13 games as a senior at Skutt Catholic, helping his team to a 10-3 record and a Class B state runner-up finish. He recorded 96 total tackles, including 10 for a loss, three sacks and a fumble recovery for Coach Matt Turman.

Hixson was named second-team Super State and first-team All-Class B by the Lincoln Journal Star in 2016. He was also an Omaha World-Herald first-team All-Class B performer as both a junior and senior. He was also a Lincoln Journal Star and Omaha World Herald All-Class B defensive lineman as a junior in 2015.

Hixson racked up 67 tackles and four tackles for loss during his junior season and had 57 tackles and three TFLs on a state championship team as a sophomore in 2014. Hixson finished with 214 career tackles, the second-most in Skutt history. Hixson played in two games as a sophomore on the offensive line, and he also recorded four total tackles on defense. Hixson was also on the wrestling team in high school and finished fifth in Class B at 285 pounds in 2016.

PERSONAL

Trent was born on April 10, 1999, and is the son of Rick and Micki Hixson. He is an accounting major. Hixson volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race, Husker Heroes and local hospital visits.

Brenden Jaimes started all 12 games at left tackle as a junior, extending his streak to 33 consecutive starts on the offensive line and 24 straight starts at left tackle. Nebraska's Offensive MVP, Jaimes helped the Husker offense rank third in the Big Ten in rushing and fifth in total offense. For his efforts, Jaimes earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors for the second straight season.

Jaimes was a major reason Nebraska produced its most total yards in a Big Ten Conference game (690 yards at Illinois) and tied its highest point total in a Big Ten game (54 at Maryland). Against Illinois, the Huskers totaled 300 yards rushing and 300 yards passing for just the second time in school history en route to gaining the most yards in any conference game since 2007. Nebraska also set a school record for team completion percentage against Indiana (87.0 percent).

Nebraska's primary right tackle in 2017, Jaimes moved to left tackle in 2018 and started every game at the position, earning honorable-mention All-Big Ten accolades. Nebraska averaged 456.2 yards of total offense per game in 2018 - ranking 25th nationally in that category - while producing more than 560 yards of offense in four games. Jaimes and the offensive line helped Nebraska post its most yards (659 against Minnesota) and highest point total (54 against Illinois) in a Big Ten Conference game dating back to the Huskers joining the league in 2011. Jaimes specifically helped protect true freshman quarterback Adrian Martinez, who ranked 12th nationally in total offense per game and led all FBS freshmen nationally in that category while setting three Husker season records. Nebraska also produced its first 1,000-yard receiver in school history in 2018 and had its first 1,000-yard rusher since 2014.

Jaimes and the offensive line helped Nebraska total 565 yards in the season opener against Colorado. After Nebraska posted back-to-back games with more than 500 yards of total offense against Purdue and No. 16 Wisconsin, Jaimes helped the Huskers total 606 yards of offense in a win against Illinois, when Nebraska set a school record with its seventh straight game producing at least 450 yards of total offense.

Jaimes was arguably the most productive true freshman offensive lineman in school history. After the coaching staff initially considered a redshirt season, Jaimes started the final nine games at right tackle. When he made his debut by starting the Rutgers game, Jaimes became just the fifth true freshman offensive lineman to start at Nebraska and only the 11th Husker offensive lineman to play as a true freshman. Jaimes' nine starts were not only a school record for a true freshman offensive lineman, but he nearly matched the combined total of the four previous Husker true freshman starters on the offensive line (11).

Jaimes was one of only three true freshmen offensive linemen in the Big Ten to start every conference game in 2017, and he was an honorable-mention All-Freshman team selection by the Big Ten Network.

Jaimes and the Husker offensive line helped Nebraska rank second in the Big Ten in passing (277.5 yards per game) in 2017. Nebraska totaled 3,330 passing yards, the fifth-highest passing total in school history. The line protected Tanner Lee as he threw for 3,143 yards in his only season as a Husker, while Stanley Morgan Jr. set a school record with 986 receiving yards and JD Spielman posted the first 200-yard receiving game in school history against No. 9 Ohio State.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (LAKE TRAVIS HS)

Jaimes was a standout on the offensive line at Lake Travis High School in Austin. Jaimes paved the way for an offense that averaged nearly 500 yards per game in 2016, including better than 290 passing yards per game. Lake Travis posted a 15-1 record en route to a Class 6A Division 1 state title. Coach Hank Carter's team was also ranked among the nation's top prep teams in 2016.

Jaimes was named the District Offensive Lineman of the Year, was first-team All-Centex and was a Class 6A honorable-mention all-state choice as a senior. He was a second-team all-state honoree and all-district choice in 2015, when Lake Travis posted a 15-1 record and was the Class 6A state runner-up. Lake Travis was an area finalist in 2014 when Jaimes earned honorable-mention all-district accolades.

Jaimes was ranked among the top 300 overall prospects in the nation by Scout.com, which also listed him as one of the nation's top 30 offensive tackles and the third-best tackle prospect in Texas. He was also listed among the top 50 tackles in the nation by both ESPN and 247Sports.

Jaimes only visited Nebraska. He also had offers from Baylor, California, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa State, TCU, Texas and Texas Tech among others.

Jaimes participated in lacrosse as a freshman and was also a track standout. He was a regional finalist in the discus in 2016 and 2017.

2019 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Cameron Jurgens started every game at center in 2019 after entering the program as a tight end. He made history in the season opener against South Alabama, becoming the first Husker freshman (true or redshirt) to start a game at center since the NCAA restored freshmen eligibility in 1972. Jurgens helped Nebraska rank third in the Big Ten in rushing offense and fifth in total offense.

Jurgens played a key role in Nebraska producing its most total yards in a Big Ten Conference game (690 yards at Illinois), while tying its most points in a Big Ten game (54 at Maryland). Against Illinois, the Huskers totaled 300 yards rushing and 300 yards passing for just the second time in school history en route to gaining the most yards in any conference game since 2007. Nebraska also set a school record for team completion percentage against Indiana (87.0 percent).

Jurgens redshirted in 2018 after appearing in one game prior to suffering a season-ending injury. Jurgens worked at both tight end and center in his first year in the Husker program, making his Husker debut at tight end against Troy.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (BEATRICE HS)

A three-sport star at Beatrice, Jurgens was regarded as the consensus top prospect in the state of Nebraska in the 2018 recruiting class.

Jurgens battled injuries as a senior but still contributed offensively and defensively for the Orangemen and Coach Kevin Meyer. As a hybrid tight end, he rushed for 318 yards and eight touchdowns as a senior, while also catching 17 passes for 277 yards. Defensively, Jurgens recorded 57 tackles and had one interception from his linebacker spot, helping Beatrice to an 8-1 record before suffering a season-ending injury in the final game of the regular season. Jurgens was named to the Omaha World-Herald All-Nebraska and Lincoln Journal Star Super-State first team in addition to being a first-team all-state selection by both papers.

Jurgens was also an All-Nebraska and Super-State selection at linebacker as a junior, when he led Beatrice with 98 tackles. He added 23 catches for 286 yards as a tight end. Jurgens also punted for the Orangemen, averaging 35.8 yards per punt. Jurgens was a second-team Super-State selection as a sophomore, when he was one of only two underclassmen to make either the Super-State first or second team. Jurgens was rated as a four-star prospect by Rivals, ESPN and 247Sports. He was ranked among the nation's top 200 recruits in the 247Sports Composite rankings and was regarded as the fourth-best tight end recruit in the country by ESPN. Jurgens also took an official visit to LSU.

Jurgens also excelled on the basketball court and in the discus and shot put, which helped him earn the honor as the 2017 Lincoln Journal Star Boys Athlete of the Year in the state of Nebraska. Jurgens averaged 12.5 points per game and 3.5 rebounds per game as a junior, when he was an honorable-mention Class B all-state selection. He missed his senior season due to injury. In track and field, Jurgens was one of the top throwers in Nebraska. A four-time Class B state champion in the discus and three-time champion in the shot put, Jurgens won the all-class gold medal in both the shot put and discus in each of his final three seasons. His two titles as a senior helped Beatrice to the Class B team title.

Adrian Martinez, only the second sophomore to serve as team captain in modern Nebraska football history, started 10 of 12 games in 2019, missing the Minnesota and Indiana games due to injury. Martinez completed nearly 60 percent of his passes while throwing for 1,956 yards and 10 touchdowns, and he rushed for 626 yards and seven scores. Martinez's average of 62.6 rushing yards per game was the highest by a Husker quarterback since 2012, and he averaged 258.2 yards of total offense per game to rank third in the Big Ten.

After being limited to 178 yards of total offense against South Alabama, Martinez totaled 356 yards at Colorado. He threw for 290 yards and two touchdowns against the Buffaloes while rushing for 66 yards and two scores, tying his career highs with two rushing touchdowns and four total touchdowns. Martinez had 301 yards of total offense against Northern Illinois, when he accounted for three total touchdowns. Martinez had his most prolific game of the season at Illinois, posting a career-high 446 yards of total offense, the third-highest total in school history. He completed 22-of-34 passes for 327 yards and three touchdowns and rushed for 118 yards to post just the second 300-yard passing, 100-yard rushing game in the history of Nebraska football. The performance marked the fourth time Martinez produced a game with 400 yards of total offense, a Nebraska career record he achieved in only 15 starts.

Martinez totaled 128 yards of offense against No. 5 Ohio State. The next week, Martinez completed 13-of-20 passes for 145 yards against Northwestern before suffering an injury that kept him out of the fourth quarter. In his return to the field, Martinez totaled 305 yards of offense at Purdue, throwing for 247 yards and leading Nebraska with 58 rushing yards. He tied his career high with a pair of rushing touchdowns against the Boilermakers. Martinez also eclipsed 1,000 career rushing yards, 4,000 career passing yards and 5,000 career total offensive yards at Purdue. He became the 12th Husker quarterback to rush for 1,000 yards and just the fourth player in school history with 4,000 career passing yards and 1,000 career rushing yards. Martinez accounted for 309 yards of offense against No. 15 Wisconsin, throwing for 220 yards and rushing for 89 more. He totaled 288 yards of offense at Maryland, including 94 rushing yards on only 10 carries.

At the conclusion of his sophomore season, Martinez ranked second all-time at Nebraska in 300-yard total offense games (12), third in career completion percentage (62.4) and 250-yard passing games (10), fourth in 300-yard passing games (3), fifth in completions (373) and total offensive yards (5,734) and seventh in passing yards (4,573).

Martinez made 11 starts during a record-breaking freshman season. He made school history by starting the season opener against Colorado, becoming the first true freshman quarterback to start a season opener in Nebraska history and just the second freshman quarterback - true or redshirt - to start a season opener. Martinez was just the third true freshman in Husker history to start at quarterback, joining Tommie Frazier (7 starts in 1992) and Cody Green (2 starts in 2009).

Martinez was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Week three times in 2018, the first quarterback to win the award three times since Ohio State's J.T. Barrett in 2014. Martinez was also recognized as an honorable-mention All-Big Ten selection and a freshman All-American.

Martinez rewrote Nebraska's freshman record book in 2018, and he also left his mark on the Huskers' overall season charts, including averaging a school-record 295.1 yards of total offense per game. Martinez ranked 12th nationally in total offense per game in 2018 and was first among freshmen. Martinez's average of 295.1 yards of total offense per game was the ninth-highest mark by a freshman in NCAA history and the third-best mark by a true freshman.

Martinez completed 64.6 percent of his passes while throwing for 2,617 yards, ranking second in school history in completion percentage, sixth in completions (224), eighth in passing yards and 10th in passing touchdowns (17). Martinez also rushed for 629 yards, the fourth-highest rushing total of any true freshman in school history. His dual-threat ability helped Martinez account for 3,246 yards of total offense, which was the fifth-highest total in Nebraska history. He had a school-record seven 300-yard total offense games, including three 400-yard total offense games, tying the Nebraska season and career records in that category.

Martinez set freshman records for completions, completion percentage, passing yards, passing touchdowns, total offense and total touchdowns (25), and he was fourth nationally among all freshmen in passing yards per game. Martinez averaged 237.9 passing yards per game and 57.2 rushing yards per game in 2018, becoming just the second true freshman in FBS history to average 200 passing yards and 50 rushing yards per game and the first to hit those averages as a Power Five program. Overall, Martinez was just the sixth freshman - true or redshirt - to average 200 passing yards and 50 rushing yards per game. He was also one of just four FBS quarterbacks - regardless of class - who averaged 225 passing yards and 50 rushing yards per game in 2018.

With Martinez leading the way, Nebraska averaged 456.2 yards per game in 2018, the program's highest total since 2012. The Husker offense totaled more than 500 yards of offense in five of Martinez's 11 starts, including four games with more than 560 yards of offense. Martinez helped Nebraska gain at least 450 yards in seven consecutive games the longest such streak in school history.

Martinez dazzled in his career debut against Colorado before exiting the game in the fourth quarter with an injury. He set then-Nebraska true freshman records with 187 passing yards and 304 yards of total offense against the Buffs, while becoming the first true freshman quarterback in Husker history to rush for 100 yards. For his efforts, Martinez was named the national freshman of the week by Athlon Sports.

Martinez played the first full game of his career against Purdue and accumulated 323 passing yards and 414 yards of total offense, the 12th-highest individual total offense game in Nebraska history. The next week at No. 16 Wisconsin, Martinez was even better, throwing for a career-high 384 yards and amassing a career-high 441 yards of total offense, the fourth-highest total in school history.

Martinez topped 400 yards of total offense for the third time in four games while leading the Huskers to a win over Minnesota. He completed 25-of-29 passes for 276 yards, with his 86.2 percent completion rate setting a Nebraska record for a quarterback who attempted at least 20 passes in a game. Martinez also rushed for a career-high 125 yards against the Gophers. For his efforts against Minnesota, Martinez was named the Big Ten Co-Freshman of the Week.

At No. 8 Ohio State, Martinez accounted for 338 yards of total offense and three touchdowns en route to being named the Big Ten Co-Freshman of the Week. He was honored again the next week after leading Nebraska to more than 600 yards of offense and 54 points - the most points NU has ever scored in a Big Ten game - against Illinois. Martinez accounted for 345 yards of total offense against Illinois. He wrapped up his freshman season by helping Nebraska rally from a 15-point fourth-quarter deficit at Iowa, although the Huskers lost on a last-second field goal. Martinez completed a career-high 26 passes against the Hawkeyes. He finished with 336 yards of total offense at Iowa, becoming the first Husker to have seven games with 300 or more yards of total offense in a season.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (CLOVIS WEST HS)

Martinez displayed his ability as both a passer and running threat for Coach George Petrisans at Clovis West High School in Fresno, Calif.

Martinez missed his senior season because of an injury but shined during his junior year, completing 220-of-366 passes for 2,562 yards and 25 touchdowns, with just four interceptions. On the ground, Martinez ran for 1,462 yards and 14 touchdowns. Martinez also led the offense as a sophomore, throwing for better than 1,600 yards and 14 touchdowns, while also rushing for more than 900 yards.

Martinez was ranked as the No. 56 player in the ESPN300 and was the No. 4 pocket passer. Rivals and 247Sports both ranked him among the nation's top 10 dual-threat quarterbacks, with Rivals ranking Martinez as the nation's No. 98 overall prospect and 247Sports listing him as the No. 142 overall prospect. Martinez was also selected to participate in the 2018 Under Armour High School All-America Game. He had dozens of scholarship offers and chose Nebraska over Tennessee.

PERSONAL

Adrian was born on Jan. 7, 2000. He is the son of Tony Martinez and Deanna Martinez and the stepson of Kristi Vincent. Martinez is majoring in business administration. He has volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race, Shop with a Jock, Husker Heroes and local hospital visits.

Dedrick Mills led Nebraska in rushing while earning honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors in his first season as a Husker. Mills rushed for 745 yards on 143 carries, averaging 5.2 yards per rush. He also led Nebraska with a pair of 100-yard rushing games and 10 rushing touchdowns, becoming just the second Husker in six seasons to find the end zone on 10 or more runs. Mills also set career highs with 15 catches for 123 yards.

Mills led Nebraska with 44 rushing yards against South Alabama, and he scored both of the Huskers' offensive touchdowns by running for a pair of scores. The next week at Colorado, Mills set then-career highs with two receptions for 24 yards, including a career-long 20-yard catch. He enjoyed his best performance of the non-conference season against Northern Illinois, rushing for 116 yards and one touchdown on only 11 carries, marking his third career 100-yard rushing game and first at Nebraska. Mills had a career-long 61-yard run against the Huskies.

At Illinois, Mills scored two rushing touchdowns and had 45 yards to reach 1,000 career rushing yards. Mills had 11 carries for 67 yards vs. No. 5 Ohio State, and he scored the Huskers' lone touchdown against the Buckeyes. Mills also scored NU's lone touchdown at Minnesota, and he had a six-yard touchdown run at Purdue.

Mills had a career game against No. 15 Wisconsin, which entered the game with a rushing defense ranked fifth nationally, allowing only 84.4 yards per game. Mills more than doubled that total himself, carrying the ball 17 times for a career-high 188 yards. He averaged more than 11 yards per carry against the stout Badger defense and scored on a 12-yard touchdown run. He then battled an illness at Maryland, rushing for 65 yards on 12 carries in the first half before sitting out the second half. Against Iowa, Mills carried the ball a season-high 24 times and gained 94 yards against a Hawkeye defense that entered the game ranked 22nd nationally in rushing defense. Mills also set career highs with four receptions and 34 receiving yards against the Hawkeyes.

(WARE COUNTY HS/GEORGIA TECH/GARDEN CITY [KAN.] CC)

Mills had experience at the FBS level as a freshman at Georgia Tech and in the junior college ranks at Garden City Community College before arriving at Nebraska.

In 2018 at Garden City, Mills rushed for 1,358 yards and 19 touchdowns in 10 games. He produced six 100-yard rushing efforts and had at least 240 rushing yards in three games, helping Garden City to a 10-1 record and a No. 2 national ranking. Mills ranked fourth in the National Junior College Athletic Association in rushing yards and rushing yards per game (135.8), and he led the NJCAA with his 19 rushing touchdowns. For his efforts, Mills was named an honorable-mention junior college All-American. Mills was limited by injuries in his first season at Garden City in 2017, carrying the ball just seven times for 59 yards.

Prior to Garden City, Mills spent his freshman season at Georgia Tech in 2016. Mills played in nine games with the Yellow Jackets and was the team's leading rusher with 771 yards and 85.7 yards per game. He scored 12 touchdowns and averaged 5.1 yards per carry.

Wan'Dale Robinson played in 10 games as a true freshman, becoming Nebraska's first letterwinner from Kentucky. He flashed playmaking ability although injuries limited his production over the final three games. Robinson was a versatile member of the Husker offense, making four starts as a true freshman, including three at receiver and one at running back.

He caught 40 passes for 443 yards and two touchdowns while rushing for 340 yards and three scores. Robinson caught the most passes and totaled the most receiving yards by any true freshman in Nebraska history. He ranked second on the team in receptions, receiving yards and receiving touchdowns, while ranking third in carries, rushing yards and rushing touchdowns. Robinson also totaled 1,029 all-purpose yards as a true freshman, which ranked second on the team to JD Spielman's 1,038 yards and was the third-highest total ever by a Husker true freshman.

An honorable-mention All-Big Ten selection, Robinson was a two-time Big Ten Freshman of the Week in 2019. He was also one of four national finalists for the Paul Hornung Award and a second-team freshman All-American. Robinson joined Ameer Abdullah (2014) as the only Huskers to be a finalist for the Hornung Award.

In addition to his accolades, Robinson ranked fourth nationally among all FBS freshmen in all-purpose yards per game in 2019 with the second-highest total among Power Five freshmen. Robinson was also one of only two FBS players to total 400 receiving yards, 300 rushing yards and 200 kickoff return yards in 2019.

Robinson led Nebraska in all-purpose yards (131) while starting his Husker debut against South Alabama. He had four carries for 21 yards, caught three passes for 33 yards and returned three kickoffs for 77 yards. Robinson totaled 44 yards from scrimmage the next week at Colorado and had three catches for 48 yards against Northern Illinois. He shined in his Big Ten debut at Illinois, scoring the first three touchdowns of his career. Robinson caught eight passes for 79 yards and two touchdowns against the Illini, while carrying the ball 19 times for 89 yards and one touchdown. For his efforts at Illinois, Robinson was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Week.

In his first game against a ranked opponent, Robinson had 10 offensive touches for 35 yards against No. 5 Ohio State. He enjoyed a career game against Northwestern, which earned him Big Ten Freshman-of-the-Week accolades for the second time in three weeks. Robinson caught seven passes for a career-high 123 yards against the Wildcats to post the most receiving yards in a game by a true freshman in school history. He also carried the ball seven times for 44 yards. Robinson flashed his big-play ability with a career-long 49-yard reception and a career-long 42-yard touchdown run.

At Minnesota, Robinson had two catches for 10 yards and six carries for 24 yards before an injury kept him out for more than half the game. Robinson returned from the injury with a big game against Indiana, when he led the Huskers with 83 rushing yards and was second with 71 receiving yards, totaling 154 yards from scrimmage. The next week at Purdue, Robinson had 123 all-purpose yards, including 75 yards from scrimmage (29 rushing, 46 receiving). Robinson eclipsed 1,000 all-purpose yards at Purdue, becoming the fourth Husker true freshman to total 1,000 all-purpose yards, joining an exclusive club that includes Ahman Green (1995), Ameer Abdullah (2011) and De'Mornay Pierson-El (2014).

Robinson missed the next two games with an injury and returned for the season finale at Iowa, although he was limited to just three carries for 14 yards before missing the second half due to injury.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (WESTERN HILLS HS)

Robinson was the consensus top player in Kentucky as a senior at Western Hills High School in Frankfort, winning the Paul Hornung Award in addition to being named Kentucky's Mr. Football and the Gatorade Kentucky Player of the Year. In addition to his state honors, Robinson was named one of five finalists for the 2019 All-American Bowl Player-of-the-Year award as the nation's most outstanding high school senior.

In his illustrious prep career, Robinson totaled 8,582 yards from scrimmage with 118 offensive touchdowns. On the ground, he gained 6,795 yards, averaging more than 11 yards per carry while scoring 97 rushing touchdowns. He was also a threat in the receiving game, catching 102 passes for 1,787 yards and 21 touchdowns. Robinson totaled 781 career points which ranks No. 2 all-time in Kentucky history.

As a senior in 2018, Robinson rushed for 1,973 yards and 30 touchdowns while catching 31 passes for 725 yards and 11 touchdowns. He also returned a pair of punts, one interception and one fumble for touchdowns, accounting for 45 touchdowns in 11 games. Robinson also threw a pair of touchdown passes. Defensively, Robinson had 113

Spielman became the first Husker with three 800-yard receiving seasons, as he owns three of the top 10 receiving seasons in school history. He posted four 100-yard receiving games in 2019, tying for the second-most 100-yard receiving games in a season in school history. Spielman averaged 18.3 yards per reception, the fourth-highest yards-per-catch average in Nebraska history among receivers with 40 receptions. Spielman was also Nebraska's top punt returner, averaging 8.0 yards per return, including a 76-yard touchdown.

Spielman recorded a pair of catches for 36 yards and had a 76-yard punt return touchdown against South Alabama. With his punt return touchdown - the second of his career - Spielman joined Johnny Rodgers and Niles Paul as the only Huskers to score a return touchdown (punt or kickoff) in three consecutive seasons. Spielman posted his fifth career 100-yard receiving game at Colorado, catching five passes for 112 yards and one touchdown. He opened the scoring with a 65-yard touchdown catch on Nebraska's opening drive, Spielman's sixth career touchdown covering 65 yards or longer.

He made four catches for 76 yards against Northern Illinois, including a 41-yard reception. At Illinois, Spielman set season highs with seven receptions for 160 yards, the third-highest receiving total of his career. Spielman was limited to a seven-yard reception against Ohio State, and he had two catches for 19 yards against Northwestern before suffering an injury that kept him out of the second half. Spielman returned from the injury to catch three passes for 59 yards at Minnesota, including a 51-yard reception.

Spielman caught five passes for 97 yards against Indiana, including a 45-yard reception. He totaled his third 100-yard receiving game of the season at Purdue, hauling in six passes for 123 yards. Spielman then had four catches for 71 yards against No. 15 Wisconsin, including a 23-yard touchdown. Spielman posted his fourth 100-yard receiving game of the season at Maryland, catching seven passes for 104 yards and a career-high-tying two touchdowns.

Spielman had 114 all-purpose yards at Maryland, giving him 1,000 all-purpose yards for the third straight season. He joined Ameer Abdullah as the only Huskers to have 1,000 all-purpose yards as a freshman, sophomore and junior. In the final game of the season, Spielman caught three passes against Iowa, including a 39-yard touchdown that marked his third consecutive game with a touchdown reception.

Following his junior season, Spielman has caught a pass in each of his 33 career games, a streak that ranks fourth in school history. He ranks third all-time at Nebraska in both receptions (170) and receiving yards (2,546), while ranking second in 100-yard receiving games (8), third in combined kick return touchdowns (3), seventh in punt return touchdowns (2) and eighth in receiving touchdowns (15).

Spielman put up impressive numbers and school records as a sophomore. Although he missed the final two games due to injury, Spielman was still impactful enough to earn third-team All-Big Ten recognition. He started each of the first 10 games and caught 66 passes for 818 yards and eight touchdowns. His 66 receptions ranked third in school history, while his eight touchdown catches were seventh and his 818 receiving yards ranked ninth. Spielman caught at least three passes in all 10 games in which he played.

Spielman had a school-record 209 receiving yards at Wisconsin, giving him the only two 200-yard receiving games in Nebraska history. Spielman also had 10 catches against Purdue, becoming the only wide receiver in Husker history with two career double-digit reception games. With a 77-yard punt return touchdown vs. Bethune-Cookman, Spielman became the eighth player in school history to have both a punt and kickoff return for a touchdown. Spielman ranked sixth nationally in punt return touchdowns in 2018 and was 16th in receptions per game (6.6).

Spielman flashed his big-play ability in the season opener against Colorado, hauling in a 57-yard touchdown catch. The next week against Troy, Spielman had six receptions for 45 yards, including a seven-yard touchdown. At No. 19 Michigan, Spielman had four receptions.

Spielman had a big performance against Purdue, catching 10 passes for 135 yards and two touchdowns. Spielman's two touchdown grabs were a career high, while the 10 receptions were the second-highest total of his career. With his then-season high of 135 receiving yards, Spielman eclipsed 1,000 career receiving yards. Spielman reached 1,000 receiving yards in his 15th career game, one game faster than Johnny Rodgers, who was the 1972 Heisman Trophy winner.

At No. 16 Wisconsin in the first game of October, Spielman caught nine passes for a school-record 209 yards, which ranked as the second-highest total by a Big Ten player during the 2018 season. Spielman hauled in a 75-yard touchdown in the third quarter for his longest catch of the season and his second career touchdown reception of 75 yards or longer. Fueled by his big receiving day, Spielman totaled 212 all-purpose yards against the Badgers, the third-highest total of his career. The next week at Northwestern, Spielman caught eight passes for 76 yards, including a 42-yard touchdown. He helped lead the Huskers to a win against Minnesota by catching eight passes for 77 yards, including a nine-yard touchdown. He recorded his 100th career catch against the Golden Gophers, becoming the first Husker to reach the milestone prior to his junior season.

Spielman played only the first half the next week against Bethune-Cookman, when he caught five passes for 72 yards. Although he saw his streak of five consecutive games with a touchdown catch snapped, Spielman returned a punt 77 yards for his first career punt return touchdown and Nebraska's first punt return touchdown since 2014. The next week at No. 8 Ohio State, Spielman caught six passes for 61 yards, including a 17-yard touchdown. The touchdown catch was his eighth of the season, tying the Nebraska sophomore record.

Spielman had seven catches for 71 yards against Illinois before suffering an injury in the second half. The injury cut his sophomore season two games short, as Spielman missed the Michigan State and Iowa games.

Spielman was one of the nation's top freshmen in 2017. After scoring on a 99-yard kickoff return against Arkansas State on his first career touch, Spielman went on to post the first 200-yard receiving game in Nebraska history and set Husker freshman records for receptions, receiving yards, 100-yard receiving games and all-purpose yards. He also ranked sixth in school history in kickoff return yards (669) and posted the then-seventh-best marks in Husker history in receiving yards (830) and receptions (55).

A freshman All-American, Spielman led all FBS freshmen with 830 receiving yards and 75.5 receiving yards per game, and he ranked second with 142.9 all-purpose yards per game and 669 kickoff return yards. Overall, Spielman ranked 13th nationally in all-purpose yards, 23rd in kickoff return yards and 40th in receiving yards per game. Spielman's 291 all-purpose yards at Minnesota were the 10th-highest total of any FBS player during the 2017 season and his then-school-record 200 receiving yards against No. 9 Ohio State were the 23rd-highest total of 2017.

Spielman garnered second-team All-Big Ten accolades as a wide receiver from Phil Steele, was a third-team selection by the league coaches and an honorable-mention pick from the media. As a kick returner, he was named an honorable-mention all-conference selection by the Big Ten coaches. He led the Big Ten in kickoff return yards and kick return average and was third in all-purpose yards and receiving yards per game.

In conference play, Spielman led the league in receiving yards per game (88.1), becoming just the second Big Ten freshman in more than 20 years to lead the league in that category. Spielman tied for second in the Big Ten with an average of 157.8 all-purpose yards per game in league play.

Spielman owned NU's longest kickoff return (99 yards), longest rush (40 yards) and second-longest reception (77 yards) of 2017. He averaged 17.1 yards per touch and had multiple catches in each of his 11 games, including 11 catches against Ohio State, a Nebraska freshman record.

After scoring on a 99-yard run on NU's first kickoff return of the year, Spielman also caught his first two career passes for 44 yards against Arkansas State, including a 35-yard grab. He caught two more passes the next week at Oregon before hauling in three passes for 52 yards in his first career start against Northern Illinois, when he also had a 50-yard kickoff return.

Spielman had five catches for 46 yards and his first career receiving touchdown in his Big Ten debut against Rutgers and had two catches for 25 yards at Illinois. Spielman totaled six catches for 79 yards against No. 9 Wisconsin. He set career highs with 11 catches for a school-record 200 yards the next week against No. 9 Ohio State, including a career-long 77-yard touchdown reception. His 11 catches were an NU freshman record and ranked third overall in Husker history. Spielman added six more catches for 70 yards at Purdue, and he totaled 195 all-purpose yards against Northwestern, including a career-long 40-yard run.

In his return to his home state, Spielman caught nine passes for 141 yards at Minnesota and added a career-high 150 kickoff returns yards to finish with 291 all-purpose yards, a Nebraska freshman record and the fifth-highest overall total in school history. The next week at No. 13 Penn State, Spielman had six receptions for 96 yards to finish with 375 receiving yards and 489 all-purpose yards in his three games against ranked opponents. Spielman was injured at Penn State and missed the season finale with Iowa.

Spielman redshirted and earned Scout Team Offensive MVP honors.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (EDEN PRAIRIE HS)

Spielman was the 2015 Minnesota Gatorade Player of the Year and the consensus choice as the top player in the state as a senior at Eden Prairie High School. Spielman helped Coach Mike Grant's team to an 11-1 record and a trip to the quarterfinals of the Class AAAAAA playoffs in 2015, rushing for 1,259 yards and averaging more than 12 yards per carry while scoring 19 rushing touchdowns. He also had 151 receiving yards and two touchdowns. Defensively, he had more than 100 tackles and a pair of interception returns for touchdowns. In addition to being the Minnesota 6A Player of the Year and the USA Today Minnesota Offensive Player of the Year, Spielman was a first-team all-state selection.

Spielman's game-breaking ability helped Eden Prairie to a perfect 13-0 record and a Class AAAAAA state title in 2014, with Spielman earning all-state honors. Spielman was also on the Eden Prairie varsity squad in 2013 when the team went 12-0 and captured a state title.

Spielman was ranked among the top three prospects in Minnesota by Rivals, ESPN and 247Sports. Each of the three services ranked him among the top 50 athlete prospects in the country. Spielman chose Nebraska over offers from Iowa, Iowa State, Michigan and Minnesota. He participated in the Semper Fi All-American Game.

Spielman was also a standout lacrosse player. He helped Eden Prairie to a pair of state titles and originally committed to play lacrosse at Ohio State.

Stoll started all 12 games at tight end for Nebraska in his sophomore season. He led the Husker tight ends with 21 receptions, 245 receiving yards and three touchdown catches, setting career highs in all three categories. Stoll also returned a pair of short kickoffs for 16 yards.

Stoll earned his second career start against Colorado and had one catch for four yards before adding a nine-yard reception against Troy. Against Purdue, he set career highs with four catches and 51 receiving yards, including a 33-yard catch that was the second-longest catch of his career. At No. 16 Wisconsin, Stoll caught a 12-yard touchdown pass for his first TD of the season and third of his career. The next week at Northwestern, Stoll caught three passes for 40 yards. Against Bethune-Cookman, Stoll hauled in a career-long 37-yard reception for his only catch of the game.

At No. 8 Ohio State, Stoll caught three passes - one shy of his career high - for 17 yards. He then caught a 12-yard touchdown pass against Illinois the next week. Stoll had two catches for 26 yards in the Huskers' win over Michigan State. He concluded his sophomore season with four catches for 37 yards at Iowa, tying his career high in receptions and catching a 4-yard touchdown pass.

Stoll played in all 12 games as a redshirt freshman, earning a start at Minnesota. He caught eight passes for 89 yards and two touchdowns, and he also saw action on special teams.

Stoll played in each of the first six games but did not have a reception. His 12-yard catch against No. 9 Ohio State marked his first career reception. Against Northwestern, Stoll set season highs with three catches for 41 yards, including a 32-yard touchdown grab that tied the game at 14 in the second quarter. The 32-yard touchdown marked Stoll's first career score and was his longest reception of the year. He followed that performance with another multi-catch effort, hauling in two passes for 21 yards at Minnesota. Stoll caught a three-yard pass for his second career touchdown at Penn State and ended his season with a 12-yard reception against Iowa.

Stoll redshirted in his first season in the program.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (REGIS JESUIT HS)

Stoll excelled as a tight end during his prep career at Regis Jesuit High School. As a senior, Stoll was a second-team all-state selection after catching 32 passes for 434 yards and six touchdowns for Coach Danny Filleman's team. Stoll's play helped Regis Jesuit to a 9-3 record and a trip to the quarterfinals of the Colorado 5A state playoffs.

Stoll also helped Regis Jesuit to a state quarterfinal appearance and a 10-2 record during his junior season. From his tight end position, Stoll caught 19 passes for 176 yards and four touchdowns. Stoll was also a factor in the passing game as a sophomore, helping his team to a 9-2 record and a state playoff appearance en route to all-conference honors.

Stoll was named a Blue-Grey All-American. He was ranked as the No. 3 prospect in Colorado by both Rivals.com and ESPN, while 247Sports ranked him as the fourth-best prospect in the state. ESPN ranked Stoll as the nation's No. 9 tight end, while Rivals, Scout and 247Sports all listed him among the top 40 players at the position.

Stoll only visited Nebraska, but had numerous offers including Air Force, Colorado, Colorado State, New Mexico, Texas and Wyoming. Stoll was a second-team academic all-state selection, and he also competed in basketball and track and field for Regis Jesuit High.

An injury kept Kade Warner out of the first four games of the season, but he returned to play in seven games with five starts as a sophomore. He caught eight passes for a career-high 101 yards, averaging 12.6 yards per reception.

Warner made his season debut against Ohio State and recorded his first two catches of the season at Minnesota, including a career-long 26-yard reception. Warner earned the start against Indiana, although he did not record a reception. He also started the next week at Purdue and caught an 18-yard pass. Warner caught two passes for 14 yards in a start at Maryland. He started again in the season finale with Iowa and had two catches for 31 yards, including a 20-yard reception.

Warner started seven of the final nine games and had at least one reception in six of those seven starts. On the season, Warner caught 17 passes for 95 yards, ranking sixth on the team in receptions despite not playing the first three games.

Warner made his Husker debut with a start against Purdue, and he caught two passes for 16 yards. He started again the next week at No. 16 Wisconsin, catching a six-yard pass in the first quarter. Warner had two catches for 11 yards at Northwestern and had a three-yard reception in the Huskers' win over Minnesota. He set a career high with four receptions for 20 yards in the Huskers' win over Illinois. He then had three catches for 23 yards against Michigan State. Warner wrapped up his season by again catching four passes for 16 yards at Iowa.

Warner redshirted in 2017 after suffering an injury during fall camp.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (DESERT MOUNTAIN HS)

Warner was a standout wide receiver for Head Coach David Sedmak and Desert Mountain High School in Scottsdale, Arizona. Warner scored 39 touchdowns in three seasons for the Wolves, including 35 receiving touchdowns and finished with just under 3,000 all-purpose yards.

In his senior season, Warner broke the state record for most career catches in 11-man football, with 241 receptions. He passed former Desert Mountain receiver and current NFL tight end, Mark Andrews, who finished his career with 207 catches. A two-time all-state receiver, Warner was named the 2016 Arizona Wide Receiver of the Year and the 2017 District Player of the Year.

Kade's father, Kurt, was Desert Mountain's offensive coordinator. Kade also competed in basketball, track and lacrosse at Desert Mountain High School. Kade chose Nebraska over a scholarship offer from the University of San Diego and preferred walk-on offers from several schools, including Arizona State, UCLA, Northwestern and Iowa.

PERSONAL

Kade was born on Sept. 29, 1998, and is the son of Kurt and Brenda Warner. He is majoring in fisheries and wildlife. Warner has volunteered his time with Husker Heroes, the Nebraska Football Road Race and numerous local hospital and school visits.

His father Kurt was a quarterback for Northern Iowa from 1989-93. As an undrafted free agent, the elder Warner spent time with the Arena Football League (Iowa Barnstormers), before signing with the St. Louis Rams in 1998. He led the Rams to Super Bowl XXXIV following the 1999 NFL season, where they beat the Tennessee Titans and Warner earned the MVP award. He also played for the New York Giants (2004) and the Arizona Cardinals (2005-09), before retiring. Kurt Warner was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2017.

- Academic All-Big Ten (2017, 2018, 2019)
- Five-Time Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll

Boe Wilson started every game at right guard in his junior season, stretching his streak to 21 consecutive starts at the position. Wilson was a key part of a Husker offensive line that helped Nebraska rank third in the Big Ten in rushing offense and fifth in total offense.

Wilson was a major reason Nebraska produced its most yards ever in a Big Ten Conference game (690 yards at Illinois), while tying its most points in a Big Ten game (54 at Maryland). Against Illinois, the Huskers totaled 300 yards rushing and 300 yards passing for just the second time in school history en route to gaining the most yards in any conference game since 2007. Nebraska also set a school record for team completion percentage against Indiana (87.0 percent).

Wilson played in all 12 games as a sophomore, starting the final nine contests at right guard while earning honorable-mention All-Big Ten accolades. In his nine starts at right guard, Nebraska averaged 490.3 yards of total offense per game, helping the Huskers rank 25th nationally in total offense in 2018. Nebraska posted its most yards (659 against Minnesota) and highest point total (54 against Illinois) in a Big Ten Conference game since the Huskers joined the league in 2011. The line helped Stanley Morgan Jr. become the first 1,000-yard receiver in school history, while Adrian Martinez averaged a school-record 295.1 yards of total offense per game in 2018. Wilson's blocking also helped Devine Ozigbo rush for more than 1,000 yards.

Wilson earned the first start of his career against Purdue, when the Huskers totaled 582 yards of offense. The next week at No. 16 Wisconsin, NU again totaled more than 500 yards. Against Minnesota, Nebraska rolled up 659 yards, the Huskers' highest total since 2014. In the final game of a school-record streak of seven consecutive games gaining at least 450 yards, Wilson and the line helped Nebraska gain 606 yards in a win over Illinois.

Wilson appeared in all 12 games as a redshirt freshman, seeing action on the offensive line, on special teams and even as a goal-line fullback late in the season. He was most utilized as a shield protector on Nebraska's punt unit. Wilson also added depth to an offensive line that helped Nebraska rank second in the Big Ten in passing yards per game and throw for 3,330 yards, the fifth-highest total in school history. The line protected Tanner Lee as he threw for 3,143 yards in his only season as a Husker, while Stanley Morgan Jr. set a school record with 986 receiving yards and JD Spielman posted the first 200-yard receiving game in school history against No. 9 Ohio State.

Wilson spent time with the top offensive unit in preseason practice before coaches elected to utilize his redshirt season.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (LEE'S SUMMIT WEST HS)

Wilson was a three-year standout for Lee's Summit West and Coach Royce Boehm. As a senior, Wilson's play helped Lee's Summit West to a trip to the second round of the Class 6 state playoffs. Wilson's blocking helped the offense top 30 points in six games during the 2015 season. Wilson was named to the USA Today Missouri all-state team.

Wilson also helped his school to a state playoff appearance in 2014, when Lee's Summit West posted a 6-4 mark. Lee's Summit had a powerful offense in 2014, averaging nearly 375 yards of total offense per game. His play as a junior earned Wilson first-team all-conference honors.

Wilson was a second-team all-state selection as a sophomore in 2013 when Lee's Summit West went 13-1 and captured the Class 5 state title.

Wilson participated in the Under Armour All-American game in January of 2016. He was ranked among the top 10 offensive guards in the country by both Scout.com and ESPN. He was also listed as a top 10 prospect in the state by both ESPN and 247Sports. Wilson also threw the shot put and discus. Wilson did not take any other visits, but had a strong group of offers including Indiana, Kansas, Louisville and Purdue.

allowed its fewest passing yards per game (200.8) since the 2012 season. For his efforts, Bootle garnered All-Big Ten recognition for the second straight season, as he was an honorable-mention selection.

Bootle made two tackles and broke up a pair of passes in the season opener against South Alabama. At Colorado, he had three tackles and one breakup, and Bootle made one tackle against Northern Illinois. Bootle had one pass breakup at Illinois, and he added another breakup against Northwestern, when he had two tackles. Bootle recorded a season-high six tackles against Indiana, one shy of his career high. He matched that performance with six tackles the next week at Purdue, where he started at safety for the first time in his career. Bootle also started at safety the next game against No. 15 Wisconsin, recording five tackles and his first career quarterback hurry. Bootle made his third straight start at safety at Maryland, where he forced a fumble that led to a Husker takeaway and broke up a pass in addition to recording a pair of tackles. In the season finale against Iowa, Bootle had three tackles.

Bootle finished his junior season with a streak of 24 consecutive starts.

Bootle started all 12 games at cornerback in his sophomore season, and he put up impressive numbers. Bootle posted a career-high 39 tackles in 2018 and also forced the first fumble of his career. He was a disruptive force in the passing game, as he broke up 15 passes, the second-highest total in school history and the most by a Husker since Fabian Washington also had 15 breakups in 2004. Bootle's 15 breakups led the Big Ten and ranked ninth nationally, while his average of 1.3 passes defended per game ranked 16th nationally. Bootle totaled 39 tackles and 15 breakups after entering the season with 15 career tackles and no career breakups. For his efforts, Bootle was a third-team All-Big Ten selection, becoming the first Husker cornerback to be honored by the conference since 2015.

Bootle recorded three tackles in the season opener against Colorado with his first two career pass breakups, and he had one tackle against Troy, when the Huskers limited the Trojans to 110 passing yards. He added four tackles at No. 19 Michigan and had a career-high five pass breakups, the third-highest total by an FBS player in 2018. Bootle's five breakups at Michigan ranked third in school history and tied for the most pass breakups by a Husker in a Big Ten Conference game. He then had three breakups the next week vs. Purdue while totaling a career-high seven tackles. Bootle made five tackles at No. 16 Wisconsin and tallied four tackles the next week at Northwestern.

In Nebraska's win over Minnesota, Bootle had three pass breakups, his third game of the season with at least three breakups. Bootle added another breakup the next week vs. Bethune-Cookman, while also totaling three tackles. At No. 8 Ohio State in the first game of November, Bootle made three tackles and broke up one pass. He had three tackles in Nebraska's win over Illinois and four tackles in the Huskers' victory over Michigan State when MSU quarterback Rocky Lombardi completed only 15-of-41 pass attempts. Bootle closed his sophomore season with one tackle at Iowa, when the Huskers held the Hawkeyes to 153 passing yards.

Bootle appeared in all 12 games as a redshirt freshman, including his first career start against No. 9 Ohio State. He primarily lined up at cornerback, but earned the start at safety against the Buckeyes. Bootle was a versatile contributor for the Big Red on both defense and special teams, totaling 15 tackles on the season with one tackle for loss.

In his career debut, Bootle recorded a pair of stops against Arkansas State in the season opener. He followed that performance with four tackles at Oregon. Bootle's third game with multiple tackles came in his start against Ohio State, when he also recorded his first career tackle for loss. Against Iowa in the regular-season finale, Bootle totaled two tackles, marking his fourth game with multiple tackles.

Bootle redshirted and worked on the scout team in his first season.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (SOUTHRIDGE HS)

Bootle was a standout for Coach Billy Rolle at Miami's Southridge High School. As a senior in 2015, Bootle helped Southridge to an 8-5 record and a trip to the second round of the Florida Class 8A playoffs. Bootle totaled 64 tackles and two interceptions from his cornerback position, while also causing three fumbles and recovering two others.

Bootle was also a standout at Killian High School in 2014, helping the team to a 14-1 record and a trip to the state semifinals. Bootle was also a track standout and posted top times of 10.64 in the 100 meters and 21.36 in the 200. He finished third in the 200 at the state track meet.

Bootle was ranked among the nation's top 60 cornerbacks by ESPN and was listed as one of the top 200 prospects in Florida by 247Sports. Bootle only visited Nebraska, but had numerous offers, including Illinois, Temple and UCF.

PERSONAL

Dicaprio was born on Sept. 17, 1997, and is the son of Dwight and Caliope Bootle. He earned his degree in management in December of 2019, graduating in less than four years. Bootle has volunteered with the Nebraska Football Road Race, Husker Heroes and local hospital visits.

CAREER HONORS

- Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll (Fall 2016)

Marquel Dismuke started every game at safety in his junior season, totaling a career-high 67 tackles, the most of any member of the Husker secondary and tied for third on the team overall.

He made four tackles in the season opener against South Alabama, including his first career TFL. The next week at Colorado, Dismuke totaled six solo tackles. He had seven tackles at Illinois while recording the first three pass breakups of his career. With Nebraska leading by four, Dismuke broke up passes on third and fourth down on the Illini's final drive to preserve the win.

Dismuke added eight tackles against No. 5 Ohio State the next week. He followed that performance with seven tackles against Northwestern, before totaling a career-high 10 tackles at Minnesota, including his second TFL. Dismuke tied for the team lead with six tackles against Indiana and added seven tackles at Purdue, giving him at least six tackles in each of the first six Big Ten Conference games. Dismuke registered two tackles against No. 15 Wisconsin and had one tackle, a fumble recovery and a breakup at Maryland. He tied for the team lead with six tackles against Iowa.

In addition to being a productive run-stopping safety, Dismuke was a key member of a Husker secondary that held six opponents to fewer than 170 passing yards in 2019, including three under 100 yards. Dismuke's play helped Nebraska allow its fewest passing yards per game (200.8) since the 2012 season.

Dismuke appeared in seven games as a sophomore in 2018, seeing time on both defense and special teams. Dismuke totaled nine tackles, including four special teams tackles. Dismuke made his season debut against Troy and posted two tackles at No. 19 Michigan the next week. Dismuke added tackles on kickoff coverage against both Purdue and No. 16 Wisconsin. He totaled a season-high three tackles - all solo stops on defense - at Northwestern. He was a force on special teams in the Huskers' win over Illinois, making a pair of tackles on kickoff coverage and blocking a punt that resulted in a safety. Dismuke's block marked the first blocked punt by a Husker since 2015. Dismuke concluded his sophomore season with a tackle on kickoff coverage at Iowa.

2017 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Dismuke appeared in all 12 games and made one start as a contributor in the Husker secondary and on special teams. Dismuke did not record a tackle in the first five games, but he did recover a fumbled punt to set up Nebraska's first touchdown against Northern Illinois. Dismuke made his first career tackles against No. 9 Wisconsin, finishing with a career-high nine tackles against the Badgers. He added six tackles against No. 9 Ohio State the next week before totaling three stops at Purdue.

Dismuke tallied seven tackles in his first career start against Northwestern, then had six total tackles and a career-high five solo stops at Minnesota. Each of Dismuke's 34 tackles came over the final seven games of the season, including four games with six or more tackles. Thirty-one of his tackles came at safety, and he added three tackles on special teams.

Dismuke redshirted and worked on the scout team.

JoJo Domann made the switch to outside linebacker as a junior after playing primarily at safety in his first three years on campus. Domann played extensively in every game as a junior, starting six games and recording a career-high 52 tackles. He ranked second on the team with 11 TFLs, six pass breakups and two forced fumbles and fourth with 2.5 sacks, all of which were career highs.

He had an impressive start to the year with four tackles, two tackles for loss and one breakup in the opener against South Alabama. He added two solo tackles the next week at Colorado before recording six tackles, a TFL and a pass breakup against Northern Illinois. Domann played a big role in Nebraska's win at Illinois in the Big Ten opener, totaling five tackles and tying his then-career high with two TFLs and 1.0 sack. In addition to a 10-yard sack, Domann also forced his first fumble of the season against the Illini and had the first quarterback hurry of his career.

Domann earned his first start of the season against No. 5 Ohio State and finished with four tackles, including a half-sack against the Buckeyes. He started again the next week against Northwestern and had a then-career-high seven tackles, while tying his career high with two TFLs and adding one pass breakup. After making one tackle at Minnesota, Domann tied for the team lead with six stops against Indiana, including one tackle for loss. The next week at Purdue, Domann had a career-high eight tackles, including one TFL. Against No. 15 Wisconsin, Domann recorded three tackles and forced a fumble that was recovered by the Huskers to set up a touchdown. At Maryland, Domann had a sack and a pass breakup in the Huskers' 54-7 win. Domann concluded his junior season with four tackles and a career-high two breakups against Iowa.

Domann saw action at both safety and outside linebacker, starting two games at outside linebacker in November. He finished with 19 tackles while recording his first career tackle for loss and first career sack. Domann also tied for the team lead with two forced fumbles, and he recovered one fumble and broke up a pair of passes.

Domann played in the season opener against Colorado and had a tackle on special teams but missed the next four games with an injury. He returned in a special teams role at Northwestern and saw action on special teams and defense in the win over Minnesota. Against Bethune-Cookman, Domann had one tackle, a forced fumble and the first pass breakup of his career. Domann then earned his first career start the next week at No. 8 Ohio State and had a career-high seven tackles - including a seven-yard sack - while forcing a fumble and breaking up a pass for the second straight game. Domann started again the next week against Illinois, and he made five tackles and recovered a fumble. In a win over Michigan State, Domann had four stops, his third straight game with at least four tackles.

Domann sat out his sophomore season as a redshirt with an injury.

2016 (FRESHMAN)

Domann saw action in every game, primarily on special teams coverage units. He had eight tackles, all on special teams, with five solo stops. He also forced a fumble on kickoff coverage in the Music City Bowl against Tennessee. His eight special teams tackles ranked third among the Huskers. Domann also added depth at safety.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (PINE CREEK HS)

One of the top prospects in Colorado, Domann helped Pine Creek to a 38-3 record in his final three seasons, including two Class 4A state titles.

Domann helped Pine Creek to a 12-1 record as a senior in 2015, when he was named the Prep Colorado Player of the Year and an All-Colorado pick. Domann rushed 37 times for 404 yards and 11 touchdowns and caught 33 passes for 674 yards and nine touchdowns. He also added 34 tackles, including 4.5 tackles for loss, and averaged 43 yards per punt, made three field goals and connected on 34-of-37 extra-point tries.

As a junior in 2014, Domann helped Pine Creek to a Class 4A state title and a 14-0 record. He had 49 receptions for 797 yards and 10 touchdowns, while also rushing for 205 yards and one touchdown. On defense, Domann recorded 61 tackles, while adding seven TFLs and seven interceptions. He made 59-of-60 PAT attempts and connected on 7-of-8 field goals and was an All-Colorado selection. As a sophomore, Domann had 44 tackles and earned first-team all-area honors.

Domann was ranked as the top player in Colorado and among the top 350 players nationally by 247Sports, while Rivals listed him as the No. 2 prospect in the state. Domann, who was selected to play in the Semper Fi all-star game, also visited Colorado and had numerous offers.

PERSONAL

The son of Craig and Teddi Domann, JoJo was born on July 28, 1997. He is majoring in advertising and public relations. Domann has volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race, School is Cool Week, the Nebraska 150 Charter Day event, Husker Heroes and local hospital visits.

Miller added four fumbles caused, two fumble recoveries and four breakups.

Miller was a first-team Associated Press Class 6A all-state selection and was named to the USA Today Indiana all-state team. He was also an all-conference pick.

Miller posted similar numbers as a junior, helping the Royals to the state playoffs. He totaled 66 tackles, including 10 tackles for loss and five sacks. He added 22 quarterback hurries, four breakups, caused three fumbles and blocked a punt. Miller first made an impact as a sophomore, contributing to a 7-3 season for Hamilton Southeastern. He had 59 tackles, including 12 tackles for loss, six sacks and a fumble caused.

Miller was ranked among the top 10 players in Indiana by Rivals, which also listed him as the nation's No. 34 outside linebacker. Miller also visited Purdue and Indiana and had numerous offers including Arizona State, Duke, Georgia Tech, North Carolina State, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, Illinois, Louisville and West Virginia. He also played baseball at Hamilton Southeastern.

Caleb Tannor played extensively in every game as a sophomore, earning the first four starts of his career. Tannor totaled 17 tackles, including four stops against South Alabama and a six-yard sack at Colorado, the second sack of his career. Taylor had four tackles against No. 5 Ohio State, including an eight-yard sack. Against Northwestern, Tannor tallied a career-high five tackles, while also setting a career high with two tackles for loss, including a half sack.

2018 (FRESHMAN)

Tannor earned immediate playing time as a true freshman in 2018, appearing in all 12 games as a contributor on both special teams and defense. Tannor totaled 10 tackles, including nine tackles on defense and his first career tackle on kickoff coverage in the season opener against Colorado. Tannor recorded a tackle in nine of Nebraska's 12 games, including a career-high two tackles in the Huskers' win over Illinois. He added his first career sack against the Illini, which also marked his first career tackle for loss.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (MILLER GROVE HS)

Tannor starred as a defensive end for Miller Grove High School in Georgia. Tannor was a standout pass rusher for Coach Justin Larmond at Miller Grove. He was named a first-team all-state selection in Class AAAAA, Georgia's largest classification, by both the Georgia Sports Writers Association and the Atlanta Journal-Constitution.

Tannor was tabbed as a four-star recruit by Rivals, ESPN and 247Sports. Rivals listed him as the No. 26 linebacker prospect in the country, while he came in at No. 19 among defensive ends in the 247Sports Composite rankings. Originally a Georgia commit, Tannor spurned offers from several SEC schools before choosing the Huskers on signing day in February. He also visited Auburn and Florida and had offers from Alabama, Florida State, Georgia, LSU and Tennessee, among many others. Tannor was one of 88 high school players nationally selected to play in the Offense-Defense All-American Bowl.

Cam Taylor-Britt was a versatile and productive member of the Husker secondary in 2019, earning honorable-mention All-Big Ten recognition. He played in 11 of 12 games with 10 starts, missing the Purdue game due to illness. He started seven games at safety and three at cornerback, lining up at multiple positions to total 45 tackles, four TFLs, 1.5 sacks, three interceptions, two pass breakups and four forced fumbles. His four forced fumbles ranked third nationally and tied for the most by a Husker since 1999. Taylor-Britt led the team in forced fumbles and tied for the team lead in interceptions.

He began his sophomore campaign with a career game against South Alabama, totaling five tackles against the Jaguars, including the first two TFLs of his career and his first career sack. Taylor-Britt also forced a pair of turnovers, intercepting the first pass of his career - which he returned 48 yards - and forcing a fumble on his sack which was recovered by teammate Alex Davis in the end zone for a touchdown. Taylor-Britt earned his first career start the next week at Colorado and again had five tackles while forcing a career-high two fumbles, one of which was recovered by Nebraska. Taylor-Britt had one tackle and one pass breakup against Northern Illinois before leaving the game in the second quarter with an injury.

He returned from the injury to start the next week at Illinois, finishing with three tackles, one breakup and his second career interception. Taylor-Britt totaled a career-high seven tackles against No. 5 Ohio State, including one tackle for loss. He had five tackles in the win over Northwestern, recording one TFL and forcing one fumble, before making six stops against both Minnesota and Indiana. After missing the Purdue game, Taylor-Britt returned to start at corner against No. 15 Wisconsin and recorded five tackles. He also started at corner at Maryland and had two tackles. In the season finale at Iowa, Taylor-Britt registered four tackles and one pass breakup, but his biggest impact came when he intercepted a pass and returned it 38 yards for a touchdown.

Taylor-Britt played in 11 games as a true freshman. A converted high school quarterback, Taylor-Britt contributed on both defense and special teams, totaling 12 tackles, including eight on defense. Taylor-Britt had three pass breakups on the season, and he also recovered a fumble as a member of Nebraska's punt coverage team.

Taylor-Britt was the lone true freshman to see action on defense in the season opener against Colorado, recording his first career tackle. He then recovered a fumbled punt against Troy, setting up a Husker field goal. At No. 19 Michigan, Taylor-Britt recorded his second career tackle and first on special teams. After missing the Purdue game, Taylor-Britt returned with a two-tackle performance - the first multi-tackle game of his career - at No. 16 Wisconsin that also included the first pass breakup of his career. The next week at Northwestern, Taylor-Britt had another breakup and a solo tackle.

He saw significant action in the secondary against Minnesota and posted three tackles. He matched that effort with three tackles the next week against Bethune-Cookman. Taylor-Britt made an impact in Nebraska's win over Michigan State with a critical pass breakup on third down in the third quarter of the Huskers' come-from-behind victory. He added a tackle on kickoff coverage in the final game of the season at Iowa.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (PARK CROSSING HS)

Taylor-Britt is a member of the Husker secondary, but he was one of the most prolific quarterbacks in the state of Alabama in 2017. Taylor-Britt put up huge numbers for Park Crossing High School as a senior in 2017. He amassed 2,496 yards of total offense and accounted for 30 total touchdowns, throwing for 1,466 yards and 16 touchdowns and adding 1,030 rushing yards and 14 touchdowns on the ground. His play helped the Thunderbirds to a 10-2 record and the second round of the Class 6A state playoffs. Following the season, Taylor-Britt was named an athlete on the Alabama Sports Writers Association Class 6A All State First Team.

Taylor-Britt was listed among the nation's top 60 athletes in the 247Sports Composite rankings, while ESPN listed him among the nation's top 80 wide receiver prospects. Taylor-Britt also visited Auburn and held more than a dozen scholarship offers.

PERSONAL

Cam is the son of Courtney and Darrell Britt and he was born on Oct. 15, 1999. He is majoring in child, youth and family studies. Taylor-Britt has volunteered with Husker Heroes, the Nebraska Football Road Race, the Malone Center and local hospital visits.

- Tom Osborne Citizenship Team (2018, 2019)

Austin Allen played in every game as a sophomore, including the first five starts of his career (Colorado, Illinois, Northwestern, Maryland, Iowa). He caught seven passes for 83 yards, five more receptions than he had as a redshirt freshman. Allen posted his first catch of the season with an eight-yard reception in the season opener against South Alabama, and he had a career-high two catches against No. 5 Ohio State. Allen hauled in a then-season-long 24-yard reception against Northwestern. He added a nine-yard catch against Indiana and had a five-yard reception against No. 15 Wisconsin. Allen had his longest reception of the season and second-longest of his career with a 30-yard catch at Maryland.

Allen also made significant contributions in a win over Northern Illinois even though he did not have a catch. He recovered a fumble on special teams to set up a Husker touchdown and had a tackle to stuff a fake punt attempt short of the first-down line.

Allen played in all 12 games as a redshirt freshman as a key member of the tight end corps. Along with adding perimeter blocking for a Husker run game that was the third-most improved attack in the country, Allen caught two passes for 54 yards in 2018. He hauled in a 13-yard reception vs. Bethune-Cookman for his first career catch before adding a career-long 41-yard reception the next week at No. 8 Ohio State. Allen's catch at Ohio State marked the longest reception by a Husker tight end in three seasons.

2017 (REDSHIRT)

Allen sat out as a redshirt in his first season in the program.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (AURORA HS)

Allen was regarded as the consensus top prospect in the state of Nebraska in the 2017 recruiting class. A three-time first-team all-district selection, Allen had his senior season limited by injury. Before being injured, Allen showed his skills on both sides of the ball for Coach Kyle Peterson by catching five passes and making five tackles and two sacks.

In his junior season, Allen starred on both offense and defense. He caught 41 passes for 507 yards and eight touchdowns, helping his team to a 12-1 record and a Class B runner-up finish. Allen also made 51 tackles, including five tackles for loss and had five interceptions from his linebacker position. Allen earned first-team Class B all-state honors as a linebacker from both the Omaha World-Herald and Lincoln Journal Star. Allen also saw significant time as a sophomore, catching 14 passes and helping his team to a state playoff berth.

On the basketball court, Allen was a first-team Class B all-state pick as a junior, averaging better than 15 points per game. He was an honorable-mention all-state choice as a sophomore.

In addition to being the top ranked player in Nebraska, Allen was ranked among the nation's top 25 tight ends by both Scout and ESPN. He also had offers from Iowa, Iowa State, UCLA and UCF.

PERSONAL

Austin is the son of Andrew and Renae Allen, and he was born on Nov. 10, 1998. Austin's father was a walk-on for the football team in 1981, before transferring to Doane College. Allen is majoring in mechanized systems management. He has volunteered his time with the FCA, Husker Heroes, the Nebraska Football Road Race and local hospital visits.

Broc Bando played in all 12 games as a sophomore. In addition to playing on special teams in every game, Bando saw his first career action on the offensive line by playing left tackle against Northern Illinois. He also saw significant playing time on the line against Minnesota, Indiana, Wisconsin and Maryland.

Bando added depth to the Husker offensive line as a redshirt freshman in 2018, but he did not appear in a game.

2017 (REDSHIRT)

Bando redshirted in his first season in the program.

(LINCOLN SOUTHEAST HS/IMG ACADEMY)

Bando was part of one of the nation's top prep teams at IMG Academy. Playing for Coach Kevin Wright, Bando was a standout at both offensive guard and tackle, helping the Ascenders to an 11-0 record in 2016. IMG Academy finished the year ranked No. 3 in the nation in the USA Today prep rankings. Behind a strong offensive line, IMG Academy averaged nearly 390 yards per game and scored better than 35 points per contest.

Bando was also part of a perfect season at IMG Academy in 2015, as the school posted a 9-0 record and was ranked among the nation's top 10 prep teams. Bando began his career at Lincoln Southeast in 2014, when he had 30 tackles and two sacks as a defensive lineman and earned honorable-mention All-City accolades from the Lincoln Journal Star. Bando also threw the shot put as a freshman and sophomore at Southeast.

Bando was ranked as one of the nation's top 50 offensive guards in the 247Sports composite rankings and among the top linemen in Florida. Bando had offers from numerous schools, including Louisville, Mississippi State, Georgia, Georgia Tech and Kansas State before selecting the Huskers.

2019 (MEDICAL HARDSHIP)

Christian Gaylord suffered a season-ending injury prior to the 2019 season. He received a medical hardship and a sixth year of eligibility to return to Nebraska in 2020.

2018 (JUNIOR)

Gaylord appeared in 10 games as a junior, earning playing time on the offensive line and on NU's field goal and extra-point units. On offense, Gaylord helped the Huskers rank 25th nationally in total offense in a year where Nebraska set a school record with seven consecutive games gaining at least 450 yards. On special teams, Gaylord helped protect freshman Barret Pickering, who made 14-of-18 field-goal attempts, including his final 10 attempts, and was 40-of-41 on extra-point tries.

2017 (SOPHOMORE)

Gaylord appeared in 10 games as a sophomore, working his way into the offensive line rotation in addition to his work on Nebraska's punt shield, field goal and PAT units. Offensively, Gaylord helped Nebraska rank second in the Big Ten in passing (277.5 yards per game) and throw for the fifth-most yards in school history (3,330). On special teams, his blocking helped Caleb Lightbourn rank sixth in the league in punting, and the Huskers allowed only one blocked kick on the season to rank 27th nationally in that category.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Gaylord added depth at offensive tackle and played in all 13 games as a blocker on Nebraska's place-kicking unit.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Gaylord redshirted and worked on the scout team.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (BALDWIN CITY HS)

Gaylord was a two-way standout for Coach Mike Berg at Baldwin City High School, helping his team to a 6-4 record and a Class 4A state playoff appearance. Gaylord helped pave the way for Baldwin City to rush for nearly 2,900 yards. On defense, he made 47 tackles and had two sacks.

Gaylord was a first-team Class 4A all-state pick by VarsityKansas.com, was named to the Lawrence Journal-World's All-Area team and was an All-Simone Team pick. He also earned All-Frontier League honors on both sides of the ball.

Gaylord earned Class 4A all-state honors as an offensive lineman as a junior when Baldwin City had an 11-1 record and reached the state quarterfinals. He was also a member of the prestigious All-Simone team.

Baldwin City also reached the state playoffs during Gaylord's sophomore season in 2012, as Gaylord earned all-conference honors. Gaylord also started for the varsity as a freshman.

Gaylord was ranked as the top prospect in Kansas by 247Sports and the No. 2 player in the state by Rivals.com. Gaylord played in the Blue-Grey All-American Bowl at AT&T Stadium in Texas. Gaylord was also a basketball standout, averaging 19.0 points and 7.3 rebounds as a senior.

Gaylord only visited NU but had numerous offers including Kansas State, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio State, Oklahoma State and Texas.

PERSONAL

Christian was born on Dec. 19, 1996, and is the son of Holly and the late Scott Gaylord. He earned his degree in communication studies in December of 2019. Gaylord has volunteered with Husker Heroes, the Nebraska Football Road Race, Backpack Food distribution and several school and hospital visits.

OMAHA, NEB. | BURKE HS

Chris Hickman played in four games in 2019, earning playing time at both tight end and wide receiver while preserving his redshirt season. He made his debut on special teams in Nebraska's win over Northwestern, and Hickman saw the first offensive snaps of his career at Purdue. In addition to his tight end duties, Hickman also began working at wide receiver in November, and he played more than half of Nebraska's offensive snaps at Maryland, recording the first catch of his career. Hickman also saw action in the season finale against Iowa.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (OMAHA BURKE HS)

Hickman was one of two members of the 2018 Class A state champion Omaha Burke team to join the Nebraska program in the 2019 recruiting class. He was also one of five in-state scholarship signees in the class, the largest group of homegrown scholarship signees since 2008.

Hickman provided a big receiving target for Coach Paul Limongi's team, and Hickman also excelled on defense. In 2018, Hickman caught 19 passes for 421 yards and four touchdowns, averaging better than 22 yards per reception. Defensively, he had 39 tackles, 10.5 tackles for loss, 3.5 sacks, two interceptions, four pass breakups and caused two fumbles. Hickman helped Burke to a perfect 13-0 record in 2018. Hickman earned Omaha World-Herald All-Nebraska and Lincoln Journal Star Super-State honors as a defensive lineman in 2018. It marked the second straight year he claimed those accolades, after also being selected as a defensive lineman in 2017.

Hickman caught 24 passes for 575 yards and eight touchdowns as a junior. On defense, he had 46 tackles, 13 tackles for loss and six sacks from his defensive end spot. He also had four interceptions, five pass breakups and caused four fumbles. Hickman caught 15 passes for 320 yards and seven touchdowns as a sophomore. His production earned Hickman honorable-mention all-state recognition.

Hickman was regarded as one of the top three prospects in Nebraska by both Rivals and 247Sports, while 247Sports ranked him among the nation's top 20 tight ends. Hickman was also a member of the Bulldogs' varsity basketball team as a sophomore and junior. He chose Nebraska over numerous offers including Indiana, Iowa, Iowa State, Kansas State, LSU, Minnesota, Purdue and Wisconsin among others.

ORADELL, N.J. | BERGEN CATHOLIC HS

Rahmir Johnson played in four games as a true freshman in 2019, playing in the maximum number of games while still preserving a season of eligibility by redshirting. Johnson gained 64 yards on 21 carries with one touchdown, and he also had one catch for 12 yards. Johnson carried the ball three times for nine yards in his career debut against Northern Illinois. He also saw action in the backfield against Northwestern and Purdue, although he did not have a carry in either game. Johnson played a large role in Nebraska's 54-7 win at Maryland, gaining 55 yards on 18 carries, including a one-yard touchdown run for his first career score. Johnson also had a 12-yard reception at Maryland for his first career catch.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (BERGEN CATHOLIC HS)

Johnson rushed for more than 2,300 yards in his career as a state champion at Bergen Catholic High School in New Jersey, where he was one of the nation's top running back prospects.

Johnson led Bergen Catholic to a 10-2 record and state runner-up finish as a senior in 2018, when he was named a third-team all-state selection and a first-team pick among non-public schools. Johnson ran for 1,334 yards and scored 12 total touchdowns, becoming the first Crusader to rush for 1,000 yards in a season since 2009. Johnson had seven 100-yard rushing games as a senior and averaged 11.2 yards per game. He was the USA Today Super 25 national star of the week after rushing for 130 yards in the Crusaders' 34-22 win against No. 5 Grayson (Ga.) High School. That performance helped Johnson win the overall Super 25 Top Star award as the best performer among the 15 national weekly award winners.

He rushed for 555 yards and six touchdowns on 90 carries as a junior, when Bergen Catholic won the state title. Johnson also caught 11 passes for 97 yards and two touchdowns and had 23 kickoff returns for 428 yards as a junior. He rushed for 462 yards and three touchdowns on 86 carries as a sophomore.

Johnson was also a standout on the track at Bergen Catholic, clocking career bests of 10.50 in the 100-meter dash and 21.46 in the 200-meter dash. One of the fastest runners in the state, Johnson won sectional titles in the 100-meter dash each of his last three seasons and was third at the 2018 NJSIAA Championships. He won a sectional title in the 200 meters in 2017, when he also finished fourth in the long jump. Indoors, Johnson finished second in the 200 meters at the 2018 NJSIAA Meet of Champions and second in the 55-meter dash at the 2017 NJSIAA Championships. Johnson also competed in sprints at the New Balance Indoor National meet as a freshman, sophomore and junior.

Luke McCaffrey redshirted in his first season after appearing in four games. He completed 9-of-12 passes for 142 yards and two touchdowns, while rushing for 166 yards on 24 carries. McCaffrey also lined up at receiver for the final two games, catching one pass for 12 yards.

After taking one snap in an emergency role against Northwestern, McCaffrey saw his first extensive action against Indiana, leading the Huskers to a score on three of his five series. McCaffrey completed 5-of-6 passes for 71 yards - including a 24-yard touchdown - while rushing 12 times for 76 yards. McCaffrey played both wide receiver and quarterback in Nebraska's 54-7 win at Maryland, completing 3-of-5 passes for 32 yards and rushing 10 times for 83 yards with one reception for 12 yards. McCaffrey scored on a 3-yard run in the fourth quarter for his first career touchdown. In the season finale against Iowa, McCaffrey completed a 39-yard touchdown pass.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (VALOR CHRISTIAN HS)

McCaffrey led Valor Christian High School to a pair of Colorado state championships. McCaffrey was coached by his father, Ed, and guided Valor Christian to a perfect 14-0 record and a Class 5A state title as a senior. Luke threw for 2,202 yards as a senior, with 21 touchdowns and only four interceptions. On the ground he ran for 526 yards and eight touchdowns and averaged nearly 6.5 yards per carry.

As a junior, McCaffrey split time at quarterback, helping Valor Christian to an 11-1 record by rushing for 548 yards and passing for 878 yards with a 78 percent completion rate. He also had 147 receiving yards. McCaffrey was named a first-team All-Colorado choice as a quarterback by the coaches association and a first-team all-state athlete by the Denver Post.

As a sophomore, McCaffrey ran 23 times for 245 yards and two touchdowns, while catching 47 passes for 717 yards and nine scores. He also made an impact on defense while helping the team to a state title.

McCaffrey was ranked as the nation's No. 142 overall prospect by ESPN, which listed him as the top prospect in Colorado and the No. 5 dual-threat quarterback in the country. He was the No. 11 athlete prospect and among the top 300 players in the nation in the 247Sports Composite rankings. McCaffrey had offers from numerous schools including Michigan, Ohio State, Washington and UCLA to name a few.

PERSONAL

Luke is the son of Ed and Lisa McCaffrey and he was born on April 2, 2001. McCaffrey has not declared a major. Luke's father, Ed, played 13 seasons in the National Football League and was part of three Super Bowl champion teams. His older brothers, Max (Duke/San Francisco 49ers) and Christian (Stanford/Carolina Panthers) have both played professionally, and older brother Dylan, is a member of the Michigan football team. His mother, Lisa, was a three-year starter in soccer at Stanford.

Kurt Rafdal played in six games as a sophomore. He made his only reception of the season with a nine-yard grab against Northern Illinois during the Huskers' final touchdown drive.

2018 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Rafdal was a key contributor to the Husker offense as a redshirt freshman in 2018, appearing in all 12 games. In addition to providing perimeter blocking for the nation's third-most improved rushing attack, Rafdal caught four passes for 67 yards. He made his Husker debut against Colorado and hauled in a 14-yard pass in the second quarter. He added a 26-yard reception the next week against Troy. Rafdal had the first reception of his Big Ten career with a nine-yard grab against Purdue, and he had an 18-yard reception at No. 16 Wisconsin.

2017 (REDSHIRT)

Rafdal sat out his first season as a redshirt.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (CARMEL HS)

Rafdal was a standout offensive play-maker for Coach John Herbert at Carmel High School in Indiana. As a senior, Rafdal helped the Greyhounds to a 10-4 record and a Class 6A state championship, with Rafdal making eight catches in the title game at Lucas Oil Stadium. He was a first-team AP Class 6A all-state selection and an All-Indiana pick by USA Today.

Rafdal helped his team to a 10-3 record and a trip to the state semifinals in 2015. He was also a member of the varsity team at Carmel High in 2014, when the team posted a 15-1 record and was the Class 6A state runner-up.

Rafdal was ranked as the No. 17 tight end in the nation and the No. 6 overall prospect in Indiana by ESPN. He was also among the nation's top 35 tight ends and top 10 prospects in Indiana by Rivals and Scout. Rafdal chose the Huskers over Auburn, Indiana and Iowa.

PERSONAL

Kurt was born on July 21, 1999, and he is the son of Jim and Kathy Rafdal. He is a management major. Rafdal has volunteered with the UNL Children's Center, the Boys & Girls Club, Husker Heroes, the Nebraska Football Road Race and local hospital visits.

2018 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Sichterman appeared in four games as a redshirt freshman. He made his Nebraska debut with extensive playing time in the second half at No. 19 Michigan, helping the Huskers to an 80-yard touchdown drive in the fourth quarter. He also saw action at No. 16 Wisconsin, made his home debut against Bethune-Cookman and also played against Illinois.

2017 (REDSHIRT)

Sichterman sat out the 2017 season as a redshirt.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (KINGS HS)

Sichterman was a standout at Kings High School in Ohio. As a senior, Sichterman started at right tackle and earned the top grade among Kings High linemen and led the squad in knockdown blocks. He earned all-state special mention accolades for his play, was a first-team All-Tri-State pick and was a first-team All-Southwest District selection.

As a junior, Sichterman had the most knockdown blocks as Kings High went 12-3. He played tight end prior to his junior season.

Sichterman was also a standout off the field. He was named the Eastern Cincinnati Conference recipient of the "That's My Boy" award, given by the National Football Foundation to recognize players for athletic and academic success and community involvement. He also earned the Anthony Munoz Scholar Lineman of the Year Award.

Sichterman was ranked among the top 300 overall prospects in the nation by Scout, which listed him as one of the top 20 guard prospects. Sichterman only visited Nebraska, but had dozens of offers including Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Northwestern and Purdue to name a few.

CAREER HONORS

- Academic All-Big Ten (2019)
- Four-Time Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll

Noah Vedral served as Nebraska's No. 2 quarterback in 2019, battling through injuries to appear in six total games - five under center - with a pair of starts. Vedral threw for 418 yards and rushed for 106 yards.

Vedral saw his first action at quarterback against Northern Illinois, leading the Huskers on a 42-yard touchdown drive. He completed 3-of-5 passes for 30 yards in the drive and scored on a three-yard rushing touchdown. He played a key role in Nebraska's 13-10 victory over Northwestern, playing the entire fourth quarter. Vedral threw for 41 yards and rushed for 33 yards in the quarter, and he led Nebraska on a game-ending six-play, 42-yard, one-minute scoring drive that culminated with the Huskers' game-winning 24-yard field goal as time expired.

Vedral earned his first career start at Minnesota, where he completed 14-of-23 passes for 135 yards and rushed 15 times for 49 yards. He also started the next week against Indiana. Although an injury kept him out for multiple series against the Hoosiers, Vedral completed 14-of-16 passes for a career-high 201 yards, rushed seven times for 21 yards and a career-high two rushing touchdowns and caught a 22-yard pass. He completed an 11-yard pass against Iowa in the season finale.

Vedral was initially ineligible for the 2018 season due to NCAA transfer rules, but he received a waiver granting him immediate eligibility on Oct. 12, the day before the Huskers played at Northwestern. Vedral made his career debut two weeks later, playing the entire second half of the Huskers' victory over Bethune-Cookman in his only game of the year. Vedral completed a pair of passes for 29 yards against Bethune-Cookman, and he ran for 13 yards, including a 20-yard touchdown.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (WAHOO BISHOP NEUMANN HS/UCF)

Vedral was the No. 2 quarterback for UCF in 2017 when the Knights went 13-0 and finished as the nation's only undefeated team. He appeared in eight games as a true freshman for a UCF offense that led the nation in scoring, throwing for 276 yards and one touchdown, while adding 77 rushing yards and a pair of rushing touchdowns.

Vedral completed 10-of-12 passes for 79 yards in the opener against Florida International. He scored his first touchdown on a 13-yard run against East Carolina and added an 11-yard score against Austin Peay. Vedral's lone touchdown pass was a 35-yard strike against UConn.

Prior to UCF, Vedral was a multi-sport star at Wahoo Bishop Neumann High School. He passed for 4,561 yards in his career while adding 2,250 rushing yards, accounting for 6,811 yards of total offense and 77 total touchdowns for Coach Tim Turman, his grandfather. Vedral threw for 2,001 yards and rushed for 739 yards as a senior, when he earned All-Nebraska accolades from the Omaha World-Herald. Vedral was also a standout on the basketball court, taking home third-team All-Nebraska honors as a senior when the Cavaliers won the C-1 state championship.

PERSONAL

Noah is the son of Michael Vedral and Sara Turman-Vedral and was born on Oct. 15, 1998. He is majoring in communication studies. Vedral has volunteered with the Nebraska Football Road Race and local hospital visits. His father, Mike, was a three-year letterwinner at tight end for Nebraska (1990-92). His uncles, Jon Vedral (1994-96), Mark Vedral (1998-2001) and Matt Turman (1994-96) were also Husker letterwinners.

2019 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Braxton Clark played in every game as a redshirt freshman with one start at cornerback at Purdue. He totaled 11 tackles with one interception and one fumble recovery.

Clark played only special teams in the first two games of the season before a breakout game against Northern Illinois. Clark totaled a career-high three tackles against the Huskies and intercepted the first pass of his career, setting up a Husker touchdown. The next week at Illinois, Clark had one tackle on special teams.

He played on defense and special teams against both Ohio State and Northwestern, totaling a pair of tackles against the Wildcats. Clark saw action on special teams against both Minnesota and Indiana before making his first career start at cornerback at Purdue. He tied his career high with three tackles against the Boilermakers, while recording his first career tackle for loss. Clark then had one tackle against No. 15 Wisconsin. The next week at Maryland, Clark had one tackle and recovered the first fumble of his career.

Clark gained valuable experience in his first season on campus, playing in the maximum four games allowed to preserve his redshirt season. The true freshman made his Husker debut at cornerback in the fourth quarter at No. 19 Michigan. He also saw action in the Huskers' wins against Minnesota and Bethune-Cookman, recording his only tackle of the season against BCU. Clark's final appearance of the season came in the season finale at Iowa.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (DR. PHILLIPS HS)

Clark was a standout cornerback for Dr. Phillips High School in Orlando, which won the 2017 Florida Class 7A state title.

Clark finished with 41 tackles, two tackles for loss, two interceptions and a team-high seven pass breakups in 2017 while leading Dr. Phillips to a 13-2 record as a senior. He helped Dr. Phillips and Coach Rodney Wells to a 12-3 record as a junior and a 9-4 mark as a sophomore.

Clark was listed among the nation's top 100 cornerback recruits in the 247Sports Composite rankings and among the top 80 safety prospects in the country by ESPN. Clark had offers from Virginia Tech, Boston College, Ole Miss, Rutgers and Central Florida among others.

PERSONAL

Braxton was born on Oct. 4, 1999, and he is the son of Will and Christie Clark. He is a finance major. Clark has volunteered time with the Nebraska Football Road Race, local hospital visits and at the Malone Center.

CAREER HONORS

- Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll (Spring 2019)

2019 (FRESHMAN)

Garrett Nelson played in 11 of 12 games as a true freshman, totaling 15 tackles. He recorded his first career tackle in the season opener against South Alabama and had two tackles against Northern Illinois and No. 5 Ohio State. Nelson also had two tackles at Minnesota, with both tackles behind the line of scrimmage for his first career TFLs. He had two more tackles the next week against Indiana.

Nelson totaled a career-high five tackles against No. 15 Wisconsin. An illness kept him out of the Huskers' win at Maryland but he returned to play in the season finale against Iowa.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (SCOTTSBLUFF HS)

Nelson was one of five in-state scholarship signees in the Huskers' 2019 class. Nelson joined the program after being a dominant defensive force at Scottsbluff High School, where he was a semifinalist for the 2018 high school Butkus Award.

In three seasons for Scottsbluff, Nelson totaled 150 tackles, 26 tackles for loss and 18 sacks, while also playing offense for Coach Joe Benson's Bearcats. In 2018, Nelson led Scottsbluff to a 12-1 record and a runner-up finish in the Class B state playoffs. Nelson finished his senior year with 39 tackles, including seven tackles for loss and four sacks for 34 yards. Nelson was named an Omaha World-Herald All-Nebraska selection and was a member of the Lincoln Journal Star Super-State team as a defensive lineman. He was also an honorary captain of the Lincoln Journal Star's Class B all-state team.

During his junior season, Nelson helped Scottsbluff to a 9-2 record. He recorded 44 tackles, 11 tackles for loss, nine sacks and recovered a fumble. He added 133 rushing yards and caught four passes. His play earned him All-Nebraska and Super-State honors from the World-Herald and Journal Star, respectively. Nelson made his first impact on the varsity squad as a sophomore, racking up 67 tackles, eight tackles for loss and five sacks to help his team to a 9-2 record.

Nelson was the first commitment to Nebraska's 2019 class, pledging to the Cornhuskers in the summer of 2017. He was ranked as the No. 2 player in Nebraska by Rivals and among the top 40 defensive ends in the country, while 247 Sports also listed him among the nation's top 50 defensive ends.

PERSONAL

Garrett was born on March 1, 2000, and is the son of Chris and Hollie Nelson. He is a business administration major. Chris Nelson earned two All-America honors on the wrestling mat for Nebraska in 1990 and 1992.

2019 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Casey Rogers played in four games as a redshirt freshman, gaining valuable experience on a senior-laden defensive line. He made his Husker debut at defensive end against Northern Illinois, and he also saw action against Northwestern, No. 15 Wisconsin and Maryland.

2018 (REDSHIRT)

Rogers redshirted in his first season at Nebraska in 2018, as he missed most of the season with an injury.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (WESTHILL HS/AVON OLD FARMS)

A talented multi-sport athlete, Rogers joined Nebraska after spending the 2017 season at a prep school after initially planning to play college lacrosse.

Rogers was a standout lacrosse and football player at Westhill High School in Syracuse, N.Y. He committed to play lacrosse at Syracuse, where his father Lelan was an assistant coach. Rogers had a change of heart and decided instead to pursue football at the collegiate level. He turned down scholarship offers from Western Michigan and West Virginia and opted to spend one year at Old Farms prep school in Avon, Conn., to increase his football exposure.

The decision paid off, as Rogers helped Avon Old Farms to an 8-1 record in 2017 and a berth in the New England Class A state championship game. Following his season, Rogers received scholarship offers from numerous Power Five programs including Cal, Indiana, Ole Miss, Pittsburgh and Vanderbilt, among others. He visited Alabama and Ohio State in December before committing to Nebraska. Rogers was rated as a three-star recruit by Rivals, ESPN and 247Sports. ESPN listed him among the nation's top 90 defensive ends.

Rogers was a four-year member of the football team at Westhill High School in Syracuse before his one year at Old Farms. Rogers was also named a high school All-American in lacrosse after scoring 62 goals and compiling 79 points as a senior.

PERSONAL

Casey was born on Dec. 18, 1998, and he is the son of Lelan and Terri Rogers. Rogers is a sports media and communication major. Rogers has volunteered with Husker Heroes, the Malone Center, Boo at the Zoo, the Nebraska Football Road Race and local hospital visits.

2019 (JUNIOR)

Ben Stille played in all 12 games as a junior with a pair of starts, totaling a career-high 31 tackles with eight TFLs and 3.0 sacks.

He tied his then-career high with four tackles in the season opener against South Alabama and had three more tackles - including two TFLs - the next week at Colorado. Stille made three tackles against No. 5 Ohio State before making his first start of the season against Northwestern and producing a career-high five tackles, including a half sack. He added two tackles the next week at Minnesota and had his first full sack of the season against Indiana.

At Purdue, Stille recorded four tackles, including one sack and a pair of TFLs. Stille earned his second start of the year against No. 15 Wisconsin and finished with three tackles, a pass breakup and a quarterback hurry. The next week at Maryland, Stille had two tackles, including a half sack. Stille concluded his junior season with three tackles against Iowa, including a nine-yard tackle for loss.

Stille's combination of his work on the field, in the classroom and in the community earned him recognition as a junior. He was an academic all-district selection in addition to being nominated for the AFCA Good Works Team and appearing on the watch list for the Wuerffel Trophy, which is college football's premier award for community service.

Stille played in every game and started 11 games at defensive end in 2018. He totaled 25 tackles with a career-high 5.0 sacks, leading all Nebraska defensive linemen in that category.

Stille earned his second career start in the season opener against Colorado and produced three tackles, including a nine-yard sack. Stille totaled one tackle over the next two games before recording a sack and making four tackles against Purdue. After recording a pair of tackles at No. 16 Wisconsin, Stille picked up his third sack of the season at Northwestern. He added another sack the next week against Minnesota. Stille had a nine-yard sack against Bethune-Cookman, giving him a sack in three consecutive games. He also had a career-high two pass breakups against BCU. Stille made one tackle at Ohio State and had two stops and a career-high three quarterback hurries against Illinois. He totaled three tackles in Nebraska's win over Michigan State and made two stops in the season finale at Iowa.

Stille appeared in nine games with a start against No. 9 Wisconsin during his redshirt freshman season, lining up at both defensive end and outside linebacker. He showed versatility to play both positions during the year. Stille emerged as one of the Blackshirts' top playmakers, leading Nebraska with 10 tackles for loss and 3.5 sacks as part of his 24 total tackles. He became the first freshman to lead the Huskers in TFLs since the stats began being tracked (1968) and the first freshman to lead Nebraska in sacks since the stat became official (1981).

All 10 of Stille's tackles for loss came during the Big Ten season, as he led all conference freshmen in that category. Overall, he ranked eighth in the Big Ten in TFLs despite playing only nine games, and Stille had four more TFLs than any other Big Ten player who appeared in fewer than 10 games. He recorded at least one tackle for loss in seven of his nine appearances and had three games with four tackles. For his performance, Stille was named to the Big Ten Network All-Freshman team and took home one weekly honor as the Big Ten Freshman of the Week, joining David Santos (2012) as the only Husker defenders to be named the Big Ten Freshman of the Week.

Stille made his career debut against Rutgers, totaling three tackles including one for a two-yard loss. Stille exploded onto the scene the next week at Illinois, registering four tackles, including three TFLs and his first career sack, which resulted in a forced fumble. He was honored by the Big Ten as the conference freshman of the week following his performance against the Illini. Stille's performance earned him his first career start against No. 9 Wisconsin, and he made one tackle against the Badgers. He had two tackles and one sack against No. 9 Ohio State the next week and tallied three tackles, one TFL and a half-sack at Purdue. Stille tied his career high with four tackles against Northwestern and broke up the first pass of his career while adding another tackle for loss. He made it four consecutive games with a TFL with a 14-yard sack at Minnesota. Stille ended his debut season with four tackles and two TFLs against Iowa.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (ASHLAND-GREENWOOD HS)

Stille starred on both sides of the ball at Ashland-Greenwood High School. He caught 26 passes for 415 yards and five touchdowns as a tight end. As a defensive end, he recorded 79 tackles, including 46 solo stops, while adding 17 tackles for loss and nine sacks. Stille also handled kicking and punting chores, making 46-of-49 PATs and three field goals.

Stille was a first-team Super-State choice by the Lincoln Journal Star and a first-team All-Nebraska pick by the Omaha World-Herald. He was also an honorary captain of the Class C-1 all-state teams by both newspapers. He was the USA Today Nebraska Defensive Player of the Year and made the publication's Nebraska all-state team.

In 2014, Stille caught 16 passes for 538 yards and had 63 tackles, including 19 TFLs and 10 sacks, while connecting on all four of his field goal attempts. His effort helped Ashland-Greenwood to a 12-1 record and a state runner-up finish. Stille earned first-team Class C-1 all-state honors as a tight end from the Omaha World-Herald and was an honorable-mention all-state choice by the Lincoln Journal Star.

Stille helped the Bluejays to an 11-2 record and a trip to the state championship game as a sophomore. He had 41 tackles and four interceptions, while adding 10 receptions for 199 yards and three touchdowns. He also made 7-of-12 field goals. Stille was also on the varsity as a freshman.

Stille was a two-time state champion in wrestling, posting a 44-0 record at 285 pounds as a senior and a 34-0 record at 220 pounds as a junior. He finished third at 182 pounds as a sophomore with a 35-5 record.

Stille was ranked among the top three players in Nebraska, and was listed as the No. 33 strongside defensive end in the country by 247Sports. Stille only visited Nebraska, but had offers from Army, Iowa, Iowa State, Ohio, Vanderbilt and Wyoming.

PERSONAL

Ben was born on Nov. 12, 1997, and is the son of Kevin and Karen Stille. He earned his degree in nutrition and health sciences from Nebraska in December of 2019, graduating in less than four years. Thomas posted a career-high five tackles in Nebraska's win over Northern Illinois, and he broke up the first pass of his career against the Huskies. He had one tackle against both Illinois and Ohio State before recording two tackles against Northwestern. Thomas also had one tackle against both Minnesota and Indiana. Against No. 15 Wisconsin, Thomas totaled four tackles - a career high for a Big Ten game - and registered Nebraska's only TFL in the game. He added one tackle at Maryland the next week.

Thomas appeared in each of the first four games of the 2018 season before missing the final eight games due to injury. By playing in only four games, Thomas was able to utilize his redshirt season. Thomas recorded a tackle in three of his four games, including single tackles against Troy and Michigan and a season-high two tackles against Purdue, which included the first tackle for loss of his career.

2017 (FRESHMAN)

Thomas finished with 14 tackles in his freshman campaign, including five games with multiple tackles. Thomas shined in his career debut against Arkansas State, registering the first of three games where he would record three tackles. He added three more tackles at Oregon the next week, including the first two solo stops of his career.

Thomas tallied two tackles in his Big Ten debut against Rutgers and had two solo stops and three total tackles in the Husker win at Illinois. His final multi-tackle effort came against No. 9 Ohio State, as he had two tackles against the Buckeyes. Thomas' final tackle of the season came at Purdue in the final game of October.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (MUSTANG HS)

Thomas helped Mustang High School to an 8-4 record as a senior and a trip to the Class 6A state semifinals. He racked up 79 tackles and eight sacks for the Broncos en route to first-team all-state honors from the Daily Oklahoman and USA Today. Thomas also helped Mustang to the state playoffs as a junior and a trip to the state semifinals as a sophomore.

Thomas was ranked among the nation's top 200 overall players according to 247Sports. The service also listed Thomas as the nation's No. 11 defensive tackle and the No. 5 prospect in the state of Oklahoma. Thomas was ranked among the top 45 defensive tackles in the country by Rivals.com and ESPN.

Deontai Williams earned the start and made two early tackles in the season opener with South Alabama before leaving the game in the first half with an injury. The injury proved to be season-ending, as Williams appeared in only one game as a junior.

Williams made an immediate impact in his first year, appearing in every game with a start against Purdue. He totaled 23 tackles and one TFL, and he had at least one tackle in 10 of Nebraska's 12 games. Williams had a knack for the ball, forcing two fumbles, recovering one fumble, intercepting two passes and breaking up two more passes. Williams tied for the team lead in interceptions, forced fumbles and fumble recoveries.

Williams recorded his first career pass breakup in the season opener with Colorado and then posted his first career tackle the next week vs. Troy. At No. 19 Michigan, Williams picked off the first pass of his career with a diving interception in the end zone. He started the first game of his career against Purdue and recorded three tackles. He then set a career high with five tackles the next week at No. 16 Wisconsin. Williams had one tackle each against Northwestern and Minnesota. He was a disruptive force against Bethune-Cookman, totaling two tackles while recovering a fumble, intercepting a pass and breaking up another. He forced the first fumble of his career and had four tackles at No. 8 Ohio State. Williams forced another fumble the next week against Illinois, when he had a pair of tackles. He ended his season with a two-tackle performance at Iowa that included his first career tackle for loss.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (TRINITY CHRISTIAN ACADEMY/JONES COUNTY CC)

Williams totaled 26 tackles and recorded two interceptions and two forced fumbles for Jones County in 2017, helping the Bobcats to an 8-2 record and an appearance in the Mississippi Association of Community & Junior Colleges playoffs. In 2016, Williams played in the opener and totaled four tackles and one fumble recovery before an injury sidelined him for the rest of the year. He was granted a redshirt for the 2016 season.

A three-star recruit, Williams was ranked among the nation's top 30 junior college prospects by the 247Sports Composite rankings, which also tabbed Williams as the nation's No. 2 junior college safety. He chose Nebraska after also considering Florida, Ole Miss and Central Florida.

Originally from Jacksonville, Fla., Williams played his high school ball for Trinity Christian Academy in Jacksonville. Coming out of high school, Williams was ranked among the nation's top 250 players by ESPN, and he received scholarship offers from Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, Notre Dame and UCLA, among others.

Lane McCallum added depth at safety during his sophomore season, and he also saw the field as an emergency place-kicker early in the year. McCallum made his Nebraska debut against Northern Illinois, connecting on all three of his extra-point tries. He attempted the first field goal of his career at Illinois and made four of his five PAT attempts against the Illini. He made the first two field goals of his career in Nebraska's 13-10 win over Northwestern. McCallum made a 35-yarder in the first quarter then hit the game-winning 24-yarder as time expired for the third walk-off win in the 96-year history of Memorial Stadium. McCallum kicked in five games for the Huskers in 2019, including four games as Nebraska's starting place-kicker.

2018 (TRANSFER)

Per NCAA rules, McCallum sat out the 2018 season after transferring from Air Force. Despite being unable to play, McCallum joined the Huskers in January of 2018 and gained valuable experience in the program while adding depth to the NU secondary.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (NORFOLK HS/AIR FORCE)

McCallum spent the 2017 season as a kicker at the Air Force Academy. He graduated from Norfolk High School in 2017. As a senior in 2016, McCallum was a Lincoln Journal Star Super-State selection after rushing for 1,149 yards and 13 touchdowns on offense, as he helped the Panthers to the Class A state playoffs. He also finished fourth on the team in tackles on the defensive side of the ball. An All-Nebraska kicker, McCallum holds Norfolk's school record for points scored in a career with 354, as he made 120 of 123 extra points and 20 of 31 field goals in his career. McCallum also participated in basketball and soccer at Norfolk.

PERSONAL

Lane was born on April 19, 1998, and is the son of Kent and Sally McCallum. A business administration major, Lane has volunteered with the Nebraska Football Road Race, the FCA, Operation Christmas Child, and numerous local hospital and school outreach events.

SCHOLARSHIP BIOS

ZAVIER BETTS

BELLEVUE, NEB. | BELLEVUE WEST HS

Zavier Betts is the lone in-state scholarship signee in Nebraska's 2020 freshman class. Betts comes to Lincoln as the highest rated recruit from the state of Nebraska in a dozen years after totaling more than 3,300 career receiving yards at Bellevue West High School, including a Class A state-record 46 touchdown receptions.

As a senior, Betts helped Bellevue West to a 13-0 season and the Class A state title by catching 64 passes for 1,185 yards and 17 touchdowns, averaging nearly 19 yards per reception. Following his senior season, Betts was named an honorary captain of the Omaha World-Herald All-Nebraska team. It marked Betts' third straight year on the All-Nebraska team, as he became the fifth three-time All-Nebraska player in the 99-year history of the team. Betts was also tabbed as a three-time first-time Super-State selection by the Lincoln Journal Star.

In his junior season, Betts battled through an injury to total 48 receptions for 856 yards and 12 touchdowns while earning first-team All-Nebraska accolades. Betts was also a first-team All-Nebraska selection as a sophomore after catching 57 passes for 1,035 yards and 15 touchdowns. He was only the seventh sophomore ever to earn All-Nebraska honors.

Betts was widely regarded as one of the top recruits in the country, and he was selected to represent Team USA in the 2020 International Bowl. Rivals listed him as the No. 12 wide receiver and No. 59 overall player in the 2020 class. A consensus four-star recruit, Betts was also listed as the No. 111 player in the 247Sports Composite national rankings. Betts chose Nebraska over offers from Iowa, Iowa State and Minnesota, among others.

MARQUIS BLACK

McDONOUGH, GA.

EAGLE'S LANDING CHRISTIAN ACADEMY

Marquis Black was one of the top defensive line recruits in the Southeast. Black was a three-year starter and four-time state champion for coach Jonathan Gess at Eagle's Landing Christian Academy in Georgia. Black helped the Chargers to a 57-1 record during his career, as ELCA became the first football team in Georgia history to win five straight state championships.

As a senior, Black played a key role in the Chargers' 14-1 record and a Class A Private state championship. A first-team all-district selection, Black entered his final game with 73 tackles with a team-leading 15.5 tackles for loss, 4.0 sacks and a pair of pass breakups. As a junior, Black was a second-team all-state pick.

Black was listed as one of the top 50 defensive tackles in the country and is regarded as a three-star recruit by both Rivals and 247Sports. He chose Nebraska after receiving scholarship offers from more than a dozen other Power Five programs, including Arizona, Kansas State, Louisville, Michigan State, Tennessee and Virginia.

ALANTE BROWN

CHICAGO, ILL.

SIMEON HS | ST. THOMAS MORE (CONN.) PREP

Alante Brown joined the Huskers after attending St. Thomas More Prep school in Connecticut. Brown spent one year at the prep school after starring for Simeon High School in Chicago.

Brown helped St. Thomas More to an 8-1 record in 2019, which included the Chancellors snapping Choate Rosemary Hall's 48-game win streak in a game where Brown had a pair of touchdown catches. Brown originally signed with Texas Tech in 2019 before deciding to attend prep school.

In high school, Brown was a quarterback for Simeon High in Chicago. A three-year starter, he led the Wolverines to a city championship and the Class 7A state quarterfinals as a senior, when Simeon finished with an 11-1 record. Brown threw for 41 touchdowns and rushed for 12 more scores as a senior, earning all-state honors.

Brown was considered a four-star recruit by 247Sports, and the organization also listed him as a four-star recruit out of high school when it tabbed him as the No. 215 overall recruit in the 2019 class. The No. 1 prep school player in the 2020 class, Brown chose Nebraska after also taking official visits to Indiana, Maryland, Mississippi and Michigan State.

JIMARI BUTLER

MOBILE, ALA. | MURPHY HS

Jimari Butler is one of two Alabama natives in Nebraska's freshman class. Butler chose the Huskers after receiving several Power Five scholarship offers despite playing only one season of high school football.

Butler played only his senior season at Murphy High School, but he made a big impact in his lone year on the football team. In 10 regular-season games, Butler totaled 60 tackles with 22 TFLs, 14.5 sacks and 21 quarterback hurries. He added four more sacks in the state playoffs. Before his breakout senior season, Butler had not played football since seventh grade, instead focusing on basketball.

A three-star recruit, Butler was ranked among the top 35 weakside defensive ends by Rivals. He chose Nebraska over Kansas, Indiana, TCU and Tennessee, among others.

ALEX CONN

OFFENSIVE LINE | 6-6 | 280

DERBY, KAN. | DERBY HS

Alex Conn is one of two highly regarded offensive linemen from the state of Kansas in Nebraska's freshman class. Conn was an all-state performer for Derby High School, helping the Panthers to back-to-back perfect seasons in Kansas' largest class (6A).

As a senior, Conn helped Derby finish with a 13-0 record and a second straight state title. With Conn paving the way, Derby averaged 54 points and more than 500 yards of offense per game. The Panthers, who averaged 60 points per game in the playoffs, became the first 6A school in Kansas history to outscore every opponent by at least three touchdowns. In the state final against Olathe North, Derby set Class 6A state championship game records with 63 points and 674 yards. Conn was named a first-team all-state selection as a senior. He also helped Derby to a 13-0 record and a state title as a junior, when he was an honorable-mention all-state pick.

Conn was rated as a three-star prospect by both Rivals and 247Sports. Rivals listed Conn as the No. 6 player in Kansas, while 247Sports regarded Conn as one of the nation's top 60 offensive tackle recruits. He chose Nebraska over several other scholarship offers, including Arizona, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Oklahoma State and TCU.

NIKO COOPEROUTSIDE LINEBACKER | 6-5 | 220
MEMPHIS, TENN.*DOUGLASS HS | HUTCHINSON (KAN.) CC

Niko Cooper joined the Huskers after spending two seasons at Hutchinson Community College in Kansas. He redshirted in his first season at Hutchinson, giving him three years of eligibility at Nebraska.

In 2019, Cooper totaled 24 tackles from his defensive end position for the Blue Dragons. He added nine tackles for loss and 2.5 sacks while forcing a pair of fumbles. Cooper played his prep ball for Douglass High School in Memphis.

Cooper was ranked as a three-star recruit, and 247Sports listed him as the No. 3 weakside defensive end prospect from the junior college ranks. He chose Nebraska after also taking visits to Kansas State, Texas Tech and Maryland, according to Hutchinson coach Rion Rhoades.

TURNER CORCORANOFFENSIVE LINE | 6-6 | 285
LAWRENCE, KAN. | FREE STATE HS

Turner Corcoran was one of the nation's top recruits, and he joined Alex Conn to give Nebraska a pair of impressive freshmen offensive linemen from Kansas. Corcoran was also one of three Husker freshmen selected for the 2020 All-American Bowl, which featured the nation's top 100 seniors.

Corcoran was a first-team all-state selection as a senior at Lawrence Free State, which finished with an 8-2 record. Corcoran helped Free State average 6.7 yards per carry and 37.5 points per game in 2019. Corcoran was also a first-team all-state pick as a junior, and he started for the Firebirds as a sophomore.

A four-star recruit, Corcoran was the consensus No. 1 player in Kansas and ranked among the nation's top 50 players overall. He was tabbed as the nation's No. 47 overall recruit in the 247Sports Composite rankings, while Rivals listed Corcoran as the No. 65 player in the country. Corcoran also came in as the nation's No. 45 overall recruit in the 247Sports Composite rankings. He had offers from many of the nation's top programs, including Auburn, Clemson, Georgia, LSU, Michigan, Notre Dame, Ohio State and Oklahoma.

RONALD DELANCY IIICORNERBACK | 5-11 | 160

Ronald Delancy III is one of seven Florida natives in Nebraska's freshman class, including his Miami Northwestern teammate Marcus Fleming. Delancy joined the Huskers after being a part of three state championship teams during his prep career.

Delancy starred for coach Max Edwards at Miami Northwestern as a junior and senior, winning back-to-back state titles. Delancy played both corner and safety, and he recorded more than 50 tackles as a senior. He was a playmaker in the secondary for the Bulls, totaling more than a dozen passes defended with four interceptions, three of which he returned for touchdowns. He also recorded one safety and blocked three field goals. Delancy helped Northwestern to a 5A state championship as a senior and a 6A state title as a junior. He began his career at Carol City High School, which won the 6A state championship in his freshman season.

Delancy, a consensus three-star recruit, had numerous offers and chose Nebraska over Louisville, Miami, Missouri, Pittsburgh and Washington State, among others.

MARCUS FLEMINGWIDE RECEIVER | 5-10 | 170

Marcus Fleming is one of seven Florida natives in Nebraska's freshman class, including his Miami Northwestern teammate Ronald Delancy III. Fleming joined the Huskers after winning a state championship as a senior.

Fleming led Miami Northwestern with 58 catches and 981 receiving yards as a senior, catching nine touchdown passes. He also averaged 45.7 yards on 10 kickoff returns, including a 97-yard touchdown. Fleming played his junior season at Southridge High School. He played for Miami Senior High School as a sophomore, catching 22 passes for 692 yards and eight touchdowns.

A four-star recruit, Fleming was ranked among the top 250 players in the country by 247Sports, which also listed him among the top 40 wide receivers nationally. Fleming had numerous scholarship offers and chose Nebraska over several other top programs, including Florida, Florida State, Georgia, Miami and Penn State.

JAIDEN FRANCOISCORNERBACK | 6-0 | 185
HOMESTEAD, FLA. | SOUTH DADE HS

Jaiden Francois is one of four defensive backs from Florida in Nebraska's freshman class. Francois was a versatile performer at South Dade High School, where he played safety, cornerback and nickel for the Buccaneers.

Francois intercepted two passes as a senior and was a shut-down player in the secondary, as teams rarely threw his way when he was lined up at cornerback, according to his high school coach Rudy Trevino. As a junior, Francois set a Dade County all-time record with 13 interceptions, and he was named a first-team all-state selection in Florida's largest classification.

A consensus four-star recruit, Francois was ranked among the nation's top 300 players in the 247Sports Composite rankings. He was listed as the No. 28 safety in the country by 247Sports and as the No. 25 cornerback by Rivals. Francois had offers from several top programs, and he chose Nebraska over Auburn, Florida State, Georgia, Miami, Michigan, Ohio State and Penn State, among others.

HENRY GRAYSAFETY | 6-0 | 175
HOLLYWOOD, FLA. | MIAMI CENTRAL

Henry Gray is one of four Florida defensive backs in Nebraska's freshman class. Gray earned high school All-America honors, as he was selected for the 2020 Under Armour All-America Game.

Gray displayed the athleticism and versatility to play both cornerback and safety during his high school career. Gray came to Nebraska from Miami's Central High School, where he played for one of the state's top programs coached by Roland Smith Jr. Gray helped Central to the Florida 6A title as a senior, one year after the Rockets lost a close game to eventual state champion Miami Northwestern.

Gray was a consensus four-star recruit, and he was ranked among the nation's top 250 recruits by Rivals, which also listed Gray among the top 25 cornerback recruits in the country. Gray was ranked among the nation's top 30 safeties in the 247Sports Composite rankings. Gray had an impressive list of offers and also considered Alabama, Auburn, Baylor, Clemson, Florida, Florida State, Georgia, Michigan, Ohio State and Penn State, among others.

KEYSHAWN GREENEINSIDE LINEBACKER | 6-3 | 210*CRAWFORDVILLE, FLA. | WAKULLA HS

Keyshawn Greene is one of seven Florida natives in Nebraska's freshman class. Greene came to Nebraska after starring at Wakulla High School, and he played in the 2020 All-American Bowl, one of three Huskers selected to play in the game that featured the nation's top 100 seniors.

As a senior, Greene helped Wakulla to a 13-1 record and a trip to the state semifinals. He put up impressive numbers, totaling 147 tackles, nine tackles for loss, three sacks, two pass breakups, one interception and one blocked field goal for the War Eagles.

Greene was one of the top recruits in the 2020 class. He was regarded as the No. 99 overall recruit by 247Sports, which also listed him as the No. 6 outside linebacker prospect in the country. Greene came in at No. 132 on the 247Sports Composite rankings, and Rivals tabbed him as the nation's No. 202 overall recruit. He chose Nebraska after also considering Florida, Florida State, Miami and Tennessee, among others.

BLAISE GUNNERSONOUTSIDE LINEBACKER | 6-6 | 250*CARROLL, IOWA | KUEMPER CATHOLIC HS

Blaise Gunnerson enrolled at Nebraska in January of 2020 after starring at Kuemper Catholic High School in Iowa. Gunnerson is the lone Iowa native in the Huskers' freshman class, and he was selected to play in the 2020 All-American Bowl, which featured the country's top 100 seniors.

Gunnerson totaled 47 tackles, 8.5 tackles for loss and 6.0 sacks as a senior, while also catching 11 passes for 149 yards and three touchdowns. Gunnerson missed his junior season with an injury. Despite battling injuries during his prep career, Gunnerson was the first Kuemper Catholic High football player to earn an FBS scholarship in at least 20 years.

A three-star prospect, Gunnerson was ranked as the No. 13 strongside defensive end in the country by 247Sports, which also listed him among the nation's top 350 overall recruits. Gunnerson also visited in-state schools Iowa and Iowa State, and he also had offers from Kansas State and Minnesota, among others.

NASH HUTMACHERDEFENSIVE LINE | 6-5 | 300*OACOMA, S.D. | CHAMBERLAIN HS

Nash Hutmacher was a standout three-sport athlete for Chamberlain High School in South Dakota. In addition to being a three-time all-state football player, Hutmacher was also a three-time state champion in wrestling and two-time state champion in track and field.

On the gridiron, Hutmacher was a three-time all-state selection who totaled nearly 300 career tackles and set several school defensive records. As a senior, Hutmacher had 88 tackles, 18 tackles for loss and four sacks. As a junior, he totaled 105 tackles (56 solo) with 11 TFLs, 10 sacks, 10 forced fumbles and four fumble recoveries. He also saw limited action at running back, scoring three touchdowns on nine carries.

Hutmacher was also a standout on the wrestling mat. Ranked as the nation's No. 1 high school heavyweight, Hutmacher was a four-time state champion, the first heavyweight in South Dakota history to win more than two consecutive state titles. He went 166-0 in his high school career. Hutmacher won each of his final 73 matches by pin, the second-longest pin streak in the history of high school wrestling. The first person to be named the Daily Republic Wrestler of the Year three years in a row, Hutmacher set the South Dakota state record with his 52nd consecutive pin midway through his senior season.

Hutmacher was 43-0 as a senior, with each win via pin. He went 33-0 as a junior with 32 pins and one forfeit en route to earning a spot on the 2018-19 USA Today All-USA Boys Wrestling Team. He was 46-0 as the state champion as a sophomore and 44-0 as a freshman state champion. Outside of high school competition, Hutmacher was a four-time All-American who won several event titles, including pinning three of his four opponents en route to the 2019 USA Wrestling Junior Folkstyle National Championship and winning the 2017 USA Wrestling Cadet Freestyle National Championship.

In track and field, Hutmacher won the Class A state title in the shot put and discus as a junior. For his efforts as a first-team all-state pick in football, an undefeated state champion in wrestling and two-time state champion in track and field, Hutmacher was named the 2018-19 South Dakota Boys Athlete of the Year.

The consensus No. 1 player in South Dakota, Hutmacher also visited Oregon and Wisconsin before choosing the Huskers. A three-star prospect, 247Sports ranked Hutmacher among the nation's top 50 defensive tackles, while Rivals listed him among the nation's top 55 defensive tackles.

TAMON LYNUMCORNERBACK | 6-2 | 170*ORLANDO, FLA. | EVANS HS

Tamon Lynam is one of four defensive backs from the state of Florida in Nebraska's freshman class. He joined the Huskers following a standout career as a defensive back for Evans High School in Orlando.

Lynam had 44 tackles, 11 pass breakups, two interceptions and one forced fumble as a senior. At 6-2, he brings great size to the Nebraska secondary.

A three-star recruit, Lynam had more than a dozen scholarship offers and chose Nebraska over Illinois, Kansas and Maryland, among others.

OMAR MANNINGWIDE RECEIVER | 6-4 | 225*LANCASTER, TEXAS*LANCASTER HS | TCU | KILGORE (TEXAS) CC

Omar Manning was the nation's top junior college wide receiver at Kilgore College in Texas. After beginning his career at TCU, Manning will have two seasons of eligibility at Nebraska.

Manning spent the past two seasons at Kilgore College, where he helped the Rangers to a pair of conference titles and was a second-team junior college All-American in 2019. Manning led Kilgore with 35 receptions, 727 receiving yards and six touchdowns in 2019, while averaging nearly 21 yards per catch. In his first season at Kilgore in 2018, Manning caught 15 passes for 302 yards and four touchdowns. In his junior college career, Manning averaged more than 20 yards per reception.

Manning spent his freshman season at TCU, where he redshirted in 2017. He played his prep ball for Lancaster High School, where he was a four-star recruit and an Army All-American. Manning caught 45 passes for 742 yards and eight touchdowns as a high school senior, after making 33 catches for 671 yards and 12 touchdowns as a junior.

A four-star recruit, both Rivals and the 247Sports Composite rankings listed Manning as the nation's No. 1 wide receiver and No. 2 overall recruit in the junior college ranks. Manning had more than a dozen scholarship offers and chose the Huskers over Florida, Florida State, Missouri, Oregon, Texas A&M and Utah, among others.

ETEVA MAUGA-CLEMENTSINSIDE LINEBACKER | 6-2 | 220*PLEASANT HILL, CALIF.*COLLEGE PARK HS | DIABLO VALLEY (CALIF.) CC

Eteva Mauga-Clements spent the past three seasons at Diablo Valley College in California and will have two seasons of eligibility with the Huskers. Mauga-Clements entered the Diablo Valley program as a safety and redshirted in his first year.

Mauga-Clements had an impressive final season at Diablo Valley in 2019, when he was the Bay 6 Conference defensive player of the year. He made 61 tackles with 23 tackles for loss and 7.0 sacks, leading the Vikings in all three categories, as he had four more sacks than any other player and 12 more TFLs. Mauga-Clements also forced one fumble and blocked two kicks. In his first year at Diablo Valley, Mauga-Clements recorded 21 tackles with 6.5 tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks. He totaled 82 tackles, 29.5 TFLs and 8.5 sacks in 18 career games at Diablo Valley. A native of American Samoa, Mauga-Clements joined the Vikings after playing his high school ball for College Park in Pleasant Hill, Calif.

A four-star recruit, Mauga-Clements chose Nebraska over offers from San Diego State, South Alabama and Southern Miss, among others. Before choosing the Huskers, Mauga-Clements had received offers from most Pac-12 schools, according to his coach Mike Darr. Mauga-Clements was ranked as the No. 1 outside linebacker and No. 8 overall junior college recruit by Rivals.

SEVION MORRISONRUNNING BACK | 6-0 | 200*TULSA, OKLA. | EDISON HS

Sevion Morrison was a star running back for Edison High School in Oklahoma, where he set the school record for career rushing yards.

Morrison ran for more than 5,000 yards at Edison High School, becoming the school's all-time leading rusher early in his senior season. Morrison broke the previous record (4,009) held by Spencer Tillman, who went on to become an All-America running back at Oklahoma and a Super Bowl champion with the San Francisco 49ers. As a senior, Morrison had 183 carries for 1,798 yards, averaging nearly 10 yards per carry while scoring 26 touchdowns. He also caught eight passes for 276 yards and three touchdowns and was named the district offensive player of the year in addition to winning the Ford Award as the player of the year in Northeast Oklahoma.

Morrison was the state's leading rusher as a junior, rushing for 2,728 yards with 39 total touchdowns while averaging 12.8 yards per carry to help the Eagles reach the state playoffs for the first time in four years. He also caught seven passes for 205 yards and averaged 27.2 yards on five punt returns. He was named to the Tulsa World all-state first team as a junior, and he was also one of five finalists for the organization's offensive player-of-the-year award. Morrison also rushed for more than 1,000 yards as a sophomore, when he was an honorable-mention all-state pick.

Morrison, who had two dozen scholarship offers, chose the Huskers over Baylor, Kansas State, Minnesota, Utah, Washington and Wisconsin, among others. A consensus four-star recruit, Morrison was ranked among the nation's top 250 overall recruits and among the top 15 running backs by Rivals, while 247Sports listed him among the nation's top 300 recruits and top 25 running backs.

WILL NIXONWIDE RECEIVER | 5-11 | 185*WACO, TEXAS | MIDWAY HS

Will Nixon is one of two Texas wide receivers in Nebraska's freshman class. He joined the Huskers as a wide receiver after primarily playing running back in his senior season at Midway High School.

Riley spent the 2017 and 2018 seasons at North Carolina. He played in two games and had four tackles as a true freshman in 2017 before redshirting in 2018. Riley played his prep ball for Riverside High School in North Carolina, where he was regarded as one of the top 25 defensive tackles in the country.

A three-star recruit, Riley chose Nebraska over East Carolina.

MARVIN SCOTT IIIRUNNING BACK | 5-9 | 200*PORT ORANGE, FLA. | SPRUCE CREEK HS

Marvin Scott III was one of the most prolific running backs in Florida prep history. Scott was a five-year varsity player, first making the varsity team as an eighth grader at Warner Christian Academy where he played three seasons. He made the jump to Florida's largest class for his final two seasons at Spruce Creek High School.

Scott ran for 7,482 yards and scored 80 total touchdowns in his high school career, with his rushing total unofficially ranking sixth in Florida high school history, according to records kept by floridapreprecords.com. In two years at Class 8A Spruce Creek – his junior and senior seasons – Scott rushed for more than 2,700 yards and scored 34 touchdowns. He led the area with 1,477 rushing yards as a senior, while scoring 18 touchdowns, averaging 7.7 yards per carry and catching nine passes for 110 yards. As a junior at Spruce Creek, Scott was a first-team all-area and third-team all-state selection after rushing for 1,226 yards and 16 touchdowns. Scott began his prep career by leading the area with 1,736 rushing yards as an eighth grader at Class 2A Warner Christian Academy, where he played on the varsity for three seasons and rushed for nearly 4,800 yards.

In addition to his success on the football field, Scott was also a state champion weightlifter. As a junior, Scott claimed the top spot in the 199-pound weightlifting division with a total of 700 pounds in the bench press (405) and clean/jerk (295). His 405-pound bench press was the best mark of anyone in his weight class or below and the eighth-best mark overall among the more than 300 competitors at the state championships. His individual efforts helped Spruce Creek claim the team title.

Scott was a consensus three-star recruit who had more than two dozen other scholarship offers, including Alabama, Florida State, Miami, Michigan, Tennessee and Utah.

LOGAN SMOTHERSQUARTERBACK | 6-2 | 190*MUSCLE SHOALS, ALA. | MUSCLE SHOALS HS

Logan Smothers is the lone scholarship quarterback in Nebraska's freshman class. After starring as a high school quarterback in Alabama the past four years, Smothers possesses the intelligence and athleticism to thrive in Nebraska's offense.

Smothers played his senior season at Muscle Shoals High School after his father, Shane, became the Trojans' offensive coordinator. Logan helped the team to a 12-1 record by passing for more than 2,000 yards and 27 touchdowns and rushing for more than 800 yards and 13 scores. For his efforts, Smothers was a second-team all-state selection in the state's second-largest class, and he earned honorable-mention all-state honors regardless of class. Following his high school career, Smothers was selected to participate in the Alabama-Mississippi All-Star Game.

Smothers played his first three seasons at Athens High School. He completed 65 percent of his passes and threw for 1,702 yards and 14 touchdowns as a junior, adding 832 rushing yards and nine touchdowns. As a sophomore, Smothers threw for 2,041 yards and 14 touchdowns, while rushing for 719 yards and eight touchdowns. He threw for more than 1,500 yards and rushed for nearly 500 yards as a freshman while accounting for 15 total touchdowns.

Lincoln (Aug. 31) - No. 24 Nebraska forced five South Alabama turnovers, and the Cornhuskers scored three non-offensive touchdowns in the second half to post a 35-21 victory.

Leading 14-7 at halftime, the Husker defense and special teams accounted for all three second-half scores, marking the first time since 2005 that NU had scored at least three non-offensive touchdowns in a game.

On the first drive of the second half, Eric Lee Jr. intercepted a Cephus Johnson pass and returned it 38 yards for a score to push the margin to 14. The interception was the first of Lee's career and the first defensive touchdown by the Blackshirts since 2017. After a three-and-out, JD Spielman fielded a punt, made a pair of Jaguar defenders miss and went 76 yards for his second career punt return touchdown to make it 28-7.

South Alabama pulled within 28-21 and had the ball to start the fourth quarter, but another defensive play gave NU some breathing room. Cam Taylor-Britt sacked Johnson, who coughed up the ball. Alex Davis recovered it in the end zone for a touchdown to make it 35-21.

The Huskers looked sharp early, going 81 yards on nine plays, as Jack Stoll's 42-yard reception to the USA 5-yard line set up Dedrick Mills' first TD three plays later. Stoll finished with three catches for 66 yards, as Adrian Martinez completed 13-of-22 passes for 178 yards in the win.

The teams traded touchdowns, as Johnson led the Jaguars 41 yards in nine plays, scoring from three yards out midway through the first quarter. The Huskers regained a 14-7 advantage midway through the second quarter as Mills scored from one yard out.

Senior linebacker Mohamed Barry led the Blackshirts with 12 tackles, while Taylor-Britt added five tackles, including two tackles for 16 yards lost. He also hauled in his first career interception and returned it 48 yards in the second half. Lee pitched in four tackles and the first two interceptions of his career while adding a breakup. As a team, NU produced 10 tackles for 49 yards lost, including four sacks for 32 yards.

Boulder, Colo. (Sept. 7) - Colorado scored 31 second-half points to overcome a 17-0 deficit, while James Stefanou's 34-yard field goal on the first possession of overtime gave the Buffaloes a 34-31 win over Nebraska.

NU controlled the first half, building a 17-point lead while out-gaining Colorado 266-84, but could not sustain the momentum.

Colorado broke into the scoring column late in the third quarter with an 11-yard touchdown run from Jaren Mangham to make it 17-7. After an Armstrong punt pinned CU at its 4-yard line, Steven Montez connected with K.D. Nixon on a 96-yard flea-flicker touchdown to pull the Buffs within 17-14.

Nebraska quickly answered, as Adrian Martinez connected with Maurice Washington on a 75-yard touchdown pass to make it 24-14.

Colorado kept coming, producing an answer of its own with a five-play, 75-yard drive that was capped by Mangham's second touchdown run - this time from seven yards out to make it 24-21. CU then came up with a big defensive play, forcing a Martinez fumble, but the Blackshirts held CU out of the end zone before Stefanou's 20-yard field goal tied the score at 24 with 8:30 left.

Martinez and the Husker offense then found an answer of their own, covering 75 yards in eight plays and 2:55, capped by Martinez's six-yard touchdown run to move back in front at 31-24 with 5:49 left.

Colorado had one final chance, going 75 yards for the game-tying touchdown as Montez found Tony Brown for a 26-yard scoring strike to tie the game with 46 seconds left.

Early on, Nebraska was in control, as NU went 96 yards on the first drive to take a 7-0 lead after Martinez found Spielman for a 65-yard touchdown. Spielman finished with five catches for 112 yards. Nebraska went on another long march midway through the second quarter, going 95 yards in 13 plays capped by a Martinez five-yard TD run.

The Blackshirts forced a turnover on Lamar Jackson's interception on CU's next series, which Nebraska turned into a 26-yard Armstrong field goal to make it 17-0.

Lincoln (Sept. 14) - Adrian Martinez accounted for more than 300 yards of total offense and had a hand in three touchdowns, while Dedrick Mills rushed for 116 yards, as Nebraska rolled to a 44-8 win over Northern Illinois.

Martinez completed 16-of-27 passes for 257 yards and two touchdowns, and added 44 more and a score on the ground, as NU racked up 525 yards of total offense. Mills posted his first 100-yard day as a Husker, as NU tallied 238 yards on the ground.

In an action-packed first half that featured big plays and blocked kicks, Nebraska powered its way to a 30-5 halftime lead.

After a 36-yard field goal by Isaac Armstrong on the first drive, NU made it 10-0 later in the first quarter, capitalizing on a Huskies' special team miscue. NIU fumbled a punt, and Austin Allen recovered at the 21-yard line. On the next play, Maurice Washington scored on a 21-yard reception. Washington's second score, a 60-yard run, made it 16-0 with 12:20 left in the half.

After NIU cut the deficit to 16-3, the Huskies' failed onside kick attempt gave NU great field position. The Huskers capitalized, going 50 yards in four plays, capped by Mills' 24-yard touchdown run. The Huskers tacked on a final score in the waning seconds of the half, going 87 yards in five plays as Martinez found Kanawai Noa in the corner of the end zone for a touchdown.

The Huskies open the second half by going 66 yards before John Richardson's 27-yard field trimmed the lead to 30-8, but the Blackshirts pitched a shutout the rest of the game. NU extended the lead in the third quarter on Martinez's 10-yard run before capitalizing on Braxton Clark's first career interception to set up the final score, a three-yard scamper by backup quarterback Noah Vedral with 4:04 remaining.

Mohamed Barry led the Blackshirts with 10 tackles. Carlos Davis notched six tackles, including 1.5 sacks, while adding a pair of breakups with deflections at the line of scrimmage. Isaiah Stalbird starred for the Husker special teams, finishing the game with three tackles, including two for loss, a forced fumble and a blocked punt.

Champaign, Ill. (Sept. 21) - Nebraska trailed by 14 points on three occasions, including late in the third quarter, but the Huskers overcame a season-high four turnovers to snap an eight-game road losing streak with a 42-38 win at Illinois.

The Huskers, who became the fifth Division I program with 900 wins, amassed 673 yards, including 346 on the ground and 327 in the air, going over 300 rushing and passing yards for the second time in school history.

Adrian Martinez erupted for a career-high 445 yards of total offense, leading Nebraska's rushing attack with 118 yards on 18 carries, while throwing for 327 yards and three scores. Freshman Wan'Dale Robinson tallied 186 all-purpose yards, including 89 on the ground and 79 in the air while scoring three times. Dedrick Mills rushed for 45 yards and scored twice in the Huskers' comeback. JD Spielman hauled in seven passes for a season-high 159 yards.

Martinez's 300-yard passing, 100-yard rushing performance was just the second in Nebraska history and first since 2010.

The Huskers, whose four turnovers led to 21 Illini points, trailed 35-21 with 5:40 left in the third quarter before taking control. NIU went 75 yards in nine plays capped by Mills' 14-yard score to make it 35-27. After a three-and-out by the Blackshirts, NU needed just six plays to cover 64 yards before Mills' second score and a two-point conversion by Martinez tied the score.

Illinois, which managed only 299 yards of offense, regained the lead at 38-35 on a 47-yard field goal by James McCourt, but the Huskers responded. Nebraska used the legs of Martinez, Robinson and Mills to go 75 yards in 11 plays, as Robinson's third score of the night - a one-yard run - gave Nebraska its first lead at 42-38 with 8:00 left.

NU's defense forced another three-and-out and the Huskers had a chance to extend the lead, but missed a field goal with 2:03 remaining. Illinois had one more chance, but NU forced four incompletions, as Illinois quarterbacks went 9-of-24 through the air. The Huskers ran out the clock, picking up their first road win under Scott Frost.

Lincoln (Sept. 28) - No. 5 Ohio State produced a complete game in all phases to post a 48-7 win over Nebraska. The Buckeyes had 580 total yards, including 368 on the ground, while holding the Huskers to 231 total yards.

The Buckeyes controlled the game from the outset, forcing a turnover on Nebraska's opening possession with a diving interception from Jeff Okudah. OSU went 50 yards in five plays, as Justin Fields scored from 15 yards out. On their next possession, the Buckeyes made it 14-0 as Fields found K.J. Hill for a two-yard touchdown pass to cap a 10-play drive.

Late in the first quarter, Nebraska put together a sustained drive before Okudah picked off his second pass of the day. The Buckeyes turned the fortunate bounce into points, pushing the ball 90 yards in 13 plays over the next 7:04 before NU forced a field goal.

Two plays into Nebraska's next drive, Martinez was intercepted again at midfield - this time by OSU senior free safety Jordan Fuller. Three plays later, the Buckeyes were in the end zone again on running back Master Teague's eight-yard touchdown run to give OSU a 24-0 lead with 8:26 left in the half.

The flurry of turnovers left the Huskers on the ropes, and the Buckeyes went for the knockout, forcing a quick three-and-out, then scoring on another three-play drive that covered 55 yards. Teague's second touchdown run, this time from one yard out, put Ohio State up 31-0 with 5:42 left in the half. Fields capped the first half with an 18-yard TD pass to Austin Mack to give the Buckeyes a 38-0 halftime lead.

The Buckeyes amassed 378 yards on 45 plays, including 230 rushing yards on 29 carries while the Huskers managed just 76 yards in the first half.

Ohio State put the game firmly out of reach with 10 more points to open the second half, before Mills ended the Buckeyes' shutout hopes with a nine-yard touchdown run to cap a five-play, 75-yard drive late in the third quarter. Martinez sparked that drive with a career-long 56-yard run.

For the game, Martinez led Nebraska in rushing with 81 yards on 15 carries, while completing 8-of-17 passes for 47 yards. Mills added 67 rushing yards, while Wan'Dale Robinson contributed 27 rushing yards.

J.K. Dobbins finished with 177 yards on 24 totes, while Teague ended the day with 77 rushing yards. Fields was efficient, completing 15-of-21 passes for 212 yards and three passing touchdowns while adding 72 rushing yards and another score on 12 carries.

Lincoln (Oct. 5) - Lane McCallum's 24-yard field goal as time expired gave Nebraska a 13-10 win over Northwestern on Homecoming. McCallum's kick was just the second walk-off winning kick by Nebraska in the history of Memorial Stadium and the first since 2000.

The game-winning drive was also engineered by a reserve quarterback, as Noah Vedral led the Huskers to victory in the fourth quarter after taking over for an injured Adrian Martinez. Vedral's final drive covered 42 yards in six plays and was set up by Lamar Jackson's interception and return with a minute remaining.

The biggest offensive play of the final drive came on a 32-yard strike from Vedral to Wan'Dale Robinson to get the ball to the Northwestern 16-yard line. Robinson carried the offensive load for the Huskers, hauling in seven receptions for a career-high 123 yards. He also led the Huskers with seven carries for 44 yards, including a highlight-reel 42-yard touchdown burst in the first quarter.

On a sunny but windy day inside Memorial Stadium, Nebraska took a 7-0 lead on Robinson's run to cap an eight-play, 70-yard drive. The Blackshirts pitched a shutout for the rest of the first quarter, and Nebraska's offense capitalized while going against the wind in the second quarter. The Huskers used a 35-yard McCallum field goal with 8:24 left in the half to push their lead to 10-0. McCallum's field goal put the finishing touches on a 10-play, 61-yard drive that consumed 5:10.

On the ensuing kickoff, Northwestern's Riley Lees uncorked a 50-yard return to put the Wildcats at the Husker 45. The Blackshirts stiffened and held the Cats to just 23 yards on nine plays before Charlie Kuhbänder snuck a 40-yard field goal inside the left upright to cut Nebraska's lead to 10-3 with 5:15 left in the half.

In the third quarter, Northwestern went 58 yards on six plays capped by quarterback Aidan Smith's two-yard touchdown run to tie the game at 10 with 11:20 left. Smith finished his day as the game's leading rusher with 64 yards on 16 carries. Smith also completed 19-of-32 passes for 136 yards, but the Huskers made the Wildcats pay for his interception - the only turnover of the game - with one minute left.

Jackson finished with four tackles to go along with his interception, while linebackers Mohamed Barry and Collin Miller each led the Huskers with eight stops on the day. Marquel Dismuke and JoJo Domann both pitched in seven stops, while defensive tackle Darrion Daniels played a strong game inside with six stops, including a TFL.

Minneapolis, Minn. (Oct. 12) - The Nebraska football team struggled to get anything going in Minneapolis, as Minnesota improved to 6-0 with a 34-7 win over the Huskers at TCF Bank Stadium.

Nebraska slipped to 4-3 on the season and 2-2 in the Big Ten with the setback. The Huskers put together a 14-play, 80-yard drive early in the fourth quarter to get on the board after Minnesota built a 34-0 lead at the end of three quarters.

The Huskers went to the locker room trailing 14-0 at halftime in Noah Vedral's first career start, as he completed 14-of-23 passes for 135 yards, while also rushing for a team-high 49 yards in replacing Adrian Martinez.

The Golden Gophers put the game out of reach with a trio of third-quarter touchdowns. After pounding the ball on the ground for 220 rushing yards in the first half, the Gophers opened the second half with a play-action pass from Tanner Morgan to Tyler Johnson for a 45-yard completion to the NU 18. Four plays later, the Gophers were in the end zone on the second of three Mohamed Ibrahim touchdown runs to go up 21-0 just 2:19 into the second half. Morgan completed 8-of-13 passes for 128 yards with one touchdown, while Johnson hauled in five receptions for 109 to lead the Gophers.

Later in the quarter, Minnesota took advantage of a short field to go 45 yards on nine plays in 5:16 capped by a Rodney Smith one-yard touchdown run to go up 28-0 with 3:16 left in the third. But the Gophers were not done yet. After forcing a quick three-and-out by the Husker offense, Minnesota started at the NU 46, and Morgan completed his second 45-yard pass to Johnson of the quarter on the first play of the Gophers' two-play scoring drive, which was capped by Ibrahim's final touchdown from one-yard out with 1:41 left in the period.

Minnesota finished with 450 yards of total offense, including 322 rushing yards on 49 carries. Smith led the Gophers with 139 yards on 18 carries, while Shannon Brooks added 99 yards on 13 totes. Ibrahim finished with 84 yards on 15 attempts. Nebraska managed 299 yards of total offense, including 151 rushing yards.

The Huskers, who played turnover-free football for the second straight game, were led defensively by senior linebacker Mohamed Barry's 11 tackles, who became the 12th Husker in history with 10 or more games with double-figure tackles in his career. Collin Miller and Marquel Dismuke both added career highs with 10 stops apiece.

Lincoln (Oct. 26) - Reserve quarterbacks Noah Vedral and Luke McCaffrey helped the Huskers pile up 514 yards of total offense, but a pair of turnovers were costly, as Nebraska fell to Indiana, 38-31.

Vedral started the game and helped the Huskers jump to a 14-3 lead midway through the first quarter and took a 14-9 edge to the second. In roughly two quarters, Vedral completed 14-of-16 passes for 201 yards and added two touchdown runs. McCaffrey completed 5-of-6 passes for 71 yards and a touchdown, while adding 12 carries for 76 yards.

Wan'Dale Robinson also had a big day for the Big Red with 22 carries for 83 yards and a touchdown, while adding a team-high six receptions for 71 yards. JD Spielman pitched in five receptions for 97 yards.

Leading 14-9, Vedral fumbled at the Indiana 19 and the fumble was returned by Allen Stallings IV to the NU 8 yard line. Indiana scored on the next play, as Peyton Ramsey found Ty Fryfogle to give the Hoosiers a 16-14 lead.

NU regained the lead in the final minute of the first half, going 74 yards in six plays capped by McCaffrey's 24-yard touchdown strike to Kanawai Noa.

Indiana took a 24-21 lead midway through the third quarter on a one-yard touchdown run by David Ellis that was followed by a two-point conversion pass from Ramsey to Peyton Hendershot with 7:30 left.

Nebraska tied the score on Barret Pickering's 30-yard field goal with 2:53 left in the third quarter. Indiana came right back, as Ramsey's two-yard touchdown pass to Matt Bjorson as time expired at the quarter gave the Hoosiers a 31-24 lead.

Nebraska's second turnover of the day, a fumble by Noa on its next possession, snuffed out a Husker drive and gave Indiana the ball near midfield. The Hoosiers marched 57 yards in seven plays, as a nine-yard run by Stevie Scott III pushed the lead to 38-24.

Nebraska came right back on its next drive, as two personal fouls on Indiana gave NU excellent field position. Five plays later, Robinson coasted into the end zone from four yards out on a short scoring run to pull the Huskers back within 38-31 with 10:21 left.

Nebraska had one final chance, getting to the Indiana 34, but could not sustain the drive, and Indiana ran out the clock for the victory.

West Lafayette, Ind. (Nov. 2) - Adrian Martinez led Nebraska on two touchdown drives in the fourth quarter, but Purdue scored the go-ahead touchdown with 1:08 remaining to defeat Nebraska 31-27.

Nebraska had two fourth-quarter leads, only to have Purdue respond with scoring drives to regain the lead. Aidan O'Connell directed the final series after Jack Plummer, who was 25-of-34 passing for 242 yards, left the game with an injury. On 3rd-and-5 from the Nebraska 9-yard line, David Bell's touchdown run with 1:08 left sealed the win.

Martinez was 22-of-39 passing for 247 yards and ran 12 times for 58 yards and two touchdowns, both in the fourth quarter.

Trailing 17-13 late in the third quarter, Nebraska drove 75 yards in 11 plays to take a 20-17 lead. Purdue responded by converting three third downs on a 13-play touchdown drive, before King Doerue's seven-yard run gave Purdue a 24-20 advantage.

Martinez led Nebraska down the field, as a 42-yard pass to JD Spielman set up Martinez's 4-yard run to take a 27-24 lead, but O'Connell guided the Boilermakers down the field for the final score.

Nebraska, which blocked two punts and picked off two passes, had ample opportunities to take control of the game, jumping to a 10-0 first-quarter lead. NU, which finished 11 drives in Purdue territory, took a 7-0 lead on the second series of the game, as Dedrick Mills scored from 1-yard out after Martinez found Kanawai Noa for a 34-yard gain on 4th-and-6.

On Purdue's third series of the game, Damion Daniels intercepted a screen pass and returned it 18 yards to the Purdue 2-yard line, but the Huskers had to settle for a 23-yard field goal by Pickering for a 10-0 lead.

Eli Sullivan deflected a Purdue punt that traveled only 20 yards, giving Nebraska excellent field position again at the Purdue 46-yard line. But the drive ended with Cory Trice intercepting Martinez at the Purdue 3-yard line. Nebraska got the ball back on Lamar Jackson's interception, his third of the season and fifth of his career, but was forced to punt.

Purdue, which managed 34 total yards on its first five drives, came to life. The Boilermakers put together touchdown drives of 89 and 96 yards on their final two drives of the half and took a 14-10 lead into the locker room.

Lincoln (Nov. 16) - Dedrick Mills rushed for a career-high 188 yards, but No. 15 Wisconsin held on for a 37-21 victory over the Huskers at Memorial Stadium.

Mills averaged 11.1 yards per tote against one of the nation's top run defenses, including a 12-yard TD in the first quarter. In all, the Huskers totaled 493 yards, including 220 yards on 13-of-23 passing from Adrian Martinez.

The Badgers managed 482 total yards, including 204 rushing yards and two touchdowns from Jonathan Taylor. His total helped Wisconsin roll up 320 yards on the ground, while Jack Coan threw for 162 yards with one touchdown.

Although Wisconsin won by two scores, Nebraska finished with more total yards, but missed three golden opportunities to score in the second half. Nebraska had 1st-and-10 at the UW 24 early in the third quarter, but NU eventually missed a 41-yard field goal. The Huskers also had two fourth-quarter drives come up empty in the Badger red zone.

Nebraska took advantage of a Taylor fumble to take a 7-0 lead on Mills' TD run, but Aron Cruickshank returned the ensuing kickoff 89 yards for a touchdown to tie the game 7-7.

Wisconsin took a 10-7 lead before NU answered with a five-play, 73-yard drive capped by Martinez's two-yard touchdown run with 9:32 left in the half to give the Huskers a 14-10 lead.

The Badgers would take over, taking advantage of a costly Husker turnover to put up 24 straight points. Coan's 55-yard touchdown pass to A.J. Taylor to put the Badgers back in front at 17-14 before Jack Sanborn's interception on the next play from scrimmage set the Badgers up at the 21-yard line. UW needed just three plays before Jonathan Taylor pounded his way in from one yard out to take a 24-14 lead.

Larsh added a 24-yard field goal for the Badgers with 11 seconds left in the half before stretching the margin to 34-14 on Jonathan Taylor's 11-yard touchdown run with 4:50 left in the third quarter.

But the Huskers continued to fight, flying 75 yards in four plays, culminating with Martinez's 23-yard touchdown strike to JD Spielman to pull within 34-21.

College Park, Md. (Nov. 23) - JD Spielman caught seven passes for 104 yards and two touchdowns, sophomore quarterback Adrian Martinez compiled 288 yards of total offense and a smothering, opportunistic Blackshirt defense led Nebraska to a dominating 54-7 victory over Maryland.

Nebraska won for the first time since Oct. 5, producing its largest margin of victory in a Big Ten game, while Maryland remained winless since the same date with its sixth consecutive loss.

The 54 points were the most the Huskers have ever scored in a Big Ten road game, and tied for their most in any Big Ten game. In playing at Maryland for the first time in school history, Nebraska collected its first November road victory since 2015, when it won at Rutgers.

Spielman, with his fourth 100-yard receiving game of the season, increased his season total to 864 receiving yards, making him the first player in Nebraska history with three 800-yard receiving seasons. He also moved into third place on the school charts in career receptions (167, tied with Jordan Westerkamp) and receiving yards (2,512).

The Huskers committed only one penalty and gained 31 first downs.

Martinez, 16-of-25 passing for 194 yards and two touchdowns, also ran for 94 yards, as Nebraska finished with 531 total yards, including 305 rushing.

The Nebraska defense, meanwhile, forced and recovered four fumbles, including one on special teams, and held Maryland scoreless until running back Javon Leake's 58-yard touchdown run with 3:13 remaining in the game. Prior to that, the Terrapins had run only two plays in Nebraska territory, none beyond the 48-yard line.

Nebraska collected a season-high six sacks and held Maryland to 206 total yards, the fewest the Huskers allowed in a game on the season, and narrowly missed its first shutout in 10 years.

Lincoln, Neb. (Nov. 29) - Nebraska rallied from a two-touchdown deficit in the second half, but Keith Duncan hit a 48-yard field goal with one second remaining, lifting Iowa to a 27-24 victory over the Huskers, marking the second straight year Iowa won with a last-second field goal.

Iowa began its winning drive with 41 seconds remaining in regulation at its 26-yard line. The Hawkeyes used consecutive passing plays of 22 yards from quarterback Nate Stanley to set up the game-winning field goal.

Nebraska, which trailed 24-10 at halftime, cut Iowa's lead to 24-17 with a touchdown on its second drive of the third quarter. Luke McCaffrey, entering the series at quarterback, lofted a 39-yard touchdown pass to JD Spielman. The Blackshirts responded with a three-and-out. With Adrian Martinez back at quarterback, Nebraska drove 60 yards in 13 plays for a game-tying touchdown.

Nebraska forced three-and-outs on Iowa's next two possessions. The Hawkeyes punted again before Collin Miller forced a Mekhi Sargent fumble that Cam Taylor-Britt recovered at the Nebraska 30-yard line with 2:52 remaining. But the Huskers had to punt, giving the ball back to Iowa with 41 seconds left.

Iowa led 24-10 at halftime after scoring three long touchdowns. Ihmir Smith-Marsette scored on a 45-yard run on a reverse play on the Hawkeyes' second series. After a career-long 41-yard field goal by Matt Waldoch cut the lead to 7-3, Iowa responded in two plays, with a 55-yard Tyler Goodson touchdown run to take a 14-3 advantage. Iowa then kicked a field goal for a 17-3 lead with 11:37 remaining in the second quarter.

Nebraska got back in the game when Taylor-Britt intercepted a pass and returned it 38 yards for a touchdown to cut Iowa's lead to 17-10. The momentum swing was short-lived, however, as Smith-Marsette returned the ensuing kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown and a 24-10 Iowa lead. The score was Iowa's first non-offensive touchdown of the season.

Nebraska ran 23 more plays than Iowa but mustered only 284 yards. Iowa gained 324 yards on 56 plays, with 100 of those yards coming on the Hawkeyes' two long first-quarter touchdown runs.

- Brook Berringer Citizenship Team (2016, 2017, 2019)
- Tom Osborne Citizenship Team (2016, 2017, 2019)

2019 (SENIOR)

Avery Anderson, who earned his degree prior to his senior season, added depth in the Husker secondary but did not appear in a game in his final season at Nebraska.

2018 (JUNIOR)

2017 (SOPHOMORE)

Anderson appeared in a career-high 11 games as a sophomore. Along with adding depth to the Husker secondary, Anderson was a key special teams performer and was one of Nebraska's top tacklers on kickoff coverage. After recording one tackle as a redshirt freshman in 2016, Anderson tallied three tackles in 2017, all on special teams. He had one tackle on kickoff coverage against Rutgers, Illinois and Penn State.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Anderson played in games against Fresno State, Wyoming and Ohio State as a reserve safety. He had an assisted tackle at Ohio State.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Anderson arrived at Nebraska in January of 2015, and redshirted. He earned Scout Team Special Teams MVP honors for his work in practice.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (PINE CREEK HS)

Anderson earned first-team all-state honors as a junior and a senior at Pine Creek High School, where he was a two-time state champion. Anderson recorded three interceptions as a senior, while making 52 tackles, including six tackles for loss during a 14-0 season.

Anderson was an All-Colorado choice by the Denver Post as a senior, and was a first-team Class 4A choice by the Colorado High School Activities Association. As a junior, Anderson was named a first-team all-state free safety by the CHSAA. He also earned all-league and all-region recognition after totaling 53 tackles, one interception and three breakups while leading Pine Creek to its first state title and a 12-2 record.

Anderson was rated as the No. 2 player in Colorado, behind Husker teammate Eric Lee Jr. Anderson was a member of the Rivals 250, Scout.com listed him among the top 35 safeties nationally and 247Sports ranked him among the top 40 athletes.

Anderson committed to Nebraska after considering offers from Arizona State, Kansas State and Utah, among others. Among his teammates at Pine Creek High was Nebraska junior JoJo Domann.

PERSONAL

The son of Killian and Angela Anderson, Avery was born on Sept. 11, 1996. He earned his degree in advertising and public relations in December of 2018. Anderson volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race and local hospital outreach visits.

2019 (SENIOR)

Fyn Anderson, who played his senior season as a graduate student, appeared in four games in his final season. Although he did not record a tackle, Anderson earned playing time on the defensive line against Northern Illinois, Ohio State, Wisconsin and Maryland. He was also a member of Nebraska's travel roster for every road game in 2019.

2018 (JUNIOR)

Anderson added depth to the Husker defensive line and made his career debut in Nebraska's win over Bethune-Cookman, recording his first career tackle. In addition to his appearance against Bethune-Cookman, Anderson was also a member of Nebraska's travel roster at Wisconsin, Northwestern and Iowa.

2017 (SOPHOMORE)

Anderson contributed depth to the defensive line but did not appear in a game.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Anderson added depth at defensive tackle, but did not play in a game.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Anderson redshirted in his first season in Lincoln.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (LINCOLN SOUTHEAST HS)

Anderson started for three seasons at Lincoln Southeast High School for Coach Ryan Gottula. Anderson helped the Knights to state playoff appearances in 2012 and 2013.

In addition to his play on the offensive line, Anderson had 31 tackles and two sacks as a senior. He earned honorable-mention Class A all-state accolades from the Omaha World-Herald and Lincoln Journal Star.

Anderson also earned honorable-mention all-state recognition as a junior when the Knights reached the state playoffs behind Anderson's dominant blocking. Anderson also started in 2012, when Southeast posted a 9-2 record and reached the state quarterfinals. Anderson also had offers from Cornell, Holy Cross, Drake and San Diego.

A Ray Guy Award nominee, Isaac Armstrong served as Nebraska's starting punter as a senior, while also serving in a limited role as the Huskers' place-kicker and kickoff specialist. Armstrong averaged 40.9 yards per punt and placed 23 of his 59 punts inside the 20-yard line. He excelled at limiting the opponent punt return game, allowing only 25 return yards on 59 punts in 2019 and just 26 return yards in 91 career punts.

Armstrong averaged 45.5 yards per punt on six punts in the season opener against South Alabama. He had a career-high three punts downed inside the 20-yard line and tied his career high with a pair of 50-yard punts. At Colorado, Armstrong averaged 46.2 yards per punt, and he also handled the Huskers' place-kicking duties, making all four of his extra-point attempts and connecting on a 26-yard field goal in his first career attempt. Against Northern Illinois, Armstrong averaged 45.3 yards per punt and placed all three of his punts inside the 20-yard line while adding his first tackle of the season. At Illinois, Armstrong averaged 46.5 yards per punt, including a season-long 58-yard punt. He punted a career-high 10 times against Northwestern and tied his career highs with two 50-yard punts and three punts inside the 20-yard line. Armstrong also pinned Minnesota inside its own 20-yard line three times the next week, and he had three punts downed inside the 20 at Purdue. At Maryland, Armstrong pinned the Terrapins inside the 10-yard line on both of his punts, averaging a season-high 53.0 yards per punt. He had a season-long 60-yard punt at Maryland and recorded his second tackle of the season on kickoff coverage, as he kicked off 10 times against the Terrapins. Armstrong also had one kickoff against Northern Illinois and handled four kickoffs at Purdue.

Armstrong finished his career ranked eighth in Nebraska history with a career punting average of 41.84 yards.

Armstrong was the holder for all 12 games and was the starting punter in the final seven games, earning honorable-mention All-Big Ten honors. He averaged 43.6 yards per punt, the second-best mark in the Big Ten and the ninth-highest average in NU history. Armstrong pinned the opponent inside the 20-yard line nine times, had seven punts of 50 yards or longer and only seven of his 32 punts were returned, including two fumbles.

Armstrong punted twice at No. 16 Wisconsin, booming a 59-yarder on his first career punt and then pinning UW inside the 15-yard line with a 49-yard punt. He averaged 45.8 yards on five punts at Northwestern and pinned the Wildcats inside the 10-yard line twice. Armstrong averaged 57.3 yards per punt against Bethune-Cookman, just shy of the school record (57.6), including a career-long 73-yard punt, the seventh-longest punt in NU history. Two of his four punts against Illinois were fumbled resulting in takeaways. Armstrong pinned Michigan State inside the 20-yard line twice on five punts in a 9-6 win where field position was key.

Armstrong served as Nebraska's No. 2 punter and holder as a sophomore. Although he did not record a punt, Armstrong was on Nebraska's travel roster all season. He served as the Huskers' starting holder against Purdue, Northwestern and Minnesota.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Armstrong was NU's No. 2 punter and a member of the travel squad.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Armstrong was a freshman on campus in the fall of 2015, but he did not join the Huskers until after the season.

(KEARNEY HS/LINCOLN SOUTHWEST HS)

Armstrong walked on at Nebraska after spending time as the place-kicker and punter for Lincoln Southwest. As a senior in 2014, Armstrong earned second-team Super-State accolades in helping the Silver Hawks to a state playoff berth. He also played for the soccer team at Southwest, earning first-team all-state honors in 2015. He scored 18 goals as a senior and eight goals during his junior campaign. Armstrong spent his sophomore season at Kearney High School, where he scored 15 goals.

PERSONAL

Isaac was born on Nov. 10, 1996, and is the son of Mark and Lori Armstrong. He earned his degree in child, youth and family studies in December of 2019. He volunteered with Uplifting Athletes, Husker Heroes, Kids Against Hunger and hospital outreach visits.

2019 (SENIOR)

A Lott IMPACT Trophy quarterfinalist and honorable-mention All-Big Ten performer, Mohamed Barry led Nebraska with 89 tackles in 2019. Barry, who played his senior season as a graduate student, also led NU in tackles as a junior in 2018, becoming the first Husker to lead Nebraska in tackles in back-to-back seasons since All-Americans Ndamukong Suh (2008 & 2009) and Lavonte David (2010 & 2011). Barry recorded four tackles for loss, 1.0 sack and a career-high three pass breakups as a senior, while also recovering one fumble. He finished his career with 245 tackles, which tied for 15th on Nebraska's all-time tackles list.

Barry tied his career high with 12 tackles in the season opener against South Alabama. He added six tackles, including a seven-yard sack, in week two at Colorado before notching his ninth career double-figure tackle performance with 10 tackles and a pass breakup against Northern Illinois. Barry then had five tackles at Illinois and eight tackles against both Ohio State and Northwestern, including a TFL vs. the Wildcats. At Minnesota, Barry had 11 tackles to become the 12th known Husker to have 10 career games with double-digit tackles. He tied for the team lead with six tackles against Indiana, while registering a tackle for loss in his third straight game. He had a big game against No. 15 Wisconsin, tying his career high with 12 tackles. At Maryland, Barry had a career-high two pass breakups and recovered the second fumble of his career. He concluded his career with a team-high-tying six tackles against Iowa. Barry, who started the final 24 games of his career, led Nebraska in tackles in 17 of the Huskers' 24 games over the 2018 and 2019 seasons.

Barry produced a breakout junior campaign while starting all 12 games in 2018. Barry led Nebraska with 112 tackles as a junior after entering the year with only 44 career tackles. He led the team in tackles in nine of Nebraska's 12 games en route to becoming the first Husker to have a 100-tackle season since 2014.

Barry ranked second in the Big Ten and 38th nationally with an average of 9.3 tackles per game, while his 112 tackles were the most by a Husker since All-American Lavonte David had 133 tackles in 2011. Barry had seven double-figure tackle games in 2018, becoming the fifth Husker to have seven double-figure tackle efforts in one season and the first since David in 2010. Barry had at least seven tackles in all nine Big Ten Conference games, and he also set career highs with 11 tackles for loss, including his first two career sacks. For his efforts, Barry was recognized as a third-team All-Big Ten linebacker by the conference media and was an honorable-mention selection by the league's coaches.

Barry earned his first season-opening start against Colorado and responded with a career-high 12 tackles. After totaling only three tackles in limited action against Troy due to a first-half targeting ejection, Barry had another double-digit tackle effort with 11 stops at No. 19 Michigan, including a career-high three tackles for loss and his first career sack. Barry had another 11-tackle performance the next week against Purdue. He led Nebraska with eight tackles at No. 16 Wisconsin and recorded his first pass breakup of the season. The next week at Northwestern, Barry again recorded eight tackles, including a TFL.

He made 11 stops against Minnesota, including one tackle for loss. Barry had 11 tackles again the next week vs. Bethune-Cookman, while recording a career-high-tying three TFLs, including his second career sack. At No. 8 Ohio State in the first game of November, Barry made seven tackles. He then had 11 tackles the next week against Illinois. Barry had a team-high eight tackles in Nebraska's victory over Michigan State, when the Husker defense limited the Spartans to six points. He ended his junior season with 11 tackles at Iowa, the sixth time he had 11 tackles in 2018 and the sixth time in Nebraska's nine conference games that Barry tallied double-digit tackles.

Barry appeared in every game, contributing at linebacker and on special teams. All 38 of his tackles came from his linebacker spot, including 15 solo stops. Barry earned his first two career starts at Purdue and Minnesota and added the first tackle for loss and breakup of his career.

Barry posted a then-career-high four tackles in the season opener against Arkansas State, nearly matching his total of six tackles from his redshirt freshman season. He enjoyed his best game against No. 9 Ohio State, finishing with a season-high eight tackles. He earned his first career start in the Huskers' next game at Purdue and recorded three tackles. In his next start at Minnesota, Barry posted seven tackles and his first career tackle for loss. The next week at No. 13 Penn State, he again totaled seven tackles and added his first career pass breakup. Barry ended his sophomore campaign by recording 29 tackles over his final six games, including three games with at least seven tackles.

Barry played in all 13 games as a reserve outside linebacker and on special teams coverage units. He had six assisted tackles, including five on special teams. He had a fumble recovery on kickoff coverage against Tennessee, helping set up a second-half Husker touchdown.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Barry sat out the 2015 season as a redshirt. He spent the majority of his time on the sideline following shoulder surgery.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (GRAYSON HS)

Barry was a strong playmaker from his linebacker spot for Grayson High School in Georgia. As a senior in 2014, Barry helped Coach Mickey Conn's team to a 10-2 record while advancing to the second round of the Class AAAAAA playoffs. Barry patrolled the middle of the field at linebacker and showed the versatility to be strong in pass coverage.

Barry was honored for his play in 2014, earning first-team Class AAAAAA all-state honors. Barry also was a standout for Grayson High as a junior, ranking among the state's leaders with 16 sacks.

Rivals ranked Barry as a three-star prospect, while the 247Sports composite rankings listed him as the No. 71 linebacker in the nation. Scout ranked Barry among the top 15 linebackers in Georgia. Barry was regularly trained by former Nebraska and NFL linebacker Eric Johnson.

Barry visited Kansas State and Miami before choosing NU, and he had numerous other offers, including Wisconsin and Washington State.

PERSONAL

Mohamed was born on Nov. 29, 1996, and he is the son of Kadiatou Bah. Barry graduated with a degree in ethnic studies in May of 2019. He volunteered with Husker Heroes, the Nebraska Football Road Race, Red Cross, the UNL Children's Center and hospital and school outreach visits.

2019 (SENIOR)

A graduate transfer from Oklahoma State, Darrion Daniels made a major impact in his lone season at Nebraska. An honorable-mention All-Big Ten selection, Daniels started 11 of 12 games as a team captain, missing the Wisconsin game due to injury. He totaled a career-high 34 tackles on the season, with four tackles for loss, 1.5 sacks and his first career interception.

Daniels had four tackles in his Husker debut against South Alabama and five tackles against Northern Illinois, including career highs of two TFLs and 1.5 sacks. He added two more tackles the next week at Illinois and had three tackles against Ohio State. Daniels had a season-high six tackles in the win over Northwestern, including one tackle for loss. He matched that total with six tackles the next week at Minnesota. After being limited by an injury against Indiana, Daniels intercepted the first pass of his career at Purdue, setting up a Husker field goal. He missed the Wisconsin game with an injury but returned to start the next week at Maryland. Daniels concluded his career by tying for the team lead with six tackles against Iowa, including a three-yard tackle for loss.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (BISHOP DUNNE HS/OKLAHOMA STATE)

Daniels joined Nebraska as a graduate transfer after earning his degree from Oklahoma State. Daniels played for the Cowboys each of the last prior seasons. An injury limited him to four games in 2018 and allowed him to utilize a redshirt and preserve his final season of eligibility.

Daniels recorded seven tackles, one tackle for loss and 1.0 sack in his four games in 2018. As a junior in 2017, Daniels started 10 games and had 26 tackles, five TFLs, a half sack, two pass breakups and a pair of quarterback hurries. He earned the Vernon Grant Award for outstanding leadership, spirit and enthusiasm following the season. As a sophomore, Daniels appeared in 13 games, totaling 15 tackles, one TFL, one breakup, one hurry and one blocked extra point. Daniels was named Oklahoma State's most outstanding defensive newcomer as a true freshman in 2015, when he played in 13 games and had 16 tackles, 2.5 TFLs and a half sack.

Daniels played his prep ball for Bishop Dunne High School in Dallas. He recorded 67 tackles as a senior with 28 tackles for loss and eight sacks. As a junior, Daniels totaled 80 tackles, 25 TFLs and two sacks. He was named a first-team all-state selection as both a junior and a senior. Daniels also finished as the state runner-up in the shot put as a senior.

PERSONAL

Darrion was born on Dec. 4, 1997, and is the son of Tony Daniels and Rhonda Daniels. He earned his degree in marketing from Oklahoma State in December of 2018.

Alex Davis started every game at outside linebacker in his senior season, setting a career high with 30 tackles, more than he had in his first three seasons combined. Davis also tied his career high with four TFLs and posted his first career forced fumble, fumble recovery and interception in 2019.

He had a productive start to his senior season, finishing with one tackle, one fumble recovery and one quarterback hurry against South Alabama. He scored the game's final touchdown with a fumble recovery in the end zone in the fourth quarter. The next week at Colorado, Davis tied his career high with two TFLs. After totaling one tackle against Northern Illinois, Davis recorded a season-high three tackles at Illinois. He had two tackles against both No. 5 Ohio State and Northwestern before matching his season high with three tackles at Minnesota. Davis had two tackles against Indiana, and he intercepted the first pass of his career against the Hoosiers, while adding a career-high two quarterback hurries. The next week at Purdue, Davis recorded three tackles, including his third TFL of the season, while forcing the first fumble of his career. Against No. 15 Wisconsin, Davis tied his career high with four tackles. He matched that with four more tackles the next week at Maryland. Davis concluded his career with three tackles against Iowa, including one TFL.

Davis played in all 12 games in his junior season, earning starts against Wisconsin, Minnesota, Bethune-Cookman and Michigan State. In addition to his role at outside linebacker, Davis also saw time on special teams, and he totaled five tackles on the season. Davis made a special-teams tackle against Troy for his only tackle over the first four games. He then earned the start at outside linebacker at No. 16 Wisconsin and made three tackles, one shy of his career high. He did not have a tackle over the next three games before making his final tackle of the year at No. 8 Ohio State.

Davis made his biggest impact as a sophomore. He appeared in all 12 games and started each of the final five games at outside linebacker. After recording two tackles as a redshirt freshman, Davis totaled 17 tackles as a sophomore. He posted his first career solo tackle, tackle for loss and sack in 2017, finishing with 10 solo stops, four TFLs and 1.5 sacks.

Davis had at least one tackle in nine games and recorded his first career tackle for loss with a half sack against Northern Illinois. After making a then-career-high two tackles against No. 9 Ohio State, Davis earned his first career start at Purdue. He went on to start the final five games, totaling 12 tackles in those games with three tackles for loss and 1.0 sack. In his second career start against Northwestern, Davis had a career-best four tackles. Two weeks later at No. 13 Penn State, he recorded three tackles, including his first career solo sack. In the season finale with Iowa, Davis posted a career-high two TFLs.

Davis played in all 13 games as a reserve defensive end, primarily in pass-rushing situations. Davis had a pair of assisted tackles, one each against Fresno State and Ohio State.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Davis redshirted and worked on the scout team, where he earned Scout Team Defensive MVP honors for his outstanding practice work.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (DWYER HS)

Davis committed to Nebraska in the final week leading to 2015 National Signing Day. Davis played football for the first time during his senior season at Dwyer High School in Florida. His play in 2014 helped Coach Jack Daniels' team to a 7-4 record in the Class 7A ranks.

Davis was an unknown on the gridiron heading into his senior season. He began to draw recruiting attention in the summer when he excelled at various camps. He was the Defensive MVP of Florida International's camp and was the Defensive Lineman of the Day at a Miami camp.

Despite his late arrival to the recruiting rankings, Davis was listed as the No. 56 defensive end in the country by 247Sports, which also ranked him among the top 150 overall players in Florida.

Davis also excelled on the basketball court for Dwyer High and Coach Fred Ross. He first saw varsity action as a sophomore, then averaged 11.4 points and more than seven rebounds per game as a junior. As a senior, Davis averaged 12.3 points and 7.0 rebounds, helping Dwyer to a 25-5 record and a Class 7A District 13 title.

Davis also visited South Florida and had offers from Pittsburgh, Temple, Florida Atlantic, Florida International and Georgia Southern.

Carlos Davis, who played his senior season as a graduate student, started 11 of 12 games at defensive end as a senior, missing the Wisconsin game due to injury. He totaled 32 tackles, which ranked second among Nebraska's defensive linemen, behind his twin brother Khalil. Carlos also ranked second on the team behind his twin brother with 4.0 sacks.

He had four tackles and a fumble recovery in the season opener against South Alabama and a 12-yard sack the next week at Colorado. Against Northern Illinois, Davis tied his career high with six tackles and two TFLs, while setting a career high with 1.5 sacks as Nebraska kept the Huskies out of the end zone. Davis had a TFL for the third consecutive week at Illinois as part of a four-tackle effort. Davis added four tackles each against Ohio State, Northwestern and Minnesota, while forcing the first fumble of his career against the Gophers. He recorded two tackles against Indiana before splitting a sack with his brother at Purdue. Davis missed the Wisconsin game, but he returned the at Maryland and had a four-yard sack. In his final game, Davis recorded one tackle against Iowa.

Davis was an eight-time letterwinner at Nebraska (four each in football and track). He and his twin brother Khalil were the first Huskers in more than 50 years to be eight-time letterwinners and just the ninth and 10th eight-time letterwinners in the history of Nebraska Athletics.

Davis played in all 12 games and registered 27 tackles in 2018, including three TFLs and 1.0 sack. He also broke up five passes, the most pass breakups by a Nebraska defensive lineman since Ndamukong Suh had 10 breakups in 2009. For his efforts, Davis was selected as an honorable-mention All-Big Ten choice by the league's coaches.

Davis had two tackles, including a tackle for loss, in the season opener against Colorado, helping the Huskers limit the Buffaloes to 44 rushing yards. The next week against Troy, he had two tackles, including an eight-yard sack. At No. 19 Michigan, Davis recorded a pair of tackles. After appearing off the bench at defensive end in each of the first three games, Davis earned the start at nose guard against Purdue. Davis responded with three tackles, including one tackle for loss. He started again at nose guard at No. 16 Wisconsin and made a season-high four tackles. Davis had one tackle against Minnesota, Bethune-Cookman and Ohio State. He made three tackles in the Huskers' win over Illinois. Davis then had a season-high five tackles in Nebraska's win over Michigan State. He also broke up a pass against the Spartans. Davis wrapped up his junior season with a season-high three solo tackles as part of a four-tackle effort at Iowa.

In the spring, Davis completed his career as a four-year letterwinner for the Nebraska track and field program. He finished third in the discus at the 2019 Big Ten Outdoor Championships and qualified for the NCAA West Regional for the fourth straight year. Davis placed fourth with a career-best throw of 191-11 at the regional - the ninth-best mark in school history - to qualify for his second straight NCAA Championship. Davis placed 16th at the national meet to earn All-America honors for the second straight year.

Davis helped anchor the defensive line by starting all 12 games at defensive end. He recorded 42 tackles, more than double the total from his redshirt freshman season. Davis also posted a career-high 2.5 sacks, totaled four TFLs and had a team-high six quarterback hurries.

Davis totaled multiple tackles in all 12 games. He combined for 12 tackles in Nebraska's three non-conference games, including back-to-back games with five tackles against Oregon and Northern Illinois. He added a half sack against the Huskies. Davis then had at least three tackles in seven of Nebraska's nine Big Ten Conference games. He had three tackles, two TFLs and 1.0 sack at Illinois, marking his first career game with multiple tackles for loss. Davis added his third five-tackle game of the season at Purdue and recorded his final sack of the season at No. 13 Penn State. In the finale against Iowa, Davis tied his career high with six tackles.

In the spring, Davis qualified for the 2018 NCAA Outdoor Championships in the discus for the first time in his career, earning honorable-mention All-America honors by finishing 23rd. He also finished third at the NCAA West Regional and seventh at the Big Ten Outdoor Championships.

Davis played in all 13 games and made four starts at defensive tackle early in the season when Mick Stoltenberg was slowed by an injury. Davis made 24 tackles, including 11 solo stops, while registering five tackles for loss and 2.0 sacks for 24 yards. He also had three quarterback hurries.

Davis had five tackles in his first career start against Wyoming. He recorded his first career sack for 17 yards against Purdue and added a seven-yard sack a week later at Wisconsin. He had two tackles against Ohio State and Minnesota and also had a tackle for loss against the Gophers. He had a season-high six tackles at Iowa, including four solo stops, and posted two tackles and a tackle for loss against Tennessee.

In the spring, Davis finished 10th in the discus at the Big Ten Championships and qualified for the NCAA West Regional.

Davis redshirted and worked on the scout team in his first season. In the spring, Davis competed for the Nebraska track and field team in both indoor and outdoor competitions. He finished seventh in the discus at the 2016 Big Ten Outdoor Championships with a toss of 177-10 and also qualified for the NCAA West Regional.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (BLUE SPRINGS HS)

Davis was a two-time state champion at Blue Springs High School. As a senior, he totaled 64 tackles, including 33 tackles for loss, and had 18 sacks and 21 quarterback pressures. Davis helped the Wildcats to an 8-4 record and a trip to the third round of the Class 6 state playoffs. He was recognized as the Missouri Coaches Association Class 6 Defensive Player of the Year, won the prestigious Buck Buchanan Award and was a Class 6 all-state pick and earned All-Metro honors from the Kansas City Star.

As a junior, Davis helped Blue Springs to a perfect 14-0 record and a state title. He had 63 tackles, including 16 tackles for loss and 3.5 sacks, while adding two pass deflections, a forced fumble and a blocked punt. Davis also had four rushing attempts and a five-yard touchdown catch, earning first-team Class 6 all-state and second-team All-Metro honors.

Davis first saw varsity action as a sophomore for a 13-1 state championship team, making 16 tackles and one sack.

Davis was ranked among the top five players in Missouri and the top 25 defensive tackles in the country by Rivals.com, 247Sports and Scout. Davis chose Nebraska after also considering Missouri, and he had numerous offers, including Oregon, TCU, Arkansas and Kansas State.

As a senior, Davis helped lead Blue Springs to a Class 5 Missouri State Championship in track, capturing individual state titles in the shot put and discus in the process. He had a throw of 214-4 in the discus as a senior, the best prep mark in the nation in 2015.

PERSONAL

Carlos is the son of Carl and Tracy Davis. He was born on Aug. 22, 1996, and was joined on the Husker roster by his twin brother, Khalil. Carlos is the older of the Davis twins by five minutes. He earned his degree in child, youth and family studies in August of 2019. Davis volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race, a Mother/Son Event, Husker Heroes, the FCA and local school and hospital visits.

Khalil Davis, who played his senior season as a graduate student, started every game but one as a senior, missing the Northwestern game due to a Big Ten suspension. Davis finished with a career-high 45 tackles - the most among NU's defensive linemen - and he led Nebraska with 8.0 sacks and 12 TFLs.

He had a nine-yard sack in the season opener against South Alabama and had five solo tackles and a pair of TFLs at Colorado. Davis made one tackle in the win against Northern Illinois before totaling three tackles, including a four-yard sack at Illinois. Against No. 5 Ohio State, Davis had five tackles and tied his career high with two TFLs, including an eight-yard sack. After missing the Northwestern game, Davis returned to total four tackles at Minnesota, and he recorded his fourth sack of the year against Indiana. Davis had a career-high eight tackles the next week at Purdue, including 1.5 sacks and the first pass breakup of his career. Against No. 15 Wisconsin, Davis registered six tackles. He had a big game in Nebraska's win at Maryland, recording a career-high 2.5 sacks. Davis closed his Husker career with a four-tackle performance against Iowa that included one TFL.

For his efforts, Davis earned third-team All-Big Ten accolades from the conference coaches and honorable-mention recognition from the media.

Davis was an eight-time letterwinner at Nebraska (four each in football and track). He and his twin brother Carlos were the first Huskers in more than 50 years to be eight-time letterwinners and just the ninth and 10th eight-time letterwinners in the history of Nebraska Athletics.

Davis was a key member of the Husker defensive line while appearing in all 12 games as a junior. Although he did not start a game, Davis earned honorable-mention All-Big Ten recognition after leading the Husker defensive line with a career-high 41 tackles, more than doubling his career total entering the year. Davis also posted career highs with eight TFLs, 3.0 sacks and four quarterback hurries. He had multiple tackles in 10 of 12 games, including four games with four or more tackles.

Davis began his junior season on a strong note, setting then-career highs in tackles, tackles for loss and sacks against Colorado. Davis led all Husker defensive linemen with six tackles against the Buffaloes and he registered 2.0 sacks, matching his career total in that category. He added two more tackles against Troy and made three tackles at No. 19 Michigan. Against Purdue, Davis had a career-high seven tackles and had a tackle for a seven-yard loss. Davis added four tackles at No. 16 Wisconsin. The next week, Davis totaled a career-high five solo tackles at Northwestern, and he added one tackle in the Huskers' win over Minnesota.

Davis had three tackles and one TFL vs. Bethune-Cookman, his fourth tackle for loss of the season. He was big in Nebraska's win over Illinois, recording three tackles, including a pair of tackles for loss and a three-yard sack. He then totaled four tackles in the Huskers' win over Michigan State. In the season finale at Iowa, Davis tied his career high with a pair of TFLs, his third game of the year with multiple tackles for loss.

In the spring, Davis completed his career as a four-year letterwinner for the Husker track and field program. He finished eighth in the discus at the 2019 Big Ten Outdoor Championships with a throw of 173-7 and qualified for the NCAA West Regional for the fourth time in his career. Davis finished 10th at the West Regional to qualify for his first NCAA Championships, where he placed 23rd and earned honorable-mention All-America accolades.

Davis was a key contributor on the defensive line, appearing in all 12 games and totaling a career-high 15 tackles, tripling his total from his redshirt freshman season. Davis also set career highs with four tackles for loss and 2.0 sacks. Against Northern Illinois, Davis had a career-high three tackles and recorded his first career sack, forced fumble and pass breakup, while recording a career-best two TFLs. He also had three tackles and a sack at both Illinois and Purdue. Davis concluded his season by posting two tackles against Iowa in the season finale, marking his fourth multi-tackle effort of the year.

In the spring, Davis finished sixth in the discus at the 2018 Big Ten Outdoor Championships with a personal-best throw of 188-4 (57.41m). He also placed 23rd at the NCAA West Regional.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Davis played in 12 games, and made five tackles, including four solo stops and two tackles for loss, totaling four yards. He had a season-high two tackles against Wyoming, with both tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

In the spring, Davis competed in five track meets, placing 11th in the discus at the Big Ten Outdoor Championships and qualifying for the NCAA West Regional.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Davis sat out as a redshirt and impressed on the scout team defense. In the spring, he competed both indoors and outdoors for the Nebraska track and field team. Davis claimed the bronze medal in the discus at the Big Ten Outdoor Track & Field Championships, and he also qualified for the NCAA West Regional.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (BLUE SPRINGS HS)

Davis battled through injuries as a senior at Blue Springs High School, but tallied 60 tackles, including 26 for loss, and had 9.5 sacks. Davis also doubled as an offensive lineman in the second half of the season, helping Coach Kelly Donohoe's team to an 8-4 record and a trip to the second round of the Class 6 state playoffs. Davis' play in 2014 netted him Class 6 all-state honors, as well as an All-Metro selection.

Davis was a first-team Class 6 all-state selection by the Missouri High School Coaches Association and earned All-Metro honors from the Kansas City Star.

As a junior, Davis played a key role in helping Blue Springs to a perfect 14-0 record and a Class 6 state title. Davis had 62 tackles, including 26 tackles for loss, and added four sacks. He also forced a fumble, recovered two others and had a pass breakup.

Davis saw action for a 13-1 state championship Blue Springs team as a sophomore in 2012, making four solo tackles for the Wildcats. He chose Nebraska over Missouri and had numerous other offers, including TCU, Oregon, Arkansas and Kansas State to name a few.

Davis was ranked as the No. 3 player in Missouri by Rivals.com, while 247Sports ranked him as the No. 6 prospect in the state. Davis was listed among the nation's top 25 defensive tackles by both Rivals and 247Sports.

Davis helped lead Blue Springs to a 2015 Class 5 Missouri State Track Championship. He garnered second-place finishes in shot put and discus at the state championship finals, losing only to his twin brother, Carlos.

PERSONAL

Khalil is the son of Carl and Tracy Davis. He was born on Aug. 22, 1996, and was joined on the Husker roster by his twin brother, Carlos. Khalil is the younger of the Davis twins by five minutes. He earned his degree in child, youth and family studies in August of 2019. Davis volunteered his time with the FCA, the Nebraska Football Road Race, a Mother/Son event, Souper Bowl of Caring and school and hospital outreach visits.

2019 (SENIOR)

Tyrin Ferguson played in six games in his final season, recording four tackles, with a tackle for loss against both Illinois and Ohio State.

Although injuries limited him to just eight games and four starts, Ferguson totaled 36 tackles, six TFLs and 1.0 sack, all of which were career highs as he entered the year with eight career tackles, none of which were for a loss. Ferguson had multiple tackles in seven of his eight games played, and he produced a TFL in four of his eight games.

Ferguson produced a big performance in his first career start in the season opener with Colorado, totaling a career-high 10 tackles against the Buffaloes, two more than his career total entering the game. He also added his first two career tackles for loss and the first sack of his career against Colorado. Ferguson added four more tackles and another tackle for loss against Troy. At No. 19 Michigan, Ferguson had three tackles, including two TFLs. After missing the next two games with an injury, Ferguson returned in a limited role at Northwestern before recording three tackles in Nebraska's win against Minnesota. The next week against Bethune-Cookman, Ferguson registered a pair of tackles, before missing the next two games due to injury. Ferguson returned against Michigan State and had five tackles and one TFL in the Huskers' 9-6 win. He then closed his junior season on a strong note, recording nine tackles at Iowa while breaking up the first pass of his career against the Hawkeyes.

Ferguson appeared in five games and totaled three tackles and one interception as a backup linebacker and special teams contributor. He intercepted the first pass of his career in the season opener against Arkansas State and recorded his first tackle of the season on kickoff coverage at Oregon. Ferguson had a season-high two tackles against Northern Illinois, including one as a member of the Husker kickoff coverage unit. Two of Ferguson's three tackles came on kickoffs.

2016 (REDSHIRT)

2015 (FRESHMAN)

Ferguson played in 10 games as a true freshman, primarily as one of the Huskers' core special teams performers. He tallied five tackles, with four of the tackles on kickoff coverage. Ferguson also saw some time as a reserve linebacker with a tackle on defense at Minnesota.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (EDNA KARR HS)

Ferguson was a standout for Edna Karr High School in New Orleans. As a senior, Ferguson primarily lined up at defensive end for Coach Nathaniel Jones' team. Ferguson recorded 104 tackles, including 23.5 tackles for loss, and 10.5 sacks. He was also credited with 29 quarterback hurries, two forced fumbles and one recovery, one blocked kick, one safety and three interceptions, one of which he returned for a touchdown.

Ferguson helped Edna Karr to the quarterfinals of the Class 4A playoffs. He was named the Class 4A Defensive Player of the Year by the Louisiana Sportswriters Association and was the District 9-4A Defensive MVP.

Ferguson played for Edna Karr for just two seasons. His junior year was cut short by an injury, but he made the most of his limited time, racking up six sacks. His play late in the season helped Edna Karr to a 13-2 record and a trip to the state title game. Ferguson was a member of Edna Karr's basketball team, which finished with a 22-10 record in 2014-15.

Ferguson was ranked among the top 40 players in Louisiana by Rival, while Scout listed him as the No. 3 outside linebacker prospect in the state. He originally committed to Oregon State.

PERSONAL

Tyrin was born on Feb. 23, 1996, and he is the son of Sharmeika and Lance Daniels. He earned his degree in communication studies in December of 2019. Ferguson volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race and local hospital visits.

CAREER HONORS

- Second-Team All-Big Ten (2019)
- Nebraska Defensive MVP (2019)
- Guy Chamberlin Trophy (2019)
- Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll (Spring 2018)

2019 (SENIOR)

A second-team All-Big Ten selection, Lamar Jackson started every game in his final season and filled up the stat sheet with career highs of 40 tackles, four TFLs, 1.0 sack, one forced fumble, two fumble recoveries, three interceptions and 12 pass breakups.

As a key member of the Husker secondary, Jackson helped Nebraska limit six opponents to fewer than 170 passing yards, including three under 100 yards. As a team, Nebraska allowed its fewest passing yards per game (200.8) since the 2012 season. Jackson was a big reason why, as he ranked in the top 15 nationally in passes defended (15) and breakups (12). With 12 breakups as a senior, Jackson ended his career 10th in Husker history with 22 career pass breakups.

Jackson had three tackles in the season opener with South Alabama, when he recorded his second career sack, forcing a fumble Nebraska recovered. At Colorado, Jackson intercepted the third pass of his career and also broke up another pass. Jackson had three tackles against Northern Illinois and broke up a career-high four passes against the Huskies. In Nebraska's win at Illinois, Jackson had two pass breakups while finishing with three tackles and tying his career high with two TFLs. Jackson added two more pass breakups and a season-high four tackles against No. 5 Ohio State. He also had four tackles against Northwestern and intercepted his second pass of the season, which set up Nebraska's game-winning field goal as time expired.

Jackson added two more pass breakups at Minnesota, which gave him 11 breakups through seven games, one more than he recorded in his first three seasons combined. Jackson added another pass breakup and had three tackles against Indiana. At Purdue, Jackson intercepted his third pass of the season and had five tackles, including one tackle for loss. Jackson totaled six tackles against No. 15 Wisconsin and recovered the first fumble of his career, which set up a Husker touchdown. The next week at Maryland, Jackson forced a fumble that led to a Husker takeaway. He finished his career with three tackles against Iowa in a game where the Huskers held the Hawkeyes to 99 passing yards.

Jackson started 11 games and played in all 12 contests as a junior in 2018, showing continued improvement throughout the season as a key member of the Husker secondary. Jackson registered 28 tackles, seven pass breakups and his first two career interceptions, while also forcing the first fumble of his career and adding one tackle for loss.

After totaling one tackle in the season opener against Colorado, Jackson posted two tackles and recorded his first career interception against Troy. The interception was the first by a Husker cornerback in 21 games. In his 15th consecutive start at No. 19 Michigan, Jackson tallied three tackles. He had two stops the next week against Purdue. At No. 16 Wisconsin, Jackson came off the bench to record three tackles and one pass breakup. He returned to the starting lineup at Northwestern and recorded two tackles and a career-high two breakups. Jackson had another pass breakup in the Huskers' win over Minnesota and had two solo tackles against Bethune-Cookman. At No. 8 Ohio State, Jackson had three tackles, recorded his second career interception and forced a fumble that was recovered by Nebraska. Jackson then tied his career high with two pass breakups the next week against Illinois. He had four tackles against Michigan State, including his first TFL of the season. He concluded his junior season with three solo tackles at Iowa.

Jackson stepped into a full-time starting cornerback role as a sophomore. He finished the year with 38 tackles, the most by any NU cornerback. In addition to more than doubling his tackle total from his freshman season, Jackson tallied multiple tackles 10 times and broke up the first three passes of his career.

Jackson began his sophomore campaign with five solo tackles and his first career pass breakup in the Huskers' season-opening victory over Arkansas State. After combining for five tackles against Oregon and Northern Illinois, Jackson recorded four tackles in the Huskers' conference-opening win over Rutgers. He played a big role in the Huskers' comeback win at Purdue, finishing with a career-high eight tackles, all of which were solo stops. He then added a pass breakup in consecutive games against Northwestern and Minnesota before registering four solo tackles at No. 13 Penn State.

Jackson played in all 13 games as the third cornerback behind Chris Jones and Joshua Kalu. Jackson made his first career start in the Music City Bowl against Tennessee. In addition to his work in the secondary, Jackson also was a key member of the Huskers' special teams units. He finished the season with 17 tackles, including 14 solo stops. He added two tackles for loss and one sack.

Jackson had six tackles, including five solos, in his debut against Fresno State. Jackson also had two tackles for 14 yards lost, including an 11-yard sack against the Bulldogs. He added single tackles against Northwestern, Minnesota and Maryland, before a strong effort in the bowl game. Jackson had a team-high eight tackles against Tennessee in the Music City Bowl, including seven solo stops.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (FRANKLIN HS)

Jackson was a standout on both sides of the ball for Franklin High School. As a senior, Jackson helped the Wildcats to a 7-5 record and a trip to the second round of the Sac-Joaquin Section football playoffs. Jackson saw action at quarterback, throwing for 544 yards and four touchdowns, while also rushing for 664 yards and nine touchdowns, including a 97-yard scoring scamper. On defense, Jackson made 28 tackles and had a pass breakup as teams often avoided him in the passing game. Jackson was a first-team all-state pick in California by USA Today and was first-team Sacramento All-Metro by the Sacramento Bee.

Jackson was also a dual threat as a junior, helping Franklin High to a 7-5 record. Jackson threw for 221 yards and rushed for 577 yards and nine touchdowns. He also caught seven passes, including a touchdown. Jackson had two interceptions, while making 15 tackles.

Jackson helped his team to an 8-4 record as a sophomore in 2013. He was the team's starting quarterback, throwing for 1,428 yards and 17 touchdowns, while running for 565 yards and five touchdowns.

Jackson was ranked among the top 10 safeties nationally by ESPN, Rivals.com, 247Sports and Scout.com, including being the top-ranked safety by Rivals. He ranked among the top 150 prospects in the country by all four services, including No. 71 in the ESPN300 and No. 76 by Rivals.com. He was also a consensus choice as one of the top 20 players in the state of California. Jackson also played basketball at Franklin High.

Jackson participated in the Under Armour All-American game following his senior season. He chose Nebraska over dozens of offers including USC, UCLA, Oregon, Arizona State and Michigan.

PERSONAL

Lamar was born on April 13, 1998, and is the son of Catherine Horton. He majored in criminology and criminal justice. Jackson volunteered time with the Nebraska Football Road Race and hospital visits.

- Tom Osborne Citizenship Team (2016, 2017, 2019)

Eric Lee Jr., who played his senior season as a graduate student, played in all 12 games with one start in 2019. He finished the year with 20 tackles and ranked third on the team with two interceptions. Lee made the switch from cornerback to safety during the offseason and enjoyed a career game from his new position in the season opener against South Alabama. Lee had four tackles vs. the Jaguars while intercepting the first two passes of his career and adding another pass breakup. Lee returned his first interception 38 yards for a touchdown.

Lee earned his first career start at safety against Colorado, totaling five solo tackles against the Buffaloes. He added two tackles the next week against Northern Illinois. Lee also had two tackles against No. 5 Ohio State and made one stop against Indiana. Lee saw extensive action at Purdue, recording two tackles and blocking the first punt of his career. He then made four tackles against No. 15 Wisconsin.

After starting six games as a sophomore, Lee appeared in nine games with one start as a junior in 2018, totaling 13 tackles. Lee played in each of the season's final nine games, recording five tackles from his cornerback spot in his season debut against Purdue on Sept. 29. Lee earned the start at cornerback the next week at No. 16 Wisconsin and again had five tackles. Lee saw action on special teams at Northwestern but did not record a tackle. He then made a touchdown-saving tackle on kickoff coverage against Minnesota the next week. Lee played in each of the next four games - seeing action on both special teams and defense - but did not have a tackle. He ended his junior campaign with a pair of tackles on kickoff coverage in the season finale at Iowa.

Lee stepped into a starting cornerback role to begin his sophomore season following an injury to returning starter Chris Jones. Lee started each of the first six games, totaling 24 of his 30 tackles during that stretch with his only tackle for loss and two pass breakups. Eighteen of his 30 tackles were solo stops, and he had multiple tackles in each of the season's first seven games while recording the first TFL and first two breakups of his career.

Lee more than doubled his career total with seven tackles in the season opener against Arkansas State, which marked his first career start. He added his first career TFL against the Red Wolves, before totaling five tackles and his first career pass breakup the next week at Oregon. Lee broke up his second pass in as many weeks against Northern Illinois and combined for five tackles in his final two starts of the season, Husker wins over Rutgers and Illinois. Lee then came off the bench and totaled 10 tackles in a three-game stretch against Wisconsin, Ohio State and Purdue before missing the next three games due to injury. Lee returned from his absence in a limited role in the season finale against Iowa.

Lee played in eight games, primarily on special teams, while also providing depth at cornerback. Lee had two tackles, a tackle for loss at Ohio State and a solo stop against Tennessee in the Music City Bowl.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Lee redshirted and worked on the scout team.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (VALOR CHRISTIAN HS)

Lee was a two-time all-state pick, helping Valor Christian to consecutive Class 5A state championship game appearances. The Eagles finished 10-4 in 2014, losing the state title game to Cherry Creek High School.

Lee starred for Coach Rod Sherman, and assistant coach Brian Dawkins, a former NFL All-Pro safety. Lee had five interceptions and 10 pass breakups in 2014, and had 59 tackles, including three tackles for loss and a sack. Lee also rushed 36 times for 359 yards and three touchdowns, had 33 catches for 470 yards and four touchdowns, and totaled 1,120 all-purpose yards. Lee was an All-Colorado choice by the Denver Post and earned first-team 5A all-state honors from the Colorado High School Activities Association.

Lee helped Valor Christian to the 2013 Class 5A state championship and a 13-1 record. He was a first-team all-state defensive back by the CHSAA. Lee had 45 tackles as a junior, while intercepting two passes and adding five breakups and three fumble recoveries.

Lee was ranked as the No. 1 player in Colorado by Rivals.com, and was a consensus top 150 prospect. Lee participated in the Semper Fi Bowl in California, and was named the top performer at the 2014 Mile High 7-on-7 Camp. Lee chose Nebraska over scholarship offers from Arizona State, Colorado, Colorado State, Kansas State and Oregon State.

PERSONAL

The son of Dana and Eric Lee Sr., Eric Jr. was born on Aug. 13, 1996. Lee Jr. earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska as a management major in December of 2018. The elder Lee earned his doctorate degree from Nebraska. Eric Jr. volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race, the Lincoln Marathon, Husker Heroes, School is Cool, the Souper Bowl of Caring and local school and hospital visits.

Wyatt Mazour, a former walk-on, was placed on scholarship for his senior season. Mazour played in 10 games and had 21 carries for 74 yards and one touchdown with five catches for 52 yards while playing his senior season as a graduate.

He recorded 25 yards from scrimmage on eight rushes (12 yards) and one catch (13 yards) in the season opener against South Alabama. Mazour added one carry for three yards in Nebraska's win over Northern Illinois and had two carries for a season-high 16 yards at Illinois, including a season-best 11-yard rush.

After missing the Minnesota game due to injury, Mazour returned for the Indiana game and had a 10-yard carry against the Hoosiers, while also returning two short kickoffs for 40 yards. An injury also kept Mazour out of the Purdue game but he returned to catch a career-high three passes for a career-high 29 yards against No. 15 Wisconsin. The next week at Maryland, Mazour had two carries for five yards. He had a career-high seven carries in his final game against Iowa, gaining a season-high 28 yards against the Hawkeyes with a nine-yard touchdown run.

Mazour played in all 12 games as a major contributor on both offense and special teams as a junior. On offense, Mazour had 11 carries for 76 yards and one touchdown, and he caught one pass for 21 yards. Mazour also served on several NU special teams units, including the kickoff return squad where he had three returns for 48 yards.

After playing on special teams in the first two games, Mazour earned his first career carries at No. 19 Michigan, rushing five times for 18 yards. He scored on a three-yard run in the fourth quarter for his first career touchdown. Mazour added his first career reception for 21 yards at Michigan and finished as Nebraska's second-leading rusher and receiver against the Wolverines. The next week against Purdue, Mazour had his first career kickoff return, returning a pooch kick for 21 yards. Mazour returned another pooch kick 15 yards at Northwestern. Against Bethune-Cookman, Mazour had five carries for a career-high 55 yards, including a career-long 18-yard run. Against Illinois, Mazour had one kickoff return for 12 yards and one carry for three yards.

Mazour played in three games as a sophomore, appearing on special teams against Purdue, Northwestern and Iowa. Mazour was also a member of NU's travel roster for all four Big Ten Conference road games.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Mazour appeared in NU's win over Wyoming but did not have a carry.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Mazour redshirted and worked on the scout team offense.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (BOONE CENTRAL HS)

Mazour was one of the state's most dynamic playmakers over his final two seasons at Boone Central High School. Mazour led Coach Arnold Johnson's team to a perfect 13-0 record and a Class C-1 state title in 2014. Mazour threw for 1,863 yards and 25 touchdowns, while completing better than 56 percent of his passes. On the ground, Mazour rushed for 1,632 yards and 26 touchdowns, with eight 100-yard rushing games. Mazour added nine tackles and two interceptions on defense and had more than 600 return yards, including 485 yards on kickoff returns.

Mazour was the Lincoln Journal Star's first-team Super-State quarterback and was a first-team All-Nebraska pick by the Omaha World-Herald for his play as a senior. Both the Journal Star and World-Herald named him the honorary captain of the Class C-1 all-state team.

Mazour was also the C-1 all-state quarterback as a junior, leading his team to an 11-1 record and a trip to the state semifinals. Mazour threw for 1,608 yards and 11 touchdowns, while rushing for 1,228 yards and 24 touchdowns. He also added 19 tackles and three interceptions and had more than 500 return yards. Mazour also played baseball and basketball.

PERSONAL

Wyatt was born on June 22, 1996, and is the son of John and Kay Mazour. He earned his degree in nutrition and health sciences in August of 2019. Mazour volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race, Husker Heroes, and local hospital outreach events.

2019 (SENIOR)

DaiShon Neal, who played his senior season as a graduate student, played in all 12 games in 2019. He played on special teams in every game and also saw action on the defensive line against Northern Illinois, Ohio State and Maryland, recording his lone tackle of the season against the Huskies.

2018 (JUNIOR)

Neal appeared on the defensive line in each of the first seven games before an injury forced him to miss the final five games. Neal totaled a career-high three tackles as a junior. All three of his tackles came in Big Ten play, as he tied his career high with two stops at No. 19 Michigan and added a tackle against Purdue the next week.

2017 (SOPHOMORE)

Neal was a prominent special teams player and added depth on the defensive line while appearing in all 12 games as a sophomore in 2017. Neal recorded his lone tackle on the season from his defensive end spot in the Huskers' 12-point fourth-quarter comeback victory at Purdue.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Neal played in nine games, both on special teams and as a reserve end. Neal was on the Husker punt block team for most of the season. He had an assisted tackle at Northwestern and a solo stop at Ohio State.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Neal dealt with a leg injury and sat out the season as a redshirt.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (OMAHA CENTRAL HS)

Neal spent two seasons at William B. Travis High School in Houston before moving to Omaha. Neal was a four-year varsity performer in high school, as he enrolled at Omaha Central prior to his junior season. As a senior, Neal recorded 51 tackles, including 39 solo stops, for the Eagle defense. He also had 13 tackles for loss, five sacks and six quarterback hurries. He caused one fumble, recovered another and blocked one kick.

Neal showed his versatility against Class A state champion Omaha North when he lined up at tight end and caught two touchdown passes. Neal was a first-team All-Nebraska selection by the Omaha World-Herald and a Super-State selection by the Lincoln Journal Star. He helped the Eagles to a playoff berth as a junior and was also a member of the Central basketball team that reached the state semifinals in 2014.

Neal was ranked as the top prospect in Nebraska by both Rivals and 247Sports, and both services listed him among the top 40 defensive ends in the nation. Neal chose Nebraska over Michigan and also visited Oklahoma, with offers from Oregon and Iowa among others.

HONOLULU, HAWAII | PUNAHOU HS | CALIFORNIA

Kanawai Noa, a graduate transfer from Cal, appeared in the first 10 games for Nebraska in 2019 with nine starts, before an injury sidelined him for the final two games. He ranked third on the team with 245 receiving yards, fourth with 17 receptions and tied for second on the team with two touchdown catches.

Noa was held without a catch in the first two games before catching three passes for 51 yards, including a 27-yard touchdown against Northern Illinois. He then recorded his 100th career reception at Illinois and had one catch against Ohio State. Noa had a catch for the fourth straight game when he caught two passes for 13 yards in the win over Northwestern. After being held without a reception at Minnesota, Noa caught three passes for a season-high 52 yards against Indiana, including a 24-yard touchdown grab. He caught a season-high four passes for 47 yards the next week at Purdue, including a 34-yard reception that marked his second-longest catch of the year. Noa led Nebraska with 72 receiving yards against No. 15 Wisconsin, averaging 24.0 yards per catch on his three receptions, including a season-long 36-yard grab.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (PUNAHOU HS/CALIFORNIA)

Noa joined the Huskers in the summer of 2019 as a graduate transfer from Cal. Noa had a productive career with the Bears despite battling injuries. In four seasons at Cal, Noa appeared in 35 games with 16 starts, catching 96 passes for 1,267 yards and six touchdowns.

Noa made seven catches for 76 yards as a true freshman in 2015, and he also returned four kickoffs for 94 yards and four punts for 15 yards. An injury limited Noa to just three games as a sophomore in 2016, and he was granted a medical redshirt, preserving a season of eligibility. In limited action as a sophomore, Noa made three catches for 34 yards. He bounced back from the injury in a big way in 2017, setting career highs with 56 catches for 788 yards and four touchdowns. Noa averaged 14.1 yards per reception and 71.6 yards per game in 2017, ranking sixth in the Pac-12 and 50th in the country in receiving yards per game. In 2018, Noa dealt with injuries and played in eight games, recording 30 catches for 369 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Noa was on the watch list for the Biletnikoff Award as both a sophomore (2017) and junior (2018), and he was also on the watch list for the Polynesian College Football Player of the Year both seasons.

Before attending Cal, Noa was a standout wide receiver at Punahou High School in Hawaii. He caught 146 passes in his high school career for 3,195 yards and 34 touchdowns. As a senior, Noa caught 53 passes for 1,072 yards. He had 51 receptions for 1,145 yards and 10 touchdowns as a junior after posting 42 receptions for 978 yards and 15 touchdowns as a sophomore. Noa helped Punahou to three trips to the state finals. As a junior, Noa was the most valuable offensive player for a state champion Punahou team that finished with an 11-0 record, a No. 1 ranking in Hawaii and a No. 17 ranking nationally. He was a two-time all-state selection and was the All-Interscholastic League of Honolulu Offensive Player of the Year as a senior.

Out of high school, Noa was regarded as a three-star recruit. He was a consensus pick as one of the top 10 players in Hawaii, and Scout regarded him as the top receiver in Hawaii.

OMAHA, NEB. | CREIGHTON PREP HS

CAREER HONORS

- Nebraska Special Teams Player of the Year (2018)

2019 (SENIOR)

A former walk on, Jeramiah Stovall was awarded a scholarship for his senior season. Stovall, who played his senior season as a graduate student, appeared in all 12 games as a key member of several Nebraska special teams units. He finished the year with seven tackles, including a career-high three tackles against Northern Illinois. He ranked second on the team in special teams tackles.

2018 (JUNIOR)

Stovall was Nebraska's Special Teams Player of the Year as a junior in 2018. Stovall was a member of Nebraska's kickoff coverage in eight of the season's final 10 games, totaling eight tackles on that unit. He tied for the team lead with eight special teams tackles and eight tackles on kickoff coverage. Stovall had single tackles on kickoff coverage at Northwestern and Ohio State, and he had two tackles on kickoff coverage against Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois. Stovall also recovered the first fumble of his career against the Illini.

2017 (SOPHOMORE)

Stovall saw the first game action of his Husker career as a sophomore, appearing in all 12 games. He was a key member of Nebraska's special teams throughout the season and added depth in the secondary. Stovall finished with four tackles, registering a stop against Northern Illinois, Rutgers, Purdue and Penn State. Each of his four tackles came on special teams, as Stovall ranked third on the team with his four special teams tackles.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Stovall added depth in the secondary, but did not play in a game.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Stovall was on campus for the fall 2015 semester, but he did not join the Husker team until the spring after earning a spot on the roster through a walk-on tryout.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (CREIGHTON PREP HS)

Stovall played high school football at Creighton Prep, where he collected first-team Super-State accolades in 2014 when the Junior Jays took Class A state runner-up honors. Stovall had six interceptions, eight pass breakups, two blocked kicks and 45 tackles as a senior.

Offensively, he rushed for 812 yards and 11 touchdowns, while catching four passes for 58 yards. Stovall also returned kickoffs and punts. As a junior, he had 34 solo tackles and 49 assisted stops and added two interceptions in helping the team advance to the state playoffs.

PERSONAL

The son of Christopher and Maureen Stovall, Jeramiah was born on Aug. 4, 1997. He majored in criminology and criminal justice and earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska in May of 2019. He volunteered his time with the Nebraska Football Road Race, Husker Heroes and local hospital visits.

2019 (SENIOR)

Chase Urbach, who played his senior season as a graduate student, handled all of the long snapping duties for Nebraska in 2019. He was on the watch lists for the Mannely Award (nation's top collegiate long snapper) and the Burlsworth Trophy (most outstanding college football player who began his career as a walk-on).

2018 (JUNIOR)

Urbach handled the snapping duties for Nebraska's punt unit in each of the final 10 games of 2018. He made his Husker debut in his home state at No. 19 Michigan in the third game of the year. Urbach made a pair of tackles at Michigan and one against Illinois, finishing the year with three tackles. He also recovered a fumbled punt against the Illini. As the long snapper, he helped Isaac Armstrong post the ninth-best punting average (43.6) in school history.

2017 (SOPHOMORE)

Urbach was again Nebraska's backup long snapper as a sophomore. He did not appear in a game but was a member of the Huskers' travel roster for all five road games.

2016 (REDSHIRT FRESHMAN)

Urbach was the backup to long snapper Jordan Ober. Urbach traveled to every game, but did not see game action.

2015 (REDSHIRT)

Urbach sat out his first season at Nebraska as a redshirt.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (GROSSE POINTE SOUTH HS)

Urbach walked on after playing his junior and senior seasons for Tim Brandon at Grosse Pointe South High School. Urbach earned all-conference honors in 2013 and 2014 as a long snapper and was named Special Teams Player of the Year as a senior. Urbach earned a 4.5-star rating from RubioLongSnapping.com. Urbach also considered offers from Indiana State and Hawaii.

PERSONAL

Chase is the son of Scott and Beth Urbach and was born on Jan. 23, 1997. He majored in advertising and public relations and earned his bachelor's degree from Nebraska in May of 2019. He volunteered with Husker Heroes, the Red Cross, the Nebraska Football Road Race, NFL Fuel Up to Play 60, local hospital visits and school outreach events.

11 VAHA VAINUKU*DEFENSIVE LINE*6-3 | 310 | ONE LETTER*SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH | EAST HS | UTAH*2019 (SENIOR)

Vaha Vainuku added depth to a veteran defensive line in 2019 but did not appear in a game.

2018 (JUNIOR)

After transferring from Utah, Vainuku appeared in one game in his junior season at Nebraska, making his Husker debut in the win against Bethune-Cookman. The BCU game marked the first defensive snaps of his collegiate career, as the two games he played at the University of Utah were as an offensive lineman.

BEFORE NEBRASKA (SALT LAKE CITY EAST HS/UTAH)

Vainuku joined Nebraska as a graduate transfer in the summer of 2018. Vainuku graduated from Salt Lake City East High School in 2012 and then served a two-year church mission in Oakland, Calif., before enrolling at Utah in January of 2015.

Vainuku, who originally signed with the Utes in 2012, redshirted as a freshman at Utah in 2015, when he was sidelined with an injury. The next season, he appeared in two games on the offensive line. He battled injuries throughout his time in Salt Lake City and elected to retire from the sport prior to the 2017 season. After earning his degree in May of 2018, Vainuku decided to give football another try and enrolled at Nebraska.

In high school, Vainuku was a two-time all-state selection as an offensive lineman for Salt Lake City East, and he also participated in basketball and track and field, winning the 2011 Utah 4A state shot put championship. Although he played on the offensive line at East, Vainuku was recruited as a defensive tackle and was regarded as a three-star prospect. His full name is Ofalotu Hevaha Vainuku.

PERSONAL

Vaha is the son of Vaha and Siupeli Vainuku, and he was born on Oct. 21, 1993. A 2018 Utah graduate, Vainuku was a child, youth and family studies graduate student at Nebraska. He volunteered his time with local hospital visits.

CAREER STATS

CAREER HONORS

- Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll (Spring 2018)

2019 (SENIOR)

Mike Williams played in every game as a senior with one start, and he caught five passes for 209 yards, averaging 21.8 yards per reception. He caught his first pass of the season with a 26-yard reception on a 3rd-and-10 play against Northern Illinois, keeping alive a Husker touchdown drive. He added a 20-yard reception the next week at Illinois. Williams had a five-yard reception in the win over Northwestern. Against Indiana, Williams hauled in a career-long 34-yard reception. Williams had a 24-yard catch in the Huskers' 54-7 win at Maryland.

Williams earned a pair of starts and appeared in all 12 games in his first season at Nebraska. Williams caught 12 passes for 122 yards, averaging 10.2 yards per reception. He had three catches for 40 yards in his Husker debut against Colorado. Williams' three receptions matched his total from 11 games as a freshman at Georgia Southern in 2016, while his 40 yards exceeded the 27 yards he totaled with the Eagles.

Williams did not have a catch over the next three games but had an 11-yard reception at No. 16 Wisconsin and hauled in three catches for 41 yards at Northwestern, including a career-long 24-yard grab. He made it three straight games with a catch by hauling in a seven-yard reception against Minnesota. Williams posted his third multi-reception game of the season at No. 8 Ohio State, catching two passes for 21 yards. He added two more catches in the win over Michigan State.

(COLUMBIA HS/GEORGIA SOUTHERN/EAST MISSISSIPPI CC)

Williams was the leading receiver for East Mississippi, the 2017 NJCAA national champion. Williams caught 30 passes for 669 yards and seven touchdowns in 2017 to help the Lions to an 11-1 record under NJCAA Coach of the Year Buddy Stephens. Williams' seven touchdown receptions ranked 16th nationally, and he averaged 23.2 yards per catch.

Williams spent his freshman season at Georgia Southern, appearing in 11 games and catching three passes for 27 yards.

Originally from Lake City, Fla., Williams attended Columbia High School. He earned an honorable-mention selection to the Florida Times-Union's All-First Coast Football Team as a senior, when Williams totaled more than 50 receptions and 1,200 receiving yards and accounted for 13 total touchdowns.

PERSONAL

Mike was born on April 5, 1998, and is the son of Antorria Jackson and Michael Williams. He majored in child, youth and family studies. He volunteered with the Nebraska Football Road Race and local hospital visits.

CAREER HONORS

- Nebraska Scholar-Athlete Honor Roll (Spring 2019)

2019 (REDSHIRT)

Jaron Woodyard, who had a redshirt season available after transferring to Nebraska from the junior college ranks, played in three games with one start in 2019. By playing in fewer than five games, he utilized his redshirt season and intended to transfer for his final season in 2020.

Woodyard made his season debut against Northwestern and then caught his first pass of the season and second of his career with a five-yard grab at Minnesota. Woodyard caught a career-high two passes during his return to his home state in Nebraska's 54-7 win at Maryland.

Woodyard appeared in eight games in 2018, finishing with one reception for 10 yards and four kickoff returns for 50 yards. He made his career debut in the third game of the season at No. 19 Michigan. The next week against Purdue, Woodyard had a 10-yard reception for the first catch of his career. He also returned a pair of kickoffs for 34 yards against the Boilermakers in his first action as a kick returner. He also had a 13-yard kickoff return at No. 8 Ohio State.

Following spring workouts, Woodyard competed for Nebraska's track and field team for the outdoor season. He posted the fastest 100-meter dash time on the team (10.47) and second-fastest 200-meter dash time (21.42). Woodyard qualified for the NCAA West Regional as a member of Nebraska's 4x100-meter relay squad.

(THE AVALON SCHOOL/ARIZONA WESTERN CC)

Woodyard joined Nebraska in June of 2018 following two seasons at Arizona Western Community College, where he helped Coach Tom Minnick's team to a 20-2 combined record.

In 2017, Woodyard caught 36 passes for 522 yards and six touchdowns and also had 304 yards on kickoff returns. His play helped the Matadors to a 9-1 record and a trip to the NJCAA national championship game. A Maryland native, Woodyard averaged 23.7 yards on 11 receptions as a freshman in 2016, with five of those catches resulting in touchdowns. Woodyard also averaged 26.0 yards on kickoff returns, helping Arizona Western to an 11-1 record in 2016.

Woodyard was ranked as the No. 2 junior college wide receiver in the country by 247Sports and was listed as the No. 23 overall JUCO prospect by the site. Woodyard played high school ball at The Avalon School in Gaithersburg, Md., where he was also a member of the basketball team and a track standout. In high school, Woodyard showed his speed with a 10.68 in the 100 meters and a 21.50 in the 200. Woodyard also visited UCF, Tennessee, Syracuse and Maryland and had numerous other offers.

Woodyard's guardian is British Gary, and Jaron was born on June 2, 1997. He majored in a child, youth and family studies. He volunteered with the Nebraska Football Road Race, the Malone Center and local hospital visits.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Northwestern meet each season as members of the Big Ten West Division. Seven of the nine meetings between the schools since NU joined the Big Ten have been decided by three or fewer points or in overtime, and by a total of 22 points. Northwestern holds a 4-3 edge in those close contests. The five games in Lincoln since 2011 have been decided by a total of 17 points. Nebraska is 2-3 in those with both victories coming on the final play of the game (Hail Mary in 2013 and field goal in 2019), two of the three-walk off Husker wins in Memorial Stadium history. Nebraska is 3-1 at Ryan Field, with the only setback an overtime loss in 2018. Nebraska rallied from fourth-quarter deficits in both 2012 and 2013, including winning on a Hail Mary pass at Memorial Stadium in 2013, the first game-winning Hail Mary in Nebraska history. Nebraska won 29-28 at Evanston in 2012, rallying from a 12-point fourth-quarter deficit to the largest fourth-quarter comeback in school history. The Huskers defeated Northwestern 66-17 in the 2000 Alamo Bowl. The game marked the highest point total by the Huskers in a bowl game and Dan Alexander rushed for a Nebraska bowl-game record 240 yards and two touchdowns. Nebraska has been ranked in the AP top 10 in three of the meetings. Nebraska won the first meeting in series history, 12-0, in Lincoln on Nov. 27, 1902—the only shutout in series history. Northwestern posted a 19-7 victory in the first meeting between the two schools in Evanston on Oct. 3, 1931.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Illinois meet every season as members of the Big Ten West Division. Since Nebraska joined the Big Ten in 2011, the teams have met in the Big Ten opener for both schools four times - all since 2013. In 2021, the teams open the season against each other in a Week Zero matchup in Dubin, Ireland, marking Nebraska's second-ever international game and first-ever game in Europe. Nebraska has won six of seven matchups as Big Ten opponents, including each of the past four meetings. The Huskers are 9-1 against Illinois in Lincoln, including a 4-0 mark as conference foes with all four wins coming by at least two touchdowns. Nebraska's 54-35 win in 2018 marked the Huskers first 50-point game in Big Ten Conference play, and is tied for the most points NU has ever scored in a Big Ten game. The only meetings between 1953 and 2013 came in 1985 and 1986 when the Huskers easily won both ends of a home-and-home series. One of the more memorable wins in the first half-century of Nebraska football was a 14-0 victory over Red Grange and the Illini on Oct. 3, 1925. It was the only time in Grange's career that he was held scoreless in a home game. NU's second-ever meeting with a Big Ten school came against Illinois with a 6-0 victory on Oct. 24, 1892. NU opened the series with four straight wins in Lincoln from 1892 to 1905. Illinois has never been ranked at game time in 17 meetings with NU.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Rutgers face each other in 2020 for the first time in three years, after the teams met in three of the Scarlet Knights' first four seasons in the Big Ten. The Huskers have won each of the three matchups as Big Ten foes. Nebraska won the first-ever meeting at Rutgers with a 31-14 win in 2015. Prior to the 2014 meeting in Lincoln, the schools had not met since a 28-0 NU win at the New York Polo Grounds in 1920.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Ohio State are in the fifth year of a six-year stretch of meeting every season as cross-division opponents. The first meeting in Lincoln was Nebraska's first-ever Big Ten home game on Oct. 8, 2011. That game featured the largest comeback victory in NU history, as the Huskers rallied from a 27-6 deficit for a 34-27 victory. The 2016 contest was the first in the series between a pair of top-10 teams. Ohio State has been ranked in the top 10 in each of the last four matchups, including 2019 when ESPN College Gameday came to Lincoln for the first time since the 2001 season. The Buckeyes won the first two games in the series, a pair of meetings in the mid-1950s in Columbus, Ohio. In the first meeting, the No. 6 Buckeyes posted a 28-20 victory over a Bill Glassford-coached Cornhusker club. In the only other meeting, Michigan grad Pete Elliott led his only Nebraska team to Ohio State in a 34-7 loss to the No. 8 Buckeyes.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Penn State, which met as protected division cross-over foes from 2011 to 2013, are meeting for just the second time in the past seven seasons in 2020. Nebraska won the first three meetings as Big Ten foes, before No. 13 Penn State won in Happy Valley in 2017. NU improved to 7-1 all-time in overtime games with its 2013 win in Happy Valley. Nebraska rallied from a two-touchdown halftime deficit for a 32-23 win in Lincoln in 2012. NU's 17-14 win at Penn State in 2011 came in the first game in 46 seasons without Joe Paterno as the Nittany Lions' head coach. Both teams entered the game nationally ranked in five straight meetings between 1979 and 1983, with NU winning three of the five games. In 1982 in Happy Valley, No. 2 Nebraska dropped a 27-24 decision to a Nittany Lion team that went on to win the national title. In 1983, No. 1 NU opened the season with a 44-6 victory over No. 4 Penn State in the Kickoff Classic in East Rutherford, N.J. Penn State won four of the first five meetings, including a pair of shutouts in State College in 1920 and 1952. NU claimed its first win with a 19-0 shutout at Memorial Stadium on Oct. 21, 1950.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Iowa began the Heroes Game tradition with the first meeting as Big Ten opponents in 2011. The road team has won six of the past eight games. Iowa extended its win streak in the series to five games with a 27-24 win in Lincoln in 2019, the second straight year the Hawkeyes won with a field goal in the closing seconds. Iowa's 56 points in 2017 were the most points the Hawkeyes have scored in 50 meetings with the Huskers. Iowa was ranked No. 3 entering the 2015 game in Lincoln, the first time NU has faced a ranked Hawkeye team (Iowa was also ranked in 2019). In 2014, Nebraska rallied from a 17-point second-half deficit, tying the largest road comeback in school history. The Huskers prevailed 37-34 in overtime. The teams have met on the day after Thanksgiving the past nine seasons, but begin a two-year break this season from meeting in the regular-season finale. No. 1 Nebraska rolled to a 42-13 win at Memorial Stadium in 2000 in the final non-conference meeting, a year after the No. 5 Huskers cruised to a 42-7 victory in Iowa City in 1999. NU was ranked at game time in eight straight meetings from 1979-2012. The Huskers were 7-1 in those contests, suffering a 10-7 defeat to the Hawkeyes on Sept. 12, 1981. Nebraska held the Hawkeyes to 13 or fewer points in seven straight matchups from 1980 through 2012. NU is 15-6-1 all-time against Iowa in Lincoln, including 11-5 at Memorial Stadium. The first true home game in the series was played at Iowa City on Oct. 31, 1903, with Nebraska coming away with a 17-6 win. The previous 10 meetings had come on neutral fields in the Omaha/Council Bluffs area with the two teams battling to a 4-4-2 deadlock.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Wisconsin play for the Freedom Trophy each season, a trophy that debuted for the 2014 matchup, when the schools began meeting every year as members of the Big Ten West Division. Nebraska played its first-ever game as a member of the Big Ten Conference at Camp Randall Stadium against Wisconsin on Oct. 1, 2011. The teams met twice in 2012. In the regular-season meeting in Lincoln, Nebraska posted the second-largest comeback in school history, twice rallying from a 17-point deficit for a 30-27 victory. Wisconsin defeated Nebraska 70-31, in the Big Ten title game at Lucas Oil Stadium in Indianapolis. The Badgers have won eight of nine games as Big Ten foes, including each of the past seven. Nebraska was ranked in the top 25 in eight straight meetings with the Badgers before entering the 2015 game unranked, while Wisconsin has been ranked in each of the past five matchups. The 2016 game featured a pair of ranked teams for the third time in 14 all-time matchups. NU was ranked in the top 10 five times entering the UW game from 1965 to 2011, and was No. 7 in 2016. Wisconsin won the first meeting between the two teams, 18-0, on Nov. 2, 1901. The Huskers reeled off three straight wins from 1965 to 1973 by a combined margin of 88-19. The first two meetings came under NU Hall of Fame Coach Bob Devaney, who led his 1965 Huskers to a 37-0 shutout of the Badgers. Nebraska completed a series sweep one year later with a 31-3 victory in Madison. Current Wisconsin A.D. Barry Alvarez was a linebacker on those two NU teams. The two teams met again in Lincoln in 1973, when No. 2 NU, under first-year head coach Tom Osborne, escaped with a 20-16 win.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Minnesota begin a two-year stretch where the teams meet on the Friday after Thanksgiving. NU has played on the Friday after Thanksgiving each of the past 30 years, dating back to 1990 (Oklahoma from 1990-95; Colorado from 1996-2010; Iowa from 2011-19). Before Nebraska joined the Big Ten, Minnesota was Nebraska's most frequent opponent among conference schools, with 51 meetings between 1900 and 1990. Nebraska is 5-4 against the Gophers as Big Ten foes. Minnesota has won four of the seven meetings since 2013 after the Huskers had a 16-game win streak in the series. Nebraska's 2018 win (53-28) in Lincoln was Scott Frost's first as Nebraska head coach. The 16-game win streak from 1963 to 2012 included lopsided NU wins in the first two meetings as Big Ten opponents. In the 2011 win, Nebraska scored the first 34 points, giving Nebraska 145 consecutive points against the Gophers in three consecutive meetings. The first 14 of the wins in the Nebraska 16-game streak came under Hall of Fame coaches Bob Devaney and Tom Osborne by a combined score of 553-100. NU was 8-0 against the Gophers under Devaney (225-73) and 6-0 under Osborne (328-27). Nebraska posted five shutouts in the winning streak. Nebraska defeated the Gophers for eight consecutive seasons from 1967 to 1974, including NU national championship seasons in 1970 (35-10 at Minneapolis) and 1971 (35-7 in Lincoln). NU posted back-to-back shutouts in the final two meetings in non-league games (1989, 1990), winning by a combined margin of 104-0. Minnesota's 1960 national championship team posted a 26-14 win over Bill Jennings' Huskers in Lincoln in the Gophers' previous victory in the series. The Gophers also beat the Huskers on their way to AP national titles in 1936 (7-0, Minneapolis), 1940 (13-7, Minneapolis) and 1941 (9-0, Minneapolis). Minnesota has never played Nebraska as the nation's No. 1 team, while the Huskers have entered the game with Minnesota as the AP No. 1 on three occasions (1971, 1983, 1984). In 1968, both teams were ranked at game time (NU 9, UM 17) for the only time in series history. Nebraska's 84 points against Minnesota in 1983 are the most scored by the Huskers during the modern era (since WW II). The 1983 offense racked up 790 total offensive yards - the third-highest total in school history, including 595 rushing yards. In the first 37 games in the series, which dates to 1900, Minnesota posted a 29-6-2 record and shut out the Huskers 12 times. The Gophers' last shutout came in 1941, which marked the second win in a 10-game winning streak by Minnesota.

Series Notes: After making its first trip to Lincoln for a Big Ten Conference game in 2019, Nebraska and Indiana will not face each other again until a 2022 matchup in Lincoln. The Hoosiers were the last Big Ten team to make the visit to Memorial Stadium in league play. Indiana and Nebraska met for the first time as Big Ten opponents in Bloomington in 2016 with 10th-ranked Nebraska winning 27-22. The schools did not meet in the first five seasons Nebraska was a member of the conference. Prior to 2016, the four previous meetings came under Coach Tom Osborne, and the Huskers posted a combined margin of 190-43. Those victories snapped a 10-game NU winless streak in the series that dated back to a 13-7 win over Indiana at Memorial Stadium in 1940. Fifteen of the 21 games in the series have been played in Lincoln. IU has enjoyed success, posting an 8-5-2 record in its trips to Nebraska. In fact, from 1940 to 1959, Indiana went 7-0-1 at Memorial Stadium. Nebraska has been ranked in the top 12 of the AP poll in five of the last six meetings between the schools.

Series Notes: Nebraska and Maryland met for the first time in 2016, with NU winning 28-7 in Lincoln. Nebraska held Maryland scoreless for the first three quarters and allowed only 207 yards. Nebraska's trip to Maryland in 2019 marked the Huskers' first-ever game at Maryland and in the state of Maryland. Before that meeting, the Terrapins were also the only Big Ten team Nebraska had never played on the road. The Huskers won 54-7 in the 2019 meeting, marking Nebraska's largest margin of victory in a Big Ten Conference game, while the 54 points tied for the Huskers' highest-scoring effort in a Big Ten game. The teams are not set to play again until Nov. 11, 2023 in Lincoln.

Series Notes: The 2018 meeting was the first between the schools since 2013. The teams do not meet again until 2021, but are scheduled to play each season from 2021 to 2025. The Huskers won back-to-back games in 2012 and 2013, giving NU the only winning streak in series history. Nebraska allowed just one Michigan touchdown in winning the 2012 and 2013 meetings. The 2012 game in Lincoln was Michigan's first trip to Lincoln in 101 years and the first-ever game between the schools at Memorial Stadium. Michigan's only other trip to Lincoln came on Nov. 25, 1911, when the teams battled to a 6-6 tie. The 2011 game was the first regular-season meeting between the two teams since first-year Nebraska head coach Bob Devaney led the Cornhuskers to a 25-13 victory over the Wolverines in Ann Arbor on Sept. 29, 1962. Between 1962 and 2011, the two traditional powerhouses split a pair of bowl matchups, with No. 5 Michigan defeating No. 7 Nebraska, 27-23, on Jan. 1, 1986, in the Fiesta Bowl following the 1985 regular season. NU knocked off No. 20 Michigan, 32-28, in the 2005 Alamo Bowl, posting the largest bowl comeback in school history.

Series Notes: Nebraska defeated Michigan State, 9-6, in Lincoln in 2018, winning without a touchdown for the first time since a 3-0 win over Kansas State in 1937. Nebraska's 39-38 win over No. 6 MSU in 2015 marked just the third time in school history an unranked Nebraska team defeated a top-10 opponent. It was also the highest-ranked team NU had defeated in 14 seasons. MSU posted its first two wins in the series in 2013 and 2014. Nebraska's rally from a 10-point fourth-quarter deficit marked one of four second-half double-digit comebacks in 2012. The Spartans were held to 14 or fewer points in each of the first six meetings, including three points in consecutive meetings in 2003 and 2011. NU's win over No. 9 Michigan State in 2011 marked the second straight year the Huskers defeated a top-10 team in Lincoln. Second-ranked Nebraska posted a 50-10 victory at Michigan State in 1995, in the Huskers' first trip to East Lansing.
